IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Mrs. Lewis A. Marsteller, who passed away six months ago, December 20, 1919.

Dear Mother, how hard we tried to save you, Prayers and tears were all in vain, Happy angels came and bore you From this world of toil and pain.

In the graveyard softly sleeping, Where the trees so gently wave, Lies the one we love so dearly In the lonely, silent grave.

Oh! Heaven is nearer than mortals think When they look with trembling tread At the misty future that stretches on From the silent home of the dead.

I know when the silver cord was loosed, When the veil was rent away— Not long and dark her passage was To realms of endless day.

The eye that shut in a dying hour Was opened the next in bliss, The welcome did sound in a heavenly world Ere the farewell was hushed in this.

Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed.

By Her Daughters.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear sister, Mrs. Lucien H. Hanver, formerly Miss Lucy Marsteller, who departed this life five years ago, June 21, 1919.

She has gone and gone forever, From the world of sin and woe, But her memory will not be forgotten By those who loved her so.

A beautiful life is ended, Our dear sister laid to rest, Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on his gentle breast.

Never, dear, can we forget, Or our wounded hearts be healed, For God alone knows the sorrow That is in our hearts concealed.

With aching hearts we were consoled, That God's will must be done; In a home of fadeless beauty She is now a shining star.

By Her Sisters, Anna and Nellie.

THE POETRY CORNER

Tennyson's "In Memoriam" holds the place of honor in the poetry corner today. The week's favorite is sent by Mr. Joseph F. Gulick, of Cherrydale, formerly of Manassas.

"The poem which almost any one selects as his favorite will be determined largely by the state of mind in which he is at that particular time," according to Mr. Gulick. "That being true, one hardly knows which to select as coming nearest to his favorite for all states of mind. I believe in my case, however, there are two that contend for first place. They are Matthew Arnold's 'Dover Beach' and Tennyson's 'In Memoriam.' Of the two 'In Memoriam,' I believe, is the favorite."

As "In Memoriam," which ordinarily occupies fifty pages of a book, is too long to print here, Mr. Gulick has selected a few stanzas which he regards as among the best in the poem. These stanzas, parts of cantos 1, 54, 56, 96 and 131, follow:

IN MEMORIAM

Our little systems have their day,
 They have their day and cease to be;
 They are but broken lights of thee,
 And thou, O Lord, art more than they.

We have but faith: we cannot know;
 For knowledge is of things we see;
 And yet we trust that comes from thee,
 A beam in darkness: let it grow.

Oh, yet we trust that somehow good
 Will be the final goal of ill,
 To puny of nature, aims of will,
 Defects of doubt, and taints of blood;

That nothing walks with aimless feet;
 That not one life shall be destroyed,
 Or cast as rubbish to the void,
 When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain;
 That not a moth with vain desire
 Is shrivel'd in a fruitless fire,
 Or but subserves another's gain;

Behold, we know not anything;
 I can but trust that good shall fall
 At last—far off—at last, to all,
 And every winter change to spring.

So runs my dream; but what am I?
 An infant crying in the night:
 An infant crying for the light:
 And with no language but a cry.

The wish that of the living whole
 No life may fall beyond the grave
 Derives it not from what we have,
 The highest God within the soul?

Are God and nature then at strife,
 That nature lends such evil dreams?
 So careful of the type she seems,
 So careless of the single life,

That I, considering everywhere
 Her secret meaning in her deeds,
 And finding that of fifty seeds
 She often brings but one to bear,

I falter where I firmly trod,
 And falling with my weight of cares
 Upon the world's great altar-stairs
 That slope through darkness up to God,

I stretch lame hands of faith, and grope,
 And gather dust and chaff, and call
 To what I feel is Lord of all,
 And faintly trust the larger hope.

Perplexed in faith, but pure in deed,
 At least he beat his music out.
 There lives more faith in honest doubt,
 Believe me, than in half the creeds.

That God which ever lives and loves,
 One God, one law, one element,
 And one far off divine event,
 To which the whole creation moves,

To Keep American Ships on the Seas

For the first time since the Civil War we have a real merchant marine. It cost us $3,000,000,000 to get it.
 The farmer, manufacturer, laborer—every American is interested in holding our position on the seas.
 As a first step in this direction it is necessary to modify those articles of existing commercial treaties which have operated to thwart the upbuilding of our merchant marine—
 By giving the notice of termination for which the several treaties provide.
 This action is directed in the constructive Shipping Bill now before Congress;
 Which declares it to be the policy of the United States "to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage" a merchant marine.
 This policy deserves the support of every American.
 Lacking this support the present effort to maintain our merchant marine may suffer the fate of many ineffective attempts of the past.
 Send for a copy of "For an American Merchant Marine."

MISS PEARL SHAFFER
— WEDS. REV. MR. NOLLEY

Ceremony Performed at Bride's Home Near Nokesville by Rev. F. J. Byer.

A pretty wedding ceremony took place Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shaffer, of Nokesville, when their daughter, Miss Pearl Zena Shaffer, became the bride of Rev. W. D. Nolley, of Christiansburg. Rev. Franklin J. Byer, president of Hebron Seminary, performed the ceremony and the nuptial vows were pledged under a beautiful arch of roses and daisies.

Immediately preceding the ceremony "The Melody of Love" was rendered very softly by Miss Esta Beahm, of Nokesville, and Prof. J. N. Kagey, of Hartshorne, Okla., formerly professor of art at Bridgewater College, sang "O Promise Me." Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as a recessional.

Little Ray Swank and Mae Shirkey first entered the room, bearing the marriage license. The bride's attendants were Miss Esther Leidig, of Middletown, as maid of honor, and Misses Hettye Myers and Elizabeth Nolley, bridesmaids, all the attendants being former classmates of the bride at Bridgewater College. The groom was attended by Mr. Paul N. Garber, his former roommate at college, as best man, and Rev. J. Paul Glick, of Bridgewater, another college friend.

The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white satin and carried white lilies. Her veil was caught with sprays of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of sheer white and carried pink carnations. The bridesmaids wore pale pink crepe de chine with pink carnations. Little Mae Shirkey wore pink voile and satin. The bridegroom and his attendants wore conventional black.

After the ceremony the bridal party was ushered into the diningroom, where luncheon was served. The table was decorated with streamers of daisies extending from the chandelier to the corners of the table. Refreshments were served on the lawn to the many guests. The following morning Mr. and Mrs. Nolley left for Christiansburg, where they will be at home after July 6.

The bride and groom are alumni of Bridgewater College, the bride being a graduate in music and the bridegroom having received his baccalaureate degree in 1919. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, consisting of silverware, linen, cut glass and hand-painted china.

Giving Him a Fair Start Mrs. Wilson is assisting at the daily rites performed before the altar of her grandson, Master John Edward Phillips, Jr. WHY, Molly, you don't give that poor little tyke a cathartic every day, do you? "No—it depends on the individual. It took me several days, but since then I've been as regular as clockwork." "This isn't a cathartic, mother. It's Nujol. It was the only thing I could use while the baby was nursing. I was terribly constipated, you know, just after he was born." "How do you feel after taking it?" "Nothing but good effects. You see, mother, Nujol works on an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This helps all those tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along, so that it passes naturally out of the system." "Well, that's to be expected, I guess. I remember the trouble I had when you were born, dear." "Do you give it to the baby regularly now?" "Yes, indeed. He's already started. The doctor says that every baby is born with a natural kink in his bowels—it has to straighten out naturally and Nujol prevents any obstruction there. It rather helps nature to help herself. This sample of the youngest generation is going to grow up with the conviction that Nujol inside is just as important as his morning bath outside—which it is. It's absolutely harmless and—See, mother, how he takes it." Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. For years the Ford One Ton Truck with its splendid manganese bronze worm-drive, powerful Ford Model T Motor, strong Vanadium steel frame, has been serving in every line of business activity, and we have yet to hear the first complaint as to rear axle trouble or motor trouble. It has the lowest purchase price on the market, and the cost for operating and maintaining is exceedingly small. In fact, the Ford One Ton Truck has become a business necessity. Leave your order with us without delay. We will give you prompt attention and assure you reasonably prompt delivery, and give you an after service that will insure your continuous operation of the Truck.

HAYMARKET

A play "That Rascal Pat," recently given at the parish hall for the benefit of the Masonic order, was a success in every particular. The first features were three violin solos by Prof. Wise and Mrs. Carvel Hall, which were finely rendered and warmly endorsed. The next number was a reading by Mr. Rolfe Robertson, which was loudly applauded.

Prof. Wise gave demonstrations in magic, extracting a profusion of roses from a lamp shade, bringing a live pigeon out of a box hardly large enough to see and performed other feats of oriental legerdemain, all of which were pronounced a huge success. Prof. Wise took the title part in the play and was ably assisted by Messrs. Rolfe Robertson, Simpson Buckley, Mrs. Disoway and Miss Hall. A feature of the entertainment to which special mention should be accorded was a poster advertisement of the play done in colors by Mr. Gustav T. Peters.

Another play, "Abram Levy, Pawnbroker," is to be given here later.

Services will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at the usual time on Sunday. The Baptists will hold service at 4 p. m. with Sunday School and prayer meeting at the usual hours.

Strictly Cash

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS

On and after July 1, 1920, we will conduct our business on a strictly cash basis

Many of our competitors and brother merchants have resorted to this plan, owing to the fact that keeping books and making collections are very slow and expensive. We expect to cut down on our profit, and instead of keeping books we are going to give it to the buyer, which puts money in your pocket and is less trouble for us. All machinery will be sold on the basis of the customer giving a trade acceptance due at settling time without interest. We are sure it will not be as much trouble to the buyer as keeping a book account. Give us a call when you need anything in the machinery line. Our motto is FULL WEIGHT and FULL MEASURE. Our aim is to please you; and if we please you tell others, if not, tell us.

THE REMARKABLE OVERLAND VICTORY in the 355-mile Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run registers another triumph for scientific light weight and the easy riding Triplex Springs. GARY - BARBEE NUPTIALS

Westminster Presbyterian Church, in Richmond, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock when Miss Mary Elizabeth Barbee, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Barbee, became the bride of Mr. Robert Armistead Gary, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. J. Y. Fair, pastor of the church.

The bride was gowned in a becoming navy blue traveling suit with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of brides roses and sweet peas. Miss Margaret Barbee, sister of the bride, as maid of honor was costumed in Nile green organdie and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair ferns.

Promptly at the appointed hour the wedding party entered the church to the strains of Lo-hengrin's wedding march under the skilful touch of Miss Mary Lewis, intimate friend of the bride. During the beautiful and impressive service the organist in subdued tones rendered "O Perfect Love." Mr. Thomas Gary, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and potted plants, the chancel being transformed into a perfect bower of floral fragrance.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the bridal couple left for an extensive wedding tour. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at the home of Mr. R. W. Paine, near Bon Air, for the summer months.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents, including a shower of linen that was given her at the home of Miss Louise Metzger, one of her most intimate friends, a few days prior to the marriage.

The father of the bride is a native of Prince William county, where he has numerous relatives and a host of friends.
