

Deploable Street Condition Fault of Highway Department, Ritter Says; May See Clarke

Negligence of the State Highway Department in failing to do anything about the "deplorable" condition of paved streets in Manassas was scored yesterday by Town Manager Ritter who said he has repeatedly requested highway engineers to do maintenance work which they agreed to last July 1.

Ritter declared that he has asked district engineers Worthington and Lancaster on at least five occasions to get something started on the work, but that they have declined. Ritter said he now is getting ready to go before General Anderson, State Highway Commissioner and Chief Engineer C. S. Mullin in an effort to get the holes and bumps repaired.

"And if that doesn't work, then I'll ask Senator Clarke to step in and get something done," Ritter told the Journal.

Every paved street in Manassas needs re-surfacing and all are asking at this time that minor patching jobs be done so that the whole street system will not become irreparably damaged, Ritter stated.

The present sad condition arose through failure of the department to repair urgent breaks in paved surfaces last fall. Wintry weather with subsequent freezings and thawings aggravated the condition and widened the breaks.

"If the Highway Department had made necessary repairs in the fall, 90 per cent of the present damage would have been averted," Ritter maintained.

The Highway Department became responsible for the maintenance of paved streets in Manassas last July 1 when they gave towns the choice of letting the department keep their streets in order or of doing the work themselves and receiving a reimbursement of $300 per mile of paved street per year.

A little arithmetic showed Town Council that they would profit by letting the State do the work. There are four and one-half miles of paved streets within the Manassas corporate limits and Town maintenance would bring in $1,350 from the department, while it actually would cost about $2,000 to maintain the streets, as Council knew through past experience.

Upon notification of Council's decision, the Highway Department agreed to guarantee the maintenance, but nothing has been done yet, and no indication has been given when the work will be begun.

Local Banks Report Good Year; Officers Are Re-elected

The two national banks in Manassas reported "favorable" progress during the past year at their annual stockholders meetings held last week. Directors and officers of both banks were re-elected for another year.

J. E. Bradford, Sr. was elected as a ninth member of the Board of Directors of People's National Bank. Other directors re-elected were George D. Baker, E. R. Conner, T. R. Hurst, J. Carl Kincheloe, R. C. Powell, R. L. Ristcliffe, C. A. Sinclair and Arthur W. Sinclair. Officers re-elected were C. A. Sinclair, president; R. C. Powell, vice-president and cashier; and Florence E. Kane, assistant cashier.

Directors re-elected at the National Bank of Manassas were A. S. Robertson, George B. Cooke, C. Lacey Compton, Stanley A. Owens, W. Hill Brown, Jr., J. W. Alvey, John E. Burke, W. E. Trusler, C. C. Russell, Earl W. Hurst, and Harry P. Davis. A. S. Robertson was re-elected president, and George B. Cooke, vice-president. Harry B. Davis, cashier, and William A. Barbee, assistant cashier, were also re-elected.

Davis reported to National Bank stockholders that 1950 had been a favorable year with an increase in total assets of about $7,000 and an increase in gross earnings was noted despite an uncontrollable increase in costs. $30,000 was put into undivided profits and net earnings were $12,653. Davis reported that balances increased over $500,000. A dividend of $5,000 was paid. The bank is capitalized at $500,000 with $100,000 surplus, and $55,700 in undivided profits. Book value of stock has increased to $429.90 per share. The bank now has earned from $455,301.45 in the 55 years of its existence. Davis told the directors that the bank has paid $19,500 in dividends during this year.

R. C. Powell, cashier of People's Bank reported net profits of $20,322.52 during the year ended December 31. Total assets increased from $2,300,000 to $2,610,000.1. Powell said. Book value of People's Bank stock is now $356 per share. Deposits total $2,395,221.47, he said.

Teenage Gang Plots Ambush; Readies Noose For Policeman

Eight teenagers got teed off Saturday night when they were refused beer sales and vowed they were "going to get" the man who ejected them from his grill.

Wesley Childress, proprietor of Dixie Lunch, said he had to ask several of the gang to leave his place about 11 p. m. after they got unruly and began cursing. One boy, Larry Williams, 18, Yorkshire, protested and said nobody was going to tell him what to do. Childress and an employee, Oman Hanley, escorted the group to the door where Williams grabbed at Hanley, before being pulled outside.

Williams stood around outside the door and said he was going to get Childress when the latter closed up for the night. He had done nothing and nobody was going to push him around, Williams told his pals.

Wishing to avoid trouble, Childress phoned the police. Officer Harold Bowers answered the call and picked up Williams for questioning. Bowers, Williams, and Childress then went to Trial Justice Austin Barbee, but Childress declined to swear out a warrant, and Bowers released Williams.

In the meantime, the other members of the gang gathered in front of Town Hall, where one remarked that he had a rope and suggested that Bowers be "hanged" for interfering.

About that time Officer Gerald Peters came on duty and went to investigate the affair in front of Town Hall. When the kids saw Peters they calmed down and apparently disbanded when Williams returned.

An unidentified member of the gang told a Journal reporter that he resented Childress telling them to get out of Dixie Lunch when they had done nothing, and that the "frac" was none of Bowers' business.

The boys, all under-age, had ordered beer, Childress said, and when he refused to sell to them, they became disorderly. All had been drinking and they had created disturbances at two other restaurants before entering Dixie, Bowers reported.

Williams was the only identified member of the gang. He was described as the "ringleader." All were believed to have been employed recently by the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. and were laid off two weeks ago when that construction project advanced out of this area.

Later Bowers said that last Saturday night had been one of the most troublesome he has known. At the time the fracas broke out at Dixie, three other fights had been reported to him—one on Battle Street, one on North Main, and another in the parking lot between Battle and Main. "That's too much for one man," Bowers commented. "The next time I work on Saturday night I'm going to ask that another policeman be on duty also."

Armed Forces Call Eight Local Men

Eight men will report to Richmond January 25 for induction into the armed forces. Mrs. R. Worth Peters, clerk of the Prince William County Selective Service Board, announced this week. The men slated to report are John Albert Akers, Parrott, Va.; Rodney Madison Jordan, Alexandria; William Herbert Cordell, Manassas; Charles Lester Kye, Occoquan; Floyd Lee Harris, Manassas; Preston Irwin Winston, Gainesville; Marion J. Oliver, Jr., Woodbridge; and Vernon Davis Dawson, Woodbridge.

Ten men from here are scheduled to report for induction February 13 at the Physical Examination and Induction Center, Arlington Farms, South Past, Fort Myer, Va. Fifteen men were to report today to Fort Myer today for physical examinations.

Well No. 6 Gets Pump

Well No. 6 will get a pump today, giving the Town of Manassas four operating wells and pumps with a total capacity of 10,000,000 per month.

Drilling on the well, located at the corner of West and Taylor Streets, was completed last month. An inclement weather had prevented completion of the project.

Operation of the new well and pump will begin next week after finishing touches have been given for the pump and casing for the well pipe has not been completely installed. Total cost of the new well and pump will amount to about $5,000.

According to Town Manager Ritter, Well No. 6 was drilled to a depth of 5,000 feet, and water is being consigned monthly in Manassas. With the new well, the town's water supply will be increased.

The four operating wells and pumps (two others are abandoned) will have a capacity of 10,000,000 gallons per month. This, together with 100,000 gallons stored in the water tower and 80,000 in the reservoir should prevent another scare like the one experienced during the last week's drought. This year's fire trucks pumped out more than 100,000 gallons and Town officials were afraid the entire town was going dry at any moment, just as firemen quenched the blaze.

Polio Benefit All-Star Game Plans Advance

Plans are now completed for the annual March of Dimes benefit basketball game between all-star high school players and faculty members, to be played at Osbourn High School gymnasium, Saturday, January 27.

Coches and team members will be asked to pick three girls and two boys from each of five County high school teams, Nokesville, Quantico, Occoquan, Technical School, and Osbourn. Rosters for both students and faculty teams will be submitted next week.

The first game, to begin at 7:30 p. m., will pit the Girls' All-Stars against a women's faculty team. Following this the Boys' All-Star team will play men faculty members. Student teams will wear Quantico Post High School uniforms and faculty players will dress in Osbourn clothes.

Coches for the charity game will be Mrs. Norma Dakof, student girl; D. C. Link, student boy; E. A. Danke, women faculty; and Harry Kingham, men faculty. Officials stated that everybody must pay to get into the game. Even the players must pay the $1 admission fee. All receipts over expenses will be turned over to the Prince William chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The Rev. R. O. Gurnea, Continued on Page 3

Virginia Wins Corn War Second Year

Virginia again last year won the corn war with North Carolina.

Virginia's yield was 49 bushels per acre up 4.4 percent over the official base for the contest (1940-49) and North Carolina's was 33 bushels per acre—an increase of 4.8 percent.

But Virginia corn growers will have to take their hats off to the Tar Heels in evening up the actual bushel-per-acre increase this year. Both states gained two bushels per acre. North Carolina has a much larger acreage of corn than Virginia.

A percentage basis was used this year in determining the corn war winner. Last year's contest was based on actual bushel-per-acre increase.

Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of The Southern Planter, Richmond, and chairman of the Virginia corn war committee, commenting on the outcome of this year's contest, said in effect, "this is a war where nobody loses."

He emphasized that Virginia again had led the nation in rate of increase in corn yield over the 10-year period, 1939-49. North Carolina is second. "This record reflects the stimulating effect on scientific corn production of the corn war in these two states," he said.

Behind Virginia's record are some interesting stories. For instance, in Gloucester County, a woman topped the corn growers—the first of her sex to lead a county list since the 100-bushel corn club got underway. Miss Jane Saunders, the young owner of "Tuckahoe Point," obtained a yield of 149.14 bushels per acre.

Another unusual feature of this year's corn program was—455 a bushel corn. That's what the "champion" bushel brought at the 100-bushel-per-acre corn club banquet in Roanoke county recently.

County Representatives Hear Report of Planning Officials

Thirteen men from Prince William County attended a meeting of the Northern Virginia Regional Planning and Economic Development Commission in Fairfax Tuesday evening and were assured that their views will be considered along with those of other Northern Virginia area representatives in the Federal Government's dispersal program.

The group, composed of representatives from Alexandria and Falls Church and Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William and Loudoun Counties, went on record as favoring consultation with Virginia areas to determine their views on dispersal and presentation of these views to proper Government authorities for consideration in whatever dispersal programs develop.

Government Negotiates To Buy Woodbridge Farm for Station

Dog Escapes After Officer Fires 5 Shots

"When a policeman can't even kill a dog with a gun you ought to get rid of him and start over," according to Councilman Roy Doggett.

Last week Howard Luck heard reports that his hound dog had been nipping at the heels of neighbors and decided on what he felt to be the best course. He would have the dog done away with and thus prevent any future bitings.

Luck notified Town Manager Ritter who sent out a truck and six men to pick up the dog. After scrambling around Luck's yard, the men managed to get the dog and get him into the truck, the biggest the Town had, Doggett said.

The dog was hauled to the power plant where a policeman was called to perform the canine execution. The officer arrived, drew his revolver, aimed at the dog, and was ready to fire when the dog began to advance, wagging his tail. Flustered, the law officer fired rapidly, once... twice... five times altogether, Doggett said. By then the dog was retreating out the door, bleeding slightly.

The dog made for home and the six Town street laborers got into the Town's biggest truck and went after the wounded mutt again. What happened next is unknown. Doggett thinks the cop finally killed the dog. Luck only knows that he doesn't have the dog any longer, and police officer James Tymam stated that "he doesn't know anything about it." Doggett declares the policeman admitted later that he was "afraid" when the dog began to advance.

Doggett related the incident as asserting that the present police force is inefficient. "One officer told me that he would resign soon unless a fourth police officer were added to the force," Doggett declared, and added, "we would be better off if they all resigned. Then we could start over."

In the meantime, Ritter has called a special meeting of Town Council for next Wednesday night to consider the matter of a fourth policeman to replace Sgt. Charles Simms, who resigned December 1.

Air Force Says "No Comment" On Project

Identify of the military construction project underway at Independence Hill still was shrouded in secrecy this week as Air Force public information officers gave a "no comment" to Journal inquiries as to the nature of the work.

A public information officer at Quantico Marine Base told the Journal that the Navy had "given" and for the project to the Air Force. He declined to say how much had been given and added that he could not comment on the project. Officers of the public information office, Air Force section, in the Pentagon replied that they "were tied" and could say nothing about the project. They declined to corroborate the Marine officer's statement that part of the Quantico base had been given to the Air Force.

"We'd like to help you, but we can't say a thing," an Air Force PIO officer declared. "All you can do is draw your own conclusions, and we'd rather you didn't do that."

CWA Charges Intimidation: Asks New Vote

The Communications Workers of America (CWA) this week petitioned the National Labor Relations Board for a new employee election at the Centr-J Mutual Telephone Co.

Local phone workers turned down the union on January 3 in a consent election by a vote of 31 to 23 but CWA officials have charged in the petition to NLRB that employees were "coerced and intimidated" by phone company management.

Following the election, A. V. Atkinson, president of Division 33 of CWA, stated that he was "disappointed" in the election results and that probably an attempt would be made to hold another election after one year, the minimum legal interim, had elapsed.

If NLRB substantiates the charges made by the union, however, the recent election probably will be declared void and another could be ordered immediately.

One Central Mutual officer, in commenting on the new petition said, "Our employees have voiced a majority opposition to unionization by CWA and if a new election is ordered we feel confident that they will defeat the union again."

In the petition Atkinson charged that J. A. Vetter, general manager of Central Mutual, had contrived to learn which of his employees favored union organization and then intimidated them with the loss of their jobs if union support was continued. Pay raises were promised for employees who voted against the union, Atkinson charged.

Deputy Rex Hoskins Resigns To Become Va. State Trooper

Rex F. Hoskins of Gainesville this week resigned as a Prince William County deputy sheriff to become a Virginia State Trooper. He had served here as deputy for 21 months.

Hoskins reported to Richmond Tuesday to begin his new duties. He is at present undergoing probationary training at Ashland, Va., upon completion of which he will enter a school for State Troopers in Richmond. His family will continue to maintain their home at Gainesville until he has completed his training and is assigned to duty somewhere in the State. "We plan to join him after that," Mrs. Hoskins told the Journal this week.

In a letter of resignation to Prince William County Sheriff John P. Kerlin, Hoskins stated that his resignation was tendered "with deepest regret" and that "it has been a great pleasure to have been able to work for you." "I do not expect to find better co-operation with any department," he added.

Virginia has adopted a new policy for painting highway centerlines. Henceforth, the painted section of a broken centerline will be 15 feet in length, with a 25-foot skip between painted sections. Previously, a 60-foot section was painted with a 60-foot skip.

Osborn Students Receive Driver Education

Betty Harrover, Osbourn High School student, receives pointers on proper driving from Instructor James Lee. Regular classes which teach students to drive are being conducted at Osbourn for the second year. The course, which lasts one semester is fully accredited by the State Board of Education, and consists of 20 hours of classroom instruction and eight hours of actual driving. JESUS MEETS GROWING HOSTILITY

Mark 2:1-12

Golden Text Mark 2:17

First let us see how Jesus met this growing hostility. He did not let evil overcome him but he overcame evil with good. It would seem that Christ would have no enemies but he was hated and despised by many. He warns us today, "woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you, for so did their fathers to the false prophets."

There were two classes of people in those days as there are today. Christ said that is not with me, is against me. We are either on one side or the other. Some try to live for both. It is impossible. Matthew 6:24. "No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other; else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." This could be the class of people that is spoken about in Revelation 3:16—"So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth."

Let us look at verse 3—"And they came unto Him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four." It was faith in Christ and love for their friend that caused these men to do what they did. They did not give up when they were hindered. They were not looking for an excuse. They were looking for Christ. We do not hear in complete faith. They had done all that was required of them. Let us take a lesson from these men. If we, as Christians, had that much love for our unsaved friends, oh, what a different community we would have.

If we are saved it is our duty to tell others. Christ said ye are my witnesses. Let us ask ourselves the question, "What kind of witnesses am I?"

Verse 5—"When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee." It is true today that man's greatest need is cleansing of the heart. Wherever there is a work for God going on there is sure to be opposition. Way did the scribes reason in their hearts that Jesus spoke blasphemies? They were right when they said only God could forgive sins. What they didn't know was that Jesus was God. To show them that He had power to forgive sins he said arise and take up thy bed. He could heal the sick in soul as well as in body. What sweeter words could have been spoken to that man than thy sins be forgiven thee! He had the faith; Christ had the power.

Ephesians 2:8-9—"For by grace ye are saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God; Not of works, lest any man should boast." Faith is a wonderful thing. The Bible tells us that without faith it is impossible to please God. There are two kinds of faith—dead faith and live faith. Dead faith is without works; live faith is with works. When we put it into action. We believe the promises of God and that is what pleases Him. Christ gives us his righteousness for our faith, not self-righteousness.

Verse 12—"And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; in so much that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion." We notice that he immediately obeyed. That is what a sinner does when he puts his faith before them all and they were all amazed and glorified God.

We hear some say that this was a miracle. God still performs miracles. The greatest miracle that He ever performed is when he takes a poor, lost sinner and saves his soul.

Star Games

Chairman of the chapter's basketball committee, said he expects expenses to be low, due to cooperation of local businesses which will donate goods and services to make the benefit game a success. Manassas Ice and Fuel, Manassas Frozen Foods Locker, Prince William Bakery, The Manassas Journal, The Manassas Star, and White Chevrolet have agreed to furnish supplies. Referees from the Northern Virginia Basketball Association have volunteered services for the games. Tickets for the game are available at any of the five high schools from the Rev. M. R. Brown. Seats will be held for persons holding pre-sale tickets until 7:30 p. m. night of the game. The box office admissions will not be opened until after all persons holding advance-sale tickets have ample time to claim a seat.

would employ about 5,000 workers each, it was stated. Although statistics show that there are approximately seven dependents or co-residents for each government worker, local communities would not immediately face a housing shortage if selected as a site for a dispersed agency. Most workers would commute from present residence, but in time about one-half would move nearer the place of their employment.

Representatives at the meeting from this County were: Wheatly M. Johnson, J. Carl Kincheloe, J. Murray Taylor, C. E. Gnad, B. W. Brunt, Lester Huff, Stuart McMichael, Edgar Shinklin, C. C. Cloe, G. P. Manderfield, E. D. Gothe, Wade, and H. L. Mooney.

The Commission will meet again January 25 to hear recommendations of local officials in regard to the dispersal program.

The site must be near a plentiful water supply.

Sewage disposal and light power facilities should be adequate.

Federal dispersal program would require permanent buildings, the top was told. There are at present 40,000 Federal employees in Arlington working in temporary buildings and a dispersal program is being attempted to place these overworkers in permanent offices in the District of Columbia. Present dispersal thinking is in the form of four to 12 buildings which

Nokesville

By MRS. FRED SHEPHERD

The Young Adult Class of the Nokesville Church of the Brethren met in the church basement on Monday night for their regular monthly class meeting. Cleveland Flory was in charge of the devotional period, the theme of which centered around the history and doctrine of the Church of the Brethren. Plans are being made to have a musical program at the District meeting in August, which this year will be held at the Valley Church, Nokesville, Oakton, Manassas, and possibly Midland churches will participate in this program. On the committee to make the arrangements are Mr. and Mrs.

Robert Beahm, Raleigh Nelson, Mary Flory and the Rev. Davis Melley. Hosts for the evening were Kenneth and Ralph Croushorn and Charles Miller.

The January PTA meeting will be held at the school on Thursday evening, January 25, at 7:30 p. m. Representatives from the William E. Miller Music Company will be present with a display of band instruments, which will be demonstrated in hope that more parents will become interested in their children's taking "band."

The women of the churches of our District are planning to observe World Day of Prayer with a service using the theme for this year, "Perfect Love Casts out Fear." Keep this date in mind; more definite plans will be announced next week.

When the District committee for Religious Education met on Monday night for their business meeting, plans were started for a basketball game to be held sometime the latter part of February or the first of March, with the "non-professionals" doing the playing. Be sure to look out for the date because last year the evening was a complete success. The planning committee includes Mrs. Paul Irvin, Mrs. Blake Fleming, Mr. George Jones and Mr. George Sonatrank. We are glad to hear that the Rev. L. W. Griggs, who has been so ill, and was taken to University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville last Thursday, is now improving satisfactorily.

Miss Joyce Moyers was a Wednesday evening dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marang.

Messrs. Miller, S. G. and Fred Whetzel and Mrs. Florence Kaiser went to Harrisonburg on Sunday to visit Mr. Van Whetzel who has been very ill. Mrs. Kaiser will stay with her brother for several weeks to help take care of him.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. David Kerlin enjoyed "dinner out" in Washington on Sunday honoring Virginia's birthday, which was that day.

Little Carl Hopkins celebrated his fifth birthday on Saturday by having his first birthday party. Those who attended and really enjoyed the afternoon were Bobby and Ann Kidd, Tootie Payne, Mary Anna Nickolson, Leland Flory, Margaret Croushorn, Henry Moltby and Carl's little sister, Jeanie.

Little Miss Betty Lou Gray suffered an attack of appendicitis and was taken to Physicians Hospital in Warrenton last week, but returned without an operation.

Messrs. Robert and Early Beahm helped their brother and family, the Ralph Beahms, move into their new home last Friday. The Beahms built their new home on their land near their old house, just across the road from the school in Oakton.

Marshall Cook and his nephew, Lester Scott, both of whom are well-known here, are now stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Little Lynn Wood Hale has been quite sick, but seems to be much better now.

Mrs. Carey Crammond and the twins from Spotylvania are spending this week with the Teniseses.

Mrs. S. D. Somers has been ill, but is reported to be improving.

The Nokesville WSCS met at the N. N. Free home last Monday night. Mrs. Walter Tolson presided in the absence of Mrs. Ellen Frew, who had gone to be with her daughter who is ill. The ladies decided to sell vanilla in order to get a coffee urn, which will come in so handy in the new kitchen which is being planned as part of the building project of the church. All the ladies also decided to save silverware coupons to buy silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sonatrank and family entertained the Faithful Climbers at their home on Tuesday night. The class decided to give one-half of the price of a large table for the recreational activities of the young people of the church.

The project committee of the class is to make plans for an auction at the next class meeting when each family is asked to bring an article for sale. David Kerlin led in the devotional thinking, in the absence of the devotional chairman for the evening, Eugene Flory.

Value Your Health More Than Riches

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine, big houses are the most important things in life, but these things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but Mrs. Lucy Braswell, of Route 2, Stone Mountain, Ga., realizes it very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL, and by taking HADACOL she found she is helping her system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Nicotin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 59 years old."

the- PARTY LINE

By "Osborn Ollie"

The Osborn High School Senior Dramatics Club is preparing three promising comedies for presentation in the near future. These plays will be presented later here and at Haymarket.

Due to the fact that there are so many students interested in dramatics, they have divided the club into two groups, Senior and Junior Dramatics.

The Osborn High School Band will hold its annual band concert on Friday, February 16, at 8:30
p. m. in the High School Auditorium. Admission 30c and 60c.
Come one, come all and help support the School band.

The band has improved greatly since it has been under the direction of Mr. Lee. The Band took many honors this year. They took first place prize at the Warrenton Fireman Parade. The band played at the football games and they also led the Homecoming Parade on October 27, 1950.

On Saturday night, January 13, a group of boys and girls spent a most enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner, of Annandale. Mrs. Margaret Turner is Helen White's sister. The group played records and danced. Refreshments were served. Helen White, Senia Gough, Mary Lou Trimmer, Phillis Eredren, P. L. S.

Barron, Widdie Merchant, Charles Rector, Gene Wolfe Barrett, Junior Lawler, and Max McClendon were those who went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turner.

Culpeper High School team outscored Osborn's team Friday night at the Manassas Gymnasium by a score of 42-31. This was our team's fifth straight loss. Culpeper may have out-scored Osborn's Yellow Jackets but the team out-played them. The score was very close up until the last quarter when Culpeper took possession of the ball and soon brought victory to them.

The Junior Varsity played the Culpeper Junior Varsity on Friday night. The J. V. team was defeated by score of 20-9. The score at the end of the first half was 1-5 in favor of Culpeper. There were just a few points made during the first half but the team played a hard game. Those seen in action were Billy Springs, Dante and Hal Papa, Tommy Lightner, Brice Corder, Paul Royer, Bobby Hall, Donald Kline, Jack Cross, and Bobby Reid.

Miss Mary Lou Trimmer is now at home and is getting along fine, after having her tonsils and aden-oids removed on Monday, January 15, at Warrenton Hospital. We hope to see her back in school very soon.

The Elizabeth McIntosh Hamill Chapter, DAR, met at the home of Mrs. A. A. Hooff on Tuesday, January 9, with Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan, state regent, as guest of honor. Mrs. Duncan, who is from Alexandria, spoke on the value of having informed membership in the organization and the need of women to take an active part in the community life, especially in voting.

"We do not want to lose our heritage through apathy," she said.

Services Are Held For Kate Taliaferro Aylor

Funeral services for Kate Taliaferro Aylor, 82, were held Sunday, January 14, at Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, with the Rev. E. Guthrie Brown, Rector, officiating. Interment was in Manassas Cemetery.

Mrs. Aylor died Friday morning, January 12, 1951, at her home at Milford near Bristow, Va., where she resided since 1919. She would have been 83 years old next April. She was born on a farm in Madison County, Va., near Madison Mills.

Her father was the late Fitzhugh Taliaferro, whose step-mother was City Bell Madison, a sister of President James Madison, and Mrs. Taliaferro was born Sarah Frances Madison.

She married the late Walter C. Aylor in 1892 and resided at Madison Mills until 1912, when the family moved to Culpeper, Va. In 1919 her husband purchased the Milford Mills property, and she had lived in the manor house since that time.

Mrs. Aylor is survived by two sons, Walter Ellis and William Taliaferro, both of Washington, D. C.; a foster son, James A. Keys, who lived with her at Milford for the past 25 years; and three grandchildren, Barbara, John, and Stephen Aylor.

Palbearers were Messrs. W. Hill Brown, Jr., Eugene Davis, Elmer Hurst, W. E. Trusler, James A. Keys, and Dr. V. V. Gillum.

It is estimated that one out of every nine cows in the United States is being bred by artificial insemination.

Each week some team loses another member to the armed forces, either through conscription or voluntarily.

Hardest hit thus far have been Ocoquan and Manassas Legion. Page Thompson and Jacob Koedeker have left Ocoquan for the Army and Richard Eliza and Willis R. Tobin have left the veterans' sponsored Manassas team for military duty. Nokesville Eddie Campbell was lost to the Army on December 20.

Although statistics show that more automobile accidents happen in summer than in winter, not all automobile accidents occur on the road. Every now and then one occurs in the garage and the average motorist should be careful when tinkering with his car during the cold weather.

Many a profane outburst is heard each season from the motorist who hasn't yet mastered the art of putting on skid chains without scraping his knuckles or sending his blood pressure to a new high for the year. This same person also finds that when his hands are cold, his fingers lack the agility they have in warmer weather. As a consequence, he has to watch out or he'll let a wrench or pliers slip and he winds up with a nasty little gash.

It's always a good idea to be just a little extra careful whenever you're working with tools; but it's even more advisable to be so when your hands are cold and your fingers get a bit on the stiff side. That's when it becomes easy to slip up and when those annoying little accidents take place.

If these winter days you do get a cut or scratch when working around the car, don't neglect it. Cleanse the wound thoroughly and cover it with one of those ready-to-use adhesive bandages with the gauze pad already affixed to the adhesive tape.

It's surprising how easily an untreated cut or scratch can become infected and cause some real trouble.

When food prices go up, pork usually rises as fast. It is especially true if one's yard of living does not rise along with food prices, and the average family budget allow but very little beef or pork to be bought. There are several reasons why the above statement is true and also some very interesting facts about swine production which may not be generally known.

Pigs excel all other farm animals in the economy with which they are able to convert feed into edible flesh. When fed efficient rations, meaning well-balanced rations of good feeds, pigs marketed at the usual market weights frequently require less than 400 lbs. of concentrate each 100 lbs. of gain. In comparison, fattening calves and lambs require 800 lbs. or more, even when fed excellent rations. Pigs have a greater capacity to consume feeds in comparison to their live weights than do calves and lambs. Because of this and also because of their greater utilization of feed they make faster gains in comparison to their live weights than do calves and lambs. From weaning to selling time pigs will make an average daily gain of 1.0 lb. This is twice the rate of gain in the case of calves and three times as great as is the case of lambs.

In addition to the facts stated above, pigs also have a greater dressing percentage than do cattle and sheep. Dressed packer style a good pig will dress from 65 to 80 percent its live weight. Cattle dress only 50 to 60 percent and even less than cattle.

Pork contains more energy-rich nutrients than does beef, although beef is much richer in protein than pork. For this reason one can stay warm and reasonably healthy by eating almost altogether a pork diet as far as one's meat diet goes, and do this much more cheaply than would be possible with beef.

Further important merits of swine is the fact that they require only a small outlay as far as housing and equipment goes and can very efficiently utilize a great many by-products such as kitchen waste, etc. For this reason alone it would be good farm management for farmers to raise at least their own pork supply on their own farm.

The dry period for dairy cows has three main purposes, namely: (1) the rest and recuperative effect upon the secreting tissue of the mammary gland; (2) the development of the fetus; and (3) the building up of body reserve for the next lactation period. The latter two purposes determine the need of feed. To date there is much yet to be determined on the requirements during this period. The body reserves are made up largely of fat and mineral matter and contain only small amounts of protein. The phase of vitamin storage has received some consideration in more recent years.

Proper feeding during the dry period is necessary to get the cow in condition to calve easily, to develop the udder without too great an amount of congestion and to have the cow ready for producing large quantities of milk with a more persistent lactation.

Liberal feeding of legume or hay and silage for winter and liberal pasture for summer should be the basis for feeding the dry cow, just the same as it is for feeding producing cows. The dry barn, well straw stacks, corn stover and low grade hay are out for economical or even fair handling of the dry cow.

Good quality legume hay or pasture furnish protein, energy, carotene and vitamin D. The latter is especially necessary here for rebuilding the reserves of calcium and phosphorus.

Some concentrate feeding is desirable in addition to roughage or pasture. A range of 3 to 6 pounds daily may be used as a guide. The condition of the cow, her size, the length of the fitting period, and whether or not the feeder is pushing for a forced record, all must be considered in determining the amount of feed. Oh yes, the cost of feed and the price of milk will be the final factor as to whether to feed any concentrates and if so, how much.

The freshening mixture will not need to contain over 12 percent total protein if at least half of the roughage is legume. Under most conditions it is best to recommend an addition of one percent salt and one percent minerals, such as steamed bone meal or other calcium and phosphorus bearing minerals. When the roughage feeding may be variable the same recommendation is to include some of the conditioning feeds. The ones which we consider as having a high physiological value, that is, will be laxative, have toning up effect, will increase the quality of the hide and hair and seem to have a softening and relaxing effect on the muscles at time of calving. Also, these types of feeds tend to keep the udder more pliable and keep down the amount of congestion. The feeds in this group are more usually used are ground oats, wheat bran, linseed oil meal, molasses and beet pulp. Two or three of these can well be used in the mixture.

Heavy feeding during the dry period followed by a lowering of the feed just before and after calving may have a bearing on the incidence of acetonemia. Cows that are in very high condition and have large congested udders are often fed very sparingly of concentrates following parturition. Such cows that come into heavy milk production will quickly begin pulling fatty reserves from their body stores. At this point it appears that the blood stream is flooded with the mobilized fat and out of the normal ratio of blood fat to blood sugar. Incomplete oxidation of the fats will cause an excess of ketone bodies and cause ketosis or acetonemia.

A leveling out of grain feeding over the dry period and without having to drop the amount of feed too drastically may aid in reducing the number of cases of acetonemia in a herd.

Strong Nokesville, Warrenton Teams Lead Southern Division; Legion Meets Hawks Saturday

Nokesville boys and Warrenton girls still lead the Southern Division of the NVBL as league play nears the halfway mark. Both leaders have records of 7 wins and one loss.

The first half of the season ends this Saturday night with the Legion playing the Hawks and Gainesville pitted at Occoquan. League play will resume on January 29. In the interim two games postponed in December must be made up. N. dates yet have been set for games with Nokesville vs. the Hawks and Occoquan vs. Gainesville.

Highlighting halftime in League play will be the All-Star game to be played in Leesburg next Tuesday, January 23. Each team will send outstanding players to compose Northern and Southern divisions for the game which will benefit the March of Dimes.

Locally, everybody is waiting for the Legion-Hawks game this Saturday night. In an earlier encounter between these intra-town rivals, the Hawks took the measure of the Legion by scores of 27-19 in the girls game and 47-27 in the boys test. On paper it looks as though the Hawks should turn the trick again, except for one salient fact: The Legion beat Nokesville, something nobody else has been able to do this year.

The Hawks girls appear to be too strong for the Legion lasses and were responsible for the single defeat of Warrenton this year. That was the first time the Warrenton girls have been beaten in two years.

In the Northern Division, Upper-Middleburg is leading the boys' standings with a record of six victories and one defeat. Middleburg girls are running off the laurels up north after eight straight wins.

—RESULTS OF LAST WEEK—

HOME MAKERS ITEMS

Cut thin strips of potatoes. Brown slightly in hot fat. Press them in muffin tins and bake until done. Fill them with vegetable mix, creamed chicken—or anything you like.

Cut grapefruit in half. Remove every other section. Fill empty sections with strawberries or other fruits.

Four lemon juices over bananas. Roll in toasted coconut. Toast in moderate oven. Use as salad, or cut in fourths as a garnish.

Use a shoe bag for storage of cleaning supplies. Bottles of cleaning polishes and materials will be easy to find and use.

A shoe bag hung in some inconspicuous spot in the kitchen can be used to hold thread, paper bags and many other odds and ends which clutter up drawers. For ease of care, use a plastic bag.

The French cook knife is the granddaddy of kitchen cutlery. It is the largest and heaviest knife you'll use. The length varies from eight to fourteen inches. The blade may be either straight or pointed. Once you've caught the knack of the French cook knife, you'll find it cuts chopping time in half. You'll use it for dicing, too, as well as for straight cutting.

29. Portions of Secondary Routes 681, 619, and 642. Temporary signs have been erected to mark the posted sections.

Rappahannock County

Secondary Route 642 from Route

211 to Route 640.

Secondary Route 707 from 231 to the Culpeper County line.

The restrictions were imposed in an effort to prevent the roads from breaking up in the wake of the current thaw which followed a deep freeze in the ground.

When the road base is softened following a thaw, heavy loads cause serious damage on light duty roads, highway engineers explained.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY:

On January 8 the Communications Workers of America (CIO) filed a petition with the National Labor Relations Board in which was made a request that the recent election held among employees of the Central Mutual Telephone Company be set aside and a new election ordered.

In commenting on this action, Mr. A. V. Atkinson, President of Virginia Division 33, CWA-CIO said, "the tactics used by the company in threatening and coercing its employees to vote against the union were reminiscent of the alleged 'free election' recently held by the Communists in East Germany. We feel certain that the good citizens of the Manassas area, as well as the citizens everywhere in this great country of ours, will rebel against dictatorship in any and all of its evil and vile forms and manifestations. Bitter battles were waged against the foe of tyranny in order to establish individual freedoms and rights under a democratic form of government. These liberties were set forth in the Declaration of Independence and in the Constitution of the United States of America. The statutory rights of the employees of the Central Mutual Telephone Company guarantee them a 'free' choice in an NLRB election—completely free from the threats of reprisals, intimidation and coercion by a ruthless and insensate corporation."

The employees are only asking that "true democracy prevail where direction reigns."

In the petition it was charged that the general manager of the Company, through a system of interrogation of employees, observation of union organizational meetings and union activities sought to determine the names of the leaders of union movement among the employees and the names of the employees who had joined the union. On the basis of information obtained, this official, by personal conference with employees suspected of union allegiance and activity, sought to coerce such employees by threats of job loss and by threats that if the union succeeded in the election the employees would be the losers because the Company never intended to agree with the union on anything.

During some of these personal conferences some employees were told that a wage increase had been planned for them, but that it would not become effective if they joined the union or voted for the union in the election.

Mr. Atkinson said, "these are just a few of the insidious and deceptive methods resorted to by the Company in denying telephone workers their democratic rights as good citizens in their community."
