Board To Hear Zoning And Subdivision Ordinances

Model subdivision and strip zoning ordinances were to be presented to the Board of Supervisors today for approval.

The Board of Supervisors will enact the regulations if no opposition is voiced at the meeting.

The strip zoning ordinance would regulate all unincorporated land in accordance with a 25-foot setback provision.

The ordinance provides that buildings now located closer than 25 feet to the road right-of-way in unincorporated areas will be considered "non-conforming."

Purpose of the subdivision ordinance would be to have plans for all contemplated subdivisions submitted to the County Planning Board for approval.

H. D. Clubs Achievement Day Report

"Women in World Friendship" was the theme of the Prince William County Home Demonstration Clubs' Achievement Day.

Highlight of the program was a talk given by Mrs. Ernest Keller, of Woodstock, Va.

Mrs. Joe Hale, County committee chairman, presided at the meeting, and Mrs. Paul Copekey gave the devotional of Friendship and recognized the Dumfries club for having completed the first United Nations flag in this country.

This was the first Achievement Day held at Dumfries and Mrs. Rowena Brawner, president of the Dumfries-Triangle club welcomed the visitors to her community.

Accomplishments of 1950 were given by a panel, composed of presidents of each club and Mrs. Leona K. Barlow, home demonstration agent.

Youth and community recreation was the Federation goal for 1950 and Mrs. W. R. Free reported on the recreation training meetings.

Ten United Nations flags are now being made by various clubs. Mrs. W. N. Free reported that a United Nations flag made by the Nokesville club was presented to the Nokesville High School on United Nations Day.

Mrs. Barlow reported that there are now 16 home demonstration clubs in the County with a membership of more than 400, as well as 10 girls' 4-H clubs.

School Bonds Are Defeated; What Now?

With the $2.4 million bond issue for schools construction soundly defeated in the referendum held last Tuesday, the County School Board today was trying to decide what next.

Literary loan applications will be pushed, since the Board of Supervisors has already approved application for $1,965,000 from the State agency.

Literary loan applications will be pushed, since the Board of Supervisors has already approved application for $1,965,000 from the State agency.

Vote count on the bond issue showed 1,170 opposed and 895 in favor, a more decisive defeat than even gloomy observers predicted.

It now appears that the only way Prince William can hope to get money for needed school building projects is through a sales tax.

The Prince William bond issue was one of six in Virginia that went down in defeat Tuesday.

Only three of 17 precincts voted in favor of the Prince William bond issue. Results by districts were as follows:

Dumfries District: Dumfries—for 107, against 31; Joplin—for 4, against 15; Potomac—for 145, against 27.

Gainesville District: Catharpin—for 20, against 21; Hickory Grove—for 3, against 30; Waterfall—for 5, against 12; Haymarket—for 33, against 133.

Sod Sellers Forfeit PMA Assistance

Farmers who sell sod from pastures were warned this week by the local Production Marketing Administration that they cannot expect to receive any money for conservation practices.

The PMA believes that many farmers in this area are selling sod to building contractors in the Washington area, where it is used for landscaping new real estate developments.

Sale of sod is specifically prohibited by the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program, and no assistance from PMA allotments for soil conservation will be given any person living on a farm where sod sale is practiced.

Another reminder of the coming election for PMA community was given this week by L. J. Pattie, chairman of the Prince William PMA.

Pattie urged county farmers to vote for "the most capable committeemen we can find."

Election day is November 17. Three committee members will be elected from each of three districts.

Unionization Attempts Would Be Settled By Workers' Votes

Communist Workers of America notified the Central Mutual Telephone Company yesterday that they are proceeding immediately with a petition to the National Labor Relations Board to hold an election at the telephone company to determine if employees wish the union to do collective bargaining for them.

If NLRB grants the request, a representative will be sent to preside over the election and count votes. Support of a majority of the company's approximately 75 non-management employees is needed by CWA before NLRB will order the company to recognize the union.

Central Mutual officials have refused to sit down and talk over possible recognition of CWA, union officials declared. However, J. A. Vetter, superintendent of Central Mutual, said he has not been authorized by the Board of Directors to talk with union officials.

Company officials said this week that Central Mutual is not operating at a deficit, as reported last week, but is showing healthy profits. Central Mutual applied to the State Corporation Commission in August 1949 for permission to establish toll charge between Manassas and Triangle, in order to finance a new 237 copper line between the two points.

Wage demands by the union would also force a rate increase, company officials said. Recognized, the union is expected to make demands for wage increase and improvements of working conditions.

Conflicting statements regarding the unionization have been characteristic of events thus far, particularly regarding charges that employees of the telephone company have been threatened with the loss of their jobs for union activities. Vetter stated that these charges were not true. He asked individual employees, Vetter said, whether they had signed union cards, but that positively no threats had been made.

In a telegram sent to Vetter yesterday from Division 33 headquarters in Richmond, Alfred V. Atkinson, CWA division president, said: "In view of the activities of you and your management before and since notification on November 4, we are filing for an NLRB election immediately, in order to protect the statutory rights of your employees."

On November 4, Atkinson said, he had written the company, asking for a meeting between him and company officials. The reply to this letter led him to believe the company was stalling, Atkinson said and he decided to petition NLRB for an election.

However, Central Mutual officials pointed out that no decision could be reached on union requests until the Board of Directors had met, and a regular meeting has been scheduled for November 9 for several weeks. The pending unionization will be discussed at this meeting, they said.

Vetter pointed out that working conditions improvement was planned for next year some months before CWA began organizing here. Plans for 1951 call for $200,000 expenditures in capital outlay, to include installation of a dial system in Quantico and Manassas, the construction of a new exchange in Triangle and additions to the Manassas exchange.

CWA, a CIO affiliate, has about 300,000 members in the Bell system and independent companies in the United States and Canada.

Air Spotters Initial Tests 'Satisfactory'

Initial tests of Manassas Air Defense Command held last Saturday and Sunday were described as satisfactory by William A. Barbee, head of the newly formed air observation system.

The observation post, atop the firehouse, was manned by 12 volunteers during the dry-runs last weekend. Plans are that observers here will report all aircraft to the telephone operator, who in turn reports to Baltimore, where reports from this area are filtered. The Manassas unit is part of the Eastern Air Defense Command, with headquarters at Mitchell Field, New York.

Edgar Parrish is chief spotter for the Manassas unit and roughly 70 volunteer spotters have been assigned for duty in the event of an emergency.

Anti-Serum Recommended For Ailment

Your child can be protected from whooping cough by the use of anti-serum available for the immunization of youngsters, according to Dr. Walter R. Johnson, County Health Officer, as he advised parents not to take this communicable disease lightly.

Since whooping cough is particularly dangerous for babies the need for early protection against it is undisputed. Research has shown that preventive treatment may safely and effectively be given at the age of two months or earlier. Older children who have been previously immunized should receive booster doses of the vaccine.

Pointing out that Virginia had 3,054 cases of whooping cough in 1949, Dr. Johnson reminded parents that whooping cough is sometimes fatal to young children. It may also leave the lungs and other affected parts permanently damaged.

In an effort to control whooping cough emphasis is placed upon the great importance of calling the family physician at any time when a child is not in normal health. If the first signs of a cold do not disappear after a few days of good home care, including rest in bed and isolation from other children, the physician should be called as the cold in itself may be dangerous. The physician will prescribe proper treatment and report any cases of communicable disease to the public health officer who will attend to the quarantine procedure as required by State law, Dr. Johnson said.

Basketball News

The 100F Hawks and Hawkettes basketball teams are now ready for action according to Gene Worley, coach of the Hawks and Maurice Smith, coach of the Hawkettes. Several practice sessions have been held and both teams are getting in condition for December openers in the Northern Virginia League. The Hawks this year will have a well balanced team and with plenty of capable reserves, Worley said, and will employ a man to man defense instead of the zone defense used in the past. Back from last year's squad are Lewrt Vetter, Lloyd Swank, Warren Polen, A. Roseberry, Jr., Calvin Allen, Russell Polen, Robert Robinson, and Herb Busby. Newcomers to the squad are Carleton Bigelow, Martin, Gayle Swank, Jimmy Shelton and Dave Harris. The Hawkettes also possess a well balanced team, Smith said, with Mary Chrisman, Margaret Intell, Mary Haskins, Elizabeth Lloyd, Fanelle Polen, Alice Giddings, Rita Fox and Irene Robinson back from last year's team. Newcomers are Carol O'Donovan, Mary Harne, Betty Ann Phillips, Shirley Barron, Barbara Swank, and Mary Nestrou. Several practice games prior to the league opener have been scheduled and the outcome of these should give the fans some idea as to how the two teams will fare in the Northern Virginia League. Due to the increase in the cost of officials and in as much as the team has been operating at a loss each season it will be impossible to lower prices, according to Worley. It is expected that during the season several games will be set aside for Ladies' night with no charge for the ladies.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
 1. The use of hospitals has grown remarkably in recent years. One important reason is the spread of hospitalization insurance, which has eased the financial burden of hospitalization. A more important factor is that the advantages of modern medical practice are often best obtained in hospitals.
 Answer to Question No. 2:
 2. "Some people joke about it, saying they're allergic to work." But real allergy is not funny; it is a physical reaction to a source of irritation. The physical reaction may be sneezing, hives, headaches or other unpleasant symptoms. The source may be any of a thousand things—pollen, down pillows, foods, animals, household dust, clothing and so on. Your doctor can track down the source, do much to relieve symptoms and prevent recurrence.
 Answer to Question No. 3:
 3. Heart disease kills more people today than any other ailment. Frequent check-ups by your doctor are advisable, and especially if you have recurrent or frequent pain in the chest. Chest pains may be caused by many other conditions but only your doctor can determine which is responsible.

VIRGINIA knows that when she plugs in the iron she'll get quick, steady heat to press the frills of her frock. It's the sort of service folks take for granted in VEPCOland.

To assure a dependable and adequate supply of electricity that will keep such convenience, safety and comfort at your fingertips requires an investment of millions of dollars in generating, transmission and distribution equipment. But, more important, it also takes the "know how" of 4500 skilled men and women who make up the VEPCO organization.

Undersound business management, these VEPCOVIANS have acquired the skills necessary to bring you good electric service. Many are your friends, neighbors, perhaps relatives. They spend their pay-checks in your town; they pay the same taxes you do; they support local civic programs. They're part and parcel of YOUR community.

The next time you flick a switch... remember you're calling on friends.

EDITORIAL

By James Davis Jr.
Which is said about preparedness for everything that you hear and read; preparedness for war, preparedness against inflation, the future civilization and so on. There is one phase of preparedness, however, that stands before you, the students of America. This phase is much more pressing and urgent than any of these others. It is the preparedness for your future life and livelihood.

Your life is mainly what you as individuals make it. Granted that environment, inherent ability and circumstances have much to do with deciding your future, there is still that portion of "growing up" that is governed by you alone.

Regardless of what your future will be, regardless of what field of study you pursue, or what trade or business you enter, those among you who will be best prepared are those who have enriched their lives with knowledge and practicality. The practical side you learn mostly from experience. The educational side you gain in school.

Since you are now in that period of life in which knowledge is most easily absorbed, why not take full advantage of it. Why not be curious to know the meanings of things, why not desire to know the "whys" and "whats" among the subjects that you currently study? Why not learn, not only because it is expected of you, but rather for the sake of learning? These subjects are basic. They are the tools and foundation stones upon which you will build your future. If you ignore them lightly, you ignore the life that is ahead of you. If, however, you use knowledge gained through a good education to the fullest extent, you will be prepared for most eventualities. The circumstances can be better dealt with and your foundation will be made of good material.

You will have prepared yourselves to be better individuals and citizens of this country and the world. Preparedness for peace, war, or any other of the major problems will be a bridge across the stream of life which will be more easily crossed. Fill your life with good things.

and your cup will always be filled to the brim.

"Look around the habitable world; how few know their own good, or knowing it, pursue it!"

SENIOR PLAY CAST CHOSEN

By Norman Chastain
"That Crazy Smith Family," a three-act comedy by Katharine Kavanaugh will be presented on November 17, by the senior class of B. D. H. S. The cast chosen follows: Clarence Tompkins; Ma Smith, Doris Carrio; Tony Smith, Junior Cowne; Buddie Smith, Harold Wright; Betty Smith, Lois Flory; Sally Smith, Frances Fitzgerald; Barbara Wetherby, Nancy Burris; Aunt Bella, Helga Schmitz-Mancy; Professor Slattery, Willard Chastain; Dick Jones, Norman Chastain; Stewart Brandon, Robert Herndon; Julie Weston, Gladys Wright.

Do not miss the fun of seeing Ma and Pa Smith with their crazy family. Tony is crazy about football; Sally, crazy about art; Buddie, crazy about movies; Betty, crazy about herself and Pa and Ma, just crazy.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

By Lloyd Reedy
The Junior Red Cross is asking for used clothing again this year. We have many boys and girls in our school who need clothing. If you have any clothing that you do not want, don't throw it away but bring it to school and give it to Miss Breeden. She will give it to some one who needs it. All kinds of clothing are needed: shoes, sweaters, coats, underwear, etc. Last year approximately one hundred pieces of clothing were distributed among needy families.

The Junior Red Cross had their first fund-raising project several weeks ago: "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," "The Circus," and "Stray Lamb," three short films, proved to be $14.50 worth of laughter.

It will soon be time to fill our Christmas gift boxes for overseas. We give you this advanced notice so that you will have plenty of time to make something.

UNITED NATIONS FLAG PRESENTED TO SCHOOL

Jewell Dickenson
On United Nation's day, October 24, the Nokesville Home Demonstration Club presented to the school a United Nation's flag.

Mrs. W. R. Free and Mrs. E. S. Frew were in charge of the program. Students taking part in the program were: Shirley Bradshaw, Helga Schmitz-Macy, Edith Melvan, Freddie Terry, Wayne Vance and Betty Lou Cato.

Mr. Link gave a talk on "The Importance of the United Nations."

Parent-Teacher Association

By Mary Stephens
The second P.T.A. meeting for this year was held on October 26th in the school auditorium. There were approximately fifty parents and teachers attending. After discussing the problems around and about school, two films were shown, "Operation Crossroads" and "Battle of Iwo Jima." Mr. DeBusk's eighth grade room won the attendance banner.

BRIEFS

On October 27th, we had a special assembly at which time Rev. Fleishman, pastor of the Brethren Church, introduced Dr. Paul Bowman, former president of Bridgewater College, to the high school and faculty. Dr. Bowman spoke on the "Different Opportunities in Life."

Newdini, the magician, entertained both the elementary and high school students on October 25th. The program was sponsored by the S. C. A.

On Friday, the 27th, the Nokesville boys played a scheduled game of touch football with Remington High School. The final score was 6-0, in favor of Remington.

Mr. Paige, a jewelry company representative, was here last Thursday to take ring orders for the Juniors.

The elementary school enjoyed their annual Halloween parade on Tuesday. The parade was led by the band and the children, dressed in Halloween costumes, followed. They marched down to the Brethren Church and then back to the school.

KATIE AT THE KEYHOLE

Bill Davis took Shirley Bradshaw home Saturday night and on Sunday she and Paige Wood were seen at the movies. Bill, are you and Paige running a race?

Dolores Wright was seen with Harry Miller Monday night. You had better look out for the girl in Manassas, Dolores.

Lois Mauck was seen with Cecil Hoffman Friday. Lois, when did you start that again?

Sally Keys seems to be very popular with Clarence and some other senior boy. French must be helping her.

Jackie Pope took a ride on Skyline Drive with Frederick Wholen last Sunday.

Elsie Ridgley was seen at the movies with Eddie Rowe. Looks like Mary Stephens is having quite a time deciding between a Nash and a Ford convertible. Jewell says she likes to ride in Willard's new Model-T Ford.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Lois Flory
On October 28, ten schools were invited to a "Sports Day" at Osbourn High School to play volleyball. Five schools attending were Front Royal, Falmouth, Spotsylvania, Manassas and Nokesville. The Nokesville girls won one game out of four. Front Royal came out with top honors.

Included in an enjoyable day was a delicious lunch at the Technical School cafeteria.

We would like to thank Manassas for a very delightful day.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

By Ruth G. Duffy, Manager
Alexandria Social Security Office

In discussions of old-age and survivors insurance under Federal social security, you hear a lot about "currently" and "fully" insured. There are the two ways in which a worker may be insured.

CURRENTLY INSURED: A worker who is only currently insured does not yet have old-age insurance rights. In case of his death, however, his children under 18 may become entitled to monthly payments. These will continue until they reach age 18. If the children are being cared for by his widow (or divorced wife with a child in her care) and she was being supported by the worker, she too gets benefit payments during the minority of the child. In case of more than one child, her benefit payments continue until the youngest child is 18.

REQUIRED EMPLOYMENT: For a worker to be currently insured is roughly one and a half years of work covered during the last three years.

FULLY INSURED: A worker who is fully insured when he becomes 65 has old-age insurance rights. In case of his death, his widow and children may get monthly insurance, as in the case of a currently insured person. However, the widow's monthly insurance payments will not end permanently when the youngest child reaches 18. At age 65, such a widow, who has not remarried, may file an application for widow's benefits and her payments will be resumed. If the deceased worker left no widow or minor child, but is survived by parents who were dependent upon him, the parents may qualify for benefits if they are 65. In such cases, the parents must file proof of dependency within two years after the insured worker's death.

REQUIRED EMPLOYMENT: For a worker to be fully insured is at least a year and a half, or half the time since he became 21, or half the time since 1950. Anyone who has worked in a job covered by social security for ten years is fully insured for the rest of his life.

A conservative is a fellow who thinks nothing should be done the first time.

BUYING CANNED GOODS

Although we would like to keep summer with us the year round with its abundance of fresh foods, we realize at this time more than ever that this is impossible. Then comes the question of how are we going to supply those vegetable and fruits so necessary to good nutrition.

In some households, these will be stored, frozen, canned or otherwise preserved at home. In others if they cannot be bought fresh from the market, they must be bought in preserved form from the dealer. It would be profitable for every homemaker to learn sizes in canned goods and demand certain standards.

Standard Sizes in Cans and What They Contain

No. 1 cans—fish, seafood, potted meats, evaporated and condensed milk—contains 4 to 4 1/2 oz.; approximately 1/2 cup.

No. 2 cans—strawberry, lobster, salmon, pimiento, evaporated and condensed milk—contains 8 oz.; approximately 1 cup.

No. 3 cans—(short or small)—fish, seafood, soups, milk, fruits, berries, boned meats and poultry—contains 9 1/2 to 13 oz.; approximately 1 1/4 cups.

No. 4 cans—(tall or square)—fruit and vegetable juices, mince-meat, asparagus tips—contain 1 lb.; approximately 2 cups.

No. 5 cans—practically all fruits, berries, vegetables, fruit and vegetable juices—contain 1 lb. 10 oz. to 2 lbs. 8 oz.; approximately 3 1/2 cups.

yet now that the fall season has begun, several shows have come along that look promising, and a number of old ones are showing improvement.

By and large, the Sunday night shows seem to be the best. The most engaging new show is called "Showtime, U. S. A.," which featured on its first telecast several weeks ago some extraordinarily fine entertainment. Within half an hour's time one was able to see and hear: the amazing new commedienne Carol Channing singing "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend";

Paul and Grace Hartman display their gifts for mimicry and dancing, the chorus of "Kiss Me, Kate", and Helen Hayes re-create a scene from "Victoria Regina." Appearing on subsequent shows of "Theatre, U.S.A." have been such performers as Gertrude Lawrence, Edith Piaf, Judith Anderson in the sleepwalking scene from "Macbeth", Thomas Mitchell in a scene from "Death of a Salesman", and an excerpt from T. S. Eliot's play, "The Cocktail Party". This new show has, to be sure, a great deal to recommend it.

Another new Sunday night show that is novel and spirited is "What's My Line?", a half-hour program on which a group of celebrities are challenged to guess the vocation of various individuals, i. e., a mattress tester, a seal trainer. Supplied with a number of clues, the panel seems to have great fun in establishing the different challenges type of work, and their high spirits are infectious. It may be that this program's chief virtue is that it does not offer some "homemaker" the moon and stardance for correctly giving her address. Indeed, it can be said in television's favor that it does not, unlike radio, hold much with the theory that philanthropy is a good substitute for talent.

The Philco TV Playhouse, a one-hour dramatic show and a veteran of last season, continues to provide first-rate television drama on Sunday evenings. Both classical and contemporary plays are offered, and the acting, direction, and material are skillfully handled, almost invariably. "Studio One", seen on Monday nights, is this show's closest rival, but not too close.

"Displaying" much improvement during the past few weeks is Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town", a one-hour variety show—that has been in the past, it seems to me, unduly preoccupied with animal acts and acrobats. Regardless of how photogenic and supple they may be, animal tumbler can be enjoyed in the parlor only so far. However, this program seems to have picked up considerably, mainly through the appearances of more and better "name" artists, chief among whom have been Ethel Waters, Lauritz Melchior, and Flora Robson. Ray Block's orchestra is perhaps the show's most creditable virtue. Several Sundays ago the program was highlighted by the appearance of Cornelia Otis Skinner, and Mr. Harry S. Truman's daughter, Margaret, who sings.

"Leave It To The Girls", on which a group of sleekly-groomed young ladies pass out Mr. Anthony-like advice to troubled viewers, is one of the Sunday night low spots. Devoid of humor or wisdom, the accent is firmly on décolletage. Very popular though, I'm told.

It's come now to my video betelgeuse, the "mystery" shows. So far as I can judge, the only thing mysterious about these things is the fact that they have managed to find sponsors. Ogden Nash once observed in verse that "Philco Vance needs a kick in the pants." I like to think what Nash might recommend for the TV sleuths.

There are, of course, a number of other shows, musical, dramatic, or of different nature, that one will find agreeable. Most of the important collegiate football games are

A man is usually known by the company he keeps away from. You can save yourself a lot of trouble by not borrowing any. Motorists who try to burn up the road often land in the cooler. You don't have to be an aquatic star to know all the dives in town. Many a hot head develops cold feet when someone calls his bluff.

telecast, too. Surely no one will deny that the educational and aesthetic possibilities of television are practically unlimited, or that the new entertainment medium has a distinct advantage over radio in that its performers can be both seen and heard, but the fact remains that it is at present forcing upon its audience too much that is hackneyed, second-rate, and downright insipid. And, oh, yes, considering their vest and noisy following, I would not more question the merits of the Hopalong Cassidy films than I would question the virtue of Little Nell.

Exceptional opportunity for qualified girls

TO GET THE FINEST PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION IN THE WORLD!

Do you want a career in your own town—or anywhere you would like to go—that offers prestige, opportunity for advancement, financial security, personal satisfaction? Nursing offers all these things—plus a splendid professional education, a chance to meet and work with some of the finest people you'll ever know. This year a selected group of young women will begin their education for this proud profession. You can be one of them—if you act now!

If you are a normal, healthy girl, a high school graduate and over 18, you can probably meet the entrance requirements for your local School of Nursing. You will receive an education that will be useful all your life!

NURSING— A CAREER WITH A FUTURE FOR YOU!

As a graduate nurse, you will use your knowledge of child care, nutrition and psychology every day. Nursing is a profession which you can follow profitably all your life or to which you can always return. Your education will help you all your life—no matter where you go or what you do. Nursing is not for every girl. A nurse must be loyal, faithful, sympathetic and intelligent. She must be quick with her hands, and gentle. She must love people and want to understand and help them.

IF YOU ENROLL NOW— before classes are filled—you may enter the school of your choice. Go to your local hospital and talk to the Director of Nurses. She will be glad to answer your questions about nursing and tell you where to apply.

County Agent's Notebook

By CHARLES HALL, JR.
Assistant County Agent
This is the season for planting and transplanting shrubs, but here's a warning to gardeners: high winds and dry weather may kill newly-planted shrubs unless they are watered occasionally. Plants damaged now by lack of water may be dead before next summer. Burlap shading will help the plants to survive and a sawdust mulch will reduce the loss of water. Newly-planted shrubs can, of course, be killed by excessive watering and this danger is greatest when plants are in low or shaded places.
It's almost time to treat Virginia's sheep for the nodular worm infestations. Breeders should see that all sheep have a dose of phanathiazine this month. Ewes should be treated at least 30 days before they lamb.

Northern Virginia's thriving dairy industry is in danger of a serious setback unless dairy farmers can conquer Brucellosis, commonly known as Bang's disease. This disease has become far too great a nuisance to dairymen. During the first seven months of this year, 79,000 cattle were Bang's tested and, of this, these, 2.7 per cent showed positive reactions. However, only 63.3 per cent of cattle infected were slaughtered.

What are the consequences? Loss of cows through abortions immediately through the breeding and herd improvement program into a tail-spin. No dairyman can keep infected cows very long without having trouble with sterility and shy-breeding.

The disease also will slow down and eventually stall milk production. If the losses from Brucellosis could have been eliminated last year, productions of infected herds would have greatly increased and incomes would have been higher by thousands of dollars.

Lusty Adventures Of Captain Blood

The most thrilling of all the adventures of Rafael Sabatini's swash-buckling terror of the seas is brought to the screen for the first time in Columbia's "Fortunes of Captain Blood," which opens Wednesday at the Pitts Theatre. Louis Hayward is starred as the dashing pirate hero, with Patricia Medina, George Macready, Alfonso Bedoya, Dona Drake and Lowell Gilmore cast in important featured roles.

The reckless exploits of this devil-buccaneer who became the scourge of the Spanish Main are depicted in a rousing tale of passion and piracy which tingles with red-blooded adventure. "Fortunes of Captain Blood" is said to be rife with impressive scenes of dueling, fighting aboard ships at sea and romantic interludes, all set down in the picturesque background of the West Indies.

Michael Hogan, Robert Libott and Frank Burt collaborated in adapting Sabatini's novel to the screen. Gordon Douglas directed the film for producer Harry Joe Brown.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends in Prince William County who worked so loyally for my reelection to Congress.
