

Governor Darden Speaks to League

Calls For Real Partnership Among Counties

Calling for a closer and more real partnership between the localities and the State, and urging the adoption of "the simple rule of doing locally, leaving to the State and the Federal authorities the tasks which are beyond the scope of local government," Governor Darden, speaking before the League of Virginia Counties meeting in Roanoke, outlined the three theatres of action wherein local authorities could excel—Health, Welfare and Education—and, while asserting that "the localities are not participating as they should in the government of our State, and all of us are poorer because of this," he called attention to the increased appropriations made by the General Assembly to Public Health, Welfare and Education and directly to the localities themselves and pointed to the great opportunity which local governments now have with this added help to "demonstrate their capacity in the field of public administration."

"I have seen the war programs being together our citizens in a common and united effort," Governor Darden said, "I know what magnificent things we can do working together. To harness this great force for the future and to project it beyond the war and into the peace is our present task and it is to this that we must address ourselves."

Calling attention to the important control and local interest in the public school system, and saying that "Nothing could be more unfortunate than for us to centralize in Richmond the direction of our schools," Governor Darden said, "The General Assembly which has just adjourned has taken a significant step in the direction of decentralization. Appropriations for Public Health, Public Welfare and Public Education were increased. $2,544,400 has been added for teachers salaries for the coming biennium and the total appropriation for this purpose stands at $25,215,400. In addition approximately $5,000,000 has been appropriated directly to the localities, all of which will be available for the coming biennium. These funds are as follows:

From extra ABC profits for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944 (Localities share of the additional funds under the Daugherty Bill), $1,166,667.
From same additional profits for the fiscal years 1945-46, $2,333,334 ($1,166,667 per year).
From Wine Tax for fiscal years 1945-46, $1,866,666 ($933,333 per year, estimate only).
From Wine Tax for final quarter of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944—approximately, $233,333.
Total—$5,600,000.

"In 1942-43 forty counties failed to meet the statutory provision which requires them to contribute a sum equal to 30 per cent of the amount contributed by the State for instruction," Governor Darden said, adding "I very much hope that the funds made available will first be used to overcome the deficiency and that as much as possible of the amount remaining will be devoted to public education because it is the most important function of government."

In the field of Public Health Governor Darden, stating that every county in Virginia should have a public health unit, called attention to "the large number who have been found physically unfit for service in the armed forces . . . many of the disqualifying defects might have been eliminated had medical attention been available at the proper time." "Such a service would not interfere with the private practice of medicine," he said, "it will supplement it." "Many of our rural areas are without medical facilities and some of them are without doctors. The Legislative Advisory Council is starting a study of hospital facilities for country families. The problem can be dealt with if the people themselves through their local representatives, are able to participate actively in the solution. Without their support the effort will fail."

In the field of Public Welfare he called attention to the alarming wave of juvenile delinquency and the desire of the State to carry out a program which would keep these children out of industrial schools and farms and amongst relatives

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Contest Sponsored

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting this week authorized the Nominating Committee to appoint a committee on arrangements for the current contest being sponsored by the organization to select the best suggestion for a project which the Chamber can foster. Each member has been asked to submit ideas at the next meeting. Among those already presented for consideration are the following which were announced by Mr. Charles Alpaugh: Cannery, Ladies' Tailor Shop, Community Gardens, Sewerage System, Furniture and Woodworking Shop, Delinquency Correction, Laundry, and a housing project.

A prize of $25 will be awarded the member offering the suggestion for the most worthwhile project. Rules for the contest and closing date for submitting entries will be announced at the next meeting.

Forty members and guests were present at the luncheon including Capt. Thomas Joyce of Occoquan who was introduced by President C. C. Cloe as a new member. The program committee presented Mrs. J. Vincent Davis, who gave a recitation, and John Y. Roseberry who discussed the proposed frozen food plant. Mr. Roseberry urged residents of the county and vicinity who desire locker service to sign up at the R. E. A. office or with Mr. or Mrs. J. L. Bushong who are filling applications. Rentals for the lockers which are to be paid in advance are $12 for a five cubic foot size and $15 for a six cubic foot size. Sixty per cent of the rents must be placed in escrow in a local bank before priorities for construction of the plant can be granted by the War Production Board. A membership fee of $10 will also be charged, and this amount will be returned whenever use of the locker is discontinued by the renter.

Mr. Cloe, who has served as president of the Chamber since its organization, was nominated as director from this area to the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce to be held next week. The nomination has been sent to the State Board of Directors for approval.

ALUMNI MEETING

On April 17 there will be a meeting of the Alumni Association in the auditorium of the high school at 8 p. m. Plans will be discussed for the annual alumni reunion. All officers and as many other alumni as possible please plan to be present.

and friends wherever possible. With this plan, he said "the most effective work can certainly be done by a sympathetic and interested community organization. Local conditions which are found to contribute to moral breakdowns can be remedied by such a group."

Saying that he welcomed the opportunity of discussing with members of the League of Virginia Counties "the possibilities of county government because I believe so firmly in this institution which has been a part of the life of Virginia since ancient days."

MRS. R. A. HUTCHISON AGAIN ACCEPTS CHAIRMANSHIP

Mrs. R. A. Hutchison has again accepted the chairmanship of the Children's Home Society Campaign in Prince William County, according to Hon. Alexander W. Weddell of Richmond, chairman of the State-wide Campaign Committee. Mrs. Frank D. Cox is serving with Mrs. Hutchison as co-chairman. The local drive is scheduled to begin early in April.

The Society's budget for 1944 totals $121,465, and while this is an increase of almost $20,000 over the expense of operating the Society in 1943, the quota for most local campaigns will not be increased due to the fact that the 1943 campaign raised $11,000 more than the expenses for the year.

During 1943, 120 new children were accepted, of whom 96 were under one year of age. Many of these came into the care of the Society immediately after birth because they were the babies of unmarried mothers who could not accept responsibility for them. A total of 575 children were cared for last year.

Funds raised by the Society are used to provide boarding home care for these infants and other children until foster parents who will adopt them can be found, or until they can be returned to their own parents or relatives.

FOUR NEW MEMBERS TO KIWANIS

At the Kiwanis Club on the last day of March an unprecedented thing occurred. There were four prominent men of Manassas who were received into membership. They were Eugene Davis, Stanley Owens, Carlton Cannon and R. E. Doffin. Taking advantage of this unusual occasion, Worth Peters made a most eloquent speech of welcome.

Accompanying two other guests Mr. and Mrs. Ramadel of George Cocks was Sergeant Barnard of the Royal Engineers of the English Army. He has been working in Washington with U. S. Army Engineers.

When Frank Sigman, who had charge of the program—an Army Day program—started with his message, he called on Sergeant Barnard for a few words. He responded modestly and helped to make the program a success and answered several interesting questions. Mr. Sigman, failing to get a speaker from the Army who could speak with authority, did what he could with his subject. We have always had an army from a few thousand men up to the millions now in the service. He spoke of the lessons taught by Dieppe and our venture at Cassino. The air corps is larger than the infantry. He ended with reading an article somewhat critical of the action of some of our soldiers in foreign countries.

Everyone is looking forward to "Kiwanis Kapers" on April 15 and 16. Crowded houses are anticipated.

A most interesting program has been prepared for the "Kiwanis Kapers" to be given in the Osborn High School Auditorium April 14 and 15 at 8 p. m. All of the local talent will show off.

TENTATIVE PRE-SCHOOL ROUND-UP PLAN

Rededication Of Civilians

Mr. Tiffany's Plans Unani- mously Adopted

Plans for the rededication to the war effort of all civilians of Prince William County were formulated at a meeting of representative citizens held at the Town Hall, Manassas, on Wednesday evening, March 29. The suggested program for observing Invasion Day sent out by the State Office of Civilian Defense was presented by County Co-ordinator, Hinton Tiffany, and unanimously adopted.

Word of the Allied Invasion of Europe will be flashed to all parts of the State over the warning system of the State control network and as soon as the message reading "This Is I Day" is received at the local Civilian Defense Office, the various communities will be notified by telephone and church bells will be rung for a period of five minutes. The signal will be supplemented by phone and messenger service so that all residents of the county will be informed.

A community meeting will be held in the Osborn High School Auditorium, Manassas, at 8 p. m. on "I-Day." Prayer, patriotic and sacred music, and speaking will constitute the program. Harry P. Davis, mayor of Manassas, will act as master of ceremonies, and R. Worth Peters will serve as program chairman. The Rev. W. H. Barnes will have charge of the services for the colored populace to be held at the same hour in the First Baptist Church.

Chairmen named to assist with plans for the observance at the High School include: The Rev. Stanley A. Knapp, ministerial committee; Mrs. J. Lewis Carper, Music Committee; Mrs. Joseph M. Hanson, wartime activity committee; Mrs. Frank D. Cox, publicity committee, and J. R. Stauff, arrangements committee.

Similar meetings are being arranged for other communities of the county. All gatherings will be held at 8 p. m. at centralized places following announcement of Invasion Day.

More Clothing Items Expected On Market

If promises made by the War Production Board in January have been fulfilled, more children's clothing, more work clothes for adults, and more yard goods should be on the market now than were available several months ago.

WPB promised more of these items by March 15 when the American Home Economics Association reported that a survey in December showed them to be extremely scarce on the market.

It was found in Virginia, for instance, reported Miss Iva Byrd Johnson, Extension Clothing Specialist at V. P. L., that shortages were most critical in clothing for children up to 15 years, especially underwear, garters, sweaters and snow suits.

Yard goods of types suited to school and house dresses, undergarments, sheets and pillow cases were not only higher in price but also poorer in quality and were completely off the market in some sections. Ready-to-wear in broken and unreliable sizes were common, Miss Johnson points out. Overalls, work shirts and cotton hose were scarce.

An effort to find out whether more of the scarce clothing and textile items are now available in Virginia is being made through a survey begun last week. It is hoped that reports on this survey can be announced soon.

JOHN SPRING ENLISTS IN NAVY

John Edward Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spring, aged 17, has enlisted in the Navy and is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill. We feel sure that "Johnnie" will make Manassas proud of him.

Mrs. Clifton S. Coffman of Lewisburg, West Virginia, is visiting her sister, Miss M. Sabina Neel here, enroute from the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clifton S. Coffman, Jr., in Orange, Texas, to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arnold Addison of Newark, New Jersey. Mrs. Coffman will be here for at least a week.

Townfolk cheer troops of 46th Division advancing through Lodi, Italy.

HONORS FOR THE 46TH DIVISION—Soldiers distinguished by the "Thunderbird" shoulder patch—members of the fighting Infantry organized from the Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona National Guard—are the first in the Army to share the glory of a unit citation of an entire Division. While still battling the enemy with the 5th Army in Italy the 46th was cited for its gallant conduct in action. Besides the "Thunderbird" shoulder insignia the men now are entitled to wear the wide blue citation ribbon with the border of bronze oak leaves—badge of honor for the personnel of a unit cited for gallantry.

In the 46th Division upon its organization were 1,500 Indians, representing 25 different western tribes. While undergoing training these true Americans carried along their Indian clothing and regalia and frequently indulged in tribal ceremonies and war dances to the wonder—and sometimes the disquietude—of civilian spectators. On going overseas they left their warbonnets behind, but not their warwhoops, and carried terror to the hearts of Hitler's Wehrmacht.

While made up largely of plainmen and cow-punchers from the Southwest the 46th Division has representatives from nearly every State in the Union and all are imbued with the same dauntless fighting spirit. The nucleus of one contingent is the old 157th Colorado Infantry, organized in 1881, a regiment that bears on its colors three streamers inscribed to victories in the Spanish War, the Philippine Insurrection and the World War. Following the landing at Salerno the 46th was in action 66 battle days.

It is a privilege to have their children read the daily Bible edition. It will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

Now before the feast of the pass-over, when Jesus knew that His hour was come that He should depart out of this world, having loved His own which were in the world, He loved them unto the end.—John 13:1.

A COMFORT TO KNOW

It's a comfort to know, particularly in these strenuous war times, that we are physically sound, that we have done a good job in keeping well in spite of our tense, crowded days.

How many of us have that comforting knowledge? How many of us have had a complete physical check-up recently? You may think you are all right, you may feel all right, but you don't know you are all right until you have had such an examination. This is particularly true in regard to our lungs.

The Early Diagnosis Campaign of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association, being held this month, is an intense educational campaign to make us realize the absolute necessity of knowing the truth about our lungs. Tuberculosis is a treacherous disease. It can be in an advanced stage before a single symptom appears. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ, thus, it is a highly communicable disease. Hence, a person's health can be wrecked by the germs, and those germs can spread to others, before the disease passes its "silent" stage.

A chest X-ray will give you the comforting knowledge that you are safe from tuberculosis. A chest X-ray, if it does show you have tuberculosis, also will give you the invaluable comfort of knowing in time. For tuberculosis, if found in time, particularly in its early stage, is curable.

Too many people are afraid to know the truth about their lungs. They cling to the old saying, "Ignorance is bliss," or, "What I don't know won't hurt me." Ignorance is not bliss—it may be suicidal and it may be murderous, if it's ignorance of the state of health of our lungs. And make no mistake about it, tuberculosis, if you have it, will

Creamed Eggs Are Nutritious and Tasty

(See Recipes Below)

Meals Without Meat

Vegetables can be filling, too! If you are working on menus without meats, you can still give your family foods that will give them plenty to put their teeth into—foods with that stick-to-the-ribs quality.

Vegetables will give you minerals and vitamins aplenty. Some of them will even supply some quantities of protein, but fortify these foods with complete proteins from milk, cheese and eggs. There's not a recipe in today's column that will not satisfy your desire for color and zest.

An old favorite, bean roast, is especially good at this time of year. It contains no meat, but tastes as though it certainly had some.

Cheese and Bean Roast

(Serves 5)
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1/2 pound American cheese
1 onion, chopped fine
1 tablespoon butter or substitute
1 cup bread crumbs
Salt and pepper to taste
2 eggs, well beaten

Drain the beans and put them with the cheese through the food chopper. Cook the onion in butter. Combine mixtures, add seasonings and eggs. Pack into a buttered loaf tin and cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 to 35 minutes or until browned. Serve with tomato sauce.

Eggs are dipping down in price and can be used generously as in the following recipe:

Creamed Potatoes and Eggs

(Serves 6)
3 cups sliced, cooked potatoes (left-over potatoes may be used)
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt

Make a white sauce by melting butter, adding flour, and mixing in milk. Cook until smooth and thickened. Add salt, potatoes and eggs cut in slices. Let heat thoroughly. One-half cup of grated American cheese may be added for topping before serving, if desired.

Save Used Fat!

Asparagus and Cauliflower With Rabbit Sauce.

(Serves 6)
2 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup grated American cheese
Few drops Worcestershire sauce
Cayenne
2 bunches cooked asparagus
1 head of cooked cauliflower

Lynn Says

Food Supplies: Sweet potato supplies this year will be good, thus bringing them within the range of every family in the country.

Potato supplies will depend on the May crop. Dried beans, peas, soy flour and grits, and peanut butter prospects are good. Sugar supplies will be about the same as last year, but more will be given for home-canning.

Fair supplies: only of these foods are indicated: vegetables, cheese, cream, butter, ice cream, beef, honey, jam, jelly, rice, salad oil, salad dressings, shortening, tea, cocoa and marjoram.

These foods will be scarce: onions—until April, bananas, canned fruits, lentils, fresh fish, white cornmeal, corn syrup, hominy grits, coconut, pineapple, celery seed, cinnamon, thyme, black pepper.

MORE OLD FRIENDS WAKE UP AND GREET PETER

PETER RABBIT chuckled to himself as he left Uncle Billy Possum and scampered on down the Lone Little Path through the Green Forest toward Bobby Coon's house. "A stomach is a funny thing," thought Peter. "Yes, sir, a stomach is a funny thing. People say that this one or that one is good hearted or bad hearted, when half the time I don't believe the heart has anything to do with it. It's the stomach. That's what it is—the stomach. If a fellow's stomach is just comfortably full he is good-natured, and if it is uncomfortably empty he is cross. It's surely funny how differently things look when you've got something in your stomach. Now this is certainly a beautiful spring morning, but Uncle Billy Possum couldn't see it until he got that beetle in his stomach. Then he was his old, good-natured self all in a wink. Why, if it wasn't for stomachs we wouldn't have much of anything to worry about."

Peter stopped running to think this new idea over. He can always think better sitting still. "It's a fact," continued Peter, talking out loud to himself. "If it wasn't for our stomachs we never would have to worry about food and we wouldn't have to worry about enemies because we wouldn't have any!" At this amazing thought Peter's eyes opened very wide. He felt that he had made a discovery.

Peter and Jimmy looked up to see Bobby Coon coming up the Lone Little Path.

"I don't know about that," said a voice. "You seem to forget about men with their terrible guns and traps. They hunt us for fun more than they do for food, though I must say I can't see where the fun comes in."

Peter whirled about. There was Jimmy Skunk. "Hello, Jimmy!" he cried. "I'm ever so glad to see you. When did you wake up? You are looking pretty well for one who has had nothing to eat since last fall."

"Who said I had had nothing to eat since last fall?" demanded Jimmy.

"Well, haven't you been asleep all winter?" asked Peter. "I should say not!" returned Jimmy Skunk, with something like scorn in his voice. "It is a wonder to me, Peter, that with all your own curiosity you know so little about your neighbors. I only sleep when the weather is too bad to get about comfortably. That is the time to sleep, as anyone with common sense knows. But when the snow isn't too deep, I come out in winter just for a little exercise and to get a bite to eat. I'm not so foolish as to sleep all the time."

"There's no doubt about that," said another voice. Peter and Jimmy looked up to see Bobby Coon coming up the Lone Little Path. Bobby yawned and rubbed his eyes. "Hello, old sleepyhead! When did you wake up?" cried Peter.

"This morning," replied Bobby. "Drummer the Woodpecker hammered on the side of my house until I couldn't sleep another wink. I had to get up to drive him away. Funny how inconsiderate of others some people are. Now I'm up, I guess I'll get something to eat. I feel hollow clear to my toes. I think I'll go over to the Laughing Brook and see if I can't catch a fish or two."

"That reminds me. Have either of you fellows seen any fat beetles this morning?" asked Jimmy Skunk. "If I had they would be where they would be doing the most good now," replied Bobby Coon, patting his stomach.

"I've seen one," said Peter.

"Where?" demanded Jimmy Skunk, eagerly.

"Disappearing down the throat of Uncle Billy Possum," chuckled Peter. "Huh," grunted Jimmy, with a disappointed air. "If that old sinner is abroad, I guess I better be moving if I want to get my share of fat beetles."

MOPPET MARGARET O'BRIEN
TUGS HEART STRINGS IN
"LOST ANGEL"

One of the tenderest romantic comedies of recent months will be shown at Pitts' Theatre on Monday-Tuesday, April 10-11. The film is M-G-M's "Lost Angel," starring Margaret O'Brien, the youngster who made such a sensational impact on American movie-going audiences in "Journey for Margaret" with James Craig and Marsha Hunt.

Little Margaret will bring a lump to your throat, a smile to your lips and a glow to your heart with her portrayal of the child prodigy who finds an unsuspected happiness when she runs away from home on the trail of a breezy reporter who has promised to show her magic.

When a group of scientists undertake a study in experimental psychology, their subject is a founding girl whom they plan to raise scientifically for six years in order to demonstrate that any child can be a mental giant. When the day to prove their results arrives a reporter is sent to interview the child. Irked by her superior intelligence, he disputes her assertion that there is no such thing as magic. This so disturbs the tot that in order to prove her point she runs away seeking the reporter. Circumstances arise which force him to harbor the child for a time, and during this time the child learns of tenderness and love. She gains a sense of human values which had been deliberately kept from her and in return brings happiness to the reporter and his fiancée.

James Craig and Marsha Hunt, who demonstrated their flair for comedy in "The Human Comedy," are wonderful foils for Margaret. Her shenanigans will keep audiences rolling in the aisles as she learns about the world and the people in it. Keenan Wynn, a comic of Ed Wynn, is a semi-comic gangster whose arrival in Craig's apartment complicates the plot. He is outstanding in his scenes with the child star. Also in the cast are Philip Merivale, Henry O'Neill, Donald Meek and Sara Haden.

Robert Sisk has spared no production details and Roy Rowland's deft direction keeps the story moving at a fast pace.

WAVES Teach Navy Gunners

WAVES operate synthetic gunnery training devices—not actual aircraft machine guns—but this girl is finding out what the real thing is like. Hundreds of Navy fliers who today are shooting down Jap and Nazi planes received their primary machine gun training under tutelage of the girls in Navy blue. The Navy needs—and needs now—thousands of girls fast, exciting, as well as precise, jobs with the WAVES. Information is available at any Navy Recruiting Station or Office of Naval Officer Program.

Meat Ring is Festive Low-Point Entree

An appetizing luncheon dish is this crusty brown meat ring to be served with a rich meat gravy, or a savory tomato or mushroom sauce. Yet the recipe requires only two cups of ground cooked meat so it's a thrifty entree in both ration points and price.

This meat ring is an excellent way to utilize leftover cooked meat, whether beef, lamb, veal, or ham. If you'd like to serve the ring, but haven't any leftover meat on hand, use browned hamburger or 1/4 pound of dried beef.

The biscuit ring dough is made with blended shortening, a versatile product prepared by scientifically blending meat fats and vegetable oils. It has excellent shortening power, makes tender, flaky biscuits and gives foods an appetizing richness. Remember that fats are an important part of a well-balanced diet, so budget the family ration points to allow the purchase of both table spread and cooking fat each week.

There was a time when some thought that fats were indigestible, but science has come to the rescue and food experts today tell us that fats are actually easily digested, both table spreads and cooking fats. It's comforting to know that products like blended shortening, that make foods taste so rich and good, are also good for us.

With this flavorful meat ring serve a buttered green vegetable, as broccoli, green beans or peas, and a fruit salad, such as apple and celery salad. This ring will serve six persons.

Meat Ring
1/2 cup blended shortening
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk

Filling
2 cups ground, cooked meat
1 cup white sauce or gravy
1/2 cup diced green pepper
2 tablespoons diced onion
Salt, pepper

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture is the consistency of coarse cornmeal. Stir in milk to form a stiff dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 3 or 4 times. Roll out into rectangular sheet about 1/2 inch thick. Spread with meat filling. Roll up jelly roll fashion and shape into a ring. Place on baking sheet and cut with scissors at 1-inch intervals almost through ring. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

For a brown gravy, blend 4 tablespoons of flour with 4 tablespoons meat drippings. Add 2 cups of meat stock, water or milk. Cook slowly to thicken, stirring to keep smooth. When thick and bubbly season and serve. If a mushroom gravy is desired, wash and clean mushrooms, slice, brown in fat before making gravy.

REMARKABLE PICTURE TELLS STORY OF DEADLY WARFARE

Though the corvette is strictly a creation of the present global war, her name goes back to Britain's navy of Napoleonic War days in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. Then, a corvette was a full-rigged ship, carrying one tier of guns. She was a trifle smaller than a frigate. In fact, the vessels similar to corvettes which the United States is building now for similar convoying tasks are to be called "frigates" according to reliable sources. The purpose behind both historic names is to strengthen the popular war effort by uniting the present to the glorious past.

The history of the modern corvette is to a considerable degree the history of the small but efficient Royal Canadian Navy, which specializes in the construction and operation of this sort of anti-submarine craft. Corvettes are chunky, one-funnelled vessels armed for every possible emergency.

The famous little battleships are dramatized for the first time on the screen in Howard Hawks' "Corvette K-223" coming Wednesday and Thursday, April 12-13 to the Pitts Theatre. Presented by Universal and directed by Richard Rosson, the important new picture was made with the full cooperation of the Royal Canadian Navy. Rosson made five trans-Atlantic crossings to secure realistic and genuine scenes for the production. Randolph Scott is starred.

How to get twice as many Extra Red Points

If you've been thinking you have no used fats to save for Uncle Sam, then take a look at these pictures. You may find you've been passing up some good sources just because they hadn't occurred to you. Remember, used fats are URGENTLY needed to make munitions and battlefield medicines. Every drop is precious.

1. WHEN you make stews, soups, or gravies, skim off and save the grease. Later chill them and scoop off the cake of fat that congeals on top. It's easy to get all the grease from such things when they are cold. The need for your used fats is more urgent than

2. THEN there's the fat you trim from roasts, chops, or other cuts. Keep it in a small bowl—once or twice a week, when the oven is on, melt it down and add it to the fat can. (Any tin can will do. Keep it right on the back of the stove where it's always handy).

3. IT'S never too burned! Never too dark or smelly to be of use. Even grease you've used over and over... it all produces vital war materials. So save it all. Scrape the bottom and sides of the frying pan, the roaster, the broiler.

4. WOULD you ever have thought the water you boil hot dogs or sausages in may yield a whole tablespoon of fat? (Enough to make 5 machine-gun bullets!) After you've taken the franks from the pot let the water get cold and skim off the congealed grease.

5. AND those scraps left on the dinner plates—add them to the bowl with the meat trimmings. Once or twice a week, when the oven is hot, melt down the precious fat. Try to fill that fat can faster! Get more extra red points for yourself! Start today, won't you?
