POPPY DAY MAY 27 BIG SALE NEEDED

Veterans and Their Dependents Profit By the Results

The biggest sale in the history of the American Legion Auxiliary is predicted by Mrs. Hanson, president of the local unit, who said yesterday she would not be surprised if more than double the usual number were sold.

As few people know what the arrangements are for making these Memorial Day flowers, Mrs. Hanson explained that the materials are furnished free to the veterans by the American Legion Auxiliary. Volunteer workers teach the disabled men to make poppies. The entire poppy program, from the supplying of the poppy materials, to the distribution of the finished flowers to the American public, is under the management of the Auxiliary.

"The veterans and their dependents are the ones who benefit from our poppy sale," she said, "not only from the money that results from selling poppies, but also from having something tangible to do instead of having to rest, read or talk. These men in the government hospitals are delighted to keep their fingers busy and their minds occupied with the intricacies of fashioning the poppies."

Needy wives and children also reap benefits from the sale of the flowers. "Many people have wondered what will become of the money collected by the volunteer workers Saturday, May 27. I wish everyone could see what help this money brings to the disabled and their families. Children left fatherless by two world wars are the special concern of the Legion and Auxiliary. Their needs are often great, especially their human needs. We try to give them comfort both for the body and the mind."

"Of course the government looks after the physical welfare of the disabled men who are in hospitals in almost every state, but there are things which the government cannot provide, such as the understanding aid and the personal attention that so often helps a disabled man and which often helps to keep a family together when the chief breadwinner is incapacitated."

"This is what the money from the poppy sale helps to accomplish. And we hope that this year more and more people will buy the poppies and show their interest in and their sympathy for the men who have fought for them and are now struggling to get back to the point where they can again become self supporting."

SERGEANT ROSEBERRY IN ENGLAND

Gunnery in the crews of the famed Flying Porpoise Squadron of a Liberator Group in England are credited by pilots with contributing greatly to the Squadron's record. Staff Sergeant Edward K. Roseberry, is an airplane mechanic-gunner on the B-24 Liberator, "Wreewolf."

Receiving his gunner's wings at the Harlingen Gunner School, Texas, Sergeant Roseberry was transferred to Amarillo, Texas, where he received his mechanic's training.

He joined his present group at Lowry Field, Colorado, where he received preparatory training before being shipped overseas. Sergeant Roseberry has been in England several months and his Squadron has one of the best records of B-24 Liberator outfits stationed in the European Theater of Operations.

Sergeant Roseberry is a graduate of Manassas High School.

Mr. Walter Sudd informs us of the arrival of two new trucks just received at his garage this week. These are the first to be delivered since Pearl Harbor.

SIGNIFICANCE OF CONFEDERATE COLORS EMPHASIZED AT MAY MEETING OF DAUGHTERS

The regular monthly meeting of Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., was held in the Prince William Hotel, Wednesday, May 3, with Mrs. Jos. Kinchloe and Miss Minnie Connor, hostesses.

Promptly at 2:30 p. m. the body was formally called to order by the President, Mrs. R. L. Byrd. And the proceedings opened in the usual order with the Lord's Prayer in concert, followed by the flag ceremony of pledge to the Stars and Stripes and salute to the colors of the Confederacy led by Mrs. Lewis Carper and Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, respectively.

Then with Mrs. Carper at the piano, several old familiar Southern melodies were sung with spirit and much feeling. My Old Kentucky Home, Carry Me Back to Old Virginia and Dan Emmett's Dixie are always heart stirring.

Appropriate to the occasion was the reading of a quotation from the late Dr. Littlefield of Boston, self-styled "Confederate Yankee": "I hold that the State Flag, the Stars and Bars and the Stars and Stripes are ALL essential to symbolize American civic ideals and relationships. The State Flag stands for local self-government; the Confederate Flag for a group of States—Southern States—that stand for the same principle, but in Union (the Confederacy); the Federal Flag for inviolate centers of self-government (the States) in Federal Union. Without the ideals symbolized in the Confederate Flag the Stars and Stripes are MEANINGLESS; they become a confusion, symbolizing NOT Federal Union but CENTRALIZED IMPERIALISM! Such to my mind was and is the significance of the Confederate Flag and the not 'lost but immortal' Cause. May we never lose sight of the significance of the Confederate Flag in our America. For without Confederate principle—local self-government in Federal Union—Anglo-American ideals will perish from among men."

The PATHFINDER says "The colors of the Confederacy may fly again. Not the Stars and Bars, but the battle streamers that marched with the legions of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson and Jeb Stuart and Nathan Bedford Forrest. These may be carried with regimental colors by regiments whose history can be traced back to service with the Southern States in the Civil War. The bill Maryland, passed the -astes-McpMep sponsored by Senator Tydings of Maryland, passed the Senate after Secretary Stimson reported that the War Department had no objection. Confederate streamers would be supplied to appropriate units at Government expense as in the case of any other streamers for Federal service." (This was a contribution by the historians for the Scrap-Book.)

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson gave an entertaining, stimulating and inspirational paper and discussion on the great Southerner, Robert Toombs of the first Confederate Cabinet, the "Boanerges" of Georgia. In an appraisal of the men of the country, this statement was made in THE ADVANCING SOUTH by Edwin Mims; Virginia gave to the Nation at the time of the foundation of the Republic a group of statesmen rarely excelled in the history of the world.

Memorial Day speaker, it was announced with pleasure by the Historian, will be the Hon. C. A. Sinclair.

A very delightful message from Mrs. E. Marsteller came to the Chapter through the President, announcing the gift of a collection of pen and ink sketches (by friend of Mrs. Marsteller's, Mrs. DeShields an accomplished artist) to the Manassas Battlefield Park Museum.

A letter from 4th District Chairman, Mrs. N. McGregor Ewell, announced time and place of the spring meeting of the District which will be May 12, in the Methodist Church at Warrenton with the Black Horse Chapter hostess.

Mrs. A. O. Weedon asked for a moment to state the gratifying results of the recent financial project for the Building Fund, nearly $50.00.

At the close of the business of the afternoon, the members were greatly refreshed with the ice cream and coffee served with characteristic graciousness of the hostesses, Mrs. Kinchloe and Miss Connor.

CHIEF FRIX SAYS:

Richmond, Virginia, March 27, 1944—Chief Petty Officer Alton Frix Recruiter in Charge of the Navy Recruiting Station located in the post office building in Manassas announced today the Navy's present needs for men in the Hospital Corps. "It only stands to reason," said Chief Frix, "that a greater number of men will be needed for practical first aid work and other types of duties in the hospital corps with the coming second front in Europe."

At present 17 year old men who are adaptable to hospital and first aid work are accepted by the Navy and rated as Hospital Apprentice, second class upon enlistment. After the completion of 'boot' training the Hospital Apprentice will be assigned to the Corps for duty.

Just as in any other branch of the Navy, the Corpsman may advance in rating as his knowledge of the varied duties is broadened. The Hospital Corpsman performs every conceivable task in connection with the care of the sick and the injured. His duties begin with practical nursing and the care of the sick and range through the fields of first aid, clinical laboratory, X-ray, physical therapy, pharmacy, field sanitation, embalming, commissary and many clerical fields related to Medicine and Surgery.

Seventeen year old boys with a medical background are urgently needed, but such experience is not necessary when qualifying for the Hospital Apprentice, Second class rating. This rating carries a pay of $54 a month, and gives the recruit a good start up the ladder of the Navy Hospital Corps.

Those interest in hospital work in the Navy should contact Chief Frix at the post office building on any Thursday.

NELL GRIM Home Demonstration Agent

Before investing in "deep" or "quick" freezing equipment for preserving food at home, be sure it is in good condition and not too high in price, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Office of Price Administration advise. Because the demand for such equipment is heavy and new freezers are not being manufactured, some used freezers are for sale that cost too much or will not give good service. Under OPA regulations dealers cannot sell freezers at prices above those of March, 1942.

Many of the freezers now for sale came from retail stores where they were used as beverage dispensers or for ice cream and other frozen products now being manufactured in smaller amounts or going largely to the armed forces. Some of the equipment is not in usable condition and cannot be repaired, because new parts are not being made and skilled repairmen are lacking.

WARTIME BANANAS, FRESH AND DRIED

Although the big refrigerated vessels that before the war brought an average of 50 million bunches of bananas a year to the United States are all on duty with the armed forces, banana dishes on the menu are still a possibility. Fresh bananas are continuing to come in, many by rail from Mexico and others on small coastwise freighters without refrigeration. Many of these wartime bananas are smaller than those generally for sale before the war because growing practices in certain banana-raising areas have also been imported from Brazil and Central American countries and are now on the market as powder, flakes or slices. The dried sliced bananas are known to the trade as "banana figs". These products are all made from the sweet dessert-type banana and are for cooking use in such favorite dishes as banana cream pie, cake and custard as well as in banana milk shakes and ice cream. Also on the market in small quantities is banana flour, made from the plantain type banana which is more starchy and less sweet. Banana flour is used much like rice, potato or wheat flour.

Recent cooking tests of banana powder, flakes and slices by home economist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that both powder and flakes are satisfactory substitutes for fresh bananas in recipes calling for mashed or sieved bananas. Flakes and powder are light in color and have a mild banana flavor. The banana slices or "figs", on the other hand, are darker in color before cooking, have a stronger offier flavor, and need soaking in water before using. Even after soaking, the tests showed that they are not easily pressed through a sieve, as fresh bananas are, and that they leave considerable pulpy waste.

Dried bananas in any form easily absorb moisture from the air and when moistened may mold or ferment, so should always be kept in tightly closed containers.

In using powder or flakes in place of fresh bananas in a recipe, a good general rule is to use about 2 level tablespoons in place of each fresh banana called for, or to use about half the measure of dried as of fresh mashed or sieved banana. Exact measurements are not essential. More or less dried banana may be used, depending on how strong a banana flavor is wanted.

Because dried bananas are more concentrated in sugar than fresh bananas, the amount of sugar a recipe calls for may often be reduced when dried bananas are used.

DR. PODOLNIC AT KIWANIS

Kiwanis is keeping up its recruiting work. Caton Merchant of Manassas was welcomed into membership by a Reverend Kiwanian H. W. Connolly of Clifton Forge. He hit off many telling phrases. "We build" is the motto of Kiwanis. Manassas builds Kiwanis and Kiwanis builds Manassas.

In the absence of Percival Lewis, Stanley Owens introduced the speaker of the evening—Dr. Podolnic. He spoke at some length on the duties and work of the PPublic Health service. Diphtheria and small-pox are practically non-existent because of definite work by those who recognize the causes and are insistent that for the sake of the community, individuals shall submit to prescribed remedies. Typhoid is on its way out, too, and tuberculosis by "patch-tests" and subsequent X-Ray examinations must finally be overcome. Over a thousand X-Ray examinations were given recently to pupils of the county schools and to others who desired them. All the teachers of the county submitted to this test. Certainly it is good to know about the disease before it becomes fastened too strongly on the people. Cancer, too, can be cured, if it can be recognized in its early stages.

Various people asked questions of Dr. Podolnic.

C. OF C.

After a delightful luncheon the following business was brought before the Chamber:

Dr. Podolnic discussed at length the major diseases of the county with reference to measures to curtail and relieve them. His remarks were listened to with close attention.

The annual Fish Fry turned out so well financially and every one had such an enjoyable time down on the Aquia Creek at the cabins of Mr. C. C. Cloe, that the Chamber will have another Fish Fry soon.

A letter of appreciation was sent to Mr. C. C. Cloe for his hospitality.

The Chamber expressed their thanks for the way the committee, Dr. Cocks and Sheriff Kerlin, arranged the entertainment. They were re-appointed officials at the next Fish Fry.

A letter of appreciation from the Chamber was also sent to Mr. Tom Young and his gang of approximately twenty-one gentlemen who served the Fry.

WENNEMAN ALSO SERVING THE NICKEL PLATE AND PERE MARQUETTE R. R.

William H. Wenneman, of Cleveland, who was elected Vice President of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company in March, has been advanced to similar posts on both the Nickel Plate and Pere Marquette railroads. Approval of his application to serve as vice president of the two other component roads of the Chesapeake & Ohio Lines was granted today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Wenneman was born in Cleveland, December 13, 1902. He came up the ranks in railroading from the humble role of office boy for the Messrs. O. P. and M. J. Sweringen, starting in November, 1918. His education at the Cleveland public schools was followed by a year and a half at the high school at Strongsville, O., and at business school.

From 1923 to 1926, he was secretary, office of Chairman of the Board, Nickel Plate Road, and from 1927 to 1930, he filled a similar position on the Chesapeake and Hocking Valley railroads. From 1930 to 1936 he was secretary to the Chairman of the Missouri Pacific Lines.

Mr. Wenneman returned to service on the Chesapeake & Ohio, March 1, 1937, as Assistant to the Chairman of the Board. He was made Assistant to the President of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Nickel Plate and Pere Marquette railroads on May 1, 1940, continuing in that capacity until his advancement to Vice President.

For the past eighteen years, Mr. Wenneman's activities have had to do with financial phases of railway management.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSN.

An address by Dr. H. B. Jarman, director of instruction in Arlington County, will highlight the program of the local Parent-Teacher Association meeting on Thursday evening of next week, May 18th. This will be the final meeting of this school term and will be held in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Jarman is an excellent speaker and will bring a message of special in-

IMPRESSIVE PROGRAM MARKS THE CLOSING YEAR OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Peace was the theme of the opening prayer and the lovely poem read by the club chaplain, Mrs. A. W. Ballantine, at the meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club on Monday evening, May 8th, in Parish Hall.

Following group singing of the national anthem and flag salute, the retiring president, Mrs. Lewis Carper, voiced her appreciation of the cooperation and support given her during her term of office, and warmly welcomed the new president, Mrs. R. Worth Peters. A dainty corsage of lilies-of-the-valley was attached to the gavel handed to Mrs. Peters.

A club pin, bearing a tiny gavel, was presented to Mrs. Carper by Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, who interspersed her message to the retiring president by reading a very timely and beautiful little poem, entitled "Morale."

During the brief business session, with the new staff of officers officiating, a budget for the new year was adopted. Mrs. Peters named board members and committees.

Members of the Garden Section of the club were thanked for the lovely floral decorations adorning the rooms.

Mrs. Peters gave a glowing account of the combined accomplishment and attainment of the clubs of Virginia, as brought out in various committee reports given at the recent State Federation convention in Roanoke, which she and the recording secretary, Mrs. Marshall Douglas, attended as delegates. She made special mention of the inspiring talk made by Phyllis Pedigo, a Red Cross nurse invalidated home from strenuous war service in Australia.

Special recognition was given the past presidents in attendance—Mrs. Raymond Ratcliffe, the local club's first president, Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd and Mrs. Carper. Mrs. Morris Smith, new president of the Manassas Junior Woman's Club was also welcomed.

The program consisted of special music, arranged in keeping with observance of Music Week. "Loch Lomond" and "Dear Land of Mine" were the selections rendered by a trio, composed of Mrs. M. S. Burchard, Mrs. E. L. Weston, and Mr. Chas. A. Sinclair, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Baker.

Mrs. R. C. Haydon, Mrs. Roswell Round, Mrs. V. V. Gillum and Mrs. E. B. Moncure were hostesses at the beautifully appointed reception, with Mrs. Ratcliffe presiding at the punch bowl.

BOND SALES INCREASE AT SCHOOL

The Bond Baby Contest at Osbourn High School is helping to boost the sale of Stamps and Bonds! The sale records show $1,254.00 invested in Stamps and Bonds since May 1. Interest is increasing in the community as well as at the school. At the present time 27 babies have been entered either by individuals or organizations:

Esther Maddox Tribble, David Johnson, Deanna Jane Walker, Edwin Leslie Packer, Jr., Margaret Lumsford, Ann Carroll Blakemore, Sue Massey Hook, Ronald Richard Houser, Robin Ann Billington, Patricia Adams Roesech, Sharyn Dale Webster, Iris Elaine Matthias, Joan Wethen Hall, Sandra Lee Ball, Jack Alvis Simpson, Howard Lane Gebeaux.

NaNcy Elizabeth Crouch, Ronald David Moore, Betty Smith, Thomas Allan Ritter, Jenny Sue Breeden, Richard Ratcliffe, Wallace Lynn, Jr., Bobby Byrd, III, Lennie Weston, Mollie Owens, Bobby Bayne.

This contest will continue until May 23, instead of May 17 as previously announced. Buy War Bonds now and vote for the Bond Baby! ! ! !

Lt. Arthur Sinclair, who received his commission at the Adjutant General's School at Ann Arbor, Mich., has returned to his home here and has been assigned to duty in Washington.

terest to all parents and friends of the schools.

Fathers will be given special recognition at this meeting, and the awarding of the attendance banner, and prize will be based upon the number of fathers representing each school room.

A brief summary of the year's accomplishments, as shown by the annual reports of the various committees, will be given during the business session.

The executive board members will meet one-half hour earlier.

Simulate Flying Effects in Range of Battle and Storm Conditions.

WASHINGTON.—Five hundred devices, many of them original inventions, which simulate flying effects ranging from enemy gunfire to tropical storms, have been turned out by the navy in 2½ years for training of its aviators.

At headquarters of the division of special devices, bureau of aeronautics, directed by Capt. Luis de Florez, engineering genius concentrates on simplifying for learning purposes all the complex aviation equipment which that genius has produced.

Such a instrument, for instance, as the PBM-3 flight engineer's panel gives a student training which is practically identical with that he would receive behind the controls of a Martin Mariner in flight. The panel is connected with an instructor's control board, allowing him to check student operations, or to complicate them by introducing synthetic storm, battle and accident conditions.

Intuitive Reactions Follow.
By development of intuitive reactions, by telescoping military study all the way from high mathematical theory down to synthetic battle conditions, the devices produce practical results without tying up combat equipment and without interfering with combat activities, Captain De Florez pointed out.

Great Britain gets the devices through lend-lease and other Allied powers wish to do so. Before the division was established, the navy studied British developments in this field. Captain De Florez continues to keep in close contact with laboratories in England. He also has gone into the Pacific theater to observe the navy's use of the devices.

The most remarkable training inventions and the drama of their development are restricted information. However, the reputation of the division for solving critical training problems has caused it to receive special requests for inventions not only for training, but for battle, to be used by the army as well as the navy.

For example, on order from North Africa, the division developed and delivered in 13 days a "perspective sketcher" which was used in the invasion of Sicily. This mechanical pencil automatically draws land contours as they will appear at specified altitudes and angles of flight approach.

For free gunnery proficiency a device has been invented whereby fire can be directed at motion-picture targets from the simulated turret of a bomber. To develop fighter-plane gunner technique a "gunairstructor" has been conceived. In this machine, by operating the controls in a forward cockpit, a pilot maneuvers an "enemy plane" on a motion-picture screen, while another pilot in a rear cockpit makes the plane turn red every time he makes a hit.

The training methods apply to all fields of naval aviation, not only to gunnery but to navigation, recognition, bombing, torpedo, radio, instrument flying and high-altitude work. In a celestial navigational trainer a crew of four can simulate an all-night flight under revolving stars. "Cones of fire," or the attack angles which involve the least amount of defensive fire in approaching certain types of aircraft, are taught simply by the painted and unpainted areas on transparent globes constructed around plane models.

Cadets receive blind-flying instruction from phonograph records and improve their radio voices with recording machines. Distributed around the halls and lounges of naval air schools are popular information machines which operate question-and-answer games on the pin-ball principle.

Hormone Gives Hope of Building Up Some Dwarfs

BERKELEY, CALIF.—Isolation in the pure state of the growth hormone, a step that gives hope of adding stature in extreme cases of dwarfism, was announced by the University of California.

Dr. Herbert M. Evans, director of the institute of experimental biology, who, with Dr. Choh Hao Li, research associate, had obtained the substance from beef pituitaries, said that the hormone would be too expensive to use except in extreme individual cases, as the process of isolation is long and tedious.

Dr. Li, who disclosed that hormone injections had produced growth in rats which had stopped growing, said that use of the hormone might influence the growth of older human dwarfs as well as young ones.

7,000,000 British Women

Actively Engaged in War

LONDON.—Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin said 22,000,000 Britons now are engaged in fulltime war work and in the armed forces and that of these more than 7,000,000 are women. Opening a rest home for women workers at Tadworth, Surrey, which was built with donations from American war workers, Bevin said that $225,000 was contributed in the U. S. in 1943 to build British rest homes.

Servicemen Run Down And Kill Robber Suspect
SAN FRANCISCO.—Two servicemen used their automobile to run down and kill one of two men they said had robbed them of $25 a few minutes before, Police Inspector Martin Lee reported. The second of the holdup suspects was injured when the car swung onto the sidewalk but limped away and escaped. The servicemen are George Aris, 24 years old, an aerial gunner, and Arthur Battaglia, 22, boat-swain's mate, Lee said.

Three United States Mints Work Night, Day
WASHINGTON.—The three U. S. mints, working 24 hours a day, turned out 2,023,898,270 coins in 1943, or nearly one-tenth as many coins as have been produced since the mint was founded in 1792, the treasury announced. More than half the coinage was the steel penny. Face value of all coins minted was $136,237,136.70. Since the mint was founded, 21,582,000,000 coins with a value of $6,696,000,000 have been turned out.

Russ Report 2,000,000 Murdered by Germans
LONDON.—A Moscow broadcast declared that the extraordinary states commission on the investigation of crimes by the German invaders reported 2,000,000 men murdered since the Nazis moved into Russian territory. Prisoners of war were among those "killed and poisoned in murder vans."

Pleasures

The greatest pleasures we find in life, Are those which may cost the least. All our surroundings with them are rife, They offer to us a feast. They are found not in spots on the hectic way,

Nor in drugs that make dull the mind. They are found not in orgies that would ally The troubles that press and blind. They are found much more off, In the talk of friends,

In the merry exchange of speech; In the sight of a streamlet That winds and bends, And laps on its sandy beach. They're found in the work Man was made to do, To fit which he was designed, In play and in rest, When the day is through, Diversion for weary mind. The greatest pleasures are clean and fine, In them is not harm, but good; And wholesome are they as the fragrant pine. Time's test have they well withstood.

History Is Made at War Front by Stevedores, Too
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES.—Port battalions unloading supplies fed into the Anzio beach-head and Cassino front simultaneously during recent weeks were especially lauded by Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander.

On February 13, during the critical period, the battalions unloaded 1,770 long tons of cargo from one ship, peninsular base section of officials explained. The battalions, composed of former office workers as well as former stevedores and dock workers, are veterans of more than one beach-head operation, having unloaded ships at Fedala near Algiers, Casa blanca in Morocco, Bizerte, Zela, Salerno and Anzio. Officials said the record was accomplished in "one of the most completely destroyed harbors of this war," and climaxed an unloading record since the battalions moved into the choked Naples harbor.

Troop Plane Output Is Soaring, Maker Reports
BUFFALO, N. Y.—A 250 per cent boost in production of the C-46 commando, cargo and troop transport plane in 1944 has been announced by Burdette S. Wright, vice president of the Curtiss-Wright corporation airplane division. Wright also reported production of an improved version of the P-40 Warhawk, to be known as the P-40N, and a 50 per cent decrease in absenteeism in the last year.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

British Blast Axis Ships After Foe Wastes Shots

LONDON.—A British submarine recently surprised an enemy convoy and sank one freighter and severely damaged a second, while the enemy escort vessels fired wildly in such panic they failed to score a single hit, the admiralty announced.

The submarine intercepted the convoy, consisting of two ammunition freighters and two escort vessels, and blew up one freighter with its first torpedo. The panic-stricken escort vessels fired all their guns, even their anti-aircraft batteries, exhausting all their ammunition in vain attempts to drive off the Allied attacker.

After the escort vessels ceased firing for lack of ammunition, the submarine returned and torpedoed the second freighter, leaving it badly damaged.

Declares Japs Trying To Divert Yellow River

KUNMING, CHINA.—The Japanese in north China are commanding workmen to start digging a new course for the Yellow river, the local army newspaper Sao Tang Pao has reported. The paper said the move was part of Japanese preparations for a last ditch fight in north China. The Japanese were said to be planning to cut a channel, making the Yellow flow into the Wei, and thence to the sea.

HOW TO AFFORD A FINE DINNER

Julia gives 5 ways to cook meats

EVER HEAR of these delectable meat dishes names: "Mock Oysters"—"Pennywise Steak"—"Bacon Cutlets"—"Barbecued Breast of Lamb"? Ever try them? They're surprisingly simple. And my, how they do make a meal different!

BEEF

Mock Oysters: Combine 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef, 1 cup cooked tomatoes, 1/2 cup cracker crumbs, 1 egg, 1 tsp. salt, and 1/4 tsp. pepper; mix until thoroughly blended. Form into small oyster-shaped patties. Fry slowly in small amount shortening until browned on both sides, about 3 minutes. Remove to heated platter or serving dish; keep in warm place. Serve with pan gravy or tomato sauce. Serves 6 to 8.

Pennywise Steak: Combine 1 to 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef or hamburger, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 2 tps. Worcestershire sauce, 3 tps. grated onion, 1 egg, and 1/2 cup milk; mix with spoon or hands until thoroughly blended. Shape to resemble steak, 3/4-inch thick, and brush with melted shortening. Place in heavy frying pan or on heated broiler pan, and insert 5 inches below broiler unit. Broil about 10 minutes, or until well browned. Turn and broil other side similarly. Serves 6.

Bacon Cutlets: Cut thin strips of bacon in half, crosswise. Dip in well beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs. Saute 5 minutes or until golden brown, in small amount hot melted shortening, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper.

LAMB

Kabobs (also known as Shish Kebab, and En Brochettes): Let 2-inch squares of lamb soak for half-hour or longer in a barbecue-type sauce containing oil, vinegar and garlic. String squares of lamb on skewer alternately with thick slices of tomato, onion and orange. Broil for 10 to 15 minutes, turning once.

Barbecued Breast of Lamb: Plan for 1/4 lb. of lamb per person. Leave whole, or cut into pieces for serving. Place in single layer in drip pan; sprinkle with salt and pepper (do not add water and do not cover). Roast in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 1 hour or until well browned and meat is done, turning occasionally.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

By parents, all have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. John 20:12.

STRENGTH THROUGH GOODNESS

The liberation of Mohandas K. Gandhi, who has been confined for nearly two years at a friend's palace in Poona, India, serves to raise again some old problems and questions regarding British rule in India. Gandhi seems to be regarded in India as a mahatma, or "great soul," possessed of exceptional high wisdom and holiness. And thousands of people in this country view him in the same light. He is easily the outstanding mystic of the Orient.

Is Gandhi supernatural as thousands of people believe today? Can he work miracles? These are questions that appeal strongly to the superstitious. Realistic Americans might agree with British doctors that he is suffering from high blood pressure and a kidney ailment. His own son is quoted as saying that Gandhi is seriously ill and probably near death. As for the soul of the man, that is another matter.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother Jane Anderson who departed this life 2 years ago today, May 12th, 1944.

In the graveyard softly sleeping, where the flowers gently wave; lies the one we loved so dearly and tried so hard to save.

She is gone but not forgotten, and never shall she be, and we hope some day to meet her, in the home above with Thee.

What would we give to hold your hand. Your dear face just to see, your loving smiles, your welcome voice which meant so much to us.

Some may think we are not lonely, when at times they see us smile. Little do they know the heartaches that we suffer all the while.

By her husband and children.
JOHN T. ANDERSON.

I wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy, during the sickness and death of my husband.

MRS. JOHN SEYMOUR.

WE'RE GLAD TO SERVE

The U. S. Treasury recently issued a statement to the press praising the work of the banks in the war effort. It was pointed out that 13½ billion dollars—over 80% of all bonds sold in the 4th War Loan—cleared through banks. Banks did this job at their own expense. They received no remuneration. They paid out large sums for salaries, overhead and advertising. We appreciate this recognition, but seek no special praise. We welcome the opportunity to help win the war.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN A GOOD WHITEWASH FORMULA

The Maryland State Highway Department has used the following whitewash formula for several years in improving the appearance of its highways and for marking obstacles:

Salt 12 lbs.
Powdered Alum 6 Ounces
Molasses 1 Quart
Lime Paste (Prepared by soaking 50 lbs. Hydrated Lime in 6 Gallons Water 8 Gallons

In mixing, dissolve the salt and alum in 4 gallons of hot water and then add the molasses. Add this solution to the lime paste, stirring vigorously, and then thin to the desired consistency.

whitewash should be applied thin and the surface should first be dampened so that the coating will dry slowly. A thin coat will give better results than a thick one.

The booklet "Whitewash and Cold Water Paints" giving other formulas may be obtained upon request to the County Agent's office.

GRAZING HOGS

A considerable part of the required carbohydrates and about half of the required protein can be supplied hogs by the use of good pastures. However, pasture will not entirely meet the hogs' need for protein. Feeding protein supplements is important in order to produce pork at a lower total cost and in a shorter time. For every pound of protein supplement fed, up to a certain point, in the dry lot six pounds of corn is saved and for each pound of protein on pasture four pounds of corn are saved.

Farmers making maximum use of good pastures for hogs have a chance to feed hogs at a profit under present conditions.

PUREBRED BREEDING HOGS LOCALLY AVAILABLE

Purebred swine foundation stock of excellent breeding are now locally available without the necessity of having registered sows and boars shipped from distant points. While purebred hogs of the Hampshire breed predominate, there are excellent purebreds of the Berkshire, Poland China, Hereford and Duroc Jersey breeds available in the county. Farmers interested in locating a pair of any of the above breeds will be directed to breeders upon inquiry to the county agent's office.

NO ADVANCE IN COST OF GROUND LIMESTONE

Ground limestone, so necessary for successful farming, is one of the few things that has not advanced in cost since the war. This material still costs only $2.30 per ton delivered to stations on the main branch of the Southern, $2.35 on the branch line and $2.40 at the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad stations. More returns per dollar expended are offered farmers in State ground limestone than at any time since the State Grinding Plant at Staunton was established.

About Manhattan: At the Coq

cite different reasons as determining factors in their individual success—Xavier Cugat, who leans to the Latin and claims he did it with rhumbas greeting Vincent Lopez who applies numerology to his daily doings and says he owes his luck to numbahs
... "Angels" with pretty faces smiling at the buffoonery of Joey Adams and Tony Canzoneri at Leon and Eddie's—sultry Ritz Angel, Canzoneri's songstress wife, and vivacious heiress Virginia Hill who frequently has been financial "angel" to niteries and shows ... Enjoying a quick snack at Jack Dempsey's Broadway restaurant between shows on the Strand stage, blonde batoneer Ina Ray Hutton looking as though she had just stepped out of a band-box rather than down from a bandstand ... Hand-holding couple outside the RCA building—Bobby Hooker and Termitte Daniels, six and five-year-old network singers.

Jottings: Morton Downey wires from Hollywood that he got his best laugh from a character actor who doesn't want to portray Nazis anymore—says he's being typed in a role that won't last long ... When Broadway wise guys call the Aquarium restaurant and ask for "Mr.
Fish" they get a big surprise—it happens that a bus boy currently employed there is named Fabian Fish ... The Milton Berles were dining at home when a loud crash was heard in the kitchen
"Mary!" called Joyce to the maid,
"more dishes?" "No, ma'am," came the reply, "less" ... Bob Burns, the "Arkansas Traveler," is allergic to bananas ... Can't blame him—when he was down on his luck he had to take a job carrying bananas on the New Orleans wharves at 25 cents an hour.

Here and There: Jane Deering of "Early to Bed," on a shopping tour for geraniums that will be early to bud ... Georgia Gibbs, who used to go bareheaded all the time, breaking out in a rash of flutters, flowery, feminine hats because of Maj. Bill Klein of the army air forces ... Margaret Bourke-White, the lady cameraist, taking pictures in the lobby of the Hotel Pierre ... Comely Connie Moore, fresh in from Hollywood, and comedian Garry Moore being gay at the 1-2-3—the more Moore's, the merrier ... Georgia Christine Aires, who used to take 'em off, consulting with dressmaker Kathryn Kuhn at the Versailles about how to put 'em on ... William Gaxton, the "Of These I Sing" baby, having his mind read by My-rus "Of These I Think" baby, at the Cottillion room ... Paul Whiteman, sponsor of "Rhapsody in Blue," a walking ad for the Gershwin masterpiece in a navy blue suit, light blue scarf and bright blue tie.

Cuff Notes: Raymond Paige, orchestra leader, says he's lost so many men to the draft that he can't help but think that we intend to blast our way into Europe with sax and trombone ... At a California army camp show, the master of ceremonies introduced Romo Vincent, the rotund comic, as "Pfc. Romo Vincent" ... "How can I be a private first class when I'm not yet in uniform?" inquired Romo ... "In your case," he was told, "it stands for 'poor, fat, civilian'" ... Milton J. Cross, chief heckler on the "Basin Street" radio program, celebrated his 22nd year as an announcer last week.

Faces and Places: Two British WRENS pausing before the window of a 42nd street music store to inspect a display photo of Yvette and reminisce about their meeting with her in England last spring ... Kate-Ellen, Jean and Onriett Mur-tah, just before leaving for Chicago, showing off their new fur coats to Reuben's 2 a. m. shift—bought from the surplus in the family bank account ... Passing on Madison avenue, Charles E. Wilson, who has an interest in General Electric, and Ruth Gordon who has her name in lights ... In Toots Schor's, band leader Paul Lavalie claiming that the sweetest music he's ever heard is supplied by the war plant of which he is part owner—"the sound of increased production is like a symphony to me."

Addenda: Harold Steinman, producer of "Skating Vanities," the roller skating extravaganza in which even the scenery comes in on skates, during a two-day stay in New York was unable to find a pair of roller skates for his little nephew's birthday present ... Cass Daley is pen-

SANGUINE SANGUINARY

Both Sanguine and Sanguinary come from the Latin sanguis, "blood." Sanguine denotes that which is ardent, cheerful, confident, Sanguinary means "bloodthirsty; murderous." It came about thus:
In the old days, the body was supposed to contain four vital humors (humor is the Latin word for liquid; fluid of the body): 1. sanguine (blood), 2. phlegm, 3. choler (yellow bile), and 4. melancholy (black bile).

These humors were supposed to affect a person's disposition and well-being. For example, if blood was proportionately abundant, a person was vigorous, hearty, and cheerful. Thus, sanguine was a "good humor." If phlegm predominated, it made one cold and sluggish, or phlegmatic. Choler was a "bad humor"—it produced an evil, irascible disposition. Also, one with a choleric disposition was almost certain to become a victim of cholera. Melancholy, too, was a "bad humor." Its effect was to depress, to sadden, to make gloomy.

In the course of time, the word humor lost entirely its meaning of "fluid of the body," and took on the psychological meaning of "a mood;
a state of mind," as, a cheerful humor (sanguine), an ugly humor (choleric), an apathetic humor (phlegmatic), a tearful humor (melancholy).

But there was need of still another word to designate a bloodthirsty or murderous disposition—the exact opposite of sanguine. So, with charming inconsistency, the ancient scholars returned to the Latin word sanguis and brought forth the adjective "sanguinary."

LEGAL NOTICES

VIRGINIA:

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Prince William County, this March 28, 1944.

Ernest A. Pearson, Complainant,

V.

Virginia P. Nagel, James Nagel, her husband, Clair P. Cheslock, J. J. Cheslock, her husband, and any and all parties having any claim or interest in the hereinafter mentioned land, the names and whereabouts thereof being unknown, who are being proceeded against and made parties hereto as parties unknown, and others.

In Chancery

The object of this suit is to have partition or sale of that certain tract of 40 acres of land on the Manassas-Buckhall-Hoadley road (Route No. 288), in Occoquan District, Prince William County, Virginia, bounded by said road, Bud Pearson Place, Will Pearson, and others, and was owned by the late Luther Pearson to whom it was conveyed by J. R. Payne, and in event of sale, to have distribution of the proceeds thereof, after paying all taxes, attorney's fees, costs and expenses of said sale and this suit, and for general relief.

And an affidavit having been duly made and filed, as provided by statute, that the above mentioned defendants, Virginia P. Nagel, James Nagel, Clair P. Cheslock, J. J. Cheslock, her husband are not residents of Virginia, and any and all other persons who have any interest or claim to said property are unknown as well as their whereabouts, (being made parties to said suit and proceeded against as parties unknown), it is therefore ordered that they, the said mentioned defendants and parties unknown do appear within ten days after due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect their interests; that it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published for four successive weeks in the Journal, a newspaper published and circulating in said County, that a like copy hereof be sent, by registered mail, to the said mentioned defendants at the last known address as shown by said affidavit and application, and that a like copy hereof be posted on the front door of the Court House of said County on or before the next succeeding rule day.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

It has come to the attention of the Virginia Commission of Inland Game and Fisheries through the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County that there is a large number of dogs in Prince William County for which licenses have not been obtained and notice is hereby given by the Commission that in the very near future a house-to-house canvass will be made by the game wardens under the supervision of Mr. Webb Midgett, Supervising Warden, to find out who have unlicensed dogs in the county.

Tags will have to be obtained for all of these unlicensed dogs or court proceedings will immediately follow. The cooperation of all owners of unlicensed dogs is respectfully solicited to save the expense and embarrassment of formal court proceedings.

Number 59's a "local"...

CROWDS don't gather at the station to see No. 59 pull in. She's no sleek streamliner. She sports no fancy trimmings. And she has no jealously-guarded reputation for speed. For... No. 59 is "just a local" on the Southern Railway System.

But, when their soldier son came home on furlough... Mr. and Mrs. Jones met No. 59.

When new gears were needed to keep farmer Stevens' tractor working on the food front... they arrived in the express car on No. 59.

When bad weather came... the mail and express and the passengers continued to come in, and go out, on No. 59.

Yes, No. 59's a "local"... one of the many Southern local passenger and freight trains that proudly serve the wartime South... that haul your farm products to market... that serve your local industries... that stop in your home town to take you where you want to go.

Today, No. 59—and all the other trains of the Southern Railway—are proudly serving the South and helping to speed Victory.

Tomorrow, when Victory comes, they'll still be serving the South... proudly supplying the economical, dependable, efficient transportation service upon which the modern, forward-looking Southland is being built.

Dog Houses

Not only do the things exist
In somebody's backyard,
But there are many more, we wish
Their growth we can't retard.
Right in the midst of every home
You'll find one there reserved.

For he who shows up in the gloom,
From straight line slightly swerved.

It also is reserved
for him,
And abject is his lot,
When he is cursed with memory dim.

Her birthday has forgot.

Not only in the residence,
But in the marts of trade,
These animals spend like Arab tents.

In serried ranks arrayed,
They're set aside for undertings,
Who labor for their dress;
Who've pulled some wrong, improper things.

And thus displaced the boss.
Thus dog houses are also found
From domicile to park.
Though in them there is not a hound
Emitting raucous bark.

WE WORK FOR VICTORY TOO!

WE WAIT ON CURB

UNTIL TRAFFIC GOES BY.

People of Netherlands Isles Driven to Jungles to Escape Butchers.

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA—Wanton brutality by the Japanese, terror and hunger, have driven whole populations of some of the Netherlands Indies islands into the jungle, it was disclosed in the first complete report on conditions in the archipelago after two years of Japanese occupation.

The report was issued by the Netherlands government information service in Australia on the second anniversary of the fall of Java. Some of the highlights of the report are:

The Japanese customarily bayonet, shoot or beat Indonesians to death for the slightest resistance to their attempts to force the men into labor camps or semi-military organizations, and villages throughout the islands are empty of able-bodied men who have been taken off by the Japanese.

Black markets exist in everything except cotton, which is almost non-existent, and the island people and even the Japanese soldiers have little to wear.

Allied Prisoners Suffer. Allied war prisoners on the islands are robbed of all personal possessions by Japanese soldiers and their treatment violates all international rules, with the Japanese reserving their most brutal treatment for Netherlands soldiers, whom they particularly hate because the Netherlands declared war on Japan, without being attacked, when Pearl Harbor and Singapore were attacked. Civilian internees are said to be equally badly treated.

Japanese losses on the islands were and are greater than have generally been reported. Forced labor has been instituted for the whole of the area. Especially in the outlying districts, the men capable of work are driven off like slaves to work in forests and swamps. The whip and the cane are used freely to convince the people they had better obey. In case of refusal, bayonetting and shooting supplement these arguments.

The instructions given by a Japanese commander to village chiefs to send immediately a certain group of schooled villagers, close with these words:

"Those who do not come immediately will be fetched by the Japanese soldiers and will be punished. This punishment will consist of
