Rev. J. H. McCleod preached an excellent sermon in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning on the triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday. He compared other triumphal entries to this and spoke of mere physical triumphs as compared to the intellectual and spiritual.

Mr. H. B. Derr, county farm demonstrator, was a visitor to this section on Tuesday and attended a mass meeting held here that night. Mr. Derr was not feeling in the best of trim, having hurt his back in cranking his machine, which it is hoped is only a temporary disability.

Mrs. Ayre is taking treatment in an effort to regain the use of her hand and arm which she lost following a stroke of paralysis a year ago. On their return they expect to occupy the son's home in Chestnut street, Mr. and Mrs. Wood having bought a home at Vienna, to which they will move in a few weeks.

Mr. William Donovan has bought a home in Delaware avenue and moved there with his family. Mr. Dave Mathers and family will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Donovan.

The mass meeting held in the Episcopal Chapel Tuesday evening was presided over by Mr. Webb. Speeches were made by County Farm Demonstrator Derr, Mr. Richards, Mr. Brown, Miss Holmes, Dr. Cope and others, on the subject of co-operation.

The Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet with Mrs. Sauber as hostess Tuesday evening. The annual election of officers will take place at that time.

LISTENER DEFENDS TRIBE

Cites Reasons Why Party Line Rubberers Should Not Be Shot.

From Geauga County, Ohio, comes a valiant defender of the party-line rubberer.

Here's what the spokesman for the post says:

"If people desire so much to be exclusive; if their conversation is so important, or business so extremely personal, let them have a private wire."

"In Geauga County listeners have been known to prevent a house from burning down."

"To stop a runaway team of horses."

"To give first aid before a doctor arrives."

"To help locate stray horses, cattle, sheep or dogs."

"To kindly tell you the line is out of commission when you are ready to tear the telephone out by the roots because you cannot get control."

"To promote church and social affairs."

"To prevent running into contact with flu and other contagious diseases."

"To assist in the capture of bandits."

"To extend warning of the approach of a mad dog, just in time."

"To render many other benefits to mankind which should be appreciated."

"Listening has been known to prevent a lonely person from becoming insane."

METHODISTS RAISE BAN

Abandoning the traditions of generations, the eighty-fourth annual session of the Methodist Episcopal Conference of New Jersey, meeting at Atlantic City, voted to recommend the elimination of the sections of its book of discipline that provide expulsion for members who participate in dancing or a game of chance, or who attend casinos, theatres, horse races, and the like. It is probable the conference will vote a large majority for the removal of these sections from the book of discipline.

This course of action, which the "laws" came into effect after a spirited debate, and was adopted because "everyone knew the old provisions were not being followed."

EXAMINE OUR GRADES WHEN CONSIDERING PRICES:

We have become so much impressed with the possibilities of doing this to advantage that we are exercising the greatest care in buying only from those mills who pay the closest attention to the manufacture and grading of their lower priced stocks.

We ask our customers to examine these grades when buying as we believe they will find some excellent values, and a knowledge of what a carefully selected lower grade really is will often prevent the buying of a so-called higher grade at a little under the market price for the high grade, when it is actually a lower grade and can be bought as such.

What men who do big work say about overalls—

"I've tried a lot of overalls. Best of all I've worn, give me Blue Buckles every time. They always give long wear."
Fred McCulloch
President of the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Ass'n.

"There's heavy work at the shipyards. That's why I stick to Blue Buckles. They're sure to give long wear and comfort."
Edward Gibson
Champion Riveter
U. S. Shipyards

FRED McCULLOCH is one of the biggest corn growers in his state—Edward Gibson is the champion riveter of the U.S. Shipyards—James Heberer runs the Twentieth Century Limited—these men know their jobs from top to bottom.

And they know what to wear on the job. They know how much good, strong, comfortable overalls mean when you do big work.

That's why all three wear Blue Buckles. That's why more men wear Blue Buckles than any other overall in the world.

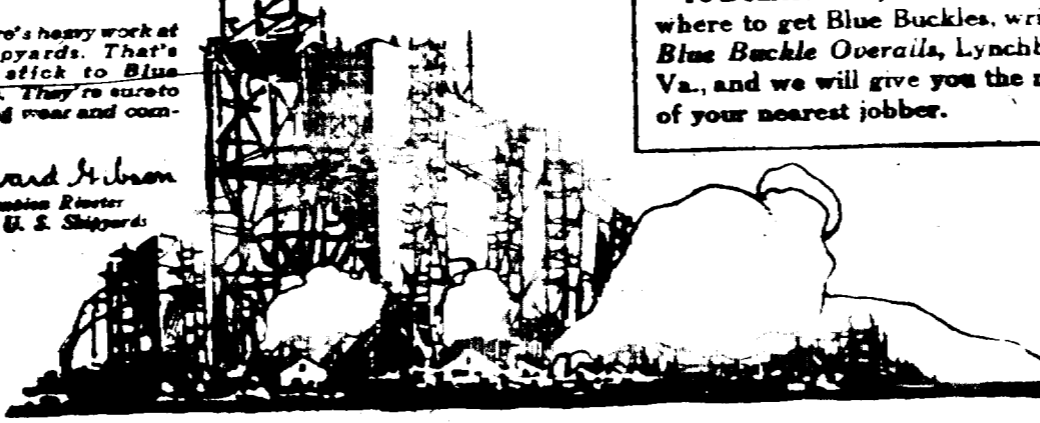

Tough, longest-wearing denim, sewed with wide, double-stitched seams, goes into every pair. Blue Buckles are big and roomy. They never rip or bind. First-class workmanship makes every detail about Blue Buckles right. They have heavy riveted brass buttons, best quality buckles and loops, a solid back-band, big, convenient, reinforced pockets, and extra wide suspenders. All Blue Buckle coats have free swing, raglan sleeves.

Ask your dealer for Blue Buckles.

To Dealers:—If you want to know where to get Blue Buckles, write to Blue Buckle Overalls, Lynchburg, Va., and we will give you the name of your nearest jobber.

SURPRISES IN THE CENSUS
 The Fourteenth Census of the United States, results of which are now being announced, is likely to be somewhat surprising.

The most important factor affecting it is, of course, the practically complete suspension of immigration during the last five years of the decade.
 During the first four years the number of foreigners coming into the country reached the unprecedented average of nearly 1,000,000 annually. The total is within less than 40,000 of 4,- 000,000 people. With the coming of war in the summer of 1914, the number dropped suddenly and during the last two years more immigrants returned to Europe than entered this country.

One must subtract, then, perhaps 5,000,000 from the population total which the present census would have shown had there been no war. That fact alone is sufficient to account for the labor shortage which has been so acute in various parts of the country.
 Making that allowance and omitting,
 for the moment, the increase due to births, the total population in 1920
 should be 98,400,000.

The surplus of births over deaths
 for the decade is not yet ascertained.
 For the ten years ending with 1909 it was 8,900,000. Doubtless it has increased during the last decade, though the war and the stoppage of immigration certainly made that increase less than it would otherwise have been. It may be the almost universal decrease in the birth rate has cut down that figure.

At a guess, then, it appears improbable that the total population of the United States as shown by the new census will reach 110,000,000, the figure at which it has been quite generally placed.

The alarming movement of population away from the farm and into urban centers is certain to be emphasized by the results of the new count.
 Great munition plants and government enterprises paying huge wages attracted thousands of boys and men to the cities, and many of them have stayed there. Newly arrived immigrants have always settled in industrial centers, and their absence during the last few years has also resulted in drawing more men from agriculture.
 The South especially has suffered from a great drain of negro labor to Northern factories and industrial plants.

The concentration of munition plants and other war industries in Eastern territory has also resulted in shifting the center of population. For the first time it has moved east of where it stood at the previous census.
 But that is only a temporary check.
 Within a year or two the star of empire will resume its westward way.

One great fact stands out above all else. The United States is still the most thinly settled of all the great countries of the world. If all our present population were concentrated within the limits of Texas, the Lone Star State would be only a trifle more crowded than what used to be the German Empire when the war broke out. Our natural resources are still only scratched. That is why the United States—uncrowded, full of undeveloped wealth, unscarred by an established caste system—still remains the great land of promise and opportunity for the common man.—Balti-

AFTER SCHOOL

When home from school's long day he drifts
 And to my gaze his fresh face lifts,
 I read the tale of all the joys
 And sorrows that are every boy's—
 Through later living's deeper fret;
 I never them once, I feel them yet,
 For still I hold him close, and say:
 "Sun, tell me all about your day."
 He tells me—whimpering o'er each grief,
 And laughing next in swift relief:
 The big bad boy who hid his hat;
 The girl who slipped from where she sat
 To meet with Teacher's well-earned frown;
 How now the little boy fell down!
 I say—not that I do not know,
 But only that I love him so.
 With a life's troublous school day's close,
 Each world-worn pupil homeward
 goes,
 Straight to the Father's eye well
 raised

A Reminder!

Washington, March 7.—Plans for reducing the American family's meat bill were announced today by the Department of Justice, which will urge housewives to turn from the high-priced cuts to less costly portions of the steer.

Fair price commissioners in every state will be asked to direct educational campaigns with the co-operation of retailers and wholesalers, and the department will undertake to see to it that the consumer receives good meat at low prices and that no abnormal profits are taken on the low-priced portions.

"The housewife holds in her own hand the remedy for very high meat prices," said the department's announcement. "By turning from the expensive to the inexpensive cuts she not only will lower her own meat bills, but will drive down the price of the choice cuts and make it possible for meat to be merchandise more economically."

May we not be pardoned if we say, "I told you so?" Let us show you some of our meats that you can save big money on. We know you'll not be disappointed for SAUNDER'S SANITARY SERVICE SATISFIES

"Add It's Appetizing"

"That's the reason I like to eat at the SANITARY LUNCH. Not only that you know it's CLEAN—and that's a whole mouthful—but it's COOKED right, and not just thrown together. The good, wholesome food you get there has the right TASTE and you really relish it. It tastes like the cats Mother used to give you, and the service is so courteous and efficient that you forget that you are in a restaurant and wonder if you are not back home with your two legs stuck under the old kitchen table. It's just that difference between what a lunch room should be and a lunch house."

1/3 Less Coal - 1/2 More Heat

You can save from a third to a half of your fuel and have a much warmer home than ever before if you will install a CALORIC.

The CALORIC is the remarkable furnace that heats without pipes, through only one register. It circulates heat by Nature's own method, forcing warm air up into the entire house and drawing cool air down into the furnace to be reheated and purified.

The CALORIC heats practically all types of houses, bungalow or three-story house, up to eighteen rooms. It heats kitchen and back bedrooms just as comfortably and warm as the rest of the house. Also heats churches, schools, stores and other business buildings. More than 22,000 already installed.

The CALORIC can be installed in new or old houses—no cutting of walls for pipes and no interference with present system of heating. It burns coal, coke, gas, wood or lignite, and saves from one-third to one-half the fuel.
