"VALLEY FARM" A SUCCESS

Good Crowd at Performances Friday and Saturday Nights.

EVERY PART IN PLAY WAS STARRED

Four-Act Domestic Drama Given Under Auspices of Guild of Trinity P. E. Church a Success in Every Way—Singing of Mrs. D. M. Pitts a Feature—Fine Scenery by Mr. G. T. Lyon—Able Directed by Mrs. Lyon—$98.39 Taken In

"Valley Farm," the four-act domestic drama given by local talent in Conner's Opera House last Friday and Saturday evenings, was a decided success in every particular. To supplement the good acting was special scenery of high order, the work of G. T. Lyon. The play was given under the auspices of Trinity P. E. Church Guild. The total receipts amounted to $98.39 and the expenses are estimated at about $25.

The play opens at the yard at Valley Farm. It's a hot afternoon in August. The heroine, Hetty Holcomb, becomes engaged to the young New Yorker, Harold Rutledge.

The scene of the second act is the Rutledge mansion in New York city the following December. Harold's mother, haughty and overbearing, does everything in her power to make the married life of Harold and Hetty unhappy, even snubbing the latter's father and aunt when they visit New York.

The third act is also laid in the Rutledge mansion. Harold's mother finally succeeds in bringing about the separation of her son and Hetty. Hetty returns to the old home under the protection of her childhood companion and lover, Perry Deane.

The concluding act again finds us at the old farm. The time is a blustery March evening when snow is falling heavily without. The quiet family life is interrupted by the entrance of Harold with an old friend. The husband has come back for Hetty. Love triumphs as the curtain falls.

In commenting on the acting there is just one thing that can be said i. e., every one taking part did excellently. As usual there were certain favorites but so well were the parts suited to the characters that the praise for the success of "Valley Farm" is very evenly divided among all the actors. Twice during the play Mrs. D. M. Pitts, who played the part of Hetty, delighted the audience with solos.

Special mention must be made of the services of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lyon, which were rendered gratuitously. The play was given under the direction of Mrs. Lyon, and her good work in directing was much appreciated. Mr. Lyon was the artist who painted the special scenery, the excellence of which added much to the effective presentation of "Valley Farm."

OLD COUNTY RESIDENT

Mrs. Mary Clarke, Real Daughter of American Revolution, 94 Years Old.

Mrs. Mary Clarke, now living near the Bethel High School, in Occoquan district, passed her 94th birthday on Sunday, June 4th. She became a resident of Prince William in 1850 when her husband, Thomas Clarke, purchased a portion of the "Belle Air Farm."

Mrs. Clarke's father was Wright Chamberlin, a Revolutionary soldier from Connecticut who settled in Susquehanna county, Pa., where he reared a family of 26 children. She is a member of the Mount Vernon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and it is thought that she is now the last real Daughter residing in Virginia. She has in her possession a gold spoon presented to her by the chapter. Oliver Chamberlin, who removed to Prince William from Pennsylvania about the same time Mr. and Mrs. Clarke moved here, was a brother of Mrs. Clarke.

CATHARPIN AGAIN WINS

Greenwich Baseball Team Barely Defeated in Last Half of 9th Inning.

[Communicated] Catharpin defeated Greenwich in an interesting baseball game last Saturday at Catharpin by the score of 12 to 11. Greenwich had it all their way until the last half of the ninth inning when Catharpin rallied and won out. Each side used two pitchers—Pearson and Tyson for Catharpin, and Ellis and Reid for Greenwich.

Tyson pitched a fine game after he went in the box and Catharpin has him to thank for holding the heavy hitters down. The features of the game was the fielding of W. House and the home-run drive of A. Ellison in the ninth with three on bases and Catharpin four runs behind and two out.

Things looked rather blue for Catharpin when the ninth opened up as they were five runs behind. F. Ellison was out at first on a close play then Will Brower poked one through left for three bases and scored on a close play at first on Pearson, who was declared safe. J. Pattie fanned. Tyson singled to right and then Lynn singled and the sacks were loaded.

Just then the one that you can depend on in a pinch came up, A. Ellison. The wind was blowing a gale and he was instructed to knock it as far as he could. Soon we heard a mighty swat and the ball was seen going over the left fielder's head and when he had reached the ball Ellison had circled the bases, bringing in three in front of him with the run that tied the score. The loyal rooters went wild for Albert had saved the game.

The end was now near. C. Pattie doubled to left and Ward hit the first ball pitched to him for a home run and Pattie came home with the run that made Catharpin famous. For the Catharpin boys never give up until the last man is out. Score by innings:

Catharpin—0 1 0 0 1 3 1 0 6—12
Greenwich—1 0 4 2 0 2 0 2—11

Catharpin will cross bats with Bull Run at Catharpin tomorrow (Saturday). The Bull Run team will be led by Shamrock.

The Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Snow tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members are earnestly requested to be present and are reminded that all are expected to come prepared to fulfill the promises made at the May meeting.

MOSHER TO BE MARRIED

Miss Brent Hinman, of West Virginia, A Bride Tomorrow—Will Reside Here.

Miss Brent Hinman, of Charleston, W. Va., closely related to Mrs. Fannie Coles and Miss Mollie Rixey, of Manassas, and Prof. Orville W. Mosher, jr., of Eastern College, will be married at the bride's home, 1713 McClung street, Charleston, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Thus will culminate a romance begun here during the past winter when Miss Hinman visited at the home of Mrs. Coles and Miss Rixey on Lee avenue.

The ceremony will be performed by the rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Charleston, in the presence of the immediate family and a few relations. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Mosher will depart for the West, where they will travel for sometime and later visit Mr. Mosher's parents at New Richmond, Wis.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Edward Gilman Hinman and the late Edward Gilman Hinman. She is related to the Rixeyes of Culpeper and Manassas. During her visit to Manassas last winter she made many friends here.

The groom is the second son of Senator and Mrs. O. W. Mosher, New Richmond, Wis., and is a member of the '09 class of Princeton University. He is also a member of the Triangle and Dial Clubs and the Orphic Order of Princeton and of the George Gray Law Club of Harvard. Mr. Mosher for the past session has been professor of history and English at Eastern College. He has also been instructor of the violin in that institution. Prof. Mosher is a musician of ability and his renditions on the violin are always greatly enjoyed.

The young couple will make their home in Manassas, where Mr. Mosher in the early fall will resume his duties as a professor at Eastern College.

JOHN L. BURNETT SPEAKER

Alabama Congressman at Memorial Day Exercises—Claude Griggs Won Medal.

Confederate Memorial Day was observed here last Friday with public exercises in the Confederate cemetery. The school children of Manassas, following the annual custom, marched into the inclosure around the monument, singing softly and strewing with flowers the graves of the known and unknown dead.

The orator of the occasion was Representative John L. Burnett, of Alabama, who was generously applauded throughout the course of his address.

Mr. Westwood Hutchison, commander of Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, presided during the exercises. Music was rendered by the school children and a quartette composed of Miss Isabel Kelley, Mrs. L. Frank Pattie, Mr. W. R. Myers and Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe. A poem from Father Ryan was read by Rev. T. D. D. Clark.

Representative Burnett, in the absence of Representative Carlin, presented to Mr. Claude Griggs, a junior student of Manassas High School, the gold medal offered by the Ladies' Memorial Association for the best essay on Jefferson Davis, the president of the Confederacy. The fifteen members of the Junior class of the local high school were eligible for the contest. Close competitors of Mr. Griggs were Miss Sallie Norvell Larkin and Miss Dorothy Lucretia Johnson, whose essays won honorable mention in the order named. Mr. Griggs read his essay.

The invocation was offered by Dr. H. L. Quarles, chaplain of Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans. Rev. Alfred Kelley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, pronounced the benediction.

ACCIDENT AT NOKESVILLE

D. Millard Kite, Drug Salesman, Instantly Killed by Train No. 30 Last Saturday.

Nokesville was the scene of a horrible accident last Saturday afternoon about two o'clock when D. Millard Kite, of 1761 Columbia Road, Washington, was struck by the pilot of the engine of Southern train No. 30 and hurled a distance of about 20 yards, death resulting instantly. The remains were brought to Manassas that afternoon on No. 10 and the following day were shipped to Alexandria for burial. Funeral services were held from Christ Episcopal Church, Alexandria, at noon Monday.

Mr. Kite, who was a traveling salesman for a Baltimore drug firm, had just taken an order from W. R. Free & Co. He heard a train approaching and thinking it to be No. 10, which was just about due, he ran to catch it. He succeeded in getting across the track but was very close to it when the engine swept by. Mr. Kite was struck in the back by the pilot of the engine and hurled a considerable distance. Sergeant C. H. Wine, who happened to be at Nokesville station awaiting No. 10, was an eye witness of the accident. Life was extinct when Engineer J. J. Goodwin, Fireman Mason Marshall, passengers and spectators reached the body.

The remains were brought to Manassas and here they were prepared for burial. While the face showed little in the way of mutilation, one of the hips and the back were badly broken. From all indications death must have been instantaneous. On Sunday the body was forwarded to Alexandria.

The deceased, who was known to local druggists and others, was up to a short time ago a resident of South Pitt street, Alexandria. He was then traveling for E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, and two brothers, John Kite, of Somerset, Va., and I. W. Kite, U. S. N.

COMMENCEMENT JUNE 16

Closing Exercises of Manassas High School at Eastern Auditorium Next Friday.

The largest graduating class in the history of the Manassas High School will be presented their diplomas next Friday evening when the commencement exercises will be held at the auditorium of Eastern College. Dr. A. L. Quill-Quest, associate professor of education at the University of Virginia, will deliver the principal address. Among other interesting numbers on the program will be singing by the chorus class and the awarding of certificates to several of the students in the newly organized business course and the oratorical and English prizes.

An endeavor is being made to make the commencement exercises of this year the best ever held for the local high school. In addition to the address by Dr. Hall-Quest, there will be short talks by prominent local speakers. Unusually beautiful selections will be rendered by the chorus class, and brief papers will be read by graduates of several departments.

The diplomas will be given out by Lieut. Geo. C. Round, who for many years has very gladly consented to performing the pleasing task. The oratorical prize will be awarded by Rev. Alfred Kelley and the English prizes by County Clerk Geo. G. Tyler.

Leesburg has appointed a special officer to enforce the automobile speed limit of 12 miles an hour.

C. F. ROBINSON MISSING

Colored Night Engineer at Power House Not Heard From Since Saturday.

Charles F. Robinson, colored, night engineer at the power house, has been missing since last Saturday. Despite the efforts of the police of Washington and Alexandria and relatives and friends here, not a trace of his whereabouts has been brought to light. Robinson, who has enjoyed a reputation of soberness and industry, was to have been married the latter part of this month.

Last Saturday morning Robinson drew his pay and left on train No. 14 for Washington, after having purchased a round-trip ticket. Before going he stopped at the fish market at the corner of Center and West streets and asked Henry Conway if there was anything he needed. Conway told him to order some paper bags. Robinson stated that he was going to the city to purchase his wedding suit and he carried his suitcase with him. Robinson boarded No. 14 and since that time not a word has been heard from him.

BOND ISSUE WAS PASSED

Small Vote of 53 to 18 Assured Proper Taking Care of Outstanding Indebtedness.

The bond issue for $20,000 to pay off the outstanding indebtedness of Manassas was passed Monday by a vote of 53 to 18. Out of over 200 qualified voters only 71 votes were cast. The day was very quiet and many failed to remember that an election of very great importance was in progress. Judging from the vote cast, the townspeople were very decidedly in favor of paying off the outstanding indebtedness by bonds. The original bond issue for $75,000 for the installation of water, lights and sewerage was passed on August 12, 1913 by a vote of 102 to 38. The vote in each election for bond issue can thus be seen to be nearly three to one in favor of bonding.

The cause for additional bonding of the town was due to a number of unforeseen expenses which arose after the original bond issue passed. When the trenches for water and sewer pipes were dug it was found that rock was much nearer the surface in many places than the engineer had thought. This was a big item in the way of extra expense. Another thing which the town has been forced to do for economy's sake was to build a spur track to the power house. This was an expense not calculated upon at first. Several other items also added to the general expense until the town this spring found itself burdened with an outstanding indebtedness of over $21,000. In some way this had to be paid, and paid shortly. Unless bonds were issued the matter was going to be thrown into court, which would mean a big extra expense to the town and a consequent raising of the taxes to nearly double of what they are now. The voters realized this and cast their vote accordingly. Below we give a table showing the outstanding indebtedness of the town. The extra thousand and odd dollars due will have to be made up from power revenue or some other source, since it is not included in the bond issue just passed.

SUGGESTIONS TO COUNCIL

Needed Improvements Discussed by Civic League Monday.

NEXT MEETING TO BE HELD JULY 3

Town Council to Be Requested to Enforce Cleaning Up of All Vacant and Unsanitary Property—To Look Into Matter of Installing Bubbling Drinking Fountain—No Action on Courthouse Yard Proposition—Good Balance in Treasury

While the June meeting of the Manassas Civic League held Monday evening was not marked by any decided innovations, a good deal in the way of valuable discussion was taken up. Among the more important things acted upon it was decided to request the town council to force all owners of vacant property to clean up their lots, to investigate the cost and advisability of installing a bubbling drinking fountain for people for one of the street corners, to call the townspeople's attention to the ordinance against throwing of paper bags, fruit peelings, slops and other refuse matter into the streets and to request the town council to cut all grass and weeds on the streets. The cost of the recent clean up was reported as $19.50 and the treasurer, Mrs. Geo. C. Round, reported a balance of $62.50 in the treasury. The next meeting will occur on the first Monday evening in July, the 3rd.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock with President G. Raymond Ratcliffe presiding. Fourteen members were present. After the reading and approving of the minutes of the preceding meeting the various committees were called upon for reports. None of the regular committees seemed to have anything to report. With the recent clean up in mind, however, the discussion soon drifted to the subject of vacant lots which stand greatly in need of improvement, both in the way of sanitation and attractiveness.

Dr. Roop then made a motion that the town council be requested to require all owners of vacant and unkempt property to clean up their premises, with special mention of the following properties: That of Mrs. Moore, opposite the Manassas Feed, Supply and Implement Co. property; that of Mrs. A. Davis estate, the Cochran property, that of J. W. Jones, Rev. J. K. Efrid, the old candy factory site, of which Westwood Hutchison is a committee, and the Keys-row. And to ask tenants occupying property to cut the grass and to otherwise give proper care to their premises.

Also that the town cut all grass and weeds on the streets of the town and to be careful in the matter of cutting the roots of trees when laying cement sidewalks, for in several instances trees have been seriously injured and killed. This motion was passed by a unanimous vote.

Clarence W. Wagener was called upon for a report in regard to the cost of waste paper baskets for the streets and the number thought needed. Mr. Wagener had to beg the indulgence of the league and to ask for further time to make out his report. He stated that since the baler had been put to work there was a noticeable improvement in the amount of waste paper found on the streets and that in all probability there was a more urgent need for something else. He suggested that the matter of installing a bubbling drinking fountain for one of the street corners to be given attention by the league and he made the motion that a committee be appointed to look

A DISTRICT CONVENTION

Sunday Schools of Coles District Met Sunday at Independent Hill—Good Crowd.

(By Earl D. Merrill)

Probably the greatest meeting of an educational or religious nature ever held in Coles district met in the I. O. O. F. Hall, the meeting place of the Independent Hill Union Sunday School, at Independent Hill, on Sunday, June 4th.

A fine program with general discussions of several topics and the presentation of individual problems made it a meeting from which all gained much help, encouragement and inspiration.

At various times throughout the meeting musical selections were given. A solo was sung by Mrs. H. U. Roop, of Manassas, and a duet by Dr. and Mrs. Roop.

Dr. H. U. Roop, president of Eastern College, Manassas, gave a fine address on "The Aim of the Sunday School."

Mr. J. M. Bell discussed quite fully the duties of the superintendent and gave many helpful suggestions.

A paper, packed with much careful thought and observation, given by Mrs. M. M. Hill, "How to Secure Interest and Regular Attendance," was more than a mere discussion.

In Mrs. Ida Hayes' talk, "Teaching the Practical Points of the Lesson," she gave a practical demonstration by going over some of the leading points in the lessons of the two preceding months.

Mrs. Eva Fairbanks emphasized the need of training for our Sunday school teachers, saying, if our public school teachers must be trained to be successful, why do not our Sunday school teachers have a greater need of it?

Mr. Wine followed up her talk with some helpful suggestions as to how this training might be secured through a careful home study of the Bible and through correspondence courses for Sunday school teachers.

Hon. C. J. Meetze, president of the Prince William County Sunday School Association, explained that in the past, especially in the past year, the Sunday schools of the county have been represented in a very disappointing way at the annual county Sunday school convention held at Manassas.

and earnest cooperation, it was the plan of the county officials to hold such a convention in each district in the county prior to the county meeting in the fall.

A committee of the six superintendents in the district was appointed to insure a full representation at the county convention from Coles district.

There's a Reason—But What is It?

"I returned, and I saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all."

You can go from post to pillar. You can travel through the land. You can boost the line you're selling. You can work to beat the band; You can visit all the dealers; You can try and you can try; You can talk and you can argue, But—you cannot make 'em buy.

You can go behind the counter. You can tell 'em what to get, You can hand 'em out the taffy, You can spring your one best bet; You can ask 'em please sign up, Talk of profit and of loss; Show 'em figures, give 'em facts, but—Can you make 'em come across?

You can say, "Now, here's a bargain; I can save you money, too"; You can spie! from dawn to darkness, Fill your tongue is stiff and blue. You can size your trade up shrewdly, Canvass cities "sticks" and woods, But—there're times, despite your efforts, When you cannot sell the goods.

Why Editors Are Gray. Most any one can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at his desk six days out of the week, four weeks out of the month, twelve months out of the year, and edit things like this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Cactus Creek, let a can-opener slip, last week, and cut herself in the pantry."

"A mischievous lad of Picketown threw a stone and hit Mrs. Pike in the alley, last week."

"John Doe climbed the roof of his house, last week, looking for a leak, and fell, striking himself on the porch."

"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social, Saturday night, a savage dog attacked and bit Mr. Green on the public square."

"Isaiah Trimmer, of Running Creek, was playing with a cat, Friday, when it scratched him on the veranda."

"Mr. Frog, while harnessing a broncho, last Saturday, was kicked in the south of his corn patch."

Yes, these editors can have an easy time.—Exchange.

How Sears, Roebuck & Co. Find It.

This is what Herman Rosenfeld, advertising manager of Sears, Roebuck & Co., recently told the members of the American Ad. Club at a convention: "We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our territory we do not get. The bureau looks over these papers, and when we find a town where the merchants do not advertise in the local paper we immediately flood that territory with our literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same efforts put forth in territory where the local merchants use their local paper."

WORK FOR A DRY STATE.

A Trades Unionists' Anti-Booze League has been organized in Nebraska. It will work for the dry amendment to be voted on by the people of the state next November. "Attempts to show that union labor as a whole is supporting the liquor interests will not be permitted to go unchallenged," says the president of the league, Mr. I. J. Copenhagen of the Omaha Typographical union.

The league has issued the following statement: "The object of this league is to impress upon the general public that certain 'labor organizations' and 'Trade Union Liberty Leagues,' controlled by the liquor interests, do not voice the true sentiment of the labor organizations of Nebraska in their effort to make it appear that the laboring class is subservient to the whims of said liquor industry."

"It shall be the aim of this organization to publicly disclaim in every way possible that union labor of Nebraska looks upon the use of liquor as an aid to its welfare and advancement, but rather that the use of intoxicating liquor is the greatest handicap union labor has to contend with in making its fight for justice for the working class."

"The members of this league resent any effort of the liquor element to place union labor of Nebraska in the attitude of supporting an industry that never has and never can aid the workingman in his struggle for better conditions for himself and family."

WET BRAIN.

Dr. W. A. Evans conducts an "How to Keep Well" department in Chicago Tribune. The other day, under the above caption, he devoted considerable space to the drinker's brain. "The man," he said, "who takes a social drink should know of a new danger that lies in store for him. It is wet brain. He has probably heard that drink lowers the moral tone, that it weakens resistance, that if he indulges presently he will be unable to resist, that it makes his judgment poor, and that, finally, he develops delirium tremens. Delirium tremens was the veil beyond which nothing lay."

"Doctors Scoleth and Belfield now come forward with the warning that beyond delirium tremens lies wet brain, that only one man in four attacked by wet brain recovers. And Doctors Scoleth and Belfield ought to know, for the former has been physician to the bridegroom for many years and he has cared for about 2,500 drunks a year during all of that time. A great many of these drunks have had delirium tremens. Many of them have had wet brain. Most of the wet-brain cases have died and autopsy has been made on them. Every drink is a mixed drink. There are no other kinds. When a man takes a drink, however simple it may be, he mixes in some degeneration of his nerve cells, some chance of delirium tremens, and a few other ingredients. Let him understand that he also pours into the glass about one finger of wet brain."

CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOL.

That the use of beer and wines does not tend to decrease the consumption of strong liquors, is shown by Gabrielson, a Swedish statistician who has published the results of his research. The figures are for the period 1906-1910.

France consumes more than three times as much alcohol per capita as the United States, due to its general use of wine. Italy consumes nearly three times as much, Spain twice as much, Greece twice as much, Switzerland twice as much, Portugal nearly twice as much. Belgium consumes considerably more alcohol, although it is one of the leading beer countries. In Germany 41 per cent of the total drink consumption is of spirits, while in the United States more than 55 per cent of the total drink consumption is beer, which seems to indicate that the Germans, despite their beer prejudices, use considerably more spirits per capita than the United States.

A GREAT LESSON.

Among the incalculable losses resulting from this great war there stands out prominently one benefit, it has brought to all countries engaged in it—and to others—a realization such as they never had before of the relation between alcohol and efficiency. Something, and perhaps much, of that new knowledge is sure to remain after peace returns, for, of course, it is not only with success in fighting that strong drink interferes, or only in war that men need to have all their wits about them all the time.—New York Times.

STATE ISSUE.

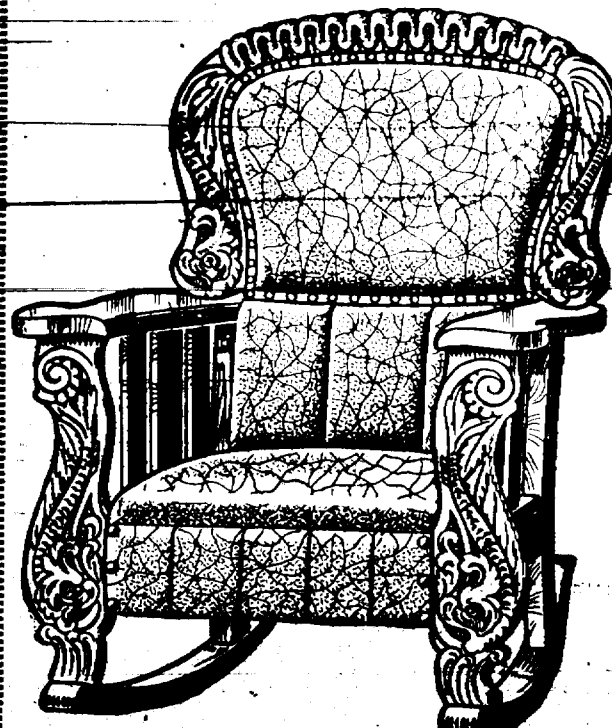

To save a hog from cholera and divorce a tick from a cow is national, but to prevent drunkenness and to divorce the saloon from the mothers and the homes of the land is a state issue.—Congressman J. W. Bryan.

FOR TRADE DEFENSE.

What would be said if prohibitionists in paying their bills would deduct 1 per cent to be applied to fighting the liquor traffic. That is what the liquor dealers of this country are doing "for trade defense."

MANASSAS, VA., FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1916.

A GOOD DECISION

When the qualified voters of Manassas on Monday went on record as being overwhelmingly in favor of the town issuing $20,000 worth of bonds to pay off the present outstanding indebtedness of the corporation they did a commendable thing, commendable in that they recognized the only reasonable way out.

The past spring the town found itself in debt over $20,000, the larger portion of which had to be paid in a short while. It was given the town authorities to understand that unless several of these outstanding bills were settled promptly the whole matter would be thrown into the courts. This would have been a needless expense to the corporation and also would have meant an inevitable raise in taxes, about 75 cents on the hundred dollars. Even then there would have been no assurance that the adjustment would have worked satisfactorily. Fortunately, the whole matter has been taken care of and the taxpayers can breathe easy again.

HOW TO DRIVE IT HOME

It's no easy matter to keep a business up to a high point of efficiency. It is very often more difficult than it looks to be. A little sag here and another there and before you know it a good many weak points have worked their way in unawares. How can these weak points be weeded out once they have gotten a foothold? How can the business be brought up to a high standard of efficiency? This depends upon the class of business you are dealing with but in every case the problem must be tackled with determination. It's a case of settling upon a definite policy and the strict carrying out of this policy.

Some such general principle as outlined above must be adopted by the officials of Manassas if the ordinance against throwing trash, fruit parings, other refuse matter and slops on the sidewalks and into the streets of the town is to be taken with any seriousness. Were three or four violators of this provision summoned to court and fined it would soon become understood that this ordinance is really worth obeying. Let efficiency methods be applied to the enforcement of this good law, which at present is almost totally ignored.

THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE

It is only natural that a man should look upon his native state as the best in the union. That's one reason why Virginians think the Old Dominion the garden spot of the universe. Harry Curran Wilbur, a young Pennsylvanian, was right when he wrote those lines beginning "The roses nowhere bloom so white." That charming little poem "In Virginia" expresses the sentiment of all Virginians and many others. Surely we are in love with our native or adopted state, but are we as ardently devoted to the union, under whose protecting wing we face the future?

To every American the Stars and Stripes should be of the greatest significance. Where is there a country in which so many different peoples with various creeds are so homogeneously amalgamated into a common unit? Where is there so great a love for the common government and such a desire to see justice and fair play the heritage of all as in this "land of the free and the home of the brave." It's no wonder we revere the flag. And to show our loyalty to this symbol of all that good and pure and true in this nation, Wednesday next has been set aside as "Flag Day." For Old Glory is as real to us as a dear friend.

TORPEDOED

The summer time to each small boy
Would be a bed of roses,
But for some mishaps that annoy,
Like stubbing of the toeses.

—Youngtown Telegram.

The summer time to all big girls
Is pleasant, one supposes,
But for the rays that old Sol huris
And freckles up their noses.

—Geneva Free-Press Times.

The summer time would be so glad
For dad, a bed of roses;
But dad, you know, is the poor lad
That has to buy the clotheses.

—Houston Post.

The summer time to mother more
Of joy that work would grant,
But for the household cares galore
That sweet daughter leaves extant.

ON BEING MISUNDERSTOOD

How many times a day are you misunderstood? Some of us would use a lot of chalk if we were to put down a mark every time we said one thing which was taken to mean another. And all this misunderstanding is the cause of trouble. Quarrels are started, friends parted, engagements broken off, divorce proceedings instituted, crimes committed and even life itself taken—all on account of misunderstanding. Why are we so frequently misunderstood?

A great deal of the blame for being misunderstood can be put on the haste with which we speak and act. If you speak without thinking the chances are strong that you will be misunderstood, for the English language has many gradations and words must be carefully manipulated and properly accented to express your exact meaning. If you act without thinking you are apt to do something which will be wrongly interpreted.

Another thing that causes much of the confusion and misinterpreting of ideas is the quickness with which we jump at conclusions. Hardly before your neighbor speaks you have framed the speech according to the way you think he is going to speak and it is hard for you to thus keep from prejudicing yourself. A receptive and unbiased frame of mind on the part of the listener will do a great deal to dissipate much of present day-misunderstanding.

In life we meet with a large amount of misunderstanding which could be avoided if the individual were to practice sufficient patience when misunderstood and to "keep cool" when it is possible that he is laboring under a false impression. When there is any uncertainty as to the meaning of a man's speech or action it is the part of wisdom to withhold judgment until time has made clear the meaning.

BRITAIN'S GREAT LOSS

All England is in mourning for Earl Kitchener, British minister of war, who with his staff, was on board a British cruiser which was sunk by a mine or torpedo off the Orkneys Monday evening. And well may England mourn, for she has lost the brains of her war machine.

Born in Ireland in 1850, the son of a British army officer, Lord Kitchener entered the army at an early age and by sheer work and undisputed ability became the virtual head of the Sudan expeditions, which finally opened all Egypt to English civilization. Before the end of the Boer War he was made commander-in-chief of the British forces and later he went to India where he remained as commander-in-chief until 1909. At the opening of the present war he was raised to the position he held at the time of his death.

But what is to be the outcome of this calamity for the British Empire? Is Kitchener dead going to be worth more to England than Kitchener living? There is a likelihood that the opposition to some of the plans of Earl Kitchener of Khartum will largely fade away with his death and that many of his far-sighted policies, based upon practical experience and good judgment, will be put more fully into operation now that his true worth is appreciated. Oh, that we could appreciate a man's real value while he is still living!

The lively times at Chicago this week afford the democrats a good laugh, if nothing else.

WITH THE EDITOR

Under this heading each week we will treat of matters related directly to The Journal. We trust you will follow these articles closely and thereby gain more intimate knowledge and a fuller appreciation of what we are doing to make our paper the best paper of the town.

FULL COURT PROCEEDINGS

Our readers, upon careful observation, will note that at each session of the county circuit court we publish a full account of the court proceedings, the same being taken from the common law and chancery order books of the clerk's office. What you read is not an expurgated report but a complete and accurate account of all business transacted. However, we do not magnify and elaborate upon the record—our aim is to give, in as brief a manner as is consistent with clearness, the entire proceedings of the county court without favor or partiality to any.

We have often been asked to omit certain items. This, we are sorry, we can not do. We appreciate the reasons which often prompt these requests but the record is the court's and not ours. If we were to publish the record in part and head it "Court Proceedings" we would be guilty of deception and our readers' confidence would soon be forfeited. It's simply a matter of honesty with the greatest number to publish the whole record if we publish any. We trust our readers will bear in mind that the full county court proceedings are always to be found in this paper. We give these with the view of serving you as we think you wish to be served.

THE KITCHEN CABINET When a man is his own enemy it's only because he's too much his own friend.—Oliver Twist. There are certain polite forms and ceremonies which must be observed in civilized life, or mankind relapses into their original barbarism. FOR THE TABLE In setting the table no matter how simple the equipment, there can be a distinctness and care in its arrangement which shows thought and love of the beautiful. No matter how poor one may be the air of neatness is always indicative of refinement. A simple centerpiece of green, a five-cent fern or a flower always adds beauty to the table. Then the conversation is most important; where there are children whose ideals must be formed, the table talk may be the means of shaping their entire lives. Petty gossip, criticism and time for general correction makes an otherwise pleasant meal most uncomfortable. Table manners should be taught to children, but example will do much, with an occasional kindly correction. Come to the table in a bright and happy mood, keep the conversation in pleasant and instructive grooves. One of our great educators always had an atlas, an encyclopedia and a dictionary in the dining room to be consulted during the meal when it was necessary to use reference books. The children from that home went out with a broad and general education that could never have been acquired from books or college training. In the tender years of a child's life impressions may be made, facts learned without conscious effort on his part, that will remain in the memory as long as the mind lasts. Wholesome food is one of the necessities of a well-balanced body, and wholesome thought is just as vital to a well-balanced mind. We believe these things and nod approval when they are spoken or written, but we get nowhere unless we ourselves work to accomplish results. We often hear remarks made of certain families of children, "they are so well-mannered, they were just born that way." The fact is, if these lives were investigated, that the parents have spared no pains or time, no comfort, to teach and train them. This training is not always seen, but it must be given to get good results. Nellie Maxwell into the cost and advisability of installing a drinking fountain for people on one of the street corners. Mr. Wagener was appointed to look into this matter also.

In the absence of W. R. Myers, President Ratcliffe made a report of the audience of Mr. Myers with the board of supervisors at their May meeting. Mr. Myers was informed that the league could do whatever it wanted to to beautify and keep in order the courthouse yard, provided it was at no expense to the county.

Some discussion as to the sowing of grass seed around the commemorative group in the courthouse yard was entered into. It was thought that it would be unwise to sow seed at this time of the year for there would be little chance of its growing in the hot sun.

In reference to the Grant avenue fountain, it was stated that the installation of this particular fountain had been held up to see what action is to come from the protest of Lieut. Geo. C. Round as to the present location of the rack at that point.

The secretary of the league, Rev. Alfred Kelley, was instructed to insert a notice in the papers stating that there is a town ordinance, with penalty of fine attached, against the throwing of paper, tin cans, fruit parings or other substance upon the streets or sidewalks.

Miss Isabel Kelley asked if there was anything that the league could do to help get the merchants close their places of business early. Dr. Roop stated that the ministerial league had canvassed the business men of the town some years ago and that many promised to close early, but there was nothing permanent done. It was stated that there was a state law regulating the closing of the pool room but that there was no state law in reference to the closing of stores, except on Sundays.

A very pleasant discussion now ensued as to the value of birds to the community. President Ratcliffe stated that it was unlawful to kill any birds except the English sparrow. A fine of $5 can be imposed upon anyone killing a mocking bird.

The question of selling cigarettes to minors was also brought up and it was stated that there is a town ordinance against this. No dealer is permitted to sell tobacco to boys under a certain age.

A report in regard to the cost of the clean up showed that the total amount spent was $19.50, of the $20 appropriated. The treasurer then made a verbal report as to the financial condition of the league. The balance in the treasury to Monday evening was $62.50.

GROVELING

We do not rise on shining wings, to altitude sublime, because on little footy things we fog away our time. We do not try to walk the stars, or from low levels fly; our talk is all of motor cars, and climbing hills "on high." We don't discuss the latest burst of rare or deathless song, but talk of slaw and liverwurst, and bless the dinner gong. We're talking nearly all the time, and all our talk is bunk; we'll talk a fortnight for a dime, and six months for a plunk. We rip our neighbors up the backs, and drone about the crops, and roast the grinding income tax and criticize the cops; we talk about H. G. of L., which takes our good long green, and we denounce, with bitter yell, the price of gasoline. The same old topics every day, and all the sad year long! You never hear a fellow say a word of Art or Song! None ever stops you on the street, to talk of Milton's rhymes, but every pilgrim will repeat his spiel concerning dimes! WALT MASON.

COL. JOHN S. MOSBY.

I saw today the pictured face of him— Whose daring deeds hewed out a path to fame— Which shall survive the poison of delectating tongues— And flash resplendent when those tongues are dust. How strangely fitting that the brave old heart— Should cease to beat on Decoration Day— How strange that flowers and martial music and yearning memories— Should canopy this rugged warrior's well earned rest. For he had been for many bitter years— A shining mark for envy's vulgar aim— Unmoved he bore the impact of its scorn— A soldier still, but on a different field. A gracious providence surely kept in mind— How Mosby in the stressful days of yore— Kept vandal hands from hearth and home, and carried terror— To swaggering threat and insolence of numbers. All that Virginia really knows of this her valiant son— Lies well within the bounds of four eventful years— Within the compass of these years and these alone— She holds the right to judge and make her verdict known. The verdict finds and finds with honest pride— That helpless ones exposed to war's alarms— In humble cottage or ancestral hall— Felt Mosby's men to be a wall of steel. The greatest of great captains long ago removed— From scenes of petty spite and base ingratitude— Ranked Mosby's name among the first and best of state defenders— And puts the brand of shame on any lower estimate. Peace to his ashes. DOUGLAS CLARK, Manassas, Va.

Mankind's Three Lives.

"A man lives threeslives— youth, manhood and age," philosophically stated Professor Page. Youth is the rising sun of life, when he thinks of what a heck of a fellow he is going to be, manhood is the sun at full meridian, when he is satisfied that he is indeed a heck of a fellow; age is the setting sun, when he says around and hangs about what a heck of a fellow he use to be."—Judge.

PASSING THE WORD ALONG

Benefits Received Through The Use of New Medicine Are Being Told Broadcast.

People who have used Taniac seem to be imbued with the desire to tell their benefits to others so they can get the same results. That is the case with S. T. Hoffer, of 1032 41st Street, Norfolk. He publishes this statement for all to read and heed.

"I suffered from catarrh, indigestion, stomach trouble and seldom enjoyed a good night's rest. I had an accumulation of mucus in the throat and excessive expectoration every morning. I had continual headaches and gas formed on my stomach after eating. The condition was alarming at times and it was necessary to call a physician to relieve the pain. At times it was so severe that hypodermic injections of morphine were the only relief. Since taking Taniac I am well of catarrh and do not have that sick feeling and excessive expectoration every morning. I enjoy a good appetite and what I eat gives me no trouble. I sleep fine and in fact I feel great. I am glad of the opportunity to tell the people of my relief and hope that they will benefit as I have. Do you want to benefit as Mr. Hoffer did? Go today to Dowell's Pharmacy, Manassas, Va., and get a bottle of Taniac. $1.00 per bottle. Adv.

DANCING AND CARD PLAY

Herndon Pastor Says They Can Not Be Unequivocally Condemned—Personal Matter.

(The Herndon Observer)

"It might be well to give what the body of Congregationalists think concerning dancing, card-playing and theater-going," said Rev. J. O. Knott in his Sunday's sermon of May 25 at the Herndon Congregational Church on "Laying Aside Every Weight and Sin." "It is asserted by some that Congregationalists approve of these things. Whatever can not be condemned upon biblical authority can not be unequivocally condemned. In the realm of things either expedient or inexpedient considerable latitude must be given. The late conference of the M. E. church came near abolishing the paragraph in its discipline which makes dancing, card-playing and theater-going punishable with expulsion. The M. E. church, South, long since cut out this paragraph, leaving the general statement that Christian people should do nothing which they could not do to the glory of God." The address of the bishops in the appendix of the discipline of this church still contains a warning against these forms of amusement. But the church folk as well as pastors of the Southern church in Methodism are free to interpret things allowable and expedient largely on the basis of their own conscientious scruples. This is practically the position of the Congregational church.

"A thoughtful pastor," said Dr. Knott, "will be careful not to suggest in the pulpit what young people would not otherwise have thought of and thus inject evil thoughts while attempting to prevent evil thoughts. Certain forms of dancing, certain uses of cards, and certain theatrical performances are certainly not to be approved. But moving pictures are now used in almost all educational institutions, and even in churches. At the same time moving pictures constitute the chief asset of the theater. Card-playing is now used quite generally by home-loving people as a means to keep the family in close touch and to prevent boys and girls from indulging in such amusements on the sly and at places where surroundings would be hurtful. As a matter of fact spots on cards and spots on bone do not materially differ. One however is called dominoes and is looked upon as innocent. Who can defend such a hair-splitting distinction? Dancing is now taught in connection with many of our public schools as a means of the physical development of children. Folk-dancing is quite as innocent as well as helpful as any other form of calisthenics.

"The Congregational church, therefore, is not loose in its morals but sane in its views and methods when it holds fast all that is good in anything, and strives to teach not repression of young life, but expression. The wise pastor tries to keep in touch with young life, and by continually holding up pictures of the pure, the useful, and the good, to guide youth through the danger zones into normal and healthy adult life. To condemn in wholesale fashion what is to be condemned only for its misuse and in its lower forms, creates in the minds of young people the idea that the church is unfair, unsympathetic and ever disposed to see evil where the young people do not think of it.

"I do not know one card from another," said Dr. Knott; "I never danced a step in my life; and my theater-going is confined to a moving picture now and then. But I must allow other people the liberty of conscience I claim for myself. And above everything I would not suggest that others have evil thoughts when they say they have not."

NEW U. S. COINS

Dimes, Quarters and Half Dollars of New Design After July 1.

(Alexandria Gazette)

Dimes, quarters and half dollars of new design will be minted after July 1. Secretary McAdoo announced last week for the first time since 1891. The announcement disclosed that the half dollar has fallen practically into disuse. The new design was selected with hope of restoring it to more general circulation. The half dollar and dime models were made by Adolph A. Weinman and the quarter by Herman A. MacNeil, both sculptors of note. The face of the new half dollar bears a full-length of Liberty, with a background of the American flag flying to the breeze. The goddess is striding toward the dawn of a new day, carrying laurels and oak branches, symbolic of civil and military glory. The reverse side shows an eagle perched high upon a mountain crag, wings unfolded. Growing from a rift in the rock is a sapling of mountain pine, symbolic of America.

The design of the 25-cent piece is intended to typify the awakening of the country to its own protection. Secretary McAdoo's announcement stated.

Liberty, a full-length figure, is shown stepping toward the country's gateway, bearing upraised a shield from which the covering is being drawn. The right hand bears an olive branch of peace. Above the head is the word "Liberty" and below the feet "1916." The reverse bears a figure of an eagle in full flight, wings extended, and the inscriptions "United States of America" and "E. Pluribus Unum."

Both the half dollar and the quarter bear the phrase "In God We Trust." The design of the dime is simple. Liberty with a winged cap is shown on the obverse and on the reverse is a design of a bundle of rods, and a battle-axe, symbolical of unity. "Wherein lies the nation's strength."

APPLES FOR CHILDREN'S LUNCHEES

Housewives find an apple or two for the children's lunches at noon recess, or after school, one of the best possible things that can be used.

APPLE PLUM PUDDING.

1 pound of flour, 1 pound of suet, 1 pound of chopped apples. Mix these well and add one-half pound of raisins, stoned and flour-

APPLE CREAM PIE

Make any kind of a plain sponge cake batter; bake in shallow round cake tin. Split carefully and fill with the following mixture:

APPLE INDIAN NO. 2.

Scald one quart of milk. Pour it over one-half cupful of Indian meal and one-half cupful of farina.

APPLE PIE WITH PINEAPPLE

3 tablespoonfuls of grated pineapple, 1 tablespoonful of water, 3 tablespoonfuls of sugar.

APPLE PUDDING PIE.

Nearly fill a deep buttered baking dish with raw sliced apples sweetened to taste.

APPLE INDIAN

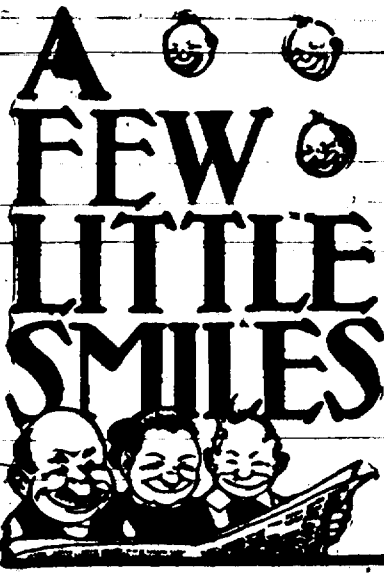

1/2 cupful of Indian meal, 1/2 cupful of molasses, 1/2 cupful of brown sugar, 1 quart of milk, 1 teaspoonful of salt, apples.

Then He Shut Up.

Mr. Cross—Humph! Changed your ideas about suffrage, haven't you? Five years ago, before we were married, you were all for giving women the vote; but now—

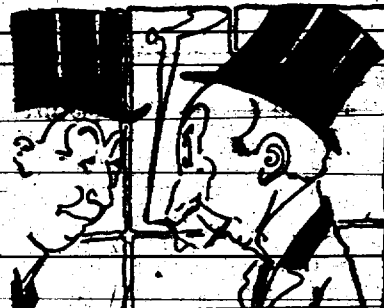

Mrs. Cross—Now I'm against it, and I'll tell you why. A woman would use about as much judgment in voting for a man as she uses in selecting one for a husband; and just see what a failure she generally makes of that.

Instrumental Play.

The Horn—I'm going on a toot tonight. The Drum—Well, that beats me. The Violin—I heard you had an awful head on you this morning.

Found. First Co-ed—I've lost a diminutive, argentine, truncated cone, convex on its summit, and semiperforated with symmetrical indentations.

THE LIMIT.

"When I see what Diggs accomplishes I am moved to admiration. He has great endurance."

Not Overdressed. Now, Adam did not care for dress; from fact, of course, you plainly see, "and as for that," said Mother Eve.

Not a High Brow. Bacon—it is said the giraffe is said to be the only animal in nature that is entirely dumb, not being able to express itself by any sound whatever.

Slow Delivery. Grace—Yes, she loves to play whist, but it almost drives her crazy.

Too Cheerful. Edith—Yes, I'm a little annoyed. You see, I declined the proposal; and I didn't want him to feel hurt.

Pretty Bad. Visitor—Isn't this climate very changeable? Old Inhabitant—No. It keeps shifting around until it gets about as disagreeable as possible and then it remains permanent.

Miscued. Boss—You interest me strangely, Jack—as no other man ever has. Jack—You sprung that on me last night.

Brutal. Old Maid (showing rare coins)—This coin was made in 1790. The Brute—Why didn't you spend it when it was new?—Froth.

FEED COWS FOR MILK

Production and Size Are the Determining Factors.

Each Animal Should Be Given as Much Roughage as She Will Eat Up Clean—Avoid Increase in Body Weight Above Normal.

In the management of the modern dairy it should be the aim to surround the cows with conditions most conducive to a large and economical production of milk and butterfat in each individual case.

It follows from what has been said that no two cows in the herd can be fed exactly alike under this system of feeding. Each cow must receive individual attention and be fed according to her special requirements. It is possible, however, to lessen the labor incident to regulating the feed supply in accordance with the requirements of the individual cows by adapting a general grain mixture which will serve the needs of most of the cows in the herd.

In shaping the trees, the orchardist must use his own judgment largely. Where the trees are very small care should be exercised not to cut away any portion of the tree which may affect its appearance in the future.

REMEDY FOR A SAGGING DOOR

Old Wagon Rod and Staple, Arranged as Shown in Illustration, Will Prove Satisfactory.

For a door that has sagged, writes John Horgan of Minnesota in News-Herald Farm Journal, get the ring of the rod at the bottom of door and run

Cure for Sagging Door. Run the staple through it. Run the other end of rod through a block fastened near the top of the door, put on the burr and tighten.

MANAGEMENT OF BROOD SOWS

Properly Fed and Handled Mature Animals Will Keep Better If She Has Two Litters Yearly.

Two litters a year mean two dividend periods for the hog raiser each year, instead of one. Properly fed and handled, a mature sow will keep in better breeding condition and will give her owner more years of profitable service if she has two litters a year than if she has only one.

To do this, she must be fed while pregnant a full supply of bone, blood and muscle-making feeds, in order that the development of the unborn pigs will not weaken her by taking these materials from her own body.

13 1/2 times as many Mr. J. S. WUEPPER, Delray, Fla., sprayed his tomato vines with PYROX, and writes: "I picked 475 crates tomatoes from the acre besides leaving 100 crates on the vines, it being 100 to get prices. My neighbor, who did not spray, got only 20 bushels. He sprayed with Bordeaux." PYROX stimulates the vines to produce their utmost. All ready to mix with water and spray. Send $1.00 for sample to make 30 to 40 gallons of spray or ask for name of nearest dealer. Large Catalogue of information free.

EDITOR MANASSAS JOURNAL:

In reference to the matter of asking for town help in constructing a retaining wall in front of the property of Mrs. Louise B. Teates I wish to make a statement. It appears that a misunderstanding has become current in this matter, to the extent that I was asking the town to help build a wall from which the town would get little benefit.
