Concrete blocks are becoming very popular for building purposes and attractive and artistic structures are being built of them. Blocks of pleasing designs can be easily and cheaply made during the dull winter months with comparatively inexpensive outfits.

When concreting in cold weather avoid frozen materials. Use hot water and, if convenient, heat the sand and stone also. After placing in forms protect it for a few days by a layer of straw or similar material.

THE STATE HAS WAKED- UP AS TO GOOD ROADS

This is a COUNTY CALL to every citizen in the county who is interested in GOOD ROADS

Tuesday, Feb. 19th

At 10:30 a. m., there will be a Big Meeting at

THE COURT HOUSE

Come out and hear Mr. S. L. von Gameron, of the State Highway Department, who will tell us in detail as to the three classes of roads the state proposes and what Prince William county is to do towards carrying on this work. This is a Prince William county affair—something every citizen in the county is interested in, and your presence is needed. Virginia is the best state in the country, except roads. Come out and let's remedy this defect. Local speakers will address the meeting.

Lunch Served Free

His family will remain at Front Royal, where he has bought other property. Mr. Payne is a former proprietor of the New Prince William Hotel at Manassas.

—Physical examination of registered men will begin Monday morning at the Prince William county courthouse, continuing throughout Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the following Monday and Tuesday. About thirty men have been ordered to report each of these days, according to a list posted at the courthouse and postoffice. This will complete the examination of men already classified.

—The Monday closing order for fuel conservation, as applying to Virginia, has been revoked by Harry Flood Byrd, Federal Fuel Administrator for Virginia, according to advices received today by the local fuel administration. Fuel Administrator Byrd acted upon the recommendation of United States Fuel Administrator Garfield, "in view of improvement in weather and transportation conditions and results already obtained."

—Among the bills signed by Governor Davis Friday were House bill 39, an act to authorize the Board of Supervisors of Culpeper county to issue bonds for the building and completion of certain roads, and House bill 47, an act to authorize the Culpeper supervisors to establish and maintain toll gates on the macadamized roads in the several magisterial districts of the county, collect the toll and use it for purposes of maintenance.

—The Committee on Privileges and Elections, Virginia House of Delegates, after an executive session of two hours voted Friday to recommend that Delegate C. J. Meetze, of Prince William, be held the rightful holder of the seat contested by Mr. C. A. Sinclair. It is understood, says a Richmond newspaper, that a minority report will be filed objecting to the method employed in arriving at the decision, some of the delegates having objected to the secret vote.

—Miss Lucy Burnadette Webb, daughter of Judge and Mrs. James H. Webb, of New Haven, Conn., and Mr. Charles Stewart Bell, of Washington, D. C., were married Monday, February 4, in New Haven at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Rev. Father Downs officiating. Mrs. Bell is the

—George Gordon Battle, a Virginian famed as one of New York's leading lawyers, and Oswald G. Villard, owner and publisher of the New York Post, were here yesterday to ask the House Appropriation Committee to give aid to the Manassas Industrial School for the training of Colored Youth. Mr. Battle is a member of the New York Manassas Association, an organization formed to aid the school, with branches in several of the larger cities of the North and West. Both he and Mr. Villard emphasized the necessity for negro education, admonished the committee that Virginia's duty to itself and to the negro demanded that the state give all possible aid to those institutions whose efforts are bent toward negro uplift. The visitors left shortly after the meeting for Washington.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

HAVE YOU MADE A

New Year's Resolution?

If you haven't let me suggest one. You know, Mrs. Housekeeper, what trying times we all had during the past year. Necessities of life have been scarce, and prices high. In fact, government supervision has become imperative, and as the adage goes the merchant is "between the devil and the deep blue sea." Notwithstanding all this, I have been able to furnish my patrons the maximum quality at the minimum price. There was only one way that I could do this, namely: STICK TO ONE LINE—MEATS.

To make my line a success, I have put every ounce of energy into it and this, plus sanitary methods, plus quick deliveries and honest prices permits me to face the new year trusting in a continuance of your patronage. Therefore, make your more resolutions—BUY YOUR MEATS FROM

Saunders' Meat Market

A WORD TO THE WISE

We know that prices are high. But OUR PRICES are as low as we can make them while maintaining the standard of quality which you have the right to demand.

We are alert to the necessity of watching the market, that your needs may be met with prices that please and goods that satisfy.

Every article in our large and varied assortment of goods is backed by our guarantee of satisfaction.

MAKES DISCOVERY DIGGING DITCH

Owner of Land Made Rich—Man Digged Ditch of Tenacious Disease.

STORY A ROMANCE

People With Stomach, Kidney, Blood, Rheumatic or Skin Affections Relieved.

Acid Iron Mineral (non-alcoholic, natural iron) is taken from a great deposit found upon a poor farmer's place near Hickory, Mississippi and the story of this great gift of nature's, which made the farmer rich and the medical world richer, and makes it possible for people to quickly treat stomach, digestion, kidney, blood and rheumatic complaints at home, makes interesting reading.

An old man while digging a mill race on the Horn Farm, ran across it. He was afflicted with an old fever sore and blood troubles which were considered incurable. During the several weeks digging his feet and legs were wet each day as water gathered and he noticed that this water turned a reddish color caused by mixing of water with the vein of peculiar-looking mineral, almost like powder, which had apparently laid for centuries encased in a marble-like casing of rock and clay.

The sore on his leg began to heal and by the time his work was completed his leg was sound and well. This was considered so very remarkable by the people of that section that an investigation was made and it was found to be like radium, gold, platinum and other wondrous secrets of nature—a natural compound containing inimitable properties in proportions no chemist has attempted to duplicate though a large sum was offered he who could accomplish this.

Today, like radium, which is used in curing cancers, x-ray work, and illuminating watch dials, so Acid Iron Mineral has its many uses, being a remarkable remedy used externally or internally and anyone troubled with blood diseases, eruptions, rheumatism, kidney, bladder or stomach disorders of any sort may wisely visit the nearest store and procure a bottle. A twelve ounce bottle sent prepaid on receipt of $1 by the Ferrodine Chemical Corporation, Roanoke, Va., or send stamped envelope with letter telling what your trouble is for folder telling more about this great iron preparation, Acid Iron Mineral. Sold in Manassas by W. Fred Dowell and by good druggists everywhere. Adv.

Mrs. E. H. Blackley, of Frederickburg, has received a letter from Lieut. Clarence L. Merryman, her brother-in-law, who is with the American forces in France. Lieut. Merryman wrote on the back of the wrapper from a can of Hazel Hill tomatoes, saying that Virginia tomatoes as well as Virginia soldiers are plentiful in France.

Kenneth N. Gilpin, delegate from Clarke and Warren counties, is the first member of the Virginia assembly to join the colors. He has enlisted in the aviation section and will report for duty at the end of the session. He is one of the youngest members of the House of Delegates and is serving his second term.

As a measure of retaliation and rebuke for the sinking of the Tuscania, a Rhode Island school committee has voted unanimously to paste together the pages of the school songbooks containing the German national air, "The March of the Silesians."

THE SCOURGE OF EUROPE

The Kaiser, scourge of Europe, prides Of peace, while battles roar, A vulture with his talons dipped In human flesh and gore. With leoprous tongue he claims the God of Peace and righteousness. His aid is murder, lust and greed And works of "frightfulness."

Life's blasphemous Selencid, who Jehovah's law reviled, His holy temple, sacred shrines, With flesh of swine defiled. He dons the livery of heaven To wage his wars of hate. His herds with rapines, shot and shell, God's temple desecrate.

He takes the holy name of God Upon his wicked lips And boasts his guidance while his sword With blood of children drips. He lifts his gory hand in praise Of deeds so frightful, vile, That Satan with his hosts in hell Would not his realm defile.

Atlantic's waves beat on our shores A requiem for our dead, Slain by those vultures of the sea By wicked kaiser sped. Their slimy forms and glassy eyes Though mute, still yet they speak, And plead that we their deaths avenge.

America! America! Speed up your men and guns, And never let your sacred soil Be cursed by fiendish Huns. Work night and day, nor pause, nor rest Till victory is won, And all the world made safe and free From lustful, savage Huns. —MARGARET H. BOWEN, February 6, 1918.

OLD SAWS IN RHYME

Actions speak louder than words ever do; You can't eat your cake and hold on to it too.

When the cat is away, then the mice play; Where there is a will there is always a way.

There's no use crying with milk that is split; No scinner is needed by conscience of guilt.

There must be some fire wherever there is smoke; The pitcher goes off to the wall till it's broke.

By reason falling out honest men get their due; Whoever it fits, he must get on the shoe.

All work and no play will make Jack a dull boy; There is no such pleasure without its alloy.

A half loaf is better than no bread at all; And pride always goes before a and fall.

Fast hind and fast find, have two strings to your bow; Contentment is better than riches, we know.

The devil finds work for hands idle to do; A mile is as good as a mile is to you.

A man by his company always is known; Who lives in a glass house should not throw a stone.

Speech may be silver, but silence is gold; There's never a fool like the fool who is old.

MURDER IN CULPEPER

O. F. Clarke, a prominent merchant at Mitchell's Station, Culpeper county, was murdered at his place of business Thursday night, February 7, by unknown persons who afterward robbed the store. He was shot while filling a sack of meal, the ball penetrating his head just back of the ear and passing through the brain, killing him instantly. When he did not reach home at the usual hour, his wife went to the store to see what was detaining him, and found his dead body lying at the door.

A detective is working on the case, and two suspects have been jailed.

LIVING SOILS IN WINTER

Experiment with Winter Work Urge Farmers to Buy Lime Now for Winter Use on the Land and for Home Storage.

IT IS ESSENTIAL TO FERTILITY.

The Present Emergency Demanding of the Farmer a Great Effort Requires the Adoption of New Practices and Methods to Conserve Labor, Produce Crops and at the Same Time Maintain Fertility.

There is no one who has not been affected in some way by the war. The city inhabitant has felt the shortage of sugar and fuel. The farmer is surrounded by unusual conditions. He is asked to produce greater yields under a diminishing labor supply. Russia and the United States are the only nations now at war that produce more foods than their own people require members, but for such crops as beets and potatoes, which usually should be planted on the crops preceding those mentioned. We are advising farmers to secure the lime at the earliest date possible on account of the difficulty in transportation and labor.

Dr. H. J. Patterson, director of the United States Department of Agriculture, says:
 "We have gotten very good results by applying lime during the winter as a top dressing on wheat and fall seeded grasses. We do not advise this as being the best method of applying lime, but lime applied in this way has proven beneficial both to the grain and grass which follows the wheat."

Dr. Jacob G. Lippman, soil chemist, Dean and director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, says:
 "The wisdom of purchasing and spreading lime in the fall and winter are entirely proper. At this particular time, when farm labor is scarce and soot as to supply, the conservation of the efforts of the farmer should be urged in every possible way. Indeed, it has been our practice for some time past to advise farmers to New Jersey not to leave certain of the farm work that may be done in the winter until early spring."

Dr. Elmer D. Fipplin, professor of soils, Cornell University and College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., says: "In the matter of the ordering and use of lime in the winter we for home consumption, and of these two kinds only hardly be expected to contribute much. The eyes of the world are focused upon the American farmer, just as the eyes of the world are focused upon the Russian farmer, secretary of agriculture, as forcibly stated when he said recently:

 "There must be no breakdown on the farm—no failure of food, feedstuffs and clothing. The duty is pressing of furnishing abundant supplies for our own people and in large measure for the peoples with whom we are associating."

The Farm Labor Problem Solver.
 There has always existed a farm problem—that of evenly distributing labor throughout the year, both of man and team—which today is greatly enhanced by the severe and universal shortage of labor. It is not customary for the farmer to work as hard in winter as in summer, nor is it possible, because the days are shorter, and again it is not altogether natural—it is his rest period, such as he is able to have—yet in the present emergency all are required to exert their greatest efforts to avoid defeat and suffering.

Lime is essential to crop production, and fortunately it may be done in winter, though it is not a customary practice nor always advisable. But under the circumstances it is one have emphasized the importance of farmers ordering their lime in the winter because of difficulties of getting cars in the spring; also they then have more time for such work. We also recommend in our records work the practice of applying lime in the winter any time when the ground is essentially bare of snow. While we prefer that it be applied to land that is to be plowed or to be given cultivation before the crop is planted, we do not object to a man spreading it to a crop already established, but with the understanding that his immediate benefits are not likely to be as large as where the lime can be more thoroughly incorporated with the soil.

Concentrated Hydrated Lime Saves Labor.

Considering these statements of the leading agriculturists, in view of the fact that a high percentage (approximately 95 per cent) of the soils east of the Mississippi river are sour and badly in need of lime and that the shortage of labor and transportation facilities is severe, the farmer should not hesitate to secure a liberal supply of lime now for immediate application and home storage. As an official of the U. S. department of agriculture recently expressed it: "The farmer should buy the most concentrated way to utilize labor efficiently during the winter and at the same time bring about better soil conditions and greater yields, so badly needed.

Agriculturists and experiment station workers everywhere have been prompted by difficulties arising out of war conditions to give thorough consideration to this question. The results of a number are given herewith.

Advice of Experiment Station Workers Fred T. C. Johnson, director of the Virginia Tech. Experiment Station, Norfolk, Va., says:

"We think it a very good practice for the farmer to purchase lime during the fall and winter for immediate application or for application prior to planting crops in the early spring. In the trucking section it is customary to secure lime during the winter months and apply it on such crops as cabbage, lettuce, tomatoes, cantaloupes and on-
