IS N THAT
Mighty hot but the weather has cooled off in the heat given off in primary election contests now full swing.

Out-of-state license plates have fascinated us. Getting out of the car and walking a few steps to the office the other night, we saw two from California, two from Maryland, one from Texas and others from North Carolina, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, New York and Virginia.

Card from J. Carl Kincheloe, mentioning with his family and others at Nags Head, N. C., says: "Very nice down here and good riding. No politics!"

Who is Sam Parks? For the benefit of readers of this column, the week who asked the question "It's Harry Parks." Sorry Sam, mean Harry.

Manassas Battlefield is getting the good and favorable publicity. In the N. Y. Times of July 15, considerable space is devoted to the battlefield in an article by Anthony Leviero on the topic, "National Museums."

Three brothers enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps at the local recruiting office this week. They are bridge L., Robert M. and Marvin Schaeffer, of Manassas, R.F.D., ages 20, 18 and 17 years, respectively. They were sworn in together and were assigned to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y.

Welcome to T-Sgt. Clinton W. Hemmer, who has been appointed the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station here, succeeding Sgt. Frank George. Sgt. Hemmer comes here from Alexandria and has had nine years continuous service.

Fun for all is in store for those who attended the carnival, sponsored by the Independent Hill Volunteer Fire Department, to be held July 20th through 22nd at Lowe's Corner, on Route 234, six miles south of Manassas. Bingo, kiddies' rides and many other attractions are scheduled. The fire department, recently organized, will use the proceeds to erect a new fire house and buy fire-fighting equipment.

William J. Harvey, retired executive of the New England Telephone Co., has been spending his vacation at his daughter, Mrs. William Wagoner, at her summer home, Seven Oaks, Bradley Forest.

Fire Destroys Large Barn on Irvin Farm

A large barn on the farm of Paul Irvin, Nokesville, was destroyed by fire late Wednesday afternoon when it was struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm.

Approximately 50 tons of hay, was lost, along with various farm tools and equipment. Larger pieces of equipment were removed to safety. Also destroyed was a straw stack of about 15 tons which stood near the barn.

The farm was hit by two bolts of lightning, the first bolt striking the well house, burning out the motor and putting the telephone out of commission. Shortly afterward, the barn was hit by a second bolt and immediately caught fire.

Mr. Irvin was about to enter the barn when the lightning struck. His son and daughter, Mickey and Sue, had just finished grooming their calves in preparation for entering them in the coming 4-H Fair.

Prince William farmers report good crops of wheat this year, and most of the harvest is of exceptionally fine quality. The crop has been above average for the past two or three years.

Right now some of the wheat coming in is rather wet due to recent rains.

The Journal learned yesterday that Wilkins Rogers, of Georgetown, J. C., had discontinued accepting any more wheat this week due to full bins.

The market dropped about three cents per bushel Tuesday morning. Prince William County does not have any large producers of wheat, but average acreage devoted to this crop being around 25 to 30 acres per farm.

In view of the coming County Fair and the Northern Virginia Dairy Show of Culpeper, the 4H Club members of Prince William County, have been planning to meet each event well prepared. The dairy club will be instructed on the proper methods of fitting and showing dairy cattle. This information will be of great value to all who show in the fair. This instruction will be in the form of a demonstration-meeting, and made possible by R. G. Connelly, Extension Dairyman, Blackburg. It will take place at the Harvey Smith farm in Nokesville, at 9 a. m. (EST), July 23rd. On similar occasions and in the near future the 4H Group will be assisted by Phil Reading, Nokesville. Since a large number of 4H members intend to show dairy stock in the fair these demonstrations will be of timely importance.

The 4H Dairy Judging team is holding its meeting on Wednesday night at the farm of Wheatley Johnson, Manassas. The club members will receive assistance and practice of judging dairy cows on type, conformation and milking characteristics. Out of the club a team will be selected to represent Prince William County.

Placing the animals at the Wednesday practice meeting will be Frank Cox and Wheatley Johnson.

The Dairy Judging team will hold a number of these practice meetings and it is desirable to use cows from a different herd each time. Any of you farmers who are interested in assisting in the development of this team and who would permit the 4H members to use your farm for one evening practice, kindly contact L. D. Wisinger, Asst. County Agent.

Taps Sound for Sgt. Kool, 94

M-Sgt. Saza A. Kool, 94, retired veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps, died in the Naval Hospital at Quantico, Sunday.

Sgt. Kool had resided at Quantico since 1921 and was widely known in both Marine and civilian circles.

His first enlistment was in the U. S. Army in 1916, serving under General John Pershing on the Mexican border. In 1921, he joined the Marines and saw active service until 1945, when he retired.

During the Hoover administration, he acted as superintendent of the president's summer home on the Rapidan.

He was a member of the Masonic order, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and Marine Corps League.

He is survived by his wife, the former Cora Lee, and one daughter, Miss Evelyn Kool, student at William and Mary.

Full military honors were accorded the "old soldier" in funeral services at the Quantico Post-Chapel at noon Thursday, followed by interment in Arlington Cemetery.

The annual celebration of the First Battle of Manassas will be appropriately observed at the battlefield site this Saturday at 3 p. m. D.S.T., marking the 90th anniversary of this historic engagement.

The celebration is jointly sponsored by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy and other patriotic organizations.

The speaker of the day will be Major Joseph Mills Hanson, former superintendent of the National Battlefield Park, and probably the greatest authority on the history of the battlefield and its engagements.

Of special interest will be an illustrated map lecture on the Manassas campaign and battle by Lt. James Myers, superintendent of the park and museum.

Hon. Fred Myers and Virgil Jones, chairmen of the Confederate Memorial Committee, Washington, D. C., will be in charge of program.

The Richmond Rifles are expected to participate in Confederate uniform, with Stonewall Jackson's signal gun. Wreaths will be placed for Jackson, Bee and Bartow.

The celebration will be held near the Henry House, where both the first and second battles terminated.

General Bernard E. Bee, who at the First Battle of Manassas, having observed Jackson standing firm and steady his men against the enemy, exclaimed, "There stands Jackson like a stone wall. Rally behind the Virginians."

The First Battle of Manassas occurred 90 years ago on July 21, 1861.

Thanks Manassas For Kindness To Naylor: Praises Miss Ayers

Rev. E. Guthrie Brown, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, is in receipt of a letter from Vicar Harold C. McKinley, of Lancashire, England, expressing his appreciation to the people of Manassas for their kindness to Miss Phyllis Naylor, English exchange teacher, and her mother, Mrs. Edith Naylor, during their stay here.

He also writes highly of Miss Sue Ayers, of Manassas, and the warm place she has won in the hearts of his people in Lancashire.

Vicar McKinley's letter follows:
Kelbrook Vicarage
Colne,
Lancashire,
June 21, 1951

Dear Mr. Brown,

In her letters from time to time Miss Naylor has told of the great kindness which you and your people have shown to her during her stay amongst you. She will soon be leaving you for home, and I would like to thank you most warmly for all you have done to make her time at Manassas a profitable and happy one. Her experience of your country will add greatly to her value as a teacher of our children and already without this enrichment she has a high reputation in this neighborhood. Apart from the school I shall be glad when she is back with us because she is secretary to our Parochial Church Council and does much church work in a very willing and happy way. We miss her and Mrs. Naylor, too, from our Sunday congregation.

Miss Ayers is a delightful personality as well as a most capable teacher and has made herself most popular with all sections over here. We shall be sorry when she leaves, and I suppose it is greedy to wish that we could keep both her and Miss Naylor. With her superabundance of energy Miss Ayers has spent a very strenuous year over here, journeying to the continent, and always willing to address meetings of one kind or another. I was most interested in her talk to our Divisional Education Executive on the differences between your educational system and methods and ours. She created a most favourable impression on all our members. I fear she had to endure our English winter at its wettest and most prolonged. Even now our summer has not really warmed up.

Perhaps one day you or some of your folk will visit England. I can assure you that you will be very warmly welcomed in Kelbrook for your kindness to Miss Naylor.

Yours sincerely,
Harold C. McKinley
Vicar

The Ten Most Important Questions of the Day in Prince William County

1. Why did Mr. Johnson resign from the Board of Supervisors?
2. Why does he want to get back on the Board?
3. How do we know he will not resign again?
4. Why did Mr. Johnson want to get on the School Board?
5. Why does Mr. Johnson think he should be elected to the Board of Supervisors when he couldn't be elected to the School Board?
6. Why does Mr. Johnson think he has a monopoly on progress?
7. Why don't Mr. Kincheloe and Mr. Johnson dare tell the public why Prince William County does not receive Federal building funds like some nearby counties?
8. Why doesn't Mr. Kincheloe attempt to answer the charges regarding the unnecessary high tax rate?
9. Why doesn't Mr. Kincheloe explain the $41,875.00 squandered on school plans?
10. What was in the letter sent to Senator Andrew W. Clarke requesting a raise in salary for the members of the Board of Supervisors and special legislation for Prince William County?

White Oak can be beaten as the Macs proved Sunday. But with 10 wins out of 12 starts, it's going to be mighty hard for the rest of the pack to catch up with them. Before losing to Manassas, White Oak's only defeat was a forfeit game when they failed to muster a full team on the playing field. Right now it looks like a three-way race for runner-up berth, with Nokesville Firemen holding the advantage at this stage of the season. Manassas is next and Triangle is not far behind.

Quantico American Legion Juniors will play the "Ole" Timers in a benefit game at Lions Memorial Field, Sunday, July 29. We're putting our money on the Juniors. Oughta' be an interesting game.

Keeping up with the local divot-diggers hasn't been easy this week. Some of the boys played at Fairfax, Sunday, going out early before church and again later that evening. Banker Scott is a new addition to the swelling ranks of Manassas golfers, and from all we can hear, is a veteran at the game. The masher swinger who cuts so much timber down at Quantico a couple of weeks ago is in the lumber business.

HOME - MAKING IDEAS

In the summer, you'll be interested in these suggestions from J. O. Hill, entomologist at V. P. I., to protect woollen garments in an ordinary closet which will be in frequent use, spray a commercial five percent DDT solution on closet walls, baseboards, on the floor, or on other surfaces where insects may be developing, or where they will come in contact with the DDT deposit that is left after the liquid has evaporated. It won't be necessary to spray the closet very often, as the DDT solution is effective for several weeks to several months.

When closet walls have been sprayed, moth adults or larvae crawling on the treated surfaces will be killed. However, since DDT has no fumigating effect, larvae in untreated clothing will not be killed. To treat clothing, spray lightly, all over the fabric on both sides, with five per cent DDT solution. Some products are made especially for fabrics and do not cause stains.

Articles stored in a trunk, chest, or wooden box that is reasonably tight can be protected during the summer by scattering either flake naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene between the folds of clothing, or preferably between sheets of thin clean paper. Keep all covers tightly closed.

Blood Needed

On its last visit to Prince William County to collect blood from volunteer donors, to replenish the stock of blood maintained at the Washington Blood Center, the Red Cross Bloodmobile collected 7 pints of blood, from an area containing about 10,000 people. On that very same day the Blood Bank gave 11 pints of blood to save the lives and to aid in the treatment of citizens of the county. One County resident, the victim of a serious accident, while hospitalized in Washington, received during the last month 9 pints of Red Cross blood.

Any visit of the bloodmobile is scheduled well in advance, is given ample publicity, and dozens of our volunteer workers in the County Chapter give unstintingly of their time and efforts in making proper arrangements and in trying to recruit blood donors. Bringing the bloodmobile to the County involves, in addition, considerable expense and effort on the part of the Blood Center, because of the equipment, the doctors, nurses and technicians which must accompany it.

It goes without saying that the results of the last visit were disappointing in the extreme. What's wrong? Is it that our people are callous to the needs of their fellow citizens, to whom the gift of blood often means the difference between life and death? We think not! We believe, rather, that the generous, warm-hearted people of Prince William do not understand the continuing need for stockpiling blood for the treatment of our own fellow citizens and neighbors in civilian hospitals, as well as for saving the lives of our boys in the armed forces. They do not realize that there are many of our friends and neighbors, men, women and little children, living in our midst today, who in all probability would have lost their lives in time of accident or serious illness had it not been for the gift to them of Red Cross blood, which was immediately available to them in their hour of need.

Red Cross blood is available to all residents of Prince William County who need it in time of injury or illness. There is no charge for the blood itself. The Red Cross blood program is vitally essential to the health of our community and our country, and it deserves better support by all the able bodies citizens of Prince William County.

Where Six Met Death at Bristow Crossing

Scene of the tragedy that took the lives of six members of a family when their car was hit by a train at a Bristow, Va. grade crossing early Saturday afternoon. Shown are the smashed remains of the smashed convertible that was carried 200 yards down the track by the speeding train. (Photo courtesy Washington Sunday Star)

Six Killed When Fast Train Hits Car At Bristow Crossing

An entire family was wiped out Saturday afternoon in one of the worst accidents known in this section, when a speeding northbound Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train hit a car on a private crossing at Bristow, Va., killing all six occupants.

Listed as dead in the tragedy were: Lee Johnson, 27, Falls Church truck driver; Mabel Lee Johnson, 20, his wife; Roger "Punkin" Johnson, 6, and Wayne "Chickapee" Johnson, 4, their sons.

Other victims were Robert Johnson, 18, brother of Lee, and Frank "Bud" Sutphin, 22, uncle of the dead woman.

The accident occurred within 100 feet of their home to which they were returning after a shopping trip in Manassas. Joseph Sutphin, 34, brother of Frank Sutphin and uncle of Mabel Johnson, saw the accident as he sat on the front porch of the home awaiting their return to dinner. Parts of the demolished car landed in the front yard.

The roadbed was strewn with wreckage and bodies for 200 yards. The ten-year-old convertible was dragged 200 feet by the train and tumbled across the tracks and down an embankment.

Investigating police stated that the car had waited for a southbound train to pass and then pulled onto the tracks when the northbound train hit it.

Railroad traffic was tied up for 90 minutes by the tragedy.

Among family survivors are Jesse and Edward Johnson, brothers of Robert and Lee. The remains were brought to Baker Funeral Home here.

Air Force Increases Enlistment Quotas

The U. S. Air Force has greatly increased its enlistment quotas for women and an intensive recruiting drive is being launched here, it was announced this week by T-Sgt. Clinton W. Schenmer, in charge of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station here.

The local drive is in line with the recent announcement by the Director of Women in the Air Force, the WAF, that more than 40,000 highly qualified young women will be added to the Air Force by July, 1952.

Some of the qualifications for enlistment in the Air Force are that a woman must be a high school graduate, be between the ages of 18 and 34, inclusive and possess high moral standards.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY BOARD

SUPERVISORS

Mr. Garry Willard, Editor
The Manassas Journal
Manassas, Virginia

Dear Garry:

Due to the wide interest that is being shown in schools, and because of the crying need for unity on the question of our school needs, I am writing this letter with the request that you give it as prominent display space as you can, as political advertisement. I desire to propose below a plan, not so much because I am eager to influence the course of events as because I feel the plan will encourage harmony, and at the same time move us a long way forward in meeting the challenge that lies before those of us charged with leadership and responsibility.

I propose that a commission of thirty or more persons (at least five from each Magisterial District in the County) be appointed at once by the County School Board, acting by and with the consent of the County Board of Supervisors, to serve without pay, to make a thorough survey of our schools in Prince William County, from every standpoint possible, with the idea of coming up with a calm, factual report as to whether our school buildings are or are not adequate, and if not adequate in what respects and where they are not adequate, and the approximate cost of making them adequate.

This commission should be vested with authority to engage recognized experts in the field if the commission deems it necessary. The should be left entirely with the commission itself.

Membership on the commission should be chosen from persons of recognized good judgment and leadership, capable of getting all the facts before reaching conclusions and making recommendations. It is my proposal that the members of the School Board and the Board of Supervisors of each District call a widely publicized mass meeting in their Magisterial District and let this mass meeting nominate to the two Boards at least double the number to be appointed from that particular Magisterial District, then report those nominations to the two Boards and let the Boards in joint session appoint the full commission from the respective nominations from the District mass meetings. The commission could go to work immediately on this all important job.

The first effect of the concerted actions of such a commission would be to bring the Districts of the county closer together. It would be educative from the very start. The commission most probably would hold public meetings at all points in the county and get every viewpoint, thus acquainting each other with every conceivable analysis of the problems that confront us.

The end result and report of the commission would be to show the status of need in every community in the county. It would be fitting and proper for the commission to recommend to THE PEOPLE OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY a course of procedure calculated to meet those needs. Such recommendation should be to the PEOPLE, not just the School Board and Board of Supervisors alone, because in the final analysis the PEOPLE, when given full information and time enough to digest it thoroughly and without bitterness, will act for the common good.

Prince William County needs unity and harmony; then time to get full and reliable information; then an opportunity to weigh and apply that information to the problems that lie before us. If we can establish unity and harmony, we shall attain mutual trust and respect for each other's needs and work toward a county-wide achievement of adequate school facilities as well as all other county government requirements, on an efficient and trusting basis.

I welcome your views on these points. I also invite expressions from anyone else in the county and particularly my own Magisterial District on the ideas expressed above, and how we can bring about county-wide harmony and unity.

Yours for better County Government,

J. Carl Kincheloe.

To the Voters of Prince William County

The letter below was given Mr. Wheeling March 1, 1950

"To Whom It May Concern:

"This is to certify that the undersigned, John P. Kerlin, Sheriff of Prince William County, Virginia, has been personally acquainted with Turner D. Wheeling, of Manassas, Prince William County, Virginia, for a period of nine years, and that since the 15th day of July, 1944, he has served under me as Deputy Sheriff of Prince William County, Virginia during which time his work has been thoroughly competent.

"Mr. Wheeling is a person of highest character and integrity; he is a public spirited citizen and he enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he lives, not only as a law enforcement officer, but also as a private citizen.

"J. P. KERLIN,
Sheriff, Prince William County, Virginia."

Rumors have been circulated recently in several places in the county concerning my conduct when I served as deputy sheriff. These rumors are categorically false.

I have conducted a clean campaign. I intend to continue such a policy, and I hope my opponents will do the same. This, I believe, is what the people of Prince William want.

During my six years as deputy sheriff, I worked for the people of Prince William County and if elected, I expect to continue to work for the people and will appreciate your support in the coming primary election.

TURNER D. WHEELING,
Candidate for Sheriff of Prince William County.

TAXES

Taxes are the most necessary but the most disliked part of government. Therefore, no governing body in a democracy ever aims to make a tax levy higher than actual needs. But in any rapidly growing community, the necessity for public services and the buildings in which to house them, increases faster than the tax base and must be met by either higher tax rates or borrowing which means future higher tax rates.

The sound approach to this problem is of course, adoption of a long time building program with a proper combination of a higher tax rate plus borrowing limited to the usable life of the buildings.

After the assessment of 1948, the Board decided that this need could be met by a tax rate of $2.40 and they channeled off the surplus to the actual building of the only school building put up to date. Last year, while adopting a program of borrowing for school construction, the Board cut this rate in spite of protests that the new levy was too low and that it is far less painful to keep a high rate than to raise one that has been lowered. So you have the present rate for emergency construction.

Lowering taxes is not done automatically. It is like the old minister whose congregation had asked him to pray for rain in time of drought, who said: "I'll pray if you want me to, but it won't rain until the wind changes."

No candidate will cut your tax rate, regardless of his promises, unless he achieves economy and efficiency in county government.

Which brings us to next week.

Respectfully submitted,

Junior Women to Supervise Small Children at Playground

The Youth Conservation Committee of the Junior Woman's Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. Brown, will take over the supervision of small children at the recreation playground for the remainder of the summer months. They will also be responsible for providing transportation to Middleburg each Wednesday afternoon for the larger children going for swimming.

Mrs. J. P. Royer appeared before the club at its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ashby White on Water Street, and discussed the summer recreation program with club members present. She stated that people of the community were not taking advantage of the program as they should and urged the club to give it more support by sending their children for supervised play and recreation.

Dates of October 13 and 14 were set for the show, "Going Places," to be staged in the High School Auditorium. Mrs. Leslie Bourne will head the committee for this presentation and it is hoped that the show will become an annual affair.

The charities committee reported that three pairs of shoes had been purchased for indigent children of the community and each member was asked to get clothing to Mrs. John Mallard for girls ranging from the ages of one through nine in order that she might distribute them to a family of children recently left motherless. The club also contributed money toward the purchase of a chaise longue for a crippled child in the community.

Mrs. John Brown received the deep fat fryer, which was given away by the club.

Mrs. Kite Roseberry presented the program which was meal planning for summer months and members exchanged favorite recipes.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Ringle, Mrs. Kite Roseberry, Mrs. Ashby White and Mrs. Sewlyn Smith.

HOLD PICNIC

Last Monday evening the Postal Clerks Wives Club held their annual picnic in the Conway Robinson Park on Route 211. This was an old fashioned basket picnic, and the postal employees, wives and families turned out to enjoy a good get-together. There was plenty of good appetizing food on hand, and it was quite an enjoyable occasion.

IT will be a big day when Caton's Esso Servicenter opens. Watch for date.

Farmers Asked Share Binder Twine Supplies

Virginia farmers are asked to share baler twine supplies and help prevent a shortage, already reported as critical in some counties. The appeal comes from C. D. Jordan, chairman of the State Committee of the Production and Marketing Administration, who has recently made a survey of all counties to determine the supply situation on bale ties for this year's hay crop.

Jordan does not believe that there is a real over-all shortage of twine, rather that it is a matter of improper distribution. He said that PMA has received reports that some farmers have purchased twine in excess of immediate needs. That, he explained, is causing an artificial shortage.

"If farmers will share any baler twine not needed in the near future, supplies should be adequate," Jordan said. "I urgently request all farmers to co-operate in this effort to save Virginia's much-needed hay crop."

As a result of PMA's recent efforts to get more twine into Virginia, manufacturers have scheduled over 100,000 pounds for shipment to several points in the state since June 22. They promise to continue shipments as fast as the twine can be manufactured.

Manufacturers report that sales of baler twine in the period from last October through May 1951 have almost doubled the sales for the same period a year earlier.

Local Breeders
To Use 4-Star Jersey Bull

Clifton S. Wood of Manassas, the local inseminator for the Southeastern Artificial Breeding Association, announced today that local farmers using the artificial breeding service of his organization will now have available for their use the service of Design Signal Forward, R. J. 475,448, registered in the American Jersey Cattle Club as a 4-Star bull with 21 credits.
"Forward" is a medium sized, solid color Jersey of definitely good conformation. He was bred by R. J. Shipman, Shelbyville, Kentucky, and proved by the Thomas Wening Estate, Greensburg, Indiana.
"Forward's" daughters are a very fine group of Jerseys, all having splendid udders, being well attached both fore and rear.

Based on "Forward's" proof compiled from the D. H. I. A. herd books and Jersey HIR, there are 6 of the 9 daughters that exceed their dams in milk, 8 that test higher, and 7 that exceed their dams in butterfat. "Forward's" proof on the average of the 9 dams' 18 records of 7,841 lbs. milk, 4.87% test and 382 lbs. of butterfat as compared with the average of his daughters' 9 records of 8,160 lbs. of milk, 5.34% test and 436 lbs. of butterfat gives him an American Index on 9 pairs of 8,479 lbs. of milk, 5.81% test, and 493 lbs. of butterfat.

Wood went on to say although "Forward" would be kept at the Indiana Artificial Breeding Association's stud in Indiana, his semen would be furnished also to the customers of the Southeastern Artificial Breeding Association at Asheville, North Carolina. Both of these studs are American Breeders Service organizations, furnishing high-index proved sire service in 12 of the 23 States served by that organization.

State Motorists Are Using More Gas

With the vacation season moving into full swing, motorists in Virginia are reported burning more than 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline a day—with the state reaping $125,400, daily in gasoline taxes.

A study of official state figures for the first few months of the year indicates that use of automobiles and trucks will exceed last year's record, according to E. A. Kuhn, Secretary of the Virginia Petroleum Industries Committee.

"With all signs pointing toward a boom vacation season, Virginia drivers in 1951 undoubtedly will set new marks in mileage and gasoline consumption, while the state will break 1950's record of $44,984,000 in state gasoline tax collections," he said.

"On a daily basis, Virginia highway users in the early months of last year averaged 1,850,000 gallons of gasoline on which the state took in $111,000 in state gas taxes each 24 hours."

DOUBIOUS PRACTICES IN PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Not many people know about the salary raise which the Prince William County Board of Supervisors received for themselves.

From January 1, 1937 until July 1, 1950, the Allowance for the entire Board was $1,200 per year and travel allowance. But after Mr. Kincheloe was appointed to the Board in October, 1949, it seems a letter was sent from the Board to Senator Andrew W. Clarke requesting him to introduce a bill in the State Legislature to allow a raise in the pay of the Supervisors.

We do not know what happened because no record was made in the minutes of the board meeting relative to this. But we do know that the following measure was introduced in the Legislature and passed:

Section 14-57 (15) (Code of Virginia), "In any county having an area of more than three hundred forty-five but less than three hundred fifty square miles, the annual compensation of each member of the board shall be not less than six hundred nor more than eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and mileage at the rate of six cents per mile for attendance on meetings of the board."

I wrote a letter to Senator Clarke requesting some information about this but received no reply. Then, I telephoned Mr. Clarke. He said that he had received such a request from the Prince William County Board of Supervisors.

You will see from this that the Board members have had a 200% increase in salary. What if our teachers could get such an increase!

There is no objection to what they are being paid. They are now getting $50.00 per month plus travel allowance which is the minimum allowance and their time is well worth this. But the maximum allowance is $1,800.00 per year for each member of the board and all they have to do in order to get this $1,800.00 is to get the permission of the District Judge.

This shows a jump in the allowance of the Board members from a total of $1,200 per year to a possible total of $10,800.00 and this can be accomplished without either the knowledge or consent of the people.

This matter has never been publicized or brought before the people in any way and the only mention made in the minutes of the Board is the bare announcement that the Judge approved the raise.

Were the Board members afraid of this, or ashamed of it, or why has the public not been informed about it? Do we have a clandestine government in Prince William County?

The same was true about the $41,875.00 that was squandered on school plans that will never be used. Only the barest mention is made of the transfer of the money and the public was never informed.

When I wanted some information about the $75,000.00 jail they were discussing, I could find no mention of the matter in the minutes of the meeting. I had to call on the secretary of the meeting and the newspapers to verify the report.

Arlington county, of course, has gone to the other extreme and they record every word that is spoken in the meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

But in Prince William County you can't even find out who introduces a motion or who seconds it. It is just thrust out as a full grown measure and votes are recorded. What kind of parliamentary procedure is this?

But their worst offense is their seeming effort to hide things from the public. Perhaps in the last few years they have had plenty of reasons for hiding things. But, after all, they are conducting public affairs, spending public money and the public is entitled to know.

Forest Fire Report Given For Virginia

An average of $8.41 per acre of Virginia land went up in smoke last year.

J. W. O'Byrne, Extension forester at V.P.I., says that nonetheless Virginia still stands among the leaders in forest fire protection. Other states are catching up, however.

The newly released U.S. Forest Service report covering 43 states shows that in the eastern group only 14 per cent of Virginia's 14,634 acres of "protected" forest fire land burned in 1950, compared to .08 per cent for Delaware; .11 per cent for Maryland; .24 for Pennsylvania; .52 for New Jersey; .58 for Kentucky; and .62 for West Virginia.

The percentages refer in all cases to protected land burned.

In Virginia, damage to timber is estimated to have been $97,853, and to other property and resources $36,096, making a total of $132,949 lost through forest fires.

The percentages were much higher in the southern group of states, including Tennessee, Georgia, South and North Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana, and Florida.

Of the 2,110 fires reported in Virginia, 797 are attributed to carelessness on the part of smokers, 584 to brush and trash burners, 251 were of incendiary origin, 157 came from railroads, 61 from camp, picnic and warning fires, 19 from lumbering operations, and only 6 from lightning. The cause of the other 235 was either undetermined or from unclassified causes.

Average for the eastern group was .23; average for the southern group was 2.06.

Tip on Proper Seasoning of Lumber Given

The Virginia Forest Service states that seasoning of lumber is one of the most important phases in its manufacture. The period of time from the sawing of the board from a log until its ultimate use is of utmost importance to the manufacturer, as well as the consumer.

With few exceptions, notably construction timbers, lumber is sold by grade. The grade downfall due to improper seasoning runs into millions of dollars each year in the lumber industry.

Two methods are used in seasoning lumber. The oldest and most universally used is air drying. Probably everyone has seen stacked lumber around concentration yards or sawmills. For proper seasoning the lumber should be stacked in such a manner that air can circulate around each board.

A minimum of 90 summer days is necessary for air drying most hardwoods and pine lumber in Virginia. Three types of stacking are used. One method is cross or end racking in which the boards are set on end and form a V pattern or an X pattern. This is the least desirable method used. Although it is the fastest drying system, it probably produces more stain and end warping than any of the other methods. It also requires more yard space. End stacking is another method used by small operators. This method resembles a pile of lumber standing on end. It has several advantages, but like the cross or end racking methods it must be removed reasonably soon after it is adequately dry to prevent degrading. The oldest and most commonly used method is the use of stacks or piles. The boards are placed in horizontal layers with stickers between each layer. A space ten to twelve inches wide is left in the center of each layer to serve as a flue or chimney for better air circulation. Although this is the slowest of the air drying systems, it has the advantage of taking up little space and the piles can be left indefinitely. If the piles have proper foundations and care is taken in stacking the lumber, less loss from stain and other defects are found in this method.

Another method used in drying lumber is the dry kiln. The initial

SOCIAL SECURITY

By Ruth G. Duffy, Manager
Alexandria Social Security Office

In order for you or your family to receive benefit payments, you must be "insured" at the time of your retirement at or after age 65 or at the time of death. You may be fully or currently insured or both, depending on how long and when you worked in employment covered by the Social Security Act.

Technically, the length of time you work in covered employment is not measured in years but in 3-month periods called quarters of coverage. The law divides the year into 4 quarters beginning January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1. You gain a quarter of coverage for each quarter in which you receive wages of at least $50 in covered employment or for which you are credited with at least $100 of covered self-employment income.

You are fully insured if you have at least one quarter of coverage for each two calendar quarters that have passed after 1950. At least 6 quarters of coverage are necessary in every case; when you have 40 quarters, or 10 years of covered work you are fully insured for life.

If you are fully insured, both retirement and survivors' benefits may be paid on your account. However, the dependent husband's and widower's monthly benefits are payable only if the woman worker was both fully and currently insured.

If you should die, your widow and children can receive benefits even if you had not been employed one-half of the time between December 31, 1950 and the date of your death. In death cases, it is only necessary for you to be currently insured—that is, to have worked at least a year and a half outlay and maintenance cost limits its use to large sawmill operators. In this method lumber stacked on trucks is run into kilns where the temperature and humidity are controlled. The lumber is left there until samples show that it has reached the desired state of seasoning.

Farmers or other persons planning to season lumber before building a barn or other building may obtain further information from the Virginia Forest Service, Box 1368, University Station, Charlottesville, Va.

May Cattle Slaughter Less Than Year Ago

The number of cattle, calves and sheep slaughtered in Virginia during May was 9 per cent less than a year ago, while the number of hogs slaughtered was about 10 per cent greater, according to a recent report of the Virginia Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

Although the number of animals slaughtered has increased each month since February in nearly all cases, numbers are still under a year ago, with the exception of hogs. The number of hogs slaughtered has been greater each month when compared with a year earlier, and the average live weight has been heavier.

Livestock slaughtering in Virginia generally followed the United States trend. According to the Crop Reporting Service, the number of cattle slaughtered in the United States in May was 11 per cent under May last year; calf slaughter was 21 per cent less; and the number of sheep and lambs show a 30 per cent decrease in May when compared with May, 1950.

Hog slaughter increased 12 per cent in May of this year as compared with a year earlier.

J. CARL KINCHELOE

I am a candidate for membership on the Board of Supervisors from Manassas District, subject to the Primary to be held August 7, 1951.

When I was asked to accept the appointment created by the resignation of Mr. Johnson, I frankly expressed regret of Mr. Johnson's action because we had long been personal friends and I was closely aware that he had been a valuable public servant. I also expressed the hope that he could be induced to withdraw his resignation. Friends of both him and myself told me they tried to talk him out of resigning, but he was resolute and then only did I agree to accept the appointment.

Doing one's honest best for the public good is a source of satisfaction. Official action of the Board I have found requires the same sort of analysis that is required in farming and business enterprises. I have engaged in these activities for many years and have found since going on the Board that practically all of the problems that come before the Board have some similarities to one or more of the fields of my own endeavor.

If nominated in the Primary and elected in the General Election in November, I pledge that I shall devote the best talents I have to my official duties. If you believe I can serve you creditably and competently, I hope you will support me.

Quality Milk Will Boost Summer Sales

Produce quality milk . . . and you'll keep sales at the maximum level this summer.

That's the advice to Virginia dairy farmers given by Guy Nageotte, associate dairy husbandman at V. P. I.

Here are some specific suggestions:

Milk clean cows. Cows should be washed thoroughly over the udder and flanks with a hot sanitizing solution to remove all dirt and loose hair that may find its way into the milk.

Use clean sterile equipment. Clean and sterilize all equipment immediately after milking. Then before the next milking, rinse again with a sanitizing solution.

Cool quickly. Strain milk through single-service pads and cool quickly to 50 degrees F. or lower if possible.

Prevent off flavors. Most off flavors, which do more to cut milk sales than any single item, come from feed eaten before milking. When garlic is abundant, it is well to take the herd off pasture three or four hours before milking.

Nageotte also warns against marketing milk from an udder which has been treated with an antibiotic until at least three days after the last treatment. Antibiotics are used to combat udder infections.

Masonic, Eastern Star Picnic Greatly Enjoyed

The annual Masonic and Eastern Star picnic was held on Bushong's Lawn, North Main street, last Thursday evening. Quite a large crowd came to enjoy the fellowship and festivities, but about the time the feasting began great drops of rain fell and in a few moments the heavy down pour made every one scurry to the house porches, garage and cars. Nevertheless, after the rain, the fried chicken, hot dogs, potato salad and other good fixings were enjoyed from the porch.

During the evening, folks visited, men swapped yarns, children ate popicles until the shadows fell, when every one went home—damp but happy.
