

Why Whiskey Adv. Was on Horse Show Catalogue And Expresses Regret.

Doubtless everyone at the recent Horse Show noticed the very conspicuous whisky advertisement on the outside back cover of our catalogue, and I have no doubt many persons severely criticised the officials and especially myself, knowing the part I take against whisky.

For a number of years Mr. J. J. Decker, of Washington, has been soliciting advertisements for our catalogue. This year he did the same thing, and when he got all of them he made a package and sent them by Mr. M. C. Hazen to Manassas and I was at the depot. Mr. Hazen handed them to me and I delivered them to the printing office who was printing our catalogue.

I never saw the advertisements, did not know what they were, had no idea any such advertisement was among them until next morning I went into the printing office and most of the backs of the catalogue had been printed, and when I saw this whisky advertisement I was mortified and said at once to Mr. Garrison that I would not have had such a thing on our catalogue for the worth of the horse show or words to that effect, but I realized that our agent had solicited this advertisement, the party had paid for and selected the space and I saw no way out of it, yet I wrote Mr. Hazen, the president of the show, at once about the matter and have a copy of the letter in my office.

Yours very truly, C. J. MEETZE, Secretary and Manager Prince William Horse Show Co.

Leading Citizens Will Vote to Retain Local Self-Government

Farmers, Business and Professional Men State for Publication Their Reasons for Opposing Statewide Prohibition—Lack of Space Permits Publication of Only a Few of the Hundreds of Letters From Every County in the State.

W. T. OULD, a Well-Known Merchant of Glenlyn, Giles County, Writes:

"I believe in Local Self-Government, and Statewide prohibition would destroy Local Self-Government."

"I think the people of each district should have the right to say what should not be sold in their locality."

C. M. McCLAIN, Lawyer, Justice of the Peace and Farmer, Greenfield, Nelson County, is Opposed to Prohibition for These Reasons:

"First. Because I think it would be an invasion upon the fundamental principles of Local Self-Government."

"Second. Because I think the liquor traffic would be carried on more extensively and illicitly than under the present temperance laws, and by a rude class of citizens, which would cause trouble, distress and disturbance in communities where peace and harmony now exist."

"Third. Because I believe it to be undemocratic in the extreme."

J. HENRY CRUISE, Justice of Peace, Snake Creek, Carroll County, Writes:

"I am opposed to Statewide prohibition because it carries with it a feature of oppression, and does not diminish crime or stop drunkenness. It does not add anything to the cause of temperance."

"I endorse Local Option because it gives to each county and community the right to control the sale of liquor. The law, in connection with Local Option, if strictly enforced, is sufficient to hold in check the illegal sale of intoxicants. In my humble judgment Statewide prohibition will take from our State a considerable revenue, and increase the burden of taxation. This matter should be duly considered by the good citizens of the country."

T. J. TAYLOR, Physician, Kenbridge, Lunenburg County, Says:

"That over one-half of the counties in Virginia draw more money out of the treasury of the State than they pay in. What is to become of the deficit?"

"I am not willing to be taxed to make it up, and extra taxation is the only means by which it can be made up. The States which have already abolished Local Option for Statewide prohibition, finding that prohibition does not prohibit, would be glad to return to Local Option. Alabama was one of those that returned to Local Option."

J. E. ROGERS, Farmer, King George County, Opposes Prohibition:

"Because if any control of the liquor question is just and right, Local Option, which seeks to obtain the consent of the governed in each community, must be the just and right way under our form of government. I am utterly opposed to Statewide prohibition as proposed under the so-called enabling act, because it is manifestly unjust and unfair in that it takes the dry counties of the State which have exercised the privilege of Local Option in voting dry to force dry, wet communities which have not exercised the privilege of Local Option when at the same time, if any dry counties vote wet, it is not permitted license to sell as it has voted. Because it is not a square deal, a piece of sneak thief legislation thrust through a time serving Legislature, bulldozed and intimidated by an army of 400 strong of clerical hypocrites who marched to the Capitol and harangued a multitude there while the question was pending in the Legislature."

WILLIAM E. JAVIS, Farmer, New Point, Mathews County, Thus Gives His Reasons for Opposing Prohibition:

"Because I am a Democrat and believe in the principles of a true Democracy, and I believe in Local Government, not only in the sale of liquor, but in various other matters, as the same laws do not suit every part of the State. I would not vote for the sale or manufacture of liquor in any county, and I think if any other part of the State should vote and give a majority to force it upon us against our will it would be an imposition; therefore, if I vote to prohibit the sale of liquor in sections where the people desire it, that would be an imposition and undemocratic."

N. F. SMITH, Prominent Contractor of Barryville, Clarke County, Opposes Prohibition:

"Because Statewide prohibition will cause a great quantity of Virginia's money to be sent out of the State for liquor when it might be spent in the State and Virginia's money kept in Virginia."

"Because Statewide prohibition will cut down the revenue of the State and cause this loss to be made up by raising taxes on the necessities of life."

"Because Statewide prohibition will not prohibit the sale of liquor in the State, but will cause it to be sold illegally; and in a manner and in places which make it impossible to regulate and control."

C. P. NOLAN, Farmer, Elamsville, Patrick County, is Opposed to Prohibition for These Reasons:

"That the interest of the people in different parts of the State is so diversified that each locality should be allowed to control its own local affairs; that Statewide prohibition would be forcible imperialism and contrary to the principles of the American people, and would be detrimental to the State mentally, morally and financially; that it would substitute blockade distilleries in the place of licensed distilleries, blind tigers for decent saloons, increase the burden of taxation, cause money to be spent outside the State that would otherwise be kept in the State; that the use of intoxicating liquors can only be controlled or reduced by moral persuasion and not by statism."

G. BECKWITH, Prominent Farmer of Passapatanzy, King George County, Says:

"Statewide prohibition is against the fundamental principles of democracy of Self-Government. Having been a commercial traveler for many years, and during a number of years traveled in Kansas, Iowa, North and South Dakota, I have found the prohibition law a dead letter in many communities where the people were in favor of license. Local Option is the only way to control the liquor question."

H. C. DETHILLS, Well-Known Attorney, Tappahannock, Essex County, Opposes Prohibition Because:

"Because I am a Democrat in politics and principle and believe that Local Self-Government in such matters as the liquor traffic is the only fair way to deal with the problem. I consider that the people of Essex have no more right to say that Richmond shall not issue license than the people of Richmond have to say that the people of Essex county shall issue license to sell liquor."

J. W. BORUM, Farmer, Burkeville, R. F. D. No. 2, Nottoway County, Says:

"My experience is that prohibition does not prohibit. It will take the liquor business from the hands of responsible men and place it in the hands of irresponsible people who will have no respect for law or order. It will cause loss of revenue to the State and will throw the traffic into other States. I am in favor of each locality settling the matter for themselves, without outside interference. Local Self-Government is satisfactory to me."

ENEMIES OF OLD.

Fate has done a bit of ironic work in "picking sides" in Europe's present war. Nations now allied are former bitter foes; and nations at variance are old-time friends. For example: -

Take the line-up. Germany and Austria against England, France and Russia, etc. Germany and Austria less than 50 years ago, were deadly enemies. The Austro-Prussian war of 1866 left behind it a good healthy mutual hatred that endured for years. So much so that Austria planned to help France against Germany in 1870.

On the other side, France and England, now fighting shoulder to shoulder, were mortal foes for nearly 800 years. The list of French-English wars is far too long to set down here. Each country was the other's most dangerous and most hated rival.

England's rulers for a century and a half have been of German ancestry. King George I of England could not speak English, but conversed entirely in German. The present English King is the German Kaiser's first cousin, even as the Czar and the Kaiser are connected by marriage.

England and Russia have more than once growled fiercely at each other over Eastern supremacy. A few years ago it would have been hard to find an English army officer who did not expect that soon or late his country must fight Russia. England and France both attacked and thrashed Russia, by the way, in 1854-56, at the Crimea. Austria at that time flirted with both factions, siding at last against Russia and reaping some of the spoils of victory.

So there you have the situation: France and Russia and England have all three repeatedly been at furious enmity with one another. Austria and Germany are hereditary foes. Yet these former enemies have become sworn brothers-at-arms, and the former friends have become equally ardent enemies. A European war 10 years hence would possibly see an entirely new shifting of sides. No-one foreign nation has ever remained the steadfast friend of any other.—New York Evening World

WAR AND FASHIONS.

The question whether this country is equal to devising its own fashions, now that war has cut off prospects of the importation of fall "creations" from Paris, will undoubtedly be answered in the affirmative. With all the many milliners of France shouldering guns and going forth to battle, the situation is a dreadful one for such as have looked to them alone for the necessary inspiration. But it will be met in the true spirit. Whether or not woman shall have clothes may, from time to time, seem a matter of small consequence. That she will have fashions, war or no war, is a foregone conclusion.

It is just possible, furthermore, that cut off France and her sartorial creations, the United States may achieve its final emancipation in this respect. Why should we look servilely to another country and bow to the foreign yoke in the matter of clothes? Why not American fashions and American names for them, as well? Why not the Kokomo kimono and the Oshkosh vest? The New Jersey Panama has long waved, while the Plymouth Rock pant is scarcely less historic than the famous rock itself. Let the remainder of the country follow suit. There will be glory enough for all.—Washington Post

THE Kaiser says he will fight to the bitter end. Just at what place in the battle line do these kings and kaisers do their fighting?—Detroit Free Press.

THE nations are doing what they can to convert each other's cruisers into submarines.—Washington Post

A WORLD IN FRENZY.

Never since the crusades of the Middle Ages has there been witnessed anything approaching the spectacle we are seeing to-day, and that is an entire world in frenzy—a frenzy of and for fighting, of fear and of uncertainty. Things are different, too, from the Middle Ages. Then communication was slow and transportation even slower. Panic spread less fast, and the country far off was less affected by remote troubles.

Our very perfection and marvel of civilization is hurting us all, Europe and America, in giving us greater opportunities for losing our heads, some of us literally no less than metaphorically. The wireless, the cable, the phone, the telegraph, the railroad, the ocean liner, efficient machinery for production in factory and field—all these influences militate to frenzy.

No nation in Europe to-day knows its status. None knows where to expect a blow, or when. The estimates of the enemy's strength all are conjectural, and built on the treachery of spies and bribed men.

Europe's financial and commercial fabric is in tatters. It will be in that condition indefinitely, whether peace is patched or the spasmodic flashes become a conflagration. No wonder that in city and country people accustomed to a long peace are frantic and demoralized. No wonder that statesmen ordinarily grave exhibit symptoms of paresis. No wonder that King George of England suffers nervous collapse.

The world is standing topsy-turvy. The Old World is spinning around like a top, morally and mentally. Fortunate we, on this side of the Atlantic, that we are sufficiently detached to be able to keep our feet on the ground. People living to-day are witnessing a gigantic spectacle that it is doubtful ever will be repeated in future history. The cost of its repetition will be too deadly, and men will protest.—Times-Dispatch.

A RAILWAY CENTURY.

One hundred years ago last Saturday the first steam locomotive hauled a load of freight over rails in England. Last Saturday the New York newspapers told of a test conducted at Binghamton, N. Y., when an engine pulled 250 loaded cars, weighing 21,000 tons.

It was only last November—the 25th, to be exact—when a special train, consisting of a locomotive and two cars, ran from Washington, D.C., to Jersey City, 226 miles, in four hours, the fastest trip ever made between the two cities.

There were 9,000 miles of railroad tracks in America in 1850; thirty years later the mileage had grown to more than 93,000. Twenty years after that it had more than doubled the 1980 figures. In the United States to-day there are more than 250,000 miles of track, the total mileage being greater than that of all Europe and Asia combined, with Australia thrown in. One of New York's terminals alone covers in acres almost double that of London's Waterloo, Paris' St. Lazare, Frankfurt's and Dresden's Main and the Cologne station.—Baltimore News.

BUSINESS PATRIOTISM.

It is certainly to be hoped that the American people will not be penalized by their own wholesale dealers because of a war in Europe. Reports are current that provision houses have already begun to hoard supplies with an upward pressure upon prices, and not because a scarcity of foodstuffs in this country renders the measure precautionary, but because their very abundance has tempted them to such amassing to sell at boom figures abroad.

Americans will feel the paralysis of the war severely enough in any event, so that it is the duty of every patriotic business man to aid as he may in keeping domestic conditions as nearly as possible to the normal, and therefore food dealers, assured of a reasonable profit at home, should not contribute to the stringency of their fellow countrymen by compelling them to suffer on behalf of the profits of hazardous exportation.—New York Evening Sun.

THE most hopeful report is that the world's supply of lead is so low that a long war is impossible.—Springfield Republican.

It is hard to take the proper interest even in a pennant-winning team with all this war excitement.—Louisville Post.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. E. K. Mitchell is on the sick list. Members of the L. T. L. are asked to meet at the Baptist church Wednesday, Aug. 19, at 3 p. m. Remember the summer meeting of the Farmers' Institute Saturday, August 22, at Independent Hill. Miss Ethel Lipscomb has accepted a position in the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Washington, D. C. The firm of Davis Brothers Ice and Fuel Co. has placed an electric plant in the ice factory on Center street. A pie social is to be given at Bradley Saturday, at 7 p. m., for the benefit of the Methodist church. The public is cordially invited. Miss Marian Burks entertained Wednesday evening at the rectory in honor of her guest, Miss Lillian Osbourn, of Brightwood, D. C. There will be no regular services at Trinity Episcopal church in the absence of the rector, whose vacation will last about three weeks. Mr. John Nelson has completed his two-story brick garage on Stonewall road. Northwestern Manassas is assuming a most prosperous air. Rev. J. F. Burks will conduct services at Trinity Episcopal Church next Sunday at 8 p. m., and at St. Anne's Church, Nokesville, at 11 p. m. Manassas has been a popular center for motorists the past week. An unusual number of parties stopped a short time in town on Tuesday. The Robertson house on Main street and Center street has been sold by Mr. Robertson, of Nokesville, and Mr. Andrew Robertson, of Wellington. The Imhof tank at the sewer disposal plant is practically complete and people interested in this most modern of all sewage disposal systems should visit it now. R. F. D., No. 3, has been changed so the carrier starts out Lee avenue to Stonewall road, thence to Sudley instead of out Grant avenue to Sudley road as before. The State Board of Education has decided to allow the same school books to be used another year without change. This will be welcome news to parents. Mr. J. J. Conner has just about completed extensive improvements on his dairy farm west of town. Mr. Conner now has one of the best equipped dairies in this section. Dr. H. L. Quarles leaves tomorrow for Fredericksburg to preach next week at a protracted meeting near that city. There will be no preaching at the Manassas Baptist church. Mrs. Myers and several of her children are extremely ill of typhoid fever in their home on Main street and Centreville road. This is the first time typhoid has been reported here this summer. Mr. G. B. McDonald, of Brentsville, estimates his apple crop at something over one hundred barrels. Mr. L. F. Bargamin, whose orchard adjoins Mr. McDonald's, will harvest fully as many. As the special funeral train, bearing the body of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, passed through Manassas Monday afternoon, the bells in the court-house and churches pealed forth in solemn tribute to her whose death the nation mourns.

The warerooms on Center street, formerly the place of business of the late P. Mulholland, are being remodeled, and we understand that Messrs. Maddox & Byrd expect to locate there. We understand that Rev. T. D. D. Clark has accepted a call to Clarke county, and will shortly move with his family to Millwood. If the report be true Manassas will note their departure with sincere regret. Messrs. Pringle and Shoemaker have returned from a trip to Russell county with five carloads of stock. There are about 300 cattle, said to be fine stock, and we understand they are to be sold in the county. Mrs. J. Locke Bushong was recently called to Middletown by the serious illness of her father, Mr. Dingee, and later word announces his death on Monday. Mr. Bushong left town Sunday to join his family in Middletown. Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Allen, Master Gilbert Allen and Miss Edna Davis motored to Washington Sunday, spending the day in the capital city. They were accompanied by Miss Struds, who has been the guest of Mrs. Allen. More houses and stores are being wired every day and applications for electric current are coming in from outside the corporation. The committee feels sure of an income of over one hundred dollars per month at the start of the engines. Manassas Nos. 1 and 2, Messrs. H. P. Young and D. P. Bell, attended the meeting of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association in Washington, Aug. 11-15. Every state in the Union was represented and about 1,000 delegates were in attendance. It was interesting to learn from Mr. A. J. Hockman, who was working the Bradley road last Friday, that he counted the passage of 110 teams during the day. Mr. Hockman is of the opinion that this road is the most widely traveled highway in the county. The Potomac Baptist Association, comprising Alexandria, Fairfax, Loudoun, Fauquier, Stafford and Prince William counties, is in session this week at Middleburg, Loudoun county. Rev. H. L. Quarles, pastor of Manassas Baptist church, and several other townspeople are in attendance. The Catharpin Housekeeping Club met at the home of Mrs. C. F. Brower on Aug. 4. The members were all present with the exception of two. After the business of the evening was concluded a short musical program was rendered by Mrs. Chas. McDonald and Mrs. W. L. Sanders. Dainty and pleasing refreshments were served by the hostess. N. L. L., Secretary pro tem. Says the Orange Observer of Miss Coates, a former member of the postoffice force here: Miss Blanche Wynne Coates, of Sperryville, Rappahannock county, has accepted the position of bookkeeper and cashier at the big department store of May-Konsum Company, Incorporated, in Orange, and began her duties on Saturday last, August 1. She is boarding at the Hotel Coleman, and her many friends are delighted to have her in their midst again. Manassas friends have received a chatanga folder from Silver Lake Park, a summer resort at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, where Mr. Frank S. Davidson, the popular comedian and director of several local successes, is presenting "Old Farmer Hopkins" with the assistance of The Stow Players. The folder contains short descriptive paragraphs, with pictures of Silver Lake and her outdoor pleasures, and of the various entertainers, including Mr. Davidson.

Mr. Henry J. Butler, of Warrenton, and Miss Mamie Spittle, of Manassas, were married in Washington at high noon Saturday, Aug. 1, Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, officiating. The bride wore white silk and embroidered net and the groom was attired in navy blue. After spending a few days in Washington Mr. and Mrs. Butler returned to Manassas where they will reside. The August bulletin of the State Department of Agriculture and Immigration contains a cover photograph of a field of cowpeas and sorghum owned by Mr. W. S. Athey, who, with Mr. W. M. Brown, is standing waist-high in the growth. The lot is situated in the triangle made by the intersection of the Millford and Gainesville roads, just beyond the cemetery. Mr. D. J. Arrington's house, now occupied by Mr. Henry Roberts, is seen in the background. ABOUT PEOPLE WE KNOW Miss Eleanor Lewis is visiting relatives in Rectortown. Mr. James F. Gulick spent Tuesday in Fairfax county. Miss Edna Davis is the guest of Miss Struds in Washington. Mrs. F. Jelinek left Sunday to join her husband in New York. Miss Tessie Green, of Strasburg, is the guest of Miss Ruth Leith. Mr. Raymond Davis spent several days this week at Meppum River. Miss Katherine Donohoe is the guest of Miss Mary Payne, in Alexandria. Miss Miriam Jones, of Front Royal, is the guest of Miss Edna Davis, at Bristow. Dr. Smith and family, of Bristow, were transacting business in town yesterday. Miss Ethel Ford, of Washington, is the guest of Misses Julia and Louise Maloney. Mr. W. N. Lipscomb and family left yesterday for a week's stay in Atlantic City. Mrs. John A. Nicol has returned from a visit to friends in Elkton and Markham. Mrs. H. Thornton Davies and Miss Julia Lewis are spending a short time in Atlantic City. Miss Laura Tavener, of Catonsville, Md., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. James R. Dorrell. Mrs. W. Hill Brown left Monday for a fortnight's visit to relatives in Charlestown, W. Va. Mrs. A. J. Adams, of Washington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Larkin, near town. Little Miss Thelma Ferrell has returned to Richmond after a visit to her aunt, Mrs. G. G. Allen. Miss Lillian Osbourne, of Brightwood, D. C., is the guest of Miss Marian Burks at the rectory. Miss Louise Weedon, of Baltimore, is a guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Garrison, on West street. Mr. James Reagan, of Bartsmonth, a former county resident, was a recent visitor of Mr. M. Lyack. Little Miss Lillian Larkin left Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. W. P. Rodasill at Inlet, Culpeper county. Miss Eleanor Wilkins has returned from the Harrisonburg normal and a visit to friends in Covington. Misses Kathryn and E. Grace Brown, of Savage, Md., are spending a few days with Mrs. H. J. Butler. Mrs. Lou Nicol recently returned from a visit to relatives in Elkton. Miss Grace Nicol remains there. Miss Clara Akers and Miss Margaret Calington, of Maryland, are visiting Misses Olivia and Lena Calkins.

MRS. SCHULTZ'S WILL

The will of the late Mrs. Louise Schultz, dated Jan. 21, 1913, was presented in the clerk's office Aug. 11, probated according to law and admitted to record. Messrs. W. N. Lipscomb and H. Thornton Davies are named executors and all property, real and personal, excepting several articles mentioned, is directed to be sold for the payment of debts and funeral expenses, and for the following bequests:

To Clara Doermann, $100; Johanna Doermann, $100; Florence Lyon, $100; Mary Lynch, $500; Hawes and Jenkyn Davies, sons of H. Thornton Davies, $100 each; residue to be divided into seven equal parts and paid as follows:

To her niece, Augusta Henrici, one seventeenth in fee; W. Harold Lipscomb, one seventeenth in fee; Mamie H. Lipscomb, one seventeenth in fee; Theodosia Schultz, wife of the late Albert Schultz, four seventeenths in fee; William F. Bahlman, two seventeenths in fee; Anna C. Bahlmann, four seventeenths in fee; to Hawes Thornton Davies, trustee, four seventeenths, to be held in trust and invested, and the income paid to Eveline Dunsoway, known as Lena Schultz, now the wife of Joseph Howard Dodge; at her death the fund is to be paid to her niece, Augusta Henrici, in fee. Mrs. Henrici is also named residuary legatee.

To Mary D. Lipscomb is given a small rosewood table, a cuckoo clock, a large looking glass in a walnut frame and a small antique Venetian water bottle; to Theodosia Schultz, a large round walnut extension table, four walnut chairs with leather seats, a stereoscope with all pictures and two pictures and frames, both ocean scenes; to Mamie T. Davies a piano stool with embroidered top and a black walnut center table with marble top; to Augusta Henrici a small chiffonier and medicine chest; to Jessie Bennett, an iron cot bed, mattress, pillow and covers on it, plain bureau, washstand, plain table, small square trunk, rocking chair, plain chair and black walnut writing desk; to M. H. Davies, a black walnut bureau; to Lena Dodge, gold watch and all furniture, etc., not disposed of; to Bertha Hoelscher, all wearing apparel, and to W. N. Lipscomb and John J. Davies, jointly, in fee, all her mineral and metal rights and reservations in the Fairfax farm, as set forth in the document of December 26, 1896, at the time said farm was sold to Diana Leedy by Augustus Schultz.

HAYMARKET HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Stutz, of Richmond, are the guests of Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Eagle.

Miss Mary Ann Tyler and Miss Edmonia Tyler are at home for a visit of some weeks.

Miss Frances White has returned from a visit to her brother, Mr. Emmet White, of Gary, Ind.

Mrs. T. R. Robertson, who has been visiting relatives here, spent her week in Richmond and she was joined by General Robertson. They returned to their home in Raleigh, N. C., on Friday.

Mrs. Samuel Buxton, of Newport News, visited Mrs. C. D. S. Clark on last week.

Rev. Edwin S. Hinks, of St. Louis, who is visiting friends here, will preach at St. Paul's church on Sunday morning next at the usual hour.

Mr. Samuel C. Tompkins has returned to his home in Charlottesville, after a stay of ten days at "Meade Croft."

Miss V. Bell Price is at home from an extended visit to friends in New Hampshire.

"The Kite and the Hawk," a comedy in one act, was given with very good success at the Parish Hall last Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The cast was as follows:

- Mrs. John Burton (Peggy), Miss Agnes Hall
- Mrs. Valeria Chess (Annie), a young widow, Miss Shirley Dolaney
- Mrs. Charles Dooze (Mabel), a bride, Miss Julia Hall
- Mrs. Preston Ashley (Bertha), Miss Martha Carter
- Miss Erda Dixon, Miss Dorothy Poole
- Miss Evelyn Evans, a journalist, Miss Lucile Hatchison
- Katie, Mrs. Barton's maid, Miss Etta Rector

In addition to the play, there were a number of pretty tableaux.

A pleasant social event of recent date was a dance given by Misses Shirley and Jane Dulaney to a few of their friends at "St. Hill," the ancestral Dulaney home. The guests were Misses Martha Carter, Jean Fuller, Agnes Hall, Julia Hall, Dorothy Pearce, Norton Tyler, Kate Belcher and Mrs. D. Jenifer Harrison, and Messrs. George Blight, Sam Blight, Bernard Smith, Cary Smith, Edward Carter, William Brooks, Charles Keyser, Roy Blackwell, Jenifer Harrison and R. Blackwell.

LOOK HERE FOR IT

When people read about the cures made by a medicine endorsed from far away, is it surprising that they wonder if the statements are true? But when they read of cases right here at home, positive proof is within their reach, for Read Manassas endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. M. E. Akers, E. Center St., Manassas, Va., says: "I am willing at all times to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement. This excellent remedy completely cured one of my children of a bad case of kidney trouble of several years standing after everything else had failed. My advice to other kidney sufferers is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a fair trial."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the name that Mrs. Akers recommends--the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

LIME! LIME! LIME!

We have just gotten freight rates which enable us to deliver our celebrated Magnesia Lime at any station between Alexandria and Manassas at as low a price as any other lime, considering the quality. Our lime has made Loudoun and Fairfax counties what they are to-day—the banner counties of the state—and we will do the same thing for Prince William. The Leesburg lime has in every case where it has been used side by side with other limes out produced them in both grain and grass, and here is the reason for it: Our lime contains 12 to 15 per cent. Magnesia, 5 to 7 per cent. Oxide of Iron, and these ingredients, in combination with carbonate of lime, are far more valuable for land than all carbonate of lime, as is reported in U. S. Agricultural Department's year book, 1901, on page 161, which says MAGNESIA IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to plant growth and nothing else will take its place. We have such confidence in our lime after selling it for the last twenty-five years that we will sell it to any farmer who owns the land lime is used upon, and after three years will make sworn affidavit that lime has not paid him well, we will return him his money. Our lime is put up in 167 pound burlap sacks, 12 to the ton, and we can ship only in car lots of 12 to 20 tons. Terms cash in 30 days, or negotiable note for 6 to 12 months, with interest; note to be signed by party who owns land lime is used upon. We have come to do business and all we ask is a trial, and after you once use this lime we know you won't try to farm without it. Send order to our Agent, W. T. THOMASSON, Manassas, Va., or direct to us, which will have our prompt attention.

TO HAVE AN INSPECTOR

Private Funds Raised in Bath County for Officer for Campaign Against Diseases.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 5.—Convinced that the people of Virginia counties will amply support local health work when they see the good results that follow it, the supervisors of Bath county have appropriated money with which to employ an inspector during the rest of the summer to carry on an active campaign against insanitary conditions in the county. The new inspector will be the first in a Virginia county to give his entire time to health work.

Officers of the State Board of Health, who make this announcement following conference with the Bath county authorities, are watching the movement with interest and hope that the success of the work in Bath county will encourage other counties to like efforts.

It is pointed out in health circles that one of the greatest health problems in rural Virginia is that of getting active health officers. Under the present laws the board of health consists of three physicians in each county, scantily paid and consequently unable to give much of their time to the discharge of their duties. Until the counties will make appropriations for the employment of a trained physician as health officer, many believe that the best results will come from the employment of lay inspectors, trained as far as possible in handling the ordinary problems of sanitation. Such an inspector in a county, it is claimed, will be able to study sanitary conditions, to abate nuisances and to advise with the people regarding their problems. On this basis the people in Bath county are proceeding. It is confidently predicted that from the labors of the inspector in the county will follow an improvement in general sanitary conditions and a decrease in the fifth-born diseases.

As the first county to employ an inspector for his whole time Bath is receiving many credits in the minds of health officers and is being urged to make itself a model for the state.
