the work of its various departments during war time. The evening entertainments are held in the attractive auditorium of the building which houses the department. The singing of the students at the Industrial School is becoming favorably known wherever they are heard.

Word has reached the Industrial School that a number of its friends from Virginia attended the Southern Sociological Congress held at Knoxville, Tennessee, in the interests of social service throughout the South. The need which exists in Northern Virginia for the Industrial School was commented upon by several persons acquainted with the educational field.

Miss Bessie W. Stillman of the Ethical Culture School in New York will be a guest at the Industrial School for the week preceding commencement. Miss Stillman is spending her Sabbath year studying Negro schools in the south and her visit to Manassas terminates an extensive trip through the south in the interests of this subject. The school which she represents has contributed to the Industrial School for a number of years. Miss Stillman's own class presented the school farm with a registered pig a year ago.

COAL, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS

Your Next Winter's Coal

We do not know what the price of coal will be next Fall and Winter, as the retail price is governed by the price at the mines and the freight.

Our understanding of the present program is that Anthracite coal will advance ten cents a ton a month from May 1st to September 1st, and although we think this program will probably be carried out yet we are not sure of this.

We do know that THE MINES CANNOT PRODUCE, THE RAILROADS CANNOT HAUL AND THE DEALERS CANNOT HANDLE nearly enough coal during the Fall and Winter months to take care of an ordinary Winter's demand.

This means that coal will have to be mined, transported and delivered during the Spring and Summer to avoid a serious shortage next Fall and Winter.

We advise our customers to take these facts into consideration and order a reasonable supply of coal now.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS OF SERVICE

Twenty-four years of service are completed with today's issue of The Journal. That the service we have rendered to the town of Manassas and the county of Prince William has met with the fullest appreciation is attested by the fact that The Journal's subscribers now number over fourteen hundred. More than two hundred and fifty new names have been added in the past nine months.

Founded in the year 1895 by the late W. H. W. Moran, The Journal made its first appearance as a four-page, eight-column paper, a distinctive feature of its policy being the setting up and printing of the entire paper in its own office—in that day an undertaking considered an impossibility for the country weekly. In marked contrast with the present day style of giving the news, all items pertaining to town and county were written as briefly as possible, and always appearing on the third page. Politically the policy of the paper was strictly democratic, and from this policy The Journal has not seen fit to depart.

Preferring to lead rather than follow in the footsteps of others, The Journal was among the first of the Virginia weeklies to make up its first page after the style of the daily newspaper and to publish detailed accounts of the more important occurrences taking place in its own locality.

From the date of its first issue the thought uppermost with those in charge of the paper has been to furnish its readers with a newspaper well edited, with a minimum of typographical errors, and pleasing in its mechanical details. These outstanding features have always been highly commended, especially by new residents and by strangers who visit Manassas.

With the gradual growth of our circulation has come a marked increase in the volume of advertising printed in The Journal. We recall the time when sixteen columns of advertising was considered a remarkable showing—note the columns we now carry and every line paid for at the full rate. Having found it unnecessary to conduct contests to gain new subscribers, we have likewise declined to accept advertising from foreign advertisers at rates lower than were being paid by the business men at home.

The twenty-four years of The Journal's existence have been a period of substantial material and intellectual progress for Manassas and Prince William. Manassas is practically a new town. In the county the farmer has learned to know what science can do in helping to produce larger and better crops. We possess educational advantages that are surpassed only by the large cities. And still we are going forward.

To the people of our town and county, who at all times have given us their liberal support, we extend our sincere thanks. We know they have appreciated The Journal and its efforts to serve the community and to aid in its progress. We shall reciprocate by doing our utmost to give to our readers the best newspaper it is possible for us to produce.

UP TO THE COURTS

The Journal has received an article in reply to the recently published letter written by Sergeant Chichester, of Fredericksburg, concerning the "Valley Pike" tragedy, with the request that it be published in The Journal.

We are sorry that space cannot be given to the communication. The Journal has made no comment editorially on the unfortunate affair and does not propose to do so in advance of the trial. In view of the fact that the trial of the prohibitions officers has been moved from Shenandoah county to this county, we think it highly improper for The Journal to publish any article which might tend to create sentiment either for or against the accused men. The court, and not the press, is the proper forum for the trial of the cases; and we believe the jury selected to sit in judgment on the accused should not be biased by articles written and published for the sole purpose of either upholding or condemning them.

BRENTSVILLE

The school closing exercises were held here Thursday night. The school house was decorated with ferns and flowers. A very good program was rendered.

Rev. J. R. Cooke preached here to a large congregation Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Landis moved from Washington here last week. They are located at the Mrs. Bowen property.

Maeh O. D. Beavers, who was discharged from Ft. Washington last Wednesday, spent several days with his parents here before going to Baltimore to take up his position again.

Miss Olive Holsinger, of Washington, spent the week-end at her home here.

Misses Violet Keys and Tracie Spitzer called at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Landis Sunday.

Mrs. S. B. Spitzer called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Miller, near Nokesville, Sunday.

Miss Francis McDonald has returned to her home here, after visiting her grandfather in Manassas.

The Union Sunday School is practicing for a Children's Day. Watch the paper for the date.

DR. F. M. BROOKS

To those who are acquainted with Dr. Brooks, the Republican candidate for Congress, no words of commendation are needed, but to those who do not know him, a few words about him are in order.

Dr. Brooks was born on a farm in Fairfax County, Va. He is a broadly educated and able man, and in every sense of Congressional caliber. He has practiced medicine for 36 years in his native county of Fairfax; stands high in his profession and has always been a prominent leader in all movements for public health and community welfare. As well as being a physician, he is a farmer; was born on one and lives on one now. He is one of the foremost business men of the county; was one of the founders and now the President of the National Bank of Fairfax. He is a fair, square, honest, able statesman and will make an eminent representative for the 8th Congressional District in the halls of Congress.

This is a day of unsettled political alignments. Party principles and policies are rapidly shifting. In fact, in the state of Virginia, they have about become extinct in so far as the Democratic Party as a party is concerned. The candidates of that party issue their own personal platforms, which usually amounts to the vague declaration, "I am a Democrat." On the other hand, the Republican Party always issues a platform of principles and policies and then nominates candidates who fairly and firmly stand for these principles. The Republican platform, on which Dr. Brooks is running for Congress, clearly declares for a return to true democracy. Of taking the government out of the exclusive hands of the aristocratic wealthy into whose hands it has been placed by the Democratic Party of the state, and returning it to all the people. Dr. Brooks is in every sense the people's candidate for Congress.

The names of the children follow: Lillian Down, Luene Boley, Alice Herrell, Frances Leonard, Marie Lann, Virginia Lann, Cecelia Mountjoy, Henry Herrell, Gordon Pickett, Philip Pickett, and Woodford Pickett. Cecelia Mountjoy has neither missed a day or been late for five years.

The closing exercises of Mill Park school were held on Saturday, May 17. Supt. McDonald gave a most interesting talk on the pleasures of country life, saying that people were growing more to realize that the only complete and true life was country life. At the close of his talk he presented to Philip Pickett a certificate stating that he had completed a course in practical farming and its domestic usages. This is a step toward vocational education in rural schools and it is hoped that other boys and girls will follow Philip Pickett's example.

Private Rixey Embrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell J. Embrey, who has seen artillery service in France, arrived at Newport News on May 1st and went to Camp Lee, where he was discharged on Sunday. MEETING OF WOMAN'S AUXILIARY ON MAY 16

An Appeal to Women to Keep the Manassas Rest Room Open—Other Business.

Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, Secretary. The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was called to order at 2:30 p. m. by the president, Mrs. Mae Dogan, in her attractive and business like manner. After the singing of that old familiar song, "Old Folks at Home," prayer was offered by Mrs. Hodge.

In order of business the roll was called by the secretary and dues were collected by the treasurer. The treasurer reported that 19 members had paid their dues for 1919; 2 new members were added to the membership. Mrs. E. R. Conner and Mrs. R. B. Sprinkel. After the reading of the minutes of the April meeting by the secretary the regular business of the Auxiliary was taken up. At this time the president called for a reading by Mrs. Doak, "Rest Rooms for County Women." This article was taken from the April number of the American Fruit Growers' Magazine. After the reading of the article the Rest Room of Manassas was discussed and the farm demonstrator, Mr. R. G. Koener, made a very helpful talk in which he told of some of the difficulties which the Rest Room in Staunton had during its infancy. He spoke of the way in which the Augusta paper put it on its feet again after closing. Also how in 1917 the retail merchants took hold and now it is supported by this organization, supervisors and town council.

Mr. Koener in his talk spoke of the appreciation of women keeping the Auxiliary open through the summer. He in his talk appealed to women to try to get their husbands to keep farm accounts. In this day, he said, it is needed. Mr. Koener closed his address by reading that little poem, "It Can't Be Done." After this speech there was a lively discussion. The president told of the resignation of all members appointed on the Rest Room committee but the home demonstration agent, and appealed to the women to keep it open, and appointed the following committee to keep the work going: Mrs. C. F. M. Lewis, Mrs. E. Wissler, Mrs. J. A. Hill, Mrs. E. R. Conner and Miss Gilbert.

The president told of the organization of War Savings Societies all over the country and urged that the women of the county join this society. The following women gave their names for this work: Mrs. Mae Dogan, E. Wissler, C. F. M. Lewis, Ashby Lewis and Miss Gilbert. It is hoped that at the June meeting we will have some more instructions and the cards to be signed.

Mrs. Hodge favored the meeting with a selection from Good Housekeeping Magazine, the May number, "The Mothers' Union," by Dorothy Dix.

At this period in the meeting announcement of the coming of Hon. R. Walton Moore and Dr. Flannagan to meet with the Red Cross Monday night, in behalf of the Health Campaign. She urged every one present to be sure to hear these men and urged that they spread the news. The next matter of business before the meeting was a discussion relative to the coming fair. A little anxiety was felt among the women of the Auxiliary that gambling and horse racing might enter into the sports.

Mr. Koener, in a very brief manner, assured the women that they need not fear the doors being let down to this, as they well knew how the majority of the executive committee stood. Mrs. Dogan, in a very pleasant manner, brought before the meeting the possibility of the working up of an old time tournament for the last day of the fair. This was favored by the secretary of the Fair Association.

A motion was made that the executive committee of the fair be consulted in regard to the possibility of a Rest Room on the fair grounds.

Before the meeting adjourned the president appointed the following advisory committee to work in co-operation with the president of the Auxiliary and the county home demonstration agent: Manassas District, Mrs. W. G. Covington, Mrs. Harry Hundley and Mrs. Spies; Brentsville district, Mrs. M. M. Washington; Gainesville district, Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald; Occoquan, Mrs. G. M. Davis; Dumfries, Mrs. C. E. Clarke; Coles, Mrs. J.

A. Hill. The last five districts, the chairman to select her two women. The secretary was authorized to notify these women of their appointment.

This being the last on the program the meeting adjourned until the third Friday in June, at which time all members are urged to be present.

POULTRY CLUB MEMBERS

Willie Fairfax, of Hoadley, a Successful Poultry Raiser.

By Miss Lillian V. Gilbert. According to the usual custom a date just before the close of most of the schools was set for the Poultry Club members to have their compositions in office of the county agent. The date set this year was for May 15th. It is hoped that those who have failed to get them in as soon as possible. The following are the names of those getting compositions by above named date, and are given as compositions came into the office:

Mary Kingree, Bristow; Ernest Hedges, Hoadley; Christine Drowne, Haymarket; Annabel Merrill, Bristow; Allie Davis, Hoadley; Bennett Rosenberger, Manassas; Audrey Steele, Manassas; Marion Broadbudd, Manassas; Daniel Bryan, Nokesville; Minnie Ritenour, Bristow; Effa V. Herndon, Bristow; Dora Grisso, Nokesville; Laura A. Beale, Haymarket; Helen Arthur, Gainesville; Nellie Lawler, Bristow; Georgie Harrell, Manassas; Nellie Hyde, Bristow; Mary Hyde, Bristow; Virginia Green, Manassas; Crystal Landes, Nokesville; Lula M. Flory, Nokesville; Audrey S. Hunt, Haymarket; Gladys P. Potts, Manassas; Rena Neff, Bristow; Alida Neff, Bristow.

Willie Fairfax, Hoadley, Va., joined the poultry club the spring of 1917; he chose one Barred Rock chicken as his breed and bought one sitting of eggs from Mr. Thomason, Manassas, for a start. From this hatch he got five pullets and six cockerels. He raised nine, and sold four as breeders; two brought him $5 and his prize cockerel was bought by county superintendent of schools, Mr. Chas. R. McDonald, for $5. The bird was a beauty. Going back to history, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald christened him Lord Fairfax. He has proved to be such a fine bird that Mrs. McDonald said to the county agent not long ago, "Lord Fairfax has just made my flock."

At the close of the year 1918 Willie had a flock of about 35 nice pullets. This year, 1919, although just his third year in the work, he has a good flock of hens and pullets. During the "flu" epidemic this year Willie had the misfortune to lose his father. The county agent visited him a few days ago and found him deeply interested in his work, shouldering the great responsibilities like a man. He had a fine proposition from Mr. Treagle, state specialists in which he wanted all the day old chicks, and eggs for hatching that could be furnished. This came at the time when sickness and trouble was in the home, and so much on the child's mind that he failed to get in touch with the county agent to help him, but he will line up for next season. Willie has a market in Baltimore to which he ships eight dozen eggs per week at 50 cents per dozen; expects to have a market in Washington in a few weeks; to this market he will furnish all eggs not sold in Baltimore market. Willie and his business qualities for a lad of 13 demonstrates what a boy can do. We are proud of him.

HAYMARKET

The Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church met at Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Adams Wednesday night of last week. In a guessing contest of names of prominent people Mrs. and Miss Richards made the best guesses—guessing eight of the fourteen names correctly apiece.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Poindexter have sold their house to Mr. J. Barrett, and they have bought the bungalow owned by the heirs of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Detwiler. These places are to be given into the possession of their new owners September 1st next.

Rev. Alford Kelley preached in the Presbyterian Church Sunday at 11 a. m., on the subject, "Everything works for good to those who love the Lord." It was a very comforting sermon, and listened to by a large congregation.

Mrs. G. A. Hall and Miss Sara White gave the account of Baillie's work. Miss Kelley illustrated the ancestry workshop by showing an incense burner used in the workshop of ancestors.

Miss Miriam Buckley had two of her school friends to spend the week-end with her.

There was an exciting and closely contested game of base ball on the school diamond last Wednesday afternoon between the high school team and the town team. The school boys beat the town in 12 innings by a score

The Woman's Missionary meeting met in the afternoon in the church with a large attendance and the committee on the program gave us a most interesting account of the work of a missionary, John Baillie, in China, who has been working to relieve the famine stricken state of China by planting trees and giving the needy land to cultivate. Mrs. Grimes read a letter from Dr. Isald Mock Patton, a missionary in China, sent out by the Washington Presbytery.

The farmers are having a very hard time to get in their corn, the ground being wet so much of the time by the many hard showers, but some have succeeded in planting.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hart, who has been so ill, is still quite ill.

There are quite a number of cases of distemper among the horses of the neighborhood.

Fairfax county went way over the top in the Victory Loan. Clifton's share in the canvas was over $1,000.

PRINCE ALBERT

SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smokemotor, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spok-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pike with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport! Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what his your particular smokeappetite!

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Tossy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pouch and half pound tin holders—and that classy, practical pouch cradles your bundle with sponge-mattresser top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

Evidenced by the tight curl of the tail and general air of contentment he manifested. That they were fulfilling their ultimate function was plain when we saw the smoke house full of carefully sugar cured hams and bacon, which we also had the privilege of sampling at the supper table.

A large flock of hens and young chicks gave proof of the splendid care and attention that they get several times a day. The lusty voices of a flock of geese are also to be heard about the premises.

Truly, the occupants of this farm are doing fine work in animal husbandry.

No mention has yet been made of the fine large garden that exhibits a large amount of thought and care. Grapes, raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, and practically every useful vegetable is either growing now or will be soon. Plenty of apples are also grown for home use. After being shown the splendid array of farm goods in the fruit cellar what town woman would not envy these country people of their joys of living?

That the two colored men employed on the farm know a good thing when they see it is proven by the fact that they have been there continuously for ten and seventeen years, respectively. This speaks volumes for both them and their employers, besides the splendid appearance of the farm.

By the way, I failed to mention at the proper place a sow that became the mother of sixteen or seventeen pigs, twelve of which she raised. Who knows of a larger litter farrowed by one sow?

While I have only touched on the various things of interest on this farm seventy-five years in one family, I have exceeded the space at my disposal. The only object in writing this is to commend those who have labored so faithfully and well, and to encourage others to go and do likewise. If instead of reading about this practical farm, managed by a woman, you would like to see it I feel sure the owners would be glad to give you an hour of practical instruction most any time as well, perhaps a drink of medicated water from their fine mineral spring.

We have been telling you week by week about our sanitary methods and trying to impress upon your minds that the sanitary way is the better way and the progressive way; and now, in installing a new

we are merely evolving our belief in these methods. This Counter means that your meat—the meat you eat—is always in a clean, cool place, where no hands can touch it or the pesky fly swarm over it; and you can see what you are buying, or make a selection before buying.

Listen! IT'S ALL BEFORE YOU!

Seriously, don't you feel that you owe it to yourself to buy clean, wholesome meats? Come in and look at this beautiful display of meats, anyway.
