Baseball fans are having their fill of the national pastime this week. That torrid three-game playoff between the Giants and Dodgers has kept the fans glued to radio or television, and starting today it's the Yanks and the Giants the World Series opener. Mighty and to get your mind on business while these games are going on.

Fine response to the bloodmobile visit here yesterday. People of all ages and all walks of life went forth to donate a pint of blood. One lady was mighty disappointed when she was rejected, though she had given blood on previous occasions.

Coming events... Lions Circus October 17th... Junior Women's Club musical show, October 12-13. It's sure a busy time for those engaged in promoting these affairs. A dull moment in Manassas.

Success to Howard Day who opened a barber shop at Triangle, one of the fastest growing communities in this section of the state... enjoyed lunch with Dudley Martin who seems to keep very much on the go with his automobile business and outside activities... chat and cup of coffee with George Purvis of Quantico Motor... glad to meet Frank Stephens, proprietor of Stephens Drug... the usual hale and hearty meeting from Salesman Flynn at the Motors... a long visit with Margaret's efficient postmistress, Margaret Reid.

Superintendent of Schools J. M. Barker made a fine talk at Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday. He like Prince William citizens getting solidly behind the superintendent in his efforts to secure needed school facilities for the county.

Glances... Mrs. Robinson helped out at Hyson's Department... Rev. Wood and R. J. Hyland talking automobiles... Parks handling his some... R. C. Powell beaming all over... a grandpa for the day.

New Twist To Egg Trading Featured At Lion's Circus

An egg for an egg isn't always a bargain it seems to be according to Miss Margie who is anxious about trading an ostrich egg for a goose egg. The clown, sawdust and the hilarity parade, is one of the leading contributors to the buffonery coming to town with the Lions Club Three-Ring Circus. Members of the local group are sponsoring the Mills Bros. Three-Ring Circus Menagerie and Horse Show Combined, world's largest motorized circus, here on October 17, one day only, to help raise money for the organization's sight conservation fund. Selected international stars from 18 nations, a ponderous herd of elephants weighing in excess of 40 tons, plus thrills and color and pageantry traditional with major traveling circuses, are featured with the 1951 edition of Mills Bros. Reserved and general admission seats are available now at the Prince William Sunrises Shop.

CONSERVE WATER
"Due to the present water situation, all citizens using water from the Town of Manassas are requested to conserve all water possible," Hunton Tiffany, Acting Town Manager announced yesterday. Tiffany elaborated that while the situation here is not yet critical, he is looking ahead into the immediate future concerning the locality's water shortage.

Van Doren Is Acquitted In Pig Case Here

Two Coles District men were acquitted of charges of stealing pigs from Edward W. Parnell, also of Coles District. The two men acquitted are Francis S. Van Doren and L. V. Sutton. The case was heard Wednesday in Trial Justice Court before Judge C. Lacey Compton.

Van Doren took the stand and admitted selling two of the three pigs. Van Doren said they strayed onto his property and that he had requested Parnell to come get the pigs on numerous occasions which Parnell did not do. Judge Compton threw the case out of court on the grounds of insufficient evidence. Parnell took the stand and reported that someone lowered the bars on the pig pen allowing the animals to run loose. However, there was no proof who did this and Parnell could not offer evidence indicating anyone.

October Draft Quota Cut Back to Five Men

Secretary of the County Draft Board Mrs. R. Worth Peters announced that Selective Service Headquarters in Richmond has cut Prince William's draft quota for October from 10 to five men.

The Board announced last week that the quota would be ten which was an abnormal increase since the quota has recently been one a month. While the men have not been named for October yet, they will leave October 30 for induction.

Burke Farmer Loses Round 1 In Controversy

A Fairfax County Farmer Wednesday lost the opening round in his District Court fight to prevent construction of the Burke Airport. Through his attorneys, Jones Jasper contended that the Government lacks the power to condemn land in Virginia for an airport for citizens of Washington, D. C. Jasper claimed that low-flying aircraft will interfere with production on his farm and lessen its value. Jasper's farm is located next to the proposed strip.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff dismissed the petition of the farmer who sought an injunction.

New Quarters Are Needed By Triangle P. O.

One of the busiest little postoffices in the state is at Triangle, Va., where Miss Margaret Reid, postmistress, and two assistants, actually climb over the mailbags in an effort to render service to this fast-growing community.

In a dilapidated little building that looks more like a shack than a post office, Postmistress Reid and her assistants are making the best of a situation that calls for remedy—either larger quarters or a new post office building.

The present quarters, which offers only 240 square feet of floor space, presents quite a state of confusion when the mail comes in, with barely enough elbow room for the employees to say nothing of standing room for the postoffice patrons.

The postoffice, which bears a third-class status, is fast approaching second-class as volume of mail continues to mount. The first quarter of the 1951-52 fiscal year, July 1 through September 30, showed receipts have doubled over the same quarter of last year.

A recent survey revealed that the postoffice serves a population of 2,617. Postmistress Reid remarked that she doesn't know what she and her staff will do when the Christmas mail starts pouring in. Money-orders, parcel post and forwarding addresses are especially heavy because of the large number of patrons in the armed forces.

The postoffice department at present is attempting to secure new and larger quarters for the Triangle office but have had difficulty finding a suitable building or any property owner willing to erect a building at the rental which the postoffice department is willing to pay for a third-class postoffice.

Meantime, Postmistress Reid is hoping and waiting. "If we could only get in new quarters before Christmas," she said.

Citizens Committee Urged By School Board Wednesday

School Board Okays Changes In The County

Several changes in the personnel of the county schools has been approved. The County School Board approved all new teachers, bus drivers and resignations since the last meeting in September.

The Board concurred in Superintendent Garber's action of requesting the resignation from school bus driver Cornelius Quinn of Nokesville who drove a bus for the Occoquan schools. It was reported that Quinn had been driving the bus to his home in Nokesville from Occoquan on weekends on county taxpayers gasoline and that he had been driving in a reckless manner.

Another resignation came from Mrs. Carolyn Gray, elementary teacher at Woodbine. The Grays had been waiting four years for adoption papers to be approved for a child. The papers were finally approved and she was let out of her contract in order to care for the child.

New teachers approved are Mrs. Marilyn H. Edwards, Dumfries; Mrs. Barbara H. Eanls (temporary), Occoquan; Mrs. Mary Catherine Wolfe, Occoquan; Mrs. W. R. Free, Joseph Pimonte and Mrs. Hollie Fleming (temporary), Brentsville; Mrs. Luella S. Eutsler and Mrs. Lula D. McManaway, Osborn; Mrs. Alda Knapp, Bennett; and Mrs. Irene Espenshade.

Bus drivers approved are Frank West, Clyde Schooler, P. J. Raimondi, James Peters, and William A. Harvey.

Junior Cowne Awarded VPI Scholarship

Outstanding recognition has been given to L. R. "Junior" Cowne, 1951 graduate of the Brentsville District High School, Cowne has been awarded a $150 scholarship by the Sears' Roebuck Agricultural Foundation.

This award was made in recognition of his agricultural achievements and leadership activities over the past few years and is to apply to his first year's work in Dairy Husbandry at V. P. I. where he is now enrolled as a freshman.

Since enrolling in the vocational course and becoming a member of the Future Farmers of America Chapter, at the Nokesville school, he has served as Secretary and Reporter of the chapter, was a member of the dairy cattle judging team representing Virginia at the Atlantic Rural Exposition, and has been active in dairy cattle production and showing of his animals in the various shows held in this area.

His show winnings with dairy cattle have totaled more than $300.00 and in addition he has been awarded trophies, a show halter and a purebred dairy heifer, the latter at the Prince William County Fair in 1950.

Deploing the present school facilities, the Prince William County School Board Wednesday formally agreed to urge the setting up of a "citizen's committee" in the county. The purpose of the committee will be to survey the county needs and make a recommendation as to how the situation may be improved.

The Board gave Superintendent Garber the green light to get the committee organized. The committee will be composed of from three to six members from each county district representing the PTA's as well as other service organizations such as Lions, Kiwanis, Ruritan and Women's clubs. Representatives will be picked by the individual clubs.

At the same meeting, Garber brought up the fact that Prince William County is now carrying an unproportional load of financing the Technical and Vocational School. Garber cited enrollment figures which show that school attendance there has dropped from 318 last year to 194 this year, yet teaching contracts have been signed for the full year in anticipation of the same enrollment this year as last.

Not a County School
The school is not a county school but a regional dependent which many Northern Virginia counties are supposed to support. Prince William runs the school and charges $400 tuition to the other counties for each student they send.

Garber will confer with state officials in an attempt to force several uncooperative county superintendents to share the financial burden. Garber stated that Prince William County funds for the school will last approximately "through the first semester." After that, no one knows.

In other business, the Board...
Approved the bills including a $3,509.36 payment to Bruce Noland Co. of Warrenton for construction of the Washington-Reid Elementary School. This is the last payment on the school except for $1,000 which will not be paid until a number of improvements are made by Noland. These will probably be completed this week, Noland reported.

Approved the purchase of playground equipment for Bennett, Baldwin and Nokesville schools for this year.

Put off a request to alter the bus route in the Hoadley area. Messers Blankenship and Blake requested the Board to have the bus go up Route 641 1.8 miles to pickup several small children who had to walk this distance to meet the bus.

Appointed Mrs. Nellie Purvis as the Board delegate to the Virginia Education Association meeting in Richmond October 28 and 29. Mrs. Olive Hooker was named alternate delegate.

Accidents Hurt Three Persons Over Weekend

Three accidents in the Manassas area last weekend injured three persons.

Clarence Cornwell and Mrs. John Spencer were injured when the taxi they were riding in overturned following a blowout on the Wellington road about 10 a. m. Saturday. Cornwell suffered a brain concussion while Mrs. Spencer, passenger in the cab, suffered cuts and bruises.

In a freak accident Friday, phone service between Manassas and Yorkshir and Centerville was disrupted all night when a large trailer-truck broke phone wires on the Centerville Road opposite the Drive-In Theater. Fred Martin, route 3, Manassas, reported that he drove to his home on route 616 just east of the theater, but returning to the highway, he snagged the low-hanging wires. Telephone Co. repairmen worked all night and had service restored by 9 a. m. Saturday. Martin is a driver for Ray Stone Transfer, Martinsville, Va.

A Massachusetts woman was hurt at the intersection of routes 15 and 55, called by police as the most dangerous intersection in the county. Dr. Wade C. Payne of Haymarket was not injured when the visitor's car collided with his.

SWEET POTATO TIME
Starting from their native soil in the Americas to the south of us, sweet potatoes have traveled far, picking up nicknames as they went. "Murphies," and "laters" by whatever name you call them, you can count on them through thick and thin.

Wherever the sweet potato grows today, it is an outstanding breakfast, dinner, supper vegetable. There are more food values under its brown jacket than we once dreamed of. Vitamin C, Carotene (Vitamin A), Vitamin B, iron, starch and protein—so reads the list of food values present in sweet potatoes.

Here are some pointers to remember in cooking sweet potatoes: Cook in jacket to retain food value.

When you must peel... keep peelings thin—prized minerals lie close beneath the surface.

Store in a dry place where they will not chill.

Try these suggestions for using potatoes for breakfast, lunch, dinner and "in between" snacks:

BREAKFAST

Sweet Potato Waffles
4 tbsp. fat
1 tsp. sugar
1 egg
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
3/4 cup flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 cup milk
Salt, cayenne, nutmeg
Mix the fat and sugar to a cream, stir in the well beaten egg yolk, potato, flour, baking powder, milk and seasonings, and beat well until smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg white. Bake in a heated waffle iron until golden brown. Serve hot.

LUNCH

Sweet Potato Chips
Select well shaped, medium potatoes, wash and pare. Slice thin and even into chips just as in making Irish potato chips. Drop slices into water which contains a little lemon juice or vinegar. (About 1 tsp. lemon juice to 4 cups of water). This acid will keep the chips from turning dark and will give them a better color. Drain and dry between towels. Fry in hot deep fat (365 degrees F.) until brown, 3 to 5 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt. Serve with ham sandwiches.

DINNER

With Main Course: Instead of baking sweet potatoes with ham, try making sweet potato stuffing and rolling it up inside.

Stuffing
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
1 tsp. minced onion
1 cup boiled rice
3/4 cup minced celery
1/2 cup diced bacon
Salt and pepper
Mix thoroughly.
As a Side Dish: South Carolina Croquettes.

3 large sweet potatoes
1 tsp. brown sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. butter
1 egg yolk
Flour
Wash sweet potatoes and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tender. Peel and press through a sieve. Shape into small cylinders and roll in flour—Fry in deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown.

Do vegetables need preheating as part of their preparation for freezing if they'll be used within a short time?

The answer is "yes," says Miss Janet Cameron, nutritionist at V. P. I.

Housewives who are interested in avoiding any unnecessary work in preserving vegetables by freezing often ask that question, Miss Cameron says.

Tests have been made in Minnesota on three vegetables which of rip "mature all at once"—asparagus, green beans, and corn. One lot of each vegetable was prepared by the recommended scalding. The other lot was frozen without preheating. Ears of corn were frozen husked and packaged, also in the husk. Freezing was done at 10 degrees F., followed by storage at zero F.

All the vegetables frozen without preheating developed off-flavors within a month, but those scalded in advance showed little if any change. The unsalted green beans and asparagus lost their attractive color as well as their good flavor.

Unsalted asparagus developed an off-flavor in the first 24 hours. Unsalted green beans showed little change during freezing but deteriorated in storage so that they were unpalatable in three weeks, and inedible in four weeks. Corn in the husk was unpalatable by the time it was frozen, and corn husked and packaged but not preheated changed flavor in one week.

The conclusion: scalding is a necessary step in preparing most vegetables for freezing, regardless of how long they are to be stored.

Pressure Group? Hoodlums? Legion Tells Its Own Story

(Editor's Note: Reprint of Drew Pearson's column written by Earl C. Clark, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, who served as guest columnist while Pearson was on vacation September 11, 1951.)

IT'S VERY RARELY the American Legion gets the chance to tell its side of the story—the side some folks don't bother to determine. Pressure group? Hoodlums? Treasury raiders? Warmongers? We've been called all of those names in our 33 years of life. But, as Al Smith used to say: "Let's look at the record."

Pressure group? To this one we plead guilty, all 4,000,000 Legionnaires and auxiliaries. We pressured into being the spending of $2,300,750.18, raised by our own efforts, to help the nation's needy children.

We organized more than 16,500 Junior baseball teams that have supervised recreation with citizenship-training for more than 1,000,000 teenage boys every summer. We sponsored nearly 4,000 Boy Scout troops.

WE CREATED A Boys' State program through 18,000 selected high school students who "learn by doing" the way our government operates.

We conduct an annual national oratorical contest in which 850,000 high school students write essays on the Constitution and Bill of Rights.

Sure, we're a pressure group. Pressure against juvenile delinquency.

The vacationing Drew Pearson will know what it means to be called a "pressure" group. Throughout the years his pressure has caused fear and consternation in fascist and Communist circles. And today his "friendship" balloons are piercing the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia—into the very heart of Communism.

Warmongers?

No, but like our great secretary of defense, General George C. Marshall, we admit pressurizing for preparedness. We authored the Universal Military Training Bill and hope to see a thoroughly integrated program become law before another year has passed. Of course the Kremlin has its own slant on "warmongering" and we are proud to be No. 1 on their warmonger list.

THE AMERICAN LEGION has been a great and constant force, at home and abroad, for godliness, for Christian philosophies for moral backbone and for civic virtue. Perhaps some people call that "warmongering."

It was the American Legion that brought to attention the Communist infiltration into our labor unions and farmer guilds. We exposed the Communist infiltration in our legal profession and in our courts. It was the Legion that exposed the way Communist teachers infiltrated our schools, and we formed neighborhood groups of vigilant parents to defeat the Communist kiddie clubs.

It was a commander of one of the 17,330 American Legion posts who started the longshoremen's refusal to load or unload Communist ships of supplies bound for Communist troops against our own soldiers.

Yes, we have fought communism with every means at our command and we intend to continue fighting communism until it no longer menaces the free world we live in.

For that we have been maligned "warmongers."

TREASURY RAIDERS? No, but we do demand that wounded and disabled servicemen and women get fair treatment. We were the authors of the GI Bill of Rights which has provided higher education and vocational training for 7,500,000 veterans of World War II, the greatest stimulus to education in history. As a result, you see no veterans of World War II selling apples on street corners.

Fair compensation for war wounds has always been our demand. Hospitalization and domiciliary care, yes. But in all fairness, is that Treasury raiding?

Hoodlums? There never has been a city that housed the national convention of the American Legion that has not asked us back again and again. Miami, our host city this year, has invited us to make Miami the perennial convention city and according to their editorial writers and those of other cities American Legionnaires are the best behaved of any national convention.

AND WHY NOT? After all, the American Legion is America. Certainly no one else has a finer cross-section of citizens as members. We are proud of our membership comprising the President; 25 State Governors; 55 United States Senators and 27 of the Congressmen. Along with them we have industrialists, labor leaders, Army, Navy and Air Force commanders, doctors, lawyers, scientists, grocers, butchers, authors, publishers, engineers, mechanics, press and radio executives, sports celebrities, farmers, truck drivers, laborers, columnists and just about every other category known to our country.

Thrice we have been called upon to defend our country in war. Thrice we have given America victory over sinister forces. Thrice more shall we do the same if that is necessary.

We are proud that in the past two years we have collected and distributed more than 10,000,000 toys—distributed them to the underprivileged children of Europe and the Pacific.

WE ARE PROUD that it was Legionnaire Drew Pearson who aided the American Legion in getting this program under way. We are proud that it was he and our past national commander, George Craig, who originated this program.

Extraordinary? Legionnaires think not. Just the normal efforts of the men and women who shouldered new convictions about the way American life should be, after they had shouldered arms.

That's the American Legion many of the general public do not know. That's the American Legion that has been called all those epithets over the years.

Pressure group? Treasury raiders? Warmongers? Hoodlums? We rest our case and thank you, Drew Pearson.

Technical School In Danger

Superintendent of County Schools Garber reported at yesterday's Board meeting that Prince William has only enough funds to pay the teacher's salaries at the Technical School through February, 1952.

Garber explained that enrollment declined sharply this year from 318 to 194 students but contracts to teachers were let on the basis of last year's capacity enrollment.

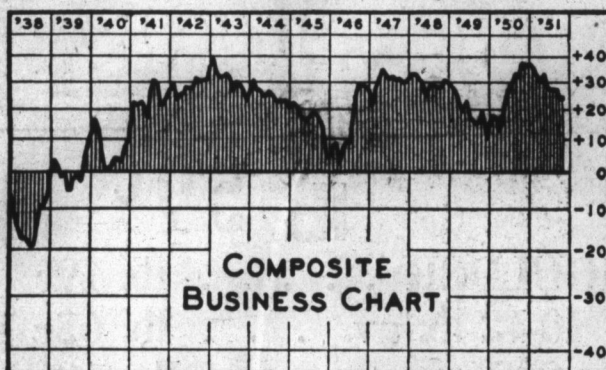

The point Garber is making is that the surrounding counties in Northern Virginia are not sharing their load of the responsibility for furnishing students for the school. For every out-of-county student, the school charges $400 tuition which is paid by the individual County School Boards.

This is only fair since the Technical and Vocational School is not a county but a regional project embracing all Northern Virginia Counties. There is a similar school at Danville and another at Fishersville for the same purpose.

It has become increasingly clear that other school superintendents have no intention of cooperating with Prince William in keeping the Technical School enrollment up. Apparently the only course left to Mr. Garber is to take the problem directly to the State Department of Education. One solution would be to force each county in the region to pay a per capita share of the cost whether they sent students or not. This would quickly build the enrollment back up, as no county would pay the freight on a stated number of students and not send them.

How's Business?

By Roger W. Babson

This shows current business compared with the same time for the previous thirteen years.

BUSINESS IS STABILIZING

Business appears to be stabilizing and at relatively high levels. As measured by my Composite Business Chart, the volume of business is 24 percent above normal—the same as it was last month. This is eleven points higher than it was at the low point of 13 percent above normal in March of 1950. The year 1951 opened at 36 percent above normal and has gradually and conservatively declined, step by step, as I predicted a year ago. For the past twelve years we have had unprecedented paper prosperity. During this time the volume of business reached an all-time high of 37 percent above normal in October and December of 1950.

During this period wages have increased 177 percent and Industrial Commodity Prices 180 percent. This shows the relationship between wages and prices. If wages had stayed where they were and commodity prices where they were, we would all be about as well off now as we were in 1939. The trouble is that the increase in the cost of living penalizes the ones closest to the margin of subsistence. Those with low incomes suffer from high prices as they affect the cost of necessities and lessen demand. The result is that the price trends in many commodities (beef as an exception) have recently receded some.

The tax measure that is now in the Congressional mill will clip us for about $6,000,000,000 which is about the saturation point beyond which we certainly should not go. To finance the armed services $60,000,000,000 is being asked and about $6,000,000,000 additional for military construction. If the Administration could collect all the taxes that are rightly due it from tax evaders and gangsters it would not be necessary to increase the taxes by $6,000,000,000. The tax-evaders are causing the trouble. Some of the "big-shots" and gangsters get away with murder!

"Rural Minister Of The Year" To Preach At Brentsville

(Special to The Journal)

Dr. R. G. Hutcheson, of Louisa, Virginia's "Rural Minister of the Year," will be preaching at the Brentsville Union Church all next week in special services sponsored by Potomac Rural Parish.

Prince William residents will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Hutcheson on Sunday morning, October 7, at 11:30, and each night of the week, Sunday through Friday at 8:00.

The Sunday morning service will be part of a traditional "all-day meeting," with lunch spread at the old courthouse and a communion service following lunch.

For ten years he was a teacher of agriculture in Farm-Life Schools. Then he entered the seminary and prepared for the Presbyterian ministry. He launched the Larger Parish Movement in Virginia, and now heads a parish of eight churches. His church bestowed on him one of its highest honors this fall by electing him Moderator of the Synod of Virginia.

"We hope people from all over the county will take advantage of this unusual opportunity to hear an outstanding rural minister," stated Rev. Albert C. Winn, pastor of Potomac Rural Parish.

Fire Safety Stressed By Local Fire Chief

Raymond Davis, Manassas Fire Chief, warned residents of the increased hazards of fire at this time of the year. He urged citizens to follow the following precautions:

"If you have flammable liquids around, have it stored safely. Check your furnace; also all wiring. Clear your home of all combustible rubbish."

"Don't take chances—check all fires before you retire. If a fire should start, remain calm and call the fire department immediately."

Davis issued the above precautions to open Fire Prevention Week in Manassas which opens October 7th.

Manassas Woman Writes Of Afganistan

A former Manassas woman, now living in Kabul, Afghanistan, has written a letter to many of her friends explaining how it is to live in a country whose way of living is so entirely different. She is the former Miss Anna Bruce Whitmore, daughter of Mrs. Bruce Whitmore, West street, Manassas. She is now Mrs. Alan Mackenzie.

Mrs. Mackenzie's husband, a Colonel in the U. S. Army, is now attached to the American Embassy at Kabul. The Mackenzies have one child, seven-year-old Stewart, better known as "Sparkie."

In a recent letter she tells us, "Life goes on with us in much the same pattern as usual; sometimes we complain a bit about its sameness and the continuous rush, but all in all we are leading a very satisfying life. We have all stayed well, although Spark and I don't give the appearance of Five Footers, but then we never did. Spark is all legs, about the size of a cornstalk, and never still a minute. He continues to be quite busy and since that is the only way he is happy, I am very glad."

This is Jessum Week here—the annual celebration of the final release from British rule 33 years ago—and a very happy time for all the foreigners as well as Afghans. It is a maddening time for all the foreign representatives as far as business goes, for the Afghan Government simply closes down for the entire time. The telegraph office is open only two hours a day, the post office not at all as far as anybody has been able to discover, and the two banks are also closed.

The celebration started on Saturday, the 25th of August, in the morning with a military parade. The foreign diplomatic corps was given a beautiful tent and told to be on hand at 7:30; the parade actually got under way at 9 and lasted until 10:30, all of which would not have been so bad, but there were only ten chairs for about 100 people, and they wouldn't let us bring those up front where we could see the procession. We finally learned the reason for this, was because some of the guests last year failed to stand when the King passed by. Everybody took turns going back to the chairs for periodic rests.

"That afternoon—and the same program follows each day with the exception of the parade—we attended the hockey and soccer games that started at 4:30 and lasted until 6:45. The local teams play teams from other sections of Afghanistan as well as teams from India and Iran.

"After the games we went to a tea given by the Acting Prime Minister. I wrote fully about the tea last year and am still terribly impressed by the beauty of the spot where they are held. The large tent, and they make beautiful ones in this part of the world, is on the side of a small hill, facing a well illuminated mountain and the brilliantly lighted Jessum buildings. One side of the tent opens onto a spacious terrace, covered with rugs, tea tables, comfortable chairs and sofas. Most striking of all, in this part of Afghanistan where there is no body of water larger than the little irrigation ditches that run through the city, is a large lake at the foot of the terrace, made just for Jessum week. I might add—as seems to be the case wherever I am—that I am impressed by the food also, and am learning to compete quite effectively with the best of the "buffet locusts."

"Sunday morning the exhibits were open from 9 to 10 for the foreign colony. They had some very pretty things—furniture, materials, jewelry, pottery dishes, etc.—gone too well made and all at ridiculously high prices. There are horse races, bicycle races, native dances, ram fighting, etc., every morning, really more interesting than the evening program, but we don't have to attend those sessions.

"Spark has been to some part of the program each day, and will see his first horse race this afternoon. The sports events are all held in a beautiful little valley entirely surrounded by mountains. Thousands of people attend and to me the crowds are more interesting than the sports. They have gone wild this year with colored and blinking lights, as well as hundreds of new flags hung on every post, tree and building.  The King attended Sunday and Monday's performance, and sat in the adjoining box, accompanied by his official retinue, and of course there was much bowing, scraping and standing.  The King is a very handsome man around 40 and has sons who look as much like princes as you would find in a story book. One of his daughters is being married tonight and another heir is expected momentarily.

"All of the Ambassadors were in full dress kit that morning, and some of the uniforms were beautiful if a bit spectacular. The Iranian, Egyptian and French were carrying so much gold around that they had to sit a good part of the time. No other country in the world, so far as we know, can devote a whole week to the celebration of any occasion, but it does give all, rich and poor, a bit of gaiety and color in their rather drab existence. It is also the one time of the year in which the official

Afghans repay their social obligations to the foreigners. With very few exceptions they do not entertain in their homes, partially because their wives are in purdah, and according to our few close Afghan friends, partially because they are too proud to have outsiders see their meagerly furnished homes.

"We had planned on going to Bamian on September 3, but with everything closed for Jessum, we have so far been unable to make the necessary arrangements. Bamian is a historic spot in the northern part of the country where there still remains number of relics of the "Buddist" period. We will go there later if we don't get away on the 3rd, but it is already getting cold in that section, and I don't like the idea of digging out winter clothes so early in the season.

"Taking a trip in this part of the world requires a lot of preparation and thought. We still have to take our food and cook, our bedding and a bearer to act as interpreter. The roads are terrific, and 150 miles in 12 hours is considered speedy travel.  Much as we hate to take Spark out of school, he will go with us. He fully expects to shoot a wild animal, perhaps a tiger, although there is nothing wilder than mountain sheep in the area—I hope.

"There is a touch of fall in the air already, with the nights downright cold. All precedents have been broken by our having four thunder storms in the last month—it really rolls between the surrounding mountains. It has made our compound prettier than ever, but it is bad for the wheat. It has been cut and put in mounds, but they are still busy beating out the grain with wooden flails. It is a long tedious process and I have often thought that lacking mechanical aptitude, it is certainly a blessing they are endowed with so much patience."

OPS Amends Beef Rules

The Office of Price Stabilization has amended its beef regulations to permit the keeping and handling of ungraded and ungraded beef certified to be for home consumption by resident farm operators or livestock raisers.

The amendments were announced Wednesday by Charles T. Hudson, acting director of the Richmond District OPS office.

Prior to the change, he noted, persons slaughtering their own livestock or having it custom slaughtered were required to grade and mark the beef, even though it was to be used for home consumption only and would not enter commercial channels.

Small But Convenient

You can obtain blueprints for this JOURNAL-FARM & RANCH Plan No. 4915 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

SMALL BUT CONVENIENT

Our FARM AND RANCH Plan No. 15 provides a comfortable home that offers you as much convenience as can be found in a house of this size. The bedrooms are large enough to make furniture arrangement easy and give plenty of window space for light and cross ventilation. Each bedroom has two closets.

The work area in the kitchen is quite compact and convenient to save the housewife unnecessary steps. And there is plenty of space for a table on which to serve the family meals.

On the back porch there is room for a freezer chest, or laundry equipment, and a closet.

The living room purposely has been made rather spacious in order to provide space for an extra bed.

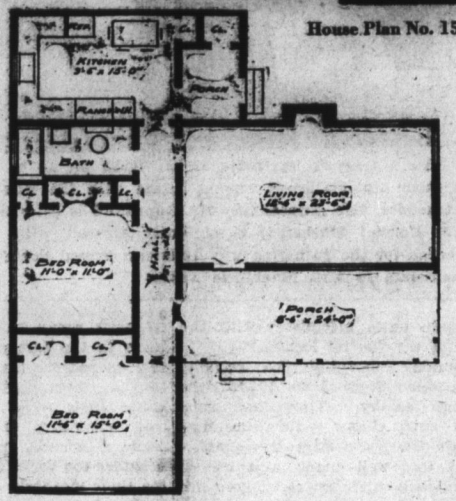

The new amendments eliminate such requirements, Hudson points out.

In addition, he said, other revisions permit retailers to store and keep such ungraded beef in locker plants and similar storage places for home consumers, although it must be identified by wrapping and marking.

Hudson cautioned that the exemptions do not apply to beef produced by Class 3 slaughterers, who are permitted to sell up to 6,000 pounds of beef a year.

House Plan No. 15

If it is needed and still leave plenty of room. Or it could be used as a combination living-dining room.

The central hall is provided to eliminate a lot of travel through certain rooms in the house, thus alleviating some house cleaning.

Economy has been considered carefully during the entire planning of the house. The bath and kitchen are located so all the plumbing can be grouped together, thus requiring only one large drain. This means considerable reduction in plumbing costs.

The house has been designed for you to use piers instead of a solid concrete foundation. The "L" shape makes it easy to hold all framing lumber to a minimum size. The shed-type roof over the kitchen and back porch help to keep the cost per square foot as low as possible, yet in no way will it affect the comfort, convenience, or attractiveness of the well-planned home.

Freezer Cookies

Cookie-making begins in earnest about this time of year. The reserve cookie dough that used to be kept in the refrigerator now is often put in home freezers.

Mrs. Leona Barlow, Home Demonstration Agent, offers the following information. "Either the dough or the baked cookies may be frozen successfully if properly packaged, but the dough is easier to wrap and takes less space in the freezer. Baked cookies require careful packaging to avoid being broken when foods are moved around in the freezer. Tough cookies or cookies dough may keep well for six months to a year in the freezer, not more than three months' storage is advised for freshest flavor."

Ingredients for 6 dozen cookies:
2½ cups sifted all purpose flour;
½ teaspoon soda; 1 teaspoon salt;
1 cup shortening; ½ cup granulated sugar; ½ cup brown sugar; 2 eggs;
1½ teaspoon vanilla.

To make: Sift flour, soda and salt together. Cream shortening, add sugars gradually, and cream thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly. Add vanilla and mix well. Stir in dry ingredients. Shape dough in rolls 2 inches in diameter.

To freeze before baking: wrap rolls of dough closely in moisture-vapor-resistant wrapping, seal with pressure tape, and freeze. Before baking, thaw slightly in the refrigerator and slice. Bake on an ungreased baking sheet in a hot oven (400 F.) for 8-10 minutes.

To freeze after baking: chill dough until firm. Slice and bake on ungreased baking sheet in a hot oven (400 F.) for 6-8 minutes. Cool. Package in moisture-vapor-resistant container and seal. Freeze immediately. Before serving, thaw cookies at room temperature before unwrapping.

Pastures Give High Percent Of Feed Needs

Pastures can furnish over 87 percent of the feed nutrients needed by dairy cattle during a complete grazing season.

Researchers at Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station report the following yields of milk (4 percent butterfat) per acre for one complete grazing season on different types of improved pasture:

Alfalfa-orchard grass, 2,920 lbs.; Ky. 31 fescue-ladino, 3,508 pounds; and orchard grass-ladino, 3,688 lbs.

No grain was fed from the time the cows were first put on pasture in the spring until June 19. Then grain was fed at the average rate of one pound of grain for each 7.4 pounds of milk produced.

In palatability tests, the researchers found that dairy cows relish ladino clover, always grazing it first and closest in the pasture area. The cows showed special preference at all times for the grazing areas having the most ladino. Ky. 31 fescue appeared least palatable, the cows browsing only the tips and newest leaves of the plants in areas where fescue was dominated.

County Teams Pre-Game Favorites Tomorrow

Osbourn Outsmarted 20-6 But Ocoquan Racks Up Warrenton

Osbourn High School's Yellow Jackets will be seeking its first win of the current season against two setbacks Friday night at Swavely when they take on James Wood High School of Winchester. It will be the third straight home game for the Yellow Jackets. Ocoquan, victorious over Warrenton last week 25-14, takes to the field to play an old Loudoun rival, Leesburg, Friday night Game time 7:30 p. m.

Osbourn should be favored over a weak Winchester team that lost last week 22-12. Fairfax High last week 33-12. Osbourn has not shown a lot of offense either this year and Coach Suren's husters should be that one easily. Both coaches should have their teams at full strength for the tilts. Osbourn has had end Willie Weston.

COUNTY SCORING LEADERS

Smith, Ocoquan	30 points
Keys, Ocoquan	7 points
Payne, Osbourn	6 points

Since the GW game with had knee while Coach Jim Leo has been missing the services of Tom Kelso. Kelso suffered a concussion in the Culpeper game and did not dress for the Charlestown game last week. Weston will probably be ready for Leesburg, but Kelso is out indefinitely on doctor's orders.

Charlestown 20, Osbourn 6
Despite an improved aerial attack, Osbourn High's Yellow Jackets could not decipher Charlestown's strategy, losing 20-6. Bobby Payne provided the only thrill for the followers, dashing 60 yards for his own right tackle for a touchdown standing up. Earlier, Freshman Jackie Cross returned a Charlestown kick to the 40 to set Payne's scoring run up. However, Payne's score after Charlestown had scored twice and did not seriously threaten the West Virginians who scored a smaller but faster team. Three TDs came in the first half, and Charlestown could not go again until after the half. Charlestown made it 20-6 in the fourth period when Right Halfback Dick Hughes raced 60 yards on a punt return to score. A pass was good for the extra-point and Charlestown led 20-6.

The burden of Osbourn's offense again fell on the shoulder of Payne who carried the ball 27 times for an average of 5.2 yards per try. In addition, Payne passed four times, completing two and one being intercepted. In all, Payne either ran or passed on 31 plays out of a total of 48 plays that Osbourn ran during the entire game. Payne and Reid shared the passing chores and did a creditable job except that they had no receivers. Time and time again, the passers hit their receiver only to have him drop it. With a pair of good ends, Osbourn may take to the air completely to help Payne out with the ground attack which he has carried in the past two games by himself. The aerial attack may give Osbourn, the balance it so badly needs, but it won't click unless better pass receivers are found.

Ocoquan 25, Warrenton 14

Ocoquan High's Indians bounced back to a thumping 25-14 victory over Warrenton's Warriors on the winner's field Saturday behind the spectacular broken field running of scatback James Smith.

The 155-lb. halfback rolled up touchdowns runs of 20, 59 and 71 yards to score three of Ocoquan's four touchdowns. After battling evenly for a period and a half, Ocoquan roared down the field and was not to be denied a score before the half ended despite several bad breaks including 15-yard penalties which were numerous throughout the rough-and-

Bobby Payne, ace Osbourn tailback, prepares to stiff arm an unidentified Charlestown end in last Friday night's game with the West Virginians here. Payne managed to elude his would-be tackler and picked up five yards on the end run play. Charlestown won, however, 20-2. —Photo by Churchill.

$2,000 Purse Attracts Many Top Drivers At Longview Speedway

Closing out the auto racing season, Longview Speedway will present its racing climax this Sunday. A 100-mile stock car race with a $2,000 purse will attract name drivers from the eastern seaboard for the one-day event. "Speedway officials announced that the gate will open at 9 a. m. with time trials beginning at 11 a. m. All races will start promptly at 2 p. m. This will be the last racing event held at Longview this year, track officials indicated Tuesday.

Billy Bauckman was thrown for a loss back to the Warrenton 44-yard line while attempting a forward pass on second down, but Smith promptly streaked to the Warrenton 20 for a first down. Smith on the next play skirted his own left end on a handoff from Bauckman and scored standing up. The extra point kick was blocked and Ocoquan led 6-0 as the half whistle blew.

The second half turned out to be even rougher, but saw more scoring done by both teams. Warrenton moved from their own 20-yard line straight down the field on 13 plays to even the score. Billy Benner tossed a 14-yard pass to left end Earl Smith for the touchdown. Fullback Roland Stanford drove over his own left tackle for the extra point and Warrenton led 7-6.

Smith soon remedied this situation for Ocoquan after end Bill Weston returned the kickoff up to the Ocoquan 41. Smith drove over his own right tackle, cut sharply to the sidelines and raced 59 yards to score standing up.

Jackie Keys rammed into the line to score the extra point, putting Ocoquan ahead 13-7. Smith's run apparently broke Warrenton's spirit and the Indians were never headed after the second score.

In an outburst of friendship, Ocoquan allowed Warrenton

Oakers Blank Warrenton For League Title

White Oak brought the Northern Virginia League Baseball Crown home to A Division Sunday by whipping Warrenton 10-0 behind Jake Thomas. For the past two years, a B Division team has won the playoff.

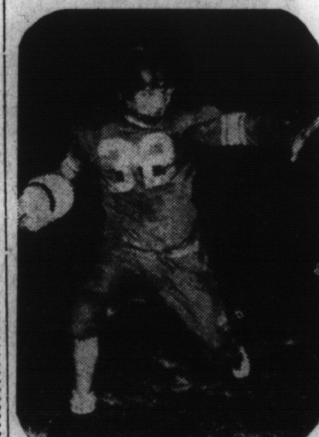

Thomas limited the Warrenton batsmen to five hits in notching his second straight playoff victory. White Oak beat Warrenton at Middleburg last week 18-2 before clinching the flag at White Oak Sunday.

White Oak jumped on Warrenton starter O'Leary for seven runs in the first three frames and then coasted to the victory. Warrenton also employed Sophie and Hugh Waln in a vain attempt to catch the winners. This game officially to handle the ball for four downs before scoring again. After Ocoquan's stout defense held the Warriors for three downs, Smith took Billy Benner's nice bouncing punt on his own 29-yard line and went all the way. Several key blocks allowed Smith to weave his way up the center of the field before he cut to the right sideline and outran Benner, only man between him and the goal. Neil Williams fumbled a high pass from center and the extra point try was no good.

A clipping penalty against Warrenton drove the Warriors back to their own goal line, setting up Ocoquan's last touchdown. Bauckman returned Benner's high kick back to the Warrenton 24-yard line. On a quarterback sneak, Bauckman drove to the 10 and then Keys sliced over left guard to score standing up. However, a backfield in motion penalty nullified the score and pushed the ball back to the 15. Bauckman faked a hand-off and dashed around his own right end and scored. On a double reverse, Smith was stopped 1 foot from scoring the extra point, so Ocoquan led 25-7.

Stars Of The Week

TAILBACK BOBBY PAYNE

HALFBACK JAMES SMITH

Both Stars this week are repeats from last week. Bobby Payne and James Smith, backs for Osbourn and Ocoquan respectively, were so outstanding this past weekend that there was no other choice for the honors.

Payne compiled an amazing record, carrying the ball on 27 runs and passing four times, completing two. Payne had a 5.2 yard average per try and he scored Osbourn's only touchdown of the season, in sprinting off his own right tackle 59 yards.

Smith compiled an equal if not better record Saturday as he almost single-handedly ran Ocoquan to a 25-14 victory over Warrenton's Warriors.

Smith scored three of Ocoquan's four touchdowns against Warrenton on three long runs—20, 59 and 71 yards each. Smith carried the ball 15 times for 208 yards or a 13.8 yard average per try. In two games this season, Smith has scored five of Ocoquan's six touchdowns.

Both Payne and Smith are all-around players, each carrying his share of the work on defense as well as offense. Payne is a harder runner than Smith but the Ocoquan speedster is trickier and a better spot runner.

Sport Shorts

•Grid roundup... Together. Osbourn and Ocoquan have scored seven touchdowns this season in two games, but have converted only one extra point. And that was on a running play... Warrenton quarterback Billy Benner played almost the entire game Saturday at Ocoquan with an attack of asthma. Benner got up out of bed to make the trip with the Warriors... Ocoquan should have smooth sailing from now until November 3 when it meets Herndon. Following Leesburg Friday night, Ocoquan plays Aldie, Mathews and Lincoln in that order before the Herndon tilt.

•Overheard at Ocoquan... Osbourn player taking a busman's holiday was heard to remark, "Those Ocoquan players deliberately try to hurt them (i.e. Warrenton). We don't try to hurt anyone—just bring the man down." Maybe that's what's wrong with Osbourn this year among other things.

•Championship playoff... Scoring 28 runs in two games, White Oak certainly put it to Warrenton in the League playoffs these past ends all baseball play in the league for this season.

play with them on Sunday. No happened to Warrenton—or should we say White Oak. A number of boys allowed Warrenton, B Division winners, but two runs in two games for a mighty fine average. But with such a lopsided score for a playoff, it makes one wonder what one has even proved that White Oak does bring in outside talent for special games—such as the playoffs, but league officials might do well to investigate the roster and box score of the playoffs for players added after the regular season play was over. Something's funny some

Antibiotics May Have Undesirable Effect

Milk from an udder which has in it a high level of antibiotics, which are used to treat mastitis, may be unusable for cultured milk drinks or cheese-making.

Researchers at Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station V. P. I. have found that the presence of aureomycin in milk taken from an udder previously treated with the drug makes the milk unusable in the making of cultured milk products.

The antibiotic effect on the milk continues up to 72 hours after the udder is treated; so dairymen are advised not to market milk from a mastitis-treated quarter within 72 hours (6 milkings) after the last treatment with any antibiotic.

The Vermont Experiment Station found that milk from cows treated with penicillin or a mixture of penicillin and streptomycin will not ripen normally when a starter culture is added for butter or cheese making, unless the antibiotic treatment is discontinued at least two days before the starter culture is added.

Residual amounts of aureomycin in the milk will inhibit the action of cheese starter three to four days after the last udder treatment. Cheese made from milk containing aureomycin had a weak body and extremely flat flavor, even after curing for 10 months.

Your Social Security

By James E. Robertson, Manager

For social security purposes, service in the armed forces of the United States during World War II counts the same as civilian employment. Men and women who were removed from the civilian labor force for service with the armed forces were deprived of an opportunity to acquire wage credits under the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act.

The Congress recognized this deficiency by amending the Act in such a manner, as to provide a wage credit of $160 a month for each month of active service in World War II between September 16, 1940, and July 24, 1947.

These wage credits are automatic if the veteran had 90 days of active duty, died in service, or was discharged because of a service-connected disability. They will be added to wages received in civilian employment, upon presentation of the veteran's certificate of honorable discharge, either when he applies for retirement benefits at age 65 or later; or by his survivors in the event of his death.

Benefits, which may now be payable as a result of this $160 a month military service credit, will be paid regardless of any compensation or pension that is payable by the Veterans Administration.

Many survivors of deceased servicemen and servicewomen whose claims were previously disallowed may now be eligible and should get in touch with the Social Security Office, 815 King Street, Alexandria.

The sleeping-pill habit

Sleeping pills, unless taken under a physician's supervision, may be harmful. Foolish is the man who, without medical advice, thinks he must have one at bedtime. Although they are not habit-forming in the same sense as morphine, a psychological addiction often develops, especially in weak-willed individuals. When prescribed by a physician during illness, sleeping pills produce much-needed sleep and rest. On a physician's imaginary list of most important drugs, barbiturates rank high. But never take one unless it is ordered by your doctor. Only then is it safe.

Pole-Type Barns Popular In State

The pole-type barn is becoming more popular in Virginia, as housing for beef cattle, dairy cattle, and sheep.

Agricultural engineers at V.P.I. say many farmers are constructing the pole-type rather than the more expensive two-story barn. In the pole-type barn, the hay storage area is in a space about 24 feet wide and from the ground to the roof. A shed may be provided on one side or on both sides, depending on the hay and bedding requirements for the animals to be housed. Each cow should be provided a manger space of 2 1/2 to 3 feet.

The life of such a building depends on the poles used for the framing. A good locust or cedar post will last around 20 years. Creosoted poles will last 30 years or more.

Plan No. C-460 is available for a pole constructed barn. Write the agricultural engineering department at V.P.I., Blacksburg.
