Street Lighting of Manassas Costs Town Nothing—More Should Be Using Power.

It will be very gratifying to the citizens of Manassas to know that already the water and lighting systems of the town are self-supporting. When the town contemplated installing these improvements letters were sent to about 100 towns throughout the state asking what the light was costing the towns. The replies received showed that the average cost to the towns was a little over $1.00 per capita per year. At this rate the electric light used on the streets of the town could be expected to cost the town about $100 per month.

The books of the town have recently been gone over very carefully and one very gratifying thing is noted: The revenue which is now coming in from the water and electric light service is paying the expenses of this service and in addition is furnishing the street light without cost to the town. And this is not the result of high charges to consumers. The town of Manassas is furnishing light to its citizens at a lower rate than any town in Virginia that produces its electricity by steam power. And the quality of Manassas' electric light speaks for itself. Few towns enjoy such a fine, strong, white light as one sees in Manassas.

The town of Manassas stands in need of more users of day current. There is no reason why several who are now using considerable steam and gasoline power should not become consumers of day current. By connecting up with the town's system they will save themselves money, worry and the great inconvenience which they now frequently experience. In addition they will be doing a great deal towards putting the town power and lighting system on a profitable basis.

JOHN S. RECTOR SUCCUMBS

A Native of Fairfax, For Many Years A Resident of Manassas—Buried Sunday.

Mr. John S. Rector, for many years a resident of Manassas, and a man well known to many of the town and county, died at the home of his nephew, Mr. Clyde Mathers, at Clifton Station, last Friday night. The Monday preceding he had suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which little hope of recovery was entertained.

Mr. Rector, who was 70 years of age, and a native of Fairfax county, having been born near Centerville, for the past few years had made his home at Clifton. Prior to that time he resided in Manassas for many years.

The funeral services took place Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church, Manassas, the Rev. H. L. Quarles, pastor, officiating. Interment was made in the Manassas cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. D. J. Arrington, Seldon Smith, Geo. Maddox, D. J. Prescott, William Rennoe and F. C. Rorabaugh.

The deceased is survived by one daughter and five sons. The sons are Walter and Robert of Manassas, John, of Richmond, Eppa, of Washington, and William, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and the daughter, Mrs. Belle Halpenny, of Washington.

Matinee at the "Dixie" Theatre Saturday, 3:15.

HORSE SHOW BIG AFFAIR.

Two Days' Performances Drew Many Visitors—Prince William Horses Fared Well in Awards—Usual Attendance Each Day—Four Races

FIRST DAY

The nineteenth annual exhibition of the Manassas Horse Show Company was ushered in Wednesday morning with pleasant weather. The usual first day crowd, never a very large one, was on hand to witness many performances which were pleasing to all horse lovers. The classes shown afforded much variety while the races of the afternoon proved exciting.

Two accidents occurred during the day. Miss C. E. Swart, of Leesburg, fell with her mount at a jump but seemed to be little injured. In the races, Jack Anderson, of Manassas, was seriously hurt when he lost his stirrup in the steeplechase and was thrown violently to the ground.

Churchman & Davis, of Charleston, W. Va., proved the favorite winners of the day. Their entries carried off six firsts, two seconds and two thirds. In the first day awards Prince William exhibitors were remembered as can be readily seen from the summary.

SECOND DAY

What in the early morning hours threatened to be a bad day for the management and those interested in the horse show proved, after a little while, to be a good day, for the clouds passed over and permitted the show to be run off without a hitch. The second day saw a good representation of the crowd from the various sections of the county, nearby points in Virginia and Washington.

As on the first day, Churchman and Davis came off with the greatest number of honors. Their horses carried off during the second day seven firsts and four seconds. Ward's Sale Barns, of Charlottesville, captured four firsts, one second, three thirds and two fourths.

Mrs. Allen Potts, always a great favorite with the grandstand, showed up well with her beautiful horses. She carried off three firsts, four seconds and four thirds. Melvin C. Hazen, of Nokesville and Washington, was the winner yesterday of one first, two seconds and two thirds.

In the horse show proper, no accidents occurred during the day, but in the steeplechase a sorrel horse, which, in the beginning, held the lead, fell on the last lap. The colored jockey, who arose at once, was injured about the frontal ribs and the stomach.

The summary of awards follows:

Town Council Would Install Fire Alarm System if Town Could Sell The Fire Engine.

The July meeting of the town council was held in the town hall Monday evening. Those present were Mayor W. Hill Brown, and Councilmen C. R. C. Johnson, C. E. Nash, Wm. Wheeler, D. H. Precott, A. Speiden and E. R. Conner. Messrs. Brand, Coleman and Hynson were absent.

A petition was presented from the Old Dominion Band asking for the privilege of using the hall for the regular practice periods of the band. The council was of the opinion that it would be setting a bad precedent by granting such a privilege and therefore turned the petition down. The council is willing to grant the occasional use of the hall to worthy organizations, but refuses to make any regular loans.

The council after considerable discussion agreed to place upon the market the fire engine which is now of little use to the town and in which there is a considerable investment. If the engine can be sold at a reasonable figure (and there ought to be no trouble in disposing of a practically new, up-to-date engine) the proceeds can be devoted to the installation of a system of improved fire alarms, which the town stands badly in need of at present.

The public safety committee recommended a certain type of fire escape for Eastern College. An adequate number of good fire escapes are to be erected upon Eastern's buildings before the beginning of the coming session.

Another item of interest which was talked over by the council was the use they are now making of the iron and terra cotta meter boxes. The iron boxes, which cost the town $2.25 each, are used where there is need of a strong box to stand heavy traffic, such as on sidewalks and crossings. The terra cotta boxes, which cost the town in the neighborhood of 45 cents, are used in other places where they will serve the purpose. There is no discrimination as to who gets these boxes; the policy followed is one only of economy.

Several bills were presented, examined and ordered to be paid. A motion to adjourn until the August meeting, the last of the present council.

COMMENTS ON MEMORIES

Miss Alice Maude Ewell and Col. Berkeley Send Comments on "War-Time Memories."

EDITOR MANASSAS JOURNAL:—I am sending an extract from a letter from Col. Edmund Berkeley which I think should be printed in connection with my aunt's "War-Time Memories." It helps to give a just view of something narrated, and is therefore valuable.

FROM COL. BERKELEY'S LETTER

I have read with much pleasure these reminiscences of the war. I was captured the night Haymarket was burnt and saw the flames from Thoroughfare Gap. It was burnt by a party of Blinker's men, and when I was sent down to General Seigle, the court martial was trying them for it in the store at Gainesville. Old Mr. Garrett Hulfish was a Northern sympathizer, but when he was aroused by the tearing off of weatherboarding to set fire to his house, his endeavors to save his children led to a scuffle. He was cut on the head with sabres and came out of it with his head tied up in a handkerchief and his coat covered with blood.

When Colonel Robertson, General Seigle's Provost Marshal, told me that General Seigle had authorized him to parole me to stay at home until exchanged, I told him it would be but little satis-

Efficiency the Great Need in Work of the Church—Greater Efforts Demanded.

[The Times-Dispatch.]

At the world convention of Christian Endeavor Workers, held recently in Chicago, Dr. Amos R. Wells, editorial secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, spoke with zest on the need of efficiency in church work.

"If a man must be trained to run a locomotive, why not to run a prayer meeting?" he asked. "Is the way to heaven less important than the way to New York?"

"A man must be trained to teach Roman history, why not to teach a mission study class? Are not missions transforming the world more than the Romans ever did?"

"We insist on efficiency in the world's work, why not in church work? Is it not plain that the concerns of our endless life are infinitely more important than the digging and delving, the buying and selling, the losing and gaining of this instant on earth, and is it not the height of folly to educate men elaborately for the last and not at all for the first?"

"Yet in general, even now, the average Christian is not doing any definite and systematic work for Christ, and the Christians that are working definitely and systematically, stumble, the most of them, upon their work, and blunder along blindly for lack of training."

"If the average Christians were trained in giving, the mission boards would need to advertise that they had more money than they could use."

"If the average Christians were trained in temperance work, a saloon would soon be as rare as the kettle of a cannibal."

"If the average Christians were trained in look-out committee work, all the carpenters and masons in the land would be kept busy enlarging the churches and building new ones."

"The world puts us Christians to shame. All occupations are crowded but the highest of all occupations. Professional schools are lengthening their courses and stiffening their requirements, but Christians rebel at the simple, elementary requirements of the Christian Endeavor pledge."

In continuing his address, Dr. Wells set forth how the Christian Endeavor Society was prepared to meet the needs of a training school for the church.

WHAT SHALL TAKE PLACE OF SALOONS IN AMERICA

"With the Saloon Out, What Shall We Put In?" was discussed by Daniel A. Poling, president's associate and citizenship superintendent of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

"We have reached," he said, "in the war for national prohibition, the constructive stages of the fight. To-day our sins of omission in social welfare are very apparent. The saloon has been able to take advantage of the serious neglects of society as concerning the social needs of the people. The saloon has captured the laboring man by cashing his pay checks, by giving him assembly-rooms overhead, and a lounging-room furnished with dirty playing cards and an evil smell, in front of the bar—but it has given him these. And with his working clothes unchanged, because he was dead tired and did not have time anyhow, the laborer has felt free to come and go in the saloons when he was very sure that he would feel out of place in any other institution of the community."

"The fairest, truest, most helpful friend of the laboring man must be the Church of God."

One of the speaker's first recommendations was that every church should conduct an employment bureau. It should also meet the crying needs of the cities for lounging-rooms, newspapers, baths and lunch-lunches, so as to make the humblest, honest man feel at home. A community nurse, a community playground and other things were also suggested.

IT COST STATE $13,854.92 STATE'S MINERAL OUTPUT TEACHERS ARE ILL-PAID

Figures Given Out Showing Cost to State of Recent War on Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

[From the Times-Dispatch]

Dr. J. G. Ferneyhough, State Veterinarian, Monday gave out definite figures, showing that $13,854.92 was the cost to the state of controlling and eradicating the foot-and-mouth disease among cattle in Virginia during the outbreak, beginning October 1, 1914.

Dr. Ferneyhough, in explaining the small cost of fighting the cattle disease as compared with that in other states, declared that the prompt measures taken by Governor Stuart in supporting the efforts of the board and himself was responsible for the great saving.

The lead and zinc produced was derived from 14,004 tons of zinc and zinc-lead ores from Wythe County, in south-western Virginia, and the copper was recovered from mine waters and from ores mined at the Cabin Branch mine in Prince William County.

New York state spent $300,000 in fighting the disease. Pennsylvania, $672,494.57, and Maryland, $38,412.57, exclusive of salaries. The $13,854.92 referred to by Dr. Ferneyhough, covers the entire cost to Virginia.

As a result of the prompt measures taken by the authorities in Virginia, the disease was confined to three counties—Henrico, Frederick and Loudoun. There were outbreaks in several stockyards also.

Except for the Federal regulations, the quarantine in Virginia has been lifted, and the entire State will be declared free of the disease by August 20.

Eliminating Grade Crossings.

In connection with the double track work which it has had underway in Virginia and North Carolina during the past fiscal year on 102.4 miles of its Atlanta-Washington line, Southern Railway has eliminated 54 out of 73 grade crossings.

In all construction work involving the relocation or double tracking of its lines the fixed policy of Southern Railway Company is to separate all important highway crossings of the revised lines wherever practicable.

Southern Railway has also cooperated with municipal and county authorities in the elimination of many dangerous crossings on others of its lines throughout the South. It has devoted to work of this character as much as its resources and other obligations make possible and President Fairfax Harrison has announced that this policy will be continued.

The people of the United States spend nearly $600,000,000 annually for music, according to statistics presented recently to the National Federation of Musical Clubs in session at Los Angeles, Cal. Delegates were of the opinion that part of this sum should be spent to develop musical education in the public schools.

Value of Metals Mined in 1914 In Virginia—Copper From Prince William.

[From U. S. Geological Survey.]

The value of the gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc produced at mines in Virginia in 1914, according to figures compiled by H. D. McCaskey, of the United States Geological Survey, was $47,377, against $386,344 in 1913, and $74,855 in 1912.

There was sold or treated 15,444 short tons of ore (against 30,916 tons in 1913), which yielded (inclusive of a small production of cement copper from mine waters) $429 in gold, 1,458 ounces of silver, valued at $18,488; 254,000 pounds of lead, valued at $9,906; and 348,000 pounds of zinc (figured as spelter), valued at $17,748.

The gold and silver were recovered from copper ores, as no placer mines reported any production and no siliceous ore was treated.

The lead and zinc produced was derived from 14,004 tons of zinc and zinc-lead ores from Wythe County, in south-western Virginia, and the copper was recovered from mine waters and from ores mined at the Cabin Branch mine in Prince William County.

Missionary Work is Unnecessary.

There is some good, some truth in almost all of the non-Christian religions, but there is no great truth in these which is not found in a purer and richer form in the Christian religion.

The non-Christian religions, with all their good, have yet many elements of positive evil. The sin which exists in our own country is directly condemned by religion, while in heathen lands certain gross forms of sin are sanctioned and even encouraged by their religions.

They Must Live Twelve Months. Average Teacher Gets Less Than Living Expenses.

[From U. S. Geological Survey.]

Gov. Henry C. Stuart in an address before the Virginia State Teachers Association three years ago used these words: "I am one of those who believe that the smallest dividend drawn by any man or woman, in proportion to the input, is that drawn by the school teacher.

If you take the money cost of an education, to say nothing about the brain and application used in acquiring it, what can be found that yields so small a profit upon the output and input as a liberal education if expended in the task of educating others in our free schools?"

Many of our citizens, we regret to say, fail to realize the worth of the teacher to the community; fail to see the difficulties incident to teaching school; fail to encourage the teacher by speaking words of cheer and by advocating salaries commensurate with the character of work she does.

It has been carefully estimated by expert authorities that living expenses of the average teacher is $345, yet most of the schools of our state pay their teachers only from $150 to $300. 74 of the hundred counties in this state pay only from $90 to $40 per month to the teachers for an average term of 6 1/2 months.

Does your community force this hardship on that teacher, of whom you require so much? Friends, investigate this matter, at once. See what your community is doing and perhaps you will make better provision for your teacher next session.

Another Blow Given John.

Another severe blow has been administered John Barleycorn. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the United States Bureau of Chemistry and noted pure food expert, recently corroborated published reports that whiskey and brandy have been deleted from the United States pharmacopeia.

This means that these alcoholic beverages will no longer remain in the category of drugs, as established by the pharmacopeia standard.

Dr. Wiley is a member of the revision committee of the pharmacopeia. There are fifty members on the revision committee, many of them Government representatives and the rest members of medical and pharmaceutical associations.

The vote to exclude the intoxicants from the official drugs list was 26 to 24—Washington Times.

THE PRIMARY NEXT TUESDAY

Again the time is drawing nigh when every qualified voter in Prince William is given a chance to say whom he wishes to fill certain offices within the gift of himself and his fellow citizens. To be nominated at next Tuesday's primary in Prince William is, with practical certainty, to be elected at the November election. Since the primary is, therefore, so all important we wish the voters of this county to tarry with us a short while so that every vote will be cast in an intelligent and conscientious manner.

For the county at large there is only one office which is to be decided upon at Tuesday's election, i. e., the office of sheriff. The candidates for all the other "entire county" offices have been declared the nominees for their respective offices, since they have no opposition in the primary. The position of sheriff is of so much importance, however, that we think it wise to pause and make a brief survey of what a sheriff has to do and the kind of a man he ought to be.

All of us are more or less familiar with many of the duties devolvent upon a sheriff. We know that he is supposed to make arrests, serve notices, collect fines, suppress riots, levy on property and sell it to satisfy the court and to attend sittings of the circuit court and meetings of the board of supervisors. These and other things we know to be embraced in the rather arduous duties of a sheriff. But in addition we must not forget that in the sheriff himself lies the real efficiency. Any number of duties, unless they are performed courageously and without partiality, will not make of a man a sheriff of the better type. Sir Voter, think of the responsibility of the office when you vote for a sheriff on Tuesday next.

Now for some of the district offices. In each of the three districts, Manassas, Gainesville and Brentsville, there are two or more candidates for the office of supervisor. It is, as a rule, encouraging to see several candidates for an office in the primary, for then the people are set to thinking and they begin to realize that electing a man to office is not a matter to be pushed aside with unconcern. Every voter in the three districts where a contest for the supervisorship is on should do some hard thinking before casting a vote, for, whether it is realized or not, the board of supervisors is the real managing board of the county.

The people of the three districts named above are more or less familiar with the duties of the board. In addition to the paying of county bills, the board fixes and orders county levies and the capitation tax, it raises money for county expenses, it levies school taxes and very largely controls the road work which is done in the various districts. Certainly the board of supervisors is vested with great power. Do you doubt this? If you do then look at this cold fact: At twelve meetings of the board, from June 24, 1914, through May 8, 1915, less than a year's time, $137,13.98 was allowed for temporary road improvement.

Two of the most important things which come under the supervision of the board of supervisors are the levying of school taxes and the supervision of road work. We will now take up the former. Practically all of us realize how important a thing is the school work of the county and how, if it is to prosper and go ahead, it must be considered in a broad and sensible manner. Every individual member of the board should be awake to the educational needs of the county, and should be willing to consider and provide for the best interests of the taxpayers he has been elected to serve. And the taxpayer should be confident that his representative on the board is going to work for the betterment of the district educationally, as well as in every other way.

In the matter of road improvement the supervisor, except in the case of special road work, such as that made possible by a bond issue, the formation of a stock company, etc., is the one who governs largely the type of road work done in his district. The supervisor is, from many years of custom, expected to be an authority upon road building, but how many times does this fail to be true? The man who spends your money for road improvement should have a very clearly defined idea of what he is doing and he should feel the responsibility of his position.

Truly, the school issue, the good roads issue and the health issue are the great issues before the counties of Virginia to-day. And very largely the board of supervisors in each county has the guiding power in these matters. If the board sees the necessity of improved conditions in these directions it can be instrumental in bringing about a transformation. If then the board of supervisors is such an important body, a body which should be made up of cool, level-headed men of business acumen and progressiveness, it behooves the voters of the county to consider very seriously the selection of the members of this board. If you live in either the Manassas, Gainesville or Brentsville district, think well before you cast your ballot.

Other offices are to be filled, such as justices of the peace, constables and members of the democratic county committee. In each case you should vote only after a careful consideration of the fitness of the different candidates for the offices to which they aspire: Gentlemen, it may seem overcareful, but so much rests upon the man you elect; it's not the office so much as it is the man whom you put into the office.

We may sum up by saying that you owe it to yourself, your family and your fellow men to vote intelligently. Your dollar which goes for taxes will have a greater purchasing power under an efficient administration and the fact that you help elect the best man for the office will give you satisfaction and an interest in clean politics which will be beneficial to you and your community for years to come. Think carefully, vote conscientiously and in each case may you elect the best man.

A PARCEL POST EPISODE

Not long ago a crate of chickens was sent by parcel post from one Louisiana town to another. In the crate were six fine Rhode Island Red chickens, one of which had a neat little letter tied carefully around its neck. The letter was not noticed by the forwarding postmaster, however, who weighed the crate and let it go at the specified parcel post rate. The receiving postmaster, who must have been a man of a more inquiring nature, took a peep in the coop and there spied the letter dangling from the neck of one of the chickens. The peep proved disastrous to the consignee, for he was thereupon notified that $4.33 was due for postage. The letter having been included in the shipment made it come under the head of first-class mail.

It is not known whether the shipper was trying to "work the rabbit's foot" upon the government, or whether he was ignorant of the law which applies to the sending of written matter in parcel post shipments. One thing is certain, he will know better than send a letter in the next shipment. Were it not for the fact that the letter was partially exposed to view and could have been seen by the dispatching office (if it had exercised the same scrutiny as the receiving office) the act would have come under the head of an attempt to defraud the government.

As it is the instance furnishes a lesson of importance to all parcel post shippers. If you have any doubts about the governmental regulations in regard to the sending of goods by parcel post do not fail to post yourself. You should make sure you are not doing something which will render you liable to prosecution of which will cause someone else to "cough up" for your thoughtlessness. You would not care to be hailed before the United States court, neither would you feel especially proud of having caused the consignee of your shipment to pay $4.33 postage on six chickens.

HOW ENCOURAGING TO ALL OF US!

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an article dealing with the self supporting basis on which our water and lighting systems have placed themselves. Not only is the income from the water and light taking care of that used by private consumers but in addition this source of revenue is paying for the street lights, so that the town itself is really at no expense in furnishing these lights. And this can not be attributed to any excessive water and light rate, for no town of similar size in the state is furnishing steam-produced electricity at a rate cheaper than Manassas.

We feel that the people of Manassas can well congratulate themselves on such a record. And yet the limit of our possibilities is not reached; in fact it can hardly be sighted. As the business men of the town become awake to the greater economy, convenience and reliability of electric power there will be a greater number of consumers of day current. No business in Manassas which has need of power can afford to be without electric power. On the other hand, many homes will become greater and greater users of current as they realize how cheaply electric irons, fans, vacuum cleaners, etc., can be run. In the near future Manassas can well expect to realize a neat little profit on its improvements. Where are our friends who prophesied otherwise when these improvements were being installed?

Mrs. Hodge Entertains.

A very pleasant party of young girls were the guests of Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge last Saturday afternoon. The guests of honor were, Misses Elizabeth Covington and Lenore John, the latter the niece of Mrs. H. U. Roop.

Miss Covington received with Mrs. Hodge the following guests: Misses Emily Round, Ethel Lion, Marion Burka, Lillian Wheeler, Margaret Roop and Laura Willis.

After being refreshed by a glass of cool fruit punch, the merry circle joined in a guessing game of "Trees," twenty-five being in the list. Miss Lenore John won the first prize and Miss Ethel Lion the consolation prize. The time was made very bright with music, pictures and conversation.

Mrs. Hodge read a very amusing selection and then Miss Elizabeth Covington, sharing the duties of hostess with Mrs. Hodge, served ice cream, cake and dainty confections, which were highly enjoyed. Soon afterwards, with mutual regret, guests and hostesses said "au revoir" but not "a Dieu."

A Called Meeting of Bethlehem Club.

On the afternoon of Friday, July 23, a called meeting of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club, brought a good number of the members together at "Broadview," the home of Mrs. Round. The especial subject for deliberation was the arrangements to be made for an entertainment to be held at "Silvanwood" for a special object in which the club was interested. For cogent reasons the subject was "laid on the table," and any discussion indefinitely postponed.

After a few minor points had occupied the attention, the meeting resolved itself into a very pleasant social time when, over a delightful glass of iced tea and cake, exchange of views on various subjects filled the time till the hour of departure came, when a reluctant good bye was said to our hostess and each other.

All interested in the Fairfax and Warrenton Turnpike Company are requested to come to Fairfax on Friday, the 6th day of August, 1915, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of getting together and discussing the situation. A good dinner will be furnished by the proprietor of the Fairfax Tavern at fifty cents for each person.

Among those expected to speak will be Messrs. R. E. Lee, jr., and R. Walton Moore, and it is also anticipated that Mr. Mitchell Harrison, of Prince William county, president of the company, will be present and give his views.

On August 13th, it is proposed to hold a similar meeting at Centerville, Va.

All those who wish to attend and to have dinner provided, should address a postal to Mr. Thomas R. Keith, Fairfax, Va., so that arrangements may be made.—Extract from Fairfax Herald.

faction to me, as his men were wantonly injuring persons and destroying property. He said: "It is these damned men of Blinker's and I will have to have some of them shot." He added to his secretary, "Write what I dictate. All officers and soldiers of the U. S. Army are hereby commanded to respect Major Berkeley, his family and property." He then turned to me and asked, "Can you go home on this?" I said, "Oh yes."

On my way home I passed old Mr. Hale and his wife walking slowly, and told them I had a comfortable house that they could have rent free, but they replied, with thanks for the offer, that they had nothing left to put in a house. E. BERKELEY.

This goes to show that all Union officers did not approve of this style of warfare, though their efforts to stop it did not always seem either strenuous or effectual. It is impossible not to see a likeness between the warfare raged by Seigle, Sherman and Sheridan, and that which has lately made Belgium a desolate waste.

It does not surprise one to learn through an English writer that Von Moltke, the German Commander-in-Chief, at the time of the Franco-Prussian war, owned himself to be made influenced by a visit from Gen. Philip Sheridan, who said, "The best way to end a war is to make the civil population of an enemy country suffer to such an extent that they will demand its close." He had just tried this plan in Virginia and doubtless considered it a success.

The seed thus dropped has apparently borne fine fruit in the present European war. It looks as if there would soon be no future of "civilized warfare" and General Sheridan's shade, if aware of it, should be much gratified.

HAYMARKET HAPPENINGS

Miss Martha Carter has recently returned home from a stay of several weeks in Fredericksburg.

Mr. Alfred Carson, of Panama, has joined Mrs. Carson and their little boys, who are spending the summer at Mrs. Carson's former home in Haymarket.

Miss Frances Grinnan, of Falls Church, will spend next week with Miss Shirley Dulaney.

Ensign R. H. Blair will spend the week-end at "Shirley."

Miss Jean Fuller, of Baltimore, who has been the guest of friends at Eagle Mere, Pa., for the past two weeks, has joined her mother, Mrs. A. L. M. Fuller, at "Meade Croft" for the remainder of the summer.

The social event of this week's end will be a concert at the Parish hall on Saturday evening. Mr. J. Harris Franklin, of Washington, a guest of Mrs. Carvel Hall, will be one of the soloists; Mrs. W. D. Baker, of Washington and Haymarket, whose lovely and sympathetic voice always wins much applause, will sing several solos; Mrs. A. W. Amphlett, a recent resident of Haymarket, who is an accomplished pianist, has kindly consented to play several numbers. The concert is under the management of St. Paul's Guild.

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court for Prince William County, in Vacation, July 23, 1915.

Jeffries' Executor vs. Jeffries' Administrator IN CHANCERY

The object of this suit is to have it determined that James P. Jeffries, now deceased, acquired and held as trustee for Eustace Jeffries, deceased, the legal title to certain real estate in Fauquier county, consisting in part of a farm known as Rhode Island, a farm formerly belonging to John B. Jeffries, as well as of other real estate purchased by said James P. Jeffries under decrees of the Circuit Court for Fauquier county in two chancery suits therein pending, one styled Gaines' Executor vs. Jeffries, and the other Fletcher vs. Gaines, as well as the legal title to certain judgments and choses in action, formerly belonging to Eustace Jeffries, and to follow the same or the proceeds thereof into the hands of his wife, Mary H. Jeffries, to whom the said James P. Jeffries conveyed the said property or its proceeds with notice of the trust attached to the same and to secure an accounting thereof, and it being suggested to the Court that J. A. C. Keith, the executor of the last will and testament of Eustace Jeffries, deceased, and the plaintiff in this suit, has also departed this life, and that George Latham Fletcher has been duly appointed administrator d. h. n. w. s. a. and has qualified as such before the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Fauquier county, Virginia; and the said James P. Jeffries having died since the institution of this suit, leaving as his heirs at law two infant children, James P. Jeffries, jr., and Nannie S. P. Jeffries, since intermarried with one Antonasanti; and said infants having heretofore been duly made parties defendant to this suit; and C. M. White having been appointed guardian ad litem as to them and he having since departed this life and said suit having abated as to him; and said James P. Jeffries, jr., and Nannie S. P. Antonasanti having attained their majority, it was ordered by the Court that all of these facts be suggested upon the record and that this suit be abated as to all of said deceased parties. And, on motion of said George Latham Fletcher, administrator d. h. n. w. s. a. of Eustace Jeffries, he was admitted as party plaintiff and this suit was ordered to be revived in his name as such administrator d. h. n. w. s. a. and herewith proceeded with in his name as plaintiff; and upon his further motion, a scire facias was ordered to issue against the said James P. Jeffries, jr., and Nannie S. P. Antonasanti summoning them to appear and show cause why this suit should not be revived and proceeded with against them as parties defendant, which has been done, and the said scire facias having been twice returned not executed though the same was twice delivered to the Sheriff of Fauquier county wherein they each formerly resided more than ten days before the return day, and it further appearing by affidavit that the said James P. Jeffries, jr., and Nannie S. P. Antonasanti are non residents of the State of Virginia, and that diligence has been used on behalf of the plaintiff to ascertain in what County or Corporation, if any, within this State they or either of them are, without effect, it is ordered that they do severally appear within fifteen days after due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect their interests. And it is further ordered that this order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Manassas Journal, a newspaper published in the county of Prince William, and that a copy thereof be posted at the front door of the court house of Prince William county on or before the next rule day.

BE MERCIFUL TO HORSES

Valuable Rules Issued By The Boston Workhorse Relief Association.

The Boston Workhorse Relief Association has prepared and issued the following rules for drivers in hot weather:

1. Load lightly, and drive slowly.
2. Stop in the shade if possible.
3. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still. Do not fail to water him at night after he has eaten his hay.
4. When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet, but not his legs.
5. If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a damp sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the hose on him.
6. Saturday night, give a bran mash, lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpeter.
7. Do not use a horse hat, unless it is a canopy-top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.
8. A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.
9. If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs, and give him two ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of niter, in a pint of water; or give him a pint of coffee warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.
10. If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran, and a little water; and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.
11. Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun-stroke and needs attention at once.
12. If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside, with bedding under him. Unless he cools off during the night, he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

Southern's Excellent Record.

More than sixteen and a half million passengers—a number greater than the combined population of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky—were transported by Southern Railway during the year ended June 30 with only one fatal injury to a passenger while on a train and that one was standing on a car platform in direct violation of the Company's rules.

Of this great number of passengers, not one was killed in a train accident.

This excellent record was shown in the official figures given out recently indicating the high degree of safety that has been attained in handling of Southern Railway passenger trains.

In marked contrast are figures recently given out by President Fairfax Harrison, of Southern Railway, showing that during the same period twelve persons riding in automobiles were killed in accidents at public highway crossings, every one of which accidents could have been prevented had the driver of the car observed the familiar warning, "Stop, Look, and Listen."

POULTRY WAS DISCUSSED

Fairview Good Housekeeping Club had Profitable Meeting at Home of Mrs. J.H. Dodge.

On Thursday afternoon, July 22, the Fairview Good Housekeeping Club met with Mrs. J. H. Dodge. The meeting was opened by a duet, "Ye Banks and Braes," by Misses Elizabeth Hiner and Dorothy Brandt.

Mrs. Doak sent for inspection at this meeting a celluloid poultry leg band. It seems to be better than the metal leg band.

Our hostess had invited quite a number of guests for the meeting. Among them were Mrs. C. E. Nicol, Miss Florence Lion, Mrs. L. A. Snow, Miss Pearl Snow, Miss Hattie Merchant, Miss Smith, Miss Field and several others.

Just let me add that the Rhode Island Reds are hard to beat for winter layers. We think that they come next to the Black Minorcas for winter layers, while they are larger and nicer for roasters, but will not make broilers as quickly as the Black Minorcas.

Mrs. G. W. Merchant gave us a very interesting talk on the hatching of chicks by the incubator method. This talk was followed by several pretty musical selections while our hostess served refreshments.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. G. D. Hiner on Saturday afternoon, August 21st, at 2:30 o'clock. The topic for discussion will be "Canning and Preserving." It is hoped that each member will bring a tested recipe to this meeting.
