

Guess everybody enjoyed the show here Wednesday. Can't tell who got the biggest kick out of the show, but the "big top" was a sight to see. The grown-ups or the youngsters, for us, it was the first circus we had witnessed in years and it brought back memories of the days when we were at the break of dawn to see the elephants in hopes of a free ride. The big street parade was a show in itself and but not least the big show, we it or not, circus day was a day.

Charlie Alpaugh and James M. Aber got the wrong hats at a Chamber of Commerce meeting. While "fair exchange is no robbery," Alpaugh maintains he got the worst of the switch.

Understand there is a big demand for tickets for the annual Church Bazaar... an event never fails to attract a large audience. Either turkey or oyster dinner is served from 12 noon until 10 p.m. The date is Friday, October 26th.

One-Cent Sale—Big preparations were being made for the event at the Pharmacy this week. A similar sale is scheduled at the Drug Store at Triangle. Conducted annually by Rexall stores throughout the country, the public offered outstanding bargains.

Expanding!... The Ben Frank Store is to be congratulated on recent expansion program which adds enlarging its floor space adding more counters to care its increasing business.

Gleason!... new doorway at the new laundry... fresh paint on the front of Prince William Bakery... Mr. and Mrs. Saylors taking off for the convention at Washington. Associate Editor Jim O'Keefe was excited over taking that important step this coming Saturday. Political candidates, especially those who have contests in November, getting around and pushing their campaigns... Phil Long reaching while he works... bright shiny new juke box at the bar.

Local report on the Lions-Kiwanis School contest shows total gifts of $200, and net profit of $150, which will be turned over to the Manassas Recreation Association for the furtherance of its program.

Committee On Navy Relief Drive Named

A civilian committee has been set up in the Quantico-Triangle area in answer to the appeal by the Navy Relief Society for community support in the society's annual call for contributions. Leading the committee is H. L. ... Other members are ...

This is the first time that the society has appealed to the community to make contributions. The Navy Relief Society is the Navy's private charity supported entirely by private funds, chiefly contributions from service personnel and civilian friends of the Navy.

With the outbreak of the Korean conflict and the declaration of the national emergency, large numbers of new personnel have entered the Navy and Marine Corps. New problems, particularly in respect to family disruptions and adjustments, have arisen for old and new personnel and their families. The Navy Relief Society, in many of these situations, offers the only recourse for help and appropriate aid, either financial or with information and advice.

The annual drive at the Quantico Marine Corps School continues through October. No goals or prizes have been set.

Gainesville 4-H Project Doing Well

The Gainesville District 4-H Purebred Hampshire Breeding Pig project is progressing nicely and the members should be in a position to supply many farmers of the county with purebred breeding gilts and boars next spring, County Agent Frank Cox announced this week.

The sows, made available through the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation-Manassas Kiwanis Club revolving project, are placed with Tommy Lightner, Billy Hunt, Galen Ellison, Haynes Davis, Jr., and Betty Stephenson. An outstanding young boar, purchased from Carl Grove at Waynesboro, Va., is placed with Tommy Lightner, son of S. N. Lightner, at Gainesville and will be available for the use of the club members without charge in producing the first two litters of pigs from their sows.

Under the revolving plan, each of the members will turn back a choice registered Hampshire gilt from his first litter to the County Agent to be placed with another 4-H club member next spring. The sows now owned by the Gainesville group were raised by Charles Young, Bobby Michael, Roy Dean, Delbert O'Meara and Emory Mayhugh, Jr., of the Manassas 4-H Club with whom the original pigs were placed in 1950. The Manassas boys have their original Hampshire breeding animals and are getting a good start in the purebred hog business as well as making outstanding purebred Hampshire breeding stock available for other boys and farmers of the county.

Prospective Hampshire purchasers are advised by Mr. Cox to place orders with any of the ten young breeders in advance as all indications are that the demand for their pig crop will exceed the supply. Gilt from the Gainesville District Club will probably be placed with members of the Brentsville District 4-H Clubs next spring. $10.00 in cash prizes were awarded by the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation to the Manassas boys in 1951 and an equal amount is offered to the Gainesville members for 1952.

William White New Lower End Deputy Sheriff

Sheriff John P. Kerlin announced yesterday that William W. White has been appointed as deputy sheriff to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Roy A. Wright, Jr.

A number of prominent Triangle and Quantico persons backed White for the job. Wright reported that he resigned to secure "a better position that is open at the present time and would not be available at the expiration of my term."

In all, 25 persons signed White's petition which read: "We, the citizens of the Dumfries-Triangle-Quantico District, respectfully request that you, John P. Kerlin, Sheriff of Prince William County, appoint William W. White Deputy Sheriff to serve this District until the expiration of your term of office."

According to the petition, White will serve until January 1, 1952, when the new sheriff takes office. White is a resident of Quantico.

Culpeper Man Missing Since Friday, Oct. 5

A young Culpeper County farmer, father of two small children, has been missing since Friday, October 5.

Persons having information leading to the whereabouts of Levi Borntrager, 26, of Elkwood, can contact his wife by calling Culpeper 8748.

Borntrager, wearing a yellow sweat shirt with a large, horizontal stripe across the front and blue overall trousers, disappeared from his home Friday morning, October 5. Mrs. Borntrager said today, "He was last seen the same day at the Nu Tread place in Warrenton."

Borntrager is the father of two small girls, ages 4 and 6. A farmer, Borntrager is 6 feet tall and weighs 182 pounds. He has blue eyes and fair complexion, although his face is heavily tanned. Identifying marks are a scar on his chin and a deep scar around one knee cap, the result of an auto accident.

The joint of Borntrager's left thumb is bent downward so that he cannot move it.

State police and Culpeper County Sheriff Wayland have been notified of Borntrager's absence but as yet have been unable to locate him. He was apparently in good health and under no mental strain at the time of his disappearance, his wife said.

Borntrager is a quiet man who neither drinks or smokes, his wife said. His original home is in Plain City, Ohio, although relatives there have not seen or heard from him since his disappearance.

Palmer Wine Named New Assistant County Agent Here

A recent V. P. I. graduate has been named to succeed Lewis Wisinger, assistant county agent, Frank Cox announced this week. He is Palmer Wine of Staunton who graduated from V. P. I. this past June.

Wine succeeds Wisinger, who resigned in September to assume the management of a farm at The Plains in Fauquier.

The Journal is like a "letter from home" to those away from home.

Floridians Visit Here

Citizens Caucus To Seek School Needs

Before a large crowd of 52 representatives of various clubs and organizations in the county, the Citizens' Committee held its first meeting Monday night at Osborn High School.

School Superintendent Garber started the meeting off with a few remarks concerning the present school situation in regard to teachers, buildings, and finances.

Following Garber's talk, the group elected Stuart McMichael of Nokesville temporary chairman and Mrs. John Galleher of Manassas temporary secretary. Permanent officers will be named at the next meeting to be held Monday, November 19, at Osborn.

In the meantime, the group will split into committees by magisterial districts and feel the pulse of public opinion concerning schools in their localities. Plans call for meeting with local civic groups and presenting the old building program to determine what the people liked about it, and what they disliked about it.

Garber reported that the building program as surveyed in 1948 is out of date in regard to cost estimates. The cost of the program has increased approximately 25 per cent, he reported. When the survey was drawn up on the recommendations of the State Education Commission, it was estimated a part of the cost increase was reflected in the figure proposed at the time of the defeated bond issue which was for $2,400,000. Today, it will cost approximately $3,012,625, architects told Garber.

Circus Ends One-Day Stand At Longview

Traveling by motor caravan, Mills Bros. Circus rolled into Manassas early yesterday morning for a two-show, one-day engagement at Longview Speedway, sponsored by the Manassas Lion's Club.

Preliminary figures show that close to 700 persons visited the "big top" Wednesday afternoon with a larger crowd expected in the evening. One Lion's Club member reported that the organization sold approximately $800 in advance sale tickets prior to Wednesday morning. This figure is below last year when the Club collected over $700 from the advance sale.

The advance sale is particularly important since the Lions Club receives 50 per cent of the proceeds from these tickets, but only 10 per cent from those sold the day of the circus.

Equipped with eight elephants, numerous other animals, and a number of good daredevil events, the circus received favorable reports from most local persons attending the show. Almost all admitted that the show was better than last year's performance.

Pasture Group Judging And Banquet Soon

The judging of the district winners to determine the three Prince William County farmers carrying out the best pasture programs in 1951 is scheduled for Thursday, November 15. The judges will be Willis Skradla of the Middleburg Pasture Research Station, W. W. Lewis, V. P. I. Extension Agronomist, and J. E. Beard, Fairfax County Agent.

Following the judging of the pastures, there will be a banquet of the members of the County Pasture Club at 6:30 o'clock at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel on the evening of the same day. Dr. Paul Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter, Richmond, has been invited as the main speaker and Dr. Grover F. Brown, chairman of the County Pasture Committee, will serve as toastmaster.

Trophies and certificates, provided by farm supply dealers of the county, will be presented to the two winners in each district and to the three farmers carrying out the best pasture programs in the county this year. The County Pasture Committee feels that the 1951 program has been successful in spite of the extended drought and that pasture club members for the most part have suffered less from the effects of the dry period by having given additional attention to their pastures during the year. Seventy-four farmers are enrolled in the County Pasture Club and cooperating in the pasture improvement program this year.

Council Of Churches Ups '52 Budget

Packing the private dining room of the Manassas Coffee Shop, representatives of Prince William churches elected Albert C. Winn pastor of the Greenwich Presbyterian Church, president of the County Council of Churches. Forty-nine plates were served, and 22 of the county's 29 cooperating churches were represented.

"Interest in cooperative Christianity is on the up-swing in our county," said the new president, "when we can draw a crowd like this on a Saturday night, without a lot of door-prizes or string bands."

Other officers elected were: Rev. F. L. Baker, first vice president; Rev. George Stokes, second vice president; Miss Frances Owens, secretary; and Rev. D. D. Fleishman, treasurer.

In addition to the above officers, the following were elected members of the Executive Committee: Ned Bradford, Fred Edge, Guy Ritter, Conrad Snively, Harry Parks, D. D. Swinney, Mrs. Paul Swigart, Gordon Armstrong, George Jones, Mrs. Paul Irvin, Mrs. Newman Hopkins, George Sonafank, Mrs. William Corder, Gilmer Garber, and Jack Haggard.

Following an opening devotional by Mrs. Mattie Swigart, retiring vice-president, the group heard a report on the work of the District Committees, Manassas, Brentsville, Gainesville, and Occoquan Districts are now organized. These local committees conduct such projects as union services, leadership schools, and Vacation Bible Schools, in addition to raising their quotas.

Miss Hazel Saunders, employed by the Council as a teacher of Week-Day Religious Education, reported last year a good one and an exceptionally heavy load this year. The increased school enrollment makes it impossible for her to teach any 7th-grade sections this year.

The Constitution was amended to legalize the District Committees and change the opening of the Council Year from July 1 to October 1.

The treasurer's report revealed total receipts for the year of $3,618.89, slightly exceeding the budget of $3,600. This leaves the organization debt-free and able to plan for expansion at the end of the current year.

An auction-like atmosphere prevailed as the budget for the coming year was adopted. The cautious budget submitted by the executive committee was voted down as the Council moved to increase the teacher's salary. Districts bidding against each other increased their quotas by an aggregate of $250, which was added to the salary. The increased pension payments were cared for by a free-will offering on the spot.

New Vaccine For Hogs

A new, harmless vaccine against hog cholera, which could save Virginia breeders $4,000,000 a year, has been approved for limited distribution by the State Department of Agriculture in Richmond.

Dr. W. L. Bendix, State veterinarian, called the new rabbit origin vaccine "the most significant advance in the control of swine diseases in the past 50 years."

Properly used, he said, it could virtually stamp out in the State a disease which now kills nearly 10 percent of the annual hog crop.

As soon as the new vaccine has been proved to hog growers' satisfaction, half the cholera in Virginia hogs should be wiped out in a hurry, Bendix said.

If growers will use the new vaccine, he said, the danger of infection from the present virus and serum will cease.

Last year, he said, 54 percent of the cholera in hogs brought to the attention of the State's diagnostic laboratories had been caused by the serum-virus vaccination.

Immunity In Three Days
There are already two harmless hog cholera vaccines on the market, Bendix said, but they take about three weeks to produce immunity.

This is too long a time, he said, when an outbreak of cholera is capable of wiping out 60 to 80 percent of a grower's animals in a matter of days.

The new rabbit origin vaccine will produce an acceptable immunity in three days and a solid immunity in five days, Bendix said.

It is so mild it can be given to pigs two weeks after weaning, immunizing them at an early age against the disease.

The new vaccine is comparable in cost to the serum and virus injections, Bendix said.

One Drawback
It has one drawback, Bendix said. It is not effective with hogs already stricken with cholera or exposed to it.

However, he added, it can be used when cholera strikes by isolating healthy animals and vaccinating them, keeping them isolated until the vaccine has a chance to work.

For the first 12 months, Bendix explained, the new vaccine will be distributed to the public through just one firm, the Virginia Depot of the American Serum Company.

Cage League Elects Benner New President

Northern Virginia Basketball League officials met last night at Leesburg and elected William Benner, Warrenton, president of the league for the coming year. C. C. Kenny was named vice-president, and Curtis L. Polen, Manassas, was named a director to serve on the protest board along with the other two officers.

With the exception of Occoquan and Nokesville, all teams in the league sent representatives to the meeting. Upperville has dropped out of the league and they will be replaced by Marshall for boys and girls competition.

In other action, the group: Ruled that the protest board's decision will be final in all cases and cannot be appealed to a higher tribunal.

Raised the protest fee from $5 to $15 effective this year.

Decided to continue the two section operation of the league and to continue the present championship playoff system of the two section champs as well as to keep the squad rosters at 15 men and 18 girls for each team. It also announced that the forfeit rule would be raised this year but did not name a price. Polen said that it will be set when it is determined how much the referees will charge for a forfeit game.

The league will meet Wednesday, October 24, at the Warrenton Court-house to work up the schedule for all teams in the league.

Carpenter will assume his duties Monday, November 12, replacing Hunton Tiffany who has been serving as acting town manager until a replacement could be found. Tiffany stepped into the job in April when James W. Ritter, Jr. resigned to take a similar position at Marion, Va.

Carpenter told the Journal Thursday that he plans to briefly visit Manassas again Friday, October 19, before coming here to live.

Seed Small Grains

Farmers faced with drought-caused hay and grass shortages can still seed small grains, alone or with rye grass, to provide some late fall and winter grazing.

W. W. Lewis, Extension agronomist at V.P.I., says 2 to 3 bushels of small grain, alone or with 15 pounds of rye grass, seeded now will solve some winter feed problems.

He advises using 500 to 600 pounds of 4-16-8 or 5-10-10 fertilizer per acre at seeding, then top dressing with 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen in February or early March to provide additional grazing.

Start grazing when the grain is 3 to 4 inches tall. Do not graze too early, do not over-graze, and keep animals off the grain when ground is soggy.

Work Begins On Survey of State Farms

The State Agricultural Mobilization Committee this week begins the big job of preparing Virginia's report on the United States Department of Agriculture's controversial nationwide survey, the Family Farm Policy Review. Saturday's deadline for submission of county reports was in most cases the end of the local-level survey, which was marked throughout by both disagreements and apathy.

The survey was intended, according to the USDA, to provide a grassroots appraisal of the work of the 12 Federal farm agencies by contacting individual farmers through county agricultural mobilization committees and to allowing farm organizations a chance to have their say. The results, said the department, would be used to plan changes in government services both within existing laws and with new legislation.

Generally speaking, the Family Farm Policy Review was unsuccessful in drawing out Virginia farmers. Attendance at county meetings was small, and relatively few farmers submitted written opinions. It did, however, succeed in rousing the ire of some groups, who view the review as a propaganda campaign designed to further the expansion of USDA activities.

Sindy Protested in Green
In Greene County, for example, about 20 farmers attended a county-wide meeting late in August and adopted a resolution submitted by R. N. Stephens, Jr., farmer and trial justice, protesting the survey as an attempt to "instill the official thinking" of the USDA into the minds of farmers, and calling for a halt in the expansion of the department's services. An identical resolution had been adopted in at least two other counties.

In other counties, there was criticism of the speed with which the survey was being conducted; of the small number of booklets available for individuals to study, and of the Farm Meeting Dates Listed By V. P. I.

Some dates of interest to Virginia farmers have been announced by the Agricultural Extension Service at V.P.I. and various other groups.

They include:
Annual convention, Virginia Grange, October 25-27 in Richmond.

Annual bred ewe sale, November 7 at Staunton.

Annual Virginia rural education conference, November at Natural Bridge.

Annual convention, Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, November 19-21 in Richmond.

Annual convention of the Virginia State Horticultural Society, January 7-9, in Roanoke.

State Dairy Products Association Meeting, January 21 and Roanoke.

way the booklet was written. Criticism was not the only criticism to the survey, however, farmers had praise for at least USDA agencies.

BREAD CRUMBS MAKE ONIONS STYLISH TREAT

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the late onion crop has been a heavy one featuring a plentiful supply of big juicy onions perfect for stuffing with seasoned bread crumbs.

BREAD-STUFFED ONIONS

Melt butter in a frying pan or skillet. Stir in bread crumbs, salt, pepper and other seasonings. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until bread crumbs are lightly browned. When onions are cooked, remove centers leaving three layers of shells. The centers may be used as a base for creamed vegetables or in other dishes. Fill hollowed onions with bread-crumbs mixture. Place in shallow baking dish; add a little water to keep onions from burning on bottom. Bake at 400°F. (hot oven) 15 minutes. If desired, serve with tomato sauce.

ALL MEAL SUGGESTIONS
Cool nights, the misty haze, the highly colored clothes in the windows make us realize fall has officially arrived. With the arrival of fall, our minds begin to return to the joys of the house, and our thoughts more on food than during the summer months.

The family will enjoy having various kinds of bread. Give them a treat with hot biscuits and rolls, and with fish or seafood. "Hush Puppies" are perfect. Fruit and nut bread will especially appeal to the younger members of the family. Date-Nut bread can easily be prepared by using the following ingredients:

- 3 cups all purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 1 1/2 cups of coarsely chopped dates and nuts combined

Beat milk and soak dates in this. Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar. Sift into mixing bowl. Beat egg, add milk, shortening and orange juice. Pour wet ingredients into dry ones and mix quickly by stirring, add nuts. Pour into lightly greased pan 8 1/2 x 9 1/2. Let stand 30 min. and then place in oven and bake 1 1/2 hours at 350 degrees. (This recipe may be changed into banana bread or orange bread.) This bread is good to serve with meal or is wonderful for in-between snacks. Why not get into the real spirit of the season and add that "Fall Look" to your dinner table by using some of the suggested dishes.

Making Headway

Good news this week to Manassas citizens is the appointment of a town manager, a position which has been vacant since last April.

In appointing G. Y. Carpenter, Jr., of Waynesboro, to the post, the new Town Council, which took over only last month, has wasted no time and is to be commended in speedily handling a problem that had waited too long.

It is most encouraging that the new administration is very definitely taking the "bull by the horns" and is making headway in getting needed tasks done.

How's Business?

By Roger W. Babson

$100,000,000,000 FOR DEFENSE

If Russia has any idea of starting World War III, she had better get at it pretty soon now. Later will be too late! With $100 billion spending money the United States can become so strong, militarily, in the next two years that Stalin and all his satellites should not think of starting World War III—unless they want to commit suicide. Every day this nation is getting stronger and stronger, and the sand in the hour glass is running low. The Mediterranean is already well equipped with naval power and air power bases. If Russia attempts to overrun Europe she will meet some mighty stiff resistance. If Russia does not start World War III soon, the chances of World War III become less and less.

Defense spending of $100 billion is not the whole story—that is just for 1952 and 1953. Military preparedness will become another industry similar to the steel or automobile industries. This nation has now made up its mind that it will be prepared for any eventuality. After World War I and World War II, we let our implements of warfare disintegrate on the battle fields and we demobilized our troops. We have learned that it is one thing to win a war and another thing to insure peace after the war is won. Hence, we now will stay militarily strong until a sound peace will also be won. The purpose of war is victory; the purpose of victory is peace.

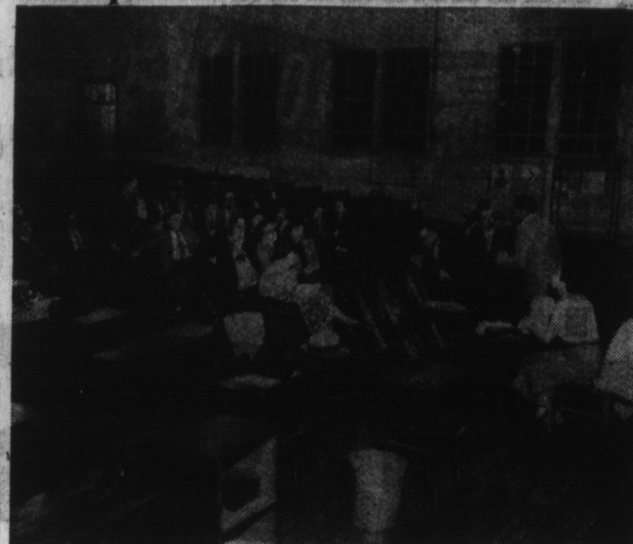

The establishment of a permanent-war-preparedness program will have a direct influence on the volume of business,—on prices, taxation, and inflation. With a National election coming up in 1952 the Administration will use enough defense money to see that there is no depression in 1952. It is estimated that some $50 billion will be spent for defense in 1952. That coupled with heavy peace demands will form an economic cushion that should hold business, wages and prices at high levels. The Administration, Congress and the people have made up their minds to see this war business through. Unity for victory and for peace with continual preparedness is the surest way to get it!

126 State School Divisions Pay $2,000 Minimum Scale

RICHMOND, VA.—A State-wide salary study released here this week by the Virginia Teachers Association reveals that 126 school divisions have now put into effect minimum salary scales of $2,000 for holders of the Collegiate Professional Certificate.

This was the total number of reports submitted by county and city superintendents and was evidence of a standard State-approved minimum over against last year when seven counties were still below this figure.

While 20 of the 27 cities reporting have in effect pay scales above the $2,000 minimum, only 30 of the 99 counties reporting exceed this mark. This minimum was approved by the 1950 General Assembly under an act known as Maintenance of Adequate Salaries. At that session a total of $3,250,000 was appropriated for this purpose for two years.

Also of note is the fact that seven counties and sixteen cities now have maximum provisions for C. P. certificates above $3,000. Salary figures for both the bachelor's and master's degrees remain the same for the 1951-52 school term as last year in 18 counties and two cities.

Appreciable maximum increases in salaries for the bachelor's and master's degrees were made in six counties and ten cities. These amounts ranged from $220 in Williamsburg to $1,280 in Lee County. In the Lee schools maximum amounts paid for the bachelor's and master's degrees in 1950-51 were $2,100 and $2,200, respectively, based on seven years experience. For 1951-52, an increase of $1,260 raises the bachelor's maximum to $3,360 while the master's maximum is set at $3,480, an increase of $1,280. The years of experience has dropped to six.

Other significant results of the study show that in four counties Arlington, Fairfax, Henrico and Lee—and six cities—Hopewell, Hampton, Falls Church, Martinsville, Norfolk and Waynesboro—there are increases of $400 or more in the maximum salaries listed.

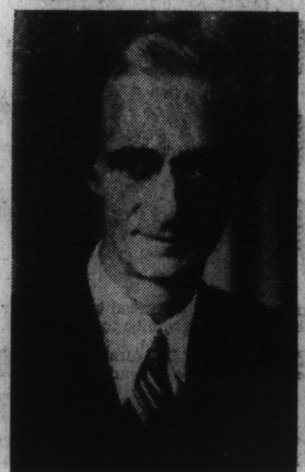

To Continue Fight

Dr. J. Rupert Picott, executive secretary of the VTA, commented that while the over-all picture evidences marked improvement we still must continue our fight to get better salaries for our teachers. He made no exceptional claims for the study, pointing out that the need for increased pay in our own State as well as the nation over is substantiated by these facts. First, the teacher shortage is not over; second, colleges and universities will produce in 1951 only 32,000 qualified, elementary-school-teaching candidates; third, elementary school enrollments have grown steadily at the rate of three-quarter million per year for the last four years; and fourth, an analysis of the preparation of elementary school teachers in service shows that tens of thousands of American boys and girls are being educationally short-changed.

The VTA executive secretary said these facts were revealed in a 1951 study of teacher supply and demand sponsored by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. Statistics show that the need for qualified elementary school teachers during the next ten years will exceed any previous demand for personnel to staff the classrooms of the nation.

Further, he pointed out, the need will be for 60,000 teachers to replace those who will retire, 10,000 to meet the demands of increased enrollment, at least 10,000 to relieve overcrowding, and as many as can

TO THE VOTERS OF COLES DISTRICT

As a candidate for Supervisor in Coles District, I desire to make the following statement:

My capacity to appraise or make decisions is derived from long experience in business and public relations. I now know how to plan and organize for economy that saves taxes.

I have no roads to be made for myself, but I know how to build roads and keep 'em up.

My experience with building construction, can be of considerable value to save taxes.

As I see Coles District Community, it has no corporate town nor adequate leadership to progress normally. Our Coles Community is growing faster than others, and therefore requires an organized Community. There must not be a plan nor a system which could prevent the small man or woman from their daily income from their own industry. My legal training and knowledge provides me with the working tools to best serve Coles District Community.

I am satisfied every voter prefers to vote for the man who has these abilities with the integrity of a good citizen, to serve Coles District.

I will earnestly appreciate your cooperation and Your Vote.

be obtained to replace unqualified teachers.

"Although these figures present a national background picture," he continued, "similar conditions of supply and demand will confront our own State of Virginia. If we are to attract the best qualified individuals to this highly important profession of teaching, as well as continue to command the support of those in the system, adequate and attractive salaries must be paid."

Dr. Picott said that the VTA will again present to the General Assembly, when it meets in 1952, its proposal of a $2,400 minimum, which proposal was adopted at the 1950 VTA convention. This proposal also asked that a Statewide schedule of increments amounting to not less than $100 per year be set up so that by a period of 10 years a teacher holding a collegiate professional certificate shall receive no less than $3,400 per year. Further, that teachers holding the master's degree be given at least $200 in excess of those holding the bachelor degree.

Dixie Lunch Fire Sets Off Colt Revolver

Officer Dennis Colbert, Manassas Town Policeman, credits a .45 Colt Automatic with saving the Dixie Lunch from complete destruction last Friday night. The gun was in a counter drawer when a fire started near it.

The heat set off the cartridges in the gun and attracted Colbert's attention to the fire in the Manassas Lunch Room and Beer Hall. Colbert discovered the blaze shortly after midnight and summoned Manassas Volunteer Firemen who put out the interior blaze in about 45 minutes.

William C. Childress, owner, reported that damage was approximately $1,000 including equipment and furnishings. The blaze was confined to the interior along the counter. The establishment was open for business on Monday following the fire.

Manassas firemen report that the blaze was probably started from a bad electrical connection under the counter.

It was voted unanimously to continue to provide school lunches for the same child that the club has cared for in this way for the past several years.

The civic committee was empowered to cooperate on behalf of the club in the current effort to have a public rest room established in Manassas.

Shall I force my child to go to Sunday School and Church?

Yes, definitely!

Startled? Why? How do you answer Lucy when she comes to the breakfast table and announces, "I'm not going to school today!" You know, Lucy goes.

How do you answer when Lucy comes in besmudged with dirt and says, "I'm not going to take a bath!" You know, Lucy bathes.

How do you answer when Lucy, threatened with illness, says, "I'm not going to take that medicine!" You know, she takes it.

Why all this timidity, then, in the realm of spiritual guidance and moral training? Going to wait and let her decide what Church she'll go to when she's old enough? Don't fool yourself. By that time she'll probably believe that a decision neglected by her parents during her first twenty years might not be necessary at all. You didn't wait until she was "old enough" to decide she should go to school.

Affraid she'll later succumb to the old story about "... too much religion when I was young ... parents made me go?" This tale is obviously false. Just because she takes a bath tonight doesn't mean she'll discontinue them at the age of twenty-one.

What shall I say to Lucy when she announces she doesn't like Sunday School and Church. That's easy. Be consistent.

By firmness and example you can show her that church-going is a necessity. And in later years, she will thank you for bringing into her life the greatest values a mature person can possess—Christian habits and ideals.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Cloe Urges Bond Sales

In line with bankers throughout America, who are best able to give financial advice, we of Prince William County unite in urging the public to buy Defense Savings Bonds," said C. C. Cloe, president of the First National Bank, Quantico, Virginia, in a statement today.

"The present campaign, which runs through Oct. 27, affords many persons who have never saved before an opportunity to start preparing for future financial security," Mr. Cloe continued. "By setting aside a part of their earnings each week toward the purchase of Defense Bonds, either through the Bond-A-Month Plan where they bank or the Payroll Savings Plan where they work, they will have started on the course or regular, systematic saving, which is the only real way of ever accumulating a nest egg.

"To those with maturing Series E Savings Bonds we would suggest that they hold on to them, and match each maturing bond by buying a new Defense Bond. We urge them to do this from the standpoint of their own personal interest; for by so doing they will be helping to fight inflation, which depreciates the value of the dollar, and strengthening their individual independence.

Cooperation and hard work combined to make the chicken dinner, given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Dept. on Saturday night, a huge success. Approximately $250 was cleared. A number of volunteer firemen turned volunteer dishwashers in an effort to "lend a hand" and their services were a great help. With such team-work between the Fire Dept. and the Auxiliary, the Centreville Volunteer Fire Dept. can accomplish much.

Pulpwood Production Reaches High Peak

Pulpwood production in Virginia for 1950 exceeded 1,000,000 cords, but increases in other southeastern states dropped Virginia to fourth place.

J. W. O'Byrne says that of the cords produced in Virginia, 775,000 were of pine; 249,573 of various hardwoods; and 19,455 of chestnut that was also worked for tannic acid.

By counties, the distribution ranged from more than 75,000 cords in Buckingham to none in Bland, Buchanan, Dickenson, and Tazewell, (where mine props have better sale than pulpwood) and a few other counties where there is little timber. Twelve counties produced more than 25,000 cords.

Although pines still predominate, there is a significant increase in the amount of hardwoods being used. In Allegheny, Amherst and Buckingham, hardwoods exceeded pine, while in several other counties they are a considerable proportion of the cut.

O'Byrne sees this as a healthy trend. Hardwoods are preferred for some grades of paper, and can be used more extensively for others. The amount of cash paid out last year for pulpwood cut in Vir-

Good Pastures Mean Cheap Feed

Farmers with good pastures can feed their cattle for about one-fifth what it costs a farmer who uses hay.

P. H. DeHart, extension agronomist at VPI, said 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients, or that part of feed actually used by livestock, costs about 50 to 75 cents from pasture.

The same amount of feed, DeHart said, would cost from $2.50 to $3.00 if good hay were used.

If mixed feed were used, the total digestible nutrients that cost from 50 to 75 cents from pasture, would cost about $5, DeHart reported.

A good system of pasture that will provide 240 days of continuous grazing will reduce feed cost in producing milk between 20 and 25 per cent.

In raising pullets, good pasture will save about 10 percent. And in pork production, one acre of good ladino clover will save about 20 bushels of corn and 500 pounds of protein supplement.

And delivered to the mill or siding, was well over $14,000,000. And pulpwood makes up less than 15 percent of the total cut.

YOU and I

Remember a few years back, when a member of the Board of Supervisors was classed and known as a Road Supervisor. Today, the title of road supervisor would be a great mistake if it were used to show the functions and responsibilities of your present Board of Supervisors.

The present-day board has been endowed with the same legislative functions, power, and responsibilities as our General Assembly in Richmond. This, of course has tended to strengthen our principle of Government on the local level, which as we all know, is a foundation of our way of life. Today, practically every law or ordinance that maybe necessary for the governing of the county, is passed by our board of supervisors. Every dollar spent or appropriated in our county, for whatever it may be for, is in the hands of your Board. THIS IS A BIG JOB . . .

We, as voters, can readily realize that a member of the board should have tact, confidence, consideration and an open mind. There are several candidates for this seat, all of them I am sure, have the above qualities, and are as sincere in their desire for better government as I. I do not believe it is proper for a candidate to say he is better qualified for the position than his opponents, that decision rests with you, the voters. I feel sure that the voters of this district realize the importance of this office and will keep that importance in mind when you consider the candidates. All I ask is that you, the voters of Coles district, think hard, as you have in the past before making your decision, and on November 6th, turn out and vote for the candidate that in your mind is best suited to represent you. I respectfully urge and appreciate your support.

Fine Arts Group Discusses Plans For Coming Exhibit

The Fine Arts Group met at the home of Mrs. Lewis J. Carper last night, and there was an unusually large attendance. The art exhibit to be held in the Methodist Church the 8th and 9th of November was discussed and plans urged to publicize this project. Hand crafts will also be exhibited at that time. Mrs. Levine, president of the Women's Club, discussed some high lights of the Dis-meeting recently held in Or-

Fish Story?

Mrs. Pep Gothwaite is pictured above with the 72-pound Tarpon she reeled in while on vacation at Daytona Beach, Florida, recently. And Mrs. Gothwaite had the picture taken next to the scales to prove her story. She worked an hour and 20 minutes getting her fish before she called for help when the Tarpon was less than 20 feet from the boat.

Ms. J. Vincent Davis spoke of the Bacter Theatre and the play, "Up the Sky" to be given November 20 in the High School Auditorium. Mrs. Davis said all to sell tickets, and promote this project to the fullest extent.

Mr. Samuel Rodgers, chairman of the Program committee introduced the speaker of the evening, Alice Boorman Williamson. She came there from her home in Manassas, a former resident of Washington, D. C. and was daughter of Joseph and Clara Boorman. Her parents came to America shortly after their marriage and never returned to their native England. Her father was a musician and a church organist and choir leader, and she grew up in an atmosphere which influenced her later writing. Mrs. Williamson reviewed and read some of her poems, "Cinella's Slippers" which has recently been published. The group being made up largely of Williamson's friends, felt no anxiety in requesting Mrs. Williamson to read some of their favorite poems from her book.

Mrs. Williamson's poetry has appeared widely in periodicals, including the Saturday Review of Literature, the Christian Observer, New York Times, God's Word, and others. She also published a number of stories and articles in leading magazines.

Mrs. Hutchison Shows Works At Waterford

Those who attended the Waterford Foundation exhibit last week in Waterford enjoyed seeing the exhibit of Mrs. Milton B. Hutchison, who creates woodland scenes from bits of materials gathered from the woods and fields.

Mrs. Hutchison made the centerpiece last year for a dinner given in Washington by the Women's Democratic Club, and she enjoyed telling how she had made two donkeys, one labeled "H. T." and the other "Veep," and had them looking over a fence at a group of mounted fox hunters.

Mrs. Hutchison's talent is quite outstanding, and her art is quite well known. Mrs. Hutchison, who was a Miss Taylor, is a sister to Mrs. C. A. Sinclair, Sr. and Mrs. Selma Wilson of this place.

Six local young ladies are caught by the camera as they rehearse new ballet routines under the guidance of Harry Stuhler, soloist National Ballet of Washington, D. C. The ballet class here which meets at the Odd Fellows Hall on Centre St. has been underway some time, but more pupils are needed if the lessons are to be continued. Pictured left to right are Joanne Galleher, Linda Harrell, Susan Arrington, Sue Ga Galleher, Mrs. Robert Byrd, Jr. and Ann Blakemore.

Postal Wives Club First Halloweeners

The Postal Clerks Wives Club had a big jolly Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gowl on Sadler Road. Practically all who attended came in costume, and even the smallest detail from the ghost who met you at the door to the one who gave you a preview of your future life was carried out in a most unique manner. There were clowns, gypsies, Spanish girls, farmers, flappers, Chinese, even the old dresses worn by grandmothers of ninety years ago were gotten out of trunks and were complete even to the dainty lace caps—and sh—s—the stuff box! Prizes were awarded for the best costumes, games were enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. It was an evening filled with laughter and merriment.

Obituaries

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy Syncox Smith were held on Wednesday, October 17, at 11:00 a. m. from Hall's Funeral Home in Occoquan. At one time Mrs. Smith resided at old Bel Aire, the historical home of Parsons Weems, the first biographer of George Washington. Mrs. Smith was buried in Greewood cemetery, Minnieville.

Mrs. W. H. Davis of Buckhall, who died at the Anderson Clinic last Friday was buried on Monday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Cornwell. Reverend Fred Edge officiated at the service and was assisted by the Reverend William Davis, grandson of Mrs. W. H. Davis. Mrs. Davis is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Charles Cornwell and Mrs. Gladys Chrisman, and sons, Herbert of Alexandria, and Rob B. of Buckhall.

A memorial window to James Ewell Brown Stuart was dedicated last Sunday morning in the St. James Memorial Episcopal Church, Richmond, and Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman spoke at this service. The Janet Randolph Chapter, U. D. C., sponsored this project but contributions have come from approximately 450 individuals and U. D. C. Chapters. A Book of Memory listing memorials and donors names is now being prepared, and if others wish to be included, their contributions should be sent to Miss Virginia West, 2516 Stuart Ave., Richmond.

Stuyvesant Prep of Warrenton invades Manassas Friday night to tangle with Osborn's Yellow Jackets in the annual homecoming game. And Coach Jim Leo plans to spring a few surprises at Stuyvesant. Local fans will be treated to a brand new backfield formation which will probably be used only sparingly.

While Stuyvesant is here Friday night, Occoquan's winning Indians travel to Mathews for a conference game Friday afternoon. Kickoff time is 2:45 p. m. Coach Johnny Suren will again be devoid of his touchdown star, James Smith, who fractured two toes last Friday night just before the Aldie tilt.

Osborn hopes to continue the precedent it set last week and take the "preppers" while Occoquan will be seeking its fourth straight win of the current campaign. Except for a 13-12 defeat at the hands of the GW JV, Occoquan has not lost a game.

OSBOURN 6, ORANGE 0

Before a sparse crowd of 500, Osborn High School's Yellow Jackets won their first game of the year, beating Orange County High School 6-0 on the visitors field Friday night.

Bryce Corder, Frank Hoss and Bobby Payne paced the winners in their victory. Osborn scored three touchdowns, but two were called back on penalties.

From the opening minutes of the game when Payne took Orange's kickoff, Osborn was never behind although Orange threatened several times to knot the score in the second half.

Payne brought the kickoff back to his own 30 and Osborn began to move. Corder and Payne alternated carrying the ball on the ground as they moved down to Orange's 28-yard line.

Signal caller Haynes Davis switched his attack to the air and Osborn had a touchdown. Corder faded back to the 35 and flipped a 25-yard pass to Frank Hoss on the ten who eluded one tackler and scored standing up. Tom Kelso's kick for the extra-point was blocked. Midway in the second period, Osborn drove down to Oranges 30 and again took to the air. This time, Payne did the passing, hitting Hoss in the end zone. The touchdown was called back when the referees charged Osborn with "backfield in motion."

Orange's defense stiffened in the third period and the Yellow Jackets could not get going. Late in the fourth period, Bobby Payne drove over his own right tackle, cut to the sidelines and went all the way for a score, only to have his touchdown nullified by a clipping penalty. Payne went 80 yards for the score which was called back.

Orange threatened several times in the second half, but Osborn defense played brilliantly to halt each threat before the invaders reached the 15-yard line.

The Yellow Jackets were at full strength for this game with the return to action of Tom Kelso. However, Kelso was hurt again when he twisted an ankle after catching a pass in the second period. Quarterback David Barbee did not see action because of a cold but dressed for the game.

Coach Jim Leo was pleased at his boys' rejuvenation, but most distressed at the officiating, especially the manner in which the referees handled first downs.

OCOQUAN 7, ALDIE 0

Crippled by injuries, a listless Occoquan eleven edged surprisingly strong Aldie 7-0, Saturday, to rack up their third straight group opponent.

Missing two of its backfield stars, Occoquan's Coach Johnny Suren hurriedly switched his lineup the morning before the game. Suren had already moved Guard Jim Justice to the fullback slot in place of Neil Williams who broke several bones in his foot in the Leesburg game.

Last Friday night, halfback James Smith dropped a weight on his foot and broke two toes to sideline him indefinitely. Suren moved Jennings to Smith's halfback post Saturday morning.

Occoquan pushed its score over in the third period after battling Aldie to a scoreless first half. Billy Bauckman drove over from the one for the touchdown and then kicked the extra point. With Justice relatively new at his position in the backfield, the burden of the offense fell on Jackie Keys and quarterback Bauckman.

Both teams showed a strong defense but little offense. Aldie threatened Occoquan's commanding lead several times behind the passing of triple-threat Alfred Piggott. Until he was injured late in the game, quarterback Piggott dazzled Occoquan with accurate short passes into the flat zones along the sidelines. Only fumbles prevented Aldie from scoring.

In the third period, Occoquan stole the ball from Piggott after one of his pitchouts was wild. Piggott fell on the ball but lost it in the pile-up on the Aldie 21. Occoquan took over and drove for their only score.

Occoquan received a lift with the return to action of end Willie Weston. Weston saw limited action Saturday but was particularly effective in this punting role, kicking Occoquan out of trouble several times in the second half.

Stars Of The Week

BRYCE CORDER

JACKIE KEYS

This week, two comparative newcomers have turned the spotlight away from the established performers. At Osborn, back Bryce Corder gets the award while at Occoquan, Jackie Keys qualifies.

Corder blossomed out last Friday night despite the fact he has been a regular since the season opened. Corder's running showed great improvement and added balance to the Osborn squad which has been heretofore missing. In addition to his running, Corder tossed a 20-yard pass to End Frank Hoss for the only score of the game.

Keys has also been a regular in the Occoquan backfield. Keys first showed promise in the Leesburg game but came into his own nicely last Saturday against Aldie. At a time when the Occoquan backfield was missing fullback Williams and halfback James Smith, Keys sparked the sluggish Indians to their third straight conference victory.

Jackie is much the same size as Smith and is improving each game as a breakaway runner with a style very similar to Smith's. Bryce Corder's improved running has helped Jim Leo mix up his signals, to confuse the opposition. Previously, the ground offensive fell squarely on the shoulders of Bobby Payne.

• New formations . . . Aldie is the latest team to pick up VMT's "T" formation. Against Occoquan Saturday, Aldie ran about six plays from Tom Nugent's brain child, but not too successfully. Osborn Coach Jim Leo may try to do Nugent one better Friday night, against Stuyvesant when he will publicly exhibit his own brain child, details of which are at present top secret. Watch the second half!

• Record? . . . When Billy Bauckman, Occoquan quarterback, kicked the extra-point after Occoquan's only touchdown, he became the first county player this year to kick an extra-point. To date, eleven touchdowns have been scored, and only two extra-points have been made, one of them on a line play.

• Hard luck . . . Osborn End

Tom Kelso suffered a slight cussion in the first game of season against Culpeper. Kelso covered in time for the game last week only to break an ankle on the first play from scrimmage he participated in. Kelso will be out for the remainder of season.

• Ready for action . . . Coach Jim Leo's Baby Yellow Jackets take the field this noon against Culpeper there is the opening game of the season for the eighth and ninth grades. Coach Plesna has a number fine ball players and they give Culpeper High quite a challenge. Both teams are untested this season.

• Basketball . . . what Nokes and Occoquan will do about Northern Virginia Basketball League is anybody's guess. They are the only two teams unrepresented at Leesburg last night. The rule meeting is due next week in Warrenton, so they better act soon.

4-H NEWS AND VIEWS

By Mrs. Bettie A. Dotterer

There are several 4-H Clubs that have not been organized to date. Woodbine and Cannon Branch are two examples. If any of you are interested in having a club in your community, please call Mrs. Barlow at Manassas 237 and talk to her about it. If you take care of this right away we can finish our organization meeting this month, and you can get started on one of the many interesting programs on the project list.

The Buckhall 4-H Club will meet on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 1:30 in the home of Miss Lois Miller. Their project is the Home Improvement Unit I.

The Manassas 4-H Club will meet at Nancy Chaire Blakemore's on Monday evening, October 22. Bring your sewing—this will be a work meeting.

Monday, Oct. 22 the Bethel Home Demonstration Club will start their all day meeting at 10:00 in the home of Mrs. Motil. Metallic Stenciling will be their project this month.

Wednesday, Oct. 24 the Aden Club will meet at the Church at 1:30 to study Metallic Stenciling.

Thursday, Oct. 25 the Haymarket Club will meet at the Firehall at 1:30. They too have selected Metallic Stenciling for their project this month.

Friday, Oct. 26 the Buckhall Home Demonstration Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Lillian Pile at 1:00. Their project will be Etching Aluminum Trays.

Fine Arts Show

The 4-H and Home Demonstration club members are invited to show some of their handicrafts at the Art and Handicraft Show sponsored by the Fine Arts Section of the Manassas Woman's Club. The Fine Arts Section is offering a place for handicrafts because they feel that handicrafts well done should be recognized as a display of artistic talents. Much handwork has been done in the county which has not previously been displayed at a hobby show, fair, etc. Mrs. Barlow suggests: fabric painting, stenciling, etching, tray decoration, seat weaving on chairs and stools, jewelry making, lamps and lamp shades, fancy needle work, etc. If you have any item you would like to enter please call Mrs. Barlow and list it with her.

A Safe Halloween

In another week Halloween will be here again. It always presents work, fun, parties and problems. Mrs. Barlow offers several suggestions in making it a safe Halloween. Light colored costumes can be seen more easily at night by motorists than the dark ones. The luminous or reflecting decorations on costumes give additional safety by gleaming in the approaching headlights of cars.

Be sure costumes are not too long or too tight for easy stepping. A small flashlight is a safer illumination for the jack-o-lantern than a candle.

Be sure the eye holes in masks are smoothly finished and are large enough so that the wearer can see clearly, both straight ahead and to each side.

The children must love "taffy apples" for Halloween because each year at about this time we have quite a few calls for the recipe. Perhaps there are others who would like to try them this year for "treats".

TAFFY APPLES

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
6 skewers
½ cup water
½ cup vinegar
6 small round solid apples
Cook granulated sugar, brown sugar, water and vinegar together until when dropped in cold water the taffy will make a crackling sound when pressed together. Stick a wooden skewer in each apple and dip into the hot syrup until well covered. Drain on buttered pan or plate. This makes 6-8 small taffy apples.

Designed For Gracious Living

This plan offers you a beautiful home with a lot of space for comfortable living at the very lowest possible cost in terms of dollars per square foot of usable area. All of the rooms are rather spacious and in every case you have plenty of unbroken wall space for an attractive arrangement of the furniture.

Any farm family will like the kitchen in this house. It should be especially attractive to the homemaker, since it has 21 linear feet of counter top and an abundance of wall cabinets. Also there is ample space in this room for eating most of the family meals.

Plenty of room is provided in the workroom for laundry equipment or storage as desired. There is also space for a lavatory where the field hands may clean up before going into other parts of the house; and room for a freezer chest and water heater. It has a closet for storage of raincoats, overshoes, etc., that are used outside and cannot be conveniently stored with other clothing.

Although the dining room has been made a conservative size in order to utilize valuable space, it will conveniently accommodate your dining room furniture, with a table that will seat about ten people very easily.

The entrance hall is provided with a coat closet, and will prevent unnecessary traffic in the living room. You will notice that the entire house has been arranged so that it will not be necessary to go through any room in order to get to another. This arrangement will alleviate a lot of housework.

Louis Bleriot first flew the English Channel in 1909.

Electric Brooder Saves Pigs

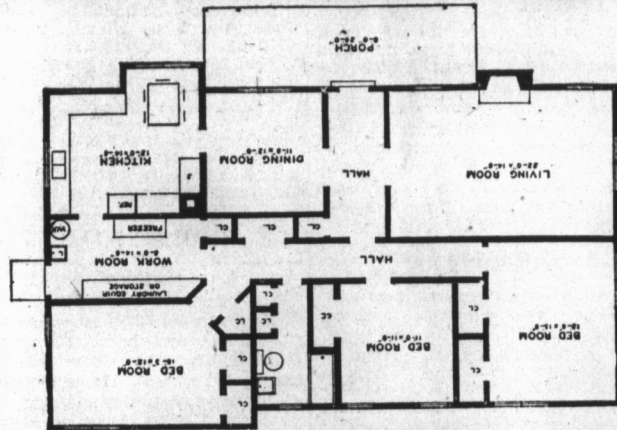

PUTTING heat into the farrowing pens is a proved method of preventing baby pigs from becoming chilled. Farm statistics show that if pigs are allowed to shift for themselves during the first 48 hours, chilling will cause the death of approximately 11 per cent. One of the easiest ways to keep pigs from chilling immediately after birth is for the farmer to build an electric brooder and install it in a corner of the farrowing pen. Through its use losses may be reduced 50 per cent or more. The kind of electric brooder illustrated here can be put together quickly. It is efficient, and the cost is low.

Sides are cut from a 1 by 12-inch board 12 feet long. The front ends of the side pieces are beveled and notched to receive the top and bottom braces, both of which are cut from 1 by 4-inch lumber. A triangular piece of Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard, with a hole 12½ inches in diameter cut in the center, is nailed over the framework.

Installation of electrical equipment—enameled reflector, lamp, weather-proof socket, and 10 feet of rubber-covered extension cord—completes the brooder. The 14-inch reflector is fitted over the opening in the roof and secured with four wood screws. To keep pigs away from the light bulb, cover the roof opening on the inside with a square piece of hardware cloth held in place with 1 by 1-inch nailing strips. A barricade two feet wide set across the front of the brooder will protect the cord, reflector and lamp from possible damage by the sow. The gap between the top of the brooder and the bottom of the barricade should not exceed four inches. The only operating cost is the burning of a 100 or 150-watt lamp.

Proved Sires Make Good Record in Va.

Bulls which have been designated as "proved sires" are making a good record in Virginia.

Glen Purley, assistant Extension Dairyman at V.P.I., reports that of the 86 sires proved in Virginia last year, 59 maintained or increased the production of their daughters over that of the dams. Bred to 702 dams averaging 8,670 pounds of milk and 388 pounds of butter fat, the sires had daughters averaging 8,869 pounds of milk and 406 pounds of fat. This is an increase over the dams of 199 pounds of milk and 18 pounds of fat.

The average of the proved sire daughters is well above the 1950 dairy herd improvement association average of 8,174 pounds of milk and 344 pounds of fat. Purley says many more sires could be proved if all available location records were reported.

Leading the state in reporting so far this year are the Tidewater No. 2 and Amelia associations, which reported on 79 percent and 70 percent respectively of the cows on test. Other associations above the 50 percent mark are Wythe No. 1, Shenandoah-Page, and Botetourt.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR
Brentsville's oldest and highly respected citizen is none other than "Miff" Keys, who has dwelt in this area for 84 years, fifty of them on the place where he now resides. Fortunate, indeed, is the stranger coming to town in search of the present whereabouts of former residents, for the alert mind of Mr. Keys readily recalls former residents as well as many an interesting narrative of the days when Brentsville flourished as the county seat of Prince William. For all his eighty-four years, Mr. Keys is still an active man for the Brentsville area, an elder in the Union Church, and an ardent worker for the Democratic Party. Only recently he left his work as foreman with the State Highway Department. Today he stays busy, keeping his home and place in the heat and attractive appearance it always presents. Mrs. Keys is his very capable assistant in this task.

Winter Cover Crop Advised For Gardens

Planting a winter cover crop in the garden will provide the soil with organic matter... a determining factor in the success or failure of the garden.

L. C. Beamer, gardening specialist at V.P.I., says a consistent cause of failure of home gardens is the shortage of such materials in the soil.

The organic material also increases the water-holding capacity of the soil, and helps make plant food available for the vegetables.

If seeded before a killing frost, Beamer suggests using one part Italian rye grass and three parts of crimson clover. After a killing frost, the gardener should use winter oats, barley, or wheat. If the cover crop is not seeded until late October or early November, Abruzzi rye should be used.
