

Dogan House Transfer Held On Saturday

Industrial Split Is Foreseen
By Dr. Freeman

(See Editorial Comment)

The historic Dogan House, focal point of much of the fighting in the Second Battle of Manassas, was turned over to the National Park Service on Saturday in ceremonies on the 87th anniversary of the anniversary of the struggle.

A crowd of almost 1,000 persons heard an address by Dr. Douglas S. Freeman and witnessed the transfer of the house to the Government for inclusion in the Manassas National Battlefield Park.

The presentation of the house was made by President E. D. Gohwaite on behalf of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce, and the deed was accepted by Thomas J. Allen, regional director of the National Park Service.

In his address, Dr. Freeman said that the possibility of an ultimate cleavage between economic groups in the United States may prove even more costly than the division of geographic section in the War Between the States. We are now threatened by an industrial division. It may be as costly as the division between the states, said the Pulitzer Prize winning historian and former editor of the Richmond News Leader.

Speaking from a platform erected in a field surrounded by terrain which figured prominently in the battle, Dr. Freeman declared:

"Here is the Bull Run, running quietly into the Occoquan and hence into the Potomac. The Potomac, once a fierce dividing line, is now crossed by thousands daily who think of it as a dividing line no more. It is well that its significance as a dividing line should be forgotten. But division and its awful cost must never be forgotten."

Before making his observation on the threatened industrial division, Dr. Freeman had graphically traced the story of the Second Battle of Manassas.

Dr. Freeman was introduced by Major General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commandant of the Quantico.

Former College And Pro Star Will Coach V. F. W. Eleven

First Meeting Of Players Slated Friday

All persons interested in playing football this season with the Manassas V. F. W. Rebels are requested to attend a meeting tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, at the American Legion Hall in Manassas.

At the same time tomorrow's meeting was announced, officials of Francis Cannon Post 7589, Veterans of Foreign Wars revealed a former professional football player has agreed to coach this year's green-shirted V. F. W. eleven.

The new coach of the V. F. W. sponsored Rebels is Lieut. Col. George F. Gould, USAF, a former player at the University of Minnesota and with the Milwaukee Chiefs and Pittsburgh Steelers.

Col. Gould is stationed with the Air Force in Washington, but lives near Centerville on Route 211. He is 32 years old.

After attending prep school at Gretna Military Academy in Minnesota, Col. Gould attended the University of Minnesota and played on the teams there in 1937, 1938 and 1939.

During this time, he was a teammate of Wilbur Moore, backfield coach of the Washington Redskins. The team, coached by the famous Bernie Bierman, won the Big Ten championship in 1938 and 1939.

In the summer of 1940, Col. Gould was chosen to play on the College All-Stars in the annual classic in Chicago against the champions of the National Professional Football League.

Following his college career, Col. Gould played professional football

County CROP Convener Named

William Hale, of Nokesville, has been named convener of Prince William County as the first step in the proposed organization of a drive for the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), it has been announced by the Rev. Conrad L. Shively, of Manassas, CROP district supervisor.

Mr. Hale said he would call a meeting soon of local civic, farm and church leaders for discussion of county organizational plans for the CROP drive.

Sponsors of the program, which last year sent more than 75,668,581 pounds of bulk farm commodities to the needy of 22 nations, include Catholic Rural Life Conference, Church World Service (22 Protestant denominations) and Lutheran World Relief.

"It is strikingly evident," Mr. Hale said, "that Prince William can achieve the highest total of Christian service in the CROP drive. It is the largest relief collection program of its kind and the first coordinated church group program in church history. Prince William County can be proud to be a part of this nationwide expression of Christian brotherhood."

100-Lap Race Set Saturday At Longview

In what may be the last program of Saturday night races this season, the Longview Park Speedway this week will present the biggest attraction of the year.

Featured again will be the famous Penn-Jersey Auto Racing Club, and the main event will be a 100-lap race to determine the championship of the organization.

This Saturday night will be the second straight week at the local track, located a mile south of Manassas, on Route 234, for the Penn-Jersey organization.

On last Saturday night, the feature race was captured by Johnny Favinger before approximately 2,000 racing enthusiasts. It was the second victory in a row for Favinger, who also took top honors here on August 13.

All of which probably will make Favinger the man to watch in this Saturday's sensational 100-lap feature.

with the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National League and with the Milwaukee Chiefs.

V. F. W. officials are looking for a much stronger team this year in their second season of football, and urge all interested persons to attend tomorrow night's meeting.

Travel Increases To All-Time High

Travel on the primary highways of the Culpeper construction district climbed to an all-time high in July, according to a report of the State Highway Department.

Traffic counts taken at key stations during the month showed an increase for this district of 11.57 per cent over the previous high set in July of 1947, and an up-swing of 55.98 per cent from the prewar high of 1941.

Every highway district showed an increase with the Culpeper district of Northern and Piedmont Virginia taking the lead with a 55.98 per cent increase.

The State-wide increase was 7.37 per cent over July, 1948, and 44.5 per cent over the 1941 pre war high.

Tourist travel in Virginia, after a brief postwar slump, has been showing a steady increase. In July of this year tourist travel was 13.9 per cent higher than in July 1948, and 29.35 per cent over July, 1941, peak prewar travel month in the State.

Nearly half again as many motor vehicles were on the highways of the Old Dominion in July of this year as in July, 1941.

Each highway district increase was, in percentages:

	Over 1941	Over 1948
Richmond	38.80	7.92
Fredericksburg	25.64	1.84
Culpeper	55.98	11.57
Staunton	40.22	1.99

Mass Meeting At Nokesville To Hear Forum On Proposed County Government Change

WHEATLEY M. JOHNSON

Supervisors Pass Sanitary District

The establishment of a sanitary district in the Triangle area was authorized last Friday at a special called meeting of the Prince William County Board of Supervisors. The action was found to be a necessary part of the establishment of the sanitary district.

In addition, the Supervisors appointed a board of viewers to inspect all roads and streets requested to be included in the secondary system of the State and submit their recommendations to the Board.

Members of the new board of viewers are J. K. Gilliam, E. L. Herling, John S. Powell, James B. Fling and J. L. Bushong.

Chamber Told More Details Of Sanitation

Report Heard Of Dogan House Ceremony

Discussion of last Saturday's Dogan House ceremony and of the proposed county sanitation ordinance highlighted Tuesday's weekly meeting of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce.

Served by several ladies of the Chamber, the delicious meal was enjoyed by the Chamber in the "unwinding" of the "Jackson Room" of the Stonewall Jackson Hotel.

Following the meal, the Chamber gave a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. E. G. Parrish, Mrs. E. D. Gohwaite, Mrs. John Wightman, Mrs. Walter C. Sudd and Miss Marian Sudd for their participation in serving the dinner.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting, the Chamber enjoyed a 15-minute broadcast by Baukhage, noted radio commentator, over Station WMAL in Washington. Five minutes of the broadcast were devoted to Saturday's Dogan House ceremony, including Mr. Baukhage's own comments and a transcription of part of Dr. Douglas Freeman's talk.

A review of Saturday's program was given briefly by Col. Benjamin Muse, who served as master of ceremonies. He told of the many interesting parts of the program, and the Chamber gave a vote of thanks to the committee which made the arrangements.

Secretary N. T. McManaway suggested that letters of appreciation be sent to various firms, organizations and individuals who contributed toward making the occasion a success.

Among those named to receive letters were the Marine Corps Band, the Army Recruiting Service, Prince William Electric Cooperative, Hibbles Radio Service, Manassas Chapter of the U. D. C., J. T. Hotte, DeMolay, Manassas Technical School, Brown & Hooff and C. M. Wine.

C. W. Alpaugh and Roy Helms raised the question of the proposed sanitation ordinance, on which the Board of Supervisors is scheduled to hold a public hearing next Thursday at 2 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, at the courthouse here.

Mr. Helms said he believed that the Manassas Lumber Corpora-

Local Speakers Will Present Both Arguments

(See Editorial Comment)

A series of mass meetings which are being scheduled throughout the upper end of Prince William County is typical of the interest which is increasing as the date draws near for the referendum on whether or not the county form of government will be changed.

The first of the mass meetings is scheduled to take place tomorrow (Friday) night at Nokesville at 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, in the Brentsville District High School auditorium.

Sponsored by the Nokesville Ruritan Club, the meeting will hear speakers both in favor of and opposing the proposed change in county government, and members of the audience will be invited to express their views on the subject or to ask questions.

A panel of proponents of the change, headed by Wheatley M. Johnson, member of the Board of Supervisors, will speak in favor of the county executive form, while E. D. Gohwaite, president of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce, will lead the opposition force.

Less than three weeks remain before the voters will decide the question on Tuesday, September 20, in a special election called by Circuit Judge Paul E. Brown at the request of a resolution by the Board of Supervisors.

Another meeting is scheduled in the very near future at Haymarket for the benefit of Gainesville District residents, but a contemplated meeting in the lower end of the county has been temporarily called off by the organization which had planned to sponsor the session.

Grover Brown will act as moderator of the meeting at Nokesville, and music will be furnished by the Nokesville Band. Refreshments will be served by the F. F. A.

In the meantime, the Prince William County Planning Commission is busy mailing informational pamphlets to county voters as fast as addresses become available.

A number of the pamphlets—purely informative in nature showing a comparison of the present form of government and the proposed new county executive system—already have been mailed to voters and to organizations, and all interested persons or groups may secure more copies by writing to the Planning Commission in Manassas.

The campaign by the Planning Commission has been stressed as informational entirely. Although individual members of both the Planning Commission and Board of Supervisors have supported the change in government, neither group plans any action either way as an organization.

Proponents of the change in government this week began an advertising campaign designed to counteract rumors which have been circulating about the election, mainly regarding facts concerning the new form of government.

Five More Manassas Places Are Victimized By Burglars

Five separate places in Manassas were entered some time last night by burglars, whose haul has not yet been determined, Manassas police said this morning.

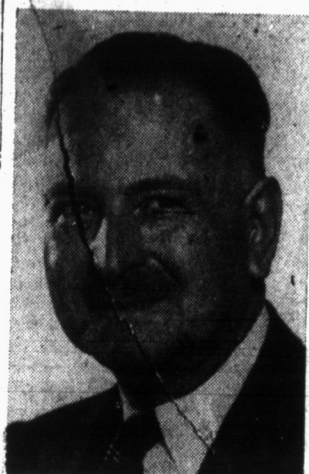

The five locations which were burglarized were the Courthouse and Annex, Lewis Supply, Al's Garage, Hibbles Radio Service and Manassas Furniture, Inc.

In the Courthouse and Annex, the burglars entered the offices of the County Clerk, the Commissioner of the Revenue, the County Treasurer and the County Welfare Board.

Police Sergeant Charles S. Sims said today that very little money was found by the thieves at any of the locations, but most of the property still had not had time to check loss of stock.

According to Sergeant Sims, more details will be available after a current investigation has been completed.

Turner D. Wheeling, of Manassas, Deputy Sheriff of Prince William County, was elected this week as second vice president of the Virginia State Sheriffs and City Sergeants Association.

The election took place on Tuesday at the organization's annual convention in Roanoke. He is the second local man to be honored by the group in recent years. Sheriff J. P. Kerlin have served as first vice president for several years.

Pat Jennings, 30-year-old sheriff of Smythe County, was elected as president of the organization. He is the youngest man ever to hold the office.

Town Council Lowers Large Power Rates

Airport Question Discussed, Funds Set Aside

Discussion and action of electrical rates and the Manassas Airport highlighted Monday night's regular meeting of the Manassas Town Council at the Town Hall here.

Members of the Council will meet again tomorrow (Friday) evening to hear the annual report of Mayor Harry P. Davis and to welcome two new members of the group who were elected in June.

Mrs. W. Sedrick Saunders and Roy W. Doggett were to be sworn in as new Council members today to replace J. A. Vetter and W. E. Trusler on the town governing body.

Town Manager James W. Ritter, Jr., also revealed today that the surface treatment of streets in Northeast Manassas is expected to begin the end of this week or the first of next, according to information received from the State Highway Department.

After a long discussion, during which Mayor Davis and Councilman

Kiwanians Enjoy Bountiful Meal

Members of the Manassas Kiwanis Club at their weekly meeting last Friday evening at "Paradise Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn, were treated to one of their best meals of the year.

Serving the excellent dinner were Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Jr., and Mrs. E. Arnold Service. Tomorrow (Friday) night the club will meet at 7:15 o'clock at the Lake Jackson Lodge.

It was indicated during the meeting that approximately seven or eight members and their wives will attend the annual Capital District convention in Richmond on October 6, 7 and 8.

E. G. Parrish was called on to discuss the recent American Legion Exposition, and he said that the exhibition portion was such a success that he believed the Legion will consider similar shows in the future.

Details of the Capital District convention were discussed both by Vice President E. D. Gohwaite and Secretary Leslie Bourne.

President W. J. Saylor called on W. Marshall Johnson, leaving the club this week, for a brief talk on what Kiwanis had meant to him in Manassas.

Blood Donors Being Sought September 22

Since the days of antiquity, mention of blood has always made a deep impression on people.

Frequent allusions to blood in the literatures of many nations through their recorded history are attributable to its dramatic implications.

Now, in the light of modern knowledge, as blood is used by physicians to alleviate human suffering, it is expected that this traditional attitude will disappear and that this magic fluid will be considered an instrument of saving human life.

The Prince William County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been designated as the one agency through which blood can be obtained for use by the residents of this county.

Already a large number of persons have obtained, free of charge, the blood—whole blood, in addition to the various derivatives which are made from whole blood.

To keep the supply always fresh and available and save travel to donors, the Bloodmobile from the Washington Blood Center comes to surrounding areas within a radius of 12 miles on the first day only.

Pupils are requested to provide their own lunch on Wednesday. Schools operating cafeterias will serve lunches on and after Thursday, September 8, unless the individual school notifies the pupils to the contrary.

Two Deliveries Are Planned Five Days A Week

The Post Office Department has authorized city mail delivery service for Manassas effective on October 1, it was announced today by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Davies, Postmistress.

It is contemplated that there will be two deliveries daily, Monday through Friday, and one delivery on Saturday. There also will be delivery of parcel post daily, Monday through Saturday.

In order for city delivery service to operate efficiently, however, it is necessary that mail received for delivery bear the house number and street address of the patrons, Mrs. Davies pointed out.

Therefore, she said, patrons should advise their correspondents of their house numbers and street addresses and ask that these be used in addressing mail to them.

Most of the streets in town have signs designating their name and about one-third of these signs have been erected, Town Manager Jas. W. Ritter, Jr., said this morning.

All the signs are available, however, he added, and it will take the town forces only about two days to complete the work of erecting them.

Any person who does not know the number of his home or place of business should contact the Town Manager for this information. A number will be assigned, and the numbers may be purchased from the local hardware stores, Mr. Ritter said.

Town Council

Truster opposed the change, the Council finally approved by a 3-1 vote a motion by Councilman J. E. Rice that electrical rates be lowered from 2 cents to 1 3-4 cents for all users of more than 400 kilowatt hours of electricity during a month.

The proposal had been discussed at several meetings following a decision earlier in the year to eliminate the discount on electric current usage, but action had always been deferred.

Councilmen Rice, Vetter and G. Wallace Hook voted for the reduction with Councilman Truster voting in the negative. Mr. Doggett rates.

In regard to the airport, Mr. Ritter read a letter from Col. C. W. Perkinson, chairman of the aircraft division of the State Corporation Commission, stating that money is available up to a certain amount for maintenance at the local airport if that is the reason why an operator cannot be secured for the field.

Another letter was read and a form presented regarding Federal aid, which Mr. Ritter said can be obtained for construction purposes. To take advantage of the funds, however, he said that the town had to say how much money will be available.

The Town Manager estimated the cost of constructing one runway to be $14,000, and the Council authorized him to set down a total of $3,500 as being available from the town, to be matched by Federal and State funds when they become available.

A letter from Nick Latsios, former manager of the field, was read in which he expressed his appreciation to the Council for its leniency in lowering his rent during the early portion of the year.

Councilmen approved an agreement between the Town and the Central Mutual Telephone Company regarding the joint use of poles by the town and the telephone company.

Permission was granted to the Manassas Volunteer Fire Company to take the fire engine to Mineral for a parade on Labor Day, and a letter was read in which the Division of Corrections noted an improvement in the condition of the town jail.

Mr. Ritter reported completion of an authorized entranceway project for Walter C. Sudd and said that 1,000 feet of wire is available for the rewiring of the fire alarm system. He also told Councilmen that necessary equipment had arrived for the laying of a water line to the Lions Recreation Area.

Harry J. Parrish requested that the town put curb and gutter in front of his residence on Battle Street if he furnished the material, and the request was approved.

Also approved was a drainage pipe, 70 feet long and 12 inches in diameter, to be placed across from Manassas Frozen Foods, but no action was taken on a sewer situation on Battle Street brought up at the July meeting by Fred R. Hynson.

Three requests for sewer extensions within the corporate limits was turned down as follows:
Samuel A. Walker, for sewage on South Main Street—Councilmen said that 750 feet of sewer was too expensive a proposition to undertake at the present time.

The Weincke house on Center Street, 400 feet west of Peabody Street—Mr. Ritter said the ground was too low and made it physically impossible to enter the sewer system anywhere in the area.

Cecil Hilton, for a house in the Portner Estate near Route 28—Councilmen again said the 507 feet of sewer was too expensive a lay at the present time.

of 70 miles to the Center. Four trips were made to Prince William County during the past year.

The next visit of the Bloodmobile will be on Thursday, September 22, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., when it will set up as usual at the infirmary of the Manassas Technical School.

One hundred volunteers will be needed. The Chapter hopes that no one will wait to be asked, but urges those wishing to become donors to do so willingly and thereby make the blood truly a gift from the heart.

Donors are asked to phone Manassas 144 or contact Mrs. Walter Alpaugh at Manassas 016-F-11.

Mail Delivery

Practically all of the houses have been numbered by the Virginia Gas Distribution Service, Mr. Ritter explained, but there are a few which are not serviced by the gas company and may not be numbered.

Another step to be taken is for each home to which mail is to be delivered to be equipped with a regulation porch mail box or slot. These boxes must be of approved type, but can be purchased from any store handling these types of boxes. Mail cannot be delivered to a home until these are available.

Along with city delivery will come city collection and letter boxes will be placed in strategic points throughout Manassas for the depositing of mail.

The project of city delivery originated with the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce and has been watched carefully in its development by a committee from that organization.

the present sanitation ordinance is adequate without any new law, and he pointed out what he considered to be the most objectionable feature of the proposed law.

This feature, he said, will make it mandatory for a builder or subdivider to submit plans and specifications of a proposed sewage disposal system for the approval of the county health officer or his agent before any construction can begin.

hands of the health officer, Mr. Helms suggested that the Chamber take a definite stand either for or against the ordinance.

Mr. McManaway suggested that the Chamber should begin a study of adequate provisions to protect builders in subdivisions, including more than sanitation, and Mr. Alpaugh said he believed that all such action should be postponed pending the outcome of the September 20 referendum on the proposed county government change.

After considerable discussion, the Chamber agreed to request the Supervisors to have the ordinance published in the newspapers and to withhold action until the public has had an opportunity to study it and discuss it.

A letter was read from a lady in Richmond asking whether or not the Chamber is interested in purchasing pictures, souvenirs, etc., for the Dogan House.

President E. D. Gothwaite expressed the thanks of T. I. Martin, of Culpeper, for the Chamber's participation in the Culpeper Bicentennial celebration in July.

State ABC Funds Are Distributed

The State Comptroller's office on Tuesday began the distribution of $10,649,475 out of Alcoholic Beverage Control Board profits for the last fiscal year to the counties, cities and towns of the State.

The total take of the localities was some $650,000 less than last year and on a per capita basis figured out at a fraction over $3.97. Last year's distribution was something over $4.22.

According to the legal formula the State receives the first $750,000 plus one-third of the remainder of the profits. The other two-thirds goes to the localities. Localities share according to population, based on the 1940 census.

The share of Prince William County and its four incorporated towns was as follows:

Prince William County (population of 14,928)—$59,368.50.

Haymarket (population of 156)—$620.41.

Manassas (population of 1,302)—$5,178.04.

Occquan (population of 213)—$847.10.

Quantico (population of 1,139)—$4,529.79.

The Manassas Journal

Prince William Publishing Co.
Publishers

W. Marshall Johnson Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Manassas, Virginia, as second class mail matter under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Thursday, September 1, 1949

The Order Changeth

Less than three weeks from today, the citizens of Prince William County will vote on whether or not they keep their present form of county government or change to the county executive system.

Public meetings are beginning to be held, and the subject is being most thoroughly discussed by speakers in favor of the new form of government and by those who oppose it.

The Prince William County Planning Commission is mailing out informational pamphlets which give a complete comparison of the present form of government and the proposed county executive type. These pamphlets are available for any person or group which desires them.

What the result of the election will be is anybody's guess. Certain sections of the county appear to be in favor of the change, and other sections appear to be opposed to it.

Unfortunately, there are those on both sides of the fence who are persisting in making the issue a personal one rather than having it fought out on its relative merits.

Prince William County is growing rapidly, some sections more rapidly than others. County leaders with their eyes to the future are pushing forward toward the change in government. Older citizens with their eyes in the past are rejecting it as "something new."

There can be no doubt but that the change will bring the government of the County and the handling of all county affairs much closer to the people than it has been in the past.

It is our opinion that the change also will serve to "streamline" the county government set-up and will make for greater efficiency. Greater efficiency in turn means that taxpayers will get more service for each tax dollar they pay to the county.

There has been criticism that the new form centralizes too much power in the Board of Supervisors. But the Supervisors are men who are directly elected by people and subject to their wishes. If they do not perform the public's will, they can be defeated in the next election.

Then there are those who say the move is simply a movement to "get the school crowd." And yet, if the new form of government is adopted, it will not be the school crowd which will feel the first effects.

First to feel the effects will be the Supervisors themselves, who requested the referendum on the change. If the new form of government is adopted, every member of the Board of Supervisors must stand for reelection in the November general election.

There are many irrelevant issues and "red herrings" being dragged across the path in the effort to belcloud the real issue behind the change — the fact that Prince William County is growing rapidly and needs a new form of government.

We believe that every citizen who examines the two forms carefully and studies them with an unprejudiced mind concerning personalities who may be involved will feel the way we do.

If this be the case, and it may well not be, there is no doubt but that the county executive form of government will be adopted on September 20.

More Bouquets . . .

To attempt to list all those who deserve hearty congratulations for the part they played in making last Saturday's celebration at the Dogan House such an outstanding success, would be nothing short of folly because there were so many.

We do offer our congratulations, however, to the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce for its sponsorship of the affair and for its planning and preparations of the ceremony.

One of the major functions of any Chamber of Commerce is to make certain that its particular locality is widely publicized and played up as an attraction for tourists, business, residents, etc.

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce certainly hit the nail on the head last Saturday from the standpoint of publicity.

All the Washington newspapers carried writeups and pictures of the ceremony. The Associated Press distributed both news coverage and pictorial coverage to its member newspapers throughout Virginia and other states in this area.

Nor was radio coverage lacking. Station WRNL in Richmond rebroadcast the address of Dr. Douglas S. Freeman. And the nationally known ABC commentator, Baukhage, told of the ceremony and also played transcriptions on a coast-to-coast hookup.

All in all, the entire ceremony was a complete success from every standpoint.

Not to be forgotten in the excitement is the fact that the Chamber of Commerce put up funds at the start to purchase the Dogan House and make it available for the National Park Service for inclusion in the Manassas National Battlefield Park.

The members of the Chamber—and the countless others who aided with Saturday's big event—are certainly entitled to congratulations for a job well done.

Wheat Acreage Notices Mailed

Prince William County farmers last week were told how much acreage they may seed to wheat this fall to be eligible for price support under the Government's acreage allotment plan to control production of the 1950 crop. The total county wheat allotment is 4670 acres.

This announcement came from P. A. Lewis, chairman of the County ACA Committee, who said that notices of individual farm allotments were mailed August 25 to all wheat growers of which his office had record.

He added, however, that any farmer who did not get notice and believes he is eligible to receive a wheat allotment should communicate with the County ACA Office.

Wheat acreage allotments for 1950 have been established for all "old" wheat farms, which Mr. Lewis defined as those on which wheat was produced in any one of the years 1947, 1948 or 1949.

Farms on which wheat was not seeded in any of these three years but which plan to seed wheat for 1950 harvest are considered as "new" wheat farms.

In order to request a 1950 acreage allotment, operators of these "new" wheat farms must make application in person or by writing to the County ACA Committee, giving the specific amount of acreage requested. "New" farm applications must be in the hands of the County Committee not later than September 1, 1949.

The Secretary arrived at the national wheat allotment in accordance with the law as defined in the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. This act in effect says that the national allotment shall be such as to provide a total wheat supply, including carryover stocks, equal to normal domestic and export consumption, plus a 30 percent reserve. Under this formula, the production needed in 1950 will be 1,110 million bushels.

This amount, when converted to acres on the basis of average yields, results in a national wheat allotment of 68,944,099 acres, representing a reduction of about 14 million acres below the amount seeded for 1949 harvest.

The national allotment has been apportioned among states, and in turn to counties and farms, on the basis of acreage and production history, with consideration given to war crop production adjustments. The 1950 allotment for Virginia is 502,092 acres.

To be eligible for Government price support on wheat next year, a grower must produce only the acreage followed under his individual farm allotment. Producers having wheat on more than one farm may become ineligible for price support by exceeding his allotment on any farm.

Chairman Lewis cautioned growers to stay within their allotments so that they would be eligible for price support. He also said that producers should be familiar with the program requirements before seeding time. Further information may be had from the County ACA Office in Manassas.

Private Entrance Policy Changed

The State Highway Commission has adopted a new policy regarding construction of private entranceways connecting with State highways.

The Commission resolved that property owners shall purchase pipe from a source other than the Department of Highways for private entrances, in accordance with State Highway specifications and as indicated by the Resident Engineer. The Department has in the past sold pipe from its own stock, when available, to property owners for private driveway drainage, a highway spokesman said. This procedure has been discontinued under the ruling of the nine-man highway commission, and builders of future entranceways must purchase pipe, of the required size, from private sources.

The Commission reaffirmed the existing policy of installing the pipe at no cost to the property owner, and said that the State would stabilize (not hard surface) the portion of entranceway within the limits of the State's right of way.

The road agency pointed out that before any connection is made with a State highway, or work done within the limits of the State's right of way, a permit must be secured from the local highway resident engineer.

J. E. Johnson, with offices at Warrenton, is resident engineer for Fauquier, Rappahannock and Prince William Counties.

Clean-Up Urged In Grain Storage

With another grain harvest not far away, professional agricultural workers are asking farmers to help in a clean-up program to cut losses caused by insects in stored grain.

Entomologist J. O. Rowell, V. P. I., says it has been estimated that insects carry off one out of every 20 bushels of grain stored on the farm. These losses on a national scale run to about 300,000,000 bushels of grain annually, or about $600,000,000 worth, at current prices, Rowell said.

Farmers can reduce these losses, he continued, by cleaning bins thoroughly and spraying them with DDT before harvest, and by harvesting grain as soon as it is dry enough for safe storage.

He also advises fumigating the grains if signs of insect infestation appear after it has been stored. Storage bins, he says, should be inspected frequently for insects throughout the storage period.

Leaf Color Related To Apple Production

The color of the leaf may give the apple grower a clue as to how much and what quality fruit will be produced, believe researchers at Virginia Experiment Station.

Dr. G. M. Shear, plant physiologist, and Dr. Frank Horsfall, Jr., horticulturist, are studying York and Stayman apple trees to find out just how important the leaf color is.

They say there is a "close relationship between the intensity of the green color of an apple leaf, and the nitrogen content of the leaf." As the nitrogen content of the leaf increases, the color of the leaf becomes a darker green. And a high supply of nitrogen in the tree tends to give higher yields of larger fruit.

The main aim of the study which is being continued this year, is to evaluate leaf color as a measure of finding out the best level of nitrogen in producing York and Stayman apples.

What Is This New Form of Government About Which There Are So Many RUMORS?

In board outlines, it would give the Board of Supervisors, WHOM YOU WOULD ELECT IN NOVEMBER, the power to:

1. Appoint the spending Boards now selected by the Circuit Court Judge.
2. Fix the salaries of county employes who now have to go to the State Compensation Board.
3. Provide for centralized buying of county supplies and centralized accounting of county funds.

Whom Is The Change Out To Get?

The first persons affected are the members of the present Board of Supervisors, since a new Board would have to be elected in November—and yet this Board, after carefully considering all angles, passed, WITHOUT A DISSENTING VOTE, the resolution calling for this referendum.

The County Executive Form of Government simply gives to your elected representatives the authority to provide a . . .

Grain Survey Begins In September

Sampling of corn and other grains on about 2,000 Virginia farms, as part of the most extensive crop survey yet made in the nation by professional agricultural workers, will begin the first week in September, Dr. Boyd Harshbarger, statistician for the Experiment Station at V. P. I. said today.

Cooperators in the survey, which also will include North Carolina, are representatives of the State Division of Markets, Henry M. Taylor, Cooperative Crop Reporting Service, Richmond, and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, USDA.

The enumerators will gather data on grain acreage, including wheat, barley and oats, on production practices, storage facilities, and the amount of grain available for sale as feed and seed.

Dr. Harshbarger explained that one of the most valuable uses the information will serve is that of determining surplus-deficit areas within the state.

After the survey, the enumerators also will know what varieties are most popular with Virginia farmers, and which ones are the highest yielders.

Supervisors were trained last week both in Virginia and in North Carolina.

Plans for the survey were prompted by the North Carolina-Virginia corn war, and the survey will furnish accurate data when it comes to naming the winner.

In this phase of the study, two 15-foot rows of corn have been settled upon as the sampling unit. Grains from each of the units will be sent to laboratories in Richmond and at V. P. I. for testing as to moisture content. The officials expect part of their data to be ready for release by December 11.

Farms to be visited were chosen by mapping "segments" in each county of about eight farms each. Dr. Harshbarger explained. About one in every 54 farms in Virginia will be involved.

Seed Hearings Aae Scheduled

Written comments from Virginia farmers and seed handlers on proposed changes in the Federal Seed Act will be considered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington if received on or before August 30.

A hearing on proposed amendments to regulations under the act is scheduled for August 30 in Room 3709, South Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, 25, D. C.

The Federal Seed Act requires that seeds moving in commerce in this country be labeled as to variety, germination, purity and weed seed content.

Proposed changes would bring methods of seed testing in line with methods approved by the Association just present germination standards; prohibit the use of disclaimers which deny or modify information required by the act; make additions to the list of seeds now subject to the act; and exempt from import requirements of the act canary grass and lima beans when imported for other than seeding purposes.

Fenne Says Treat Grains With Ceresan

Seed treatment of small grains before planting will help control many plant diseases that plague Virginia farmers, says S. B. Fenne, plant pathologist at V. P. I.

Treatment with New Improved Ceresan, or Ceresan M, will destroy seedborne fungi that cause plant diseases, Fenne said, and also helps check soil-infecting fungi that rot the seed or kill the seedlings. It will largely prevent stinking smut of wheat, the loose and covered smuts of oats, and seedborne stripe disease and black loose smuts of barley, and will help reduce the amount of scab on wheat and barley. It will not control loose smut on wheat, and brown loose smut on barley.

Fenne says also that proper cleaning of the seed before chemical treatment is necessary for best results. A thorough cleaning job will remove all undersized, shriveled diseased grains, and will leave a more uniform lot of seed.

Marine Base. Another distinguished guest present was Congressman Howard W. Smith, of the Eighth Virginia District.

Saturday's program was begun earlier in the day with a luncheon at the Stone House Inn, attended by the many guests present and by a number of members of the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the luncheon party then enjoyed a short tour of the Battlefield Park Museum and heard a concert by the world-famed Marine Band prior to the beginning of the program.

After the invocation by the Rev. J. Murray Taylor, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, the guests present were introduced by Col. Benjamin Muse, who served as master of ceremonies.

Following the presentation of the deed by Mr. Gothaite to Mr. Allen, General Shepherd introduced Dr. Freeman for the feature address of the afternoon.

Extra authenticity to Dr. Freeman's battle history was lent by 92-year-old Henry I. Hutton, of Warrenton, who is reported to have slept in the Dogan House the night before the battle when he was unable to get to his home on account of rain.

"I was only five years old at the time, but I remember seeing dead soldiers lying over there," the pink-faced, white-moustached Mr. Hutton pointed to a small rise to the north (Groveton Heights).

Cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in staging the ceremony was Manassas Chapter U. D. C., which benefited from the generosity of J. T. Hottel, who was in charge of the food stand and erecting the speaker's platform.

The Dogan House was purchased last year by the Chamber of Commerce for presentation to the National Park Service for inclusion in the Battlefield Park.

Chamber members feared that the property, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dogan, descendants of its Civil War owners, might be procured for commercialization.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce planning committee for the ceremony on Saturday included Mr. Gothaite, Col. Muse, Battlefield Park Custodian James B. Myers, Dr. George B. Cocke, R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Major Joseph Mills Hanson and N. T. McManaway.

Red Sox Lose To White Oak, Drop Rappahannock League Leadership For First Time Since May 22; Both Circuits Ready For Closing Games On Sunday

Manassas Macs, Bristersburg Tie In 11 Innings

Sunday's games in the Northern Virginia Baseball League ran more true to form as the teams appeared to wind up this season on Sunday after a year of chasing Triangle and Marshall, the division winners. Triangle topped its lead in the "A" Division to six full games by taking a 9-0 forfeit victory from Morrisville while second place Bristersburg was being held to a 2-2 deadlock in 11 innings by the Manassas Macs. Rain stopped the contest in the 12th frame.

In the other "A" Division game, the Nokesville Blue Birds captured their second victory of the season from Occoquan by a 6-3 score, but Occoquan Manager J. K. Gilliam announced that he will protest the game.

The basis of Mr. Gilliam's protest was sent in to league headquarters as follows: "In the seventh inning, with an Occoquan player at bat, I, Gilliam, was hit by a pitched ball which was the fourth ball. The umpire, Mr. Wright, would not allow him to take first base because the batter did not get out of the way of the pitch. Also, Nokesville used both coaches and one player, the shortstop, who were not in uniform."

In the "B" Division, Marshall called down all doubts about its league lead by swamping Gainesville by an 11-0 score. Second-place Hume kept pace, but 2 1-2 games back, by taking a 9-0 forfeit from the withdrawn Warrenton Red Sox line.

Manassas 2, Bristersburg 2
Not a single run had been scored in the last seven innings when rain broke up Sunday's brilliant hurling duel between the Macs' Russ Polen and Bristersburg's B. Dye after 11 1-2 innings.

The Macs scored their two runs in the third frame, while Bristersburg picked up single markers in the third and fourth. Polen gave up only six hits in 11 innings, while Dye allowed nine in 12 frames before rain washed out the contest. In contrast, however, the Macs had men on base in each of the last four innings without scoring, while Polen held Bristersburg hitless in the last four frames with only one man reaching first. After two scoreless innings, the Macs broke the ice in the third when C. H. Wine opened with a single. Junior Roseberry forced Wine, but Mike Martino came through with a double and Herb Busby followed with another double for the two runs.

Bristersburg put together two hits and an error for one run in the bottom half of the third, and added another marked in the fourth on another hit and two more errors. That ended the scoring for the afternoon. The home team didn't get a man

Manassas Nine Bows, 4-3, In Last Inning

For the first time since May 22 the Manassas Red Sox are not connected with first place in the Rappahannock Baseball League.

This feat was accomplished at the Manassas Athletic Field on Sunday when White Oak finally fought its way back to the top of the heap by overcoming the Red Sox, 4-3.

It was on May 22 that the Red Sox handed White Oak its first defeat of the season to deadlock the losers for first place, and the Manassas nine either had been deadlocked or in sole possession of the leadership ever since.

Once before in July, the White Oak nine moved within half a game of the local nine, but the Red Sox defeated them to stay in front. On Sunday, however, it was a different story.

While White Oak was moving into a slim half-game lead, the Stafford A. C. nine eliminated the last first-place ambitions of Louisa by edging past the Louisa nine, 6-5.

Both other scheduled games in the Rappahannock loop wound up in forfeits. For the second straight Sunday, Quantico's Indians were unable to field a team and forfeited to Orange, 9-0. Lastplace King George picked up a 9-0 forfeit from the withdrawn Culpeper nine.

White Oak 4, Manassas 3.

Playing before the largest crowd of the season, the Red Sox carried a 3-1 lead into the ninth inning, but White Oak came to life to score three runs after two men were out and defeat the local nine.

It was a heart-breaking loss for the Red Sox, knocking them out of first place, and was especially tough on Bucky Kincheloe, who had pitched a brilliant four-hit game until the roof fell in.

Rose led off the fatal ninth for White Oak and grounded out, but Bradshaw sent a single to center and continued to third base when the ball got away. Barker then fled out for the second out and Rose scored on the catch.

But White Oak wasn't through. Brown shot a single to center, Bourne singled to right and Johnson was hit by a pitched ball to load the bases. At this point, Morris hit a 3-and-2 pitch into left field for a single to drive home the tying and winning runs.

White Oak scored first in the game in the second inning as Brown singled, Bourne sacrificed and Morris singled to send home Brown. Starting hurler Allen had struck out the first six Red Sox batters to face him, but the local nine began to move in the fourth as they scored two runs.

Buddy Merchant started the rally with a single and stole second. Dallas Posey then reached first on an error, but went out stealing. Russell Lovelace singled to score Merchant, Billy Tyson also singled, and Lovelace scored as Billy Reid was safe on an error.

The Red Sox got their third run in the sixth frame as Posey singled, Lovelace reached first on an error, and Posey scored on a wild pitch.

That's how matters stood when White Oak came to bat in the ninth.

The six Red Sox hits, all singles, were collected by Merchant, D. Posey, Lovelace, B. Tyson, Kincheloe and Maury Wells.

Sox. Several gifts will be presented to Posey between the two games, and there will be a talk by Delegate Frank P. Moncure, business manager of the Stafford team and president of the Rappahannock League.

The other crucial game on the schedule will find the first-place White Oak nine playing at Louisa against the third place team in the league.

If White Oak wins the game with Louisa, the Red Sox still can tie for the league leadership by defeating Stafford twice. If White Oak loses to Louisa, the Red Sox can win the first place battle by sweeping Sunday's twin bill and can tie for the lead with an even split. A double loss will eliminate the Red Sox from the top position.

The Manassas Red Sox out of first place for the first time since May 22 will entertain the Stafford A. C. nine at the Manassas Athletic Field in a doubleheader on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time.

A feature of the afternoon will be a Dallas Posey Day in honor of the popular manager of the Red

Both Stafford and Louisa will be out to win, too, because the result of the games will affect their finishing in either third or fourth place in the league.

Orange will be playing at King George in the third league contest, and Quantico's Indians will receive forfeit from Culpeper, which withdrew from the league earlier in the summer.

In the "A" Division of the Northern Virginia League, it will be Triangle playing at Nokesville, Bristersburg at Occoquan and the Manassas Macs at Morrisville in the last games of the regular season with very little at stake.

The situation will be almost similar in the "B" Division with Catharpin playing at Hume and Opal meeting Gainesville. The division winner, Marshall, will pick up a forfeit from the withdrawn Warrenton nine.

NEW GRADES FOR ORANGE JUICE

In a few months you may begin to find on the market frozen concentrated orange juice bearing a "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Grade B" label.

These are two of the new permissive grades for frozen concentrated orange juice set by the Department of Agriculture. The new grades and standards will become effective late in July. The grades are "U. S. Grade A" also called "U. S. Fancy;" "U. S. Grade B," also called "U. S. Choice;" and "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard." The grades cover frozen concentrate made from pure, unswetened, unfermented orange juice. Sufficient information has not been submitted to justify establishing grades for other kinds of concentrated orange juice, including the sugar-added type.

Like other federal grades, homemakers will find the new orange juice grades excellent buying guides and an assurance of standard quality product.

GREENWICH

The Sunday School picnic held last Thursday on the Charles Croushore place was very well attended, and everyone present seemed to enjoy the day. The water was fine, especially for the little children, the weather was especially pleasant, and the ball games were exciting. The Catlett and Greenwich Church softball teams played two games, with Greenwich coming out the winner of both. The girls played among themselves—no two churches had enough players of their own to play against each other. The food was particularly fine and was followed by ice cream.

Mrs. J. W. Spittle and Mr. John Spittle and a friend, Mr. Ray Harris, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Spittle in Staten Island, N. Y., over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hoffman and family and Donald Hopkins enjoyed recreation at Glen Echo on Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Hopkins, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting home folks around Greenwich and Nokesville. All of the Hopkins family were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Muddiman on Sunday for a family picnic except John Hopkins, who was here earlier in the summer. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mansell Hopkins and Mansell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopkins and children, Jeanne and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hopkins and Kathleen, Mrs. Dorothy Payne, Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Newman Hopkins, Donald and Jerry, and Mrs. C. F. Muddiman and Juanita.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bennett, of Hagerstown, Md., are visiting Mrs. Mary Foster for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Edward House and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross visited at home over Sunday.

It was a yard full at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wood on Sunday when the entire family was present to celebrate Mr. Wood's birthday. Forty-six were present, which included all the children and Willie Corder, the only grandchild married, was there with his wife.

Sunday was the last one for Mr. Charles Book at the Presbyterian Church. He will go back to Seminary at Richmond this fall, and will do religious education work in one of the churches there this winter. The stained glass window was finished last week by the children with the help of some adults and under the supervision of Mr. Book. This will be framed and placed in the central window in the basement of the Sunday School building facing the church.

Woodbridge--Ocoquan--Hoadly--Lorton

WOODBRIDGE KIWANIS CLUB

Hugh F. Rivers, executive head of the District of Columbia Parole Board, was the guest speaker at last Thursday's regular meeting of the Woodbridge Kiwanis Club at Colchester Inn.

Citing several outstanding cases to come before the board, the speaker explained the many factors on which the board reaches a decision as to whether or not a prisoner is released on parole.

Mr. Rivers said that in many cases both the prisoner and society are benefited by releasing him when he becomes eligible for parole, while in other cases both are likewise benefited by his remaining longer in prison in order that he may complete a special training course which will enable him to earn an honest living when released, whether on parole or by expiration of sentence.

The speaker said that very little can be done with confirmed alcoholics. He praised the work being done by the society known as Alcoholics Anonymous, however.

As for sex offenders, he said that they will always be a menace to society when at large; for that reason, his board is skeptical about releasing them on parole.

He said that parole boards are always severely criticized when a parolee commits a new crime, but they seldom receive any credit for the great majority of parolees who become useful citizens.

Guests of the club were Ted Ulrich, of the Dundalk, Md. Club, and Fred Cole, of the Baltimore, Md. Club. Welcomed back after three months of attending summer school for his master's degree was Club Member Herb Saunders, principal at Ocoquan District High School.

President E. H. Von Deck appointed a nominating committee to select nominees for election on September 13 for the various club offices for next year.

Several members are making plans to visit the Woodbridge, N. J., Club early in September, about the same time the visit was made last year. The New Jersey Club reciprocated last October, and it was decided to make the visits annual occasions.

Harold Wilcher and George Crum tied in the regular club auction as they won six quarts of ice cream donated by Hubert Mooney.

OCCOQUAN P. T. A.

The first regular meeting of the Ocoquan District P. T. A. will be held on Thursday, September 15, it has been announced by President Howell Barnes.

Jett, Pioneer Corrections Aide, Retiring

C. B. Jett, 63, who retired yesterday after 39 years of service with the Department of Corrections, believes convicts are no different from the average free citizen "if treated like humans."

As supervisor of construction for the Department, Mr. Jett has seen the project at Ocoquan grow from a group of frame buildings on 1,154 acres with 25 inmates to 74 modern brick and cement buildings, including the Reformatory, occupying 4,850 acres. The workhouse and the reformatory now have 2,524 inmates.

The official pioneered the workhouse project, supervising construction of the first building in 1910.

"Inmates lived in tents while the work was going on," Mr. Jett reminisced.

The workhouse was the first penal institution in the United States free from cells, bars or walls, Mr. Jett said.

"People came from all over the world to inspect it," he asserted. Then as now, only those convicted of minor offenses were sent there.

The idea of relative freedom for prison inmates was developed by a commission appointed by the then President Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 to study prison conditions here, Mr. Jett said.

The official, the oldest employee in point of service at both the Lorton Reformatory and Ocoquan workhouse, lives near the Reformatory with his wife, a son, Wallace, is a GI student at the University of Maryland.

Mr. Jett, a native of Spotsylvania Courthouse, came to the District in 1908. He is a member of the Woodbridge Kiwanis Club and the Fairfax County School Board.

Meeting Changed

The September meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church will be held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday, September 6, at 8 p. m. (please note change of date). Mrs. T. E. Didlake, chairman, urges all women of the church to attend as important matters will be discussed and acted on.
