DARDEN CALLS SPECIAL SESSION

ASSEMBLY TO MEET
DECEMBER 14TH

A special session of the General Assembly will be called for Thursday, December 14th, Governor Darden announced today, following conferences with Assembly leaders. The session is expected to be very brief (probably of a day's duration) and confined largely to consideration of legislation for soldier voting in the forthcoming State elections, the filling of vacant judgeships, caused by death or resignations, and the election of a member of the State Corporation Commission to succeed Robert O. Norris, Jr. whose appointment was invalidated by the Supreme Court of Appeals.

In announcing his decision to call a special session, Governor Darden said: "I have given careful consideration to every phase of the question. I am taking this step because I believe it is in the best interest of the people of the Commonwealth."

In a letter sent to members of the General Assembly asking for their advice and opinion concerning a special session to consider soldier voting Governor Darden called attention to the fact that due to the shortage of time the desired legislation could only be accomplished by a Constitutional Convention. Should the Assembly agree upon the advisability of a Constitutional Convention, it must then be voted on by the people, and if desired by them, another session of the Assembly would be required to determine methods of selecting delegates to the Convention. This would be followed by another general election and finally the Convention would assemble to draft the desired amendments to the Constitution.

In his brief statement today announcing the special session Governor Darden did not touch on the question of limiting the Convention, if called, to the question of soldier voting alone, but he is on record as opposing any revision of the Constitution at this time other than that which is necessary to permit servicemen to participate in the 1946 State elections.

Last week, taking note of major revision of the Constitution as proposed by members of the Republican Party, the Governor issued a statement in which he said: "...a prolonged convention and no major changes should be made without ample time for discussion by the convention and consideration of the people... would inevitably delay the the decision past the time when it would help the soldiers."

Rev. Graham Writes to Kiwanians

It was John Rosebury who had charge of the entertainment of Friday, December 1, but it was preceded by Hutton Tiffany. The latter felt very embarrassed after the announcement given in detail by him, when the former claimed that it was the subject and material of his entertainment. John did not have much to add.

It pertained to a meeting to be held in the town hall, to which all are invited, the subject of which was employment or re-employment of returning service men. There is being worked out a national plan, a state and a county plan in accord with it. The administration of it is in the hands of sympathetic local business. The details further are in another in the Journal.

A letter from Rev. Richard Graham was read by the secretary. He tells in vivid phrases the conditions under which he is laboring in The Gold Coast of Africa. He is stationed about on the Meridian of Greenwich and just north of the equator. Everybody there wears high boots even the women to protect themselves against mosquitoes.

George Cocke read a paper concerning certain injurious propaganda. Supt. Haydon told about the conditions pertaining to education for those of our returning veterans who desire further education.

Nannie L. Lake

Mrs. Nannie Lewis Lake, widow of William L. Lake, died early Friday morning, December 1, at "Lake View", the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Lake, near Oak Shade, following two years of declining health. Mrs. Lake, who was 85 years of age, is survived by two daughters: Mrs. William H. Button, of Culpeper, and Miss Agnes Lake, of Warrenton; two sons: Duncan Lake, of this county, and Robert Lake, of Manassas; one brother, J. D. Wheeler, of Manassas; and one grandson, William H. Button, Jr.

Mrs. Lake was a native of Prince William County, the daughter of William and Adelaide Lewis Wheeler, of that county, but the greater part of her life had been spent in Culpeper County.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon from the residence of her son, with her pastor, Rev. L. C. Vaughan, of the Jeffersonton Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Thomas McLean, of the Presbyterian Church of Warrenton. Interment was in the Warrenton Cemetery.

LAND OF OPPORTUNITY . . . By COLLIER

Bishop Goodwin Confirms
Class in Manassas

On Sunday last Bishop Goodwin conferred Hugh Y. Meetze, Armistead Sinclair, Miss Katie Lewis and Shreve Brent at Trinity Church.

The evening before a reception was tendered him at the Parish Hall, when he made a very interesting talk.

The Bishop was assisted in receiving by the rector and vestry. Mrs. Allen presided at the tea table while Mrs. Faulkner and Mrs. Terrell Johnson mingled with the guests and made each one welcome.

The hall was tastefully decorated and the evening in every way a success.

The Pallbearers, all of whom were near relatives, included Lake Triplett, Robert Chilton, Theodore Triplett, William Wheeler, Norville Wheeler, and Charles Lynn. Among the relatives and friends from a distance were J. D. Wheeler, William Wheeler, Norville Wheeler, Charles Lynn, Mrs. Harcourt Dicken and Robert Lake, all of Manassas; Miss Mary Triplett, Theodore Triplett and West Triplett, of Markham; Mr. and Mrs. Lake Triplett, of Marshall, and Mrs. Nannie Lake McCarthy, of Warrenton.

Woman's Club to Meet Dec. 11

The Rev. Thomas J. Faulkner will be the guest speaker at the Manassas Woman's Club meeting on Monday afternoon, December 11, in the Parish Hall. The program, which is under the auspices of the Education Committee, with Miss E. H. Osbourne, Chairman, will also include special Christmas music—"The Post War World", will be the topic of Mr. Faulkner's address.

Hillard Y. Meetze

Hillard Yost Meetze, 55, died at his home in Manassas, Va. Saturday morning, Nov. 11, 1944. He was the youngest son of John L. and Sarah Jerriette Meetze of Columbia, S. C. and Virginia. A member of the Methodist Church, a life long resident of Prince William County, Va.

Funeral service was held at his home Monday, Nov. 13th with the Rev. Draper officiating and Rev. Thomas Faulkner assisting.

He is survived by his widow, and one son, Hugh Y. Meetze, of Cape May, New Jersey, one brother, R. M. Meetze of the Plains, Va. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

Chamber of Commerce

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce welcomed two local businessmen at the meeting this week when Mr. R. C. Powell, new cashier of the Peoples National Bank of Manassas, and Mr. Robert Whelan, owner of the Manassas International Harvester Agency, were introduced to the members of the organization. The program included a discussion of plans for relocating returned veterans. Mrs. Gue reported that all of the necessary 60 % of the lockers in the proposed cold storage plant had been sold, so that priorities may be obtained for the R. E. A. to start construction on the plant. The secretary, Mr. Stanley A. Owens read a letter of request from the Health Committee of the Manassas P. T. A. for funds to support the child health program. A substantial amount was contributed by members in response to the letter. Mr. R. Worth Peters, director of the State Vocational School reported that the project was progressing nicely and suggested that the next course which ought to be included in the curriculum, should be a class in salesmanship. He praised the C. of C. for the support the organization had given the school. The next meeting will be held at noon Tuesday in the dining room of the Prince William Hotel.

Why Soldiers & Seamen
Do Not Get Their Mail Promptly

In answer to the question "Why doesn't Joe receive my mail regularly?" pamphlets entitled "The Navy Mail Service" have been printed for wide circulation, Fifth Naval District postal officers here advise today.

The Post Office Department is co-operating with the Navy Department in distributing these circulars throughout the country via all first, second and third class post office.

Difficulties involved in the wartime deliveries of mail to our fighting men, explained in the pamphlet, may keep summed up as follows:

That the Navy Mail Service must keep track of 45,000 shifting ships and shore bases.

That men change from ship to ship, and ships from ocean to ocean.

That the average speed of a convoy is only 1,500 miles a week.

That during a low month, 97,305,449 pieces of mail were handled in fleet post offices at New York and San Francisco.

That a letter mailed from a mid-west town may easily travel 15,000 miles—five times the span of the United States—to reach a man in the Central Pacific.

Mail is moved as fast as possible, but operations surpass everything else in importance, affecting the number of deliveries in forward areas.

Notes From The County Demonstrator

FREEZE FOR FIGHTERS

Cities on the Atlantic Coast from Richmond and Washington north to New York are due to go short on chickens, especially on fryers and broilers, for a few months while the Quartermaster Corps buys some millions of pounds of chicken needed by the armed forces. Under a new War Food Administration "freeze" order, all chickens grown and processed in Delaware and the major chicken raising areas of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia are to be set aside for sale to the armed forces. Other chicken producing areas may be included in this order later.

The reason for the new order is that the Quartermaster Corps, which buys food for all the armed services, faces a shortage of 110 million pounds of chicken. A drop in broiler production is partly responsible for this shortage, but black market operations have been more to blame.

Chicken has proved to be not only good for food for fighters back from the lines but an important morale builder as well. Military doctors and nurses report that chicken on the menu is a great favorite with the wounded in the hospitals.

GREASE IN THE PIPES

Grease floating on the dish water, or a sink drain clogged by accumulated grease in the pipes is more than a nuisance. It is a strong hint that dishes and pans are not being carefully scraped before washing, and that fat so precious in wartime and still greatly needed for salvage, is being wasted.

Every good housekeeper knows that grease should never be poured into a sink or drain. Not everyone, however, is careful to scrape every bit of fat from frying pan, platter and plates. Some of the fat left from cooking can be saved and used again for cooking. The rest should be strained into cans and turned in to the butcher for salvage.

Household and other institutions usually have grease traps installed with the kitchen plumbing. Grease caught in these traps nowadays is regularly turned in for salvage. In private homes without this equipment, the saving must be done by scraping.

Chemists and household equipment specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture advise keeping sink drains in good condition by pouring down boiling water every few months. This softens and carries away any grease. Whenever a drain begins to "run slow", boiling water should be used at once, and also, if possible, one of those rubber force cups on a handle known as "plumber's friend".

Before using any of the drain cleaners on the market, the housewife should understand the action of the lye in these preparations. Soda lye combines with grease to form hard soaps. Potash lye forms soft soaps. Many drain cleaners are made with lye because it is cheaper and easier to obtain than potash lye. If pipes do not contain too much grease, the soda lye, used according to directions with water, may clear the pipes satisfactorily. However, if it forms too much hard soap, it may close the pipes and cause more difficulty than the grease. Potash lye is better for this purpose because the soap it forms is soft and more soluble in water so can be flushed down the pipes easily. Drain cleaning preparations should be kept from spilling or splashing on hands, clothes, linoleum or other floor coverings. When not in use the can should be kept closed on a high shelf out of reach of children.

Lodges Hold Celebration

R. E. Lodge, IOOF, and the Va. Dare Rebeccah Lodge held a celebration Oct. 10, 1944 during which time the mortgage on their building in Dumfries was burned. On the program were the following speakers: Grand Master, M. G. Smith, O. L. Mason, A. H. Shumate, C. V. Robinson, Mrs. Clements, Mrs. Katie Keys, W. C. Cunningham, Fred L. Flynn, Mrs. W. C. Cunningham, and O. L. Mitchell, Master of Ceremonies. Entertainment was in the form of group singing and two solos by Miss Mary Dehenson. During the time refreshments were being served the Officers of the Rebeccah Lodge cut a huge cake in celebration of their 20th birthday. The attendance for the occasion was 140 with visitors from most of the cities of Northern Virginia.

To the People of this Community

"Sad little personal belongings are strewn all over these bitter sands." Thus wrote Ernie Fyle from a beachhead in Normandy.

More than 2,000 bundles of these belongings, carefully collected and packed by the armed forces, are sent monthly from a Kansas City depot to homes throughout America. That's the current price of victory over enemies who forced this war upon you. These "souvenirs" are enveloped with heartaches and drenched with tears.

How long this tragic depot stays in business is up to you. Every second prolongs the slaughter. Every extra $100 War Bond in the Sixth War Loan helps to shorten the fighting. Can you do less than to lend your money for speedy victory?

THE EDITOR.

Witch-Hazel

Some varieties of the witch-hazel, which brings the shrub-blooming season to a close, bloom in the autumn just as the leaves are falling, other varieties bloom in early and late winter. It is one of the few shrubs on which flowers and maturing fruits can be found at the same time. Hamamelis virginiana (common witch-hazel), is the variety most commonly planted, and succeeds best in moist, half-shady places. Grows to a height of 10 to 12 feet. Blooms in late October and November, it is good for background planting. Foliage is colorful in fall. Our common witch-hazel lotion is derived from this variety. Common witch-hazel is the hardiest variety, and will survive winters in all sections of the United States except the extreme northern area.

Sugar Solutions Aid in Fighting Gladioli Thrips

Typical injury can also be noted on gladioli foliage where thrips are present. In addition to this injury to the foliage, the gladioli blossoms, when attacked, show distorted and discolored flower petals which later become withered and brown. Much the same type of injury also occurs on the flower petals of roses.

During the growing season, spray with a solution of brown sugar and tartar emetic. Where the thrips are exposed on the foliage to contact insecticides, any of the better known rotenone sprays will kill the active stages. The advantage in using the brown sugar-tartar emetic spray lies in the fact that in addition to killing specimens hit with the spray additional thrips are killed by feeding on the sweetened bait. The brown sugar-tartar emetic spray is made up of one ounce of tartar emetic and four ounces of brown sugar to three gallons of water. In the case of gladioli, this summer treatment is effective only when applied early in the season before the flower spikes appear. After the flower spikes appear, control is most difficult, since the majority of the thrips will be feeding on protected areas within the flower itself.

In the case of the gladioli thrips, effective control can be obtained by preventive measures and by treating the corns in storage. In harvesting the corns, great care should be exercised to prevent migration of the thrips from the old tops to the corns themselves. In other words, when the tops are removed, the corns should be taken as far as possible from this source of infestation.

Mrs. Letha Troemmler has resigned her position in Washington and is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster.

Sgt. Bendil Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood who now live Warrenton, is home on furlough. In January he was stationed in New Guinea and has been in a hospital in Australia since April.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKay and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mary Hedrick all of Washington, D. C., recently visited in the Cowne-Hedrick home.

Miss Catherine Gough is in Warrenton Hospital recovering from an appendectomy.

Mrs. Gayle Whetzel is spending this week with Pvt. Wade Whetzel at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Lt. and Mrs. Wm. F. Hale and son and Lt. and Mrs. Hill of Fort Meade, Md. spent Saturday night with the Hales.

Master Danny Newland celebrated his seventh birthday on Saturday, November 25, when twelve of his little friends came to play with him. They brought him lovely gifts and enjoyed the nice refreshments including two big birthday cakes. Those present were Faye Whetzel, Delores Johnson, Connie, Peggy and Mona Shepherd, Joan, Edgar and Kenny Shepherd, Mary Elizabeth and Clara Newland, Randolph Cowne, Jr. and Harry Miller, Jr.

Midshipman Freddie Harpine who has been stationed in Chicago is home for nine days. He has been in school there for several months.

Mr. George Thayer is on his way to California en route to Pearl Harbor where he is being sent on account of his health.

Quite a large number of dollars have already been received for the ready T. B. Seals. A personal record is always kept of each person who is sent the seals and we're so glad when we can mark up the cards in the file when a dollar is received.

Little Miss Delores Johnson had her sixth birthday on Friday when a number of her little friends came to her party Friday evening. Those who came were, Virginia, Elsie and Hilda Ridgely, Connie and Peggie Shepherd and Leyman and Darrell Hoosier.

Cpl. Raymond Showalter writes a very new letter from Italy he told us that the first frost there was Nov. 11 and how he wished there were some trees there so he could see the leaves "turn a golden yellow like they do in the

He writes "the farmers here are still sowing wheat. They just sow it on top of the ground and take a turn plow and coar it up." He writes that there is a large crop of olive, and grapes there this year-by far more plentiful than eggs. Even though many of the hens in the Nokesville Community have gone on a strike they are much less than twenty cent apiece as Raymond writes us they are selling for there.

He also writes "The Red Cross here is doing a wonderful work. They have Snack Bar, where we can get sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts and many things. We also enjoy the music, writing and reading rooms. After Mission the Red Cross gives the combat men and ground personnel doughnuts and coffee and believe me they are a real treat after eating the lonely C rations," at the close of his letter Raymond writes, "I want to thank all my friends there for all the splendid work they are doing in helping to furnish the things that we need here."

The Nokesville Womens H. D. Club met at the home of Mrs. Stuart McMichael on Tuesday for their annual Christmas party. The home was decorated so beautifully in keeping with the approaching holiday season. The club enjoyed the Christmas carols sung by a group from High School under the direction of Miss Lois Sloop. Later Miss Sloop read Van Dyke's "The First Christmas Tree." Gifts were exchanged and also each member brought a gift, sight unseen and under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Hale, Mrs. J. W. Harpine and Mrs. Alden Newland. Refreshments were served under the supervision of Mrs. W. R. Free, Mrs. T. B. Flickenger and Mrs. Harold Smith. During the business period when some plans were made for the coming year, the club contributed $5.00 to buy a T. B. Bond. The club expressed its hope that although last year we had voiced the same thought, this year we would we would earnestly pray harder that by Christmas 1945, we would have have our sons with us.

Mr. Al Harley is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Spitzer. Mrs. Fred Whetzel has just received a letter from her nephew, Pvt. Eugene Worley that he has just arrived in Paris. Pvt. Worley has been stationed in England since last January. He has just received the medal for Good Conduct.

Lt. Ernest E. Spitzer, Jr., Hdq SAAF, Smyrna, Tennessee is visiting his parents this week.

Mrs. L. J. Bowman visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Marston, who is ill in the Providence Hospital, on Sunday.

The drive for selling T. B. seals is coming along just fine. The quota for our District this year is $175.00. Last year $93.00 was turned over to the county Association from our district. This year the file where a personal record is kept of each person who was sent seals has been revised and corrected. Nearly every family in the District have been sent seals and we feel sure very few people will miss the dollar it takes to buy a sheet of them. Very few seals have been returned and it really makes a person feel good when someone you know is sacrificing, comes and hands you a dollar. And there has been plenty of just such persons. So if you have not sent your dollar, although you never use the seals, will you contribute to this worthy cause.

George Sonafrank, Ph M 1-c who has been stationed at Quantico, for some time is leaving for California on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hively have a new baby daughter.

Mrs. Mattie Garber had all of her children and grandchildren with her last Sunday, the first time for several years. Paul Garber, U. S. Navy, has just returned home after being across for several months. Those spending the day with Mrs. Garber were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armentrout of Baltimore, Mrs. Edith Fitzwater and Iva Lee, Miss Thelma Garber and Milton Garber of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Elvora Showalter and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Godfrey spent Thursday in Baltimore where they bought supplies for their store at Bristersburg.

CLIFTON

Mr. Clay Fletcher passed away at his home here on Nov. 29. His illness was a long one, which he bore with great fortitude. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, who have the sympathy of the community.

Miss Fern Stuart, teacher in the primary school here, went to her home in Salem, Va. to spend the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mrs. Effie Gheen has been quite sick with Flu, at her home here.

Mrs. J. F. Quinn is visiting friends and relatives in Evanston, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robt. Buckley have closed their home here for the winter months and have rented an apartment in Washington.

Mrs. Lena Elgin is recovering from a spell of the Flu.

Mrs. Annie Kincheloe celebrated her 94th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nan K. Johnson, on Nov. 11th. She was surrounded by her children, grand children, and one great grand child. She was happy and cheery, and told reminiscence of the past. Her gifts and flowers were lovely, and best of all was a turkey dinner beautifully served, which was enjoyed by all. May this esteemed lady live to see some more happy birthdays is the wish of all who were there.

There was a union Thanksgiving service in the Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. Chas. Winner, pastor of the church.

Women Get Own Radio Forum

New York—What are the most important topics of discussion among millions of women today?

The answer will be found in a national survey recently inaugurated by Botany Worsted Mills of Passaic, N. J., to determine what problems are uppermost in the minds of women in this war-torn world.

A new kind of radio forum program will be based on the results of the survey with the well-known commentator, Lisa Sergio.

Botany became interested in the possibilities of a general program which would supplement its educational work among its employees, and particularly among the families of the 1,000 workers now in the armed services. Case histories have convinced this company that returning servicemen and their wives and families face acute problems of readjusting themselves to post-war conditions. This entirely different kind of industrial program will perform a desirable public service, the company believes.

Miss Sergio will quote freely the opinions of her listeners, reserving the right to agree or disagree with their conclusions. She will encourage the establishment of local groups to discuss pertinent topics selected as the result of the national polls. The issue of international cooperation and women's part in shaping our national legislative program will be discussed at the suggestion of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the League of Women Voters, with whom Miss Sergio is working closely.

Preliminary questioning among

women's groups in several cities have shown that such subjects as "How Can Women Make Their War Marriages Most Successful?" and "Is the War or Lack of Proper Home Life and Religion Most Responsible for Juvenile Delinquency?" are among those to be discussed on these radio forum broadcasts.

This new program is to be broadcast over the Blue Network, once each week, beginning October 29.

Top 4-H'ers in Virginia

THREE 4-H members—two girls and a boy—have been selected by the State Club Office as Virginia's winners in 1944 wartime activities. The State winners, and brief outlines of their highest rating 4-H records, are as follows:

Gwendolyn Ward (left), 16, of Louisa, is the winner of the State award in the 1944 4-H Food Preparation Activity provided by Servel Home Economics Department. During 3 years as a 4-H'er, the girl did much of the baking for her family. Gwendolyn also baked bread for picnics and suppers in her community. She has served her club for the last 2 years, and has demonstrated to members how to mix and bake biscuits.

Nan Johnson (left), 15, of Dolphin, wins the coveted State honor for her achievements in the Westinghouse 4-H Rural Electrification Activity. Her 6 year record shows that she repaired electric cords and a lamp, washed all lights and shades regularly to provide light, and has plans for wiring the barn and other outbuildings for electricity when equipment is available.

Harold Acker, Jr. (left), 17, of Dayton, is the State's highest scoring participant in the International Harvester 4-H Food for Victory Activity. His achievements include handling 4 cows, 4 heifers and 25 hogs. He also raised 500 laying turkeys and 200 chickens, 6 acres each of small grain and corn, 2 acres of sweet corn which was used for canning, and 1/2 acre of potatoes besides taking care of the family garden. Six participants scoring next highest to the winner each received a $25 War Savings Bond. They are: Gene Byers, of Covington; Orville Bowman, Boone Mill; Oley Blair, Chatham; Betsy Graves, Luray; Elizabeth Sisson, Shawsville, and Gladys Carrol, of Boyce.

The three State winners receive all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Dec. 3-6.

EDITOR—As a wartime conservation measure, news announcements of State winners in 1944 4-H activities are being combined in single mats wherever possible.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

"Who redeemeth thy life from destruction, who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies;" Psalms 103:4.

British Home Defenders

We cannot let the British Home Guard "stand down" without ourselves standing up to salute it. Composed largely of volunteers, this army of home defense is a far, far cry from the compulsory German Volksturm. These 1,800,000 men from all walks of life, too young or old for actual battle, and the 30,000 women auxiliaries have, indeed, in the words of King George had a "vitaly important" share in the struggle for freedom.

Lacking adequate weapons and at first armed mainly with courage, these folk responded in true British fashion to the call to defend their homeland. And although the threaten Nazi invasion never materialized, the Home Guard did noble unpaid duty in protecting the Nation's vital plants, communication centers, and coast line. They manned anti-aircraft guns, assisted in bomb disposal, fire fighting, rescues from bombed debris, and in a hundred and one other ways carried on at home so their fighting men could carry on abroad. They step down with honors.

William L. Meredith, Barber, Dies

William L. Meredith, died here at his residence 428 Center St. Nov. 23, 1944 after several months illness.

A native of this community, Mr. Meredith had spent most of his life here. His success in his business had claimed the attention and won the admiration of all who knew him. He also took an active part in school-community activities.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday, Nov. 26. Messrs. William H. Barnes and Phillip H. Long conducted the services. The deceased was paid high tribute and worthy praise for his personal achievements and his contributions to human welfare.

He is survived by a wife, two daughters, two brothers and one sister.

"LIKE TO SWAP NIGHT CLUBS, PAL?"

"Sorry, chum—no ringside seats. You sit in the mud, see?"

"You got a floor show of lizards and mosquitoes crawling over your face."

"You got a nice little 4-piece orchestra of Jap mortars, Zeros, machine guns, and your best friend screaming in the next foxhole."

"Come any time, pal. The show goes on all night. For a long time. There's never a cover charge. Not even for the flag they put over you when they carry you out."

We're all human.

We all like to go dancing or see a show or buy an extra suit or dress occasionally. But this war still has a long way to go. There are still 75 million Japs who don't believe in surrendering.

So during this 6th War Loan, how about putting all that luxury money into something a little more permanent—an extra $100 War Bond at least—to help get this thing really over and bring those boys of ours home?

It'll hurt. But not as much as the Jap bayonet in your neighbor's stomach. You get something back—in ten years — $4 for every $3 invested. He doesn't.

VETS

According to an interpretation of the War Labor board, veterans returning to their old positions are entitled to any automatic promotions and pay increases on the job.

In considering the selective service act of 1940, requiring employers to take back former employees returning from the armed forces, WLB ruled that the vet must be re-hired "at the level to which he would have been entitled if there had been no break in his service with the company."

WEMS (Wives of Enlisted Men) meet in the parish house of Christ Episcopal Church, Tyler, Texas, for sewing and luncheon. Their husbands are stationed at Camp Fanning and the parish house sessions permit making of new acquaintances, social activities and community service. The young women come from almost every State of the Union. They take Red Cross nursing courses, care for sick wives and babies, sell War Bonds, and have joint recreational activities. The Rev. W. Meade Brown, rector of Christ Church, says that in Tyler no longer are the wives of service men forgotten women.

AT A CIRCUIT COURT OF THE COUNTY OF PRINCE WILLIAM AT THE COURTHOUSE OF SAID COUNTY, OF SAID COUNTY, ON MONDAY THE FOURTH DAY OF DECEMBER IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY NINTH YEAR OF OUR COMMONWEALTH. PRESENT: THE HONORABLE PAUL E. BROWN, JUDGE

RE: Estate of George W. Bell, deceased:

It appearing to the court that Assistant Commissioner of Accounts, C. A. Sinclair, report of the accounts of J. M. Bell, as administrator of the estate of George W. Bell, deceased, and of the debts and demands against said estate, have been filed in the office of this court, as provided by law, and that more than six months has elapsed since the qualification of said administrator, on motion of Esther J. Randall, sole distributee of said estate, it is ordered that the creditors of said decedent, as well as all persons claiming to have any interest in said estate, do appear before this court on the first day of its February, Term, 1945, and show cause if any they can, against the payment and delivery of the estate of George W. Bell to his said distributee, Esther J. Randall, without a refunding bond.

A copy of this order shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Manassas Journal, a newspaper published and circulated in Prince William County, Virginia.

Co-Defendant,

THE MORRIS PLAN BANK OF
WASHINGTON,
Co-Defendant, and

ASHBURN FLYING SERVICE, Inc.,
Co-Defendant.

Order of Publication.

The object of the above entitled suit is to attach the property of the Defendant Foscolo C. Hendrick in the hands of the Co-Defendants James F. Dunn, The Morris Plan Bank of Washington or Ashburn Flying Service, Inc., or in which the Co-Defendants or any of them claim an interest, and the indebtedness owing by the Co-Defendants to the Defendant, and to subject the same to the payment of the indebtedness of Foscolo C. Hendrick to the Plaintiff in the sum of Six Hundred Fifty Dollars with interest from 23 August 1944 until paid.

An affidavit having been duly filed that Foscolo C. Hendrick, James F. Dunn and The Morris Plan Bank of Washington are non-residents of this State and that their addresses are not known, and it appearing that service upon them cannot be had in this State, it is ordered that they do appear, within ten days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect their interests.

It is ordered that this order be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Manassas Journal, and be posted at the front door of the Court House of Prince William County without delay.
Dated 29 November 1944.

Experts Guide Amateurs

In Cleaning of Furnace

Solid Fuels administration conservation experts say these pointers will help guide the amateur in the furnace cleaning job.

1. Clean the inside surfaces. Open the "clean-out door," usually located above the fire door. With a long-handled wire flue brush, rub all inside surfaces to scrape off accumulated soot. If a flue brush isn't obtainable at the local hardware store, a scraping tool (putty knife or paint scraper, for example) attached firmly to a long handle may be used. 2. Detach the smoke-pipe and clean. (The smoke-pipe is the one going from the furnace to the chimney.) On some heating units, the smoke-pipe is only a foot long and can be reached for cleaning through the clean-out door. 3. Clean out soot in the bottom of the chimney through chimney clean-out door—the cast iron door in the cellar wall on the chimney side.

4. Clean grates with brist brush. Examine them closely to see that they turn freely, are not cracked or sagging. 5. Examine the whole unit for air leaks most often found around the smoke box, smoke-pipe joints, the base of the heater, the doors, and around chimney connections. Cover all joints, fill up all noticeable cracks with asbestos furnace cement. (This applies like putty and can be purchased at hardware stores.) 6. Paint all metal surfaces of the unit with any good black paint to prevent rust.

Lists Six Points for

Preserving Healthy Feet

Six rules for preserving healthy feet are given by Lemuel C. McGee, M. D., Wilmington, Del. Experts in care of the feet, he says, advise that the following attention is useful in preserving healthy feet:

1. Wash the feet daily with soap and lukewarm water. Dry them thoroughly.

2. Brittle nails and callosities should be covered by lanolin or some other ointment to aid softening.

3. In the care of the nails, cleaning should be done with orangewood sticks. Cut the nails only in a good light and after a bath when the feet are clean. To avoid injury to the toes, the nails should be cut across and not too short.

4. Overlapping toes, and toes that press closely together, should be separated by lamb's wool or a similar soft material.

5. One should wear shoes of soft leather which fit properly—that is, not too tight. It is poor economy to wear ill-fitting shoes when only a little more time and attention in selection will procure well-fitting shoes.

6. Avoid strong, irritating antiseptics such as coal tar products.

Lice Injurious

Lice are injurious to all types of cattle. However, the greatest loss occurs to young and poorly nourished old animals. Mature cattle in full vigor suffer less seriously, but if lice are allowed to develop unchecked on beef cattle or milk cows there will be a loss in the production of either meat or milk.

There are two types of lice, one puncturing the skin and feeding on blood, while the other feeds on particles of hair, skin scales and skin secretions. The biting louse may be controlled with a light application of sodium fluoride to the affected parts, while the blood-sucking type, or blue louse, may be controlled by spraying, dipping or by hand applications of commercial powders and dips. A satisfactory dust contains at least one-half of 1 per cent rotenone. A dip may be made by dissolving two to four ounces of neutral soap to each gallon of water and adding one ounce of cube or derris powder containing 5 per cent rotenone.

ABOUT THE # SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself—"What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?"

No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over.

But make no mistake about it—nothing could be further from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way.

Everything Costs More— In the Pacific War

The European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war will cost more. Take transport costs, for instance: Because of the longer distances, the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. And it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size because turn-around time is twice as great!

More Planes... Tanks... Ships... Oil

In addition, we shall need more of everything. More B-29 Superfortresses that cost $600,000 each. More P-47 Thunderbolts that cost $50,000 each. More M-4 Tanks, with bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks—more aircraft carriers—more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe!

Care for the Sick and Wounded

And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations—more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships.

For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us.

Maintenance for Millions

Did you ever stop to think how much money it costs to maintain the 11 to 12 million men and women in our army and navy? Whether the men are actually fighting or not, they must be fed, housed, transported from one training center or battle area to another, cared for in a hundred and one different ways. That all costs money and will continue to until the last man demobilized is back in civilian clothes.

In addition, millions of dollars will be required for mustering-out pay, for various benefits and services voted by Congress to help the boys get started in civilian life.

These are reasons enough why patriotic Americans will want to buy heavily during the Sixth War Loan. But here are still more—

Winning the Peace—for Your Country

If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost.

Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of more and more War Bonds.

Winning the Peace—for Yourself

Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it.

As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come.

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.
