

Haymarket

The Haymarket Woman's Club met in their club rooms Tuesday, November 1, at which time plans were discussed to raise money. One plan consisted of a traveling basket: the other to serve a light lunch before the meeting which will be furnished by the hostesses. Each member would pay 25 cents and the proceeds would go in the treasury. Mrs. V. Wood and Mrs. M. Fewell Melton are to be hostesses in December.

After the meeting, delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. B. B. Tulloss and Mrs. M. S. Melton.

An unusually beautiful reception was held in the parlors of the Gainesville Methodist Church on Tuesday, November 1, from 6 to 10 p.m. in celebration of the Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pickett, who were married in that church 50 years ago. The parlors were beautifully decorated in gold and white. The bride's table was very lovely with a four-tier wedding cake as a centerpiece with decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and gold candles.

The only living attendant of the wedding is W. M. Jordan, who was present at the reception.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Park Tarbert, Miss Virginia Bell, and Mrs. Carlton Guilford, from Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Nutter from Falls Church; Dr. and Mrs. William Dodge, Mrs. Oswald Carper, Mrs. Mary Guilford, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thomas, Miss Margaret Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haynes, Mr. Walter Pickett, from Arlington, and Mrs. Katherine Prince, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Richeson, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pickett, Mr. Milton Moses, Mrs. Hil-dreth Hicklen, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pickett, from Lynchburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mount, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Mr. Nichol Colson, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Mount, Miss Memphis Jordan, Mr. Granville Wolf, Miss Maurine Bell and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pickett, all from Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Lynn, Mrs. Maude Beale, Mrs. Florence Newman, Miss Bessie Herrell, Miss Janice Herrell and Mr. and Mrs. T. Davies, from Manassas. Mrs. Ethel Anderson and Mrs. Blanche McMeier attended from Warrenton.

Delicious sandwiches, cakes and candies were served with coffee and punch to the approximately 200 guests present. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

On Wednesday, November 2, the following members of the Haymarket Woman's Club went to Richmond: Mrs. B. B. Tulloss, Mrs. V. Wood, Mrs. B. Woodside, Miss Jo Adams, and Mrs. A. H. Meyer. They attended the First Virginia Woman's Forum, presented by Miller & Rhoads in the interest of assisting in the interpretation of "Woman's Place in a Changing World." All the speakers were most interesting.

After the all-day session, which adjourned at 5 p.m., there was a reception held in the tea room at which time we were given an opportunity to meet the distinguished guests. Among those guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhoads, Jr., president of Miller & Rhoads; Gov. and Mrs. William Munford Tucker; Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, president of General Federation of Women's

What Is The Salvation Army?

Perhaps you have seen a small group of men and women gathered in a ring in the growing twilight of summer's evening, blowing horns, beating drums, singing hymns and singing a Gospel message to those who may pause for a moment of meditation and prayer. To you, it is the Salvation Army.

Perhaps you have been attracted by the merry tinkle of the bells which herald the approach of the Christmas Season as The Salvation Army Lasses, shivering in the wintry blast stand beside the swinging pots with an appeal in their eyes for funds to bring cheer to those whose lives are dreary and whose hearts are heavy. To you, it is The Salvation Army.

Perhaps you have seen disaster strike, and among the first of the victims can be seen the familiar uniforms of the Salvation Army workers.

These are but a few of the outward views of the work carried on by this organization which is ever mindful of the needs of humanity, whether physical, intellectual or spiritual.

Through the efforts of this Organization, thousands of unfortunate people have found shelter and love in Home and Hospitals for unwed mothers.

Thousands of men and women from all walks of life who have and themselves, through age or infirmities, unable to meet the competition and standards required by the regular industry, have found homes and employment, with those who understand their problems, in this organization.

Behind the scenes thousands of the most workers are laboring around the clock, if necessary, to carry on these and many other ministrations of mercy. These may answer your question in the dead of the night should emergency arise. And should need be a personal one you may be assured that your problem will be treated with all confidence.

Your Community has this service at your door. It is yours to command. Should a Need arise, bring it to your Local Chairman or any member of The Local Committee and be assured of careful consideration.

This year there is a great need, your community and throughout the world, for funds to carry on this work and an appeal is made for every person to participate in this work. Give as liberally as you can, give something, not to help The Salvation Army, but to help The needy and whenever they may be found.

If you do not have a letter with accompanying address envelope, please send your contribution to Worth H. Storke, Treasurer, for our Local Unit.

A half-truth is dangerous to half-wit.

The best way to treat a cold, according to the experts, is to rest. That's about the best remedy for whatever ails you.

Science Knows No Answer

Not many scientists attempt to explain the mysterious workings of the human beings that populate the globe and most of them are frank enough to say that, upon the basis of present scientific knowledge, they cannot explain man on the basis of cold-blooded science.

Dr. Edmund W. Sinnott, famous biologist, points out that "whatever we may think of life, the mind of man, the organization of the body and its relation to mind, it is evident that organization as we see it in living things is a very real fact, explain it how we will."

"In any problem dealing with life," says the biologist, this organization "must be taken into account." Just what the organization is, nobody can say, and about the best that present-day intelligence can do is to speculate about the mysterious forces that move within the body framework of men and women.

For Rural Telephone Service

The bill to expand telephone service in rural areas provides for new and expanding phone systems along the lines of the Rural Electrification Administration loans.

There is no good reason why the Government should not take whatever steps are necessary to provide reasonable telephone service for those who live in rural areas. It is spending millions of dollars every year to provide airplane service to larger cities and other millions every year to provide steamship service between ports of the world.

The Rural Electrification program, instituted less than twenty years ago, has done much to revolutionize life in rural areas. By making electricity available to those who live on our farms, the agency has not only added convenience to farm homes, but it has made available the necessary power to assist the farmer in the mechanization of his various processes.

VIEWS AND REVIEWS

What They Say Whether Right or Wrong

Clarence E. Harbison, pioneer dog psychologist:

"The dog should be taken into the house and treated as a respected member of the family."

William Martin, dean of Rutgers Agricultural School:

"Farm prices have dropped seventeen per cent in the last year but the prices of things farmers have to buy have dropped only four per cent."

Daniel A. Reed, Member of Congress from New York:

"Many members of both parties feel that the American citizen is entitled to a tax reduction rather than an increase."

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State:

"We cannot make a world, as God did, out of chaos."

Harry S. Truman:

"We have got to find money to run the Government. Period. That is all there is to it."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, President, Columbia University:

"The human being is not constituted to bow the neck quickly to anybody he doesn't consider his boss."

Charles Sawyer, Secretary of Commerce:

"The United States has not bought enough goods from the rest of the world to enable other countries to earn the dollars to pay for what they need."

Boyd Orr, British nutritional expert:

"The only important thing in the world today is to get nations to cooperate."

Jawaharlal Nehru, Prime Minister of India:

"We do not seek any material advantage in exchange for any part of our hard-won freedom."

William F. Halsey, Admiral, U. S. Navy, retired:

"The mass bombing of cities can only produce delayed, remote and indirect effects on the course of war."

Eugenie Anderson, first woman to be nominated as Ambassador:

"Politics is an exciting way for a woman to do her part in molding for her child a better democracy in which we all believe."

Jam Saheb, Maharajah of Nawanagar:

"A palace doesn't have to be costly to be beautiful; that's a nouveau riche idea."

Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the U. S.

"We have yet to bridle the passions of men and the ambitions of nations firmly enough to make war obsolete."

Robert Worth Frank, president, McCormick Theological Seminary:

"Much so-called Christian education of Christain labels to our secular prejudices, enthusiasms, hopes and illusions."

Alfred E. Driscoll, Governor of New Jersey:

"Some people look on bingo as a harmless past-time."

Clarence E. Harbison, pioneer dog psychologist:

"In his own kind of intelligence, the dog is smarter than we are."

Washington Notes

POTATOES

The Government potato-purchasing program is expected to cost a total of about $60,000,000 by June 30, 1950, when the present program ends, according to the Agriculture Department, which states that it may be more, depending on the size of the crop. Last year, the Government handed over $224,000,000 to support the price of potatoes.

AIRPORTS

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has announced that only one runway in the future will be built with Federal financial aid at Class I airports. The new policy applies to construction or improvement in both new and existing airports in this classification. On all other classes of airports, the construction of an additional runway or runways will be approved only for the purpose of handling traffic volume.

150th BIRTHDAY

The City of Washington will celebrate its one hundred fiftieth birthday in 1950, with a "Freedom Fair," which is expected to bring millions of visitors to Washington for at least three years. April 15th is the anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the National Capitol by George Washington. The formal opening of the exposition has been set for July 4, 1950.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE Western Flyer Bicycles

Western Auto Assoc. Store

FOOD PRICES

Retail food prices will continue their slow decline into 1950, according to the Agriculture Department. Government experts expect the following items to average lower: Pork, most dairy products, fats and oils, poultry and eggs, potatoes, fresh vegetables and apples. Very little reduction is expected in the price of beef and veal, while lamb is expected to go higher.

RECRUITMENT

Total recruitment during September was estimated at 38,224, including 741 one-year enlistments of 18-year-olds, 16,788 other new recruits, 12,697 immediate reenlistments and 7,998 other re-enlistments. Total recruitment in August was 40,318 and in July 44,020.

FARM INCOME

Gross farm income is expected to total about $30,000,000,000 this year, with actual cash income from marketings of about $18,000,000,000.

COST OF FARM SUPPORT

The Government is predicting that it will cost about $820,000,000 to support farm prices during a two-year period ending June 30, 1950. By cost is meant the amount of money the Government will lose on the surplus products which it will buy at support price levels and sell or dispose of at lower prices. The period covers largely the 1949 and 1950 farm crops.

HOME, HOSPITAL CONSTRUCTION

President Truman has signed two bills which are intended to spur construction of hospitals and moderately priced homes. The housing bill provides $2,275,000,000 in new Government authority to insure of purchase home mortgages. The other measure provides $150,000,000 a year in Federal aid to the states for hospital construction, extending the existing law from June 30, 1951, to June 30, 1955, and doubling the present annual Federal authorization for hospital building.

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you say that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream—or else!

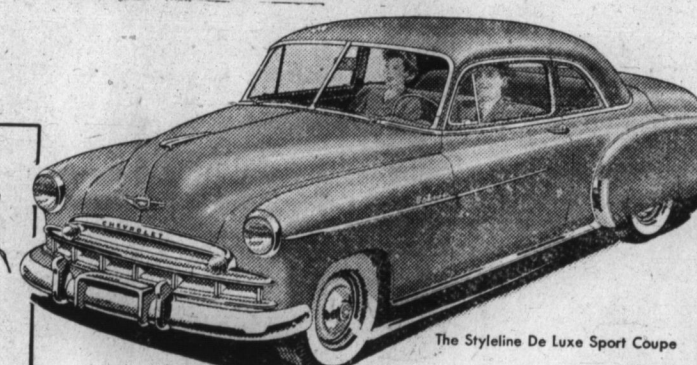

From where I sit, whether it should have cream or tomatoes is simply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some prefer a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:

I am a school teacher and have one sister who is married and has two children. The eldest child is very quiet and easy to manage but the second has a different disposition and is inclined to be noisy and mischievous.

Now, I think my sister and her husband are treating this second child wrong by trying to make him behave just like the other one and continually throwing up to him that he is a bad boy and his brother is good. It seems to me that he gets worst instead of better.

I have tried to talk to my sister and tell her how much harm she is doing her child by using such methods to correct him but she says I am an old maid school teacher and what do I know about children. But I know this much; that no two children are alike and it may be the nature of one to be lively and the other quiet. I know that in the schoolroom a teacher can do much more with a misund-erstood child if she praises what she can find to praise and never tells him he is bad. It is amazing how many of these children respond to encouragement and understanding when they have heard nothing but nagging and abuse at home.

If you keep on telling a child he is bad you will finally convince him that he is and he will be.

What do you think of the situation?

Auntie.

Answer:

I think you are exactly right and I'm sure I could not have expressed the idea any clearer than you have. It is a mistake for parents to try and develop their children in the same little mold. The children should be given guidance and encouragement and allowed to develop along their individual lines.

A second child is very likely to be aggressive and noisy in his efforts to compete successfully with an older child if there is not much difference in their ages. Parents should take this fact in consideration and have a great deal of patience with the little fellow who is trying so hard to be older and smarter than he really is.

I hope your sister will read your letter and that it will help her understand her younger son and treat him in a wiser manner.

LOUISA.

BARE FOOT GROUNDS WIRE

Detroit, Mich. — Leon Banks, 11, had a hole in the sole of one of his shoes. Climbing a tree near his home, Leon came in contact with a high tension electric line. Since his foot touched a branch where the shoe was worn, his body grounded the current and he was unable to move. Firemen removed the partly conscious boy from the tree 13 minutes later. The boy's finger, hopelessly burned, was amputated at a hospital, but otherwise he was uninjured except for a large blister on his foot.

VIRGINIA:
In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Prince William County this 18th day of October, 1949.
Mona Gradick Myers
v.
In Chancery No. 197
J. Franklin Myers

The object of the intervening petition filed in the above styled cause by W. Hill Brown, Jr., in compliance with Chancery order entered in said Court under date of September 22, 1949, is to set aside the final decree of divorce on the grounds of desertion and abandonment entered in said cause on May 6, 1942, on the ground that the Court lacked jurisdiction to enter said decree and to dismiss the original proceeding. And, it appearing by affidavit, filed according to law, that J. Franklin Myers, the above named original defendant, is not a resident of this State, it is therefore ordered that the said J. Frank-lyn Myers do appear within ten days after due publication of this order, in the Clerk's Office of our said Circuit Court, and do what is necessary to protect his interest.
And it is further ordered that this order be published once a week for four successive weeks in The Manassas Journal, a newspaper published in the County of Prince William, State of Virginia. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be posted at the front door

C. of C. Reveals State's Share Of Federal Deficit Is 82 Million

RICHMOND.—The Virginia State
Chamber of Commerce recently pointed out that Virginia's share of the cost of meeting the impending 5 1-2 billion dollar Federal deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, will be $81,950,000 plus interest for an indefinite number of years.

The estimate was contained in a statement by N. W. Kelley, of Roanoke, State Chamber president, released after a study of the President's midyear review of the 1950 budget.

Record-Breaking Budget
Mr. Kelley added that the Federal Government's "record-breaking" peace-time spending budget of 43 1-2 billion dollars for the fiscal year 1950 will exact from Virginia taxpayers an estimated $648,150,000.

He explained that Virginia taxpayers currently bear 1.49 per cent of the total Federal tax burden.
Since all Federal expenditures and deficits must be met by taxation, the Chamber computed Virginia's share of the impending deficit as 1.49 per cent of the 5 1-2 billion dollar deficit, or $81,950,000; similarly Virginia's share of the 1950 Federal spending budget is 1.49 per cent of 43 1-2 billion dollars, or $648,150,000.

"Shocking Fact"
Kelley cited as "shocking facts" in the Federal Government's current fiscal picture which cry out for the earnest consideration of Virginia's delegates in Congress the following points:

1. The 43 1-2 billion dollar Federal spending program authorized by Congress for the fiscal year 1950 not only is the largest peace-time spending budget in the nation's history but contains "many new projects which commit the Government to ever-increasing outlays in the years ahead."

2. The Bureau of the Budget estimates that 1950 receipts will amount to 36 billion dollars, which is 5 1-2 billion dollars under the 43 1-2 billion dollar spending total.
This impending 5 1-2 billion dollar deficit is larger than the total taxes collected by the Federal Government in any peacetime year prior to 1938.

3. The Federal Government's return to deficit spending "will depreciate the value of every dollar in the hands of American wage earners, housewives, pensioners and local governing bodies."

"The tragic thing about this sad picture is that Congress and the Executive Branch could have avoided deficit financing by eliminating billions of dollars of wasteful spending and by exercising restraint in starting costly new spending programs and in dipping deep into the pork barrel," Mr. Kelley declared.

"Congress gave in completely this year to the spending bureaucracies and pressure groups in Washington. Tens of thousands of letters received by members of Congress from folks back home pleading for drastic cuts in excessive and wasteful Federal spending went practically unheeded insofar as effective affirmative action was concerned,"
Mr. Kelley concluded.

Advice is usually worthless because older people have had more experience and rarely heed it and younger people know everything and do not need it.

Highway Research Program Attracting Widespread Notice

RICHMOND. — A Virginia research program directed toward building smoother, safer and more durable highways is attracting widespread out-of-state attention, the State Highway Department reported today.

The program is carried out at Charlottesville by the Virginia Council of Highway Investigation and Research, an agency, sponsored by the State Highway Department and the University of Virginia's engineering department.

Report Printed

A report on spring road breakdowns in Virginia, prepared by T. E. Shelbourne, director of the Council, and A. W. Maner, was published by the Highway Research Board, the nation's leading highway research organization.

Following a "road-roughness" study by R. L. Sheppe, the State of Kentucky has rented Virginia's road-roughness indicator and is building a similar machine for its own use. The road-roughness study was designed to determine which pavements offer the smoothest riding surface.

A recent report by the highway committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce cited Virginia as one of three states which has conducted extensive tests to measure the skid resistance of various pavement types. It also pointed out that Virginia's road-roughness tests indicated "the high standard of construction of bituminous roads" in the State.

Brought Ambassador

A recent "rubber road" experiment in Virginia brought the ambassador from Ceylon here on a special inspection trip. Numerous states and foreign nations have inquired concerning this experiment.

Two reports published by the Council have been reviewed and favorably commented on by officials of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. These included Sheppe's road-roughness study and a report on the weathering of certain road-building materials as prepared by P. L. Melville.

These and other studies were designed to provide information on which to base future standards for road construction and maintenance. In most cases, research studies of this nature require months or years of tests and analysis.

The latest state to join Virginia in setting up a highway research unit is California, where a research division will be established at an annual cost of around $500,000. Virginia's road research expenditures amount to around $50,000 annually.

Mrs. Hutchison Dies Friday In Washington

Committal services were held from Union Cemetery, Leesburg, on Monday for Mrs. Ada Leith Hutchison, 77, who died in a Washington hospital after illness of a few days.

Funeral services had previously been held from the Hines Funeral Home, Washington.

Resided in Washington Mrs. Hutchison was the widow of Oscar C. Hutchison, and was residing in Washington when stricken ill. She was born and reared in the Outlands section of Loudoun, having been a daughter of the late Marion and Adelaide Sanders Galleher.

For a number of years she resided in the Haymarket section before moving to Washington. Mrs. Hutchison also had lived in Manassas. She was active in the Episcopal Church and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Surviving are the following children: Clifton S. Hutchison, Godley, Tex.; W. Oscar Hutchison, Luckett; Hamilton Hutchison, Norfolk; Marion G. and Lucile Hutchison and Mrs. Lillian H. Schaub, Washington; two brothers, Henry H. Galleher, Jefferson, and George S. Galleher, McMinnville, Tenn.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under $½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a canner. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge. What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve our local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

• • • • • Like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

• • • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

• • • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

• • • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business. IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

• • • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

• • • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What...

And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.
