Closing Hours Of The Assembly

Many Bills Killed

With this Saturday night ringing down the curtain on the 1944 session of the General Assembly of Virginia, a revenue-conscious Assembly last week passed the ABC revenue diversion bill giving to the localities approximately $1,000,000 in additional revenues—killed the Coburn bill which would have divided equally between the State and the localities any surplus at the end of the next biennium, June 30, 1946—refused to report Senator Nolan's suggestion for increasing State income taxes of $5,000 and over, and prepared itself for a final tussle this week with the two biggest problems of the session—the omnibus Appropriations bill of more than $235,000,000 and the question of soldier votes.

Proponents of additional revenues for teacher salaries made an unsuccessful attempt in the Senate to change the ABC diversion bill as passed by the House to provide for the earmarking of a sufficient amount of these revenues to allow for $50 additional per teacher unit. The bill, which now goes to the Governor for his signature, provides for the division of all ABC revenues above $750,000 a year, and ABC expenses, between the State and the localities on a two-thirds-one-third basis. A portion of the State's $750,000, however, while going into the General Fund, will be used for school buses.

At the House end of the legislative halls the Coburn bill came in for an overhauling before being defeated, as additional teacher salary proponents got busy and attempted to amend the bill to provide that any surplus available be distributed on a teacher unit basis, and at the end of the present biennium as well as the next biennium. Hotly contested the proposed amendments were defeated and the bill advanced only to be defeated entirely the following day.

The score for the teacher salary on a teacher unit basis, which, even to the best informed is still a little vague, at the present writing stands at the following: a proposal by Senator Caudill to raise the amount per teacher unit from $900 the second year of the biennium, as approved by the House Appropriations committee, to $960, which is still before the Senate Finance committee for action, and the House approved amount of $900 for each year of the biennium.

Governor Darden's original proposal as the State's contribution towards teacher unit salaries was $840 for the first year of the biennium and $960 for the second. This, he believed would leave the teacher unit at a better level at the end of the biennium, but the House voted to make the amount an even $900 per teacher unit for both years. Fiscal officers have pointed out that in order to make the teacher unit contribution this high, many of the requests from Public Welfare, Public Health and the Penal System had to be cut back. They further point to the fact that this recommended increase brings the State's contribution per teacher unit up from $500 in 1940, or an eighty per cent increase. Last week the House Appropriations committee killed the Whitehead proposal to appropriate $1,784,000 as a "bonus" raise for school teachers, so the Caudill amendment is the last proposal before the legislators. Finally, however, may not be written to this chapter, before midnight on Saturday.

A substitute sales tax proposal has now received the approbation of the Senate and been sent on to the House for concurrence. This is a combination of the Spiers proposal for a study of a general sales tax and the Hodges measure for a sales tax study to properly finance the public school system. The substitute resolution calls for a seven-man commission to be appointed to study a sales tax from both angles. It would be composed of three members to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, two by the President of the Senate and two by the Governor. They must report their findings to the Governor on or before October 1, 1944. A House bill calling for a referendum on a 3 per cent sales tax died in the House committee while the Hodges proposal for an immediate sales tax was withdrawn by the patron earlier in the session.

High school seniors of this age who are in their last semester will be assigned to the Medical Corps with the second class rating, but will be placed on inactive duty until after their graduation in June. Also open to 17-year-olds is a 10-month training course as radio technicians, if they successfully pass the Eddy test. This test can be taken at any time at the Navy Recruiting Station, and successful applicants will receive a rating of seaman, first class, during their training course. Rating at the end of the course is radio technician second class.

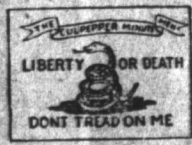

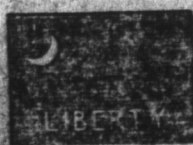

The Eddy test may be taken by any man between 17 and 30 years old who has a 1-A or 3-A draft rating, and places him under no obligation. Lieutenant Commander Charles L. Kessler explained. The passing grade for the test has been lowered from 80 to 65 per cent.

Picture Story of U. S. Flag

PRE-INDEPENDENCE FLAGS—Depicted above are banners carried by American patriots when they first took up arms in 1775. At the left is the blue flag with its white crescent which was nailed to the staff at Fort Mifflin by Sergeant Jasper. In the center is the Ratcliffe Flag of the Virginia minute men at Culpeper. At the right is one of the New England pine tree flags.

This is the first Stars-and-Stripes. The Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, resolved: "That the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." According to legend the five-pointed stars were designed by Mrs. Betsy Ross.

With the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union two stars and two stripes were added to the flag following an Act of Congress in 1794. It was a flag of 15 stars and 15 stripes over El-McHenry that inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star-Spangled Banner." Congress in 1818 restored the original number of stripes.

In June, 1932, he was appointed as the first Trial Justice in Fairfax County, and served as Trial Justice until elected Commonwealth's Attorney in the latter part of 1935. ### Water Bath Canners

The first water-bath canners to be manufactured since 1941 will be shipped in August for the summer season's home canning. The War Production Board is permitting the manufacture of a half million of these canners in enamelware with racks of plated steel wire inside to hold jars. The new canners will be all of one size, will hold 7 quart jars, or 9 pint jars, or 4 half-gallon jars with room for at least an inch of water over the top of the jar. Most of the canners will be of the tall, round shape, and some probably will be on retail markets as early as April. Water-bath canners are for canning tomatoes, fruits and other acid foods.

Last season wash boilers, lard pails, deep-well cookers and other household containers were called on to pinch-hit for water-bath canners.

Sugar Shorter

No encouragement to the proverbial big American sweet tooth is offered by the 1944 sugar allocation for the home front announced by the War Food Administration. The cut in sugar for all civilian uses this year will be about 6 per cent. This will mean that the individual will get about 6 pounds less sugar in the soft drinks, candy, cookies and other manufactured sweets he buys in the course of the year, but his regular rations of

Need For Seed Cleaning And Grading

Special committees of the County Chamber of Commerce, the Nokesville Ruritan Club, the County Board of Agriculture, the Manassas-Kiwanis Club and the County Agricultural Conservation Association will meet at an early date to consider the need for complete seed cleaning, grading and scarification service and to investigate the possibilities of obtaining a modern seed cleaning and grading plant in Prince William County.

It is necessary at the present time for local farmers to carry their seed about fifty miles to Mitchell, Virginia. As a result, many farmers who produce seed are forced to sell their product in the rough at low prices and pay double the amount for the seed that they use through regular commercial channels. Seed production, a profitable farm enterprise in many parts of the country having complete cleaning and grading facilities, has been discouraged locally because of the lack of such facilities.

It has been stated by local farmers that a plant of this kind located in Prince William County would save farmers many dollars in the cost of seed, that it would make better adapted home grown seed available and would pave the way for a seed growing enterprise that would bring many thousands of dollars additional income to Prince William County farmers.

$1,600 REALIZED FROM SEAL SALE IN PRINCE WILLIAM

County Exceeds Quota By $225 In Raising Largest Amount Ever Contributed Locally For Tuberculosis Work

A total of $1,600 has been realized from the 1943 Seal Sale Campaign conducted in Prince William County, according to final reports submitted to Richmond Headquarters of the State Tuberculosis Association by Mrs. Frank D. Cox, county seal sale chairman. The amount exceeds the $1,375 quota assigned the local Tuberculosis Association by $225, and is the largest sum ever contributed in this county in the annual drive to raise funds to carry on the work of eradicating tuberculosis.

Returns submitted by the chairmen of the county's six districts are as follows: Dumfries: Mrs. J. F. McIner, chairman, $558; Manassas: Mrs. Maurice Smith, chairman, $423; Negro Auxiliary: Mrs. Dorothy Hall, chairman, $169.50; Gainesville: Mrs. Holmes Robertson, Mrs. J. W. Alvey, chairman, $120.50; Brentsville: Mrs. Benjamin Brown, Mrs. Fred Shepherd, chairman, $103.35; School Bangle Sale, Miss Sue Ayres, chairman, $103; Occoquan: Mrs. Eva K. Garner, chairman, $98.11; Coles: Miss Irene Haupt, chairman, $24.56.

sugar will not be cut.

Demand for sugar this year is heavier because the armed forces and allies need more. The supply is smaller because a large quantity of sugar cane must go into the manufacture of industrial alcohol for synthetic rubber and other vital war products instead of into sugar. Figuratively, the sugar bowl yields to the jeep tire. The Cuban sugar cane which will go into alcohol this year would produce about 800,000 tons of sugar. As a reserve for alcohol manufacture some 200,000 tons of Cuban raw sugar will be set aside. Last year most of the industrial alcohol was made from grain, but the supply of grain will not be enough to meet needs for food and feed and also for alcohol which must be produced in so much larger quantities this year.

Before the war about 30 per cent of the sugar used in the United States was produced here—a fourth of it cane sugar from Louisiana and Florida, and three-fourths of it beet sugar from the Midwest and West. However, 70 per cent of the sugar used here was imported from Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Cuba and the Philippines. The loss of the Philippines in 1942 followed by the decline in beet sugar production in 1943 has meant that this country must get its sugar from Cuba and other off-short sugar cane-growing countries. The United States Government has purchased almost the entire crop of sugar cane in Cuba for 1942, 1943, and 1944.

"SWING SHIFT MAISIE" AS TIMELY AS TODAY'S NEWS

Timely as its title and dynamically showing the work of American women at war, Ann Sothern's latest adventure as the effervescent showgirl, Maisie, will be on view at the Pitts Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, March 15 and 16. In "Swing Shift Maisie" the star deserts show business and dons overalls when she takes a job on the assembly line of an aircraft factory in a western town.

When James Craig, handsome test pilot, goes to a night club to cool off because his boss has blocked his enlistment in the air corps by declaring him essential, he accidentally breaks up a dog act in the floor show. With the result John Qualen, the owner, and Maisie, his pretty assistant, are out of jobs. Craig manages to get them jobs at the factory and settles down to a romance with Maisie.

All goes well until Maisie saves the life of glamorous Jean Rogers, who proceeds to steal Craig right out from under her very pretty nose. But when, in an effort to get Maisie out of the way, she accuses her of sabotage, Craig realizes he has made a grave mistake, and all ends happily for the lovers.

Miss Sothern plays Maisie with her usual sophisticated comedy approach and is as fetching in overalls as in her usual frills and turbelows. Craig turns in a swell performance as "Breezy," the easy-going and likable test pilot. Jean Rogers undertakes a new kind of role, that of a hard-boiled schemer, and comes off with honors. Character-actor John Qualen performs to perfection as the owner of the dog act. A specialty act is provided by vaudeville's

Norman McLeod directed with a deft flair for comedy and Lennie Hayton has provided a sprightly musical score. George Haight produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. favorite team, the Wiere Brothers.

U. S. AIR BASE ON BOUGAINVILLE—On this broad metal-paved runway, constructed within a matter of hours after American occupation of the islands, Lt. Col. H. J. Sands is greeted by the commander of the Naval base. Col. Sands has just arrived with the first SCAT (South Pacific Combat Air Transport). Note the extent of the air field which Army Aviation Engineers have created by locking together hundreds of light metal strips. These strips, each 10 feet long by 14 inches wide, are carried in planes when necessary. U. S. Army war birds literally fly in and build their own nesting grounds. Sometimes they convert a tropical jungle into an air field within 48 hours.

FOURTEEN MIGHTY CENTS

For Americans facing simultaneous declarations of war against them by such well-prepared enemies as Japan and Germany, allies were as necessary as armaments and trained fighters. Even now that the United States has built its war machine up to unprecedented proportions and efficiency, it cannot without allies assure itself of the decisive victory which is required if a durable peace is to service of their allies, and the precious time in which to develop American power potentials, for 14 cents of the war dollar. That is the portion of American war expenditures going into Lend Lease—14 per cent.

Whatever value Lend-Lease may have for America's Allies, it has been as big a bargain for Americans. British civilians bombed by the Nazis, Russian soldiers offering themselves by the millions—just these two items among many help to explain what has been achieved.

The Russians have acknowledged that the war against Hitler cannot be won without American supplies. The British have likewise evaluated the American contribution. However, American experience in the war has shown that without the achievements of the Russian armies, the British Navy, and the R. A. F. and British and Commonwealth land fighters, the United States would hardly have been able to marshal its forces in time to preserve a world in which a freedom-loving nation could be safe.

Lend-Lease figures cited by Leo T. Crowley before the House Foreign Affairs Committee show that Americans have obtained the priceless added to that 14 per cent to make it pay the dividends America is now reaping.

True, the United States is still investing 86 cents out of

"Is it true, what they say about War Bonds?"

THEY SAY — "Hey, Bill, I heard that in order to pay for the fighting equipment our boys need, each of us should be putting at least 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds."

IT'S TRUE — "That makes sense to me, Joe. Those things cost plenty of dough. After all, one dime out of every week is a darn cheap price to pay for freedom!"

THEY SAY — "We're not really paying that money to the Government, either. It's just a loan to Uncle Sam, at 4 per cent."

IT'S TRUE — "Sure. You get it back — with interest. Every 3 months you get 4 cents back on every dollar."

THEY SAY — "That's a sweet investment, I'd say! And when you lend dough to Uncle Sam, you know he'll make good on his I O U."

IT'S TRUE — "Say! War Bonds are better than dollar bills! They're backed up by the strongest Government in the world — and they make more money for you!"

THEY SAY — "Must be a lot of people saving War Bonds by now, don't they?"

IT'S TRUE — "A lot of people! Almost 20 million of 'em have bought War Bonds — and I'm sure of 'em. 20 million mistakes can't be wrong, just!"

LASSIE COMES THROUGH IN M-G-M'S FILMIZATION OF ERIC KNIGHT YAKN

A new canine star is introduced to screen audiences, and a beautiful story of love and loyalty is unfolded in "Lassie Come Home," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization in Technicolor of Eric Knight's haunting story, to be shown at Pitts' Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 12-13-14.

The story revolves about the love of a beautiful collie for her youthful master. Sam Carracough (Donald Crisp), a Yorkshire farmer, is forced by circumstances to sell the dog, beloved by his son Joe (Roddy McDowall). The nobleman (Nigel Bruce), purchasing the animal, takes her to his Scottish estate. The dog escapes and by instinct travels 1000 miles, sometimes on the verge of starvation, sometimes befriended by kindly farmers and an old peddler, and makes her way back to her young master. Then the Duke, her new owner, realizing the great love of boy and dog, solves the problems of the Carracough family.

Lassie, the collie, is not only an animal of amazing intelligence and personality, but a beautiful specimen that holds audiences breathless with interest. Crisp and young, McDowall are as tenderly effective as father and son as they were in "How Green Was My Valley." Elsa Lanchester plays a sympathetic and understanding mother to the boy. A gem is the performance of Dame May Whitty and Ben Webster, the kindly Scottish couple who befriend the starving dog and nurse it back to health. Edmund Gwenn plays a whimsical old peddler who also helps Lassie on her pilgrimage. Elizabeth Taylor, J. Patrick O'Malley and other principals are also in the cast. Fred M. Wilcox directed the picture with deft and sympathetic skill.

Leonard Smith's photography of scenic beauties, and of an actual rainbow in Technicolor, is outstanding. Daniele Amfitheof provided a gripping musical score, and Samuel Marx produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Doctor...
Lawyer...
Merchant...
Chief?

THROUGHOUT the Southland, thousands of clear-eyed youngsters...schooled in the traditions that have made America what it is today...are busily preparing to bring new greatness to Southern industry, agriculture and commerce...and better living to all America.

The lad poring over his chemistry book will some day make marvelous new things from Southern minerals, woods, cotton and many other Southern products.

The farm boy with the "green thumb" will raise huge crops and fine cattle on his fertile native soil.

The boy with inventive genius will find the South eager to employ his ideas.

And the youngsters who thrill as our trains rush by will some day...as railroaders...help to bring better living to all America. For the Southern Railway System will carry these products of peace with the same speed and efficiency and economy that it now carries Southern products to war.

Like all Southerners, we are now putting our might into the war to speed Victory and to help build a better, stronger South.

Like all Southerners, we are also doing our part to make the South a land of opportunity for the youngsters who are growing up today.

MY 4-H CLUB PROJECTS By DAVID MIDDLETON

One of my projects are breeding hogs and they are Hampshires. I have three sows and a boar for my breeding project and a pair of small pigs which were born of one of my own sows. One is a male and the other is a gilt. I bought my boar from a man by the name of Milton Ballenger for $30 and I have received $4 for his service. Several other hogs have been bred by him but I did not charge them as they were my relatives. This boar is a purebred registered Hampshire. The two old sows are purebred but not registered. They have made me a sum of money by producing little pigs. The first litter both together had eleven small ones of which nine were alive and I received $43, averaging about $4.68 apiece. The second time they did better and one had ten and the other nine. I didn't sell these but kept them until they were gilts and farrows. One of them died or got mangled. I kept one gilt for breeding purposes and milked 36.6. She is getting six pounds of grain. She was bred not sold the rest. I bred my two old sows again then and one had 13 pigs and the other had 6 pigs. I sold two of these pigs to another 4-H club member and two to a man to be grown for meat. I have the others and they are growing fine. I feed these pigs about four gallons of slop daily. For the year of 1943 my feed bills and other expenses have run up to $442.98 and all my credits counting the pigs on hand are $641.64. I made $89.72 cash not counting the pigs on hand. I live on Horse Pen Farms, Route No. 1, Herndon, Virginia.

My calf was born on January 19, 1941. She is a purebred registered Holstein. I call her Old which is her barn name but on her registration papers her name is "Dumloggin Olawin." She won four blue ribbons the first year, for which I received $5.00, two hundred pounds of feed, and the gold trophy. The second year she won two red ribbons and one white ribbon, receiving $5.00. She calved on September 15, 1943. On her first test she tested 3.8 and milked 43.7, the second test she tested 3.5 and milked 41.3, the third test she tested 3.4 and milked 39.9, the fourth test she tested 3.2 and long ago and will be fresh in September or October of 1944.

A message from the United States Treasury about YOUR WARTIME TAX DOLLARS

THE American people have accepted the highest tax bill in the history of the country with splendid patriotism and cheerfulness. The Treasury Department of the United States feels that an explanation is due them in turn—feels that they deserve to be told why, when and how their tax dollars are vital to winning this war and the peace that will follow.

As a taxpayer, consider these facts:

Our government is currently spending 240 million dollars each day, almost all of it on war, and this figure will increase materially as the war continues. About a third of that amount is being raised through taxes. Those tax dollars are as necessary for weapons with which to defeat our enemies as are dollars raised through the sale of WAR BONDS. Hence, when you pay taxes today you are definitely and directly contributing to victory.

And, at the same time, your taxes actually help to maintain your own purchasing power now—and prevent disaster to your country after the war. Here's how:

Billions of Dangerous Dollars

Every time your cost of living advances, you are paying a tax on your income. If your cost of living should double, you would pay a tax of 50% on your salary, wages or other income. But it would be a tax that wouldn't benefit our fighting forces, our government or anyone else—except Hitler and Hirohito.

Now—to prevent such a concealed tax on your income from taking place—isn't it good sense as well as sound patriotism to pay your government taxes of 20% on part of your total income—or more, if necessary?

And your taxes do help prevent just such a price rise! How? By taking part of the billions of dangerous dollars which otherwise threaten your living standard and putting them to useful work, winning the war. Those billions of dangerous dollars, you know, represent the difference between the income the American people will receive this year and the amount of civilian goods that will be made in the same twelve months. If taxes were lower, prices would tend to rise, and your real income would be reduced by just that much.

Keeping the America He Knew

There's another reason why your high taxes help your country in wartime—and really a much more important one to you. Your tax money is helping to win the war now—but it's equally essential to winning the peace and keeping the America that boy knew before he went into the armed forces.

All the industrial power, all the inventive genius and productive capacity of this country would not bring back a busy, prosperous America that we know if a drastic deflation followed victory. And, as surely as the sun that rises in the morning will set at night, a deflation would follow an inflation brought about by failure to tax ourselves realistically now.

So, next time that tax burden seems heavy to you—think of these facts. Remember that your tax dollars are helping to pay for victory now—that they are in there fighting for your living standard now—and that they are working to keep our country's financial structure sound for that boy now in the armed service, for all your family, and for you in the years of peace to come.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT YOUR TAX BILL

Q. How much of my federal tax payments is being spent on war and how much on so-called "normal" expenditures?

A. About 96% of your tax payments are currently going to pay for direct war expenditures. Only one dollar in every twenty-two you pay, therefore, goes for all other federal expenses, most of which are indirectly to aid the war effort.

Q. How much of the total war bill is being currently cut off taxes?

A. A little over one-third.

Q. Is this proportion higher or lower than in England and Canada?

A. Lower. Both Canada and Great Britain are paying approximately half of their war expenses through taxation.

Q. Is there any way other than taxes and war bonds by which the government could finance our share of the war?

A. There is. The government could borrow from the commercial banks, which would put even greater spending power in the hands of the people—thus creating a basis for inflation.

Q. Is there any other advantage in financing as large a share of the war bill as possible through taxes?

A. Yes—and a very real one to you, the taxpayer. All the bills for the cost of the war must be paid sooner or later through taxation, but if paid currently, from taxes, there will be no interest charge to mount over the years and provide an extra burden for you to carry.

Q. So far, so good. But don't you think taxation is unfair in the way it distributes the burden for all this?

A. On the contrary, and we believe you will agree if you think it through, that taxes are the fairest, most equitable way to pay for the war. That's because Federal Income taxes are levied on ability to pay for something that all of us need and must have—victory now, a sound America later.

Next time you get sore -- grab your pencil...

Next time you're sore at the Nazis or Japs, just sit down for a minute. And if there's a pencil handy, do a little figuring—something like this . . .

Sure, taxes are higher. You're paying more than you used to. And the cost of living hasn't gone down any either. That's costing you more. But . . .

Chances are, you're making more, too. And maybe somebody else in the family's working. Maybe one of the girls is bringing home a pay envelope every week—and pretty good pay at that. Chances are, there's more cash coming into your home right now than there has been for a long, long time. What's more . . .

Maybe you were going to get a new bus this year. Every year, you know, millions of people did get new ones. Or radios. Or refrigerators. Anyway, it's a cinch you'd have spent some money this year on things you can't buy now. So what?

So maybe you can put more of your family earnings into War Bonds! Not 10% or 12% or 15% or 20%—but all you can! If you and every other American who has an income will sharpen up your pencils and figure out how you can save an extra dollar here and another there that can go into War Bonds—if you'll keep on figuring and saving—you'll provide a weight of metal that will snap the Axis' spine like a rotten stick!

Let's pour it on! And keep pouring.

it on till the murderous fools who have defiled our soil, butchered our sons, broken up our homes—who have refused to let us live and work in peace—are smashed utterly to dust!

Get out that pencil! See charts below!
