Large delegations of patrons, teachers and school children from all parts of the county are in Manassas today for the annual fair of the Prince William county schools. ## DISPUTING GEN. SHERMAN

Marine Sergeant Says Some Things About War Are "Heavenly."

Two very proud and loyal young American women were passengers on an outbound local today, says a news dispatch from Cleveland, Ohio. They were returning to their homes at Medina, near Cleveland; proud because they had seen their sweethearts enlist; loyal because they had done their duty by Uncle Sam.

When war was declared, Charles P. Donahue told his fiancée, Myra Averill, of his intention to enlist, and asked her to postpone the wedding. At the same time, Donahue's chum, Paul Bowman, made up his mind to fight for Old Glory, and asked Nora Good if she was willing to wait until he was free.

The young women not only consented, but proudly accompanied their sweethearts to the United States Marine Corps recruiting station where both boys enlisted and were immediately sent to the training station, Port Royal, S. C.

That the parting of the four lovers was not without its dramatic interest is vouched for by the marine sergeant who was present, and who afterwards remarked: "Far be it from me to dispute General Sherman; but some things about war are heavenly. That's it—heavenly."

ASKS SOLDIERS TO WRITE

Journal Wants More Data Concerning Confederate Veterans—Response

Several veterans of the Confederacy have responded to THE JOURNAL's request for data concerning their service in the Civil War. We trust that others will contribute to the list, that we may have as full and accurate a report as possible, as historical data and for the pleasure of our veteran friends and other readers.

The first response came from Mr. Samuel Lloyd, of Manassas, who says he went out with the militia, was thrown into the volunteer companies and served until 1864 under Capt. Moore, Company G, thirty-third regiment, Stonewall Brigade. He was in four battles—Republic, Chancellorsville, Winchester and Gettysburg.

Mr. R. S. Smith, of Manassas, writes that he enlisted in 1861 under Anderson Smith and joined Gen. Ashby's company on March 22, 1862, remaining with him for the remainder of the war. Mr. Smith says he is anxious to hear from more of his comrades through these columns.

Mr. R. E. Reeves, also of Manassas, says he entered the Confederate service in 1863 with Hampton's Legion, Second South Carolina, Company B, under Capt. Ferryby. He was wounded Aug. 1, 1864.

Mr. George C. Reeves, of Washington, writes, "I joined company A, 39th Virginia Battalion, in the year of 1862, under Major Richardson, commander. My company officers were as follows: Capt. Piper, First Lieutenant Green, Second Lieutenant Lupton, and Third Lieutenant Cartnal.

"The battles in which I fought are as follows: Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Bristol, Centerville, The Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, The Siege of Petersburg, and smaller battles that I can not remember, for my memory isn't as good as it was some years back."

Let us hear from other veterans.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Washington, arrived in Manassas Wednesday to make their home here.

EASTERN COLLEGE NOTES

During commencement week there will be two contests, one in oratory and one in debate. A gold medal is offered in each contest.

Several of the students have expressed a desire to enter the oratorical contest, which is open to the entire school. It is hoped that many will signify a desire to enter. So far the following have entered their names: Messrs. Polen, Martin, Ferris and Ramsey.

The subject of debate is "Resolved, That the United States send an expeditionary force of 500,000 men to Europe." Lots have been drawn by the participating students and the speakers are as follows: Affirmative, Mr. Kramm and Mr. Polen; negative, Mr. Moore and Mr. Ramsey.

Miss Mabel Martin, head of the dramatic art department, will present two humorous plays at the college auditorium on the evening of Saturday, May 5. The plays will be entitled "Tommy's Wife" and "The Elopement of Ellen."

A joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The subject is "Missions."

The Washington Irving and Jeffersonian Literary societies met together Friday evening. The program included an open debate on compulsory military training, solos by Miss Ambler, Miss Roop and Miss Swartley, an original story by Miss Smith, "First Aid" by Miss Ernestine Mozer, the Herald by Mr. Ramsey and prayer by the chaplain, Prof. B. D. Lucas.

BETHEL

The Occoquan district school exhibit was held at Bethel High School on April 19. A large crowd was present to view the exhibits and hear the speakers.

Bethel High School led the district in prizes, getting forty-five blues, twenty-three reds and twenty-one whites. The other schools of the district were well represented by their exhibits and won many ribbons.

The exhibition room was thrown open to the public at 1:30 p. m. and from then to 3 o'clock the large crowd was busy viewing the various things made by the boys and girls of the district.

ADDRESSES MADE

At 3 o'clock the house was called to order by Mr. Dawson, president of the district organization, and excellent talks were given by each of the judges—Supt. Charles R. McDonald, Mr. C. A. Montgomery, Mrs. J. F. Dogan, Mrs. Walter L. Sanders, Mrs. McDonald, Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, Miss Edith A. Roberts and Miss Emily Johnson. The audience listened attentively to all of the speakers and the close of each address was marked by hearty applause.

The community was especially glad to welcome all of our demonstration agents—Miss Gilbert and Mr. Montgomery, our county agents; Miss Johnson, former county agent, and Miss Roberts, state agent—who made such interesting talks concerning farm work in its relation to our position at this critical period.

BASE GAMES

After the adjournment of the meeting the crowd went to the ball field to see the Bethel and Hoadley teams cross bats. It was one of the most exciting games played on the local field for some time, and it was thirteen innings, the rival teams playing hard, before Bethel could claim the victory, by the score of 9 to 7. Eddie Hammill proved himself in his usual good form in the box, with good speed and wonderful control. Both teams did good work. It is expected that they will cross bats again in the new future.

Manager Dewey of Captain Hammill will be glad to have challenges for games with other schools of the county.

In the morning of the same day the two literary societies of the school had an interesting game of basket ball, the Thornions losing to the Tylers by the score of 4 to 3. It was not until the last minute of the second half that the Tylers won on a jump shot by Miss Louise Rus-

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES

STYLE—and what is BENEATH

Underlying the surface look of a garment are the things that determine its stamina—its staunchness—its serviceability.

For if a suit is cankered with weak spots inside they will eat their way outside at the first sign of rigorous wear. A suit that is 90 percent genuine and 10 percent imitation soon looks 90 percent imitation and 10 percent genuine.

No man ever received satisfactory wear from a garment that did not contain these essentials:

- an all-wool fabric thoroughly shrunk by the London cold water process—and not by the first rain in which the wearer is caught.
- genuine linen canvas and not a cheap cotton or hurlap substitute.
- sewing at all points of strain done painstakingly by hand with silk thread—and not weak, unskilful cotton.

For the man who wants to be sure that there is not a detail in the whole suit where a cheating makeshift is tolerated—whether he pays $15.00—$16.50—$20.00—$25.00 or as high as $50.00 there is one absolute safeguard.

It is the Kirschbaum label.

Hints on the Choice of Clothes

A point or two for you young men to keep in mind in selecting a spring suit:

The coat should fit closely enough so that in buttoning the middle (or top) button it is necessary to force the garment just a trifle, thus accentuating the waist line.

The correct coat collar this year sits rather flush about the neck.

The old high-standing effect in the collar is gone.

The length of the trousers should be just enough to hang clear of the shoes without breaking—with the bottoms absolutely straight, and not hollowed above the knees in front.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

The approaching Confederate reunion at Washington has been the subject of much editorial comment throughout the country.

When William McKinley, as brave a Union soldier as ever went to battle, wearing a decorative Confederate button and carrying a miniature Confederate flag—

When William Howard Taft, as true an American and as sound a republican as ever lived, named a Confederate soldier as Chief Justice of the United States

Yet, long before either of those events, the soldiers of the north and south—the men who had actually fought the war of sections—had composed their differences, had buried their hatchets and—at least in the border states—had blotted out the memory of old scores as they romped with children who could not distinguish the grandfathers who had worn the blue from the grandfathers who had worn the gray.

It was in 1895 that the Grand Army of the Republic held its first national encampment upon southern soil. That was here in Louisville. There were those who doubted whether the invitation and its acceptance might not be a little premature.

The walkin rang with the shouting of the braves. Not merely the public places glowed with emblematic signs that the war of sections was over, but through streets and lane-up alleyways and down by the river-side every vista showed a flower garden of American flags.

It was thought and said, if there should come a foreign war, the proof that the war of sections is over will even more vividly and impressively show itself. And the foreign war did come. It was at hand. Its earliest victim chanced to be a southern lad. With Wheeler, Fitz Lee and Wilson—the self-styled Wilson who had captured Jefferson Davis—mated in Cuba, with Miles and Castleman in Puerto Rico, what more was wanted?

All went well again. The proud and happy American, whether of Yankee land or Dixie land, had once more a common heritage—Kentucky a little in the lead, for Kentucky was the birthplace of both commanders of the rival armies that fought the war of sections and holds the two spots in reverence and honor, caring lovingly for each as for a shrine—so that the glory, the name and the fame of the soldiers who wore the blue and of the soldiers who wore the gray became interchangeable. Forever now they constitute a great national asset, dear to every American who loves his country and is true to its institutions, for the nation is at length as it was intended by the fathers to be and as it was thought to be until stress and trial revealed the shortcoming and welded it together as never before.

A TIME FOR ACTION

A situation worthy the prompt consideration of the citizens of Manassas and vicinity is the apparent opportunity to secure for Manassas one of the officers' training camps to be established by the government. Absolute knowledge of our chances is not to be had, but it is expected that some of our citizens will make haste to possess themselves of detailed information concerning the project.

We can offer a location which is ideal, and the advantages of geographical location and healthful climate should be paramount. That our situation is specially adapted to the needs of a similar project was forcefully demonstrated during the manoeuvres here ten years ago.

On the other hand, the practical advantages which would accrue to Manassas as the site of the camp are easily understood. It would bring to the community a class of American citizenship which is admittedly desirable, for the men of the officers' training corps will of necessity be men of superior type. From a financial standpoint only the proposition would commend itself to the business men of the community and with their avowed support a committee of citizens should be well prepared to launch their efforts to secure it.

An important fact to be remembered is that now is the time for action.

THE GLORY OF A STATE

The threat of war has shaken Pennsylvania out of her traditional modesty. She now sees herself—or, as we must put it, he now sees himself—as the "Hercules of the Union." The Keystone State "can give more than any other Commonwealth." Bethlehem is ready to add a nobler significance to its name by making as many guns as Krupp. Baldwin's can produce more locomotives than all the plants in Germany. The state founded by William Penn is the only one which can build and equip a battleship—"arm it with the biggest guns, stock the magazines with shells and gird the whole thing with steel armor." A single clothing manufacturer in Philadelphia can turn out 8,000 uniforms a week. Manufacturers of stockings and underclothes in the state are able to equip a greater army than the country has ever yet enrolled. There is enough coal in Pennsylvania to supply all the given time more freight cars in Pennsylvania than in any other state; a thing of vital need when those war drums beat to arms. Only one other state could buy more Government bonds. In a word, as the Ledger sums it up: "Yes, Pennsylvania is the Hercules of the Union, and if it were necessary to mobilize up to the limit that has been done in France, we could send out under our battle flags an army of 800,000 men."

And when we have conquered Germany, Pennsylvania can show her how to govern herself. —New York Evening Post.

WHEN YOU SHALL CHOOSE

When you shall choose the course that you would go To reach the goal toward which your powers bend. Let naught your aim and purpose overthrow, But, whate'er comes, press bravely to the end.

When you resolve that something you will do That worthy is of brain and mind and thought, Whoe'er opposes, still your work pursue Until it is to full perfection brought.

When in your heart you something have to say That, if accepted, will some good bestow, Speak it not once but ever, day by day Until the world its worth shall come to know.

To sum up all, in every thought and deed Be your own self, determined, firm, intense; No matter who shall frown or who shall heed, Stand bravely up, despite the consequence. —Thomas F. Porter.

GIVES ADVICE ON BLOOD TROUBLE

Warns Against Alcoholic Patent Medicines—Injure Kidneys—Says Writer Below.

Many people taking iron in one form or another, seeking richer, better blood, strength and vitality, make a serious mistake, according to a well-known writer on the subject.

"If people realized that the kidneys are intrusted with the duty of filtering the blood of impurities, uric acid and other poisons, they would certainly not take alcoholic 'patent' medicines as recklessly as they do. Alcohol is very bad for the kidneys, not to mention stomach, nerves and liver. Any doctor will tell you that.

Go to the nearest druggist and get a fifty-cent or dollar bottle of non-alcoholic natural iron, known as Acid Iron Mineral. This is pure, highly concentrated and goes twice to ten times as far. One-half teaspoonful in a glass of water is a dose. Take after meals and on going to bed.

NOT PATENT MEDICINE Nature in her own inimitable way mixed it—kept it pure, down in the earth. Acid Iron Mineral is not a patent medicine. It helps instead of injuring teeth, stomach, kidneys, bladder and nerves. All druggists of course have it. Adv.

FRESHMEN WIN MEET

High School Track Squad Holds Annual Inter-Class Event.

The annual inter-class meet of the Manassas High School track squad resulted last Friday in the victory of the first year with 43 points to their credit. The second-year boys pressed them close getting 40 tallies, while the Seniors amassed the total of 27 points.

The chance of the Manassas team to win the Eighth District meet on May 5 looked very much brighter as a result of the showing on Friday—and it looks as though next Saturday will see the best meet on Round Field in the history of the series.

Warrenton and Culpeper will both send strong teams and Marshall and Hume will probably make a good showing on their first appearance in these meets. It is hoped that a good crowd will turn out and encourage the local team.

A tablet marking the site of the Confederate navy-yard will be unveiled at Richmond on May 10. The tablet adorns a huge James River granite boulder in the center of a triangular plot of ground at the intersection of Lester, Maple and Ash streets, and has been dedicated by the city of Richmond as Confederate Navy-Yards Park. The Confederate colors will be unfurled from a sixty-five-foot flag staff.

A Dreadful Menace BY MYRTLE GREY

Albion Dare was a contented and happy man. He had been brought up on a farm yielding a comfortable living. He had won Minna Royce, belle of Bayview, for his bride and now there was a two-year-old little cherub, Norman, to fill the vine embowered cottage with animation all day long.

"I'll try moral suasion, dear, and if that fails why—" and he exhibited the handle of a big revolver in his hip pocket.

"Suppose he did?" bashed forth the motherly Minna. "Is there a finer child in the world? Uncle Ben ought to be proud to know that he's got such a smart, handsome namesake!"

"Mrs. Dare," spoke her neighbor abruptly. "I don't like the looks of that package."

"O-oh! whatever shall I do with it?" shivered Minna. "Put it on the window sill on the porch," advised Mrs. Rush.

"Oh, there he is at last!" she exclaimed joyfully and hurried down the street to meet her husband.

"From Uncle Ben," he advised. "Note says, 'biggest stick of candy I could buy.'"

"Norman misbehave himself! The idea!" cried the fond mother. "What is it, Albion?"

APPEALS TO THE PUBLIC CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS

Reader Says There Is Need of Increased Respect for Land and Sabbath.

Farm and city papers are urgent in their appeals for increased production. This is well, but how many really believe in the Power back of our puny efforts or have respect for the land over which man was given dominion? From the beginning God blessed the Sabbath day and made it a sign throughout all generations—yet, nationally and individually, what utter disregard is shown both land and the Lord's Day.

The question is: Do we not believe His word? He says, "Ye shall keep My Sabbaths and reverence My sanctuary—then I will give you rain in due season and the land shall yield her increase and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit and your threshing shall reach unto the vintage and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time; and you shall eat your bread to the full and dwell in your land safely. And I will give peace to the land, and ye shall lie down and none shall make you afraid; and I will rid evil beasts out of the land, neither shall the sword go through your land."

In this same 26th chapter of Leviticus, we find these words, "But if ye will not hearken unto Me, I also will do this unto you. I also will even appoint over you terror, consumption and the burning ague that shall consume the eyes and cause sorrow of heart, and ye shall sow your seed in vain for your enemies shall eat it."

Biblical and profane history teach that these promises and curses are literally fulfilled, so while we are planning and working for increased crops might we not well consider these words before we presume to expect the land to yield her increase?

In a recent address at Manassas before the Northern Virginia Farmers' Institute, Mr. W. B. Doak, of Clifton Station, called attention to how hunt clubs and their would-be imitators violated both civil and Biblical law by making these week-end forays into the country, riding roughshod over the farms, cutting wire fences and often leaving dogs to run over Sunday, killing stock and destroying insectivorous birds. The idea seemed to amuse some vacuous minds, but the Sabbath following this Friday talk, within a mile of the court-house, dogs got into Mr. J. B. Johnson's fields, killing lambs and worrying flock.

There is need for increased respect for both the land and Sabbath in a general way, but it seems to me that all should unite in putting a stop to such flagrant disregard of God and the right.

We strongly recommend their more extensive use.

CHERRY HILL

One of the attractive places of Cherry Hill is the rabbit farm recently established by Mr. G. E. Soutter. About two years ago Mr. Soutter purchased a house and several acres of land southwest of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, on a high elevation of ground and overlooking the Potomac River.

The house is so located that it affords a beautiful view of the picturesque hills and the broad span of water at the front. In the distance may be seen Indian Head, Md., where the Naval guns are tested, and a little below is Winthrop, Md., which is the location of the United States Marine Corps Rifle Range.

The rabbit farm is located on a side hill back of the residence and is enclosed by a five-foot wire fence, thus affording ample opportunity for the rabbits to run and to dig in the side of the hill. Mr. Soutter last year made extensive improvements to his residence.

SCHOOL TO USE CHURCH

The school board has made arrangements with the officials of the Methodist Episcopal Church to use that edifice as a school building for the remainder of the session.
