ANNUAL REPORT OF LOCAL P. - T. A.

Successful Year Reported by Committee

The Manassas P. - T. A. set up the following objectives last fall:

1. To enlist 100% membership.
2. To give aid to the library and to maintain parent-teacher bookshelf.
3. To promote a better program in nutrition with special attention to the school lunch.
4. To cooperate with various agencies in the correction of physical defects.
5. To cooperate with the city government, the school, civic organizations, the churches and the home in a program of recreation that will help solve the problem of juvenile delinquency.

The membership committee worked hard and membership totaled 248. The recreation committee prepared and served refreshments for approximately twelve high school radio dances. This committee also assisted the Girls' Service Organization in keeping the Service Club. Preparations are in progress for serving refreshments for the Junior Senior Prom.

The publicity committee sent advance notices and write-up of meetings to local and Washington papers and mimeographed notices of each meeting to all parents by the school children.

Report of library committee shows total of 325 books added to library during the current year.

Besides preparing budget for year, the finance committee assisted with luncheon for teachers, sponsored benefit movie and sold refreshments at Kiwanis minstrel.

The hospitality committee has responded loyally when called upon. This committee served at the reception of the new member and attended the school clinic.

Programs for the year have been varied and interesting.

The civic committee has done much work in planting on school grounds. Many new plantings were made and replacements of trees and shrubs lost in drought of last summer. A total of $56.56 has been expended on this project. The planting of trees near the high school will be used as a memorial to Lt. John DeBell, a high school alumnus killed in Italian campaign.

Hot lunches were served for 28 days during January and February. During this time a total of 6,632 lunches, including 1,556 free lunches were served. Due to lack of supervisor the lunch project was discontinued. Total bottles of milk consumed since, January, 25,042, including 2,561 free.

The health committee started working last summer with canning for lunch project. They assisted with luncheon for Teachers Institute in September. This committee has done outstanding work in correction.

"Education of boys and girls is one of the first and most important duties of society," said Dr. E. H. Jarman, director of instruction of Arlington County, and guest-speaker at the meeting of the local Parent Teacher Association on Thursday evening of last week. He stressed the fact that this education is a matter requiring the consideration and close cooperation of the entire community—family, church, community at large—as well as the school.

Dr. Jarman commended the teachers of today for the splendid job they are doing, and urged closer cooperation between the school and home as one of the best methods of controlling juvenile delinquency.

Group singing led by Mrs. Vincent Davis, with Mrs. Jack Royer as accompanist, together with piano selections by Mary Ann Sinclair, and two vocal numbers by her father, Mrs. C. A. Sinclair, Jr., rounded out the excellent program.

Mrs. L. L. Lonas, president, presided at the business session immediately preceding the program, and extended a special welcome to those fathers present. A counting of the fathers in attendance gave the monthly award to each of three rooms—Mrs. Royer's sixth grade, Miss Johnson's sixth grade, and Miss Owens' third grade.

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson's report for the Library Committee showed that the school libraries are much in demand, both by students and townspeople alike. She announced that the library will be kept open during the summer months and that there will be the added attraction of a story-

Chamber of Commerce

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, following the luncheon, Mr. Worth Peters was introduced as the guest speaker. "Understanding our children and keeping them in the community" was his theme and he handled the subject most ably.

The Fifth War Loan Drive was brought to the attention of the Chamber by Mrs. Vincent Davis. Mrs. Davis stated the fact that the past War Loan Drives went well over the top and she is sure that the present War Loan will exceed our quota, because so many of our boys are serving in the Theater of War.

Mr. Peters called attention to the educational instruction to be offered in the Vocational School and those who are interested in a part time course can be accommodated. There will be a part time course of three hours a day. This should swell the list of those joining from this section.

Mr. Alpaugh stated that a gentleman from Dumfries proposes a Sand and Grave Pitt as one of the projects for Prince William.

Sheriff Kerlin says we cannot have the clam bake until August.

Mr. Conway Seeley was introduced as a new member.

The guests were Mr. McLeod, student minister of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Draper of the Methodist Church and Lieut. Schellenbach of the Navy.

Miss Hankins Appointed

Virginia's new commissioner of Public Welfare will be a woman.

Governor Darden today announced the appointment of Miss May O. Hankins, since 1939 supervisor of the Children's Bureau of the Department, as successor to Dr. William H. Stauffer who recently resigned as head of the Department. The appointment will become effective on or before July 1st.

A native of Tazewell, the 62-year old welfare administrator who becomes the first woman ever to head a major department of the State government, first entered the service of the department in 1924 when juvenile court work was first being reorganized.

In announcing the appointment Governor Darden said that he has long felt that women should be represented among the State department heads. "Miss Hankins is an able administrator with wide experience in the Virginia region and there is no need to go outside a department when such a capable administrator can be promoted from a lower position". Expressing satisfaction in the appointment, Dr. Stauffer said "No person in the Commonwealth has a finer appreciation of the problems of public welfare than has Miss Hankins, or a better understanding of the means of their solution".

Dr. Stauffer, who has served as Commissioner since June 1938, goes to an undisclosed post term by the Governor as one of great importance, and one which I think warrants the step he has taken. It is with great regret that I see him go."

Ray Smith Nokesville 4-H Club Mrs. Thayer and Mr. Goff Serve as Club Leaders

CHIEF FRIX SAYS:

"Fine, and what will my pay be in the WAVES", asked a young lady the other day when making application at one of Virginia's leading Navy Recruiting Stations. The recruiter was quick to reply, informing the applicant of the pay and allowances received by all young women serving in the WAVES today. Apprentice Seamen base pay is $50 a month, and if the Navy is unable to provide food and quarters, special allowances are received by the WAVES. For instance, if the girl is stationed in some city where housing facilities are not available at a navy station, she is given $54 a month over and above her base pay for food, plus $37.50 a month for housing making the total pay of a WAVE Apprentice Seaman $141.30. This figure does not include special allowances for dependents for which WAVES are eligible. Besides this high figure of pay a WAVE receives $200 worth of clothing, the finest medical and dental care, special tax exemption, low cost Government life insurance and free mail, reduced rates on transportation, and entertainment. Petty Officer's pay ranges from $78.00 to $126.00 a month, and the Chief Petty Officer drawing $126.00 living off the base, will total $217.50 a month when her allowances are included.

Women skilled in civilian life in hospital work, switchboard operating, stenography, stock room work and many other fields may qualify for the higher rates of pay after a few months in the Navy. Alton Frix, Chief Petty Officer in Charge of the Manassas Navy Recruiting Station has full information regarding enlistment, and maintains office hours from 9:00 A. M. until 3:00 P. M. each Thursday in the Post Office building.

Lieut. Billington, Promoted

2nd. Lt. Robert J. Billington, Bombardier of the Army Air Forces, who is stationed "somewhere in England," has been promoted to 1st Lt. He has also received the Air Medal and has been recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Lt. Billington is the husband of Ann Robertson Billington. Mrs. Billington and little daughter Robu Ann is staying with her mother, Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson at Lawn Vale Farm.

Doings at the Library

The Library at the Manassas High School will be open from 9:30 A. M. to 3:00 P. M. every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday each week during June, July and August.

There will be a story hour for Third and Fourth Grades each Thursday, from 10:30 to 11:30 A. M. and a story hour for the Fifth and Sixth Grades each Friday from 10:30 to 11:30 A. M. during June, July and August.

D. of A.

The daughters of America State Convention was held at the Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Va., and the delegates from Manassas were: Miss Alice Simpson, Mrs. Ila Breeden and Miss Minnie Smith. Mrs. Virginia Park and Mrs. Flora Coppage also attended the convention from Manassas.

Cooperative Vacation Bible School Planned By Manassas Churches

Plans for a joint Vacation Bible School to be sponsored by cooperating churches of Manassas are nearing completion. This is the first time that a Vacation Bible School has been planned as a cooperative enterprise among the churches here although the project has been discussed for several years.

The Executive Committee composed of Rev. M. F. Draper, Rev. Thos. G. Faulkner, Rev. John McLeod, Rev. Stanley A. Knapp and Rev. E. Lee Weston; Mrs. Stanley A. Knapp, Supt. of the Beginners Department; Mrs. Roy Blakemore, Supt. of the Primary Department; Miss Hazel Saunders, Supt. of the Junior Department; and Miss Faye Fletcher, Supt. of the Intermediate Department. Additional workers are being secured from the churches cooperating in the project.

It is the hope and earnest desire of those sponsoring and giving their time to this work that all children of Manassas and the surrounding communities will attend this Vacation Bible School in the Bennet School, Manassas, Virginia, beginning Monday, June 12, at 9:00 A. M. and continuing each week through Friday from 9:00 A. M. until 11:30 A. M. to Friday, June 23rd.

Plans are being made to offer transportation to those children living out of Manassas and who wish to attend the Bible School. Those planning to attend should let their pastor know so that more detail plans might be made to reach all in so far as that is possible.

The program of instruction is being arranged to provide for Bible Study, music, handwork and recreation. The schedule is also arranged to permit children and workers to get home in time for lunch.

Other notices concerning the Vacation Bible School will appear in The Journal as the plans are completed and workers secured. Any one desiring further information immediately should contact a member of the above named committee. Just plan now to send your child and to encourage others to do likewise.

"Fine Arts" Enjoy an Evening with Mrs. Cooksey

The Fine Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. Paul Cooksey and Miss Eugenia Osbourne as hostesses in the home of Mrs. Cooksey. The large attendance was most gratifying as the new officers took up their work for the Club year.

Mrs. Charles Stickel, the new Music Chairman, spoke on "Why Have Music Week?" Her talk was most appreciated by all present. Mrs. M. S. Burchard, the new chairman of the Section, called on Mrs. Lewis J. Carper for the report of Music Week activities of which she and Mrs. Burchard were co-chairmen.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments, and it was at a late hour that the guests left for their homes.

Mr. Hunton Tiffany representing the Town of Manassas and Mr. C. B. Rollin of Haymarket representing Prince William County, went to Richmond on May 22 to negotiate the purchase of Fire Fighting Apparatus for the county.

The Fresh Air Fund

Each year the "Herald Tribune" of New York City sponsors a project known as The Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Through this project and the cooperation of citizens in communities outside of New York City children from the slums of New York are given a two weeks vacation in the country or in a town.

The citizens of Prince William County and Manassas have been asked to cooperate with the Fund again this year. June 28 has been fixed as the date upon which the children are to arrive in our community. Persons desiring to cooperate with this project are asked to get in touch with Mrs. W. C. Sadd, Mrs. Lewis Carper, Mrs. A. O. Beane, Mrs. J. L. Bushong, Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Jr., or Mr. Hutton Tiffany for the Manassas area; Rev. Olden Mitchell for Nokesville area; Mrs. John Powell for the Occoquan area; Mr. John Ellis for the Greenwich area; and Mr. George Gosson for the Haymarket area.

The Fund takes care of the transportation of the children to and from Manassas as well as any medical or dental care that they may need during their stay. Every precaution is taken to see that the children are free of all diseases before they leave New York. Persons desiring to take children may specify the age, sex, race and religious preference of the child they take. The local committee is limiting the age to 6 to 10 year old children.

Any person who may be interested in taking a child is asked to get in touch with one of the local representatives in the near future. June 14 is the last day on which invitations can be accepted.

MR. CALVIN HALEY ADDRESSES CLUB

Local Kiwanis Entertained by Congressional Secretary

It was an entertaining and valuable talk given by Mr. Calvin Haley, Secretary of our Representative Howard W. Smith. His theme was the arbitrary actions of the Office of Price Administration. He gave various illustrations of his meaning. One of these concerned a Baltimore Chain store. A purchaser picked up a nineteen cent article, walked over to a new clerk and said "Here is twenty-five cents for this tube." Please give me a receipt for it, for I am buying it for a friend." With this tube and receipt, he was able to collect fifty dollars as a penalty from the firm for charging more than the ceiling price.

He tried to point out the inequities of the treatment of the consumer and dealer by the Office of Price Administration. One of the worst features of this treatment is the fifty dollar penalty for an infraction of the rule. This follows no matter whether it is intentional or unintentional. A fifty cent weekly overcharge for rent, for example, was penalized by a fine of fifteen hundred dollars.

There is hope of having some of these inequities corrected when the law is to be reenacted in the near future. Much good has been done by the O. P. A. Under an honest and efficient administration much good has been and can be done.

War Bond as Prize

The local committee of the War Finance will offer a Bond as a prize to the boy or girl, sixteen years or under for the largest number of E Bonds sold from June 1st to 30th inclusive.

Another Bond will be given to the person who sells Bonds netting the greatest amount.

Application may be secured from Mrs. Vincent Davis, Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe, Cleveland Fisher and Mr. Harry P. Davis. All applications must be turned in to Cleveland Fisher at the Fisher Hardware Store for tabulation.

Miss Bauserman to Graduate In June

Miss Marie Bauserman will graduate in June having majored in music and will receive her B. S. Degree in Education at the Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va.

The exercise will be held June 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bauserman will attend the graduation exercises.

First Lieutenant Johnson

Wheatley Marshall Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnson of Manassas, Virginia, has recently been promoted from the rank of second lieutenant to the rank of first lieutenant in the USAAF.

Flying with this group, Lt. Johnson has already participated in raids on targets in Italy, Austria, France, Germany and all of the Balkans.

For exemplary conduct in combat, Sgt. John Shutlack of Manassas, Va. has been presented with the Army's newest award for infantrymen, the Combat Infantryman Badge.

ON COTTON FABRIC

As a tribute to the cotton textile industry and in keeping with Cotton Week, the Southern Railway System has printed its current dining car menus on cotton fabric, according to Elmer R. Oliver, the Southern's vice president in charge of traffic.

In addition, official Cotton Week posters and stickers will be displayed in the railway's ticket offices and stations.

On the front cover of the menu the official Cotton Week poster has been reproduced in color and on the back is a reproduction of one of the Southern's recent advertisements featuring cotton as a "war plant". The menu also carries a statement by the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of South Carolina entitled "Cotton and Victory Go Hand in Hand".

"Cotton is one 'war plant' that richly deserves an E. Pennant," Mr. Oliver explained. "Essential in peace time, cotton is indispensable in time of war. Indeed, as a vital war material the War Department ranks cotton second only to steel. On the home front and on the battle fronts, cotton is one of the principal and vital products which the Southland is contributing to help win the war. The Southern Railway System, as the world's largest carrier of cotton and cotton products, salutes the cotton farmers and the cotton industry of the nation!"

Thank Your Lucky Stars Is Pitts' Current Attraction

Twelve Stars Are Seen in Musical Production

Something of an "amateur's night" for a flock of highly proficient professionals like Humphrey Bogart, Bettie Davis, Olivia de Havilland, Errol Flynn, John Garfield, Joan Leslie, Ida Lupino, Dennis Morgan, Ann Sheridan, Dinah Shore, Alexis Smith and many others furnish the glittering highlights for Warner Bros.' lavish musical production, "Thank Your Lucky Stars," opening at the Pitts Theatre, Wednesday, May 31.

Bettie Davis, cinema's queen of tragedy, takes off on a new tangent and erupts into a spicy jitterbugging song - and - dance specialty called "They're Either Too Young or Too Old." The dashing Errol Flynn comes up in a Cockney turn and John Garfield also sings. Joan Leslie shadow-boxes through an impersonation of all people - "Gentleman Jim" Corbett.

Ann Sheridan Sings

Ann Sheridan holds a tuneful class in love, in a girl's dormitory off a dazlingly lovely peck of precocious pupils and Alexis Smith shakes a streamlined leg in the light fantastic. Jack Carson, Alan Hale and George Tobias are also prominent in the boisterous brawl.

Frenetic Eddie Cantor double-stars at the top of the all-star cast in story which merrily ties up the above mentioned capers. It commences with Cantor's radio show and John Garfield doing a well-received "guest shot." Edward Everett Horton and S. Z. Sakall, as a couple of producers scouting talent for a mammoth benefit, agree that "we want everyone but Cantor." The only one who seems to have any use for Eddie is a phony agent who uses his autograph to mulct a $60 commission from singer Tommy Randolph (Dennis Morgan). Pat Dixon (Joan Leslie), chasing the phony agent, meets up with Joe Simpson (Eddie Cantor), a bus driver who can't get on the stage because he looks too much like Eddie Cantor.

Cantor Impersonates Cantor

He takes her to Gower Gluch, the colony where Hollywood's "cowboy" and Indians live. Pat cooks up a scheme to have Joe Simpson impersonate Cantor so that the big show can go on without interference from the "real" Eddie. A trio of Gower Gluch Indians abduct Eddie and induct him, over his strenuous protests, into the tribe.

"He's a really wild 'Indian' by the time he gets back to the broadcast theatre, but Joe Simpson is so convincing an impersonator that Eddie is thrown out on his ear, Tommy and Pat can go into their clinch and the show winds up in a triumphant finale.

The gay concoction even has its producer, Mark Hellinger, and its director, David Butler, acting in it themselves. It has twelve ravishing

Julia gives Her favorite sandwich ideas

SANDWICHES have so many uses, these days - and they're used so often - sometimes it's a problem to make them interesting and appetizing. I'm a constant sandwich-maker, myself. And over a period of time I've developed quite a set of favorite ideas. I've jotted down some of them here:

Generally speaking, I think it's important to vary the kinds of bread used and to cut the sandwiches in different ways! It's appetizing to see even the same old sandwich look different, for a change.

FILLINGS

There's hardly any limit to the number of tasty and nutritious sandwich fillings; as witness these favorites:

Grind hard cheese and mix it with salad dressing (this "extends" the cheese, incidentally).

Mix fruit preserves with cream cheese.

Put peanut butter and jelly or left-over cake frosting between graham crackers.

Grind equal amount of raw carrots and salted peanuts together, and moisten well with salad dressing.

Put peanuts or walnut meats on lettuce, cover with salad dressing, and add a top layer of lettuce.

Mix ground meat with salad dressing for a binder, make sandwich, dip whole sandwich in egg, fry in heavy pan.

Mash baked beans and mix with pickles or sliced onions and catsup.

"ROLL-YOUR-OWN" picnic basket!

FOR PICNICS, TEAS

Suggestion for picnic-planners: instead of making the sandwiches before starting out, take along all the "makings" in a picnic basket and let each picnicker make his own - tastes better that way!

Suggestion for a tea sandwich: cut bread in circles, cover with nasturtium leaves, then a ring of thin-sliced cucumbers; add a dash of salad dressing in the center, with a sprig of parsley or a spot of paprika.

THE BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, Verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

John 3: 3.

"The Closed Door"

Judging from an article recently appearing in a church paper, there seems to be a wide spread tendency to seek knowledge of the Hereafter through channels not recognized by the teachings of Christianity. The world has been shocked, shaken, is in the death throes of demolition, it would seem. Millions have been torn from ordinary peaceful abodes and thrown pell mell into human torture and violent death. Where is God, the Giver of all good? Will he speak to us? Will he lift the veil a little? Will he open the "Closed Door" for just a glimpse? And, apparently, there is silence for our answer.

Nearly two thousand years ago a Young Jew came to us with the message we are seeking. He was given the most inhuman physical death then known to torturers. On either side of Him, as he hung in agony, were two men. One derided him that he failed in his mission to mankind; the other reproached his fellow thief and besought the Lord to remember him when delivery was at hand. Jesus prayed for the ignorance of one. To the other he said "To-day thou shalt be with me."

Masses to-day deride the failure of Christianity while masses are essaying to glimpse a little of the reconstruction they feel to be just a way—just inside the closed door.

This is the opportunity for Christ's ministers to pray for power from on High and demonstrate it to the maddened millions.

Black Horse Chapter Hostess to a Large Crowd of U.D.C. Members

On May 12, the Black Horse Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was hostess to the Fourth District of the Virginia Division, U. D. C., in the Methodist Church in the historic town of Warrenton.

Promptly at 10 A. M., the meeting was called to order by the District Chairman, Mrs. Nathaniel McGregor Ewell of Charlottesville, and the following program with slight deviation, was presented:

Song—"America"
Invocation—Rev. W. Carroll Freeman.

Flag Ceremony.
Address of Welcome—Mr. P. B. Smith, Jr.

Welcome on Behalf of the Black Horse Chapter—Mrs. R. DeWitt Cox, President.

Roll Call and Reports of Chapters.
Appointment of Committees.

Southern Songs—High School Glee Club.

Luncheon.

Address—Mrs. W. A. Coleman, Virginia Division President.

Talks by State Officers and Chairmen of Committees.

Hymn—"Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Morning and afternoon sessions went forward smoothly and pleasantly, due largely to the gracious and efficient direction of Mrs. Ewell.

In Mrs. Coleman's address, emphasis was placed upon the importance of faithfully carrying out the purpose of the "Daughters", the importance of every woman's doing her "bit" but her best in this war, and above all and most important, maintaining the homes.

Manassas Chapter rated well at this meeting:

1. In attendance, she tied with one other in largest number there. Her ten representatives were Mesdames R. L. Byrd, C. B. Compton, R. A. Hutchinson, R. B. Larkin, Rector E. B. Giddings, Herbert Nash, Jos. Kinchele, Misses Nollie Nelson and I. Hutchinson.

2. Two Manassas members were named on committees for the day: Mrs. Hutchinson on Recommendation presented a "Resolution" from her Chapter in re Membership Article, which was quickly and happily disposed of by statement of the Virginia Division President, "that all descendants of Daughters are eligible." Mrs. Byrd on Resolutions offered: On behalf of the 4th District, United Daughters of the Confederacy, we hereby extend our thanks to the members of the Methodist Church for this lovely meeting place, to the Pages (Misses Rosalie Knight and Kathryn Ann Carter) for their kind attention and courtesy, to the District Chairman for her faithful services, to the minister of this Church who conducted the devotional, to Mr. Smith for address of welcome and the complimentary history of our organization, to the Glee Club of Warrenton High School for their sweet songs, to the Virginia officers for their instructive and inspiring talks, to the ladies of the Methodist Church for delicious luncheon, and last but not least, we thank the President and members of Black Horse

Chapter for this delightful occasion and provision for every comfort that made possible a splendid meeting. (These resolutions signed, Ethel M. Byrd, Sadie H. Wolf, Janice E. Stradley.)

MORE FAMILY TIES

Not long ago we told you about the skirts and jumpers that slick chicks were making out of old neckties. In fact, if you'd like to see how they look, there's a picture of a necktie "give jumper" in the September "Calling All Girls" magazine. Well, seems as if the soda fountain gang has dreamed up some new ideas with ties that will have you in knots and will attract more beaux. (All right, all right, we'll harvest that corn.)

SHARP POINTS—When you make a necktie skirt or jumper with a straight hem, don't throw away the points you cut off the ties. Sew them, border fashion, around a babushka and around the hem of an old skirt. It's Tie-Rific.

TOE TIES—When you wear a bow tie at your dickey or blouse collar, really about wearing one on each shoe, too? Then, anyway you step, you'll be putting your best foot forward.

TIE TRIMS—Aren't we the alliterative ones? But, since this is really about using a necktie as a blouse trimming, we couldn't resist
it. Use the point of a necktie to stick out of your blouse pocket, like a kerchief. Use the rest of the tie to cover the buttons. Simply Dracula on a white blouse. Wizard on a dress, too.

APRON STRINGS—There's a fad for aprons on the way. Practical way to keep your skirts and dresses clean. The newest apron for school is made of old neckties with a tie for the waistband and strings.

Autographobia

GREWSOME TOWSOME—Fill up your raincoat with pairs of hearts outlined in red embroidery. Then write in the names of the different twosomes in your crowd in each pair of hearts. Better not embroider over the names, unless you're prepared to do some plain and fancy ripping when the steadies change partners.

SIGNED STREAMERS—Make a rosette of vari-colored ribbons to wear at the back of your head. Let the ends of each hang down in streamer fashion. Then have your friends autograph them.

TAPE TRICK—Use your own name tapes to trim up your blouses or skirts. Lots of girls and boys exchange name tapes and see how many different names they can collect for their shirts. Makes you look like morning roll call in school.
We know a girl who has Frank Sinatra's autograph on her raincoat! She's covered the great name over with Scotch tape so it won't run in the rain and she walks around in a sinatrice. Can you blame her?

TRIXIE TEEN SAYS:

Don't cut off your nose to spite your face by refusing to date a boy just because he waits until the eleventh hour to ask you. Of course, if you have another date

Tractor Riding "Grandma" Praises War Bond League

Mrs. K. C. Henkle of Kenton, Ohio, does more than her share of war work. She and her husband run two farms at maximum production and with almost no outside help. In addition, Mrs. Henkle is chairman in her township for War Bond sales, for the Red Cross and for the combined scrap paper and grease salvage campaign. She is also a writer and has composed poems for War Bond and Red Cross programs over Stations WMRN, Marion, and WLW, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Henkle, who has an Army son, a Navy son, and an Army son-in-law, enthusiastically endorses Mrs. George C. Marshall's appeal to grandmothers to buy Bonds for

Mrs. K. C. Henkle

their grandchildren. She herself takes turns buying Bonds for her five grandchildren ranging in age from 4 months to 11 years. "Those Bonds," she says, "will help educate the children and set them up in businesses and farms ten happy years from now."
The Grandmothers League was founded by General Marshall's wife and has been widely accepted as a worthy and unselfish Bond-buying drive.

Tender Moving Romance Is M-G-M's "A Guy Named Joe"

In the new picture at the Pitts Theatre, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has fashioned a tender and moving romance on the dramatic theme that pilots never die. The film stars, Spencer Tracy and Irene Dunne, together for the first time, give the finest characterizations of their long and distinguished careers.

Both Tracy and Miss Dunne are pilots, she is a member of the Ferry Command in England. They are deeply in love but constantly quarreling because both are reckless in the air and worry each other by their escapades. Finally, Tracy is persuaded to return to the States as an instructor but before he can go he dies a hero, bombing an enemy carrier at the cost of his life.

Then the film takes a turn into fantasy. Tracy finds himself in pilots'
"heaven," meeting the General, played by Lionel Barrymore, who tells him he still has a vital job to do. He must help the young pilots just learning to fly and aid them by his unseen presence.

Young Van Johnson, a youthful millionaire, is assigned to his care.
As he carefully guides the youngster to success as an airman, against his will he begins to like him. When Johnson goes off into combat duty he follows him to New Guinea.

Culture is then properly described as having its origin in curiosity, not as having its origin in the love of perfection: it is a study of perfection. —Matthew Arnold.

There he meets Miss Dunne again, still grieving for him. She falls in love with Johnson, because Tracy has made his personality so similar to his own, and in a thrilling climax realizes she can still live a normal, happy life. As Tracy watches them go off together, his work is finished and he is finally happy.

Miss Dunne has never been lovelier than as she appears in "A Guy Named Joe." She wears the uniform of the Ferry Command throughout the film except for one memorable scene in which she is a "glamour girl" for the night. Her lovely voice is heard on the screen for the first time in many years singing the old favorite, "I'll Get By." Tracy who plays his role as a wreath for half the film, is delightful as the dare-devil pilot. He is given an opportunity to display his talents as a comedian and as a lover, and does justice to his reputation.

Van Johnson is pleasing as the brash young millionaire, and Ward Bond, playing a sympathetic role, is excellent as the lifelong friend of Tracy and Miss Dunne. Outstanding characterizations are also contributed by Lionel Barrymore, James Gleason, Barry Nelson and Don De Fore.

Victor Fleming directed and Everett Riskin produced. The title, incidentally, is a quote from General Chennault. In the Air Force any guy is a guy named Joe.

True eloquence does not consist in speech.—It must consist in the man, in the subject, and in the occasion.

HAIR-YA DOIN'?

ALICE IN WONDERLAND—Buy enough velvet ribbon, about 2 or 2 1/2 inches wide, to go around your head. Wear it curved high across the front and slipped under your hair in back just like the pictures of Alice in Wonderland. For a smooth effect make your hands by fitting them to your head and fastening them in back with a small section of elastic.

CURVETTE CRAZE—Curvettes are curved bands of felt that tie with ribbon ends under the hair in back and fit smoothly over your brow. Make your own out of the brims of discarded hats. Embroider them in yarn or with beads or sequins. Wear them with or without a matching beanie underneath. (Make the beanie out of the crown of the same discarded hat). Make curvettes out of velvet, too, lined with crinoline, to go with your date dresses.

TRIPLE THREAT—Wear three bows in a row up the back of your head. Especially spooony with an up-hair-do. Remember it on Jean Arthur in "The More the Merrier"? And—who wouldn't like to look like Jean?

BUDDING BUNS—If your hair is long enough to braid, part it in the center and make a pigtail on each side. Then wind each pigtail into a tight bun over each ear. Pin flowers in the center of each bun. Quaint and cunning.

CENTER PART—The coming trend in hair-do's is the simple and severe center part with hair worn long and only slightly curled up or under at the ends. Pin it back from your forehead at each side with bows, pompons or flowers. Maybe you'll look like Patty Boyd, famous Conover girl, who has popularized this hair-do.

BEADED BRAIDS—Use your necklaces to dress up your pigtails. Just braid them in with the hair. Pearls are super-dreamy for parties.

Change Partners!

How times have changed! Time was when "May I have the pleasure of the next dance?" was the approved way to ask a gal for the next number. Here's how the 1944 gals approach the same situation.

"Come on, Corny. Let's pop."

"Hey, thing, wanna swing?"

"Come on, worm. Let's squirm."

"Like chicken? Grab a wing."

"Let's lay out the leather together."

"Greetings, gait. Let's circulate."

"It's my drizzle, drip."

"Hi, Bug, Let's cut a rug."

And, instead of asking, "May I cut in?" a hep wolf will say—"Shove off, Sailor. I'm conveying this ship."

When a boy is stuck with a girl on the dance floor, with no help in sight from the stag line, he's been "Left holding the bag." When a girl is out of breath from jitterbugging, she says she is "Pranced to a pooh."

ROTARY CLUB HONORS MAJOR JOHNNY MARTIN

It was "Johnny Martin Night" at the meeting of the Culpeper Rotary Club, held on Monday evening at the Lord Culpeper Hotel, when a special program was put on in honor of Major Johnny Martin, of the 79th Fighter Group, 85th Squadron, 12th Air Force, who, before his recent leave—which was the first since the beginning of his service—had completed 155 missions over enemy territory. Incidentally, he is the eldest son of the popular president of the Rotary Club, T. I. Martin, whose fellow Rotarians united in planning this occasion.

Paul Hounshell, program chairman, announced that the result of an attendance contest made Bill Stradley and his team hosts to John Yowell and his team for the evening, and Bill Stradley, in charge of the program from then on announcing that this was "Johnny Martin Night" and led in the singing of the first verse of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," which was especially appropriate on this occasion. This was followed by the recognition of Major Johnny Martin, who expressed his appreciation of the special courtesies shown him by the Rotarians, and spoke briefly of a few of his experiences; his father finding out, for the first time, that this intrepid young flier had been shot down on one of his last mission, just before leaving for the United States, but had bailed out and escaped injury. The program ended with the first verse of "The Army Air Corps."

("T. I." is so well known in Manassas that we almost consider he belongs down here. We join in the congratulations to Johnnie. Ed Journal.)

MONSOON

The monsoon is a wind, but it can safely be translated "rain." It is the big news from Burma, where the first seasonal downpours are reported holding up American-Chinese capture of Myitkyina. We have been told so often that military operations are impossible between May and October because of monsoon-made quagmires that some will assume the Burma campaigns will be frozen for six months.

That is unlikely. The monsoon is not so paralyzing in the northern hills. The Japanese threat in Mainpur has already been pretty well dissipated, and the monsoon will increase the difficulty of the enemy getting supplies. The British push down the coast toward Akyab will probably halt. But General Stilwell's forces may be able to consolidate their brilliant advances in the north. Much of their transport can be bogged down only on landing fields and if, as the Burma experts declare, the rains are less heavy in the North the Chinese and American armies around Myitkyina should be able to clear the enemy from the area and complete the hooking up of the Ledo bypass with the Burma Road.

Time past and time present, both may pain us, but time improved is eloquent in God's praise.

THE FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS THE FIRST WEEK IN JUNE

AMERICANS IN ACTION

Released by U. S. War Department Bureau of Public Relations
PRACTICE FOR THE GREAT INVASION—On the coast of England American soldiers and sailors and British sailors worked day after day in handling landing barges and in familiarizing themselves with the technique of aquatic offensive warfare. Problems in loading military personnel and munitions and in the rapid discharge of their cargoes were worked out under varying conditions of the seaway and the terrain of the beaches. Thorough training was considered important for the success of actual combat and in saving the lives of the invading forces.

Grace Goodhue Coolidge

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. June 6 (Special)—Grace Goodhue Coolidge, widow of President Calvin Coolidge, began her work this week as vice chairman of the Fight for Freedom Committee. This group, which has national headquarters at Cincinnati and New York, asks for immediate entry of the United States in the war on Germany.

Since the President's death in 1933, Mrs. Coolidge has lived in quiet retirement. However, national officers of the Committee, which include Bishop Henry Wise Hobson of Cincinnati as chairman and Senator Carter Glass as honorary chairman, induced her to join them in furthering the aims of the Fight for Freedom Committee.

"I joined in the crusade for our American freedom," Mrs. Coolidge said, at her home here, "because with thousands of other Americans I have become convinced that Hitler is a direct and immediate threat to our independence. At a time like the present, none of us can afford the luxury of being in doubt about it."

Once Teacher of Deaf

Before she met the late President, Mrs. Coolidge, then Grace Goodhue, attended and was graduated from the University of Vermont. For three years prior to her marriage, in 1906, she was a teacher at the Clarke School for the Deaf here. She is a trustee of Mercersburg Academy, and has been active here, and during her term as First Lady, in many charitable organizations and in young people's groups.
