

FAIR AWARDS AT HICKORY GROVE

Misses Ewell Win Prizes for Best Pig and Best Chicks—Fine Exhibit Shown.

The Hickory Grove housekeepers' and farmers' fair was held at the U. D. C. Hall at Hickory Grove on Thursday, September 18. The day being ideal, quite a number of visitors were present. The hall had been tastefully decorated by the ladies of the Hickory Grove Housekeepers' Clubs and the prevailing colors were white, yellow and brown, the club colors, and green. The exhibits were arranged in pyramidal form, which showed them off to advantage.

The judges reached the hall early and went rapidly to work, so that the results of the exhibitors' efforts were known before the lunch hour at one o'clock.

The promoters of the fair have expressed their hearty appreciation of the help of all who assisted them in making the fair a success, special thanks being due as follows:

To the farmer friends who stood by us so nobly and contributed exhibits; Mr. Miller, of the Agricultural Department, who spoke in the evening to an interested audience on the problems of the day; Mr. McDonald, who introduced the speaker so gracefully; Mrs. Dogan, who gave one of her "brief, to the point" talks; Miss Gilbert, our demonstrator and friend of the farmers and their families; Mr. Conner, promoter of all progressive movements in his community, who spoke briefly; the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly gave their services as judges; to the Hickory Grove merchant, Mr. Gossom, who helped in so many ways, and to those whose exhibits made the fair attractive.

The following prizes and blue ribbons were awarded:

Best pig, Miss M. Ewell, a prize of $2.50; best pig, in special class, the Gulick boys, $1; best pen purebred chicks, Mrs. May Galleher, $1; best pen mixed chicks, Miss Mildred Ewell, $1; best white corn, Mrs. Robert Skinner, $1; best yellow corn, Mrs. Robert Skinner, $1; best half bushel wheat, Mr. Galea Hutchison, $1; best loaf of bread, Mrs. Robert Skinner; best loaf cake, Mrs. John D. IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Martha A. McInteer, who departed this life August 22, 1913.

Sleep on, dear mother, and take your rest.
God called you home, he thought it best.
He saw your suffering here was great,
And opened wide the golden gate.

In God's home of fadeless beauty,
Mother is now a shining star,
Dwelling in that holy city
With the golden gates ajar.
By her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Abel.

DEATH OF RICHARD BELCHES

Life Sketch of Prominent Member of Haymarket Community.

A link was broken between Prince William county and two nations most honorably distinguished in the world war when Mr. Richard Belches passed away at "Evergreen," near Haymarket, in the morning of Sunday, September 21.

Mr. Belches was born July 21, 1845, in Australia, of which fact he always seemed proud, and he had many interesting things to tell of his native land. His father was a captain in the Royal British navy and a personal acquaintance of Sir Walter Scott.

The English home of the Belches family was in Plymouth till the only son came to America in 1870. He soon identified himself with Virginia life and married Miss Frances Callandar Berkeley, eldest daughter of Col. Edmund Berkeley, of "Evergreen," and lived for many years at "Maple Spring," near Haymarket. He was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church and most active and liberal, especially at a time of important repairs and alterations. Though he enjoyed beautifying his home, the church came first with him. After leaving "Maple Spring" he made his home at "Evergreen." When the great war came he followed it with interest and with intense pride in the part which England and Australia played in the struggle. To see the Allies victorious must have been to him a great pleasure. It is well that he has escaped the petty wrangling of the present so-called peace.

Mr. Belches died after a long and tedious illness. He was buried Monday, September 22, in St. Paul's churchyard, Haymarket, the Rev. T. M. Brown officiating the assemblage of neighbors and friends being large. There were many beautiful flowers and several sweet, familiar hymns.

Mr. Belches is survived by his widow, two sons and four daughters, Misses Katherine, Mary Percy and Elizabeth Belches, and Mrs. Stuart Brown.

Great Majestic Range Bargain Week SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION AND BARGAIN SALE OF Majestic Ranges AT OUR STORE—ONE WEEK ONLY Oct. 6th to 11th TO BE TRULY ECONOMICAL THERE SHOULD BE A MAJESTIC IN YOUR KITCHEN Economy is not merely spending the least money—buying a range at too low a price is indeed false economy. The first cost is not the only cost—the little additional first cost of a Majestic is nothing compared with its economy of fuel, durability and satisfactory service. Nearly a million Majestic Ranges, now economically, scientifically and satisfactorily serving millions and millions of people, civilians and soldiers, is proof positive of their superiority over all others. There is only one best. The public has judged. The Majestic is recognized as the standard of all ranges. The construction, material, workmanship and beauty of this wonderful range is unequalled, and it embodies important features possessed by no other range. Your Opportunity is Here— At our store—during our Majestic Bargain Week. It's your chance to get acquainted with real facts about ranges. We assure you it will be worth you—while to investigate. TWO NEW AND IMPORTANT FEATURES The Wonderful Unseen Riveting Oh, Joy! Top Needs No Blacking Yes, it's rivet-tight, just like the old Majestic, but the rivets clinch inside of nicked parts, leaving nickel-smooth as glass, and there are no big, bulky bolt-holes on the inside. And, remember, rivets hold tight; bolts with only one or two threads holding are bound to work loose and cause no end of trouble. The Majestic is smooth inside and outside—it's a striking beauty—more than skin deep. C. E. NASH & COMPANY MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

WOMEN SOON TO MEET IN ATLANTA

Confederate Memorial Association Will Join Veterans in Annual Session.

Twelve states will be represented at the Confederate reunion in Atlanta October 7-11 when the Confederate Southern Memorial Association will hold a joint meeting with the United Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Confederate Veterans. This will be the twentieth convention held by the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, and large plans are in progress for the reception of the distinguished body of women who will represent the memorial associations throughout the United States.

The national officers of this, the oldest organization of patriotic women in America, are women who represent the most distinguished families of the south, and who have preserved the traditions and sentiments of the old south since 1864 with loyalty and devotion.

The work of the memorial associations has been to keep the graves of Confederate soldiers in order, to build monuments and to hold annually a memorial day service, when the graves of the dead heroes of the Confederacy are decorated with flowers. Out of the first memorial association, which had its origin in Columbus, Ga., in 1866, all other similar organizations have grown.—Washington Star.

FOR DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

Red Cross Will Answer Questions Through Department of Journal.

Questions of discharged soldiers on government insurance or any other topic will be answered weekly through The Journal by the Home Service Section of the Prince William Red Cross. The names of soldiers making these inquiries will not be published. The questions and answers of the week follow:

Q. How is my insurance paid to my beneficiaries?

A. As the law stands now, it is paid in monthly installments of $5.75 per thousand for twenty years, but a bill is now before Congress allowing it to be paid in lump sum.

Q. How much cheaper is government insurance than private insurance?

A. No amount can be given because the character of private companies differs so that their rates differ. However, in every company you must pay for everything. With the government you pay only for the mortality risk. All overhead expenses and the cost of carrying the disability feature are borne by the government.

A Correction.—Question 3 of last week's issue, "Can I ever borrow on my insurance?" was answered incorrectly. The answer was "Yes, to the extent of 90 per cent." It should have been "to the extent of 90 per cent of reserve value."

THE FAIR

Do you listen some night in the darkness,
 When the earth is all quiet and still,
 Save the sound of the measured rain-drops?

On tin roof and shingle and sill,
 As you snuggle so warm and protected
 Among blankets and feathers so soft—
 Does the soothing thought never come to you
 Of the thousands who are not so well off?

All through the long busy daytime,
 When our own cares are all that we know,
 We've no time for the troubles of others
 As around on our duties we go.
 But at night the merciful darkness
 And the rhythm of soft-falling rain
 Make us add in our prayers to the Savior
 A plea for our fellow man's pain.
 —JENNIE CARTER LEWIS.

"Y" MAKES PLANS TO EXTEND WORK

Interesting Program of Country Activities Planned by State Executive Committee.

Presenting a program of social, religious, educational and recreational activities, declared by members of the International Committee to be not less in importance than the service rendered the American soldiers during the period of the world war, the Young Men's Christian Association has undertaken the extension of its services to rural districts in eleven southern states, from Virginia to Texas.

The purpose of the movement is to promote the social and economical welfare of county communities; make country life more attractive to the youth that young men may find at home the diversions they now seek in the cities, and generally to increase the efficiency and permanency of farm and industrial labor.

The program for Virginia, formulated at a meeting of the state committee held in Richmond, contemplates the extension of activities into practically every section of the state. These will consist in the formation of local associations, high school "Y's", community sings and musical entertainments, athletic and recreational meets, open forums, educational movies, and religious work in co-operation with the pastors of local churches.

"It is the most progressive program ever put on by any state in the union," declared F. S. Brockman, associate general secretary of the International Committee, in an address to the Virginia committee, "and there is no doubt as to the sanity and moral value of the endeavor to reach the young men of the country."

Conduct of the program will be under the supervision of S. A. Ackley, state secretary, with headquarters in Richmond. He will be assisted by Julian E. Pleasants, field secretary; E. G. Carter, director of rural work; D. O. Hibbard, boys' work division; Howard R. Keister, industrial secretary; J. H. McGrew, secretary, colored department; Maurice Ricker, moving picture specialist; Ernest B. Chamberlain, state song leader, and George O. Draper, director of athletics and recreation.

The International Committee has also tendered the services of some of its best workers for use in Virginia.

For purpose of administration, the state has been divided into eight districts, each under the supervision of a district secretary. Ten or three counties in each district will be elected for immediate organization, and it is hoped that within five years every county in the state will be organized as a separate unit, or in conjunction with one or more counties. Each county will have a county committee, or board of directors, and each will employ a secretary to direct the work of that county.

It is expected that a large number of the leading industries in the state will erect buildings and call for the association program, as several have already done. There are 122 accredited high schools in the state and these furnish a great opportunity for service through the "High Y" clubs, a large number of which it is proposed to organize during the coming year.

"That's a fine job," says the satisfied customer, whose print- ing order has been filled by the Journal's job department. See our work and get our quotations on cards, letter heads, statements, envelopes, note books, programs, catalogs, etc. High grade printing in one or two colors. Satisfaction guaranteed.
