Keep An Eye on Calcium

Keep an eye on calcium, is advice to 1944 gardeners and family meal planners from Dr. Henry C. Sherman, chief of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics. This mineral, calcium, is a food value very likely to be short when a family's meals are otherwise up to good nutrition standards.

Ninety-nine per cent of the calcium in the body is used in building and repair of bones and teeth. The small remnant, the one per cent, does special jobs in the blood and nerves for the body's health and efficiency. Some people go through life calcium-poor, says Dr. Sherman.

Since 1934, people in the United States have benefited by steadily getting more calcium, mainly because they have been using more milk in various forms. When civilian milk supplies are limited, as in the present war, civilians can do these things about it, Dr. Sherman suggests:

1. Include as much milk and milk products in daily meals as wartime conditions permit, and waste none.

2. Make good use of other sources of calcium. While milk is the really number-one source and no other food is nearly so rich a "mine", greens from the garden can be a pretty good number-two source of calcium. For information of garden planners and family food shoppers, greens that yield good calcium returns include: loose-leafed varieties of green cabbage and green lettuce; mustard and turnip greens; broccoli, collards, kale—in fact, most of the common green leaf vegetables. However, head lettuce and head cabbage have relatively little of this mineral.

A few greens, such as spinach, chard, lambquarters, are not on the calcium list because, while they contain considerable calcium, the body does not use it. Other foods which do their part toward the calcium supply include dried beans, soybeans, eggs, molasses.

PRINCE WILLIAM 4-H BOYS CARRY ON; PRIZE WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Winners in the Sears Roebuck 4-H Hampshire Breeding Club contest have been announced by County Agent Frank Cox as follows:

First, Sidney Flickinger; second, Lynn Hasting Herring; third, Ray Smith.

Awards, donated by the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, include a $75 purebred dairy heifer to Flickinger and certified baby chicks to Herring and Smith. All members of the Sears Roebuck club, including Sidney Flickinger, Lynn Hasting Herring, Ray Smith, Harold Hersch, Leon Kline, Franklin Joyce and Charles Fitzwater, Jr., have done an excellent job caring for the Hampshire gilts placed with them last spring. All of the gilts, with the exception of Leon Kline's, have been bred to the purebred boar placed by the Agricultural Foundation with Ray Smith. Kline recently replaced this original animal lost through an accident with a bred gilt from Paul Whiteman's herd in New Jersey.

Members of the Ocoquan District 4-H Hampshire Breeding Club, including Bobby Tyrrell, Grover Manderfield, Charles Edward Garber, Bobb Rigney, Augustus Davis, George Thomas Seelman, Vernon Dawson, Avery Reid, Jr., Billy Clarke, and Anne Frances Garner, have given faithful care to the purebred Hampshires placed with them last spring by cooperating farmers in Ocoquan District. Augustus Davis was unfortunate in recently losing his gilt which was one of the best in the Club. The ten remaining Ocoquan registered sows are bred to an excellent Hampshire boar kept by Charles Edward Garber and that was purchased from Woodside Farm, Summit Point, W. Va., last spring.

Under the two Hampshire 4-H clubs breeding program, each member is to turn back a registered sow pig this spring to Mr. Cox to be placed with another 4-H club member under the same conditions. It is anticipated that Prince William farmers will further the swine improvement program by availing themselves of the opportunity to purchase well bred purebred Hampshire sows and boars that the 4-H members will offer for sale during the coming spring and summer.

There will be a meeting of the Tuberculosis Association on the 24 inst. at 2: p.m.

WILLIAM HARRISON LAMB

On February 8 the entire community was shocked by the death of Mr. Lamb, following an operation in the Doctor's Hospital in Washington.

Mr. Lamb was a man of unusual ability in newspaper and scientific fields. He was a pleasing speaker and a gifted writer. He was universally popular and had been editor of the Journal for fourteen years. He had also published the Harndon News-Observer for twenty years.

Mr. Lamb was a Mason, a member of the Sons of the Revolution and a vestryman in the Episcopal Church for thirty years. He was a devout Christian and a thorough Bible student.

His funeral was held at Trinity Church, Manassas last Thursday and was in charge of the Masonic Lodge at Manassas. Interment was in the family lot at Fairfax. The religious services were conducted by Rev. W. F. Carpenter, rector of St. John's Centerville, where Mr. Lamb was a vestryman.

Mr. Lamb was descended from several of the most prominent families in Madison County, three of his ancestors having been founders of old Hebron Church.

His wife survives him and a brother, Mr. Fred Raymond Lamb of Nebraska. He also has three nephews in the armed forces.

His passing leaves a vacancy that can never be filled.

ADDRESS OF REP. SMITH WHICH EVERYONE SHOULD READ

Mr. SMITH of Virginia, Mr. Chairman, the soldier's vote bills are among the most far-reaching and significant measures ever presented to the Congress. We are conducting an experimental surgical operation on the very arteries of democratic processes. I do not hope to influence the vote of any other Member, and I attribute to all Members a conscientious desire to conform to their sworn obligation to support the Constitution. Any other course would be unthinkable. Certainly, I know that no Member of this body desires to deny any citizens in the armed services of the United States their right to vote. But the determination of that right under the plain language of the Constitution does not rest with the Congress, but with the sovereign States. The only power we possess is to facilitate the exercise of that right, so far as a right exists under the laws of the State of which the soldier is a citizen. All the oratory, all the devout languages, all the threats of political reprisal cannot enlarge that power by one jot or tittle, and to attempt to do so is, in my opinion, not only a violation of our oath of office, but is fraught with the gravest dangers for the future of the Republic. I know that violent and intemperate criticism is being and will be hurled at those who, like myself, feel bound to abide by what we believe to be the limit upon our powers under the Constitution which we are sworn to uphold. The easier course is to go with the tide of public opinion. But in the light of the future importance of the question as a precedent to destroy the constitutional right of the States to determine the qualifications of their voters, I feel impelled to record briefly my own conscientious views upon the subject, by which I must be governed.

In the welter of words characterizing this debate, we might well pause to insert in the Record the language of the Constitution which should govern our actions.

We deal here with two distinct constitutional questions: First, the election of President and Vice President which is governed by one provision of the Constitution; and second, the election of the Congress which is governed by an entirely different section. Bear in mind that the Congress has only such powers as are expressly delegated to it by the Constitution, and none other. The method provided for the election of President and Vice President is contained in article II, section 1. Note carefully the language chosen:

Each State shall appoint in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector. The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

Another provision of the Constitution provides the methods by which the electors so chosen, shall elect the President and Vice President. Thus the sum total of congressional power in the matter of the election of the President, except where a majority of such electors cannot agree, is the power to fix the time for the States to choose their electors. There is no provision for popular election of the President and Vice President. Each State may determine the method of selecting

SCHOOL TEACHER PAY

The burning question of teacher unit pay was temporarily settled last week at $900 per teacher unit for each year of the biennium after two unsuccessful attempts from the floor of the House to put across measures which would have (A) increased the teacher unit to a flat $960 the first year of the biennium and as much plus an additional $240 for the second year conditioned upon the amount being available in the general fund without creating a deficit (B) a flat $960 for each year of the biennium.

RECITAL

On Monday evening, February 14, 1944, Edna Lee Armstrong presented her pupils in a very interesting piano recital at the Brentsville District High School. She gave the program in Miss Sloop's classroom, which was fittingly decorated with a choir-boy border and pictures of famous composers.

The pupils displayed a marked improvement over their last performance and showed they had done some good work during this session. Two-piano numbers, duets, trios, and quartettes gave variation for the long list of solos they played.

The following pupils took part in the program:

Billy and Jean Manuel, Lillian and Peggy Liskay, Jean Herring, Christobelle Tolson, Joanne Free, Jay and Phyllis Garman, Helen and Marie House, Joyce Keys, Marie Kerlin, Nancy Ellis, Anna, Bernice and Mary Hoker, Rosa May Godfrey, Charlotte Mertz, Peggy Foster, Rosa Lee Beahn, Barbara Thayer, June Manuel, Mary Owens and Lois Sloop.

IN NEED OF LUMBER AND PULPWOOD

As war industries are critically in need of lumber and pulpwood, Mr. Russell W. Yowell, Manager of the Culpeper U. S. Employment Service is asking those farmers having spare time during the next few months to help alleviate the serious shortage in the lumber industry.

Mr. Yowell stated that the threatened shortage of 2,500,000 cords of pulpwood this winter would be great-

LETTER FROM BYRD

My dear Sir:

Thank you for your communication with respect to the payment of consumer subsidies. I have noted with interest your opposition to this proposal. I entirely agree with you as to what you say.

The payment of consumer subsidies without the control of wages can only mean disaster, if continued for any length of time. This is especially true when every dollar of these subsidy payments must come from borrowed money and added to a debt which will be, I predict, in excess of $300,000,000 before the war expenditures are all paid, and this debt is one of the greatest menaces to our future security that we now have.

I entirely agree that the farmers should not be objects of charity but should be given a fair price for their products, and so long as the administration continues to yield to the demands of labor leaders, such as John Lewis, thereby increasing the price of farm labor, machinery, fertilizer and everything else the farmer buys, then common justice demands that there should be a proportionate increase in the price of farm products to take care of this increased cost of production.

In my judgment, no element of our population has done a more patriotic work than the farmers. This is evidenced by the fact that notwithstanding the tremendous obstacles in the shortage of labor, machinery and other things the farmer must have, our food production has been maintained at a high level, and this will be one of the greatest factors in winning the war.

When the administration surrenders to John Lewis and other labor leaders in their extortionate demands, they are not paid off in subsidies but are paid in cash, and I think that to compel the farmers to be objects of charity in order to pay their increased cost of production is very unjust and a most unwise governmental policy. The Senate yesterday voted by a great majority against the subsidy program. Thanks very much for your views in this matter.

Faithfully yours,

Signed:

HARRY F. BYRD

"There's a Fighting Fleet, too!"

RIGHT you are, Sailor! Fighting fleets are rolling on the Southern Railway these days!

Fleets of freight trains...loaded with guns, jeeps, tanks, planes, and munitions of every sort...with the raw materials to make more...with food, clothes, coal and oil...with everything needed by a nation at war.

Fleets of passenger trains...carrying troops in solid trainloads toward the war fronts...men and women in uniform, going back home on precious furlough trips...government officials and civilians traveling on essential war business.

Yes, these are fighting fleets...fighting the vital home-front battle of transportation. And winning it, too!

Thanks to the loyal cooperation of our shippers and the friendly understanding of our patrons, the Southern's trains are playing an important part in speeding the day of Victory.

When Peace comes, these same fleets of freight and passenger trains will "Serve the South" by hauling the rich commerce of a greater, stronger Southland...more efficiently than ever before because of the priceless lessons we're learning today.

SERVICE IS PRIMARY DUTY, SAYS STATE FARM MUTUAL

Service always has been considered by the management as one of the paramount obligations of the policyholders of State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, and a review of the steadily broadening advantages reveals this.

As a standard collision insurance policy State Farm offers the 80% collision coverage. This pays 80 cents on every dollar's damage suffered by the assured's automobile, regardless how small or large the amount may be. Usual collision policies provide no payment if damage is less than $50, which constitutes the majority of accidents. The 80% collision protects the State Farm policyholder in every collision loss.

The company for some time has offered a medical reimbursement coverage, which pays doctors and hospital bills and even funeral expenses up to $500 for each member of the family or each guest injured while riding in a policyholder's car. In addition it has provided an extension of theft rental payments. Under the comprehensive coverage the State Farm policyholder whose car is stolen is provided with funds to rent a car until his is restored or replaced, regardless of how long this may take.

Many automobile purchasers are now consulting their State Farm agents before arranging the financing of their cars. State Farm agents have found that in many instances they are able to help auto buyers save substantial sums and they are always willing to advise in financing.

These services are only a small part of the extended benefits provided State Farm policyholders in the past ten years.

How to prepare variety meats

WE HOUSEWIVES in the United States are learning how truly delicious many of the less familiar "variety meats" can be. And we're keenly interested, because these meats are relatively plentiful in supply and therefore cost us fewer ration points. We're learning, for example, that are especially choice if they're lamb kidneys, but that those of calf, beef, and pork are also good. Simple preparation: wash them well in cold water, and split to make them lie flat; remove white tubes and excess tissue and fat; soak in cold salted water (1 tsp. salt per qt.) about 30 mins.; drain and dry well; cook until just tender, by broiling, sauteing, or stewing.

Kidney Steaks saute onion in drippings, melted butter or margarine; add cut-up kidneys, salt, pepper, nutmeg, Worcestershire sauce, and parsley to taste, and water to cover; cover and simmer for 20 mins. or until tender; thicken with flour mixed to a paste with a little cold water, stirring constantly; serve immediately.

Similarly, with HEARTS

we're learning that both calf and lamb hearts are tender, that beef hearts take a little longer cooking, and that pork hearts are coarser.

To prepare: wash well in slightly warmed water, take out arteries and veins that may be cut away; simmer slowly in water until tender, adding 1 tsp. salt to each quart of water when half done; allow about 2 hours for calf, lamb and pork hearts, about 3-3½ hours for beef hearts.

And when it comes to TONGUES

we're learning that all four kinds are good, with beef the favorite of course. To prepare: wash well, scraping and cutting away any excess tissue; cover with boiling water and bring to a boil; then skim water and simmer tongue gently until tender; add ½ tsp. salt per lb. when half done; allow 2-3 hours for calf tongue, 1-1½ for lamb, 3-4 for beef, 1½-2 for pork.

We all know about LIVER and how appetizing it can be. But not all of us may realize how easy it is to disguise its flavor for those who dislike it. Simply take equal parts of liver and stewing beef or lamb, add 3 tbsps. of flour for each ½ lb. of liver, salt and pepper and grind. Form into patties and fry—or make into meat loaf. If you say nothing about this being liver patties the family will eat and enjoy it!

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they do. Luke 23: 34

PROTECTING PRISONERS

Indignation is the natural first response to the stories about Japanese atrocities. But quickly thought turns to prisoners still in enemy hands. What can be done for them? The State Department's report on its many protests is not encouraging. Yet official measures should be continued and strengthened. More effort should be put forth to bring specific charges against specific Japanese officers. More urgent representations should be made to Swiss diplomats to be more active in representing American interests.

But those who want to protect prisoners will do well to look beyond official protests or pressures. They should recognize that Japanese mistreatment of prisoners is simply part of the whole pattern of Axis barbarism, which flaunts itself in the belief that terrorism triumphs and cannot be either restrained or punished.

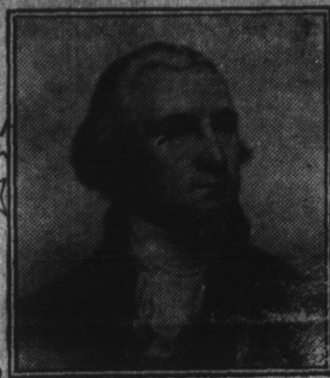

The basic answer to the pagan pretense that cruelty is unrestrainable is a religious one, deriving from faith in God's providence and from understanding of the true nature of man, whether prisoner or keeper. The Christian, remembering the experiences of prisoners like Joseph, Daniel, Paul and Silas, turns to prayer, confident that "the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save."—Christian Science Monitor.

GOOD AND EVIL

One can hear and read strange things these days. Things that make a sane and well-informed American gulp, and take himself in hand, and bring all his intelligence into action, to figure out whether he has been so illinformed or lacking in judgment as the comment seems to imply.

Last Sunday evening, for example, a presumably honest radio news analyst, after taking due note of the appalling Japanese crimes just revealed,

FIRST IN THE HEART OF WASHINGTON

HERE were a lot of "firsts" attributed to Washington, but in the heart of this great patriot there was only one first: his country... our country. While we are fighting for what he founded, let's put personal ambitions behind us and make this country our first thought, too.

NATIONAL BANK OF MANASSAS

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

calmly ended his broadcast with the pious old assumption that this sort of thing was to be expected, in a world civilization which had fallen so far short of perfection.

But this is NOT the sort of thing that civilized and intelligent people have expected, or would expect, in an age of great and growing decency throughout the world. The American people, and other civilized peoples, were horrified by the monstrous crimes the Japanese were shown to have committed even before the war formally began, against so many thousands unoffending men, women and children. Here was an uprising of barbaric cruelty and sadism such as our modern world had not seen in any nation professing to be civilized, and it was dismissed by the speaker with a wave of the hand!—Covington Virginian.

TELEPHONE SERVICE AT HIGH LEVEL

Despite the many problems created by war conditions, all demands vital to the war effort were met, it was reported by President Lloyd B. Wilson in the annual report for the directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia. The overall quality of the service, although not up to that of previous years, was kept at a high level and criticisms were fewer than in the previous year. In this connection the report stated: "The employees and officers of the company are deeply grateful to the people of Virginia for their sympathetic understanding of our problems which has done much to ease the burdens of the year." Expressing appreciation to the employees, another section of the report stated: "The men and women of the organization have met cheerfully and effectively the challenge of the unprecedented demands of the past year. Their patriotic devotion to duty and fine accomplishments in a service so essential on the home front merits the highest commendation."

Pointing out that the company had 12,500 applications for service pending at the end of the year, the report continued: "When materials are again available and assuming a reasonable level of business, substantial amounts of new plant will be required, not only to take care of growth but also to meet unfilled demands for new and better grades of service and for improvements. This will contribute to employment and will require a considerable amount of new capital."

The increase in company telephones in Virginia was 22,258 after adjustments, less than for any one of the last three years but still in excess of any year previous to these. The number in service at the end of the year was 328,334.

Out-of-town calls increased 21% over 1942 but were 160% more than 1939. The total number of local and toll calls was about 633,000,000, a slight decrease over 1942 but 30% over 1939.

Total operating revenues amounted to $22,885,528, an increase of 26.6% over last year and total operating expenses, including taxes, were $19,294,456, an increase of 26.3%. The net telephone earnings on the average book cost of the plant was 4.60% compared with 3.96% for 1942, and excepting for that year, the lowest since 1925.

Operating taxes amounted to $3,451,941, or 45% over 1942, and were equal to 18% of the total expenses. They were 26% greater than the amount paid for interest and dividends.

Shortage of critical materials greatly curtailed the company's construction program. Total gross additions including reused material were $5,299,766, as compared with $12,378,156 for 1942, a decrease of 57%. The book cost of the plant at the end of the year was $68,521,935, or about $209 per telephone. Among the projects undertaken were additions to toll switchboards in five cities involving expenditures of about $842,000 and additional toll cables, jointly owned with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, connecting Richmond, Williamsburg and Lee Hall, and between Norfolk and Hampton.

Employees at the end of the year numbered 5,580, an increase of 11.5% over last year, and the payroll for the year was $9,368,000, nearly 18% over 1942, and together with wage levels, the highest in the history of the company. The report disclosed that 582 men and women are on leave of absence serving in the armed forces.

The company installed 38 public telephone centers with about 300 stations, and requiring a staff of about 280 attendants, at various military and naval establishments and nearby locations, all comfortably equipped, for the personal use of members of the armed forces.

Commenting on the year's operations as a whole, the report states: "It is apparent from the present level of earnings that the maintenance of an adequate return on the investment is a major problem of management."

Robert C. McCann, vice president, was elected a director at the annual meeting which was held February 9, and all other directors were reelected. They are: J. Gordon Bohannon, Petersburg; Walter B. Clarkson, Washington; James S. Easley, Halifax; John S. Eggleston and William T. Reed, Jr., Richmond; Homer L. Ferguson, Newport News; Junius P. Fishburn, Roanoke; James R. Gilliam, Jr., Lynchburg; C. O'Connor Goodrick, Fredericksburg; Goldsborough Serpell, Norfolk; R. Gray Williams, Winchester; Lloyd B. Wilson, president, and John A. Remon, vice president.

LAUGHTON, BARNES AND STELLAR CAST SEEN IN
INITIAL FILM ON AUSSIES

The first film to show modern Australia, where so many American boys are now stationed, is now playing at the Pitts Theatre. This is M-G-M's "The Man From Down Under," starring Charles Laughton with Binnie Barnes, Richard Carlson and Donna Reed in stellar supporting roles.

As Jocko Wilson, a happy-go-lucky, good-for-nothing Aussie, Laughton scores in his most felicitous role to date. He leaves Belgium for Australia and home at the end of World War I, taking with him two young refugees whom he believes to be brother and sister and leaving behind him, literally waiting at the church, Aggie Dawlins, a Cockney entertainer, played by Binnie Barnes.

Years pass and the boy, Nipper (Richard Carlson), has grown up to be a champion boxer, and the girl, Mary (Donna Reed), is a fine young lady. Jocko comes on hard times and then Aggie, now a wealthy widow, reappears. Jocko soon loses his to her in vain efforts to recoup his fortune. Just as affairs reach a head war breaks out and Jocko tries to enlist. When he is turned down because of an old wound, he enlists in the land army and stays away until a threatened Jap invasion brings him home to Nipper, Mary and his still-loving Aggie.

Binnie Barnes, back on the screen after a year's absence, not only delivers an outstanding dramatic performance, but shows skill as a comedienne. In a music hall sequence she even sings and dances. Richard Carlson, playing a different type of role, turns from scholarly characterizations to that of a rugged prize fighter, and comes through with star honors in a fistie battle on the screen with the empire champion.

Donna Reed, garbed in gowns by Irene, advances another step forward toward stardom. Unusual performances are also contributed by Christopher Severn, of "Mrs. Miniver" fame, Clyde Cook, Horace McNally, Arthur Shields, Hobart Cavanaugh and Andre Charlot.

SPONSORSHIP OF THE W. C.
WAGENER MEMORIAL PRIZE
CONTEST—JUDGES

The Prince William Post of the American Legion and the Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club have both agreed to sponsor the Book Review Contest for the W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize offered by Mr. Clarence Wagener of Baltimore, Md., to the adult readers of the Ruffner-Carnegie Library in memory of his father, the late Mr. William C. Wagener, an honored citizen of Manassas.

If the winner in the contest should be a man, the prize will be presented by the American Legion Post; if a woman, by the Arts Section of the Woman's Club.

The judges for the contest are Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Mr. O. D. Waters and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson all of Manassas.

Everyone intending to take part in the contest should notify Miss E. H. Osbourne by April, and all papers must be in by the first of June. The type of review called for is not so much a synopsis or summary of the contents of the book reviewed as a statement of the impression made by it on the reviewer.

Copies of all regulations of the contest, together with a list of the books from which the reviews are to be made, may be seen at the Ruffner-Carnegie Library and at Dr. Dowell's Drug Store.

its electors to the electoral college; each State may choose a different method; a State may prescribe that its electors be chosen by the legislature of the State, can provide that they be appointed by the Governor; could even provide that they be selected by lot. The 48 States can, if they desire, select 48 different methods for choosing the electors who are in turn to elect the President and Vice President, and Congress has no power on earth to do anything about it. I am not speaking of what the law ought to be or what provisions should, in the light of modern times, be inserted in the Constitution. I speak of the Constitution as written, as it exists today, and as the Congress swore to uphold it. I cannot subscribe to the doctrine that the exigencies of the occasion or the emergency of war operates to suspend the Constitution of the United States. If it were so, the Constitution would have said so. To deviate from this course at this critical time when the Nation is involved in the most desperate war in its history might well result in such confusion in the election of the President and Vice President as to throw the whole election into a contest. I can think of no more dangerous or tragic possibility during this crisis. I do not intend by my vote to be a party to it.

As to the election of the Congress, section 2 of article I of the Constitution provides:

And the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

The only limitation upon the power of the States is contained in section 4 of the same article and empowers Congress to alter the times, places, and manner of holding such elections.

It is my view that any act of Congress which in any way assumes power to dictate the qualifications of voters in any State or to preemptorily determine the form of ballot, or to preemptorily prescribe a uniform ballot for the States is a clear and flagrant violation of the Constitution which we, individually and collectively, are sworn to uphold. The power of Congress is clearly confined within narrow limitations; in the case of election of President and Vice President, it may only determine "the time of choosing the electors" and "the day on which they shall give their votes."

In the case of election of Senators and Representatives, Congress may determine the time, place, and manner of holding the elections, but the qualifications of voters must be the same as those prescribed for the election of the lower branch of the State legislature.

Plainly the Constitution has said to us: Thus far shalt thou go, and no further.

Under my construction of the Constitution, and in conformity with my oath of office, I shall observe that admonition.

CENTREVILLE

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. Charles Belcher last Friday night. The condition of Mrs. Lucy Davis, sister of Mrs. Dan Davis, who has been in The Alexandria Hospital for the past three weeks, is greatly improved.

Mrs. Hazel Mohler Frey, who formerly lived here, has had a very serious operation in Sibley Hospital in Washington. It is reported that her condition is improving.

At a special meeting of Quarterly Conference of the Nokesville Charge held here last Sunday, a new Board of Trustees of the Centreville M. E. Church was appointed, consisting of the following: Robert R. Dye, Charles K. Belcher and Howard H. Havener.

Robert Buckley left Monday to join the Merchant Marine. Rev. Hugh Cummings has been operated on for appendicitis and Rev. Coffin is officiating during his absence.

Word has been received that Tommy Marsh, who was seriously hurt when he fell from a bicycle last week, is improving.

The services at St. John's Episcopal Church as usual, were conducted by the Rev. W. F. Carpenter of Haymarket, rector in charge.

Mrs. Seabackey, who owned the Clint Utterback Farm, was in Centreville last week.

FLIRTING WITH BOUNCING BETTY—U. S. Paratroopers on an Italian hillside engage in the dangerous task of removing hidden mines planted by retreating Germans. A member of a detonator squad (second from left) has located a mine which another soldier digs up and makes inoperative while their comrades lie flat on the ground in order to be "under" an explosion in case the trap be accidentally detonated. The type S mine is known as "Bouncing Betty" because of its ability to "jump" some distance above the ground before exploding. The mine detector is a wooden disc fitted with a long handle carrying a rheostat connected with head phones worn by the man in the detonator squad. When the sweeper passes over a mine it disturbs the magnetic field surrounding it, with the resultant change of tone in the "hum" of the operator's phones.

This farm boy stopped bullets intended for you...

JOE MARTINEZ, Colorado farm boy, his battalion bogged down under withering fire from Jap positions on Attu, arose alone and advanced into a hail of bullets to clean out trench after trench so his battalion could advance. He died with his rifle at his shoulder, pumping lead into the enemy, while his mates were able to move up behind him and successfully take the pass. For this, Joe Martinez has been posthumously awarded the Nation's highest military honor. Let every man who was once a farm boy himself buy an extra War Bond in Joe's honor... for Joe took the bullets aimed at the heart of America!

The 4th WAR LOAN is your opportunity to do something about it!

It's Time to Take the Offensive. Your government has the men it needs to do the job in the front lines—great men all! But it doesn't have the money it needs, by a long way. That's your job! And the immediate task is the Fourth War Loan—Your chance to take the offensive not only in support of the men who are fighting and dying for you and your loved ones, but also in support of your own future!

What are you going to do about a wornout tractor, about repairing fences and buildings, about replacing depreciated machinery and equipment? Will you be ready with money in the bank when these things are needed?

You will if you take the offensive now! Put every extra dollar into U. S. War Bonds—the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Think! You are asked to make a sound and prudent investment—not a sacrifice!

When Your Boy Comes Home

Will your boy come back to a farm or ranch with no financial reserves, no future? Or will you greet him at the gate with a bundle of War Savings Bonds—for working capital, new machinery, better buildings? And if your children are going to college, why not be sure they get there by buying today the Bonds that will pay the cost.

No need, really, to tell an up-to-date farmer or rancher what he needs financial reserves for. You know more reasons than anyone else can enumerate for setting aside extra dollars to meet the future. Now is your chance to do it... and help fight the war, too!

Go on the offensive! Buy all the Bonds you can—today!

You Never Get Less Than You Lend! And you get $\frac{1}{2}$ more than you invest. When held 10 years, War Bonds yield 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually. You get back \$4 for every \$3.

Cash When You Need It. If an emergency comes along, your War Bonds are like money in the bank. Uncle Sam will redeem them in cash—at full purchase price—any time after you've held them 60 days. Don't cash them unless you have to. And don't hold back a single dollar unnecessarily from the purchase of War Bonds. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED.

Facts About War Bonds (Series E)
