The report of J. W. Rausch, manager Maryland Casualty Co., relative to the inspection of the steam boilers at the power house was read and filed. The boilers were found in good condition and were insured for $10,000 for three years at a cost of $97.00.

SEE DAIRY EXHIBIT

Bellevue Dairy Farm of Hyattsville, Md., to Exhibit at Horse Show.

The Manassas horse show will this year have a new feature never before undertaken by any management in the country. There will be the usual feature of horse racing and the show, but the special feature which will attract many of our citizens will be the dairy exhibit. This feature of the show is in the hands of a most competent committee, of which Walter A. Hooker, of Nokesville, is chairman. Northern Virginia is becoming one of the greatest dairy sections of the country, and this new feature should be educational as well as interesting.

The management has all ready had assurance of an exhibit from the Bellevue Dairy Farms, of Hyattsville, Md. This is one of the greatest herds in the country. The feature of the dairy exhibit will be the premier bull from that herd, which weighs 2600 pounds. All dairymen should not fail to inspect this wonderful animal.

LITTLE WANDERER FOUND

Three-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lyon Found After Five-Hour Search.

Little Ruth Lyon, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lyon, of near Manassas, Monday morning about nine o'clock took off her shoes and stockings and walked forth barefooted for the first time this summer. So fascinated was little Ruth with the bright sunshine and her freedom from shoes that she wandered on and on, little dreaming of the anxiety that her "excursion" was going to cost members of her family and kind neighbors. Before long the little girl was lost both to herself and her parents, and she remained lost until discovered by T. H. Athey, a member of the searching party, about three o'clock in the afternoon in a cornfield on the property of C. H. Wise, about three miles from the Lyon home.

When it was discovered that the little girl was lost a searching party was organized. Little footprints could be tracked to the edge of the back yard, but no farther. Frantic with anxiety and dreading even the worst, members of the family had a number of pools on the place dragged. Twenty-five or thirty men, mostly neighbors, joined in the search for the missing child. Every nook and corner was carefully searched and no trace of the little child could be found. Finally, T. H. Athey walked upon the little girl in Mr. Wise's cornfield.

With a tear-stained face and sore feet, the little tot cheerfully greeted her rescuer. On reaching home there was great rejoicing over the finding of the little wanderer. Ruth was glad to get home too, even if her head did hurt and her little feet were sore. When she starts out on such a long journey again mama and papa are very apt to know something about it.

SURVEY FOR RAILROAD

Preliminary Work for Line Between Manassas and Quantico Near End.

The survey for a railway line between Quantico and Manassas is nearing completion. Engineers in charge of the work have estimated that the road can be built upon a one per centum grade and are enthusiastic over the prospects.

Those men behind the idea of erecting a line to connect Quantico with Manassas will have spent approximately $3,000 for this survey by the time it is finished.

Opportunities for Agricultural Graduate

[A paper read at the Commencement Exercises of Manassas Agricultural High School.]

BY CLARKE JOHNSON.

There is an old Hindu proverb which says—

"Farming bears the bell away, Trade comes next, the wise men say."

Agriculture is one of the greatest subjects of the present day and is fast becoming the most attractive of occupations to the young man starting out in life. Of the many fields opening out to the agriculturally trained man—extension and demonstration work, forestry, the agricultural experiment station, the federal and state departments of agriculture, and the teaching of agriculture in college and high school—the farm itself offers one of the best opportunities for the graduate of the agricultural college. Here is the freest and happiest life, and on a modern farm, with the help of modern machinery and modern science, large profits are to be made.

Great progress has been made in the improvement of live stock, and the up-to-date stock farm offers big returns to the agriculturally graduate. The farmer with scientific training also knows how to gain a bigger yield per acre.

With the rapid growth of population in this country offering a steadily increasing market and the rising cost of provisions giving greater and greater gain for the produce of the farm, the agriculturally graduate can find no better place to turn his knowledge to account than by making the farm yield better crops. Indeed, with our increasing population, improvement of farming methods must be made and made fast, and the trained agriculturist is the man to do it. This is true, even on this so-called "poor land" of Prince William county. For "poor-land" it may be, but good land it can be, if the scientifically trained man takes hold.

Farm life of the present is far better and more to be enjoyed than ever before. There was a time when it meant drudgery and poor wages. Now, with increasing profits, modern improvements, rural delivery, telephones and automobiles, it is as attractive a place as any in the world, and the

CLUNG TO HORSE FOR LIFE

Elijah Wright, Unable to Swim, Near Death Sunday Afternoon at Smith's Ford, Cedar Run.

It was only by a very narrow margin that Elijah Wright, a young man in the employ of I. T. Shank, of near Brentsville, saved his life last Sunday afternoon as he attempted to ford Cedar run at Smith's ford near Brentsville. Not being able to swim, Mr. Wright clung desperately to the horse which eventually landed him on the opposite bank several hundred yards down the stream.

The heavy rains of the latter part of last week made the current of Cedar Run very swift. Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock Mr. Wright started to ford the run at Smith's ford, little estimating the strength of the current.

The horse and buggy were picked up and carried a distance of several hundred yards down the stream with Mr. Wright clinging to the horse. When the buggy finally lodged against the bank of the stream only about one foot of the top was above water. The horse was unhitched; it then went down stream a few hundred yards, coming out on the other side. With the assistance of Mr. Shank, Mr. Wright was able to get the buggy up the steep bank and chain it to a tree.

The government has opened a great many fields for the graduates of agricultural colleges; especially, that of the state relations service. The demonstration work is the greatest department in the service. This department has been running in a more or less efficient way for ten or fifteen years. While much was done by Dr. Seaman Knapp in the cotton regions of the South, it was not until 1914 that any great general advances were made. It was then that congress passed what is known as the Smith-Lever Act, which gave to every state for demonstration work $300,000.00, providing the state raised a like amount. This appropriation is to increase $200,000 every year for ten years. Also, every demonstration agent employed by the state must be a graduate of an agricultural college whenever possible. All this money appropriated, means, of course, that there will be one or more demonstration agents for every county in all the states of the United States. As yet, such men are few. Take Virginia, for example: There has been demonstration work going on in this state ever since the beginning of Dr. Knapp's work, but Virginia now has only fifty-two agents for her one-hundred counties. It is only a matter of time, however, before these places will be filled and no college man need hesitate to accept one of them, for the salary is very good, and this work offers a great field of public service; for Virginia is and will continue to be an agricultural state. Such an agent, by leading the people into better and more paying methods of farming, can do more than anyone else to increase the prosperity and well-being of the community.

The government employs men along many other lines of agriculture. At present the workers in subjects pertaining to agriculture and home economics in the department of agriculture and in the state agriculture colleges and

TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Dedicatory Services of Pentecostal Church at Cherry Hill July 11.

The Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene at Cherry Hill, Va., will be dedicated on the 11th of July at 8 p. m. Rev. J. T. Maybury, of Philadelphia, the district superintendent, will preach the dedicatory sermon.

There are nearly 1,000 Pentecostal Nazarene churches in the United States. They came out from the Methodist church and they preach and teach the methodism of John Wesley (old time religion).

Wm. L. Dodson, who was converted about a year ago, is the prime mover in building this little chapel at Cherry Hill, where a revival has been in progress for some time.

A large number have been to the altar for conversion and some for clean hearts. We have 55 members in our Sunday school and over 30 members constitute the church.

We cordially invite the public to attend our dedicatory services on the 11th of July.

Sincerely,
N. B. SHADE, Pastor.

Basket Picnic at Groveton.

A basket picnic is to be held at the Groveton pavilion on Wednesday, July 12th. Lemonade, ice cream and cake will be on sale by Bull Run Chapter, U. D. C. An interesting program will be rendered in the afternoon. Come and have a good time.

BUILDING AT GROVETON

Trustee Electoral Board Upholds Action of Manassas School Board.

At a meeting of the Trustee Electoral Board for Prince William last Saturday the action of the Manassas District School Board in settling upon Groveton as the site of the new school building in preference to Stone House was sustained. The board stated itself to be of the opinion that if the patrons of the school in the Stone House neighborhood will become reconciled to existing conditions that the finances of the Manassas district will soon permit the trustees of this district to erect another school in the same vicinity so as to accommodate all alike.

E. S. Brockett was appointed to fill the unexpired term of L. Ledman, resigned, as one of the school trustees for Occoquan district, and E. L. Perry was appointed to fill the unexpired term of W. W. Abel, deceased, as one of the school trustees for Dumfries district.

McDONALD SCHOOL HEAD

Bank President Chosen Superintendent of County Schools Over a Dozen Competitors.

The suspense relative to the appointment of a school superintendent for Prince William ceased Tuesday when the State Board of Education appointed Chas. R. McDonald, of Catharpin, president of the National Bank of Manassas, to fill the unexpired term of former Superintendent Geo. G. Tyler over a dozen other applicants. With the exception of the last two or three weeks when D. J. Arrington has served as acting superintendent, the position has been vacant since early March when Mr. Tyler tendered his resignation and became county clerk. Mr. McDonald will probably assume the duties of the position at once, as the school year begins tomorrow.

The new school superintendent for Prince William is not unknown here. Six or seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. McDonald moved to Catharpin from Wise county, Va., where for about a year and a half Mr. McDonald had been in the coal business. Prior to that he had been in the coal business at Pittsburgh, Pa. As a young man Mr. McDonald taught in the schools of Pennsylvania for ten years. He is a graduate of the California (Pa.) State Normal School and has a permit which would today allow him to teach school anywhere in Pennsylvania, his native state.

Since coming to Prince William both Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have taken an active interest in community affairs. Mr. McDonald served for several years as director of the National Bank of Manassas, later he was elected vice-president of the institution, and was chosen as president upon the resignation of C. A. Heineken. He has taken an active interest in church work and has served as a very efficient superintendent of Sudley Sunday School for several years. His appointment to one of the most important positions in the county merits the congratulations of the citizens of Prince William.

Notice to Town Citizens

The attention of property holders and tenants is called to the town ordinances requiring weeds and grass to be cut and kept cut during the summer. The mosquito breeding season is here and you can save yourselves as well as your neighbors much discomfort and probably illness by putting a small quantity of kerosene oil on the water in your rain barrels and any pools of water on your premises, or by keeping them free of any thing that will hold water.

and the friends of the coming generations.

May you have thirty, sixty and one hundred fold in this life and God's perpetual blessing in the life to come.

Sincerely and forever,
GEORGE CARR, ROUND.

ROUND RETURNS THANKS

Former School Trustee Appreciative of Honor Conferred by Alumni Loving Cup.

EDITOR MANASSAS JOURNAL:—As President of the alumni association of Manassas Institute and Manassas High School I have received the enclosed letter from Mr. George C. Round. I think that this message deserves a wider publicity than the walls of our association, coming as it does, as a message to the citizenship of Prince William, from one of its foremost citizens. I remember last year hearing Mr. Round in an address to a school, say that the highest title that any of us could claim was that of a good citizen, and I think that the long service that he has rendered the schools of the county, and through the schools the present and future men and women of our community, gives him the right to that title and to any honor that we may be able to do him. It is a life-work such as this that makes us realize more and more that not what we get but what we give is the true measure of a man. I submit this message from Mr. Round to your family of readers, expressing the hope from all of us that he may give many more years of service to our schools and our community.
Sincerely,
W. M. JOHNSON.

At Home, June 21, 1916.

Mr. Wheatley M. Johnson,
President of Alumni Association.

As I address you, my dear Wheatley, I conceive of you as the representative and spokesman of the Prince William citizenship which has grown up under my own personal observation.

For a few months past, I have been forced to suspend the activities of life. I have lain quiet in my thrice-windowed nest-room and looked out over the bright historic plains where the good providence of God encouraged me to do my life-work. Here I have been looking backward over the past and forward by faith into the eternities.

I have been unexpectedly raised up to receive your congratulation and the beautiful bronze emblem of your love and appreciation.

Fifty years ago this month, I graduated from the Wesleyan University of Middletown, Connecticut. The venerable president, Dr. Joseph Cummings, made to us in his baccalaureate the direct appeal to select our homes where we could do the best work for our fellow-men. Somehow, I thought of this at once as a call from God to make my home in the South, and when in November 1868, a glorious sunset from behind the Blue Ridge appealed to me, as I gazed from your desolated table-lands, I could not rid myself of the impression that here was my home; and I had not located myself for a fortnight before I felt that my first duty was to the children who through a decade of war and reconstruction had been deprived of education.

Decidedly the most satisfactory thing about my life-work, as I look back upon it, is that I have been permitted to be the co-adjutor of William H. Ruffner, William W. Thornton and their teachers and followers in making the plans of Thomas Jefferson for a public school system in Virginia a substantial reality.

From a human point of view, the height of self satisfaction came to me, when in 1906, on the organization of the Virginia State Teachers Association in Richmond, I was chosen its first president, and when at Roanoke in 1907 I was re-elected and sent as a messenger to Dr. Ruffner on his Rockbridge farm, as a bearer of the trustees and teachers of Virginia of our admiration and love. But when I am summoned before the Judge of the Quick and the Dead, if I have any choice as to the subject of inquiry, I should name those early years beginning with 1869, when with little recognition and assistance I took on myself when almost a boy responsibilities among strangers in a strange land.

If there is a teacher, a trustee, a pupil or a citizen, to whom in the pathway of duty, I have given offence, I ask the forgetfulness and forgiveness I give to others. From the bottom of my heart, I thank you and your associates

BIG FIGHT WON HERE

Disease Put to Flight by New Medicine Tanlac in Short Time.

One of the most notable victories ever accomplished has been won in Virginia by Tanlac, the new medicine that has been doing such wonders all over the country in eradicating diseases. Thousands of people have acclaimed it the greatest medicine ever offered to the public. It has proven nothing short of remarkable both for the speed in which it effects a remedy and the low cost.

One Norfolk man to benefit by this great medicine is R. L. Whitehead, a well known fireman of engine company No. 3, who recently said, "I suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble and could not sleep well. Gas continually formed on my stomach and I had a depressed full feeling after eating. I always felt weak and my limbs ached. In other words I was in poor condition for a fireman. Tanlac was recommended to me and I tried it. Now I am well of my indigestion and stomach trouble. I sleep much better and have a splendid appetite and I am thankful for the great benefit I have received from it. I have recommended it to several friends and they tell me they are getting fine results." You will get the same results if you will go to Dowell's Pharmacy, Manassas, Va., and buy a bottle of Tanlac. Price $1 per bottle. Adv.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods: 1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or 2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence. The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board. Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employes as wages, and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public. The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its complete investigation and tender such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

Warm Weather and Meat—

With summer soon here you can not be too careful about the kind of meat you buy. Unless properly cared for meat soon becomes tainted in warm weather and tainted meat is just so much poison to you. Buy only meat that is fresh and properly cared for. We make special effort to handle our meat properly from the moment the animal is killed until the steak, chops and cut leave our market. We have a fine ice box and we keep down the heat. Order your meat from us just before you wish to cook it and you will get good meat even in the hottest weather.

THE GREATEST TEACHER AFTER ALL

There is at least one young man in this county who in the future will be very particular how he attempts to ford a swift current, for that young man came near losing his life Sunday afternoon when the buggy and horse he was driving were washed down stream at Smith's ford over Cedar run near Brentsville. Elijah Wright, like most of us who have arrived at years of discretion, had doubtless been told of the danger of a swift running stream, and, like many another fellow, he had given the words of advice but passing thought. But now young Wright knows by first hand experience that to ford a swift current is not as easy as it looks to be. Besides, when a fellow that can not swim is thrown into such a current he does not experience the most pleasant of sensations. From an account of the accident, Mr. Wright's escape from death is rightly termed miraculous. We wonder if he will not tell you that a swift current, like a giant firecracker, is to be treated in only one way; namely, to be left alone.

CATCHING UP ON THE RAINFALL

Did you ever see so much rain? Isn't the precipitation for the season far in excess of the average? A man doesn't have to be a pessimist to ask such questions, for at first thought it is easy to imagine that our heavy rains are out of the ordinary. Yet all any one has to do is to hunt up the weather record in order to prove to himself that there is no cause for alarm.

As it stands now, the amount of rainfall since March 1 is just about the annual average. To make up for the dry winter we still need some rain before the normal annual precipitation is reached. Yes, if you take into account the several dry years we had prior to this, you can readily see that the account is only being balanced. Just as much rain as our crops can carry we should wish to see returned to a long-thirsty soil. How can we withstand the droughts that are almost sure to come unless the ground water is raised to the proper level?

A QUARTET YOU MUST FIGHT

You can't get along in this world without working, unless you mean to get your living in a parasitic way. And there is a great deal of work you have to do that is not directly in the line of making a living for yourself and family. In this class of labor falls the cutting of weeds and grass on your lawns and in your back yards. Goodness knows, the weeds and grass grow fast enough most any season, but with our abundance of rainfall the past spring and so far this summer they grow all the more rapidly. If you cut the weeds down today it is only a matter of two or three weeks before they will be up to their former height. We agree with you that this is rather discouraging work, but it makes good exercise. Another thing about it. Health Officer Merchant in this week's issue gives notice that you must cut and keep cut the grass and weeds growing up on your premises, if you are a property holder or tenant in Manassas.

Again, this wet season is going to prove very encouraging to the multiplication of mosquitoes. Nearly every one knows that the mosquito is solely responsible for the spread of malaria, but are adequate precautions being taken in Manassas against the breeding of this pest? Here is what Dr. Merchant says: "The mosquito breeding season is here and you can save yourselves as well as your neighbors much discomfort and probably illness by putting a small quantity of kerosene oil on the water in your rain barrels and on any pools of water on your premises. Don't forget the empty tin cans lying around. You would be surprised to know just how many mosquitoes are bred in small containers of water.

While you are cutting the weeds and grass and breaking up the breeding places of mosquitoes do not forget to look into the matter of fly breeding. Remember there are strict ordinances in regard to making your privy sanitary, in regard to the removal every ten days of the chemical treatment of stable manure, and in regard to the screening of all food placed on sale that is not already protected from flies. If you have been violating any of these ordinances without being caught, cease to violate them any longer. It is your duty as a good citizen of the town to obey the laws without feeling the hand of compulsion. Weeds, high grass, mosquitoes and flies are a quartet you must combat if you care a great deal for the welfare of yourself, your family and your neighbors.

DISPLAY OLD GLORY NEXT TUESDAY

The time for again unfurling Old Glory is near at hand. Manassas was very thoughtful on Flag Day, June 14th, but since that time a heavy cloud has arisen on our southern border, and now we are approaching the Fourth of July with an intense love for our native country. Will the people of Manassas remember to give a widespread display of the Stars and Stripes next Tuesday, the 140th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence? It's a little matter when undertaken individually, yet the spectacle of the flag on every hand, especially on the approaching Independence Day, will show that our people are true to the highest American ideals, even though we have no militiamen to send to the front.

COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

Do you imagine that the meetings of the Manassas Civic League are dry and of little importance? Is that the reason why the average citizen of Manassas is afraid to let himself or herself be seen in the council chamber of the town hall on the first Monday evening of each month? Somehow the words civic, improvement, league, federation seem to call to mind in the case of many people something very unattractive and wholly without pleasant associations. Now we are not attempting to advertise the civic league, but we would like to see it get a square deal at the hand of the townspeople, the very people to whom it belongs and who should be only too glad of such opportunities as it affords to be of some real service to the community. We say emphatically that the meetings of the league are interesting, and who will deny that they are important? If you don't believe what we are writing, take a dare and come out to the meeting Monday evening.

As is generally known, the Manassas Civic League is an unofficial association of town citizens working for the best interests of Manassas in every way. Although only a little more than one year of age, the league has several worthwhile achievements to its credit. The only real clean ups the town has ever enjoyed were the two furnished by the league. The organization has voted to install a drinking fountain for horses as soon as the permanent location of the Grant avenue horse racks has been settled upon. The league has in contemplation several other town improvements. And between meetings the weight of the league's influence is often brought to bear upon local conditions that need rectifying. No one can question the worth of the league to the town of Manassas, yes, and even to the country people of Prince William in an indirect way.

You will probably admit that the league is doing good work, that it is to be hoped that its efforts will continue to meet with success, but what are you doing to insure the permanency of this worthy organization? You don't have to be reminded that a few people should not be expected to do the work of the many; and yet this crowding of work upon a few willing citizens is the very thing you are bringing about by your lack of support. Right here in Manassas there are a large number of people who are willing to stand by and see their fellow men labor for them until blue in the face and still not offer a helping hand. Remember, every person actively connected with the civic league undertakes the work in the spirit of community service. You need not think of the civic league meetings and work as a bitter pill. Instead, an active interest in the league and its work affords real satisfaction of accomplishing something of a broad nature. If you will just come to one meeting of the Manassas Civic League and throw your soul into the work your attendance upon future meetings need not be worried about. Come out Monday and see about this "civic league business" for yourself.

WITH THE EDITOR

Under this heading each week we will treat of matters related directly to The Journal. We trust you will follow these articles closely and thereby gain a more intimate knowledge and a better appreciation of what we are doing to make our paper the ideal paper of the home.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETINGS

There is a monthly news article published in THE JOURNAL that should be of interest to every citizen of Manassas, especially. We believe that the reports of the town council meetings contain enough of interest to make them worthy of the perusal of all our readers; most assuredly these reports should attract the attention of all townspeople. Since the trouble is taken to give these accounts of the official work of the city fathers in sufficient detail to make the various items self-explanatory, we believe that you should be brought to realize the news value of these reports. With us it is not a question of reporting one council meeting and perhaps letting the next go by unnoticed. We keep a watch on the dates for these meetings and on the Friday following give an accurate record of all transactions taken from the clerk's minutes, with an occasional authoritative elaboration. To keep up with the growth of Manassas it is necessary that you follow the business transacted by the town council. And you can follow this business right in your easy chair by reading carefully the full reports given regularly in this paper.

Tuesday and Wednesday of next week the Culpeper horse show will be held. From late accounts this year's exhibition will be of a very high order and large crowds are expected. The Southern Railway offers greatly reduced round trip fare tickets to Culpeper July 3rd, 4th and 5th, bearing final return limit of July 6th. Miss Hattie Willcox narrowly escaped injury when a buggy belonging to J. B. Johnson was upset at the corner of Battle street and Railroad avenue Wednesday morning about 10:30 o'clock. When the horse took a notion to back and could not be checked, Miss Willcox jumped from the buggy. The fifth wheel was broken and the upper part of the buggy was somewhat damaged. The closing exercises of the Temple School of Music will be held in Conner's Opera House this evening, when Rev. Robb White, jr., rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Haymarket, will address the students. At this time certificates and prizes will be presented. The commencement exercises began last Saturday evening. Every evening a good-sized audience has been in attendance upon the good programs. A surprise was given the families of Miss Caroline Victoria Emerson and Samuel M. Lunt, both of Alexandria, when they announced their marriage last Saturday. The marriage took place January 21, 1916. The young couple will take a motor trip to Atlantic City and Philadelphia and later visit relatives in Canada. Mrs. Lunt will be remembered by many Manassas people as a frequent guest during the past few years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Lyach on Fairview avenue. Encouraged with the way subscriptions from Washingtonians are coming in for the bed piece of the Washington-Richmond highway in lower Prince William, work was commenced last week, when a gang of seventy-five men and necessary machinery was put to work between Pohick Church and the Lorton railway station. Up to last Sunday Washington had subscribed nearly $600 of the $4,870 asked for, and the subscription lists have not been open very long. As the outcome of Mrs. Mitchell Harrison's talk before the ladies of Manassas Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. E. Spies, it was decided to organize a local sewing circle with headquarters at Eastern College during the summer months. Members of the circle will sew for European soldiers. The Virginia War Relief Association will give $25 toward the purchase of supplies, and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will make a donation. Cotton and old sheets of any kind are solicited. The management of the Dixie Theatre have just booked the picture, "Hypocrites," to be shown here Tuesday, July 11th. Their policy is to present to its patrons from time to time pictures of exceptional merit, the most noted that can be procured. The picture "Eternal City" has been booked for July 25th. Although it is necessary to increase the admission price on these special feature nights, they feel that they are justified in doing so, and that the people of Manassas are willing to pay a little more to see the greatest pictures produced. Services at Manassas Presbyterian Church, Rev. Alford Kelley, pastor, for the coming week will be as follows: Sunday—Sunday school at 10 a. m., subject: "Paul at Thessalonica and Berea." IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear sister, Mrs. Wilma E. Baldwin, who left us three years ago, June 23, 1913. "Since she went home" The evening shadows linger longer here; The winter days fall so much of the year; And even summer winds are chill and drear. Since she went home. The robin's note has touched a minor strain, The old glad songs breathe but a sad refrain, And laughter sobs with hidden bitter pain. Since she went home. How still the empty rooms her presence blessed! Untouched the pillow that her dear head pressed, My lonely heart hath no where for its rest. Since she went home. The long, long days have crept away like years; The twilight has been dimmed with doubts and fears. And the dark nights have rained in lonely tears. "Since she went home."

Your Wife Should have a bank account and pay her bills by check. It's the modern, business-like, economical way. It tends toward careful management, gives a better idea of the relation of income to outgo, provides a receipt for each payment, as well as a record of date, amount, etc. And it often leads to the creation of a substantial reserve fund with which to realize a fond ambition or meet an emergency. The lady of the house is invited to call and learn how easily she may open an account in this strong bank, and the conveniences which we place at her command absolutely without charge. What Cornwell Supply Co. of Manassas have to say about cream separators this week. REMEMBER that a cream separator has to be used 730 times every year. If it runs hard, or isn't easy to wash, or doesn't skim clean, it is a constant annoyance and bother. No machine or implement on the farm receives such constant use and there is no other machine on the farm where quality of work means so much and first cost means so little. A little loss of cream with a cream separator, multiplied 730 times, soon runs into money. It's too big a headache for any cow owner to try to work under. Creamerymen all over the world long ago came to the conclusion that the De Laval was the only machine they could afford to use. That's why 90% of the cream separators used in creameries the world over are De Laval. You will find the biggest and best dairymen almost invariably using De Laval. Experience has taught them that it is the most economical. You can't afford to take any chances with your cream separator, and we know that if you will come to us and let us put in a De Laval for you, 730 times a year you will say to yourself "I made a good move when I bought that De Laval." Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL.

BRIDE AND GROOM FETED

Quite an enjoyable affair and social function of the season was the "garden party" and reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Robertson by their cousins, Mrs. T. O. Latham and Miss Elma Latham at "Locust Bottom," the home of Mr. H. L. Latham and sister, Thursday evening, June 22nd.

Those in the receiving line were Mrs. T. O. Latham receiving on the lawn, Miss Elma Latham on the porch, Mrs. G. A. Hutchison on the first floor and Miss Isabelle Skinner in the upper hall.

The guests upon approaching the house were very enthusiastic over the merry laughter within and the arrangement of Japanese lanterns in a semicircle which brilliantly illuminated the lawn and porch.

There were numerous card tables arranged upon the lawn and swings and hammocks for the "spooners," while croquet was the chief amusement for the more settled.

The decorations of the first floor were of red rambler roses and foliage of the various deciduous trees carrying out the color scheme of red and green.

Promptly at eight o'clock a sumptuous repast was served consisting of three courses.

The chief feature of the evening's entertainment was a tree contest, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Robertson winning both lady's and gentleman's first prizes—a sandwich basket and a handsome pen-knife; Mr. Cary Smith, gentleman's booby—a "blikken," and Mrs. Fred Wilson, of Hartwell, Ga., lady's booby—a pair of artificial chickens.

Unknown to the various guests who were enjoying themselves in the front parlors the back parlors were quietly undergoing a change preparatory to the dance that was to follow.

The guests numbered seventy-five, among them quite a number from a distance—Mr. and Mrs. Will McCarty, Mrs. H. F. Lynn and Miss Rita Robertson, of Delaplane, Va.; Mrs. Caroline Robertson, of the "Cairo," Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Fred Wilson, of Hartwell, Ga.; Miss Keeler, of Middleburg, Va.; Miss Lucy Settle, of Paris, Va.; and the Misses Furr and Mr. Kerr, from Broad Run.

Mrs. Rolfe Robertson, the youthful bride, was daintily and becomingly gowned in a yellow taffeta with ecru lace and black velvet trimmings and wore diamonds. Mrs. McCarty, mother of the groom, was handsomely attired in a black silk lace dress over white satin with diamond ornaments. The grandmother of the groom, Mrs. H. F. Lynn, wore a handsome black dress and diamonds, while the girlish sister of the groom, Miss Robertson, was sweet and pretty in a white French organdie with lace and diamonds. Mrs. Robertson, of the "Cairo," Washington, D. C., aunt of the groom, was handsomely gowned in an ecru allover lace dress with a huge diamond cross, her only ornament. Mrs. Lanier Berkeley, cousin of the bride, was attractively gowned in yellow messaline with rare pearl trimmings.

At 10:30 p. m. the guests reluctantly said their goodbyes, declaring this occasion the most enjoyable of the many previous entertainments at "Locust Bottom."

Mrs. L. A. Snow Hostess.

In our mention of the meeting of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club of June 10th in last week's issue we erred in stating that the hostess was Mrs. Thos. H. Lion. We should have stated that the club was entertained by Mrs. L. A. Snow.

Buy Prince Albert every-where tobacco is sold in tippy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin tins—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidifier with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco fresh and moist—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

SOUTHERN'S FARM WORK

Reorganization of This Service Effective Tomorrow—W. M. Brown's Position.

With a view to making the agricultural service of Southern Railway Company and its associated companies more helpful to the farmers of the South, President Harrison has made a complete reorganization of the service to go into effect on July 1.

With the extension of the farm demonstration work of the United States Department of Agriculture and of the states and the appointment of demonstration agents in most of the counties traversed by the lines of the companies there is not the broad field for railroad agricultural demonstration work that existed when this service was inaugurated by Southern Railway Company in 1910, when there were very few government agents in the field. There is now, however, a broad field for helpful work in connection with the marketing of the products of Southern farms, especially in localities in which farmers without experience in selling anything but cotton are going into diversified farming and especially in aiding small producers to consolidate their products and market cooperatively.

Since January 1, 1913, the companies have maintained market agents at Washington, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Atlanta for the purpose of finding markets for Southern products and bringing buyers into touch with the producers. This service is now to be greatly strengthened. A farm products agency is to be substituted for the market agency at Atlanta with Mr. Roland Turner, now agricultural agent at Birmingham, Ala., as chief farm products agent. The present agricultural field agents of the company, ten in number, will be appointed farm products agents, reporting to Mr. Turner.

The market agents at Washington, Cincinnati and St. Louis will compile and promulgate information as to markets, including quantities, varieties, grades and packs desired for different markets and as to freight rates and facilities. This information will be promulgated to producers through the farm products agency or direct, as circumstances may require. The market agents will also compile and promulgate to buyers information as to products for sale. The chief farm products agent and the farm products agents will familiarize themselves with producers and products in their territories and forward detailed information to the market agents. They will advise producers as to the varieties, grades and packs required for different markets and will give special attention to encouraging small producers to organize for cooperative marketing. The market agents and farm product agents will work in close cooperation with the bureau of markets and rural organization in the United States Department of Agriculture and with the state agricultural authorities.

Mr. T. O. Plunkett will continue as farm demonstration agent with headquarters at Atlanta for emergency work all over the system, especially in localities where his advice may be needed to aid farmers in combating the Mexican cotton boll weevil.

The live stock and dairy development work of the companies will be strengthened by the appointment of Agricultural Agents W. M. Brown, at Atlanta, and T. G. Wood, at Washington, to be live stock and dairy agents. Messrs. Brown and Wood and Agricultural Field Agent J. G. Shand, who will be appointed assistant industrial and immigration agent at Mobile, will also aid in the location of farm settlers along the lines of the companies.

Fourth of July Excursion Fares via Southern Railway. Tickets on sale July 2, 3 and 4, 1916, bearing final return limit of July 4, 1916. For detailed information contact Agents or write C. W. Westbury, General Agent, Washington, D. C.

Opportunities for the Agricultural Graduate

experiment stations number 5-882. This is almost twice as many as were employed five years ago, and it is not to be doubted that the call for agricultural college graduates will be doubled five years from now. Especially when we consider the many branches of the agricultural department: the weather bureau, the bureau of animal industry, bureau of plant industry, the forest service, bureau of chemistry, bureau of soils, bureau of entomology, the biological survey, bureau of crop estimates and the bureau of public roads and rural engineering.

Two of these departments of special importance are the forestry department and the bureau of public roads and rural engineering. The forestry service administers the national forests; studies forest conditions, methods of forest utilization, methods of protection against forest fires; investigates the mechanical and physical properties of wood and the processes employed in the manufacture of forest products; gathers information concerning the needs of various wood-using industries and the relations of forests to the public welfare generally. Here is a vast field for the agricultural college graduate. The work of this service is organized under the office of the forester: five branches, seven districts, 184 national forests and sixteen purchase areas, four different fields, each one an immense work with positions open for a great many men.

Consider the greatness and importance of this forestry work. The lumber industry of this country ranks higher than any other, but our great forests are rapidly being cut down for timber and for manufacturing purposes, and destroyed by public carelessness in regard to fires. If we are to save the forests, not only for timber products, but as the conserver of the rainfall and the soil (for thousands of acres of soil are swept away annually by the floods resulting from the wasteful cutting away of the forests) we must have an extensive forestry department employing thousands of trained men.

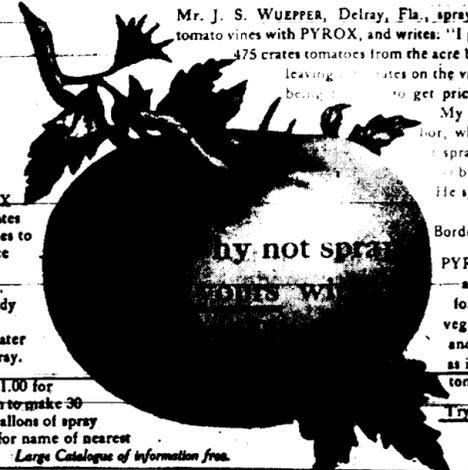

The office of public roads and rural engineering or good roads department is one of the fastest growing as well as one of the most important—I might say the most important to this section and state. The work of this department is spreading and enlarging; consequently requiring at all times trained men. Trained men, because the system of road management and methods of road building, improvements and maintenance demand always expert work. Here again is the place for the agricultural college graduate; for the training of expert road engineers can best be done as a department of the agricultural college. The question is undoubtedly one of our greatest public problems. The public is waking up to its importance, too, and is beginning to realize that to have good roads we must have expert supervision. This means that in a few years there will be a tremendous call for road engineers. Here is another big field for the trained man.

And so in the future, the agricultural college graduate will have to be reckoned with. Farms and schools, corporations and governments are calling for him. The whole country is waking up and demanding his services. To what profession then should the boys and young men of Manassas, of Virginia, and of the United States generally more readily turn?

The Coles District School Board will meet at Independent Hill at 2:30 p. m., Saturday, July 8, for appointing teachers for the session 1916 and 1917, and also to contract for furnishing wood for the session. By order of the school board.

Mr. J. S. WUEPPER, Delray, Fla., sprayed his tomato vines with PYROX, and writes: "I picked 475 crates tomatoes from the acre besides leaving 100 crates on the vines, it being the best I ever got prices. My neighbor, who did not spray, got only 100 crates. He sprayed with Bordeaux." PYROX is as good for other vegetables and fruits as it is for tomatoes.
