Fifty elm and maple trees were planted in Manassas this week by Town employees. The trees were donated by Mrs. Paul Cooksey and Mrs. Herbert Rundaldo. Planting was done as part of a program to replace all trees cut down by the late James Ritter explained Only 25 have been cut down during the last two years, he said.

Manassas public schools principal Daniel J. Kelso says that the late-dated boiler at Osborn High School constitutes no danger to occupants of the building. Although all water has left the boiler on two recent occasions, this would not have caused an explosion, he said. Besides the boiler has a safety valve that will operate if temperature rises above a safe level. Heating experts also agree there is no danger, Kelso said. On both occasions when the boiler became empty, fire drills were conducted, "as a matter of course," Kelso declared.

Construction on the Woodbine Baptist Church is still in progress, and volunteer workers, including brick layers and carpenters, are asked to report for work on November 18, at 8 a. m. Lunch will be served to the men by the ladies of the Church.

Community Thanksgiving Services have been scheduled for Wednesday, November 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Trinity Episcopal Church. The Rev. F. L. Baker, new pastor of Grace Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon and will be assisted by the Rev. Conrad Snavely and the Rev. Guthrie Brown. Offering from the service will go to the County Week-Day Religious Program, it was announced.

About 1,000 bass, some up to fifteen inches long, were dumped into Lake Jackson this week by County Game Warden Walter Flory. The bass were supplied by the State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, as part of its conservation program. Season on bass is June 1 through March 15 and ten inches is the minimum size.

The County Board of Supervisors recently appointed a committee to confer with the State Highway Department on the construction of a storm sewer for Triangle. Named to serve on the committee were Ben Phillips, Catherine Warren, and John Patten.

Dr. John R. Aldred, of Haymarket, has been named as the first physician to be received from Prince William County to the forthcoming International Livestock Exposition. Dr. Aldred will have four dependents in the draft horse department, and Elysius Farms will exhibit a summer yearling, Angora goat, and a pair of rabbits. The stock show, slated to run November 23 through December 4, is at the Chicago Stock Yards.

C. B. Rorer, princepsman at the Journal, suffered a severely cut hand Tuesday while sawing up metal on a circular saw. Four fingers on his left hand were ripped by the saw blade. Another victim of an occupational accident received in this week was Robert Williams, who is employed on the farm of W. D. Sharrett, Bristow. Williams' foot was pierced by a pitchfork as he and another man attempted to unclog a feed conveyor.

Town Council will hold a special meeting tonight to consider the request of C. L. Wheat for Town water at his new Chevrolet plant, being built on Centreville road, one-half mile northwest of the corporate limits.

The Northern Virginia Stock Car Association will close out its 1950 racing season with a 50-lap championship race at Longview Speedway this Sunday afternoon. Included on the program are two elimination races before the grand 50 laps.

Candidates for election to office in the Chamber of Commerce next year will be Benjamin Muse for president, Edgar Parrish for vice president, and Charleston Grant for re-election secretary-treasurer. This was the state presented this week by the Chamber's nominating committee composed of E. Deb Gorthwaite, C. C. Cioe, and Harry P. Davis.

Successor To Rice Not Named; Hook For Mayor In Fifty-One?

Although election time is still six months away, Town politics were beginning to simmer this week and the boiling point may be reached before too long.

Amid speculation as to who will be appointed to fill the unexpired term of Councilman J. E. Rice, who resigned with a back ache two weeks ago, G. Wallace Hook announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election to Council when next June rolls around. Since the term of Harry P. Davis, perennial Mayor of Manassas, also expires next year, Hook conceivably might be regarded as a candidate for Mayor, and can probably be assured of a large vote, if he chooses to run.

Mayor Davis, who has held his post since 1928, declined to state whether he will run again, saying "June's too far away. However, it wouldn't seem like Manassas without Davis running for Mayor and observers believe that he will try to make it eight in a row.

Excluding Davis and Hook, it would seem that Edgar Parrish is the only other possible candidate who would have a fighting chance. Davis was almost defeated in

English Mayor Visits Here

Shown above (left to right) are the Honorable A. V. Baker, Mayor of Falmouth, England, and Fred R. Hynson of Manassas as they visited last Thursday in Falmouth, Va. Mr. Baker, who embarked two months ago from his home on an international good will tour, was visiting the fourteenth American city named Falmouth. On Thursday evening, Baker was a guest at the Hynson's home in Manassas before departing for Florida to continue his tour. Hynson and Baker became acquainted through unusual circumstances: Warren R. Hynson, stationed in Falmouth, England, during the war, lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowland and a warm friendship grew between them. When the Rowlands learned that Baker was coming to America they insisted that he "not come home until he had seen the Hynsons at Manassas." Baker will return to the Hynson home next week for a short visit.

NLRB To Call Union, Phone Officials Here For Conference

The National Labor Relations Board is expected to communicate this week with the Central Mutual Telephone Co. and the CWA phone union, notifying them of an informal conference to be held before the end of this month regarding the question of union representation for Central Mutual employees.

NLRB's action will be the result of a petition filed last week by Alfred V. Atkinson, president of the Virginia division of Communications Workers of America, in which he asked NLRB to hold an election among 75 non-management phone employees here. The election would determine if a majority of employees wished the union to represent them in collective bargaining.

NLRB representatives at the informal hearing, probably to be held in Central Mutual offices, will attempt to settle the matter as simply as possible. But further action will be necessary, since the union will ask for recognition and the phone company is not expected to grant this until an election proves that 51 per cent of their employees favor unionization.

If no agreement is reached at the informal conference, NLRB will then order a public hearing of the case, from which they will gather facts and testimony to be sifted and weighed, prior to an order for an employee election.

Officials at the Baltimore office of the NLRB estimated that if the matter is not settled by the informal hearing it will be 90 days before an election can be held.

Representatives of the phone company said earlier that they will not oppose the union and if an election proves that a majority of the employees desire union representation, then they will abide by whatever regulations the NLRB may prescribe. Company officials reportedly feel that the initiative rests with the union and they can

Officer Simms Quits To Take Belvoir Job

Manassas police sergeant Charles Simms resigned this week to accept a job as assistant manager of a commissary at Fort Belvoir. Simms said it was difficult for him to decide to resign but he could not refuse an opportunity for a better job.

No plans have been made for replacement of Simms, Town Manager James Ritter stated. Simms was made sergeant of police following an aptitude testing of policemen, Ritter said he had not decided whether to promote one of the remaining officers—Twyman Bowers and Peters—or to give another aptitude test. Pay for the job of sergeant is the same as other officers receive, but there is a good chance whoever becomes sergeant will receive additional pay in the future.

Simms said he will continue to live in Manassas with his wife and two children and commute daily to Fort Belvoir.

This was the second resignation of a Town policeman in recent months. James Colbert resigned because of misunderstanding over authority, but Ritter said there was no dissatisfaction involved in Simms' resignation. "Simms has been one of our best employees," Ritter said, "and his service has been very satisfactory. He has made an excellent police officer and we are sorry to lose him," Ritter declared.

Three Roads Appear Open For Financing New Schools

Now that the $2,400,000 bond issue proposal for school construction in Prince William has been harshly rejected, school officials put their heads together this week and got to work again to decide what alternatives are left them.

School officials are intent on pushing the building program and there seem to be three alternatives open to them. They can sit back and wait for the literary loan fund to be replenished, they can authorize district bond issue referendum or they can begin planning another County-wide bond issue proposal.

It was reported this week that the State Board of Education is making attempts to have the literary loan fund replenished in some way. Accruals of about $1,000,000 a year normally are returned to the fund by repayment of old loans but at this rate, it would take many years to increase the fund from the present level of $1,000,000 to a point where a substantial part of the $12,500,000 in approved applications might be met. Additional money for the loan fund cannot be expected until the General Assembly convenes again in 1952, although a special session might be called if the need warrants it. Bond issue proposals totaling $14,000,000 were defeated in six Virginia counties last week and conceivably the State Board of Education might regard this as an emergency condition and take appropriate action. Perhaps Federal aid will be sought.

As for district bond issues, most observers in Manassas felt that this would be a mistake, as it would tend to incite ill-will. However, Occoquan district may soon take action to hold a district referendum on bonds, unless the need for a new high school is satisfied. Voters there thought this week that nothing would be done until they have heard the recommendations of Superintendent of Schools Peters on December 6. Occoquan district could retire a bond issue more easily than any other district in Prince William because of the highly taxable Vepco plant there. Also, Occoquan is now the site of a $6,000,000 Alexandria Water Co. works which has not yet been figured on any assessments.

Possibilities for another county-wide bond issue would increase if efforts to replenish the literary loan fund failed. Taking a cue from post-election comments, the School Board might revise their building program, cutting expenditures where possible, and submit a revised proposal for another bond issue proposal. School officials would probably seek some way to satisfy voters that the bond issue money would be spent according to explicit provisions.

Some voters have commented that the need for a building program was "never understood," and the recent one might have passed had officials undertaken to demonstrate conclusively to parents that school children were attending inadequate schools.

One voter recommended that the School Board and Superintendent of Schools resort to public relations work in order to restore the confidence of voters. One notion of minutes of their meetings, phase of this would be the public he suggested.

Meanwhile, the School Board has asked Superintendent Peters to attend their meeting on December 6 and present recommendations to the Board. Peters, who was in Richmond yesterday conferring with Dowell J. Howard, State Superintendent of Schools, stated that he did not yet know what he will recommend at that meeting.

Also wondering what's coming next were members of the Manassas PTA who were scheduled to meet tonight in Osborn High School and discuss ways and means of financing the School Board's building program. Wheatley M. Johnson and Mrs. Louise Galleher, both of Manassas have been asked to speak at the meeting and indicate what hope there may be for a building program.

Art Exhibit Attracts 200 Amateur Works

Almost 200 pieces of art work were exhibited in the second annual art show of the Fine Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club, held last Thursday evening in Grace Methodist Church. Members of the Woman's Club called the show a "notable success" and predicted an increasing interest in amateur art in Manassas.

Most of the exhibiting artists were amateurs, but three professionals from Manassas also showed work. Esther Brock Byrd, Elaine Levine, and Amelia Brown McBryde, all of whom have sold paintings, exhibited samples of their work.

Among the variety of works shown were oil painting, water coloring, charcoal drawings, painted figurines, glass, trays, and textiles, and many more. No prizes were awarded, and it was explained that the purpose was to show to Manassas the kind of art work being done here.

Works submitted by students at Manassas public schools attracted wide attention. Over 100 pieces were submitted by students in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades at Baldwin School, the 5th and 6th grades at Bennett and the Art Group of Osborn High School. Miss Margaret Carpenter, art instructor in Manassas schools, in commenting on the students' paintings, said "Manassas has a marvelous future in art." Hubert Hicks, Jean Helms, and Mary Ann Sinclair, students at Osborn, submitted watercolors, which were admired by spectators. Crayon drawings were shown by grade school pupils.

Outstanding works shown included painted figurines by Walter Rohr, who leads a Manassas Recreation Association class in this art-craft, painted trays by Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, and a display of picture frames by Mrs. O. J. Reeves.

Other exhibitors included: Mrs. Marion Fitzpatrick, Harriet Gordon, Nancy Leigh Diddle, Mrs. Everett Rice, Bonnie Shields, Dorothy Levine, Frank Sigman, and Marjorie Hersch.

In charge of the art show were Mrs. John Cox and Miss Carpenter, assisted by Elaine Levine, Agnes Webster, and Mrs. J. Vincent Davis.

Atom Bomb Survival Tips

Cheer up, because the Civil Defense Office of the National Security Resources Board intimates that the public can live through an atomic bomb raid without the aid of Geiger counters, protective clothing or any special training.

A booklet, entitled "John Citizen's Bible of Atomic Attack Protection," is being distributed. It does not minimize the threat of the atomic bomb but it gives some "tips" about atomic energy.

These, according to the booklet, center about the effects of radiation and the "wild talk of 'super-bomb'."

Discouraging is the declaration that "injury by radio activity does not necessarily mean you are doomed to die or be crippled." It is admitted that a modern bomb can do heavy damage to houses and buildings about two miles away but a bomb of double power will extend the damage only another half-mile. Moreover, a bomb one hundred times as powerful would reach out a little more than four and one-half times as far.

The book contains six "survival secrets for atomic attacks," with the advice that readers "remove this sheet and keep it with you until you've memorized it." The six rules, as presented, are:

- (1) Try to get shielded; if you have time, get down in a basement or subway. Should you unexpectedly be caught out-of-doors, seek shelter alongside a building or jump into any handy ditch or gutter.
- (2) Drop flat on ground or floor; to keep from being tossed about and to lessen the chances of being struck by falling and flying objects; flatten out at the base of a wall or at the bottom of a bank.
- (3) Bury your face in your arms; when you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.
- (4) Don't rush outside right after a bombing; after an airburst, wait a few minutes, then go out to help fight fires. After other kinds of bursts, wait at least until lingering radiation has some chance to die down.
- (5) Don't take chances with food or water in open containers; to

Blimps Plus Bloomers And It's Basketball

There was a time when you had pretty, acrobatic girls for cheerleaders, but out at Osborn gym this week it looked like the baby elephant act from Barnum and Bailey had signed up for a new kind of winter tour.

Take the blimps, add a few Gibson Girls in bloomer and some hairy-legged men in skirts and you get a fair idea of what's up this Saturday night at eight. They're going to call it basketball so it should be all over—except for Blue Cross inquiries—by ten. It's good nobody has called it horseshoes or ping pong since two hours will move much faster than 21 points. The men have consented to wear boxing gloves, but several confessed privately a belief that the handicapped committee has got things backward. The suffragettes are silent.

But it's all in fun and proceeds from the event will go to benefit the Junior Woman's Club Children's Fund. Victims are expected to be members of the Manassas Kiwanis Club, but they hope to preserve anonymity through use of pseudonyms and cosmetics.

Reading like a list of Texas, tackles, the names of cheerleaders are as follows: E. Deb Gorthwaite, 225; Bill Saylor, 205; Frank Cox, 240; and Percy Lewis, 215. R. Worth Peters will serve an announcer.

Roster for the Kiwanis team was submitted as follows: Wilhelmina Saylor, coach, Roberta Lynn, Joanna Mallard, Henrietta Parrish.

Frost Ford Will Open Next Friday Under New Owners

Completion of the sale of Prince William Motors, Manassas, to Tom Frost and Stewart D. Eustace was announced yesterday. The new owners have planned formal opening ceremonies for November 24, with a showing of the 1951 Ford on that date.

Walter D. Sudd of Manassas was the former owner of the business, which will be known as Frost Ford. Remodeling of the building is being conducted by Frost and Eustace and they have expressed a hope that their many friends in the Manassas area now will come and visit them at Frost Ford.

Mrs. Edgar Parrish Chosen To Head Manassas Seal Sale

Mrs. Edgar Parrish has been appointed seal sale chairman for the Manassas district, it was announced this week by Mrs. Paul Espenshade, chairman of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association's Christmas seal campaign. The seal sale begins November 20.

Other district chairmen include: Mrs. Paul Cornwell, Cokesville; Mrs. Robert Alvey, Gainesville; Mrs. E. N. Garner, Occoquan; Mrs. J. T. Young, Dumfries; Mrs. Grover Brown, Brentsville; and Mrs. Dorothy H. H. colored auxiliary chairman, and Mrs. Ossie Tipton, school chairman.

Annual sale of seals is the only revenue the TB Association receives for its fight to control and prevent the disease in this county, officials said. Proceeds of this year's drive will be used to implement the 1951 program, they said.

C. F. M. LEWIS

Charles Francis Montgomery Lewis, 75, died early today in Dunnington Nursing Home, Berryfield, Va., after a short illness. Mr. Lewis is survived by two daughters, Mrs. R. A. Gibson, and Miss Sarah Lewis, and a son, Charles W. Lewis, all of Manassas. Two grand children, Thomas A. Gibson and Raymond Montgomery Gibson, also survive.

Funeral services have been arranged for 2 p. m. Saturday at Baker's Funeral Home, Manassas, with burial in Manassas Cemetery.

Brother Beahm, Noted Pastor, Is Interred At Valley View

By Mrs. Fred Shepherd

"I, N. H. Beahm is dead." When that message came to thousands of people throughout the brotherhood of the Church of the Brethren on Sunday morning, all who knew him realized that one of the most revered Brethren ministers of all times was gone. "Brother" Beahm as he was affectionately called, was killed late Saturday night in a head-on automobile collision on U. S. Route 220, two miles south of Martinsville, while he was returning from a communion service.

Isaac Newton Henry Beahm was born the fifth among 14 children to Henry A. and Ann Showalter Beahm near Mill Creek Church in Rockingham County on May 14, 1859. He was called to the ministry of the Brethren Church in 1881 at Bedford where his father and mother had moved and where the Beahm homestead still stands. From then on he was an Ambassador-at-large for the church of the Brethren. He taught school for about fifty years. He enrolled at Bridgewater College in 1884 and 1890. He was always eager for knowledge and despite his advanced age his mind was still very alert. He was ordained as an elder in 1889. Active in school work, he helped found Daleville Normal which later became a college. Brentsville Seminary when the school was brought to Nokesville, and Elizabethtown College in Pennsylvania, of which he was first president, just two weeks ago he gave an ad-

Larson's Wood Carvings Will Highlight Hobby Show To Be Held Here Saturday

Highlighting the hobby show to be held Saturday, November 18, will be the wood carvings of Andrew Larson, according to officials of the Manassas Recreation Association, sponsor of the event. Larson, who is a retired U. S. mail carrier, now devotes all his time to his hobbies of cedar wood carving and embroidered paintings. His humorous wood carvings aroused much interest in Manassas several months ago "when they were displayed in a downtown office window."

Prince William May Become Part of New Tenth District

The November 7 election may have been the last one in which Prince William County voted as part of the presently constituted Eighth Congressional District, according to advance information resulting from the publication of the preliminary census figures for Virginia.

A population growth of nearly 600,000 during the ten-year period from 1940 to 1950, entitles Virginia to an increase from nine to ten congressmen.

Prince William is in the Eighth District, which has had the largest population increase, having jumped nearly 60 per cent. The Eighth District's population is now 565,979. This is the largest Congressional District in the State.

The legislative commission, made up of three State Senators and six members of the House of Delegates,

Johnson Will Supervise New Health Office In Rappahannock

Rappahannock County, which has but one physician and no health department, soon will be included in the Prince William-Fauquier health district, Prince William and Fauquier supervisors decided last week.

A group of Rappahannock citizens, alarmed at the rate of tuberculosis there, recently solicited funds from residents for the organization of some sort of public health program and asked the State Health Department for help. Dr. D. J. Roper advised the group that they had enough money to employ a clerk, nurse, and sanitation officer and suggested that they ask to be included in the Prince William-Fauquier health district.

Dr. Walter R. Johnson, Prince William-Fauquier health officer, said that the arrangement should benefit these counties since the sanitation officer employed by Rappahannock will be available for the Rappahannock office will not require much of his time, Dr. Johnson said.

prevent radio-active poisoning, or disease, select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe these may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.

(6) Don't start rumors; in the confusion that follows a bombing, a single rumor might touch off a panic that will cost your life.

The experts figure that a person's chance of escaping alive, when within one-half mile of the center of an atomic explosion, will be one to ten. From one-half to one mile away, the individual has a fifty-fifty chance. At points more than one and one-half to two miles away, deaths drop only two or three per hundred and beyond two miles "the explosion will cause practically no deaths at all."

The booklet emphasizes that these calculations on possible chances of death and injury are based on the premise that there has been no advance warning of a bomb attack. It points out that, with the exception of underwater or ground explosions, the radio activity from atomic bursts "is much less to be feared than blast and heat." The biggest danger from explosive radio activity lies within a mile of the explosion, with those less than two-thirds of a mile away, when caught in the open, "pretty sure to soak up a fatal dose of radio activity."

Brother Beahm

Sunday morning in Cumberland County and he preached 20 sermons that day at churches between Cumberland and the Valley Church near Nokesville. With him traveled secretaries who took down every word he said. Many of our county people attended the closing service and remember that "Brother Beahm, after the twentieth service was still very alert."

In 1906, along with the late Samuel H. Flory also of Nokesville, he made a 90-day tour of the Bible lands and other parts of the Orient. He swam in the Jordan River and preached in Jerusalem. Throughout his life, no distance was too great for him to travel in order to be with anyone who needed him. Many times trains have stopped just to let Mr. Beahm on or off. He always dressed in a long black frock coat and a plain collar and was familiar to many wherever he went.

Funeral services were conducted at the Nokesville Church of the Brethren on Tuesday afternoon, November 14 with at least 500 of his many relatives and friends, including 32 ministers, coming to pay their loving last respects. Many telegrams and letters were acknowledged during the services. The Rev. Rufus P. Bucher, Quarryville, Pennsylvania, Mr. Beahm's brother-in-law, assisted by the Rev. Dewey Bucher of Meyerstown, Pa., and the Rev. James Beahm of Brookville, Ohio, the latter two nephews of the deceased, conducted a beautiful service. A quartet including Mrs. Fleishman, Mrs. Robert Beahm, Mrs. Cleveland Flory and Mrs. Vance Somers, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Harry Miller sang "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages." The Rev. John A. Hine, gardener of Midland, presided at the interment service at Valley View Cemetery. Pallbearers were nephews, Messrs. Early and Ralph Beahm, Caleb and Paul Bucher and Frank and Wilbur Beahm. The large display of flowers was mute testimony of the high esteem in which Mr. Beahm was held, for as the Rev. Mr. Fleishman characterized him during the service "Brother Beahm was a man of Christian faith who spoke the Christian language; a man of Christian courage; a man who was a Christian father."

The Nokesville Volunteer Fire Department will hold their first turkey shoot of the year on the Fire Hall lot beginning at noon on Saturday, November 18. Come and get your "Thanksgiving turkey" is the invitation of the firemen.

The Nokesville PTA is serving the Isaac Walton League a turkey supper to be held in the Nokesville gym on Saturday evening. Tickets may be brought from Mrs. Walter Flory or at the door on Saturday night.

We Ask That
"Fares" Play Fair

Judge Cunningham was telling about a taxi ride he took over to the County Seat last week. The cab was all littered with cigarette butts, plus candy and gum wrappers. This annoyed the Judge and he spoke to the driver about it.

To his surprise the cabman answered right back. "Don't blame me," he said "Fast as I clear this taxi out, the fares just mess it up again. I like a clean cab as well as anybody, but a man has to have some co-operation!"

Judge figures the fellow was in the right, and maybe we ought to do a little campaigning with the public. I agree with him—that's why I'm writing this article.

From where I sit, it's important for us to remember the fellow who's going to get in the cab after we leave it. Because he pays the same as we do, he's got the same right to a clean, comfortable ride—just as he has the same right to enjoy the beverage of his choice (be it coffee, beer, lemonade, or what have you).

Portrait of Prince William Loaned

By Walter Sadd

A portrait of William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland, for whom Prince William County was named 220 years ago, soon will be put on exhibit in the County Clerk's Office. The portrait is being lent by Walter Sadd, the owner. The portrait is an original engraving made by John Faber, Jr., in 1765 from a painting of Prince William executed about 1753 by Sir Joshua Reynolds.

William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland ("Prince William") was born April 15, 1721, the second son of King George II and Queen Catherine of England. A soldier by nature, at the age of twenty-two years, he shared credit with his father for the victory of the English and their allies at the Battle of Dettingen, 1743, in which he was wounded. In 1745 he commanded the added army at Fontenoy, and the following year completely defeated Prince Charles Edward, the "Young Pretender," at Culloden, crushing the hopes of the House of Stuart to rule England. Promoted to Captain-General, he headed the British Army from 1747-1757, and in 1754 appointed General Edward Braddock to his ill-fated command in America.

Immensely popular, the "Duke" was prominent socially; as a sportsman he founded the Ascot racing meet, and owned several horses famous in turf history. The General Assembly of Virginia named Prince William County after him in 1730, and his gallantry at Dettingen was recognized in 1744 by the creation of Dettingen Parish. Having suffered several defeats on the Continent during the Seven Years War, in 1757 the Duke of Cumberland resigned from all his offices and retired permanently to private life. He died on October 31, 1765.

"THE REAL MCCOY"
According to research experts, the expression "the real McCoy" is believed to have come to our language because of a brawl in a saloon. The story goes that a gentleman by the name of McCoy one afternoon was minding his own business, drinking a schooner of beer in a corner saloon. He was approached by a drunk who, in a loud tone and for no reason at all, said very unkind things about McCoy and his ancestry. Friends of the drunk tried to drag him away, explaining that this was the great McCoy—one of the top prize fighters of the day. The drunk snorted his disbelief and continued his abusive tactics until McCoy turned and flattened the heckler with one punch. When the heckler came to, he shook his head, rubbed his jaw and said, "You're right; he's the real McCoy." This story was repeated over and over until the expression "the real McCoy" came to mean "genuine."

Mr. and Mrs. Alpaugh Observe 50th Anniversary; Daughter Observes 25th

An unusual double wedding anniversary celebration was held here last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Alpaugh when they celebrated their golden anniversary and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Schweitzer, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., observed their recent silver anniversary.

A resident of Manassas since 1927, Mr. Alpaugh came here to supervise the erection of a dam at Bland's Ford Bridge and later made his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Alpaugh were married in Bernardsville, N. J. in 1900. She is the former Christine Carlson and came to America from her native Göteborg, Sweden, when 16 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Alpaugh have seven living children: Messdames John Schweitzer, Scott Winfield, Temple Barron, and Messrs. Walter Alpaugh, Luther Alpaugh, and Woodrow Alpaugh. They also have nine living grand children.

Hobby Show

Another special exhibit of the show, which will be held in the basement of Grace Methodist Church, will be staged by members of the handicraft workshop. About 50 exhibits have been planned, including collections of old hymn books, antique fans, tropical fish, souvenir plates, old maps of Virginia, and Prince William County. German steins, pewter, a family of hamsters, exhibits of metal and leather crafts, and woodworking. Hours for the exhibit are 2 p.m. until 9 p.m. Arrangements for an exhibit may be made by contacting Miss Alice Taylor. There will be no charge for exhibiting or admission. The event is a community service of the MRA, officials stressed.

It seems futile to preach highway safety, but we often wonder what the slaughter would be if there were no preaching at all.

The only way we can expect to get better legislation is to elect better legislators — which places the responsibility squarely in the hands of the nation's voters.

County Agent Cox Announces Barberry Inspection Program

Representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture soon will begin a county-wide inspection of barberry bushes to determine if they are infested with the stem rust, a fungus which destroys grain and other crops, County Agent Frank Cox announced this week.

The rust spreading bush is not the same shrub as Japanese Barberry, an ornamental plant widely used for landscaping. The accompanying diagram shows the distinguishing characteristics of the two bushes. City and rural employees will be contacted when the inspection begins and are urged to cooperate with the USDA employees, he said.

The barberry eradication project is a cooperative activity of the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture. The eradication of barberry bushes to control stem rust is one of the major projects of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1918 following the severe epidemic in 1916. The control was extended to include Virginia and four other states in 1934. Since then barberry eradication has been conducted in 23 counties where several million bushes have been found and eradicated.

Stem rust is caused by a fungus that lives on barberry bushes and certain grains and grasses. The fungus survives the winter in the black-spore stage on grain stubble, old straw piles, and grasses. Airborne spores are not capable of infecting new grain in the spring but they infest barberry bushes, and the spring stage of the rust develops on the leaves. Spores from diseased barberry leaves infect grain and grass plants nearby. Once this stage is established, rust spreads by means of wind-borne spores from plant to plant and from field to field. The elimination of barberry bushes breaks the cycle of rust development and controls the disease.

The survey in Prince William County is part of the survey recently completed in Page and several other northern Virginia counties. Joseph M. Crockett is field inspector for the program.

Nokesville

By Mrs. Fred Shepherd
When the folks at the Nokesville Church of the Brethren presented their offering on Sunday morning at the close of the Harvest Festival the total offering was just around $2,600. All of this will go toward paying for the church building. The dedication ceremony with representatives from several classes and organizations of the church taking part, took place during the worship service. The women of the church were able to make a donation of $800.00 (they had already given $350 this year) because of the fine response to the public supper on Friday night when nearly 500 people were served. Over $200 was realized from the Sales table. "Thanks" to all who made this possible.

The ladies of the V. F. D. are planning for a Cake Walk to be held at the Fire Hall on Saturday night beginning at 8 p.m. There will also be plenty of good refreshments for sale. Also for sale will be the parcel post packages recently asked for. Sounds like a nice evening.

The F. T. A. program which will be given on Tuesday night, November 21 in connection with the business meeting will be under the direction of Miss Ila Breeden and the Elementary S. C. A. It will consist of plays, songs and stories carrying out the November themes: Education Week, Book Week and Thanksgiving.

The Community Thanksgiving program, as planned by the District Committee for Religious Education, will be held at the school on Wednesday evening, November 23. Rev. L. W. Griggs, the new pastor of the local Methodist church will be the speaker. A number of musical selections will make up the rest of the service. It is hoped that many, many people from all over the district will plan to attend this service.

NVBL By-laws Are Adopted; Schedules Due

Meeting at the Town Hall in Leesburg last week, representatives of twelve teams in the Northern Virginia Basketball League decided to begin league play the week of December 10. Schedules, which are being prepared by Judge Richard Marriot of Warrenton, will be announced in a few days.

No games will be scheduled for the week of Christmas; play will be resumed the first of January and continue for three weeks. Fourth week in January will be vacant to allow make-up of scheduled games missed during the first half of the season. An All-Star game will be played that week between teams of the Northern and Southern Division, with proceeds going to the National Polio Foundation. Regular season play will resume January 28 and be concluded by March 3. A league play-off between the top teams in each Division will be held in Warrenton at the end of regular season play.

League By-Laws were revised and adopted at the Leesburg meeting, with the chief innovation being the team photograph requirement. During last season questions arose on the identity of several players and officials were determined that this should not happen again. A photograph of each team's roster must be submitted to the Division secretaries before the season begins. As an additional safeguard, players are required to sign their names on the back of the photo. The by-laws also stipulate that a forfeiture fee of $7.50 shall accompany each roster and team photo when submitted to the Division secretary. This fee will provide a fund with which to pay officials in the event a game is forfeited. The forfeiting team then will be prohibited from playing additional league games until another forfeit fee has been deposited with the Division secretary.

A draft clause is included in the by-laws to provide for replacement of players inducted into the armed forces. Rosters must not exceed 18 girls and 15 boys.

The twelve league teams are the National Horse Show.

divided into Divisions as follows: Northern Division; Leesburg, Purcellville, Middleburg, Upperville, C. C. Upperville A. C., and Lovettsville and Southern Division; Manassas Hawks, Manassas Legion, Gainesville, Nokesville, Occoquan, and Warrenton.

League officials are: Kelly Peach, president and Curtis Polen, vice-president. Lawrence Weekly of the Manassas Journal is secretary for the Southern Division.

● The 51st annual Warrenton Horse Show which attracted hordes of horse-show enthusiasts to Virginia this fall, is featured in a five page picture story in the current issue of Look magazine. These photographs from the heart of Virginia hunt country include shots of many of the riders in action and at play: Kenny Darling, atop Bepo Rose, receiving the Payne Memorial Cup; the Master of the Fox Hounds and the Warrenton Pack, and many others who took part in the hunt. This picture spread in Look is especially timely because of the showing of Virginia horses during the twelve league teams are the National Horse Show.

"The Gettysburg Address?"

... sorry, never heard of it"

"How should I know the Gettysburg Address? I'm a stranger here myself—just got in from Chicago."

"It was a talk given by George Washington at the end of the war."

"Lincoln gave it to free the slaves."

"It was a political talk."

"It was a debate with Douglas."

"Sure—it was made at the end of the Civil War, somewhere around 1822."

THIS YEAR it is just four score and seven years since the weary and ailing President made the "few appropriate remarks" asked of him at Gettysburg.

The date was November 19, 1863. It was to have been October 23, but Edward Everett required the extra weeks to polish the two-hour oration that preceded Lincoln's immortal two minutes. The President, invited as an afterthought, had but a fraction of a crowded two weeks to get ready.

The people, they say, were disappointed. It is possible that Lincoln, today, might be disappointed in the people. For the words that have been engraved in gold and marble are something less than indelible in their hearts.

If ten cities recently surveyed rightly represent the nation, more than seven million adults have never even heard of the Gettysburg Address.

Sixteen per cent of those who have heard of it cannot identify the speaker. Fifty-four per cent are wrong about the occasion. Guesses about the exact date cover 185 years.

Opinions of what the talk was about range from the well-informed to many like those listed above.

Thirty-six per cent can repeat the first line, but only fifteen per cent even pretend to know most of the address.

One thing that does not suffer from age is Truth, and Lincoln's message has as much meaning today as it had eighty-seven years ago.

We still live in a "nation conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

It is more than ever questionable whether "any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure."

"Never before have governments 'of the people, by the people, for the people' perished so rapidly from the earth."

And never, many believe, has it been so vital that "this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom."

It is not likely that our freedom, bought at such a price in death and suffering, can be lightly wrested from us.

But it may dribble away, drop by unnoticed drop, while we are busy rolling our own small logs.

Two hundred fifty-six organizations support lobbies in Washington today. There are lobbies for the Farmer, for Lower Taxes, for World Federalization, for the Townsend Plan, for Displaced Persons, for Railroads, for Waterways, for Real Estate...

But a study of the list does not show any lobby for the United States of America.

There ought to be one—the greatest pressure group in history—with every one of our 104,000,000 adult Americans as members, each pledged to put the country's good ahead of personal profit or group gain, each refusing to have his thinking done for him and delivered like the morning mail.

For there can be no real public opinion without private thinking; and there can be no national strength based on "What's in it for me?"

If this country is to have a "new birth of freedom," it will not commence with committees and councils, nor will it develop by resolution or proclamation.

It will start quietly across the land in the hearts of men and women, and it will grow into a national conviction that what others have been willing to die for may be worth some effort to preserve.

It will begin with some very small thing, as small perhaps as the 270 words of the Gettysburg Address.

Suppose—to celebrate its eighty-seventh birthday—all of us memorized it again. Most of us knew it once.

And while we were memorizing it, suppose we took time to think about its meaning, about the character of the man who gave it, about the hope it holds against the fearful background of its giving.

It might help free us from lazy cynicism, from spiritual shiftlessness, from our dangerous habit of leaving everything up to a non-existent "them." It might even lead to the "new birth of freedom" that Lincoln prayed for.

It is with that hope that the Gettysburg Address is reprinted here:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met here on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

"But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they have, thus far, so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that this government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

ORDINANCE NO.

ZONING ORDINANCE FOR PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY, VIRGINIA

An ordinance, in pursuance of the authority granted by chapter 415 of the Virginia Acts of Assembly of 1938, authorizing Boards of Supervisors or other governing bodies in Counties to divide the area of counties in the unincorporated portions thereof into one or more districts: To regulate the use of lands and of buildings and other structures: To provide the locations of these areas which may be used as places of residence or in which agriculture, forestry, trade, industry or other specific uses may be conducted, the height, bulk, and size of buildings or other structures, the percentage of land area which may be occupied, and the minimum size of yards, courts and other open spaces, to provide for amendments and changes therein: to require County planning commissions to perform certain duties with reference thereto: To permit the appointment and prescribe the powers and duties of County Boards of zoning appeals: and to provide methods for enforcement of this ordinance and penalties for the violation thereof.

The promotion of health, safety, order, prosperity, the conservation of natural resources, and the general welfare requiring it, be it ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County, Virginia, as follows:

1. The purpose of this ordinance is to regulate the unincorporated territory of Prince William County, Virginia, as shown on the accompanying map entitled "Zoning Map of Prince William County, Virginia," which together with all notations and designations thereon is hereby made fully a part of this ordinance. All buildings and appurtenances within this territory, constructed after the effective date of this ordinance, shall conform with the following set-back provisions.

On grade 1 roads (colored red) not less than 10' from center line of right-of-way.

On grade 2 roads (colored green) not less than 80' from center line of right-of-way.

On grade 3 roads (colored blue) not less than 65' from center line of right-of-way.

On grade 4 roads (uncolored) not less than 50' from center line of right-of-way.

1. Existing structures now located closer to a thoroughfare than is heretofore permitted under this ordinance shall be considered to be non-conforming structures and no additions, or structural changes of value exceeding $500.00 shall be made unless approved by the zoning administrator. In the event of the destruction of the structure, exclusive of foundations, no structure shall be constructed upon the lot hitherto occupied by such building or structure unless it conforms to the provisions of this ordinance concerning the erection of new structures.

II. The Prince William County Planning Commission shall from time to time recommend amendments to the zoning map.

III. This ordinance shall be enforced by such officer as may be designated by the Board of Supervisors who shall in no case grant any permit for the construction or alteration of any building if the building as proposed to be constructed or altered would be in violation of any of the provisions of the ordinance.

1. Any person who propose to construct or alter any building or structure of any kind shall file with such authorized representative of his application therefor, which application shall furnish such information as such authorized representative as may be necessary to enable him to pass such application intelligently. If such proposed structure or alteration is in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance, such authorized representative shall refuse a permit for such construction, or alteration, and from such decision of such authorized representative an appeal shall lie in the Board of zoning appeals.

3. It is the intention of this ordinance that all questions arising in connection with the enforcement of this ordinance shall be presented first to such authorized representative; That such questions shall be presented to the board of appeals only on appeal from such authorized representative and that from the decision of the board of zoning appeals recourse shall be had as provided by law. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $10.00 and not more than $100.00 if the offense be not willful; or not more than $250.00 if the offense be willful; and in every case $10.00 for each day after the first day such violation shall continue.

IV. The Board of Zoning Appeals, consisting of three (3) members shall be appointed by the Board of Supervisors for a term of one (1), two (2), and three (3) years respectively, to serve without pay, which board may, in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards vary the application of the terms of this ordinance in harmony with its general purpose and intent and in accordance with general specific rules contained herein, and hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is an error in any order, requirements, or decisions or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this act or of any ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, and hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of this or any subsequent ordinances upon which such board is required to pass and to authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variances from the terms of the ordinance as will not be contrary to the public interest, where, owing to special conditions a literal enforcement of the provisions of such ordinance will result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the spirit of such ordinance shall be observed and substantial justice done, and shall adopt rules, hold meetings and have powers, all as provided in any act of the General Assembly of Virginia.

Whenever an application for building permit is refused by such authorized representative, and the applicant indicates, in writing, his desire to appeal to the Board of Zoning Appeals, the application for building permit and all pertinent papers therewith, shall be filed with the Board of Zoning Appeals, which appeal shall be considered by the Board of Zoning Appeals at its next regular meeting, or at a special meeting called for that purpose. The board shall have regular meetings monthly.

Before passing on any appeal which might affect the interests of the public, the Board of Zoning Appeals shall hold a public hearing and give notice of the date of the hearing by two (2) insertions in a newspaper of general circulation in the county and the last of such notices shall appear not less than forty-eight (48) hours before the date set for the hearing.

The Board of Supervisors of Prince William County may, from time to time, on its own motion or on petition, after public notice and hearing, amend, supplement or change the regulations and districts herein established. Every such proposed amendment, supplement or change shall be referred by the board of Supervisors to the Board of Zoning Appeals and the County Planning Commission for report before the public hearing.

V. On petition signed by at least 1-4 of the property owners in any area in the unincorporated territory of Prince William County such groups of persons may request the Prince William County Planning Commission to consider the establishment of a more restricted zone. A public hearing shall be held by the said Commission before any such more restriction may be recommended.

1. Every such petition shall show by a scale map or maps, and other pertinent data:

- a. The boundaries of the area to be considered, with reference to known landmarks.
- b. The location and ownership of every piece of property within the area.
- c. The restriction or restrictions desired.
- d. The names and correct addresses of all property owners within the area.

2. Notice shall be given of the time and place of such public hearings by publication in at least two weekly issues of some newspaper published in said county or having a general circulation therein, the second weekly publication of such notice to be at least five (5) days prior to the holding of said public hearing and if the proposed amendment, supplement or change affects the use of property or the size, height or area regulations within a locality, additional notice shall be posted in at least three prominent places in the area affected at least five (5) days prior to such public hearing.

Nothing herein contained shall require any change in the plans, construction, size or designated use of any building, structure, or part thereof for which a building permit has been granted or for which plans were on file with the Board of Supervisors before this ordinance becomes effective, and the construction of which from such plans shall have been started within 30 days after this ordinance becomes effective, except that if the building operation in question is discontinued for a period of not less than six months, any further construction shall be in conformity with the addition of extra stories to a building where provision has heretofore been made in the existing foundation, columns and walls.

The date of effect of this ordinance shall be from and after its passage and legal publication and its provision shall be in force thereafter until repealed.

Should any section or provision of this ordinance be decided by the courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decisions shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole, or any part thereof other than the part so held to be unconstitutional or invalid.

All conflicting Ordinances or parts thereof which are inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

The boundaries of said zoning districts are shown on a map or plate filed herewith and made a part of this ordinance.

And it appearing that the Prince William County Planning Commission having been appointed as provided for by law and it appearing further that the said Planning Commission and this board have held public hearings on the foregoing ordinance in accordance with the statute for such cases made and provided, and of this ordinance.

Now therefore, be it resolved, on motion, duly seconded and adopted by ye and nay votes that the foregoing zoning ordinance of Prince William County be the same hereby is enacted by this board, and it is hereby ordered that this ordinance and the official zoning map be published according to Law this _____ day of _____.

An ordinance to regulate and assure the orderly subdivision and development of land in Prince William County, Virginia, and to require the plotting and recordation of such subdivisions.

SECTION I

A. Subdivision Control

1. From and after the effective date of this ordinance any owner or proprietor of any tract of land in the unincorporated area of Prince William County, Virginia, who subdivides the same as herein provided shall cause a plat of such subdivision with reference to known or permanent monuments to be made in accordance with the regulations set forth in this ordinance, and a copy of the said plat to be recorded in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

2. The Clerk of the Circuit Court shall not file or record any such plat or any copy thereof required by this ordinance to be recorded until such plat or copy thereof shall have been approved, in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and such approval evidenced thereon.

SECTION 2

A. Plats Required

1. Copies of all plats required by the provisions of this section shall be submitted to the clerk of the Circuit Court.

2. Preliminary and final plats shall be required and every such plat shall be prepared by a surveyor or engineer duly authorized by the Commonwealth of Virginia to prepare such plats.

3. Preliminary Plats: Three copies of plats shall be submitted for approval. One (1) copy with the action of the approving authority noted thereon shall be returned to the subdivider.

4. Final Plats: Eight prints of the final plat of the subdivision or section thereof, accompanied by a receipt from the county Treasurer evidencing the payment of all required fees, shall be submitted for approval. One copy with the action of the approving authority noted thereon shall be returned to the subdivider.

B. Approval of Plats

1. Preliminary Plats: Must be approved by the County Planning Commission or its designated agent or agents and such action shall be evidenced on copies thereof by the signatures of the agent of such commission, provided the provisions of this ordinance are complied with in the preparation thereof. Approval of preliminary plats shall be valid for a period of six (6) months from the date thereof and such approval shall not be considered to be an acceptance of such plats for recordation.

2. Final Plats: Shall be approved by the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County and such action shall be evidenced on copies thereof by the signature of the chairman of said Board, provided:

A. Such plats are in accordance and, as such, have been recommended for appeal by the County Planning Commission, which action shall be evidenced on said copies by the signature of the Chairman of such Commission.

B. All physical improvements required by the provisions of Section V of this ordinance for the subdivision so platted shall have been installed therein; except that in lieu of actual installation of said physical improvements the subdivider shall have submitted an acceptable form of agreement or bond with surty in amount equal to the total cost of such improvements guaranteeing that the improvements will be installed within a designated reasonable length of time. The form of agreement, designated length of time and bond and surty shall be established by the Board of Supervisors as they may require, according to the nature and extent of the improvements required.

A subdivider may be released from surty given for construction of streets in any area of his subdivision, except where lots have actually been sold.

Approval of the final plats of subdivisions or sections thereof shall not be deemed the acceptance by the county of any street, alley, or other public space shown on the plats for the maintenance, repair or operation thereof. Approval of final plats of subdivisions or section thereof shall be null and void if copies of the said plats are not offered for record within ninety days after the date thereof.

3. Joint Jurisdiction: When any part of the land involved lies within an area subject to the joint control of the governing bodies of the county and a municipality, the plat shall also be approved by the governing body of the municipality as provided in chapter 369 of the Acts of Assembly of 1946.

SECTION III

GENERAL REGULATIONS: The following shall be minimum requirements.

1. Subdivision Names: The names of new subdivisions shall not duplicate or too closely approximate the names of existing subdivisions.

2. Street Names: Names of new streets shall not duplicate existing or platted names unless the new street is a continuation of or in alignment with existing or platted street.

3. Building Sites: Shall have frontage on existing or recorded public streets.

4. Easements: Where required easements of widths appropriate to the purpose intended shall be provided.

5. Street Layout:

A. Streets shall be provided to give access to adjoining acreage and to connect with the principal streets in adjoining subdivisions.

B. Cul-de-sac street shall be provided with a turn-around with a minimum right-of-way radius of 60 feet.

C. Blocks in general shall not be longer than 1,000 feet between street intersections unless warranted by some unusual condition.

D. Reserve strips protecting the use of dead-end and boundary streets will be permitted on condition that such reserve strips shall become null and void, and thereby automatically dedicated for public street purposes, when land abutting thereon is dedicated for public street purposes.

Lot Sizes: When subdivider sells only land for potential residential purposes with no responsibility for buildings to be constructed thereon, the minimum lot shall be at least 100 feet wide and contain not less than 20,000 square feet.

6. Street widths:

A. Alleys _____ 15 ft.

B. Service Drives _____ 30 ft.

C. Streets _____ 50 ft.

Additional right of way width may be required at the discretion of Planning Commissions if conditions warrant it.

When a subdivision abuts one side of any street which has been included in the State System of Secondary Highways the subdivider shall not be required to dedicate more than one-half of any right-of-way necessary to make said street comply with the minimum width fixed for same, and shall not be responsible for grading or surfacing such street.

7. Service drives: Whenever a subdivision abuts a road which is included in the State System of Primary Highways, a service drive extending for the full length of the subdivision along such road and providing limited access thereto may be required. If the right-of-way of such road has been fixed at 160 feet, or greater, the service drive may be located within such right-of-way.

SECTION IV

Preparation of Plats: Preliminary and final plats of a subdivision shall be prepared in accordance with regulations set forth in this section.

1. Preliminary Plats: Shall be drawn to scale of not smaller than 1 inch equals 200 feet, may be drawn in pencil and may be of one or more sheets as necessary to show the following information:

A. Name of subdivision, owner, subdivider, surveyor or engineer, date of drawing, number of sheets, north point and scale.

B. Location of proposed subdivision by an insert map at a scale of not less than two (2) inches equal one (1) mile indicating thereon adjoining roads and their names and numbers, towns, subdivisions and other landmarks.

C. A boundary survey or existing survey or record, provided such survey shows a closure with an accuracy of not less than one (1) in 2,500; total acreage, acreage of subdivided area, number and approximate areas of all building sites, existing buildings within the boundaries of the tract, names of owners and their property lines within the boundaries of the tract and adjoining street boundaries.

D. All existing, platted and proposed streets and easements, their names, numbers and widths; public areas and parking spaces; existing utilities, water courses, their names and other pertinent data.

 The regular meeting of the Gainesville District PTA will be held in the auditorium on Tuesday evening Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. A forty-minute sound and color film, "Schoolhouse In The Red" will be presented. This film, produced by Encyclopedia Britannica Films Inc., showed some of the efforts of the comprehensive school over the one-room, rural elementary school, and gives a fair treatment of the problems for and against consolidation, according to a State Board of Education Bulletin. We have been very proud in the increased attendance at the PTA meetings, and hope it continues to increase. The following members of the Woman's Club attended the Virginia Forum presented by Miller and Rhoades Department Store at Richmond: Mrs. A. Kerr, Mrs. Bell Price and Mrs. B. B. Tulloss. Among the principal speakers at the forum were the Honorable Georgia Nease Clark, Treasurer of the U. S., Hon. Max Leva, Assistant Secretary of Defense, Mrs. Blair Buck, Past President of General Federation of Women's Clubs, The Honorable John Stewart Battle, Governor of Virginia, The Honorable William Averell Harriman, Special Assistant to President Truman; The Honorable J. Vaughan Gary, Congressman of 3rd district; Helen Hiett Waller, Director of N. Y. Herald Tribune Forum, and Mrs. A. Paul Hartz, President of Virginia Federation Women's Clubs.

Over a hundred guests attended the reception held in the Rectory of the Episcopal Church in honor of the Rev. George Stokes, Friends from Bethesda, Manassas, Maryland, and Delaplane attended, as well as from the local communities. Mr. and Mrs. Wade C. Payne Jr. of Norfolk, Va. visited over the week-end at the home of Dr. Wade C. Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tyler and Mr. Henry Dulaney spent Sunday with Elizabeth Dulaney in Richmond, Virginia. Master Eddy Melton has returned home after spending several days with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Grubb, in Purcellville, Va. Miss Betty Ann Meyer had as her dinner guest on Saturday Mr. Phil Smith, of Washington, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer.

Nurse Tells How Hadacol Was So Helpful To Her
 Supplied Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin Which Her System Lacked

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St., East St. Louis, Ill., a nurse, says she wishes she had found out about HADACOL sooner because since taking HADACOL she feels so good. Mrs. Adele was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I am full of energy."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results
 HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of aches and pains in the shoulders, legs and arms, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.
 HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus —elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come In Liquid Form
 There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are more easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream the way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'
 After reading Mrs. Adele's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Adele, it can do for you if you're troubled with aches and pains in the shoulders, legs, and arms, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Strict Money-Back Guarantee
 HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

By RUTH G. DUFFY, Manager Alexandria Social Security Office

Under the new social security law, the term "employee" has been redefined. Under this new definition approximately 400,000 persons will be brought under social security through this extension of occupational coverage.

On January first, a full-time life insurance salesman will begin building toward old-age and survivors' insurance benefits. So will agent or commission drivers engaged in distributing meat, vegetable, fruit or bakery products; drivers engaged in laundry or dry-cleaning services; and drivers distributing beverages (other than milk).

Both traveling and city salesmen, working a full-time basis, are brought under the new law. This will not include, however, a salesman's side-line sales for some other person.

To be covered in these new occupations, the worker must perform the services himself, and he must not have a substantial investment in the business for which he is engaged as a salesman or distributor. Moreover, a person engaged for a single sales or distribution transaction would not be covered. The worker must be employed continuously to be eligible for social security coverage.

Home workers, that is, persons who do the work not in a plant or a factory, but in their own place of residence, are now covered by social security also. The work must be done according to specifications furnished by the person for whom the services are performed, and the employer must supply the material or goods on which the employee works at home. This kind of work is subject to regulation under the law of the State in which the home worker lives.

The spotlight was on youth last week as the world's largest rural youth organization — the 4-H clubs observed National 4-H Achievement Week. The observances began November 4 and lasted through November 12.

4-H Club members number nearly 2,000,000 of which some 53,000 are in Virginia. The enrollment this year in Virginia has shown a substantial increase—about 3,000 over last year.

General purposes of Achievement Week were to: Make a report to the nation on 1950's accomplishments. See that parents understand what youth is doing through club work. Help 4-H members develop their 1951 plans. Emphasize opportunities afforded rural young people through 4-H Clubs.

"Earn - Save - Serve," the theme of the National 4-H thrift program also was featured on achievement week programs in Virginia. The program emphasized the thrift factor already included in the 4-H program. Some of the things club members were urged to do was to invest in U. S. savings bonds, buy life insurance, and establish savings accounts in local banks.

Clover Hill Farm Registered Jerseys Recently Classified

Seventeen registered Jerseys in the herd owned by Wheatley M. Johnson, Clover Hill Farm, Manassas, were recently classified under a program of The American Jersey Cattle Club. The classification rated the animals for type, comparing them against the breed's score of 100 points for a perfect animal.

This classification was for all previously unclassified females that have had at least one calf and for all bulls over 2 years old. They were by Prof. Hilton Boynton of the University of New Hampshire. Prof. Boynton is an official classifier for the Club, which has its national headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

One animal ranked Very Good, 5 Good Plus, 8 Good, and 3 Fair. The classification program sponsored by The American Jersey Cattle Club is designed to help breeders of registered Jerseys improve their cattle by knowing which ones come closest to the breed's standard of perfection.
