UNION OF LUTHERANS

Important Meeting This Week in New York City.

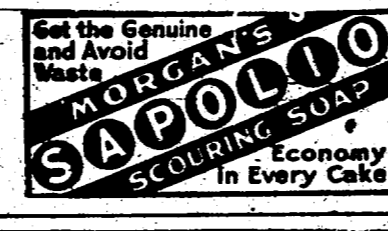

The following information is supplied by the Lutheran Bureau:
A prominent American divine has called the merging of the three English speaking bodies of the Lutheran Church "the swiftest unification movement on a large scale in the history of the Christian church."
The laymen were leaders in this long desired union. It is claimed that much credit for the great movement is due an Ohio lawyer, a Philadelphia banker, and a Lancaster merchant.
The merger of the three older bodies of the American Lutheran Church will bring together, under one direction, colleges and seminaries valued at five and a quarter million of dollars, with endowments running well above three millions. There are sixteen colleges and eleven seminaries. The oldest of these goes back to the days of George Washington, while the youngest has been established since President Wilson entered the White House.
The greater number of these institutions are in the East, two are in Canada, five are south of the Mason and Dixon line, and one at Seattle, Washington.
Most of these institutions have enlisted in the military establishment of the nation, and are the homes of Students' Army Training Corps. The largest of them, that at Gettysburg, which was under fire in the decisive Civil war battle is one of these camps. The buildings of both the seminary and college at Gettysburg were used as observatories, and later as hospitals, and they still bear the marks of battle.
A prominent educator states that the first effect of the merger of the three older bodies will be the application of Marshal Foch's "strategy of alliance." This will tend to strengthen the educational force of the Lutheran Church. Such a tendency is in accord with the educational history of the church. This was adhered to by the pioneers. Lutheran colleges and seminaries were first housed in log huts and classes were taught to the accompaniment of the hunter's rifle and the settler's axe. National Commissioner of Education, Dr. P. P. Claxton, said that the ideals of education held and carried out by Lutherans for many years are still the goal to be held in mind.
Care of the needy and afflicted will be a keynote in the merger convention. The Lutheran Church has always been active in charitable enterprises.
The Lutheran Church in America has charitable institutions of different kinds representing a money value of $12,600,000, demanding an annual upkeep of over a million; $25,000 persons "are taken care of each year."
There are sixty-six Orphans' Homes. One home takes care of more than four hundred children. There are forty-six homes for old people situated in every part of the country. These homes have sixteen hundred inmates. Seven homes are maintained for defectives; fifty-one hospitals are situated in important Lutheran centers providing for the sick.
There are thirteen organizations which have for their object the finding of homes for children. One hundred thousand dollars represents their property value, with an annual upkeep of $50,000. There are thirteen inner mission and mission societies, with an annual expenditure of $50,000. These societies work among the poor and in the slums of the American cities. The object of this charitable work is not simply to supply the physical wants of men, but to remake them.

This work will receive a wonderful impetus when the different bodies of the Lutheran Church combine.
The movement is to gather in 3,000,000 unchurched Lutherans. In forty-two states and in all the Canadian provinces are to be found Lutheran congregations. Lutheran people are found in the other six states where work will be begun at once. It is estimated that there are 8,000,000 baptized Lutherans in the United States. Five million of these are to be found gathered in churches. This gives the Home Mission Board the task of gathering in 3,000,000 members. Many of these are in the Western states. In Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota there are more people of the Lutheran faith than other protestants taken together. In these sections the Lutheran Church is composed of descendants of European stock. It has been patriotic to a high degree in making American citizens of these immigrants.
The Home Mission work is one of the chief reasons for this merger. It will be possible to handle the vast amount of work more cheaply and more efficiently. A shortage of trained men makes the merger necessary. Thousands are needed as chaplains, and the rapid growth of American cities demands more missionaries.
The merger prepares the church to back the nation when the boys come home. The returning soldiers will present for it an enormous task.
The Lutheran merger is to help conquer the world for Christ. After the war for democracy has been won, the war to Christianize the world must be won. Otherwise all other victories will amount to little.
The Lutheran Church is missionary. Lutheran Missionaries are found in all parts of the world. Greenland is exclusively a Lutheran field. Work is done in India where there are 82,000 converts. Africa is not forgotten. Japan and South America are other fields. Many schools and colleges have been established in these lands.
A budget of $300,000 per year is being provided to carry out the plans which have been made. And this is only a beginning of what will be undertaken when the whole united church works together, as one united force.

WHISTLING REDUCED
Railroad Engines Ordered to Check Noise to Minimum.
Everybody should want to make all forms of public service perfect, especially the employees, who need to have their attention called to defects, that they may be remedied.
Recently the attention of the United States Railroad Administration was called to the fierce whistling of engines passing through town, and even when signalling the flagman, who is generally near the rear coach, before starting after a stop.
Some of our citizens have been greatly disturbed by this senseless screeching, especially at nights, when sleepers have been aroused, even led to spring out of bed to the floor, thinking that a catastrophe had occurred. Assurance has been received that whistling hereafter will be confined "to the minimum." If you have any trouble that needs correcting, write in your complaint.
A representative of the United States Railroad Administration, replying to one of our citizens, expresses great "appreciation of me at any time, when you have something in mind for the good of the service."

TO THE TEACHERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY

Resolution of the Virginia State Teachers' Association Adopted December 1, 1916.
(Miss Lulu D. Metz, President of the Eighth District Virginia State Teachers' Association)
"Resolved, That whereas the facilities of the State Institution for tubercular patients at Catawba are inadequate and whereas it is now practically impossible to provide prompt and sufficient treatment for the large number of applicants to that institution; be it Resolved, That a committee be appointed from this Association with power to act to procure funds for the erection of a pavilion at the Catawba Sanatorium similar to the Nurses' Cottage for the especial purpose of affording proper treatment for those members of our profession who have fallen victims to this disease."
The above resolution is published for the benefit of those teachers who may not be familiar with this work of the county organization.
The teachers of Prince William county last session responded to the appeal for this work by a contribution of $160 but the Eighth District of which Prince William is a unit, has not yet raised a fair quota of the amount needed.
The teachers of the state must raise $15,000 in order to secure the $10,000 appropriated by the state for the erection of this pavilion. This sum must be raised by January 1, 1919.
If every teacher in the state will contribute or raise $2.50, the amount will be secured. There are in Virginia, 35,000 cases of tuberculosis and statistics have shown that there are twenty or more teachers at Catawba every year, and a heavy percentage that die of the disease. The teachers must provide for the unfortunate ones of their profession.
Let them not fail in this so vital a cause. It may mean life itself to some fellow worker who has fallen victim to the disease.

RECONSTRUCTION

We hope the war is over. While the duration of the armistice is but thirty days, the German Empire will be without means to resume serious hostilities, should it be unwilling to accept the peace terms imposed on her by the allied forces. But our largest task is yet unaccomplished. The cleaning up is an even more serious task than the war. Reconstruction days call for a higher degree of patriotism, a more infinite patience, a greater willingness to work than do the darkest days of war. Without the blare of trumpets, uninspired by the resounding tramp of marching armies, or the shock of battle, unenthused by the roar of artillery, or by the contagion of myriad throated huzzas, we must again float our Liberty Loans, support our Red Cross and kindred enterprises, and do all those things as necessary to a successful peace as to a successful war. The great mass of the American people, are thinking one of three things: (1) How to adequately punish Germany for her crimes? But a spirit of revenge and vindictiveness alone degrades us. The thoughts of punishment can well be left to those who alone have the power to inflict it. (2) How we can get something for ourselves out of the situation? That is, how we can profit as a nation or as individuals. This, too, is unworthy of our high protestations. (3) How the world can be made better as a result of the most stupendous military struggle in all history. This last, alone, is a worthy aim; but it will require the highest degree of effort and patriotism in its truest sense to keep ourselves constantly to this pitch.

AMERICA PLANS FOR AFTER-WAR ISSUES
America on Tuesday turned toward the ways of peace. With the military strength of the central powers shattered and hostilities ceased under arms of surrender that preclude a renewal of the great struggle, the United States, with the associated governments, took up the problems of reconstruction. Immediately ahead, however, diplomatic Washington saw the peace conference—the world's court of justice before which Germany, as the chief criminal, with Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria, will stand as prisoners at the bar. When and where the final peace negotiations will be held officials would not conjecture. Thirty days is the time allowed under the armistice terms for assembling of the peace congress. The armistice, however, includes a provision for its extension. The great interests involved, the many governments and nationalities concerned and the difficulties to be met in convening such a conference in a short time may cause an extension of the thirty-day limit.

It was regarded as likely that the peace conference will be similar to the meeting at Versailles, where the armistice terms were formulated. The victors, meeting separately, probably will decide upon terms and then the defeated be permitted to enter pleas for modification. The military look to the breaking up and return to civilian life of the great army mobilized in the past nineteen months. Further increase of the military forces was checked through cancellation of all outstanding draft calls. The return home of the nearly two and a quarter million men overseas and the mustering out of the million and a half troops in camps in this country will not come immediately. The United States, entering the war last, probably will be called upon to do much of the police and guard duty in France and Belgium. Further events in Russia are uncertain, and the small force there may have to be augmented. Transport facilities are more or less limited. Embarkation of additional units will not stop immediately, Secretary Baker has said, although the troops to be sent overseas largely will be medical and similar units. For the Navy also great tasks lie ahead. The sea must be swept clear of mines. Occupation of the German naval base of Helgoland may be necessary as a result of the revolution in the German grand fleet. Until peace finally is concluded there will be patrol work to do. The newly constructed and rapidly increasing merchant marine must not only bring the men home from France, but carry to France and Belgium, devastated by the war, to lands of southern Europe, long unproductive through lack of man-power, and even to the enemy nations, clothing and the means of keeping alive the war-weakened population. Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Hurley of the shipping board soon will leave to survey the situation. The American people from their plenty will be called upon to feed Europe. Money will be needed to bring troops home from France and allow completion of the necessary projects under way. Another loan probably will have to be floated. The great revenue bill, placing upon the American people taxes amounting to more than $6,000,000,000, must be passed by Congress. Industrially, the change from war to peace will create as many problems as the change from peace to war. War-contract plants must be converted to make the commodities of peace. Workers engaged in such plants must be assimilated in peace production. Wage standards, changed by the war, must be readjusted. The position of women in industry must be determined. The War Industries Board, the War Labor Board and other governmental agencies must be continued or substitutes be created, in the opinion of officials, for the solution of these problems. The returned soldier must have work and at home. This is a reconstruction question that Congress will be called upon to consider. Other new legislation making possible the return to a peacetime basis will come before Congress. Government control of the railroads, while insured for twenty-one months longer, must be decided as to permanency or abandonment, as well as the control of the telegraph and telephone systems. Supervision of food and fuel distribution and the fixing of prices for necessary commodities are other problems of reconstruction. With the war behind and peace ahead, government officials in nowise discount the tasks of the future. The great problems of war must be supplanted by the important questions of peace and reconstruction. Star.

BOYCOTT ON GERMAN GOODS
Twenty million signatures to a pledge "Never-to-buy-any-article-made-in-Germany" is the goal set by the Executive Committee of the American Defense Society. The pledge suggested for all Americans reads as follows: "That I may not directly contribute financial aid to the German military policy with its disregard of international law, its attacks on unfortified towns, its massacres of the innocent and the helpless, its enslavement of peoples, its use of poison gas and flames, its ignoring the Red Cross Badge, its bombing hospitals, and its torpedoing defenseless merchant ships, I pledge myself never to buy any article made in Germany." North America and South America are the present limits for this campaign of the American Defense Society, whose Honorary President is Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, and among whose Honorary Vice-Presidents may be named: Hon. David J. Hill, Hon. Robert Bacon, Hon. Perry Belmont, Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, Dr. John Grier Hibben, Henry B. Joy, and Hon. Charles S. Fairchild. In a statement outlining the necessity for this step in self-defense against the enemy, Charles Stewart Davison, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Society, says: "In the last analysis the real ground for this campaign is self-defense. Whenever a German article is bought by an American a certain percentage of its cost goes as a tax into the Prussian war chest, there to be used for manufacturing cannon and shells which are used to kill Americans and the whole cost of the article is taken out of American workmen's pockets. The most effective method of weakening the power of the Germans is not to do business with them." In Great Britain the campaign is being conducted by The British Empire Union; in France by the Souvenez-Vous Society; in North America and South America by the American Defense Society. In this Never-Buy-Anything-German Campaign, the work of securing signatures will be undertaken by the two hundred and seventy-six branch organizations of the American Defense Society, as well as by various other national patriotic and civic associations. All individual citizens, as also all trade, commercial and patriotic organizations interested in aiding in this work are requested to send their names and addresses to the National Headquarters of the American Defense Society, 44-East 23rd St., New York City.

—Mr. J. Boughton, of Buckhall, was taken ill rather suddenly, about noon on Wednesday, and was obliged to send for a physician. We trust that he will not have the influenza or any disease in a serious form.

—Mrs. W. I. Steere, whose many operations do not seem to afford permanent relief, spent one day of this week at the Garfield Hospital, in Washington, undergoing another operation. She has returned home and is now convalescing.

—The Y. M. C. A. committee for the United War Work campaign in Coles district is composed of Mrs. C. E. Clarke, of Minnieville, chairman, and Mrs. Mayme Reid, Dumfries; Miss Annie Tacey, Neabaco, and Miss Elsie Windsor, Minnieville.

—The school board has closed the first and second grades, of the primary department, the two grades being in one room. The cause is the development of diphtheria in the room. It is probable that the fifth grade will be closed for the same reason.

—Rev. H. Q. Burr had arranged to assist Rev. G. W. Gaither, pastor of the Remington M. E. Church, South, in evangelistic meetings beginning last Monday. The prevalence of the influenza cancelled these services. Mr. Burr preached at Buckhall on Sunday afternoon and then announced meetings for the coming week, beginning on Monday night. These meetings are, accordingly, now in progress.

—A number of the articles, in the melting pot at the Democrat office, will be sold to the highest bidder at the annual meeting of the Manassas Chapter of the American Red Cross, to be held at Conner's Hall, Wednesday, November 20th, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

—Notice has been received that Raymond Rector, twenty-six years old, was killed in action in France on October 5th. Young Rector was the son of Mr. J. W. Rector, of Richmond, chief dispatcher of the Southern Railway, and the nephew of Messrs. Walter and Robert Rector, of Manassas.

—Mr. Sedwick Hynson has prepared to install a water and sewerage system at his home. He recently purchased the large supplies, such as bath tub, in Baltimore. On Tuesday he went to Washington to get the smaller piping and other necessities. He will do the work largely himself, as he is a mechanic along many lines.

—Mrs. John H. Detwiler, together with her daughter, Margaret, and son, William Edward, all of Clifton, came to town, on Tuesday, on train No. 17, to do some shopping, but found the stores closed. Mrs. Detwiler plans to come on an earlier train hereafter. She and the children called on Miss Kelley at the manse.

—Major J. Ogden Murray, of Charles Town, W. Va., is visiting Rev. Westwood Hutchison. The Major and Captain Benj. Merchant were of the "Immortal 600." The Major has written three books, "The Immortal 600," "Three Stories in One" and one yet to be published, "Album of the Confederacy." The latter will be a brief history of the leaders of the late confederacy.

—The "flu" made havoc among the force in the postoffice, but none had such a serious illness as Raymond J. Davis, who suffered from double pneumonia. He left home for the first time on Monday. On Wednesday he called at our office. At first we did not recognize the mustached youth, as whiskers and weakness make him look older. For our efficient young postoffice clerk we wish many years of health.

—We still have some of the seed from the large sunflower left some time ago by Mr. T. C. Anderson, of Bristow. There were 1,436 seeds in it and the flower itself was 45 inches in circumference. If there is any virtue in size—and who will say that there is not—the seeds from this giant flower should be especially valuable. The seeds will be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross, at 5 cents per dozen.

—Mr. A. S. White, one of the camp secretaries at Camp Stuart, Newport News, Va., will speak in the Baptist Church this evening, at 8 o'clock, in the interest of the United War Work campaign. Mr. White is an interesting speaker and all who can do so should hear him. Mr. White will speak at Haymarket on Saturday evening, at Nokesville on Sunday morning and at Greenwich on Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. T. M. Russell, of Cenova, has brought in, for our preliminary fair in The Journal window, two purple-top Globe turnips. The seed was planted about August 15, in ordinary soil, after plowing up the wheat stubble, and giving it a top dressing of manure. The soil must have been good or else it was made prolific by treatment, as the turnips weigh 2½ and 3¼ pounds, or 6 pounds in all. Mr. Russell has given us only two specimens of his skill, but he brought up a whole bushel for his pastor, Rev. Barnett Grimes. We would like to be a Baptist preacher—if the Baptist people show such substantial loyalty to and interest in all their spiritual leaders.

—Captain F. A. Hutchison, who has been stationed at Camp Lee, has been transferred to Camp Cody, New Mexico. On his way to his new location he stopped over to visit his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Westwood Hutchison.

—Sergeant A. G. Bennett, of Camp Meade, Md., and James M. Bennett, of Alexandria, spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bennett, at Buckhall. Other guests at the same time were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore and sons Willis and Richard, together with the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Miss Mary Bennett, and Mr. James White. The six persons last mentioned motored from their home, Mt. Rainier, Md., on Sunday.

—In the United War Work campaign, of the seven relief organizations, which is being conducted this week, the Young Women's Christian Association is asking half a dollar of every woman for the women behind the boys. If the war should end at once, this support will be perhaps more necessary than it is today, for work during the long and restless period between the closing days of the war and the time that the soldiers go back to their home again.

—Lieut. Edward G. Hinman, brother of the wife of Prof. O. W. Mosher, was recently wounded in action in France. Lieut. Knutte, who was at Camp Meade with Lieut. Hinman, spent some time here during the summer, together with Lieut. Hinman, as the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Mosher. They went to France in August. Word has been received that Lieut. Knutte was killed. Lieut. Hinman speaks highly of the Y. M. C. A. abroad, saying that the soldiers would not have even paper, on which to write home, were it not for the Red Triangle—Y. M. C. A.—people.

—Mr. George E. Maddox came to Manassas from Minnieville about twenty-five years ago and engaged in blacksmithing. About thirteen years ago he entered the grocery business. Five years later he admitted into partnership with him his son-in-law, Mr. R. L. Byrd. Last spring the firm dissolved partnership and closed the business. Mr. Maddox moved his furniture on Monday to Takoma Park, Md., where he will have his future home. He has not yet decided what line of business he will enter, but his many friends in town and throughout the county will wish for him much happiness and success in his new location.

HOME SERVICE

The Link Between Our Fighters and Their Families.

A hastily summoned audience gathered at the Home Service Room, Reid Building, last Thursday night to hear Mrs. Langhorn of Lynchburg, describe in detail this most important branch of Red Cross work, a work which even if demobilization occurred today, would be as necessary as in the midst of war.

Home Service is the link between the soldier and the sailor and his home, adjusting financial matters, advising in problems brought about by illness or misunderstanding concerning allotments, and in countless other ways sustaining the morale of our men in service by assuring them of the well-being of their families back home.

Unlike the departments of surgical dressings, sewing, the canteen and other activities of the Red Cross, which will cease with the return of peace, the Home Service will be just beginning--as numberless problems will arise when the men come back: the unemployed, the disabled, the restless who will find it hard to resume old routine, and the countless homes left widowed and fatherless, many of whose members, through total lack of education and experience will be unfitted to take up the burdens of life.

Mrs. Langhorn outlined the plan proposed for every county in every state, namely, a trained worker who will devote her entire time to the splendid work, which will include visits to the chapters not yet vitally interested in Home Service, a condition largely due to a lack of knowledge of the necessary and invaluable aid rendered by it.

Institutes, of six weeks' duration are held at different points for the training of these workers, and at the suggestion of Mrs. Langhorn a committee of three was appointed to secure if possible some one from Manassas to take this course at Richmond, beginning Nov. 11th. The committee is Mrs. Rice, Rev. Mr. Gibson and Mayor Wagener.

Two instances of the hundreds that show what Home Service does will convince our readers of the necessity for its existence:

A young soldier, married, wrote to the United States that things at his home were in a very bad way: his wife was ill, she had no one to help or counsel her, that he was worried sick about her, and that he would do something desperate if things went on. Immediately a tactful visitor was sent to the home, the situation sized up, steps taken to relieve conditions and word sent to the soldier, whose mind was instantly relieved and fitness for his duties restored.

Another was the case of a soldier who also wrote despairingly of affairs at his home. The Home Service visitor found the wife and four children living in the country in a house absolutely without any conveniences, the oldest child, a boy of fifteen, working in a mill from 7 a. m. until 5:30 p. m., the mill in a little town a mile away; a girl of eleven who took care, while her mother was away working, of two children aged seven and five, the latter a helpless cripple as a result of infantile paralysis. The woman had not known of the government allotment for soldiers' children and was trying to pay rent, clothe and feed her family on her $30 a month and the pittance she and her boy earned.

The family was brought into town, the children's allotment secured, the boy and girl put in school and expert medical advice secured for the little cripple, the physician declaring that one leg would be entirely restored and the other partly so, a brace only being necessary on it to enable the child to walk.

UNITED WAR WORK

Appeal From County Agent for Subscriptions from All

(By R. G. Koener, County Agent)
Of course everybody in Prince William county, no matter whether he be loyal patriot or pro-German slacker, was greatly rejoiced when the news came last Monday that the armies on the field of battle in Europe had ceased shooting each other to death. And the armistice, to which both sides agreed, is so arranged that it will be impossible for the enemy to make any further effective resistance; and so now our brave soldier boys are three thousand miles away from home, in a foreign land, with more time on their hands than anything else. As the weary waiting weeks while themselves away what can we do to break the grinding monotony of the daily routine of strict military discipline? Some one says they will be granted frequent leaves of absence. Where will they spend it? Wandering around in the strange cities, villages and fields of war-worn France? Ah, no. The good American people have not left these boys to any such fate, as that. We all know how the great American Red Cross ministers to them when they are sick or wounded. But now that their job of hunting the Kaiser is over they will need something to amuse, instruct and entertain them during their long enforced idleness. And that something is being provided by a group of seven organizations, the largest of which is the great Y. M. C. A.

There have been several campaigns, since the war began, to secure funds for the support of these splendid organizations that take the refining influences of all that is here in American homes right along with the boys wherever they go--even into No Man's Land. Right now, this week, we are in the midst of a drive to provide money to be spent by these reliable and trustworthy agencies in maintaining the morale of our boys during the trying days of reconstruction. The American nation is asked for a free will offering of about $200,000,000 with which to provide the steady influences of home and religious life to its army of 4,000,000 men in camp. Two dollars per capita of the population will provide one dollar per week for each soldier one year. Prince William county has not been asked for more than one dollar per capita. Surely the folks back home in this old county will gladly contribute an average of a dollar per capita to provide some of the influences of home for their soldier boys. Send your check to G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Treasurer of the United War Work Campaign, Manassas, Va. If you wish further information ask any postmaster or the county chairman, C. A. Sinclair, at Manassas. The real character of the people in Prince William will be revealed in this drive. No appeal to county pride or any other kind of pride is necessary. The cause speaks for itself. What does your conscience say?

KANN'S—FOURTH FLOOR

LETTER TO TEACHERS

District Conferences Instead of Teachers' Institute.

Owing to so much time being lost by the schools on account of the epidemic, the annual county teachers' institute will not be held this year. We are quite sorry for this, but feel that another interruption would not be wise. For the same reason the state education conference usually held in Richmond during Thanksgiving week is postponed until a later date, "if held at all this year."

Instead of the regular county institute, we shall plan district conferences, to be held on Saturdays. This will enable the state teachers' association to complete its organization; also the Catawba work now in hand and many other things of interest to be considered and adjusted. The first of such conferences will be held at Nokesville on Saturday, November 16th, at 9:30 a. m.

It was previously arranged by the county demonstration agents to hold the girls' and boys' agricultural club exhibit during the sessions of the institute on Friday, Nov. 15th. This exhibit will still be held on above date and all pupils taking part therein are hereby excused from attending school that day and teachers are authorized to credit all such pupils as "present," since this is part of their educational work, and due credit should be given.

The Institute Bulletin will be published as usual and will contain the programs as far as may be known at time of publication. There is so much work to be crowded into a shorter term that we trust all teachers will now enter into intensive work and make up as much as possible the time lost.

Very cordially,
CHAS. R. McDONALD,
Division Superintendent.

tract with talent was the same as that with guarantors, which provides against "events beyond human control." The guarantors of the festivals of this Association, the president said, had experienced sorrow and expense because of sickness and death, due to influenza, and they should be under no additional financial burden. All his Association asked was a date in the future that would be mutually agreeable to all persons concerned.

The Manassas Chautauqua guarantors, after a full consideration of all the correspondence between the Chautauqua Association, of Swarthmore, Pa., and Rev. H. Q. Burr, secretary for the local guarantors, and a careful study of the situation, resolved to cancel the contract for 1918-19 for the following reasons:

1. At the conference with Mr. Cook, the Chautauqua agent, in December, 1917, it was distinctly understood that October was the only month in the year that would be suitable for a Lyceum Festival in Manassas.

2. The epidemic of influenza made it impossible to have the Festival in the only month available—October.

3. The epidemic is still raging and the guarantors have no assurance that even in February, when the Chautauqua Association wishes to have the festival, it would be possible, from the health standpoint, to conduct it.

4. Bad roads and cold weather would make it difficult, if not impossible for former guarantors and patrons to attend the entertainments.

5. Our people have been in sorrow and under expense from sickness and death, as well as war work, and they are disinclined to enter into another contract at this time.

HAYMARKET

The funeral of Mr. John Ruth says the loveliest sight, and heart thrill, was when all the soldier boys of Camp Humphreys marched out on Thursday of last week for their sham battle on the Accotink Hills. She also says if she was a German she would run back across the Rhine, in great speed, if she saw all those khaki boys coming.

The annual meeting for the election of officers for the Haymarket Branch of the American Red Cross will be held on Saturday, November 16, at 7:30 p. m., at the parish hall, Haymarket.

Three cheers for Uncle Sam's boys, both sailors and soldiers. We wish them God speed home when victory is won. Girls, do your "bit," don't let the boys do it all.

The flu has disappeared, and the schools have reopened. We wish them good success.

With head upon his arm, As if to say, "I'm much afraid, Protect me now from harm." For "Me und Gott" could not prevail With methods wrong, unkind, But Christian love can never fail To succeed at mankind.

What the United War Work Campaign Is!

Read Every Word of This!

There are seven wonderful American organizations devoting their entire time, money and efforts to caring for our soldiers and sailors under arms and to the women who are engaged in any sort of war work here or over there.

These Organizations—

Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council, K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army have been acting separately, raising the money to carry on their own essential work, but at the request of President Wilson, have now combined in one great drive to secure the necessary funds to further all their purposes during the war.

America's Women—

The gentle hand and the loving heart of the American woman is materially evidenced in the Hostess Houses around our camps here, as well as her pure, wholesome influence and care for her patriotic sister who has taken a fighting man's place in our industrial and war activities here and over yonder.

The United War Work Campaign

is the effort to raise $170,500,000 in America, of which Virginia's part is $1,500,000, between November 11th and 18th.

This money, when collected, will be divided between the seven organizations in the following proportion:

Y. M. C. A.	58.65 per cent, of $100,000,000
Catholic War Council—K. of C.	17.60 per cent, or 20,000,000
War Work Council of Y. W. C. A.	8.80 per cent, or 10,000,000
War Camp Community Service	8.80 per cent, or 10,000,000
Jewish Welfare Board	2.05 per cent, or 2,500,000
American Library Association	2.05 per cent, or 2,500,000
Salvation Army	2.05 per cent, or 2,500,000

The Other Enemy—

There is another menacing enemy on the battle front besides the horrible, low-principled Hun—that is the soul-destroying power of evil influences, which can break a soldier quicker than Uncle Sam can make him. These seven organizations are waging a war of greater import and permanent value to us here—that is, the moulding of character and morale of our young men in war, which not only keeps them in good fighting trim, but gives them a clean, healthy mind and body.

What the Money Does—

This money will be expended by these organizations to maintain huts, which are open to every allied soldier, regardless of his faith, race or color—these huts are the battlefield homes of the boys in France and the camp homes for the lads over here. In these huts the tireless workers of the seven organizations give encouragement to the fight-weary boys, drive the blues away, keep the spirits up, supply writing paper to the extent of 125,000,000 sheets a month, and envelopes, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, chocolate, cocoa, beds and baths, give information, counsel, entertainments, books—2,000,000 volumes and 5,000,000 periodicals have been sent over, as well as enough scripture and booklets to make a pile twenty miles high if stacked together.

When Peace Is Declared—

Do not let the present victories and peace rumors mislead you. When peace is declared there will be more need for the work of these organizations and this money—support the morale of our men—the demand for it will be more acute than ever—our men must enter the war home clean, strong and healthy.
