

This 'n That

Quite a surprise to most Grant avenue residents was the sudden appearance of the State Highway Department this week with equipment and materials to resurface that thoroughfare. Work got under way immediately and it is expected the job will be completed in a few days.

Imagine Wallace Hook's surprise when he went out to get his automobile early this morning. One side of it was propped up on cinder blocks, two wheels and tires missing. It was his day off and he had planned to take his youngsters to the Washington Zoo. Fortunately, replacements were secured without too much delay, and the kids weren't disappointed.

A big welcome to Jack Terry, of Chatham, Va., who has purchased the Prince William Pharmacy and will take over July 1st. Got quite well acquainted with Jack, when we ran the Chatham newspaper. He's a hustler and a mighty swell guy.

Howard Churchill tried to get an ad in this issue about his booth at the Legion Exposition. But we had to say "sorry, no room." Howard plans to show free movies, including a new reel of Manassas folk. Our rate for this column comes high, Howard!

Singing Phil is still singing. Though it might be changed to "Sad Sack."

Walter Foster is bragging about his new neon sign that hangs in front of his insurance office. Must agree that it does add a touch of brightness to that end of the town.

Ned Bradford is back from Wisconsin. Wonder if he thought to bring us a sample of that wonderful Wisconsin cheese. No limburger, please!

Wayne Fields, one of the Journal's most valued employees, takes off this week to visit his folks in Oklahoma. Incidentally, this is a delayed honeymoon for Wayne and his bride, who were married a couple of months ago.

Esso News Carries Story On Battlefield

In a pack of northeast Virginia, just below the national capital, is preserved a portion of the battlefield of Bull Run of First Manassas, the first major engagement of the War Between the States, says the July issue of Esso Road News, monthly travel paper. This issue is dedicated to America's heritage. Articles and pictures invite readers to visit places which reflect the nation's history and distinctive scene. Now being distributed by Esso Dealers, the publication also includes a calendar of events and a detour map showing construction on main highways.

Esso Road News goes on to say: A program commemorating the ninety-ninth anniversary of the First Battle of Manassas will be held July 21.

It was atop Henry House Hill that the Confederate retreat was stemmed by General Bee's cry, "There stands Jackson like a stone wall! Rally behind the Virginians!" A handsome equestrian statue of the general astride "Little Sorrel" faces west toward the fields whence came the Federal attack. On this grassy plateau, now rimmed by forest and farms, markers indicate the swaying tide of conflict. And green-numbered arrows enable you to take a self-guided tour of the battlefield, from the preliminary skirmishes leading up to First Manassas until the broken brigade rallied on Jackson's right.

At the foot of Henry House Hill, on the Lee Highway (U.S. 29-211) stands the Old Stone house which served as hospital for both the Blue and the Gray. A short distance to the east remains the old Stone Bridge across Bull Run. On the Confederate left rested on the early morning of July 21, 1861, over 100,000 men, following the Second Manassas.

A large-scale, topographic map near the parking space gives you an over-all picture of the terrain. In the handsome museum, a guide lectures on the course of the fighting as he manipulates colored lights on a big electric map. A diorama shows the battle scene in miniature. The museum contains a host of interesting mementos of the battles such as guns, sabers and rifles typical of the period. Here, too, are the fan, Bible and pocketbook of Judith Carter Henry, first woman casualty of the War Between the States.

Manassas Battlefield Park lies along U.S. 211, about 25 miles northwest of Washington, and is open daily free of charge. Museum hours are from 9:30 to 5 daily.

Roland Seely Hurt in Fall On Crow Bar

Roland Seely, 43, was seriously injured about noon Tuesday when he fell on a crowbar while engaged in well-drilling at Bradley Forest. The bar pierced his abdomen to the depth of about six inches, fortunately missing the vital organs. Mr. Seely was attended by Dr. John P. Ringler and rushed to Arlington Hospital. Dr. Ringler reports that he is in no serious danger.

The injured man is the son of C. H. Seely, of Manassas, well-known well driller in this section.

The accident occurred when supports on the drilling derrick gave away, causing Mr. Seely to be thrown into the air and falling on the crowbar which had been left standing on the ground.

Ray Gibson Will Instruct In Tennis

Raymond Gibson will instruct beginners in tennis, and coach intermediate and advanced players, as part of the Manassas summer recreation program. Courts are available but players must furnish own rackets.

All those interested may contact Mr. Gibson at Gibson Supply Co., or Mr. Rolley, recreation director, phone 377 (day), 316-J (night). Schedules will be arranged to suit the mutual convenience of Mr. Gibson and those wishing to receive instruction or coaching.

Mr. Gibson was the third-ranking doubles tennis player in the Western U. S. He has played with the leading players of the country. One year he was table tennis champion of Detroit. As part of the tennis program, Mr. Gibson is planning to bring to Manassas exhibition matches between advanced players from Washington and elsewhere.

Sedrick Saunders, program chairman, in announcing Mr. Gibson's appointment as tennis director, said: "We here in Manassas are most fortunate to have available the services of the many community volunteers who are making possible our summer recreation program. We are particularly fortunate that a tennis expert of Ray Gibson's calibre is willing to share his training and experience with the youngsters and adults of this area."

Gainesville PTA Plans For Coming Year

The first meeting of the newly elected executive committee of the Gainesville District School PTA was held recently in the school library at Haymarket.

The plans for the coming year were outlined and much interest was shown by the various committees.

The membership and publicity committee got under way with plans to mimeograph and distribute a year book to all patrons of the school. This activity will be carried on by Mrs. John Hottle and Mrs. John Piercy. All information relative to this publication must be in the hands of Mrs. John Hottle by July 15th.

At the suggestion of Warren Peak, secretary of the PTA and co-chairman of the ways and means committee, the second Friday in November was selected as the regular date for the annual PTA turkey dinner and the 3rd or 4th Friday in March was tentatively selected as the date for the annual wild game dinner. It was announced that Elk will be the meat served at the wild game dinner in 1952.

Committee reports were given by Mrs. Hottle, Mrs. Piercy, membership and publicity committee; Mrs. Stanley Brewster, program committee; Mrs. Francis Wilson, chairman of the room mothers; Warren Peak, secretary; Mrs. Wallace Rison, president; and Mrs. Janie W. Smoot, principal.

Correspondents are requested to send copy in early.

Clifton Firemen "Plug" Minstrel

Manassas got a glimpse of some "black-faced" characters last week when the above group paid a visit here to promote the Clifton Fire Department's minstrel show which will be held this Saturday night at the Clifton fire house. Officer Twyman got in the act as the picture was snapped in front of the Manassas town hall.

Tires, Hub Caps Stripped From Cars In Night Thefts

Nightly thefts of tires and hub caps from autos in Manassas and vicinity are keeping police on the alert and have car owners wondering if they'll find their parked vehicles intact when they awaken in the morning.

County Forest Warden Pattie Resigns Post

Chief Forest Warden T. Gordon Pattie, who has served with the Virginia Forest Service as chief forest warden to Prince William County for the past six months, has resigned effective July 1st, 1951. District Forester D. G. Willoughby of Charlottesville, Va., stated that Mr. Pattie resigned in order that he may devote more time to his farm work.

An effort will be made during the month of June to find a replacement for the Chief Forest Warden of the county. This work is for the Virginia Forest Service and is part-time employment during forest fire season as well as throughout the year, doing forest fire prevention work in the schools and other methods by which the number of forest fires may be reduced.

Sheriff Kerlin Is Seeking Re-election For Seventh Time

Sheriff John P. Kerlin very definitely has his hat in the ring in seeking his seventh term as sheriff of Prince William, subject to Democratic Primary, August 7th.

When his present term expires on December 31st, Mr. Kerlin will have known 36 years, or half his lifetime, in the sheriff's department.

He was appointed deputy sheriff in 1915 and served in that capacity until his first election as sheriff in 1928, which office he had held ever since. For a short time, prior to 1915, he served on the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Kerlin was born in Ohio and came to Prince William County with his parents when he was six years old. He and his wife, the former Charlotte A. Soyars, of Eden, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on January 9 of this year. They have five children and six grandchildren.

They reside on their large farm at Nokesville.

Because of his long tenure in office, and a warm personality, the sheriff has a wide acquaintanceship throughout the county which may prove a decided advantage in the three-way race.

LT. HARRY PARRISH, Air Force Reserve Officer, formerly assigned to the 8522nd Transport Squadron, has been promoted to the rank of captain, and been assigned mobilization with 1254 Air Transport Squadron, at Washington D. C. National Airport.

Lower Utility Rates July 1st: Tempers Flare on City Manager

Despite some heated verbal skirmishes between members, the Town Council meeting Monday night saw action taken on some proposals and a definite lack of unity on others.

Of special interest to citizens is the automatic reduction in electric, water and sewer rates which become effective July 1st. This eliminates the extra percentage charges put in effect a year ago, which was explained by Mayor Harry Davis, following a motion by Councilman Roy Doggett that the rates be reduced.

Antique Autos Pay Visit To Manassas

Twenty-five antiquated cars comprised a motorcade here Sunday when members of the National Capital Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America made a trip to Manassas. Shown above are the new and the old as 1950 Oldsmobile vies for attention with Model T 1911 Ford, owned by W. L. Cook, of Bethesda, Md., and a 1912 Olds, owned by J. H. W. Bonell, Falls Church, Md.

The motorcade brought about sixty antique car members and their families. A chicken box lunch, prepared by Hotel Stonewall Jackson, was served at "Birmingham," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Kincheloe. In the afternoon they visited the Manassas Battlefield Park.

Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Rohr and Fred Dowell, Jr., local members of the Antique Automobile Club. The motorcade was escorted to Manassas by police from Rosslyn, Va.

A VERY FRANK REPLY

(They ASKED FOR It)

It is true that I did not attend the public hearing on the county tax rate. According to what I hear it didn't do any good for anyone else to attend because the Board of Supervisors paid no attention to the objections. Their minds were made up before the hearing and what people said had no bearing on the proposition.

The Mayor of Manassas, for example, attended the hearing and begged the Board to consider a lower tax rate because in addition to the $2.90 tax of the county the people living in the town of Manassas must add $1.25, making their total tax rate $4.15. Of course this rate is unreasonable.

What we need is a Board that is responsive to the public which it serves and one that has time and the inclination to study the problems of the county.

I understand that the Manassas member of the Board had never heard of the tax rate in other counties until I made the information public. Then it is reported that he proceeded to visit the adjoining counties to see if what I had published was true. He found it was very much the truth and could not be questioned.

Too bad these people did not do this much studying of their problem before they fixed the tax rate for the county rather than after. This grabbing of some arbitrary figure from the air, rather than a sound study of the problem, is not conducive to the welfare of the people they are supposed to serve.

Our friends on the Board talk about the influence that assessment has on county taxes. Of course a simpleton knows that as you go toward Washington the value of property rises, just as the value of property in the town of Manassas is higher than that of the surrounding country.

But what our friends failed to take into consideration is the fact that the other counties also give services which Prince William has never heard of. Just consider the Police Departments, the Fire Departments, the better school buildings, the independent Health Department and a host of other community benefits which we do not get in Prince William. Arlington County, for example, pays its teachers an average salary of $3,500.00 and a maximum salary of $5,000.00, and THEY DO THAT ON A LOWER TAX RATE THAN WE HAVE IN PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY. Just compare the salaries of the Prince William teachers with the above and think of that tax rate of $2.90. Of course, our Board has not made a study of these things.

Now—about that matter of average daily attendance in the schools! How are we to know that any of their figures can be trusted? Not long ago a survey was made of our school system by some representatives from the University of Pennsylvania. The newspapers reported that they found considerable juggling of figures. Perhaps the Board had better explain how its own figures have been juggled. And, too, perhaps the Board can explain why this survey was hushed up. We would like to know just what the findings of this survey were, how much of it was completed and what it cost. A lot of explaining is due about this. Or, is this just some of the public's money the Board wasted?

I presume the Board wasted some more public money last week when it published its formal notice in the Manassas Journal. This was not put in as a political ad but as a formal notice coming from the official Board of the county. How much more money is this Board going to squander?

In 1948 a reassessment was made of the property in this county. The taxable value of my own property was increased 124%. Other people had the same experience. At that time we had reason to think that the tax rate might be lowered or, at least, not raised. Many new taxpayers have been added to the list, bringing in additional funds. And now this year the tax rate is jumped from $2.30 to $2.90. The people really don't feel the impact of this right now and won't feel it until December when they pay their taxes. But it is constantly more money and more money. And what do we get for it?

But I do find that this Board has squandered $41,875 on school building plans that have never been used, are not being used, and never will be used. Ah! There's the rub! $41,875 of the county's money literally thrown away. No publicity has been given to this matter. And I presume the Board members don't want any publicity given to it. They don't even want us to talk about it. They don't even want us to know about it. But there it is in the minutes of the Board meeting for March 13th—$41,875 of the county's money wasted.

But $41,875 is a sizable sum in anybody's pocket book and when county funds are thrown away like this, naturally our tax rate must be raised.

This $41,875 would be enough to add two teachers to each of the four high schools in the county and pay their entire salaries for a period of two years.

This $41,875 represents the average amount of taxes paid in Prince William County by 2,238 people.

This $41,875 would pay the entire cost of a year's schooling for 315 boys and girls.

This $41,875 represents almost 7% of the entire school budget for the year 1951-52.

Has there ever been another period in the history of Prince William County when money was wasted like this?

The same Board which today feebly attempts to defend one of the highest, if not THE highest, tax rate in the history of Prince William County, at this time next year may be attempting to defend a $3.50 tax rate instead of a $2.90. They jumped it 60c this year. They may try to raise it another 60c next year. The person who is determined to force high taxes on the people is not deserving of the vote of the people. The issue has become, not merely high taxes but higher taxes.

The Federal tax rate, we are told, may be raised another 12½%. The next State Legislature may enact a sales tax. The present Board of Supervisors may want to raise the county rate another 60c. Where is this mad business of taxation going to end?

The Prince William tax rate as it now stands is higher than that in Fairfax and higher than that in Arlington. May God forbid that we have to leave Prince William in order to experience a fair tax rate. Yes, it is neither the New Deal nor the Fair Deal. It is the RAW DEAL.

The Manassas Macs maintained their winning streak here Sunday to topple Bristersburg, 8-4, and hang up their fifth victory in a row. Nokesville overcame Triangle, 7-6, to remain tied with the Macs for the runner-up position in the Northern circuit. White Oak continued its sizzling pace by defeating Occoquan.

Mayhugh in Fine Form
Dewitt Mayhugh was in rare form for the Macs allowing only four hits. He gave way to Russ Polen in the eighth who finished the game. The stealing heat necessitated several substitutions in the Macs line-up. The visitors, with out reserves, stuck it out for the full 9 innings. Willie Grove was the losing pitcher.

For Macs, Jackie Saylor led the 18-hit attack with three hits. Stuart Vetter and Jim Price accounted for two safeties apiece.

A Close One
A late rally gave Nokesville a win over Triangle. The Red Sox blasted Bill Brown from the mound and were leading 4-0 when Jones came on to stem the tide. Reid featured at bat for the winners with a single and a double. For Triangle, Kline led with two singles and a double.

Mrs. Kopp Addresses Fine Arts Group

The Fine Arts Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas had the pleasure of having as its speaker in June, Mrs. Marion Kopp, an author and newcomer to Manassas. Mrs. Kopp spoke of her visit to Japan during which she lived with a Japanese family and collected materials for the writing of her book, "The Pageant of Japanese History." She later returned to Japan and made additional notes and obtained photographs and drawings with which her book is profusely illustrated. She told of the many ancient treasures from the very early years of the Japanese nation. These, she said are still being preserved at Nara, an ancient capital of Japan. In her book she paints an admirable picture of the culture and history of the country, its heritage, the grace of its arts, the power of its industries, and the somber story of its common people.

An interesting exhibit by members of treasures old and new, bought out some valuable and lovely heirlooms, old samplers, lovely china, priceless family jewels, hair ornaments and collectors items. These were enjoyed by the group. Mrs. William Lloyd and Miss Katharine Lewis were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Lloyd on West street.

MRS. JOSEPH CLYDE TRIVETTE

The soft glow of candle light lent an air of enchantment to the scene of the lovely wedding on Saturday, June 23, of Miss Kittie Jean Blakemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Blakemore, Manassas, to Joseph Clyde Trivette, of Orange, Va.

The vows were spoken in Grace Methodist Church before the altar, decorated with palms and tall bouquets of white flowers. Rev. Frank Baker, the bride's pastor, was officiating minister.

Mrs. Dennis Baker at the organ played a recital of traditional wedding music. Immediately preceding the ceremony, "Because" was sung by John Christiansen, of Orange, Va.

Leading the processional were the ushers, James E. Rice, Jr. and Hugh Johnson, in formal evening attire, wearing red rose boutonnieres.

Then came the junior bridesmaids, Ann Carroll Blakemore, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Eaton, of Arlington, Va. They were dressed in identical costumes of bouffant white net over tulle, trimmed with bands of white satin. Their tiny bouquets of net and nothing net mits were also decorated in white satin. Red roses in a graceful cascade arrangement were their flowers.

Mrs. William H. Blakemore as patron of honor was lovely in a gown of bouffant white net and in sprinkled with rhinestones. Her head-dress and long mits were of matching white net, and her bouquet a cascade of red roses.

Entering on the arm of her father, Roy H. Blakemore, the bride was lovely in a gown of imported over satin, fashioned on princess lines and sweeping into a full, ethereal train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a tiny bonnet and she carried a cas-

MRS. GERALD L. WEAVER

The wedding of Miss Miriam Elizabeth Hersch and Mr. Gerald L. Weaver attracted many to the Manassas Church of the Brethren, where the ceremony was performed Sunday, June 24, five o'clock by the Reverend Conrad Snavely, who used the double ring service.

Amid a setting of soft candlelight, together with palms, ferns and cut flowers of the season, she was given in marriage by her father, and her bridal gown was of ivory satin, trimmed in net, made with long sleeves, and a sweeping circular train. Her finger tip veil was caught up with orange blossoms, and the pearl necklace she wore was a gift of the groom.

Her flowers were bride's roses and stephanotis, made into an old fashioned nosegay. Her maid of honor was her sister, Lauree Hersch, whose dress was of yellow organdy, with matching head dress and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The other attendants of the bride, Miss Priscilla Wakeman, Manassas, and Miss Maxine Abshire of Roanoke, wore identical dresses and matching head dress.

The best man was Donald Weaver, and the ushers, Harley Kline, Harold Hersch, Harold Burkhart of Lancaster, Pa., and Richard Gingsrick, East Petersburg, Pa.

Presiding the ceremony Miss Betty Kille, Lancaster, Pa., sang, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Still As The Night," "Because," and after the vows, "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Wilda Ann Eller of Roanoke.

The groom is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Pa., and also attended the College of Philadelphia Osteopathy. The bride majored in English at Bridgewater College.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and close friends of the young couple.

Major Guy Anderson Benchoff, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered white organdy fashioned with fitted bodice and overskirt, the underskirt ruffling gracefully into a short train. Her finger-tip length veil of illusion fell from a lace cloche embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Dunn, of Lancaster, Pa., wore a white organdy ballerina length gown embroidered in blue. In her hair was a bandeau of small pink roses and she carried a colonial bouquet of mixed pink flowers tied with a pink ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Misses Linda Hall, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., Ann McCulloch of Bluefield, sister of the groom, Misses Ann Benchoff and Betsy Preston of Woodstock, wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of delphinium, pink carnations and baby's breath tied with a blue ribbon. They wore bandeaux of delphinium.

Matt McCulloch of Bluefield served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Messrs. Miles Epling, of Gallipolis, Ohio; Harry Stowers, Robert Moseley, Frank Mcade, all of Bluefield.

MRS. GEORGE McCULLOCH, JR.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Ann Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Preston Whitmore, of Woodstock, Va., to Mr. George McCulloch, of Bluefield, W. Va., took place in a pretty setting at the Presbyterian Church in Woodstock on June 16th.

The bride, a former resident of Manassas, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Bruce Whitmore and the late Mr. Whitmore, Manassas, and C. C. Furr and the late Mrs. Furr, Broad Run, Va.

The Rev. James Stanton Blain, the double ring ceremony. The pastor of the church, performed the wedding band of the paternal grandmother of the groom.

Miss Phyllis Rutherford of Dunellen, N. J., was soloist. Preceding the ceremony, she sang "Du Bist Die Ruh" by Schubert, "Minnelied" by Brahms and "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg.

Major Guy Anderson Benchoff, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered white organdy fashioned with fitted bodice and overskirt, the underskirt ruffling gracefully into a short train. Her finger-tip length veil of illusion fell from a lace cloche embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Dunn, of Lancaster, Pa., wore a white organdy ballerina length gown embroidered in blue. In her hair was a bandeau of small pink roses and she carried a colonial bouquet of mixed pink flowers tied with a pink ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Misses Linda Hall, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., Ann McCulloch of Bluefield, sister of the groom, Misses Ann Benchoff and Betsy Preston of Woodstock, wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of delphinium, pink carnations and baby's breath tied with a blue ribbon. They wore bandeaux of delphinium.

Moor Green Perfect Setting For Woman's Club Garden Party

The Woman's Club of Manassas was delightfully entertained at a garden party Monday evening, by Mr. and Mrs. John Watson Cox at Moor Green Farm.

The house at Moor Green stands on an eminence that commands a view of the sweeping country side. High above Broad Run and looking towards the hills, it is located near Brentsville, a former county seat.

The land here was part of a grant made in 1711 to Clement Chevalle, an ancestor of John Cox. The charming old brick house, its brick and flagstone walks, the beautiful box bushes, and lovely old trees with their graceful spreading branches, have been restored and preserved by the present owners.

Within, the house is rich with family heirloom furniture and paintings done by the artist owners.

This made a perfect setting for the talk on Heraldry given by Colonel Willard Webb, of Clifton Station. Colonel Webb gave a most comprehensive outline of the origin, growth and meaning of the many symbols found on the family coats of arms, so cherished by many families today. "In medieval times," he said, "these marks of identification were used on the shields of knights in armour." "Heraldry," he stated, "is not a dead science, but is today a most fascinating study."

The following were voted into membership in the club: Mrs. Frank L. Baker, Mrs. John P. Broadus, Mrs. Ashby Jackson Fristoe, Mrs. W. Don Gray, Mrs. Howard Russell, Mrs. Nicholas A. Shearon, Mrs. Paul Kopp, Mrs. Clarence Wheat, Mrs. Judson Wheeler, Mrs. Richard L. Schroeder and Mrs. Garry Willard.

A delightful social hour followed. Mrs. Cox was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Mary Daffan, Mrs. Dan Eustler, Miss Katharine Lewis Mrs. Clifford Nelson and Mrs. William Lloyd.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Effie G. James, who passed away one year ago, June 30, 1950.

Today recalls the memory Of the loved one laid to rest And those who think of her today Are the ones who loved her best. Oft' times our thoughts go wandering To the grave not far away Where lies the sweetest memory That will never fade away. The blow was heavy, the shock severe, We little thought that death was near. But only those who have lost can tell The pain of parting without farewell. Off' to my heart comes a bitter cry Why, oh why did our mother die Then comes the answer so soft and sweet She is not dead, she is only asleep. Although your soul is now at rest And free from care and pain, This world would seem like heaven if we had you back again. Her loving husband, H. H. James and children 10-1-c

Legion Exposition Gets Under Way at Longview Speedway Monday Night

Parsons Buy $5,000 Bull

Morlunda Larry 8th, sired by Dandy Larry Domino 46th, was purchased by L. L. Parsons and Son of Nokesville for the purchase price of $5,000 at the 14th annual Morlunda Farm's Sale at Lewisburg, West Virginia, held last Saturday. Also purchased was Morlunda H. Silverie, heifer bred to Dandy Larry Domino 46th. She is a promising show heifer and bred to the best. This brings the Parsons herd to 20 head of registered Hereford females with some of the best breeding in Virginia.

The Parsons Farm is a strong contender in the County Pasture Program with ladino clover and fescue and ladino clover and orchard grass supplying luxurious grazing and alfalfa for winter feed. Morlunda Larry 8th, with several eligible heifers, will be exhibited at the Prince William County Fair, August 23, 24, and 25.

After weeks of hard work and preparation, the finishing touches are now being made to usher in the 3rd Annual Industrial Exposition of Prince William Post, 158, American Legion, which opens Monday night at Longview Speedway and continues for six nights through Saturday, July 7th.

The gala event, which promises to be "bigger and better than ever," has attracted more exhibitors than in previous years. Over 40 business firms will display their wares, with many increasing the size of their exhibit over last year.

Renew your subscription promptly.

The huge exhibit tent offers approximately 20,000 square feet of display, which is double the space provided in 1950 and four times, 1949, the first year of the exposition.

Interesting displays and demonstrations featuring diversified products and services are planned by the exhibitors.

The huge spread of canvas will go up Saturday and exhibitors will be busy over the weekend putting up their displays in readiness for Monday night opening.

As in past years, the usual rides and games will be offered for the entertainment of exposition visitors. No outside carnival will be brought in, all games and booths being manned by members of the Legion Post and its Auxiliary.

There will be a huge refreshment stand, of course. Particular plans and concessions for the children have been made. All children's rides will be offered at 9 cents and several new, thrilling rides have been secured. Children are admitted free to the exposition tent and midway.

Plenty of parking space is provided at Longview Park so that visitors will have no trouble getting a place to park their car.

Prizes Nightly

Each night valuable prizes will be awarded. The prizes are: Radio, Monday night; radio, Tuesday; lawn glider, Wednesday; 2 chairs, Thursday; chaise lounge, Friday; 5-piece chrome dinette set, Saturday.

Check on Farm Storage Urged By Engineer

Getting farm storage ready now to handle this year's harvest is as important in reaching record-breaking food and fiber goals as any other phase of crop production.

Dan Kite, associate agricultural engineer at V. P. I., says farmers first should be certain that they have enough storage to handle the crops on their farm. If production is as high as is hoped for, commercial and cooperative storage is bound to be jammed, transportation facilities will be over-burdened, and farmers will, in many cases, be forced to rely more than usual on storage of their own.

To be adequate, Kite says, storage must offer protection from all the hazards of leakage, weather, insects, and rodents—anything that can spoil a stored crop.

How badly much of the nation's present farm storage needs repair is indicated in the results of a recent survey of 7,000 Georgia farms, probably typical of the Southeast. The study showed that 74 percent of the storages could not be effectively fumigated for insect control, 96 percent were not rodent-proof, and less than half offered good protection from the weather.

SUPPORTS HELMS

Mr. Editor:

The true comparative table used by the Board members in their reply to Mr. Helms MEANS VERY LITTLE AND TELLS US LESS about the phenomenal raise in the county budget in the last five years.

While the cost of living has gone up 150%, the budge rose 300%. I was in hopes that the natural increase in values would make it possible to cut the levy after the 1948 reassessment. The booming of school plans seems to have spoiled anything of that kind.

I understand we WASTED approximately $50,000.00 on building plans which may never be used. We should have a county government, where the Supervisors would be responsible for such WASTE. I have always been in favor of making them responsible.

DURING MY 16 YEARS ON THE BOARD, I NEVER REMEMBER A SINGLE CASE OF A PERSON ATTENDING A BUDGET HEARING OF HAVING A SINGLE ITEM REDUCED.

The legal limit the budget can be reduced after advertising is 10%. This would mean 28c off the levy. AND THIS HAS NEVER BEEN DONE IN PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY.

Winter wasn't too tough, was it?

Sure, there was lots of snow, ice and cold. But you people who bought your fuel oil from us had nice warm houses, didn't you?

Our trucks kept oil in your tanks and the quality of the fuel oil was right for dependable, efficient oil-burner operation. That's so, isn't it . . . even if we do say so ourselves? So why not think about next winter now? Here are 2 important things for you to do:

1. Have Your Oil Burner Serviced for care-free, efficient operation next winter.
2. Have Your Tank Filled Now. It will help you budget your fuel cost over the year. And a full tank helps prevent condensation and rust.

Start now to make next winter a comfortable one, too.

Poultry Judging Tests Are Planned

More district 4-H poultry contests have been scheduled in Virginia this year, and the two top teams from each will compete in a state contest at V. P. I. in late August, Denver Bragg, 4-H poultry specialist, announces.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Cow That Can't "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his cow last week. It was a fine day and they were all under trees near a watering trough. I darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! A fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose, and use her mouth to push it down again. That's Mabel," Sandy explained. She moved away. "Sometimes I drink that trough dry, and I learned how to fill it again. She doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a pump if we don't watch her."

From where I sit, Mabel isn't the only one who sometimes doesn't know where to stop. For instance, people often carry personal opinions too far—like the person who wants everyone to accept his choice of political parties, or ball-players... or beverages. I prefer a glass of beer with my meals. I know that a lot of other people prefer milk. But nobody ought to insist on "herding" others around to his way of thinking.

The first, at Warsaw, was held last month. Others are planned for: July 12 at Roanoke; July 17 at Winchester; July 24 at Jamestown; and July 25 at Appomattox. Bragg also announced that state awards for the "poultryman of tomorrow" contest will be given sometime during the state 4-H short course, June 25-30. County winners will be named before June 15. Bragg said there are 35 counties participating in this contest. The poultryman of tomorrow contest, he explained, is designed to encourage club members to follow better poultry production practices, and to give recognition to those who have done outstanding work during 1950 and 1951.

Power Glide Ride Offered By Wheat
If you want to drive a Power Glide Chevrolet, visit the show-rooms of Wheat Chevrolet, Inc., Centerville Road, from June 18 to 30 inclusive. The local auto agency has set aside special demonstrators for use of the people in this area and this period will be devoted to giving as many persons as possible rides in these cars with automatic transmissions.

Chevrolet has just built its 500,000th Power Glide and to observe the milestone it has requested all dealers to cooperate locally in nationwide demonstrations. Dealer C. L. Wheat pointed out that Power Glide differs from other automatic transmissions on the market in that it represents a "package" improvement, including the revolutionary automatic shift, a more powerful engine of 105 horsepower and an "Economiser" rear axle. He added "The opportunity for mass demonstrations here will show what owners have learned in more than a billion miles of driving."

New Hunting, Fishing Licenses Due July 1

Hunters and fishermen in the Old Dominion should keep a careful check on the calendar, according to officials of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. Licenses now in force are good only until the end of June, so if you are in the woods or on the streams after that, you'd better have your nice new 1951-52 license with you when the game warden comes around!

The new licenses are now being sent to the county clerks and agents by the Commission and it is expected that all offices will have them by June 21. A definite increase in the number of license holders is expected by Commission officials during the coming year, in keeping with the higher population trends.

A license is required of all fishermen over 16 years of age and of all hunters regardless of age.

Kipling was speaking of precious human freedom when he wrote, "This our fathers bought for us long and long ago."

But courage and valor are not solely the virtues of brave fighting men in combat. It took no less courage for men like Pasteur, Lister, Koch, and hosts of others to struggle for scientific truth against cries of heresy from the ignorant and the superstitious. Ladino Is Tops As Pasture For Swine

Ladino clover ranks at the top as a pasture for hogs.

George Herring, animal husbandman at V. P. I., says that on a dry-matter basis, ladino may contain 22 to 24 percent protein, it yields well, and hogs like it. Studies at the Holland branch of Virginia Experiment Station have indicated that an acre of ladino is worth at least $100 during the grazing season.

Herring says the studies also showed no advantage in adding a protein supplement in feeding pigs on ladino. The pigs on pasture getting nothing but corn gained just as fast as those eating corn and a supplement.

He says if you want rapid gains from pigs on ladino, full feed corn. In the case of spring pigs, you can then sell them in the late summer or early fall when prices are seasonally high.

On the other hand, if you want the most use of the ladino and expect to finish pigs on the new crop of corn, feed them one to two pounds of corn shelled basis, per head daily. The pigs will grow well and make good use of pasture.

Hogs always need salt and some other minerals. The need for salt is greater when hogs are eating nothing but corn and ladino than on many other rations.

Brood sows make good use of ladino. They can handle large amounts and it makes up for many grain deficiencies. Dry sows can be maintained on nothing but ladino, but bred ones should have some grain the last part of the gestation period. While bred sows may get enough protein from ladino, some from animal source may help. One-fourth pound of tankage per head per day should be enough.
