IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dearest mother, Mrs. C. E. Langher, who so sadly left me six months ago, February 6, 1919.

Oh, Mother, alone tonight, just of you
I am grieving.
Do you think you could leave my mind?

Nothing seems the same to me,
For I am thinking of you all the time.

Mother, why did you go and leave me?
Oh, but could you come again and stay
Everything would be so happy,
All my sorrow would go away.

Everything seems to bring you to me,
Just of you I cannot forget,
Alone wonder in my sorrow
With eyes so dim and wet.

Mother, your poor babe is still a-calling,
"Why don't Mama come home?"
I try to tell her you are in heaven
With angels on the throne.

If you were with me tonight, dearest
Mother,
Oh, how I would take you to my heart
And keep you closer there forever,
So it would be we never could part.

When the evening sun is sinking
Often time I am alone,
In my heart comes such a feeling
That again you could come home.

Alone in that lonely black caquet
Lies the one I love so dear,
A-sleeping beneath the flowers and sod

Without one word and without one tear.
Written by her loving and lonely daughter, Dora V. L.

TIME TO CLEAN UP
 While the weather this week has been a handicap to the general clean-up program in anticipation of the visits of the Boy Scouts and their garbage wagon, every effort will be made to close the campaign at once. We are rather late with our municipal spring cleaning, which on account of wet weather and other delays has been postponed to July, but it should be none the less thorough for the delay.

LOGIC IN ADVERTISING
 The Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore says that "for months the United States Government urged all business men to realize that they could sell prosperity to the country by big, bold advertising. It urged everybody to advertise heavily; if they were already advertising, to increase their expenditures and broaden their publicity campaign and if they were not advertising, to begin an aggressive campaign. Never was better business advice given, never was it more fully accepted, and never was there a greater demonstration of the wisdom of such advice. Business men everywhere commenced to advertise more freely and on broader lines. Many men who had never done much advertising saw a new light and began to advertise, while old-time advertisers made larger appropriations and gave better heed to the almost limitless power of publicity. The result is everywhere in evidence. The confidence displayed by heavy advertising begot confidence. Advertising is therefore, as so strongly presented by the federal government, a work of patriotism as well as of enlightened selfish business interest."—Exchange.

LEARN TO SAVE
 Some advice from the Come-back, a soldiers' newspaper:
 It is a fact—"That of every 100 men who die, three leave an estate of $10,000 or over; 15 leave an estate of $2,000 to $10,000; and 82 leave no income producing property. Of 100 widows, 18 are in comfortable circumstances; 47 are obliged to work for a living, and 35 are in absolute want, dependent upon charity."
 Experience says that "those who do not save on $75 per month will never save when they earn $100 or more per month." Saving is a habit which, if formed, will bring comfort and contentment into a home.
 "That 85 per cent of all people earn less than $3,000 a year. That if the putting aside of money is delayed until that point in earnings is reached, 85 per cent of the people will face an old age of want or will die with the knowledge that their dependents will be left in need.
 "Many people do not save and give for an excuse that their income is so small that saving is impossible. Old age, sickness, loss of time, and death, come to them just as surely as they do to the people with larger incomes. Saving is necessary."

LIFE
 Life is real, life is earnest, life is anything you wish;
 Life is grinding at the grindstone or pursuing helpless fish;
 Life is hustling to the office, life is hanging to a pole—
 Life is, various kinds of trouble to a self-tormented soul.
 And in fact, the way I take it,
 Life is what you choose to make it.
 Life is smiling, life is sunshine, life is kindness by the way—
 Life is song and laughter ringing through contentment's happy day;
 Life is reaching out a helping hand to brothers in distress—
 Sort o' boosting fellow-tourists in its woods and wilderness.
 Life, the way I like to see it,
 Is to think a part, then BE it!
 Life is growing, life is scowling, life is finding faults alone
 In the ways of other people, never looking to your own;
 Life is kicking and complaining; life is worrying to death—
 Life is yelling "Don't" and "Mustn't" till you nearly lose your breath.
 Life at times, must be confessed,
 Is a nagging, knocking pest!
 And so long as life is given, he's a fool who throws away
 All its chances for enjoyment, showing on him every day;
 And the growler and the nagger, they may help themselves, but I
 See my life in birds and flowers, in the calm cerulean sky!
 It was good of God to give it—
 But, Old Friend, how do YOU live it?

CLIFTON

Mr. E. H. Poindexter, who recently was stricken with paralysis, died Friday evening in the hospital, Washington, at the age of fifty-six. Funeral services took place Tuesday morning at the Baptist Church in Clifton. The sermon was preached by Rev. R. E. Hertle, of Takoma Park, D. C., whose text was "There is only a step between me and death."

Mr. and Mrs. Poindexter moved to Clifton about eighteen years ago and had lived here ever since with the exception of one or two winters spent in Washington, and his death came as a great shock to the community. He had been a mail clerk for thirty years and his body was carried to the grave by six of his fellow mail clerks.

Surviving members of the family are his widow, who was Miss Laura Bretoni, and two sons of a previous marriage—Leo Poindexter, U. S. N., who is stationed aboard the U. S. S. Florida, and Everett Poindexter, U. S. A., stationed at El Paso, Texas.

Personal Mention.
 Leo Poindexter, U. S. N., expects soon to start on a cruise around the world with the Pacific fleet.

Mrs. Lizzie Buckley, of Basic City, is spending the week with Mrs. Poindexter.

Miss Harrison, of Compton, is visiting Miss Ruby Mathers.

Mr. John D. Garrett was injured Monday by the overturning of his automobile, near Centreville.

Mrs. T. A. Ayre has so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to enjoy an automobile ride Sunday afternoon with her son, Mr. Elmer Ayre.

Mr. Fred Ambler is another Clifton boy home from France.

Consults Specialist.
 Mr. Swen Elgin went to Washington this week, accompanied by Dr. J. H. Ferguson, to see a specialist.

Mr. F. Sauber, who is employed on Mr. Harrison's farm in Prince William, visited his home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Oakton, are occupying the house on Walnut street belonging to Mrs. C. L. Cross.

Mrs. Charles Bladen is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. L. Cross.

Miss Effie Adams, who is employed in Washington, is taking her vacation.
