TIME TO INVESTIGATE

Shortly after the water pipe was laid at the bottom of the municipal reservoir last week it developed that the reservoir was empty. Before the well was restored to working condition water began to accumulate in the reservoir.

In this circumstance, we respectfully suggest, should be investigated.

Water will seep into the reservoir, and it is reasonable to expect that water will find the same means of escape. We have faced a water shortage in the past, which may be explained by this discovery, and a little timely investigation will be worth the effort and expense.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

The far-reaching decision of the United States Supreme Court, which voted 5 to 4 that stock dividends are not taxable as incomes, gives a new burden to the shoulders of an already harassed congress. Not only future corporate earnings are affected by the decision, but the millions of dollars already paid into the treasury under the operation of the law before the new decision was rendered.

Reaching into the treasury for the millions which now belong to the taxpayers of America will make considerable difference in the revenue in hand for the operation of the government. This leaves us the choice of more taxation or a system of rigid economy to make both ends meet in the family budget of the nation. Economy suggests itself as the master key to the situation.

CLEARING THE SLATE

Virginians and West Virginians alike have reason to welcome the settlement of the famous debt case which has defied settlement for fifty years.

On February 25, 1870, Governor Walker appointed commissioners to effect the settlement. These old Virginians—Judge William J. Robertson, Patrick Henry Aylett and Major William T. Sutherland—found their duties impossible to perform, and the tangle of 1870 remained a tangle until 1920, when practically all of the men who were first connected with the case had relinquished it with their other cares to enter the Great Beyond.

It is a happy circumstance that the case at last is settled. West Virginia has paid $12,393,000, her rightful share of the pre-war debt, which she did not shoulder in leaving the mother state, and a firmer basis of friendship between the states has been established.

TESTING VIRGINIA CHILDREN

Virginia educators may look forward with no little interest to the report of the General Education Board in New York city of the result of the examination of 20,000 Virginia school children, which is to afford an educational comparison of Virginia with other states. The board has expressed the opinion that an important purpose of the survey has been accomplished, as evidenced by a quickened interest among Virginia teachers and administrators in modern ideals, standards and methods of education.

A WORD TO YOU

Yes, it pleases us particularly when our friends send us news matter, clippings or interesting articles of any kind for use in The Journal. Sometimes space restrictions and other conditions make it impossible for us to publish news in full or even in part, but the times that all goes well make even the lost efforts worth while. Think of The Journal next time you have an interesting thought to share with your neighbor and let's share it with the whole Journal family.

LIFE

Life is a gift to be used every day. Not to be smothered and hidden away; it isn't a thing to be stored in the chest.

Where you gather your keepsakes and treasure your best;

Make a joy to be spent now and then.

And promptly put back in a dark place again,

Be sure that the humblest may have the best of

And that the humblest may well make the most of.

Get out and live it each hour of the day.

And use it as much as you

1/3 Less Coal- 1/2 More Heat

You can save from a third to a half of your fuel and have a much warmer home than ever before if you will install a CALORIC.

The CALORIC is the remarkable furnace that heats without pipes, through only one register. It circulates heat by Nature's own method, forcing warm air up into the entire house and drawing cool air down into the furnace to be reheated and purified.

The CALORIC heats practically all types of homes, bungalow or three-story home, up to eighteen rooms. It heats kitchens and back bedrooms just as comfortably and warm as the rest of the house. Also heats churches, factories, stores and other business buildings. More than 50,000 already installed.

The CALORIC can be installed in new or old houses—no cutting of walls for pipes and no interference with present system of heating. It burns coal, coke, gas, wood or kerosene, and saves from one-third to one-half the fuel.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Out of the more than 3,000,000 Ford cars now in use, about sixty per cent have been sold to farmers. Probably no other one thing has brought to the farm so much of comfort and profit as has the Ford car. It has enlarged the social life, doubled the facilities for marketing, brought the town next door to the farm, multiplied for the farmer the pleasures of living, and by the same token the Ford Touring Car has brought just as much pleasure to the residents of the towns and cities, because it is an every day in the year utility, answering the demand of quick transportation at low expense. A family car without an equal in low cost of operation and maintenance. We solicit your order for cars. We have the full line of Ford cars. We carry the genuine Ford Parts, and assure you the best in mechanical service and the most reasonable prices.

URGES NEED OF PUREBRED SIRES

County Agent Points Way to Bring Up Quality of Horses, Cows and Other Stock.

(W. L. Browning, County Agent.)
Wanted.—Fifty farmers in Prince William county to buy purebred sires for the stock on their farm as a demonstration of the great improvement a purebred sire will have on his offspring.

This week and this year there is a special effort being made all over our country called the Purebred Sire campaign. There is only one way you can possibly bring up the quality of your horses, cows, hogs or chickens, and that is by the use of better sires.

Good Dairy Bull Will Pay.
The reason—Below are given the results of a good dairy bull: Scrub cow, 3,874.6 lbs. milk, 192.6 lbs. butterfat; daughter, 6,955.5 lbs. milk, 266.2 lbs. butterfat; granddaughter, 12,804.2 lbs. milk, 482.5 lbs. butterfat.

Can you afford to keep on breeding to that ordinary bull?
The calves from a good beef type purebred bull crossed with ordinary cows will bring at weaning time from $10 to $25 per head more than ordinary grade. This should interest both the cattle dealer and the producer, as they can make more by handling high class grades. They can be fitted for market more economically, better weight at same age than common grades, and command a better price on the market.

At least you can improve your flock of chickens by getting rid of those cockerels you have had for years, and put in their place cockerels from some known laying strain. Why?

Because the rooster is half the flock. Purebred birds give better quality and greater weight than scrubs. Purebred birds fill the egg basket fuller than scrubs.

High laying ability is inherited from the sire, not from the dam. Pullets show the good laying qualities of their sire's dam.

As shown in the following story, a purebred rooster will change a flock of scrubs to a high grade flock in two years, if only pullets are retained and bred back to their sire.

A flock of sixty mongrel hens, averaging 4.8 lbs., were bought on the Washington market. They were divided into two flocks of thirty each. One flock was bred to purebred Barred Rock roosters, the other to purebred White Rock roosters. The pullets from these matings averaged 5.6 lbs. at the end of the first year. The second year sixty of the best marked of these pullets were bred to their sires. At the end of the year their pullets weighed an average of 6.2 lbs.

Can you keep on the way you are going, or are you going to be one of the ones to start this improvement?

The county agent and the home demonstration agent will be glad to help you secure these sires of whatever breed you want.

WHEN TO QUIT

When the grasshopper ceases to hop
And the crows quit hawking,
When the fishes no longer flop,
And the baby stops squalling,
When the dancer no longer duns
And the heat owl quits hooting,
When the rivers ever cease to run,
And the burglar stops his looting,
When the vine no longer twines
And the skylark stops his larking,
When the sun no longer shines
And the young men quit sparking,
When the heavens begin to drop
And the old maids stop advising,
Then—it is time to shut up shop
And quit your advertising.

WATCH YOUR LABEL

When your subscription payment is made by mail, please do not ask us to send a receipt. Watch the address slip on your paper to see that the label is changed with each payment. In better times it is our policy to make such corrections on the mailing list weekly as they occur, but in times like the present when we are seriously handicapped by lack of labor, the time occasionally stretches into a month. If the change is not made within a reasonable length of time, ask to know the reason why.

OBITUARY NOTICES, ETC.

Memorial resolutions, cards of thanks, obituary notices of every kind (except a news account of a death when it occurs) are inserted at the rate of 25 cents an inch, payable in advance. If you do not know how much money to send, remit at the rate of 25 cents for every 35 words.

On the Bottom of the Sea.

Admiral Sims, in his article in the Magazine of next Sunday's Washington Star, tells of the sinking of a German U-boat. He describes the work of the victims in trying to save their vessel while it rested on the bottom of the sea—and finally twenty-five revolver shots. One of the big stories of the war as it was recorded by the listening tubes. Order your copy of next Sunday's Washington Star.

IN MEMORIAM

RISON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Sarah E. Rison, who entered the pearly gates four years ago, March 13, 1916, and our dear father, James K. Rison, who died April 15, 1919.
Our nearest and dearest—our mother and guide,
We have missed you since you departed our side;
Our way would be happy and friends would be true
If only life's path could be guided by you.
A mother waits at the beautiful gate,
Watching for you, waiting for me,
White robes she wears, and she waits for us there,
beck'ning to you and to me.
Oh, how sweet it will be in that beautiful land,
So free from all sorrow and pain;
With song on our lips and with harps in our hands,
We will greet one another again.

"Tis An Ill Wind That Blows Nobody Good"

There has been for the past few weeks a steady decline in the price of beef. Being purely speculative at first it has now become a market condition and we believe will persist in its present tendency. The seller realizing this is letting his stock go and as we buy for less YOU GET THE BENEFIT.

BEING MEAT SPECIALISTS we know the business and always anticipate the desires of our customers, whether they want a cheap round steak or the more costly steak that will go all around. It were well to consider these prices. They are causing some stir.
