SEVERELY ATTACKS SUFFRAGISTS

Perhaps there never was a more severe rap given to the movement towards votes for women than was given by Representative Heflin in his speech upon the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis at the Mount Vernon M. E. Church, in Washington, Tuesday night.

The celebration took place under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of the District of Columbia.

While we do not agree with Mr. Heflin, from a standpoint of right and justice, in his attitude towards those who have the right by ballot throw a safeguard around their personal rights, we do agree with him in many things he said in the following paragraph which we copy from the report of his speech upon the occasion referred to: "Mr. Heflin spoke of the women of the Confederacy as the 'noblest women that ever graced the pages of history.' He said that the woman is the power behind the throne, and that Pericles said he was ruled by his wife; and that he ruled Athens, and that Athens ruled the world. 'Let us therefore pray,' continued the speaker, 'that our noble women will always inspire us and speak to the world through their fathers, brothers, husbands, sons and daughters. God grant the day may never come when they repudiate their husbands, their fathers and their sons; and discount their wisdom and love by rushing to the ballot box to show lack of confidence in their own husbands, fathers and sons.'"

AUDITOR MOORE OFFERS SUGGESTION.

State Auditor C. Lee Moore, has sent out to the several banks a circular letter making certain enquiries upon the answer to which he proposes to offer a suggestion to the next legislature to amend the assessment laws as to place upon banks an additional tax and release bank depositors from taxation on deposits.

This suggestion appears to us a good one and likely to be favored by the banks for the reason that it will have the tendency of drawing surplus cash from the shot sack or other receptacle in which it is now hidden about the home and place it on deposit in the bank when it is known that such deposits are within the breast of bank officials and no longer subject to the enquiries of the Revenue Assessor.

The banks can well afford to pay the extra assessment when they will be afforded thousands of dollars of deposits upon which they may do business and which they do not now get under the present assessment laws.

Mr. Moore heartily agrees that some of the assessment laws are radically wrong and should be changed, still he feels that so long as they remain on the statute books he would be false to his oath of office did he not enforce them, and in this he is unquestionably right.

FEMINE HEADGEAR SHOULD GO.

When questioned as to why he was not, of late, seen at Church services, an old farmer in Southwest Virginia said: "The abominable extreme styles in feminine headgear is what keeps me away. I get awfully tired and bored from sitting behind a sheaf of wheat or a basket of spinach or a conservatory of roses piled on a stack of wheat straw with a row of pitchforks sticking out of it, and the voice of the preacher reaching me like the swarming of bees through the foliage of a cedar bush. I prefer to get as far away as possible from the display of the products of the farm at least one day in the week, and this I cannot do by going to church, so I stay away and go fishing."

There is more than unconscious humor in the answer of the old "hayseed." Being, ourselves, in the benedict class we have always held to the opinion that a woman was never more attractive than when adorned with the simple headgear which God had given her, and as the argument of the old man tends to show the hindrance to the attendance upon church worship on account of millinery extremes it is high time the Y. W. C. A. takes steps to abate this nuisance.

REPRESENTATIVE HEFLIN AT GETTYSBURG

Standing on the historic plains of Gettysburg and bringing a message of a re-united country, Representative Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, paid eloquent tribute to the heroism of those who wore the Blue and those who wore the Gray. His was the first address ever made by a Southerner at Gettysburg upon Memorial Day occasion.

Mr. Heflin said the question of the right of the States to secede and the right of the Union to prevent it, the status of rights and relationship between State and Federal government, could not be determined in the council of peace; it had to be settled by the arbitrament of the sword. "Here," continued the speaker, "the brave Union soldier checked the march of the hitherto irresistible Confederate soldier; here in the red glare of destructive battle fire two mighty lessons were taught; one that the Union should be preserved and the other that the Union should be ever mindful and considerate of the rights of States. So, the soldiers of the two great armies who baptized this soil with their blood did not die in vain; they started the work of cementing the bonds of an everlasting Union."

Of the re-union in July of the survivors of the two armies at Gettysburg Mr. Heflin said: "What a glorious re-union that must be and the angels will smile upon that gathering of fraternizing battle-scarred veterans enemies of half a century ago—and the God of our fathers will bless and approve it."

DR. LESTER JONES TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.

The many friends in Manassas and elsewhere of Dr. E. Lester Jones, of Culpeper will be glad to learn of his good fortune in securing the position of Deputy United States Commissioner of Fisheries.

No more fitting person could have been selected for the position than Dr. Jones nor one more calculated to perform more satisfactory service than he.

We now may expect to have our streams supplied with the full quota of fish to which they have heretofore been entitled but failed to get through some cause or other, perhaps as in the case of kisses—lack of favor.

With cattle, sheep, hogs and grain now placed upon the free list the high cost of living should be considerably lessened in the near future.

THAT Philadelphia millionaire piano manufacturer certainly struck the wrong key when he meddled with the Mann white slave act and was held under $1,000 bail for taking a "Hahn" in certain railway transportation.

SISTER BERTHA GRAY ROBINSON, of the Orange Observer, says she notes that there is a hotel in North Carolina called "The Bertha Hotel" and wonders whether or not it was named after her. Why, of course not, sister, that hotel is over a half century old.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to provide a home for Colonel John S. Mosby, the world-wide famous Confederate guerrilla chieftain. The matter is now in the hands of a special committee which will name sub-committees throughout the State. Among those who have made substantial subscriptions are Congressman Flood and John F. Ryan, the latter for $500.

ON last Sunday, Postmaster H. P. Dodge turned over the Manassas postoffice to his successor, Mr. A. W. Sinclair. Mr. Dodge leaves the office with the encomium of its patrons: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joys of thy rest," for during his twelve years tenure of office, less than thirty days have been spent in recreation.

WITH a gigantic blast, by means of seventeen tons of dynamite used in removing the temporary rock barrier, and which shook the entire isthmus, the waters of the Pacific were given freedom to the Panama canal Sunday week, placing the two great waterways within easy access, thus placing commerce on a more profitable basis and adding great advantages in many other respects.

It will be particularly gratifying to Virginians that four Virginians have been named by the Democratic caucus for heads of important committees. Carter Glass heads the committee on Banking and Currency; W. A. Jones the committee on Insular affairs; James A. Hay the committee on Military affairs, and Henry D. Flood the committee on Foreign affairs. Mr. Glass will come prominently in the limelight when the administration's bill for a change in the currency is presented.

On Monday, June 10, the qualified voters of Manassas will be called upon to choose by ballot a mayor and nine councilmen. So far as we have been able to learn there has been no concerted action towards naming a ticket. It is to be hoped that a council and mayor may be named in whom the people will have confidence if the bonding proposition for needed civic improvements is expected to carry.

Mr. Jos. F. Lewis, who suffered complete paralysis of the left side and loss of speech a few months ago, is rapidly regaining the use of his limbs and speech and is able to walk about his home near Manassas and direct his business affairs.

The commencement exercises of the Bristow school was held on Thursday of last week. A very interesting program was successfully carried out and enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance. Much credit is due to the work of their popular young teacher, Miss Nellie Mayhugh.

All-day services will be held in the United Brethren church at Aden Sunday with dinner on the ground. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Brill, will be assisted by Dr. H. U. Roop, of Eastern College, who will preach in the morning at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Everyone cordially invited.

Mr. Jas. Bettis, of Nokesville, says that a bank in his town has worked wonders in the way of convenience, but there is one thing yet that they need even worse than a bank and that is that Nokesville be made the county seat and wants to know who will put the question before the house.

The festival held by the Manassas Camp of Modern Woodmen in Smith's grove on South Grant avenue Saturday night was well attended and proved a very enjoyable occasion. But for one of the Eastern College events taking place upon the same night, the attendance would have been greatly augmented.

The applicants for the Bristow and Nokesville postoffices, we understand, are legion. Applicants will have to stand a civil service examination and any one of three placed upon the eligible list may be selected; therefore the one who stands at the head of the eligible list in either case may not get the appointment.

Capt. John R. Rust, of Haymarket, has been appointed aide-camp for Gen. R. D. Funkhouser, commanding the third brigade of the Virginia division, United Confederate Veterans. The captain has provided himself with a new uniform and will accompany Gen. Funkhouser to Gettysburg.

About one and a half hours were taken up in the Fairfax circuit court last Friday, in the trial of Benjamin Bailey, colored, charged with criminal assault, and it took the jury ten minutes to bring in a verdict of guilty, whereupon Judge Thornton sentenced the accused to pay the penalty of the crime in the electric chair on July 11th.

"Stape" Grutchfield, colored, who was arrested in Alexandria a few weeks ago upon the complaint of a negro by the name of Jackson who charged him with the murder of a negro at Quantico seven years ago, and who was committed to the Prince William county jail to await the action of the grand jury, was released from custody Wednesday.

The enjoyment of Eastern's Commencement week, by Miss Margaret O'Neil, was brought to a most sorrowful culmination, Saturday night, upon the receipt by her of a telegram announcing the tragic death of her sister, Kathleen, in an automobile accident at Newfield, N. J., on the previous day. The distressed young student left Manassas on the early morning train Sunday for her New Jersey home, carrying with her the heartfelt sympathy of her many friends in this place.

There was a reunion of the Lewis family at the old homestead in Fairfax county, between Clifton and Occoquan, last week, at which twenty-five members were present. Upon this occasion a beautiful family monument was placed in the old graveyard upon the Lewis premises, by Mr. M. H. Hottle, of this place, upon which was inscribed the names, birth and death of the father, mother, three sons and one daughter. The monument was erected upon the order of Messrs. R. C. and J. O. Lewis.

Mr. C. H. Wise, of near Manassas, has declared his ill will towards buzzards and agrees with the newly discovered fact that they are disseminators of disease and ought to be exterminated. After using all his ammunition through bad marksmanship to protect his corn from the crows he hung up a dead crow in his cornfield as a more effectual method of getting rid of the pests. To his great surprise buzzards looked upon dead crows as a delicacy and he is now at a loss to know what other course to pursue to protect his corn.

Invitations have been received in Manassas this week announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Besse Bennett Brower, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ford Brower, of Catnapin, to Mr. Russell Holman Willis, of Roanoke; the marriage to take place in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Haymarket, at 8 o'clock, on the evening of Wednesday, June 10. I hereby give notice to the people of Prince William county that I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the next house of delegates of Virginia. I believe my conduct in the last session warrants this. I ask you to examine the records as kept in the Journal of the House of 1912 to see where I stood and how I voted on all matters. Thanking you for the honor which you have already conferred upon me and the confidence reposed, and with the promise to serve you in the future with all of the power and energies I can command, I am very sincerely and truly yours,

HAYMARKET SCHOOL ENDS

Interesting Program Marks the Commencement Exercises Last Saturday.

The closing exercises of the Haymarket graded school took place on last Saturday afternoon in the school building. The stage was prettily decorated with daisies and other flowers, and a well presented program of songs, drills and recitations was much enjoyed and applauded by a large audience.

A flag, given the school by the League, was presented by Mr. C. E. Jordan, after which "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the school. The reading of two original poems—"Defeated Flags" and "The Bible in the School"—by Dr. H. M. Clarkson, was an interesting and much enjoyed number of the program.

The prizes were presented by Mr. Jordan and awarded as follows:

Medal for Scholarship: Ella Utterback
Second Prize for Scholarship

First Prize for Attendance: Emma Peters
Second Prize for Attendance: Parsons Rector

MISS NORMAN'S ROOM
Prize for Headmarks (a $2.50 gold piece given by Miss Norman's father): Lillian Hutchison

Prize for Attendance: Julia Garnett
MISS TULLOS'S ROOM
Prize for Attendance: Harry Leonard
Prize for Scholarship in First Grade: Thomas Garnett

Headmarks in Third Grade: Nim Lightner
Headmarks in Second Grade: Katharine Peters

Headmarks in Kindergarten: Lettie Gill

Miss Brower, to whose untiring zeal and interest the success of the school during the past session is largely due, received several pretty gifts—from the teachers and pupils a silver berry spoon; from the Girl's Athletic Club a berry set; and from three of the boys a sugar bowl. Miss Norman, who has taught in the school for some years and is most deservedly popular and beloved, and Miss Willie Tulloss, the bright and successful young teacher of the primary grade, were also remembered by their pupils with dainty little presents.

WOMAN'S VIOLENT DEATH

Found in Lonely Cabin With Skull Crushed—Sister of Former Resident Manassas.

What appeared to have been a murder was discovered Friday in a lonely cabin home near Parnassus in Augusta county, this state, when Miss Rebecca Donaghe was found with her head crushed by means of some blunt instrument. Two blows had been struck, one on the forehead and one on the back of the head, either of which would have proven fatal.

The dead woman's brother,

Charles Donaghe, stated that he left home about 7 o'clock on the morning of the tragedy and spent the day in and about Parnassus.

On the day following the murder Charles Donaghe was arrested, charged with the murder of his sister, Rebecca Donaghe, and lodged in jail. He vigorously protested his innocence and feigned to believe he was being taken to the Western State hospital for the insane. He is nearly 70 years old, but appears somewhat younger.

The murdered woman is a sister of Mrs. A. J. Siling whose husband was a former resident of Manassas, who at one time was one of Manassas' most prominent drygoods merchants.

Portner-Moncure Nuptials.

Mr. Edward G. Portner and Miss Anna Ford Moncure, daughter of Rev. George Moncure, formerly of Stafford county, were married in St. John's Episcopal church in Washington at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the presence of a few near relatives and intimate friends. Mrs. Portner is a graduate trained nurse and it was while a patient in George Washington hospital in Washington that Mr. Portner met Miss Moncure and won her hand in marriage, but the engagement was kept secret until shortly before the nuptials.

Mr. Portner, who is the oldest surviving son of the late Robert and Anna Portner, is president of the Capital Construction Company, of Washington, an organization which controls and directs his late father's business interests in both Washington and Alexandria.

Shortly after the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Portner left for Atlantic City and will continue their wedding tour through the North, returning by way of Niagara Falls and Montreal, Canada to Washington where they will make their home.

Death of Mrs. Maggie Keys.

The many friends, in this place, of Mrs. Maggie Foley Keys were grieved to learn of her death, in her home in Norfolk, after two weeks of critical illness, last Sunday. The immediate cause of death, we learn, was acute indigestion. The body was taken to Alexandria where it was interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Keys was a native of Manassas, having spent the greater portion of her life in an humble home near where Mr. John W. Prescott's residence, on Quarry road, now stands. For several successive terms she was an efficient teacher in the public school, now the Manassas High School building. Her fifty-six years were spent in a life full of affection and duty to her estimable mother, husband and children. Besides her husband, who is also a native of this county, she is survived by one son and one daughter, who have the deep sympathy of a host of friends in her late adopted home, and in this county.

AB. BEAVERS TRAGIC FATE

Found Near His Home Wednesday Morning With An Ugly Gunshot Wound in Head.

Albert Beavers, 39 years of age, son of John Beavers, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head with a shot gun at a lonely spot near his home, two miles southwest of Brentsville, about 11 o'clock Wednesday night, but the tragedy was not discovered until early Thursday morning following a careful search of the premises. The wounded and thought to be dying man was removed to the home and Dr. J. C. Meredith, of Manassas, summoned by phone. Upon his arrival his conclusions were that his patient was beyond all human aid to save his life and set about to make him as comfortable as possible.

Mr. Beavers' mind has been seriously affected for six or eight months and it is thought that in a moment of extreme despondency he committed the rash act.

At the time of our going to press the unfortunate man was still living and preparations were being made to take him to a Washington hospital.
