Dog Patients Need

Proper Nurishment

Whether it's undergoing major surgery or just a "shot" for dis-temper, your dog will do better if it has been well nourished all along. This does not mean being plump-ed up with a high-calorie diet that lays on fat, the Amer.can Veterin-ary Medical Association hastens to point out. The right kind of ration is one that provides a proper bal-ance of all elements a dog meds, in servings adequate to support

JESUS Mark 10:35-45 n Text: Whosoever it among you, shall lister.-Mark 10:43. will b Golder be you

"And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him saying Master, we would that thou shouldast do for us whatsoever we shall leaire. And he said unto them desire. And he said unto them what would ye that I should do for you? They said unto Him Grant us that we may sit, one on-thy fight hand, and the other on thy left hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. What would seem that they had a right to ask Jesus a f yor. They were His followers. They were only try-ing to advance. We admire people today they are promoted in life. Jeans, are them the real answer. oday : they are primited in life. Jasus ave them the real answer. which he said unto them. "Ye had not learned the difference between he earthly kingdom and a heavenly theader. om." They were thinking c instead of Jesus and c'hers had not learned in the three they had followid Jesus, tha his Kingdom was not the kind that but self first, and that they mus subjected to a higher power. Oh what a difference between the two kingdoms: one seeks to be served and the other seeks to serve others. As we follow Jesus in his mi He was the greatest giver of all time. He was giving at every op-pertunity that he had. Jesus' life pertunity that he had, Jesus' life was alife of giving. He had no momey nor 1 nd; his giving vas of self; His whole life was lived for others. He not only lived for others but He died for others. His life was not taken He gave it freely. "Lat us take a look at 1951 and see if times have changed with the aver ge professed follower of Christ. Our greatest enemy today is self. If is true whether we will admit it of not.

Even at our very best, if we are not careful in our prayers, we find ourselves telling God what we wan: to do for Him and asking him to help, instead of seking him what will you have me to do? When we pray thy will be done not mine they self has been put second and Ghrist first. When we pray in His will first. When we pray in His will our prayers are sure to be answered. Some may ask when did the dis-piples learn the real me ning of the www.yof life? It was not until new wav of life? It was not untar-about fifty days after Jesus had been crucified and had ascended up on high. He sent the Holy Spirit and that was when the Holy Christ on the inside. That was when they knew for sure that Jesus' Kingdom was not of this world

As we think about James and John, can we point our finger of As we think about James and John, can we point our finger at them and say, "Just look at us, see what a big improvement we have made?" No. I am afraid we will be quiet gn that subject. Verse 41. "And when the ren heard it, they began to be much displessed with J mes and John." We see it vas wrene for James and John to want brdsbip over c'hers, and it was also wrong for the ten to condemn them for wanting high places in the diagdom. It is always better to care the matter of nosition, wheth-r shove or below other servents of her Lord, to Him who knows where best e.ch one will fit into His prothe Lord. to Him who knows where best e.ch one will fit into His pro-ram. We find it true in our churches today that some do not want to do any'hing neither do they want enyone else do anything. The definite places of service in the kingdom will be given by divine wisdom to those whom God sees are fitted for those places. It is so in the body of Christ. "But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it h th pleased hum." I Cer. 12:18. The thing for each follower of Christ to do is to be faithful in his service for Christ and to leave to the Lord to arrange for the positions. True greatness consists of being a "servent" to any and all the are in need. "The lesson closes with this verze. "For even the Son of man c me not to be ministered unto, but to
