THE POETRY CORNER

The poem of the week is submitted this time as the favorite of Mr. Drummond Nicol. The title of the poem is "If I Should Die To-night" and the author is listed among the unknown authors of some of the finest poems ever written. It is reproduced from Mr. Simon Thompson's "Humbler Poets" and is considered by many not only as a serving of a place among less "humble" poets.

Favorites submitted will be published weekly in the order received. Do not think that your contribution has been overlooked if it has not appeared in the poetry corner. Somebody else arrived ahead of you and has been welcomed accordingly. Today's favorite follows:

If I Should Die To-Night.

If I should die tonight,
My friends would look upon my quiet face
Before they laid it in its resting place,
And deem that death had left it almost fair;
And laying snow white flowers against
my hair,
Would smooth it down with tender
And fold my hands with lingering care—
Poor hands, so empty and so cold to-night!

If I should die tonight,
My friends would call to mind, with loving thought,
Some kindly deed the icy hands had
wrought:
Some gentle word the frozen lips had
said;
Errands on which the willing feet had
sped;

The memory of my selfishness and
pride,
My hasty words would all be put aside
And so I should be loved and mourned to-night.

If I should die tonight,
Even hearts estranged would turn once
more to me,
Recalling other days remorsefully;
The eyes that shill me with awestruck
glance

Would look upon me as of yore, perchance,
And soften, in the old familiar way;
For who could war with death, un-
scious clay?
So I might rest, forgiven of all, tonight.

O, friends, I pray to-night,
Keep not your kisses for my dead cold lips.

The way is lonely, let me feel them
now.

Think gently of me; I am travel worn;
My faking feet are pierced with many a thorn.

Forgive, O, hearts estranged, forgive,
I plead!

When dreamless rest is mine I shall not need
The tender hands for which I long tonight.

It is always a disappointment to the editor when an interesting news letter is received without the name of the sender, for unless the writer's name is furnished (not for publication, but as a matter of good faith) the communication cannot be published. Not long ago a particularly newsy letter from a neighboring community arrived and when we looked for the sender's signature it proved to be "Guess Who." Of course we didn't have time to guess.

Miss Isabelle Hutchison, secretary of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Manassas, has reported an error in the announcement made of the certificate recently received by that association. TRIBUTES PAID TO CONFEDERATES

Ewell Camp Commander Reads Brief Memorial Sketches at Public Exercise.

The following tributes to Confederate veterans who have passed away during the year ending with Confederate memorial day were read at the memorial day exercises by Rev. Westwood Hutchison, commander of Ewell Camp, Confederate veterans:

John E. Tillett.
"Comrade Tillett at the breaking out of the war between the states enlisted in Company H, Virginia cavalry, of which William C. Browner, killed in the Maryland campaign in 1863, was captain.

"Comrade Tillett was a member of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Manassas and took a keen interest in all that pertained to the good of the association. Under the auspices of the said association he builded the stone monument which now marks the resting place of the heroes of the first and second battles of Manassas, who gave their lives in the defense of home and fireside. The bronze figure of a Confederate soldier which rests on the top of the monument was the gift of the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C."

B. T. H. Hodge.
"Comrade Hodge was born in Augusta county and at an early age enlisted in the service of King Emanuel and remained a faithful soldier of the cross until May 30, when the door of heaven was opened to receive his spirit and hear his Saviour say, 'Well done, thou faithful servant. Come up higher.'

"At the age of sixteen he enlisted in the Augusta guards and served honorably until the surrender at Appomattox. After the war he entered Hampden-Sidney Theological Seminary, graduating with honor, and was ordained to the ministry in the Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member; but later his mind turned toward teaching as the talent which had been entrusted to him and continued in this work until about a year ago.

"At the time our honored Mrs. Hannah Johnson prepared a roster of the men of Prince William who served in the war of the sixties, Comrade Hodge and the men of the company to which he belonged prepared one of his company which was so faithfully done that it is preserved in a glass case in the Confederate museum at Richmond. By the gracious courtesy of his wife the Manassas Chapter of the U. D. C. has the privilege of presenting the hat which he wore on Confederate occasions to the Confederate museum of Richmond, to be placed with the roster made in the handwriting of his comrades of the war.

"In our annual gatherings we shall miss him—
"But parting is but sweet sorrow
When we can say, 'We will meet in eternity tomorrow.'"

CLIFTON

The closing exercises of Clifton High School were held this week, beginning with the baccalaureate sermon which was preached in the Baptist Church Monday evening by Rev. J. E. Council. A play, "The Matrimonial Exchange," was given Tuesday evening and the commencement proper followed on Wednesday. The last two events were held in the assembly hall of the high school building, and were well attended and successfully rendered. There were six graduates: Misses Nina Ford, Alice Marchant, Christine Ferguson, Helen Elgin and Frances Robey and Clarence Robey.

Rev. Thomas MacLeod preached Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church from Matthew 26:27. All the powers God has given us, Rev. Mr. MacLeod said, are expected to be put in the bank of life and used for the benefit of the world.

Rev. Edward Tabor preached at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening, the subject of the evening sermon being "Christ Before Pilate." Miss Katherine Wells, of Washington, spent the week-end with friends here.

The boys' club had to abandon its camping trip last Saturday on account of the heavy downpour of rain.

The Manassas graded school having closed, the Clifton commuters have been reduced to one student, Paul Quigg, who is in high school. Vinton Southard left Wednesday for his grandfather's home near Harrisonburg, where he will spend the summer.

Mrs. W. H. Edwards has returned from a visit to Vienna.

Mrs. J. J. Brooke, of Norristown, Pa., is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett was accompanied to Ivakota on June 2 by a number of delegates from the Florence Crittenton conference at Washington. Luncheon was served in the dining room at Ivakota by the Ivakota girls, who also presided over the work in the kitchen. Among the guests from the Clifton neighborhood were: Mrs. W. B. Dpek and daughter, Mrs. Poindexter, Mrs. Wittenstein, Mrs. Quigg and Mrs. Upp.

The carpenters are now building a canning establishment at this institution and when it is finished will break ground for a hospital. Mrs. Barrett said in her speech to the visitors that the United States needs five such farms as Ivakota. Ivakota is supported by the leftovers from the other Florence Crittenton missions, she stated. Rev. and Mrs. A. Stuart Gibson, of Manassas, were present. Rev. Mr. Gibson made a few remarks, expressing his pleasure at being present and his satisfaction that such a work is under way.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Sara Crews and Mr. George Earl Crews, both of Washington, which is to take place June 17 in Calvary Baptist Church in Washington. Miss Crews is very popular with the younger set in Clifton, having made her home with her uncle and aunt here for several years, graduating from Clifton high school in 1914 and successfully teaching one of the classes during the term of 1917-18. She has been employed in the Treasury Department since 1918.

It is whispered that there are other wedding bells to ring in the near future.

BRADLEY

Miss Leda Maphis, of Hillsdale, Md., is spending some time here on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. L. P. Maphis.

Mr. Leonard Cooper, of Washington, spent several days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cooper, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maphis and their son, Glenn, spent Sunday with Mr. Maphis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Maphis.

Miss Leda Maphis and Mrs. W. R. Maphis will leave Saturday to spend a few days with Miss Maphis' sister, Mrs. John Hornbaker, of Harrisonburg.

Miss Fanny Dove was the guest of Miss Nora Payne last week.

Mr. H. P. Whitmore was a Brantville visitor last Saturday.

Mr. Noah Dove visited Canova last week.

THOROUGHFARE

Mrs. O. M. Douglas attended the marriage of her brother, Mr. Henry Gough, to Miss Flora Fieble on Wednesday at Warrenton.

Mrs. Mary Jacobs has returned from a visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gardner, of Hickory Grove.

Mr. J. P. Kurlin, of Adam, was a town visitor on Thursday.

Miss Georgia Marshall, of Clifton, visited Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Douglas recently.

Marion I. C. Jacobs and W. H. Butler attended court in Manassas this week.

Miss Salba V. Mount has returned from a short visit to friends in Alexandria.

Invitations were received here this week for the marriage of Miss Sara Virginia Crews, only daughter of Mrs.

Strictly Cash

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS

On and after July 1, 1920, we will conduct our business on a strictly cash basis

Many of our competitors and brother merchants have resorted to this plan, owing to the fact that keeping books and making collections are very slow and expensive. We expect to cut down on our profit, and instead of keeping books we are going to give it to the buyer, which puts money in your pocket and is less trouble for us. All machinery will be sold on the basis of the customer giving a trade acceptance due at settling time without interest. We are sure it will not be as much trouble to the buyer as keeping a book account. Give us a call when you need anything in the machinery line. Our motto is FULL WEIGHT and FULL MEASURE. Our aim is to please you; and if we please you tell others, if not, tell us.

court doth on this 9th day of June,

The object of this writ is to obtain a

DON'T GET IT WRONG

We are NOT cutting prices on everything in the store. The items we are reducing are so advertised. Many items we can sell all the fall and winter at less than they can be bought and still make a profit; we have owned them for a long time and at a cheap price. Our price may not be CUT but we are still as cheap or cheaper than competition anywhere. For instance, we have not cut price on men's work shirts or gingham. Still we are materially less than any competition. Others are taking advantage of the opportunity—are you?

Men's High Shoes, $4.98

Table full to overflowing with values up to $12 in button and lace in nearly all sizes from 5 to 11. A few tans but mostly black shoes are in the lot.

When you consider that there is nothing we can BUY for $4.98 at factory, you can form some judgment of the values we are offering.

There are some Oxfords at same price, but sizes are badly broken. Mostly 5 and frog up, but there is not an Oxford in the lot worth less than $12. The price of $4.98 makes them easy goods, so come quick.

NOT MANY! AND THIS WILL BE THE LAST TO OFFER AT THAT PRICE. YOU WILL ALSO FIND A TABLE OF CHILDREN'S AND MISSES' SHOES AT THE SAME PRICE, $1.59. THESE ARE WHITE IN LOW AND HIGH STYLES, GOOD RANGE OF SIZES IN THE LOT.

ALSO A SMALL LOT CHILDREN'S SHOES, $1.19. SOUNDS LIKE "BEFORE THE WAR."
