According to Worth Storker, clerk, the jury commission yesterday selected local sitting yesterday selected local sitting on the April panel. It revealed that in a question sent to 44 women, 28 expressed willingness to serve while 15 replied "no." A woman is entitled the right to refuse to serve jury if she wishes.

Interesting sidelights were revealed in connection with the shooting of movies this week. Wednesday morning Charlie Hesse, genial hotel man, had a call for 10 gallons of hot coffee. And the order for the movie was filled in jig time. "I heard one of the chauffeurs 'Just saw a suit, an exact copy of one I planned to buy in Washington, only $15 lower in price." Wonder if he bought it? Youngsters busy getting automobiles from the celebrities. Anyone talking about the excitement that had come to Manassas, the courthouse, the young lady in the Health Department parking at first I thought you were from Paramount... there's so many in here. Thanks for the compliment! Town manager Ritter enjoying luncheon the guest of the movie group. All curious to see what goes and why not, so were we.

Seen and Heard: Mr. Lyon did a swell job of cleaning his shoes at the Bouquet Mart. Hesse talking basketball. Kinchee sporting a bit of a day only 4 days gone. Mrs. Francis Kessel ending lunch. Local police on lookout for two prisoners who escaped yesterday from the state camp in Fairfax, and reported headed this way. Dr. George wishing for warmer weather completion of his store front.

Learned that one of Manassas' oldest colored citizens, Henry Cannon, died at his home in Luckles last week at the age of 91. He was a native of Manassas, although he had spent several years in New York and other parts of the country. Preacher P. Cannon conducted the funeral service here Saturday.

Cannon may be the town's oldest contractor and builder, but his friends say he is 90 years old. He has been in the building business for 50 years. He has 1000 residences and commercial buildings, including two hotels. He is still going strong.

Manassas 'Goes Hollywood' As Movie Scenes Are Shot

Local Ball Club Getting Ready For '51

Plans for baseball in Manassas this season were formulated at an organization of players and interested fans here Monday night. Last year Manassas had two ball clubs but with the Red Sox apparently out of the picture, it looks as if the Manassas "Macs" will be town's entry in the diamond sport.

"The Macs" at their meeting Monday elected, subject to acceptance, the following officers: President, Bill Saylor; vice-president, John Parrish; secretary-treasurer, Turner Wheeling; field manager, Kite Roseberry; business manager, Stuart Vetter; publicity manager, Buddy Merchant.

The advisability of entering two leagues this season was discussed. Maurice Smith and Kite Roseberry were named as a committee to attend a meeting of the newly organized "night" league. So it is possible that the "Macs" might enter the new night-time circuit as well as the Northern Virginia League. Among the teams entered in new circuit are Culpeper, Madison and Orange.

About fifteen attended the organization meeting. Walter Disrow, former star sandlot player and manager in the Alexandria area, offered his assistance in helping the team.

Although no definite date has been set for practice, it is expected to start in the very near future. Former players with local Red Sox, it is understood, will join up with the Triangle Red Sox.

At the moment, it looks as if the "Macs" will have a strong hitting and fielding team but are weak in pitching and behind the plate.

Recreation Ass'n Will Hold Annual Meeting

The Manassas Recreation Association will hold its annual meeting March 28 at 8 p. m. at Trinity Parish Hall. Members and friends are urged to attend. On the agenda are election of officers and board members, and report on activities and plans.

Miss Marian Preece, district representative of the National Recreation Association, will give her valuation of the past year's program and suggestions for the future.

New School Budget Before Supervisors

The Board of Supervisors received from the County School Board today a request for the allocation, out of current tax revenues during the next fiscal year, of $97,000, as capital outlay to provide for a stop-gap school construction program, to alleviate unbearable conditions now existing in county schools.

This amount would be supplemented by $268,950, available from the State "Battle" fund, making a total of $365,950, and would be expended as follows: Ocoquan Elementary School, addition of six classrooms and cafeteria, estimated cost $150,000; Bennett Elementary, six classrooms, cafeteria addition, shop, estimated cost $190,000; Nokesville School, new agriculture shop and converting present shop into three classrooms, estimated cost $25,000.

On the basis of estimated County assessment to $19,500,000 for next year, the allocation of $97,000 would probably mean a special school construction levy of 50c per $100 of assessed valuation. Present

Baptists Engage In 'Fixing' Bee

"Where there's a will, there's a way" . . . as several members of the Manassas Baptist Church are finding out this week.

Sore muscles, lame backs and a few smashed fingers are no deterrent to the enthusiasm with which they have attacked the job of fixing up the unfinished third floor of the church's educational building.

More room was needed for education facilities, so a number volunteered and set to work with hammer and saw to put the third floor in shape. The ladies also cooperated by preparing supper for the workers and refreshments afterwards.

Baptists To Hold Revival For 2 Weeks

Simultaneously with 34 churches in Northern Virginia, the Baptist churches of Prince William county will hold a two-week revival.

These evangelistic services held in cooperation with the entire Southern Baptist Conference, east of the Mississippi, are expected to attract thousands.

Rev. John D. Edens, pastor, will conduct the revival at the Manassas Baptist Church, which will begin Easter Sunday and continue through Sunday, April 8th. Services will be held each evening at 7 o'clock.

At Woodbine Baptist Church, Manassas, of which Rev. C. W. Dick is pastor, the visiting evangelist will be Rev. R. E. Blackstone, of Ontario, Canada.

At Haymarket, the Rev. T. E. Boorde, pastor, the evangelist will be Rev. Robert L. Allen, of Washington.

At Triangle, the Rev. Herbert Keam, pastor, the evangelists will be Rev. V. T. Glass, Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Ben S. Price, Purcellville, Va.

ENLIST IN GUARD

Two new enlistees were sworn into the 17th AAA Operations Detachment, Virginia National Guard Unit, at the army here Monday night, it was announced today by Sgt. Ernest S. Brown, caretaker of the local unit. The men were Melvin Henry Slusher, Manassas, and Donald H. Clarke, Alexandria. Capt. W. F. Hale administered the oath.

The "click" of movie cameras and the bustle of activity, that goes with handling and setting up equipment necessary to shoot a movie, has Hollywood taking over Manassas this week.

Famous screen stars, directors, technicians and a gang of experienced laborers, etc., descended on this quiet community early Wednesday morning as Paramount Pictures prepared to use local background for scenes in the movie film, "My Son John."

As the Journal goes to press the town was still agog over the movie colony, which had invaded the community and intended to complete "shooting" today.

Charles Woolstenhume, unit production manager, of Paramount, stated that three sequences were to be filmed here, with most of the "shooting" taking place at the residence of Mrs. W. L. Lloyd on West street.

The production concern: the story of an average American family and their two sons going off to war. Helen Hayes, noted stage star, plays the mother and Dean Jagger, the father. The two sons are Richard Jaeckle and James Young. Leo McCarey, famous for his productions, "Going My Way" and "For When the Bells Toll" is director.

One of the scenes taken at the local Lloyd home, which was chosen because it was typical of an average small town American home, shows the sons in uniform tossing a football in the street, with their father standing in front of the house, all waiting for Mom (Helen Hayes) to come out of the house and join them, as the boys set off for Korea.

Another scene, typically "family," is filmed in the backyard. The last scene to be taken here today will be the Prince William county courthouse, it is understood.

Mr. Woolstenhume, who made arrangements for the scenes here, stated that there are about 70 employees in the movie group. Of these were 44 from Hollywood which were flown to Washington by plane, including the stars, technicians and also equipment.

There were five from New York City and about 15 extras, chosen from among Washington residents. A caravan of limousines, station wagons, buses and big moving vans brought the personnel and equipment here from Washington both mornings.

The company brought its own portable power generator, and even a caterer to prepare and serve luncheon at the Trinity Church parish house.

While the scenes were taken, hundreds lined the area to watch the setting up of cameras, sound truck, etc., and the actual "shooting." It is estimated that several thousand people at one time or other came to see the movie in production. Six local officers were hired at $15 per day to handle the crowds and traffic.

Mr. Woolstenhume spoke highly of the fine cooperation of Town Manager Ritter and other officials in making it possible to film the scenes here. He stated that the picture would probably be ready for release by June.

Southern States To Hold "Open House"

To celebrate the modernization of its display room, the Manassas Southern State Cooperative announces plans for a big "house warming" on Tuesday, April 3, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The large display room has been completely renovated for the better display of farm and home supplies and appliances.

Manager R. L. Byrd, Jr., is extending invitations to all farm people and special guests to attend the gala affair.

Light refreshments will be served throughout the day by a committee composed of Mrs. L. B. Thomas, chairman; Mrs. W. M. Kline, Mrs. Elmer Hurst, Mrs. Walter Sadd, Mrs. Wheatley Johnson, Manassas.

Several door prizes will be awarded, including a 500-lb. bag of feed. Attractive displays will be set up in the sales room. Manager Byrd anticipates a big turnout for the affair.

FRANCIS S. VAN DOREN has announced that he will seek election as supervisor from Coles District.

Van Doren Will Enter Race For Supervisor

Francis S. Van Doren, of Manassas, R.P.D. 2, announced this week that he would be a candidate for supervisor representing the Coles District, subject to the Democratic Primary, August 6.

The present supervisor from Coles District is the Rev. Murray Taylor, who serves as chairman of the Prince William County board of supervisors. Although Mr. Taylor could not be reached today, it is understood that he will seek re-nomination which indicates a two-cornered contest for supervisor in the Coles District.

The new candidate is a farmer and retired government employee. He saw 21 years service with the government, of which five years was with the Board of Examiners, 4th Civil Service District.

Mr. Van Doren has served 10 years as director of the Prince William Rural Electric Cooperative, being one of the original directors. He has also served the REA as secretary-treasurer, and the past year as president of the board of directors.

He is originally from Arlington county, coming to Prince William about 12 years ago. While in Arlington, he was active for 19 years in Boy Scout work. He was also secretary of Independent Hill Fire Department.

Tractor Turns Over, Killing County Farmer

William V. Swartz, 50, a Nokesville farmer, was killed early this morning when a tractor he was operating overturned in a wooded area near his home.

Mr. Swartz' chest was struck and crushed by the seat of the tractor. He was discovered by his father, P. M. Swartz, Nokesville, and Grover Bailey, Nokesville.

Mr. Swartz had been a resident of the Nokesville community for 36 years. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Bessie Swartz, one brother and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Thursday afternoon.

Red Cross Has Nearly Half Drive Quota

Returns from four of the six districts of the county show that Prince William workers have raised to date a total of $1,386.94, or 42% of this year's goal of $3,300, according to a statement this work from Mrs. Joseph Mills Hanson, fund chairman.

Of the districts reporting, Manassas shows a total of $1,008.19 turned in, or 61% of its $1,650 quota; Brentsville, $178.20, 54% of a $330 quota; Gainesville, $80.06, 21% of its $330 quota; and Ocoquan, $88.50 or 27% of its $330 goal.

The report also includes unallocated contributions totalling $32. Mrs. Hanson said, and stated that prospects for attaining this year's goal are fair, since only about a third of the workers enrolled throughout the county have made returns thus far.

Communications from National Headquarters ask that workers be urged to complete solicitations as soon as possible and to cover areas thoroughly, as this is vital if Red Cross is to serve effectively our armed forces at home and abroad.

Better Pasture Program Off To Good Start

Dr. Grover F. Brown, chairman of the Prince William County pasture committee, called his committee together at the County Agent's office Saturday afternoon to begin work on the pasture improvement program for this year.

Dr. Brown, who is chief agronomist for the Soil Conservation Service gave a brief summary of the pasture improvement program from the national level. A score card for the pasture contest was discussed and it was decided that the following committee members representing the five districts of the county would submit a tentative score card at the next committee meeting from which the county score card will be taken: Manassas District, W. M. Johnson; Brentsville, Philip Reading; Dumfries-Coles, Alan Staples; Gainesville, Gordon Pattle; Ocoquan, E. W. Thompson, Jr.

The pasture committee will hold its next meeting to complete the county score card March 30 at the Brentsville School in Nokesville.

A supper meeting to bring together public and commercial agencies of the county interested in the pasture program will be held at the Stonehall Jackson Hotel on April 2 at 7:30 p.m. Invitations for the dinner have been mailed out.

Lions Annual Music Festival Delights Capacity Audience

The 4th annual Music Festival of the Manassas Lions Club drew a capacity audience at the Osborn High School auditorium Friday evening.

Featuring the National Symphony Orchestra, of Washington, under direction of Dr. Howard Mitchell, which has played on this occasion for the third successive year, proved again a rare musical treat for the community.

To quote Dr. Mitchell . . . "it was the most responsive audience I have appeared before, in Manassas."

Ned Bradford, president of the Lions Club, was highly complimented on the unqualified success of the affair, which proved a complete sell-out and enabled the club to meet the heavy expense incurred in bringing such an outstanding musical organization to a town as small as Manassas.

Many termed the program the most pleasing ever presented here. Every selection was enthusiastically received and applauded.

Patrons from the District Home were guests of the club for the occasion.

As if speaking the feelings of other citizens, one person stated that the Festival in his opinion has become the occasion of the year for Manassas.

PTA Votes Teachers Support; Spokesmen Defend Bell Test

Any breach, if one actually existed, between the teacher and the parent elements of the Manassas PTA appeared to be healed as the result of action taken last Thursday night at the regular meeting of PTA members.

Rightly or wrongly, a considerable segment of the teachers had become sensitive to the linking of the name of the PTA in publicity in recent months, the latest being the criticism against the use of the Bell Inventory Test.

Jack Merchant, vice president of the PTA, offered a resolution "That the PTA make a statement that they will support the teachers, that they appreciate their efforts, as they always have, and that we will continue to support them."

Reverend Fred Edge then offered an amendment to the resolution to include the school administration in the PTA's statement of support. The vote on the amendment brought forth a lusty chorus of "ayes," and only one or two voices were heard when the "noes" were called. The vote was unanimously in favor of the resolution as amended.

Speaks for Teachers. Donald Marang, an 8th grade teacher, apparently summed up the feeling of the majority of teachers, when in the discussion of the pending resolution, he said, "I have been a little upset and that is not caused by the parents or by the students. The break is between teachers and the newspaper that has set itself up as the spokesman for the County. It is the newspaper that has been writing the editorials attacking the school this year. . . . It has upset students, teachers and the public. The editorials are not helping. Let them be sure that when you attack Mr. Peters you are attacking Mr. Marang and the other teachers in the school (much applause) . . . I don't think the children are not disturbed over it. They are. When you say one word against the school or against the people who are over the school you are hitting the authority of it. Teachers in the elementary schools have students who stand up and tell them what they will do and what they will not do. Where do they get this? It is coming from home. . . . Always belittling teachers or attacking them does not help at all. . . . I would like to see more parents come into my classroom."

Asks More Cooperation. In making a plea for more cooperation between parents and teachers, Mr. Marang further said, "Before writing the editorial, if the writer had thought it over, come in and talked to the school authorities, all this confusion could have been avoided. I gave the test; I studied about the test when I was in college. It is classed as one of the greatest and best psychological tests ever put out. Wait a while and try to learn something about it before you speak."

Peters Heard. The battle of words over the use of the Bell Inventory Test apparently having reached a stalemate, those parents who have objected to the test receiving grim satisfaction from the statement to the group, by R. Worth Peters, County Superintendent. He said, "Under the conditions of the murky atmosphere in which the test was born, no results would have any benefit. Any results were destroyed when the test was attacked before the facts were ascertained. The results have not been interpreted, nor will they be interpreted."

Those who have not objected to the use of the test received satisfaction from Mr. Peters' further statement, "The test is a perfectly defensible instrument of education. No one has questioned the authenticity or the propriety of its purpose. Properly used and properly interpreted it may have great benefit for some children. . . . The test is not an instrument for the teachers, for a teacher or a school to pry into the facts of the child's home life. Those facts come before them in full measure. We are interested in how children feel about what may be facts or may be imagination." Mr. Peters concluded his statement, "I hope this question of the tests is closed. I invite anyone of you who is interested in any test to come to the school, to any teacher, and seek information before coming to any final or abortive conclusion."

Osborn Resolution. Further business conducted, included the appointment of a committee composed of Colonel E. L. Rice, Jack Merchant and Stanley Owens, to draft suitable memorial resolutions upon the passing of Miss Eugenia Osborn.

New By-Laws. A new set of by-laws, in accordance with the policies and organization of the national and state chapters of Parents and Teachers, will be considered for adoption at the April meeting. Mrs. Marie Barrett, Mrs. Clyde Tipton and John Champion were elected as a nominating committee, to present nominations for the election of officers slated for the April meeting.

Editor's Note: The following editorial has been contributed by one closely associated with the schools for many years and a close friend of the late Miss Eugenia Osbourn.

Miss Osbourn's Contribution

The pause from daily tasks which occurs at the passing of a member of a community gives an opportunity to see one's life work in greater clarity than is possible while one is among us. So in small degree, may we measure the contribution that Miss Eugenia H. Osbourn has made to the cause of education in this area.

Trained in the field of art rather than education, Miss Eugenia came here more than sixty years ago, and shortly thereafter with her sister, a truly great teacher, started the Manassas Institute, a college preparatory school, designed to offer excellent limited training to a small group of students who were especially interested.

Few people now here realize what kind of a community Manassas and the surrounding country then was. Slowly recovering from the destruction of the War Between the States in which it had been a battleground, a small raw town was growing up in a farming section, trying with no capital or labor to wrest a living from a poor soil. In this background, the Manassas Institute gave an educational opportunity, limited in scope, but of such quality that it became one of the first accredited preparatory schools south of Washington.

Slowly the town grew, economic conditions improved and the heaven from the Institute spread throughout the community until in the first decade of this century, in connection with the 'educational revival' throughout Virginia, a real public high school was established at Manassas with Mrs. Fannie Osbourn Metz and Miss Eugenia Osbourn as principals. Growing with the school and grasping the larger opportunities for public education, but without sacrificing the standards of quality on which they had soundly built, the Manassas High School built up an enviable reputation on the records of its graduates, and at the same time never lost the chance to broaden its curriculum to offer service to more students.

Through the years, the influence of Miss Eugenia Osbourn on the school and the community showed the way to a realization of the true value of education, not primarily as a means of economic advantage but as opening the door to a larger life through appreciation of the beauty of the simple things around us.

Now, at this Easter season, we sorrow not at her passing, but are humbly thankful that her influence will live on in keeping alive here, in the lives that she has helped shape, a little spark of that knowledge of the "truth by which the nations live."

IT'S TIME
WE GOT

Working MAD!

AMERICA'S greatest need today is for greater productivity—first, so that our defense needs can be speedily met, second, to provide enough essential civilian goods to hold down inflation.

Electric power is the very lifeblood of production, and thanks to sound business management, no transfusions are needed—there is now, and there will be for constantly growing needs—power a-plenty.

VEPCO, along with the nation's other business-managed, tax-paying electric light and power companies, stands ready to supply all the power needed for better productivity all along the line... not just in making guns, tanks and planes, but in turning out civilian goods, too.

America is called on for another miracle of production. We have the business know-how. We have the spirit. We have the electric power. No country on earth can beat that combination!

Man Consumes Barrel Of BAKING SODA

One man told us he took baking soda for years. Claims he has used over a barrel of it for stomach gas, but got only temporary relief.

Recently he quit the soda habit and took CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is bringing REAL, lasting relief to many Manassas gas victims because it is taken BEFORE (not after) meals and thus works with your food. It helps digest your meals faster, so your food doesn't lay there and ferment. Besides relieving gas, CERTA-VIN also contains herbs with Vitamin B-1 and Iron, to enrich your blood and make your nerves stronger.

Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN—Coke's Pharmacy.

Don't stall this Spring...

get new ANTI-STALLING ESSO EXTRA GASOLINE

Here's an entirely new type gasoline especially made to combat cold-engine stalling in cool, damp weather. Try a tankful today, and forget about cold-engine stalling headaches. It's especially good in cars with automatic transmissions.

A REAL EXTRA VALUE

New Anti-Stalling Ezzo Extra is the result of continuing Ezzo Research to give you "something more" at the Ezzo Sign. It was road-tested for five months before a single gallon was sold! Now you can enjoy Ezzo Extra's smooth, anti-stalling power without spending a penny more than for other premium gasolines.

Detroit's Automotive Engineers...

say that cold-engine stalling has been a persistent problem for years. Under certain conditions, powerful gasolines required for today's high-compression engines evaporate and freeze moisture out of the air, "icing up" the carburetor and causing temporary stalling. This stalling is practically eliminated by the new Ezzo Extra Gasoline. (No gasoline, of course, can correct stalling caused by mechanical faults or electrical failure.)

Extra Value in that Spring Oil Change

OUT with old, Winter-worn oil. IN with fresh, Spring-grade Ezzo Extra Motor Oil — for more miles per quart, peak performance, real engine protection for that hard, hot weather driving ahead!

GUARD friction spots with wear-protecting Ezzo Lubricants. Up to 9 special grades used for different parts.

SURE starting calls for Atlas Heavy-Duty Batteries, above S.A.E. standards in starting power and battery life.

And there are many more high quality motoring products available at your nearby Ezzo Dealer station.
