Prince William County Fair Whopping Success With Record Crowds Attending

County Schools Expect Top Enrollment

Meetings and conferences of principals, teachers and bus drivers will officially knell the Prince William County School bell next week. School will begin Thursday, September 6, at 9 a. m. standard time for all county children with the exception of Occoquan. School here will begin at 9 a. m. daylight time. As far as the teachers are concerned, the school calendar opens Tuesday, September 5. At this time there will be conferences in the individual schools for all teachers. A general teacher meeting will be held later in September. The principals of the schools start the ball rolling tomorrow, Friday, with a meeting in the Osbourn High School library at 10 a. m. DST. In the afternoon, all county bus drivers will meet at the same place at 1 p. m. DST to hear Mr. Wimble, superintendent of school transportation in the state, discuss safety regulations and give instructions to the drivers. Although the schools will open bright and early Thursday, parents won't "get a break" until Friday. School Thursday will formally disband at lunch-time. For Manassas schools, students will be released at 11:35 a. m., and other schools served by the same busses will close approximately one hour later. Superintendent of Schools J. M. Garber said that the school cafeteria will not open until Monday, September 10. Garber also reported four more teachers have been signed, leaving six vacancies. They are: Mrs. Margaret Raabe, sixth grade, Benning; Miss Mildred Bowen, fifth, Haymarket; Mrs. Helen Krull, home economics, Osbourn; and Mrs. Lela Fair, fifth and sixth, Occoquan.

Korean Vets Should Have Physical

Every veteran of the Korean campaign should obtain a complete medical examination immediately upon discharge from the armed forces, the Disabled American Veterans advised today, as a protection for disability claims that may be made in future years. Allen Rogers, Commander of Fairfax County Chapter No. 15, Falls Church, Virginia, urged that parents pass this advice on to their sons: "Immediately upon discharge every veteran of the Korean campaign—or for that matter any one who has served in the armed forces during that period—should obtain a complete medical examination despite the fact that the armed services made one. "Our experience in World War I and World War II has shown that government records often are in error or misplaced. Moreover the record of a reputable private institution or a reliable physician may be invaluable in proving a claim for benefits in later years." The DAV Commander urged that the examination be complete and that full x-rays be taken. He pointed out that discharge papers should be photostated and kept in a safe place. The DAV service office at P. O. Box 153, Falls Church, Virginia, will be happy to assist veterans, he said, in filing disability claims and advising them of their rights under existing laws.

John Haydon Heads Fraternity at VPI

John S. Haydon, R. 2, Nokesville, is among the college students who will direct campus activities at Virginia Tech, which opens its 80th session at Blacksburg on September 19. A senior in metallurgical engineering, Haydon will head the VPI chapter of Alpha Sigma Mu, a national honorary fraternity for metallurgical engineers.

Korean Vet Buried Today

Funeral services for Joseph Francis Slason, Jr. of Quantico were held Thursday, August 30, from the Triangle Baptist Church with interment in the Triangle Cemetery. Slason, 24-year-old Marine, was killed in Korea September 24, 1950. He is survived by his father, Joseph, one brother and five sisters. Another brother was killed in World War II.

Free Dinner Only Loot For School Thieves

A burglar or burglars broke into the Haymarket School last Thursday night but found little loot to steal. J. M. Garber, schools superintendent, reported that the thieves broke a window out of the principal's office in order to gain entrance into the school. They stole an unestimated amount of small change from the principal's office and helped themselves to a free dinner in the cafeteria. According to a preliminary inventory, this was all they pilfered. Garber said that there was nothing else in the building of value to steal. Sheriff Kerlin's office reported they were working on the case but that it had not been solved when the Journal went to press. Deputy Sheriff Alvey has been assigned to the case. Garber did not report the theft until late Friday as he was unable to reach the sheriff or one of his deputies until almost 18 hours after the crime had been committed.

Clear Will Run In Coles Race

Christopher Clear of Coles District has filed papers to run in the general election in November for the Coles seat on the Board of Supervisors. Clear has had his petition signed and taken out the necessary papers. He will run against primary winner Bradford Lowe, a political newcomer, and Francis Van Doren, retired government employee. A fourth candidate, George Brunker, may also throw his hat into the ring. Brunker has taken out petition papers, but has not filed officially. Brunker is working on his petition papers at the present time. Dr. and Mrs. John Ringler will return this week from an extensive motor trip and vacation in Canada.

Warrenton Show Opens September 1

The thirty-second Warrenton Horse Show, known as the "hunter show of America," is scheduled Saturday, Sunday and Monday of the Labor Day weekend. Top horses and riders of the East regularly compete in this event, and this year will be offered a chance at prize money totaling $4,710 as well as many trophies. An added attraction this year will be the Olympic try-outs, open to amateur riders and horses "of stamina and ability," both to be candidates for competition in the National Olympic Equestrian trials at Fort Riley, Kan. The International Olympic Games are to be held in Helsinki, Finland, next year. The three-day show is divided into divisions for breeding horses, green conformation hunters, regular conformation hunters, working hunters, jumpers and junior hunters. Hunter and breeding classes will be judged by Charles J. Barrie of Teaneck, N. J., and Thomas Waller of Bedford Hills, N. Y., and jumper classes by Brig. Gen. Frederic Boye of Warrenton and Col. Wayne O. Kester of Washington, D. C.

Yorkshire Civic Group To Meet September 4

The Yorkshire Civic Group met this month and reported on a number of projects. The road committee stated that Yorkshire Lane will soon be blacktopped as requested. The mailbox committee announced that 35 mailboxes will be moved to the other side of the highway and grouped together under a shelter. Mrs. E. L. Peacher was elected to replace Mrs. L. W. Lawson as secretary of the group. Mrs. Lawson had resigned. The group will hold its September meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Roy Helms on Yorkshire Lane at 8 p. m. DST.

County Gets Bigger Share Of ABC Profits

Prince William County will receive $5,003.07 more as its share of Alcoholic Beverage Control profits for 1951 than it did in 1950, according to recent figures released from Richmond. In 1950, the county's allotment was $53,678.46 as compared with $58,681.53 for 1951. The increase does not mean that the county's per capita of spirits is up but is due to the increase in population. Largest increase in allotments are in Fairfax, Arlington and Falls Church because of population growth. Arlington will receive $417,499.47 as its annual share of the board receipts compared to $205,106.78 last year. The allotment to Fairfax will be upped from $125,483.46 to $286,222.73, while Falls Church will get $23,225.41 compared to $9,262.84 in 1950. Alexandria Share Up. Alexandria's share this year will be $190,448.36 as against $120,542.80 last year. Altogether $10,229,290 will be divided this year, compared with $9,628,799 last year. New census figures will be used in making the per capita pay off. Virginia's 1950 population is shown at 3,318,680, compared with 2,677,773 in 1940. This means a cut in the per capita distribution of liquor profits from $3.59 to $3.08. Localities where the population is increasing will get a larger allotment. Some localities will get less than last year. Among nearby counties where the distribution of profits will be less than in 1950 are Culpeper, Fauquier and Loudoun. C. E. Snapp of Winchester was a business visitor here on Wednesday.

$4,475.30 For Cancer Drive

Prince William County raised a total of $4,475.30 toward 1951 Cancer Crusade, it was reported this week in figures released by the Virginia Division of the American Cancer Society. Prince William stood high in the list of counties reporting. Mrs. Turner Wheeling and Col. James Keating were co-chairmen in charge of the county drive. Dr. Guy R. Fisher, Staunton, division campaign chairman, announced that Virginia had far exceeded its goal of $242,000. He stated that the drive which started in April has produced a total of $298,750.20 to date and that several communities have not yet made final reports. As of July 30th, the country as a whole had reached 98 percent of its goal. Dr. Fisher reported that much of the increase in campaign contributions in Virginia over those of

Farm Prices Show Decline

Prices received by Virginia farmers as of mid-July showed a continued decline when compared with previous months this year, the Virginia Cooperative Crop Reporting Service said this week. Commodities showing the greatest decline are wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, soybeans, hay, lamb, and wool. Lower prices on most of these items are attributed to new supplies moving to market. Increased prices were reported for apples, rye, hogs, milk, and eggs.

County Fair Attracts 9000

Thousands of Prince William County folk turned out for the 2nd annual County Fair held at Longview Speedway last weekend. Fair officials estimate that approximately 9000 persons visited the grounds during the three-day convocation. There were over 5000 paid admissions and counting children who got in gratis, this figure is not surprising. The fair got a shot in the arm Friday and Saturday nights with the grandstand musical shows blaring hillbilly music throughout the grounds. Connie B. Gay and Grandpa Jones played to the largest audience Friday night. Elaborate exhibits and top-quality amusements were also responsible for putting the show "over the top." The fair was sponsored by the County Veterans Farm Club headed by Joe Johnson of Manassas. The Journal lists a partial tally of the winners, but since the master copies have been misplaced by Fair officials, we are not able to give a complete listing of all winners. Billy Johnson, Manassas, W. W. Davis, Harry Miller, and Ted Shepherd walked off with top honors in the dairy cattle judging with their Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein female and Holstein bull animals in respective order. Lester Parsons, Jr., Delbert O. Meera and L. R. Cowne, Jr. captured the top fitting and showing awards of the show. L. L. Parsons and Sons ran away with the top awards in the Beef Cattle entries with their Hereford female and bull while Belted Fields Farm, Haymarket, took the Angus classes handsily. A county "foreigner" outgussed the local experts in the Weigh-Guessing contest. G. W. Hungerford of Falls Church won when he guessed the combined weights of the three animals within 15 pounds. B. E. O'ough, Woodbridge, and Mrs. J. C. Goode of Manassas finished second and third respectively. H-D BOOTHS 1. Nokesville Senior H-D Club; 2. Manassas; 3. Wellington. ## New Town Council To Meet Saturday For Organization

Positive action on a number of subjects was postponed at Monday night's Town Council meeting in favor of the new council. The new council will be organized Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Town Hall. At this time, Harry Parrish and Edgar Rohr will take their newly-elected posts in place of Ferris Que and G. Wallace Hook. Que was defeated for reelection while Hook did not run. At this meeting, a vice-mayor may be elected to serve in the absence of Mayor Harry P. Davis as well as officers for the posts of secretary and treasurer of the council. Both Rohr and Parrish have been attending the past meetings since they were elected in order to familiarize themselves with the problems they will face. Que was not present for Monday night's meeting. It was reported that he was "out of town." The Council did take some action

Loss Of Lettermen Worries Already Mournful Jim Leo

"Roughest schedule we ever had," wistfully moaned Jim Leo sprawled in a deck chair in front of his home here. On this note, football fever struck again. Leo, Osbourn High School coach, has had eighteen grid hopefuls pounding the summer-soft turf next to Osbourn working into shape for the September 21 opener with Culpeper. Of these, only seven are lettermen from last year's successful team which racked up six wins against only two losses. Leo is especially moaning the loss of so many veteran performers like Rudy Pittman and Bo Black. When asked whether he would use the T formation or single-wing, Leo replied, "Are you kidding?" We haven't had a quarterback to make the "T" work since Jackie Saylor's Junior year. Although short of men right now, Leo is confident that with the opening of school next week, he will have 45 men out for practice. The team has been working out this week in the mornings, but Tuesday they switch to practice at 3:30 in the afternoon. Leo is counting heavily on a small nucleus from last year, including co-captains Haynes Davis and Warren Harrover. Davis fills the key position at center while Leo hasn't decided where to play Harrover in the line. Last year, Warren was at guard, but Leo is giving serious thought to moving Harrover's 193 pounds to tackle where he is more needed. Joe Burrer at guard is another man Leo is counting heavily on to improve and bolster his line. Bobby Payne and Brice Corder are expected to bear the brunt of his offensive game in the backfield. Corder at fullback is improving while Payne is already the good back that Leo wishes he had more of. "If we can spring Bobby through the line this year like we did Bobby Wayland last year, we should be all right," Leo dreamed. Leo is considering moving Payne to left-half. Besides running, Leo is depending on Payne to take up Wayland's passing duties. Two other key men are expected to give Osbourn a good first string in little in reserve. Dave Barbee is slated for the quarterback slot if he keeps showing improvement while the surprise man on the squad, predicts Leo, is freshman Frank Hoss, a 6-ft. 2-in. 150-pound end. Leo's only remark on Hoss was, "Boy, can he catch a pass!" If Payne can get his passing down, they should make quite an offensive punch. With Tom Kelso at the other end, things are not as dark as some forecast. Rounding out the line, Leo has 185-pound Carey Corder, George Helms, Arthur Patton, E. W. Hurl, Jr. and Jackie Carhart. In the backfield, Leo is hoping newcomer Ralph Truesdale will bolster the squad. Truesdale is a transfer from Mt. Vernon High. Bill Butler should also be able to share the running chores for Leo's giants.

MANAGER TED SHEPHERD has a right to be disgusted with his Nokesville ball players who failed to show up at Bristersburg Sunday. The lack of interest has probably cost him the pennant. Nokesville lost chance to move within one game of White Oak, and with the Macs scheduled to play White Oak before the season's finish, the league could have seen a tie for first. Nokesville is virtually out of it now since White Oak will have to lose two more games if Nokesville is to tie them.

OSBOURN HIGH COACH Jim Leo has a novel idea for next year's softball play. He is thinking of contacting an Oregon softball team to play an exhibition here against one of the local teams. The unusual part of the deal is that the Oregon team uses only four men—that's right, FOUR! And they've only lost three games in five years—quite a record.

RUSSELL POLEN is hard at work recruiting talent for the Hawks basketball team. Polen said that practice will start in "a couple months." Kinda rushing the season, ain't you Russ?

The Atlantic Rural Exposition, the Official State Fair of Virginia, will take place in Richmond, Sept. 23 through Oct. 6.

"Upset The Rule" Sunday As Nokesville, White Oak Lose

Overconfidence may be the deciding factor in the A Division pennant race. Nokesville, two games out of first place, showed up at Bristersburg with nine men and this proved their undoing as they dropped a close one 4-2.

Meanwhile, Triangle turned the tables on White Oak to the tune of 5-4 behind the five-hit pitching of Top Amidon. If Nokesville hadn't lost, they would be only one game out of the loop lead, and with Manassas having another wack at White Oak in the league finale, it could be anybody's flag.

Elsewhere in the league, Manassas proved to be the only dependable club of the top three and they weakened at times. The Macs edged Occoquan, scoring the winning run in the ninth after tying the game up in the eighth.

Jackie Saylor singled, stole second, went to third on Beahn's error and scored on Monk Crabill's single to wrap the game up for the Macs in the ninth.

Elsewhere, Gainesville continued Sunday's record of upsets, knocking off Warrenton 8-2. Warrenton is vainly trying to clinch the B Division flag, but Hume still has a mathematical chance with Gainesville's surprise win.

This Sunday, the Macs are host

Inspected Frozen Food Volume Up 75 Pct.

The volume of canned and frozen food officially inspected for quality in Virginia during the past fiscal year showed a 75 percent increase over last year, reports James E. Marine of the Virginia Division of Markets.

Canned and bottled fruits and vegetables accounted for 90 percent of the total 69 million pounds inspected.

The processed foods inspection, explains Marine, is made available to processors and buyers through a cooperative agreement between the Virginia Division of Markets and the United States Department of Agriculture. By the agreement, all grading is done on official U. S. standards.

The most important commodities inspected, volume-wise, were apple sauce, sliced apples, tomatoes, apple butter, and jellies.

Arrangements have been completed for quality inspection of State purchases of fruits and vegetables. The inspection of State purchases done in the past fiscal year, the volume is expected to be considerably this year, Marine says.

HOME - MAKING IDEAS

Watermelon Rinds
For a real treat get a watermelon! The most popular methods still in use are growing, begging or buying or stealing. Time was when to purloin a watermelon was not a felony but today it might be considered risky and is not endorsed by this department. Ask any country boy or girl who has raised 'em how to pick a ripe one and you'll get a half dozen sure ways of dealing with this important operation. After disposing of the chilled sweetmeat in the tastiest manner and you're left alone with the nice thick rinds—don't stop! Peel off all the green portion leaving only the white part. Cut into small cubes and soak overnight (1-2 C. salt to 1 gallon water.) Remove from the salt water and cook in clear water for about 30 minutes, or until tender. Drain well. For 4 pounds (11 cups) of the melon rind, make a syrup of:
8 C. sugar
8 C. water
4 lemons sliced
4 cinnamon sticks
4 t. cloves

The spices in cheesecloth bag and boil with syrup for 5 minutes before adding rinds. Cook rinds until transparent and clear. If desired, a few minutes before removing from heat add enough green or red fruit coloring to tint preserves. Remove spice bag, pour into sterilized jars and seal.
Watermelon Pickles
Peel and remove green and pink portions from watermelon rind. Cut in 1 inch cubes and soak overnight in salt water (4 T salt to 1 qt. water), drain, cover with fresh water and cook until almost tender. Drain the watermelon and make a syrup:
8 C. sugar
4 C. vinegar
8 t. whole cloves
16 sticks cinnamon
Tie spices in cheesecloth bag and heat with syrup to boiling point. Allow to set 15 minutes. Add the drained rind and cook until clear and transparent. If desired a few minutes before removing from the heat, add enough green or red fruit coloring to color the pickle. Pack boiling hot into sterilized jars and seal at once.

More Poultry, Eggs Consumer Identified

Consumers are becoming more convinced of the value of officially identifying poultry and eggs, says H. S. Shomo, Poultry and Egg supervisor for the Virginia Division of Markets.

According to an annual report recently issued by Shomo, the volume of dressed poultry officially graded has almost doubled during the past year. Twenty-one percent more eggs were graded this year under this program than during the 1948-1950 period.

Although some of the grading is done as a basis for trade on the wholesale market, more than half the poultry and approximately 70 percent of the eggs graded had the quality identification carried through to the consumer by means of metal wing tags and consumer egg carton labels.

Area Is Top Producer Of Beef Cattle

Southwest Virginia, heretofore regarded as the leading cattle production area in the state, was outstripped by the upper Valley and northern counties in 1949.

J. D. Johnson, associate agricultural economist for Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, says the 1950 census revealed the "surprising fact" that the income from cattle and calves sold by farmers in northern counties exceeded that received by southwest Virginia farmers by more than $3,000,000.

Income in Loudoun and Fauquier counties combined was equal to 52 percent of the total income from sales of cattle and calves in all 17 counties of southwest Virginia.

During the period from 1945 to 1950, cattle numbers in the state increased 49,000, up 18 percent; while the number of farms producing cattle declined by more than 3,000, down 7 1/2 percent. This trend was particularly pronounced in the northern counties, where 14 percent fewer farmers reported 21 percent more cattle on farms in 1950 than in 1945.

Ranked in order of the amount of income from that source, the three leading counties in the northern area are Loudoun, Fauquier, and Rockingham.

When the income from sales of all livestock products is considered, including milk, eggs, and poultry, the importance of northern counties is again shown, Johnson says. In 1949, the northern area received $60,000,000 from sales of all livestock, slightly more than double the income in the southwest.

With the exception of the urban county of Arlington, all of the 15 counties in the north showed increases in the number of cattle and calves on farms during the five-year period ending in 1950. Clarke, Madison, Page, and Warren counties had increases exceeding 30 percent, while the average increase for the area was 21 percent.

School... Drive Carefully

With school opening in Prince William County next week, much emphasis is placed on careful driving by motorists, whether it be driving through a school zone, meeting a school bus or driving on streets where youngsters walk and play while going to and from school.

"Expect the unexpected from children," says Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., superintendent of State Police and executive chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

"Motorists who ignore the law requiring a full stop when meeting or overtaking a bus while it is loading or unloading risk a charge of reckless driving," he said, and added that motorists should assume more than their legal responsibility at all times and places to compensate for youthful indiscretion.

In pointing out that 1950 saw 183 young people of high school age and below killed in Virginia traffic with another 5,109 injured, Colonel Woodson reminds drivers that the vicinities of schools and playgrounds as well as all residential districts are danger spots and that it was imperative to drive at slow speeds and be prepared for a sudden stop or evasive action.

Taking our cue from Colonel Woodson, let's manifest our responsibility to the children by driving with utmost care and caution.

New Town Administration

The Town of Manassas gets a new administration when the Council meets Saturday night for reorganization with two new members taking their seats on the town governing body.

The new set-up includes two veteran councilmen, Roy Doggett and Mrs. Sedrick Saunders, and Councilmen-elect Edgar Rohr and Harry Parrish, who succeed G. Wallace Hook and Ferris Gue. Mayor Harry Davis continues at the helm by virtue of re-election.

In bringing the present administration to a close in their final meeting Monday night, Mayor Davis pointed out that the administration had had many controversies and expressed the hope that there should be no prejudice against any councilman for whatever has been done.

Like Mayor Davis, we see the dire need for more harmony in the Council if the community is to attain the objectives necessary to the greater development of Manassas.

Suffering growing pains, Manassas has many problems. It must present a united front to solve these problems. The citizens look to the new town administration to provide the leadership, necessary to meet this challenge.

TO HEAR FAIR REPORT

The next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be Tuesday, September 4th at 7:00 p. m. (DST) at the Manassas Coffee Shop. It will be a meeting to hear a report on the recent county fair from E.

W. Thompson and Joseph Johnson. They will tell of the success of this year's fair and the plans for next year.

Correspondents are requested to send copy in early.

Letters To The Editor

Haymarket, Virginia, August 25, 1951.

Editor,
The Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Va.
Dear Sir:

In the last issue of the Manassas Journal was an article on Manassas Presbyterian Church, in which it was stated that the Nokesville Presbyterian Church, founded in 1848, was the oldest Presbyterian Church in Prince William County, and that the Manassas Church, founded in 1850 came next.

In this connection, I would like to submit the following: Between 1802 and 1810, a small log church was erected in Greenwell, and in this Church in 1810, was organized the first Presbyterian Congregation, which has come down in an unbroken line to the present time. By 1812, the Congregation had grown to such an extent that the original log church could not hold them, and this was torn down and a much larger log structure erected. This latter was in use for nearly 50 years, or until the present brick church, built between 1854 and 1858, was ready for occupancy.

I also have reason to believe that there was a Presbyterian Church at Minnerville, destroyed in the sixties, which was older than either the Manassas or Nokesville Churches. The Nokesville Church was revived about 1920, but was unable to stand. The building is now gone. The name Rev. J. Garland Hamner should be Rev. John Garland Hammond.

Yours truly,
CHAS. J. GILLISS.

The double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight on Sunday, Aug. 12, at the bride's home, with the Rev. Robert Walters of Waverly Place Methodist Church officiating.

Miss Garber Married To C. E. Conner

In a wedding performed Tuesday evening, August 14th, at eight o'clock in the Pleasant Valley Church of the Brethren, Miss Geraldine Garber, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Garber of Weyers Cave, became the bride of Mr. Carroll Edward Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Conner and the late Mr. Conner of Manassas in a double ring ceremony performed by Dr. M. R. Wolfe of Bridgewater.

Candelabra with tall cathedral chimes, palms, summer greens and baskets matching the candelabra of white gladioli formed the background for the wedding.

Mrs. Amos Andes, Jr. of Bealton rendered a program of nuptial music.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white satin with a fitted bodice and a full skirt that ended in a long cathedral train. Many satin buttons fastened the dress in front which had a tiny lace Peter Pan collar and lace yoke. Her veil of illusion fell from a lace cap bordered with illusion ruffling. She carried a large bouquet of bride's roses, showered with baby's breath and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Oliver Cline, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of orchid organza over tulle designed with a Peter Pan collar and a full gathered skirt which was held tight with a long sash around the waist.

Her double bow pleated headress was made of matching material. Other attendants were Misses Elizabeth Mason, Bassett, Charlotte Kolner, Weyers Cav, Thelma Conner, sister of the bridegroom, Manassas, and Barbara Kirby, Orono. Their gowns were identical in style to the matron of honor's in shades of blue green and yellow. Their headresses were also identical. The vows were taken before an improvised altar of white lilies, hydrangeas, cathedral candles and the impressive double ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a very becoming dark blue sheer dress and a corsage of gardenias.

A reception for immediate relatives and close friends of the bride and groom was held at Mrs. Dinges' home immediately after the ceremony.

Protect Stored Grain

Against Insect Pests How can such huge numbers of insects suddenly show up in stored grain?

Entomologists have a ready answer for that one. As you know, weevils and such insects multiply fast.

How fast? Well, J. O. Rowell, entomologist at V. P. I., estimates. For example, that one pair of rice weevils, one of which is a female laying 300 eggs, can build up in five broods in about six months to more than 152 billion weevils.

Of course, that's under very favorable conditions. But it does illustrate the kind of trouble a grower can run into if he waits until his grain is crawling with insects.

You can't rid old wooden bins of some insects by ordinary cleaning methods. As soon as wooden bins are emptied and as long as possible before they are refilled, spray them. Sprays satisfactory for treating bins are emulsions or water suspensions containing 2 1/2 percent by weight of DDT, TDE, methoxychlor, or chlordane. An emulsion containing 1 percent by weight of piperonyl butoxide and 1-10 of one percent of pyrethrins is also satisfactory.

Accumulations of waste grain and feed, as well as infested grain and feed on hand, often cause infestations. Be sure to clean out all such possible sources of insects before new grain is put in storage. Fumigate your grain then as soon as it is in the bin.

If you are not equipped to fumigate grain, Rowell suggests using Pyrethone Grain Protectant at the rate of 100 pounds per 1,000 bushels of corn. It can be applied to shucked ear corn, as well as to shelled corn, and gives adequate protection at a cost of about 2 cents per bushel. Using the protectant directly on corn to give residual protection is possible only because the treated grain can be used for human and livestock consumption.

Surplus Milk Feed For Stock

Dairy incomes might be upped by using low-priced surplus milk to feed and stimulate growth of calves for herd replacements. G. Connelly, dairy husbandman at V.P.I., said prices for half-calves have climbed to a point where it will be profitable to get good growth with surplus milk which is selling at low prices. He noted that whole milk is worth at least $3 per 100 pounds when used as feed for heifer calves. Properly fed on whole milk the calves can gain up to two pounds daily. Connelly figures that 100 pounds of whole milk will produce about 10 pounds additional weight for calves.

The calves for herd replacements should be from a line of good cows with good records. At the age of about 7 months, the milk-fed calves will be ready to go on good pasture and grain.

More Cattle On Grass; Fewer On Feed Crop

The number of cattle on pastures and ranges this summer is probably considerably larger than last summer, reports the U. S. D. A. Marketings of cattle off grass for slaughter may be only a little above last year because of the large number of cows and heifers that will be kept for breeding herds and the prospective strong demand for cattle to go on feed.

The U. S. D. A. reports that little, if any, increase is likely in the number of fed cattle to be marketed the rest of this year compared with 1950. On July 1, 9 percent fewer cattle were on feed in the corn belt than a year ago. This reduction is reflected by a slower movement from grass to feed lots this summer than last.

Fewer of the cattle on feed this July were of the heavy weights nearly ready for slaughter the U. S. D. A. reports. This indicates that slaughter of fed cattle in August to September will probably be below last year. The number slaughtered in the last months of 1951 is expected to be unusually large for that season, repeating the seasonal pattern that prevailed at the same time last year. Slaughter of fed cattle last year could be up to the 1950 level if large numbers of cattle should move off grass into feed lots in late summer.

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. President to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

Sheep Good Insurance For Cattle Business

Sheep are insurance for a meat producing farm, says George Litton, associate animal husbandman at V.P.I.

"You'll never see lambs and wool and cattle all lose money the same year," he says.

Sheep and cattle together make better use of pasture, Litton points out. In an area where a farmer can't pasture another cow, he can keep six sheep, because sheep eat

90 percent of the natural weeds at some stage of growth, while cattle will eat only 10 percent. Then, too, cattle will graze grasses sheep will leave, so pastures are better off with both sheep and cattle. Six yearling ewes, which are rated as being equal to one cow, will cost $222, and will produce a lamb each which will bring between $25 and $30. The total lamb check should be at least $180, and the wool another $50, making $230 gross on the $222 investment the first year. Wong, used by at least 100,000, 000 Chinese, is the world's most common family name.

With Alfalfa Seed... YIELD COUNTS NOT COSTS!

It is not the price you pay per pound of alfalfa seed that really counts. But the yield per acre at harvest time. Often you can purchase unadapted seed at 5c to 10c per pound less than Southern States adapted, known-origin alfalfa seed. But this $1.00 to $2.00 per acre saving means nothing if you lose a single cutting on your entire crop.

So for bigger yields, and sure yields... use Southern States adapted, known-origin Alfalfa Seed. You're certain of a profitable crop when you sow Southern States!

Oklahoma . . . $44.25 bu.
Buffalo . . . $51.60 bu.
