CONVENTION AT SUDLEY SUCCESSFUL STATE FAIR

Sunday Schools of Gainesville District in Session Last Sunday.

One of the most enjoyable and profitable meetings ever held at Sudley was the Sunday School Convention held at that place last Sunday. The day was beautiful, apparently in full sympathy with the spirit of the occasion. From 10 a. m. until late in the evening the different sessions were full of interest. The Sunday School convened promptly at 10 a. m. with a number of visiting superintendents and teachers from other schools present to witness the exercises. The Sudley school is full of energy and now almost taxes the capacity of the church building, its officers and teachers being very progressive and up-to-date in their work. The kindergarten, with its sand table and other appliances, were of special interest to many. At 11:30, Mr. Westwood Hutchison, of Manassas, was introduced. Mr. Hutchison, in his very pleasing and forceful manner, occupied this period in a thoroughly practical presentation of the work of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League. At 12:30 the meeting adjourned for dinner. All the ladies of the community seemed to vie with each other in providing refreshments and enough provisions to feed—not the biblical five thousand—but the Sudley five hundred, were in evidence everywhere. Here again among the old oaks on Sudley's lawn were to be found happy groups, families, friends, kinfolk and stranger all mingling together in friendship's hospitality and that true, open-hearted, unreserved good will which bids you welcome at all times. Such is Sudley now, and such has she always been, and may she never depart therefrom. At 2 p. m., the convention proper was called to order by the Sunday School superintendent, Mr. McDonald. The house was crowded to the gallery, all in eager expectation of the good things which followed in rapid succession. The music was excellent and added greatly to the spirit of the occasion. After prayer by Mr. Conner, of Cannon Branch, the first speaker of the afternoon, the Hon. C. J. Meetze, of Manassas, was introduced, who spoke on the subject: "The Country Sunday School." Mr. Meetze characterized the Sunday School as "The Foundation Upon Which the Church Is Established," and "The Fountain Head or Source of Supply." His address was very interesting and instructive and deeply deplored the careless tendency of parents in not sending their children to where "they would be trained in society and morals and the higher ideals in citizenship." He strongly urged parents not to neglect this very important duty. Mr. G. G. Tyler, superintendent of the Episcopal Sunday School, at Haymarket, was next introduced and spoke on "The Needs of the Hour in Sunday School Work." Mr. Tyler handled this subject so sincerely that his hearers were greatly impressed by his many beautiful observations on the "Spirit of True Christian Character." He said the first and greatest need of the hour was: "That we first be imbued with the true Spirit and Love of God ourselves; such a Spirit as will move us on to better things." Mr. Tyler's many references to Sudley's remissical history and her people of bygone years who had been useful

Some of the Most Notable Exhibits in the History of Virginia.

BY C. H. YARBOROUGH, JR. (Director Manassas Agricultural School)

The State Fair at Richmond was a great success in so far as exhibits are concerned. The agricultural products were the best, perhaps, that were ever shown at a Virginia fair. The farm demonstration building was, without doubt, the best thing at the fair. Fifty-five counties of Virginia (among them Prince William) had educational and agricultural exhibits. The exhibits were arranged in a very attractive manner. The exhibit of apples and grains from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute were very instructive, showing results from fertilizer experiments with grain and giving practical demonstration of apple-packing. The beef cattle were only few and could not be considered as worthy individuals. There were, however, a few that were very fine animals. The dairy cattle were all fine animals, splendid individuals, and were, perhaps, the best ever shown in Richmond. The departments for horses, sheep and swine were well filled, and the entries in these departments were of a very high character. Generally speaking the trip to the fair was well worth any one's time, and I believe that the State Fair and county fairs throughout the state are doing and will do wonders on the farms and in our homes.

CLIFTON GIRL MARRIED

Miss Rita Brooke Dorsey Weds Mr. John Hopkins Tourtelot, of Chicago.

Last Thursday evening, October 9th, in the Episcopal Chapel at Clifton, Miss Rita Brooke Dorsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooke Dorsey, was married to Mr. John Hopkins Tourtelot, of Chicago, Ill., in the presence of a large assemblage. The church was prettily decorated with autumn foliage, palms and cut flowers. Miss Charlene C. Browne, of Washington, rendered the wedding music on the organ. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Richard Brooke Dorsey. Her gown was of light mauve de chine, draped with shadow lace. She wore a very becoming chiffon cap, trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Haycock acted as matron of honor for her sister and was becomingly gowned in pink champagne trimmed with ecru chrysomel. Her chiffon cap was caught with pink rosebuds. The maid of honor, Miss M. E. Tourtelot, sister of the groom, wore a beautiful gown of white shadow lace and crepe de chine with silver trimming. Her cap of white chiffon was caught with lilies of the valley. Both carried bouquets of pink roses. The groom's chum, Mr. A. A. Breuner, of Chicago, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. W. B. Tourtelot, brother of the groom, and Mr. Humphrey Ford, of Clifton. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother assisted in receiving the guests, and was becomingly gowned in lavender char-

A GREAT STORY-TELLER

Mr. Richard T. Wyche Coming to Eastern College Next Tuesday Evening.

Mr. Richard T. Wyche, editor of the Story-teller's Magazine, and president of the National Story-teller's League of America, will give an evening of entertaining stories at Eastern College Tuesday, October 21st, at 8 p. m. Mr. Wyche has revived an old art and awakened the whole country to the beauties of literature in story form. He gives a personal charm to the early Greek and Roman tales, takes one into the great north country with Hiawatha and far into the heart of the sunny southland with Uncle Remus and other stories. Old folk love his stories of memories, the middle age love his touches of sympathy and keen insight into human nature, while children are charmed by his folk lore tales. Mr. Wyche has lectured and told stories in many places in the United States and Canada, and is greatly enjoyed wherever he goes. As author, editor and entertainer, he has a wide range of appreciative friends. What others say of Mr. Wyche: "Everybody laughed, the little children no less than their fathers and mothers, who were delightfully entertained last night by the pleasing, unaffected manner in which Richard Thomas Wyche told the famous Uncle Remus stories to a large audience in the Tacoma High School auditorium. Mr. Wyche's way of telling the stories written by Joel Chandler Harris leaves nothing to be desired. He enters into the spirit of the negro folk lore so easily that the atmosphere of the old South goes with him completely. The children in the front seats glued their eyes upon him as he respun the yarns of Brer Rabbit and Brer Bar. Each successive victory of Brer Rabbit met with the approval of the youthful auditors and equally pleased their elders.—Tacoma (Washington) Daily. Mr. Wyche appreciates the hunger and longings of the human soul.—Governor W. N. Ferris, Michigan. Mr. Wyche holds an audience of ten-year-olds perfectly with his Beowulf story, and they never tire of his Uncle Remus stories. He created great enthusiasm among our pupils.—F. W. Nichols, Superintendent Schools, Evanson, Ill. At least 1,400 persons were charmed with the stories told by Mr. Wyche yesterday afternoon, among whom were 1,200 children, who remained quiet while the speaker told stories for nearly two hours.—Topeka Daily Capital, March, 1911. The executive committee of the National Star-Spangled Banner Commission has authorized the appointment of a representative of THE JOURNAL as a member of the press committee of the National Star-Spangled Banner Centennial, which will be celebrated in Baltimore from Sept. 6 to 14, 1914. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. E. C. Tourtelot, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tourtelot and son Ned, Mr. W. B. Tourtelot, Miss E. V. Tourtelot, Miss M. L. Tourtelot, Miss M. C. Hale and Mr. A. A. Breuner, all of Chicago. Later the couple departed for New York, sailing from there Saturday for Cuba. They will be at home after November 1st at Palos Park, Ill.

MEETING OF DIRECTORS

Heads of the Agricultural High Schools of Virginia Gather at Burkeville.

The directors of agriculture of the ten Agricultural High Schools of the State met at Burkeville, Va., on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The meeting was called to order by Mr. R. C. Stearnes, superintendent of public instruction, and a thorough discussion of courses of study, scope and usefulness of the Agricultural High School and the financing of these schools was entered into. A committee, composed of Messrs. C. H. Yarborough, Jr., of the Eighth District; C. V. Campbell, of the First District, and P. S. Blandford, of the Second District, was appointed to outline and arrange a course of study to be followed in all of the Agricultural High Schools of the State. It was decided that the agricultural directors of the several schools should do more extension work among the farmers in their districts. It was decided to ask the railroads to give special rates in order to enable children who live far out in the districts, to come to school. The next legislature will be asked for an appropriation to build dormitories, as it was generally agreed by those attending the meeting, that these schools, in order to follow out the purpose for which they were organized, will have to be run as boarding schools. The matter of supervision and control was taken up, and a committee, composed of Messrs. E. M. Hunter, of the Ninth District; W. L. Garnett, of the Sixth District, and J. O. Beard, of the Seventh District, was appointed to formulate plans for this work and submit them at the November meeting in Lynchburg. Those attending the meeting were: Superintendent R. C. Stearnes, State School Inspector A. L. Lincoln, Hon. T. O. Sandy, C. V. Campbell, of the First District; R. J. DeJarnette, of the Second District; W. H. Harrison and R. W. Fuqua, of the Third District; R. H. Harris and S. F. Coffman, of the Fourth District; W. G. Irvin, of the Fifth District; R. Q. Lowry and W. L. Garnett, of the Sixth District; J. O. Beard, of the Seventh District; C. H. Yarborough, Jr., of the Eighth District; E. M. Hunter, of the Ninth District, and Lindsay Crawley, of the Tenth District. After considering other matters of minor importance, the meeting adjourned Tuesday, October 14th. The next meeting will be held in Lynchburg in November.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, God in His great wisdom has seen fit to remove from time to eternity one of our loved ones, Mrs. Nellie Schraggs Cunningham, thus leaving a void in the heart of our students and co-workers. RESOLVED, That we as teachers and students of Hebron Seminary, express to Mr. W. E. Cunningham, the husband, and to her bereaved mother and father our deep sympathy and condolence in this sad hour, when the loved companion and daughter has been called away. We trust that the loving heart may be comforted with the thought, she did what she could toward the enlarging of the kingdom of her Lord, Jesus Christ, and that she is now resting in the place prepared for those who loved the Lord. RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved husband and parents. RESOLVED, Further, That a copy of the same be published in the Hebron Star, and that a copy be submitted for publication to the Manassas papers and to the Nelson county paper. EDNA D. MILLER, Mrs. A. Plunk, J. A. MILLER, Committee.

DR. HECK COMING AGAIN

Will Speak on the Subject of Medical Inspection—Patrons' Day.

The Manassas schools will celebrate Patrons' Day next Friday, the 24th of October. The morning of the 24th will be devoted to the meeting of the Farmers' Institute, and in the afternoon, in place of the usual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, a joint celebration of Patrons' Day will be held by the High and Graded Schools. Dr. Heck, of the University of Virginia, whose address at the High School commencement last summer created so favorable an impression, will speak on the subject of medical inspection in the schools, and at the close of his address will hold a round table discussion of the subject. Dr. Heck has done much valuable service through the State in helping to arouse public opinion on this subject of medical inspection which is now being everywhere agitated. For people are beginning to feel that more benefit should be derived for the children from the immense advances in recent years in the science of sanitary living. The purpose and meaning of Patrons' Day will then be brought out in an address by Dr. Quarles, of Manassas, on parental co-operation and its value in the teacher's work. All parents and all friends of the schools, who realize the vital significance of their work, are urged to attend and to help in this movement for which Patrons' Day stands—the movement to make more use of the great possibilities of the school as a centre for co-operative community work. URGED TO VISIT SCHOOLS Patrons' Day Will be Observed Friday, October 31st, in Every County in the State. Reports received at the office of the Co-operative Education Association indicate that Patrons' Day, Friday, October 31st, will be observed in every county of the state. School superintendents and teachers are busily at work to make the day a success. The object of Patrons' Day is to awaken a greater interest in our public schools. On the day appointed parents will gather at the schools to hear songs and recitations by the pupils and public addresses by citizens interested in building up our schools. In many cases Patrons' Day will be an all day affair, a part of the time being devoted to cleaning up the school grounds and making necessary repairs to the building. It is hoped that no school will observe the day without organizing a School and Civic League to hold regular meetings throughout the session and work in a systematic way for the improvement of the school. The Co-operative Association urges all public-spirited citizens to help make Patrons' Day a success. It especially urges that, following the day, our ministers preach a sermon on education. The fall session of the County Teachers' Association is being held to-day and to-morrow in the Bennett Building. The reception to visiting teachers will be held at Ruffner this evening. A most interesting feature of the reception will be the cycle of famous folk stories told by the teachers and the students of the normal class.

MRS. GOODE WINS APPEAL

Evidence Shows That the Late John W. Prescott Made Another Will in 1911.

The case of Mamie J. Goode, appellant, vs. Daniel H. Prescott, Ella J. Fuller and Clara C. Hogan, appellees, on appeal from order of clerk, ordering probated paper as will of John W. Prescott, deceased, has excited a great deal of local interest. The will of John W. Prescott, made in 1901, cut off his only daughter, Mrs. Mamie J. Goode, with $100. After making certain provision for his wife, not exceeding the proportion allowed by law, the residue was given to his brother, Daniel H. Prescott, and sisters, Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Hogan. The will, in possession of Daniel H. Prescott, which was published in THE JOURNAL last August, was offered for probate before the clerk, who probated it. Mrs. Goode appealed from this order, and last Saturday the court, Judge Thornton presiding, heard the testimony and argument. He took the case under advisement and yesterday decided that the paper offered for probate by Mr. Prescott and Messrs. Fuller and Hogan is not the last will of John W. Prescott. The evidence showed that he made another will in 1911. The court held that the last will revoked the first will and that the subsequent destruction of the last will did not revive the first will. It is understood that those claiming under the will will ask for an appeal. The value of the estate involved is estimated at $20,000. Under this decision Mrs. Goode gets the entire estate after deducting her mother's interest. Had she lost her appeal she would receive $100. Col. Robt. A. Hutchison represented Mrs. Goode. Judge C. E. Nicol represented those claiming under the alleged will. Mrs. Rebecca Prescott took no part in the litigation, as she renounced the provisions made for her in the will and stood on her legal rights. COURT ORDER. This day came again the appellees by their attorney, as well as the appellant by their attorney, (it appearing from the statement made at the bar by Mr. H. Thornton Davies, counsel for Mrs. Rebecca Prescott, widow of John W. Prescott, deceased, and one of the beneficiaries named in the paper writing offered for probate as the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, that she does not claim under such paper writing or alleged will, and does not desire to participate in this contest, for the reason that she would renounce the provisions of such paper writing,) and the court having fully considered of its opinion, and being of opinion that the paper writing bearing date the 4th day of July, 1901, offered for probate as the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, by the appellees, was revoked by a will duly executed by the said John W. Prescott, with proper legal formalities in the year 1911, and being further of opinion that under the authority of Rudisill's Ex'or. vs. Rodas, 29 Gratt. (70 Va.) p. 147, construing section 2519, of the Virginia Code, the destruction, in vivo revocandi, of such subsequent will did not operate to revive as a will the paper writing here offered for probate, and that therefore the said paper writing bearing date the 4th day of July, 1901, here offered for probate by the appellees is not the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, it is therefore considered by the court that the motion of the appellees to probate such paper writing bearing date the 4th day of July, 1901, as the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, be and the same is hereby overruled, to which action and ruling of the court the appellees excepted.

And the appellees, after the court had announced its opinion overruling said motion, and refusing to order probated the said paper writing, bearing date the 4th day of July, 1901, as the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, moved the court for a new trial on the ground that they were taken by surprise in that they expected the appellant would produce the alleged subsequent will, which appellant claimed John W. Prescott had executed, and since appellant failed to produce such alleged subsequent will appellee had no opportunity to make search for said subsequent will, and in support of said motion appellees filed the affidavit of Daniel H. Prescott, one of the appellees, and in opposition thereto the appellant filed the affidavit of Robert A. Hutchison.

Whereupon the court overruled the said motion for a new trial, to which action of the court in overruling said motion the appellees excepted.

And the appellees excepted to the action of the court in refusing to probate said paper writing, bearing date the 4th day of July, 1901, as the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, which was offered for probate.

It is further considered by the court that the appellant, Mamie J. Prescott, do recover of the appellees, Daniel H. Prescott, Ella J. Fuller and Clara C. Hogan, her costs in this her behalf expended.

And the clerk of this court is directed to copy this order into his fiduciary order book.

And it appearing to the court that the clerk of this court has copied the said paper writing, here offered for probate in the current will book in his office, together with the clerk's order of probate, from which this appeal was taken, the clerk is directed to write on the page whereon such paper writing and order are copied, the following memorandum:

This order of probate has been made aside and the paper writing here copied declared not to be the last will and testament of John W. Prescott, deceased, by order of the circuit court of Prince William county, entered October 17, 1913, in Goode v. Prescott et al.

And he shall attest the same as such clerk.

On motion of the appellees the judgment of the court is suspended for sixty days to allow the appellees to apply to the supreme court of appeals for a writ of error to this judgment, but this suspension is not to take effect unless within ten days appellees execute a suspending bond with approved security in a penalty of one hundred dollars and on condition as the law directs.

Aerial Cable To Carry Milk Cans

An aerial tramway is used for transporting milk cans on a large farm near Biltmore, N. C. says the November Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. The cableway leads from the milking barns to the ice dairy house and twice each day great quantities of milk are sent over the line to be pasteurized and packed away for shipment. Two large cans make the load for the two-wheeled truck which runs along the heavy cable. Gravity furnishes the motive power for the cableway; the supports at each end of the line are arranged so that either end of the cable can be raised or lowered.

SET OF WARE FREE!

SAVE $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here. Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

SPECIAL

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the Majestic Factory will be glad to show you "all about ranges"—show you why the Majestic is the best range on earth at any price.

COME, IF YOU INTEND TO BUY OR NOT.

Education lies in knowing things—know why the oven of a range is heated—know how the water is heated—how the top is heated—why the Majestic uses so little fuel—know how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. Don't overlook a chance to know things shown by one who knows. COME.

Which Shall It Be?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high-priced food with that old worn-out cook stove? You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year. You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs. Stop and think and figure. Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation?

The Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range?

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300 per cent. stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

He was in the habit of walking home nights along the railroad tracks," says a newspaper account of the death of a minister of the gospel who was recently killed by a freight train near a Georgia city. A college graduate, a man far above the average in intelligence, and a useful citizen, yet this man by his daily habits, formed probably because the railroad track offered smoother walking than the public road, did nothing less than invite the fate which finally overtook him.

Commenting on this dangerous practice the Atlanta Journal says editorially:

"The loss of fourteen lives in a wreck would loom forth as a national horror; yet statistics show that there is an average of fourteen deaths every day caused by the dangerous custom of walking on railroad tracks or otherwise trespassing on such property. It is estimated, indeed, that in this manner occur more than half the fatalities incident to railroads in the United States; and the majority of the persons thus killed are not tramps but children and valued citizens.

"The time has come when the public should take serious note of this record with its grim warning to all who are accustomed to use the railroad tracks as a common highway. The transportation companies are exerting themselves to end this peril and the Interstate Commerce Commission has spoken to the same purpose. After all, however, it is upon the individual that the responsibility must rest; it is popular judgment that must correct this evil. Five thousand lives a year is a terrible sacrifice to carelessness. It can be reduced and prevented only through individual recognition of the great risk in walking on a railroad track.

"This matter should now be of peculiar concern to the South where railway traffic is fast increasing.

"In Georgia and neighboring states many more trains are in operation than ten or even five years ago and their number is continually multiplying. The danger of pedestrians who venture on the tracks is accordingly more and more serious. It is far better to stick to the muddiest highway or the roughest woodland path than to take the deadly chance of following a railroad track simply because the latter affords easier walking.

"Much emphasis is now laid on the need of greater caution in the traffic of crowded cities but it is scarcely less important to remember that in rural districts and in the open country there lies a constant jeopardy of life to every one who walks on a railroad track."

"LET ME OUT!"

The Boston Vocation Bureau had a grave time determining the future vocation of one boy. The decision hinged upon the boy's favorite exhibit and title of a book. The exhibit proved to be in Machinery Hall, St. Louis, and the book was "A Trip to the Moon." As these two confessions denoted love of mechanics and a roving disposition, they made an engineer of him.

Now, will anyone show us a normal boy who, if left to his own sweet will, as a "test" case, would not show symptoms of mechanics and a roving disposition? Or a clinic of surgeons, a school of lawyers, a convention of ministers and bishops, a colony of deep-sea fishermen or land-lubbers, whose primal impulse was not toward things with wheels and roving? We can name at least one lawyer whose early selection of vocations included consecutively, bartending, clock mending, washing, pitching, on a baseball team and the study of medicine. We heard one spinster remark with sweet dignity: "Had I not been Miss Blank, I should have been a roving blade!"

Youth's normal impulse cries, like Sterne's stalling, "Let me out! Let me out!" and it is the parents' most perplexing problem to perceive how far conditions and discipline should be to keep, or bring it under control. But a Bureau of Vocation is perfectly safe in hitting upon mechanics and a roving disposition as the natural, and not acquired, taste and impulse of ninety-nine boys out of one hundred. - Baltimore News.

JUST THINK OF IT

A little boy once said to his schoolmates, "I don't make any more mistakes in my music." This little boy had such poor eyesight that he could not read letters three and one-half inches square more than six feet away from him, and yet he had been repeatedly punished by his violin teacher for making mistakes while taking his lessons. Just think of it; punished for making mistakes when he could not see his notes plainly!

How did he find out that his eyes were weak? His schoolteacher had been making tests of the sight of her pupils and had discovered that this boy could not see well. She reported the fact to his parents, who got glasses that made him the happiest boy in the school, saved him many undeserved punishments and caused him to say, "I don't make any more mistakes in my music."

This boy did not know, nor did his parents know, but that he saw as well as every other boy, and his mistakes were thought to be from carelessness and inattention.

This same boy afterwards became a noted violinist, was educated abroad and played before royalty. His glasses enabled him to see his notes plainly and he made no more mistakes in his reading music.

There have been thousands of just such boys and girls in our public schools in the past, who have been stumbling along, hating their lessons, scolded and punished by their teachers and parents, just because they had a defect of vision of which they and their parents and teacher were ignorant.

Parents, do you know that your children have good eyesight? Do you know that they are not "long-sighted," "near-sighted," or color blind? Do they often complain of being tired, or of having a headache when they return home from school? Do they dislike school? Are they sleepy and dull when trying to learn their home tasks? Is it hard for them to keep up with their class? Are they inclined to "play hookey"? Then do not punish and scold them, until you first find out if there is not some physical cause behind it all, so that you may not regret later and blame yourself for neglect or injustice to one of your own.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse to the law-breaker in court. Ignorance is no excuse for neglect of your children. Fifty per cent. of the blindness caused by separation of the retina (the sight seeing membrane within the eye) occurs in people who are near-sighted. Many of the headaches of children and others are the result of eye-strain caused by the attempt of the delicate eye muscles to overcome the defect. This overtaxing of them strains the eye muscles, then the letters blur and run together, the child feels tired and the eyes pain or headache follows.

Do not neglect your children's eyes!

CHILD LABOR IN GEORGIA

At least for another year ten-year-old children, who can neither read nor write, will lend their efforts to increasing the fortunes of the cotton-mill owners of Georgia. The Anderson bill, which raised the age limit for working children to thirteen years for 1914 and provided for a further increase to fourteen years in 1915, has been side-tracked in the legislature, and the session is about to close. Georgia has made practically no advances along this line since 1906. This is not creditable to the traditional chivalry and civilization of the South.

The marriage of Miss Eulalia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Turner Smith, of Baltimore, to Dr. Louis John Pegram, of Raleigh, N. C., took place last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents in North Charles street. After a wedding journey to Bermuda, Dr. and Mrs. Pegram will live in Raleigh. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. W. F. Merchant, of Manassas.

Among the registrations at Eastern College this week are: Miss Margaret Connelly, Midland; Miss Nettie M. Curtis, Warrenton, who last year attended the Peabody Conservatory of Music; Mrs. Emily Baird, Gainesville; Misses Katherine Lewis and Marie V. Herrell, Manassas; Miss Anna S. Bell, Culpeper; Miss Christine Bragg, Haymarket, and Edgar D. Marine, Brookview, Md.

Miss Eloise Williams, of Portsmouth, and Mr. Ernest B. Hornbaker, of Pueblo, Colo., were married Wednesday in Portsmouth. Mr. Hornbaker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hornbaker, of Bristow, and his bride is one of the most charming young women of Portsmouth. The couple is expected here this week on a visit to the groom's relatives before going to Pueblo, where they will reside.

Several weeks ago we were obliged to remind some of our subscribers that their subscriptions were over due and that unless payment were made immediately we should, under the new postal regulation, be compelled to discontinue sending THE JOURNAL. A few have not yet responded to our statements and we earnestly request that the matter be given their attention at an early day, for it is with keen regret that we drop even one subscriber from our list.

On Monday of this week, Mr. H. Andrew Pine was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. He is the son of the late David E. Pine whose boyhood was spent in this place, and his first lessons were taught him in the small room of the M. E. Church, by Miss Estelle Green (now Mrs. Day), whom some will remember as a fine teacher, especially for little ones. Young Pine visited his grandparents on Grant avenue Sunday. He was accompanied by a relative, Major W. H. H. Gore, of Athens, Pa., who was a soldier and anxious to visit the battlefield, as he was in the second battle of Bull Run.

The Junior Improvement League of the Manassas Graded School held the first meeting of the session last Wednesday afternoon. The special features were the enrollment, election of officers and arrangements for a Halloween party. The League will meet every Friday afternoon.

A young man, representing himself a boy scout from Philadelphia Troop No. 182, came to town last week announcing the purpose of starting a troop in Manassas. He was made welcome by the interested boys, some of whom gave him the required thirty cents for membership, etc. Mr. W. W. Martin, also much interested in the organization, became suspicious of the stranger and wrote to headquarters. A reply, stating that Troop No. 182 had disbanded more than a year ago, reached Manassas several hours after the disappearance of Scout Edward Scutter, who left the boys last Wednesday morning, saying he was bound for Orange and Culpeper but would return in a few days, and assuring them repeatedly that their money was in safe hands. Dark, slim, frail and effeminate, with treble voice and slightly embarrassed manner, "Scout Edward" was not a figure calculated to arouse suspicion.

EASTERN WINS.

In a swift game of football, played on Round Athletic Field last Saturday afternoon, Eastern High School of Washington, ran up a score of 19 to 0 against the Manassas Athletic Club. This was the first game of the season and some of the Manassas boys had never played the game before. They were also outweighed ten pounds to the man.
 Eastern ran rings around the Manassas boys until they woke up and in the last half the home team played exceeding well. Gregory, Garrison, Adamson, Round and Janney starred for Manassas, and Dyer, Pope, Thorneit and Riley played well for Eastern. The following is the summary:
 Referee, Mr. C. M. Hopkins, M. A. C. Umpire, Mr. Brooke, E. H. S. Linesmen, Messrs. Fisher and Waters. Timers, Messrs. Wood and Lipscomb.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mabel Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kincheloe, who, after a short illness, died at her home in Dumfries October 6, 1913, aged six years, eleven months and fourteen days. With loving thoughts and grief-stricken hearts we laid her to rest in the Episcopal graveyard, under a covering of the flowers she loved so well, leaving her in care of Him who has said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."
 The little chair is empty now,
 Her place at the table vacant,
 The little clothes laid by
 By a fond mother's hand.
 A mother's hope, a father's joy,
 In death's cold arm doth lie;
 Farewell our bright-eyed Mabel.
 Our darling little love,
 Thou art gone to meet thy Saviour
 In the heavenly home above;
 We miss her, words cannot express
 The loss we now sustain,
 Yet she is in heaven at rest,
 O! why should we complain,
 When a loving mother and father,
 Public Meeting for Men Only.

This Beautiful Hair

Is like what you want your hair to be—

Lustrous, bright and glossy; soft, silky and wavy.

To have beautiful hair like this, use

HARMONY HAIR BEAUTIFIER

It's just what its name implies—just to make the hair glossy, and lustrous, and more beautiful—just to make it easier to dress, and more natural to fall easily and gracefully into the wavy lines and folds of the culture, just to give that delightful fresh and cool effect, and leave a lingering, delicate, elusive perfume.
 Will not change or darken the color of the hair. Contains no oil, therefore, cannot leave the hair sticky or stringy.
 Very pleasant to use, very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a trace on your hair each time before brushing it.
 To thoroughly clean your hair and scalp, use

Harmony Shampoo

A liquid shampoo to keep the hair clean, soft, smooth and beautiful. It gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather, penetrating to every part of the hair and scalp. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments.
 It leaves no lumps or stickiness.
 — Just a refreshing sense of cool, sweet cleanliness.
 — Just a dainty, pleasant and clean fragrance.
 Both in odd-shaped ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops.
 Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00; Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to please you, or your money back.

Sold only by the more than 7000 Retail Stores—The World's Greatest Drug Stores—and only in any one by Eastern Laboratories, where all the delightful HARMONY, VIOLET BUCE and BOUQUET BEANCE Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.
