HALLOWEEN NIGHT

Mrs. E. R. Conner Hostess at the Annual Masquerade.

The sixth annual masquerade entertainment given to the children of Manassas and surrounding country was celebrated on Halloween night in Conner's Hall.

The hostess, Mrs. E. R. Conner, assisted by Miss Grace Moran, received and welcomed the juveniles who to the number of one hundred and sixty-five, masked in every conceivable costume, frolicked and danced to their hearts content until the hour of departure too soon arrived.

Three boxes of Martha Washington candy were awarded to those wearing the most remarkable costumes and the judges, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Mrs. Athey and Mrs. Robert Hutchison awarded the prizes to the following: Preston Lyon, as a skeleton, Ann Camper, as Bo-Peep and Billy Massfield as an Old Man.

Refreshments in the form of ice cream cones were served to the children when the happy party was nearing its end.

WORKING ON BULL RUN BRIDGE

Work on the bridge over Bull Run, between Loudoun and Prince William counties, has been begun by the contractors with a considerable force of men. They hope to have the job completed and the bridge ready for use before cold weather.

The structure will be 75 feet long, of steel with concrete abutments and will cost something over $4,800. The cost will be divided equally between the two counties. Estimates and plans were submitted to the Prince William supervisors and accepted last month and referred to the Loudoun supervisors, whose highway committee has approved and signed the contract and authorized work to begin.—Loudoun Mirror.

DEATH OF MRS. FLORENCE

Mrs. Ida Belle Florence died at her home near Minnieville Thursday, October 27, in the nineteenth year of her age. The funeral was held in the Episcopal Church at Dumfries, the service being conducted by Rev. J. M. Hill, of Manassas, assisted by Rev. J. Halpenny, and she was buried in the old historic cemetery at that place. Her infant child was buried with her.

Mrs. Florence, who was a member of the U. K. Church at Manassas, was the wife of Lee Starkweather Florence and daughter of Mrs. Harvey Garrett. She leaves her husband, mother and several brothers and sisters.

MEETING WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

(Lillian V. Gilbert, Secretary)

All members of the Woman's Auxiliary are urgently requested to attend the regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, November 11, at 2:30 o'clock, in the high school building.

Important feature of the meeting—plans for work of the auxiliary for the year 1922. Mrs. Mae Dogan, former president of the auxiliary, has something very interesting for the meeting.

The joint meeting with the farmers' union has been called off. This will be explained at this meeting. All members of the farmers' union who wish to attend are cordially invited to do so. Come, bring your neighbors.

ENTERTAINMENT

A very entertaining performance was given by the students of Eastern College-Conservatory on Tuesday evening. The program was varied with readings, violin solos and dancing, finally winding up with a two-act play entitled "Mrs. Oakley's Telephone." The audience was kept amused from beginning to end, each performer acted her part thoroughly and satisfactory and the program deserved a larger house. It was given for the benefit of the basketball team of the college who left during the week for games with other Southern institutions.

BOYS AND GIRLS GET BUSY

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)

Boys and girls in organized clubs competing for the county banner and prize offered by the editor of the News are requested to remember that only two months and the work for the year 1921 will be past history.

Presidents of clubs and reporters are urged to report meetings promptly. All boys and girls are urged to get reports in as soon as possible.

—Miss Sarah Davis, who has been quite ill, is improving.

HON. E. LEE TRINKLE
DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR

ARMISTICE DAY—NOV. 11

A Proclamation By the Governor of Virginia.

Whereas, It is fitting that the people of Virginia, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, observe the third anniversary of the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918, which brought the World War to an end, as a means of expressing our appreciation for the heroic services of those who fought bravely and sacrificed their lives for the freedom and peace of our country; and

Whereas, Under authority of an Act of the General Assembly of Virginia, approved February 20, 1918, any day which is designated by the Governor as desirable to be observed as a holiday because of conditions incident to a state of war shall be considered as a public holiday; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do designate Friday, November 11, 1921, a public holiday to be observed as such as provided by law throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia, and to be known as Armistice Day.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and in the one-hundred and forty-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,
Governor.

A MISSIONARY PLAY

"The Pill Bottle" to Be Presented by Students of Hebron Seminary.

A play with the above title, said to be of a very high character, will be given by the students and teachers of Hebron Seminary, Nokesville, at Cannon Branch on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.

The play was given at the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren at Hershey, Pa., this past summer. It pictures the condition of the people of India and vividly portrays the ignorance, superstition and idolatrous customs, their poverty, sickness and suffering, and the need of help which the people of America can give them.

As the title of the play suggests it is a call for missionary doctors and educators and there is enough of real life and humor in it to keep the audience entertained and at the same time showing them events as really exist in India.

ENFORCING THE LAW

Dr. David Hepburn Speaks on the Subject—Letter to President.

The churches of Manassas held a union service at Conner's Hall Sunday night. The speaker was the Rev. David Hepburn of the Anti-Saloon League. His subject was "Law Enforcement." He declared that every good citizen should stand back of the law regarding his personal belief. He exposed many false statements and clearly showed that the lax enforcement of the eighteenth amendment has been a great blessing to the country, in the home, in business and in government.

After the address by unanimous vote the Rev. Wm. Stevens was requested to write to President Harding asking him to use his good office to hold up the regulation for the sale of beer until the Senate has an opportunity to vote on the matter.

The letter written by Mr. Stevens to His Excellency, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States: At a largely attended union meeting of the churches of Manassas, Va., I was requested to write asking you to use your good office to hold up the beer regulation issued by Secretary Mellon until the Senate has an opportunity to vote on the pending bill prohibiting the sale of beer as a medicine.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Large Crowd Hear the Republican Candidate's Address.

Col. Henry W. Anderson, republican candidate for governor, addressed an audience of about two hundred in Conner's Hall on Wednesday afternoon. He was introduced by Mr. H. S. West in a most eulogistic speech.

The address of Col. Anderson was along the same lines used by him in his speeches throughout the state. He called attention to what he called the lamentable condition of public affairs in the state and urged reform in educational and registration matters and referred to the burden of taxation which the citizens of Virginia have to bear.

He dealt in no personalities and stated his views in a calm and dispassionate manner, and his remarks were frequently punctuated by applause.

A large part of his audience were from nearby towns, Nokesville sending a large delegation and Occoquan and vicinity contributing a quota.

DEATH OF MRS. C. B. SMITH

Passes Away at Her Home near Woolsey in Her Thirty-fourth Year.

On Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Lillian Smith, wife of Mr. C. D. Smith, passed into her peaceful sleep at her home near Woolsey, after two months' illness of cancer.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. Norman Sinclair, of Gainesville. She was a noble woman, loved by all who knew her, and energetic and patient, bearing her sufferings patiently and trusting always in her Saviour.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. C. B. Smith, and small daughter, Helen, and father, Mr. Norman Sinclair; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Gossom, of Hickory Grove, and Mrs. Gertrude Clark, of Haymarket; three brothers, Messrs. O. F. Sinclair, of Bethesda; B. A. Sinclair, of Washington, and L. E. Sinclair, of Hickory Grove.

The funeral was held at Gainesville M. E. Church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. W. Downs, R. E. Gossom, S. E. Clarke, G. O. Smith, W. P. Smith and P. C. Smith.

DEATH OF J. D. HARROVER

Prominent Resident of Sudley Neighborhood is Called Away.

Mr. J. D. Harrover, residing between Groveton and Sudley, died on Saturday after a short illness of pneumonia and was buried on Sunday in the graveyard adjoining Sudley Church.

Mr. Harrover was a native of the neighborhood in which he died and in his boyhood was a pupil of Mrs. Frank Dogan. He was a son of Capt. J. C. Harrover, who resided for a number of years near Buckhall, and who was a frequent visitor to Manassas.

In early manhood he married Miss Frederica Senseney of the same vicinity and sometime afterward entered the Merchant Marine Service. During the war he was chief engineer of a steamer carrying supplies to France and England and in that capacity made a number of trips to Europe, but always escaping the attacks of the enemy submarines.

Mr. Harrover was fifty-two years of age and is survived by his wife and four children—three girls and a boy.

He was a member of St. John's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Washington, and was buried with Masonic ceremonies conducted by Manassas Lodge, of Manassas.

The following were the pallbearers: Messrs. C. E. Nash, R. M. Jenkins, C. J. Meetez, Geo. E. Cocks, Frank Gue, and James H. Larkin.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING

Enthusiastic Addresses Delivered by Well Known Speakers.

Hon. R. Walton Moore, member of congress, and Hon. Harris Hart, superintendent of public instruction in Virginia, addressed the democratic voters at Nokesville on Saturday afternoon of last week and at Manassas on the evening of the same day.

Mr. Moore in a very able address contrasted the present condition of Virginia after thirty-five years of more of democratic rule with the state's condition under republican rule during the period that the latter party was in supremacy. He pointed out that Virginia had been free from public scandal with democrats in authority while other states under republican rule had not been so fortunate. In both of his speeches he urged that no change be made. He said that Col. Anderson had gotten to be an office seeker, first having tried for a federal judgeship while Taft was president, then he sought the nomination in the Chicago convention for the vice-presidency and now he desired to be elected Governor of Virginia.

Referring to President Harding's address at Birmingham, Mr. Moore said that he did not believe in any citizen criticizing the Chief Executive of the Nation, yet he could not help but feel that the President's reference to political equality was very unfortunate, to say the least.

Mr. Hart in his addresses dwelt chiefly with matters pertaining to the public school system in Virginia. He pointed out the wonderful strides made in educational matters in the state within the past ten or fifteen years and called attention to the growth of the public schools under his administration.

He denied very vehemently that his department was ruled by any "machine" or organization of men and stated that his subordinates had been appointed upon fitness for their work alone.

IMPORTANCE OF COMMUNITY LEAGUE WORK

Members Urged to Use Every Effort to Make Satisfactory Reports.

Editor Manassas Journal:—

Will you kindly publish the following letter in the interest of community league work for Prince William?

Dear League Workers:—

I want to impress upon each individual in Prince William the importance of this great community spirit.

It is doing so much for our people. Your school cannot properly function without a league. Do organize at once if you have not already done so, and send your reports to Geo. W. Gue, Executive Secretary, Richmond, Va.

The Co-operative Educational Association is after me every week to push the work. November 25th is the day set at the Conference in Richmond for reports from our county. I shall be there and have charge of that part of the program, and I shall be very much disappointed and also humiliated if Prince William does not show up well. The work is going fine and I feel confident I can depend upon my county. I have just organized some new leagues, and every one seems to be interested.

Mrs. Mumford, president of the Co-operative Educational Association, is making an appeal that each county raise, in addition to the dues from each school, to the association an additional amount, say from one to five dollars, this to be used by the association for work in each county from which this money is derived.

I hope Prince William can and will raise $50 for this purpose. Miss Lulu Metz, of Manassas, has consented to receive this money and turn it into the association treasury. Please send whatever your league agrees to give, at once and it will be forwarded and credited to your school.

I am attending on an average from two to four league meetings each week with fine results. I go to Haymarket Friday night of this week, and Smithfield Saturday night. I will go anywhere you call on me to go, but remember, I may have an engagement arranged ahead, and in such an event it will be necessary to change the date.

The community fairs held at Bethel, Independent Hill and Gold Ridge are evidences of what the community league means to the county.

I would like also to say, that I have been president of this work now for about six years, and that I have never received one cent for salary, expenses, car hire, carfare or gasoline. I am not only wearing out my car but myself, and I know that you must realize that it is necessary for me to have your co-operation in this great work. Please get in the harness at once.

Very sincerely and hopefully,
C. J. Meetez, President,
Prince William County League Work.

NALLS—RITENOUR

A quiet marriage occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents at Brownsville, near Wellington, when Miss Amanda Ritenour was united in matrimony to Mr. Levi W. Nalls, son of William Stevens officiating.

The bride wore a blue suit and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Maggie Cleg, of Front Royal, was maid of honor and Mr. Samuel Coverson, of Shenandoah, best man. The flower girls were little Misses Frances Nalls and Ethel Ritenour. About forty guests were present.

LIPSCOMB—HUNT

Yesterday at high noon, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Anderson Ross, in Philadelphia, the Rev. Everett E. Smith, officiating, W. Harold Lipscomb, son of the late W. N. and Mrs. W. N. Lipscomb, was married to Mrs. Rebecca Ross Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ross, of Washington. Mr. Ross being a partner in the well-known firm of Barber & Ross of that city. The newly married couple went to Atlantic City for their honeymoon.

Mrs. Edward W. Jamison, a sister of the groom, attended the marriage and the wedding breakfast at the Philadelphia Country Club, returning to Manassas yesterday evening.

—Sunday October 30th was the anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Speiden and they had as their guests, Miss Nolte Nelson, of Ft. Smith, Arkansas, Mrs. J. F. Culverwell, Miss Marianna Speiden, sister of Mr. Speiden, Miss Frances Weston and Messrs. J. H. and J. E. Nelson, of Washington, all of whom were present at the ceremony twenty years ago.

Big Democratic Rally! Monday Night, Conner's Hall

The public is invited to attend a democratic rally in Conner's Hall Monday night, November 7, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be plenty of "pep" about this meeting, and some very interesting statements will be made, and criticisms of the republican party will be refuted.

H. THORNTON DAVIES, Chairman.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Beer for the sick will be made available immediately from stocks on hand in brewers' warehouses, it was said Monday at the Treasury. Discussing the question of whether beer manufactured before the issuance of the new regulations could be used for medical purposes, officials expressed the opinion that there was nothing to prevent its immediate sale so soon as the necessary permits were obtained.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gaines, wife of Col. Grenville Gaines, died at her home in Warrenton Monday morning after a week's illness, and the funeral was held at St. James' Episcopal Church Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Gaines before her marriage was Miss Harris, of New Orleans. She leaves her husband and three children, Mrs. Joseph Bell, of New Orleans; William H. and Miss Elizabeth Gaines, of Warrenton.

Wheat sold at Berryville last week as low as 98 cents a bushel, the lowest price since before the outbreak of the world war, and quite a large quantity moved at that low level, local dealers said. The prevailing price in Clarke county for the last day or two has been around $1.05. Much corn has changed hands at $1.75. Farmers said both products were being sold at less than production costs.

Colonel E. B. White, of Selma Farm, Loudoun county, has completed packing and shipping his apple crop for the season. He shipped 34,000 barrels, probably as much as all the other orchardists in the county combined, and as much as any grower in the state. The late frosts of the spring, which wrought so much havoc, touched his trees comparatively lightly. Colonel White received as high as $12 a barrel for a few choice vineapples and such good prices for the others that his crop netted him considerably more than that of last year it is reported.

Judge Holt, of Staunton, sitting as special judge in the annexation proceedings pending in the circuit court of Shenandoah county, has just had entered an order increasing the territory of Strasburg, resulting in the gain of nearly 1,000 in population, and making it the largest town in Shenandoah county. The steady increase in population and business of the town for the past several years culminated this year in a building boom. Among the buildings now being completed is a $40,000 school building, a $20,000 theater, a $100,000 vinegar plant, additions to the Lutheran and Methodist churches, each costing $10,000, and many nice residences. There is projected for next season two new national bank buildings, a creamery, cold storage and ice plant and many new dwellings.

The first rain in the lower Shenandoah valley in about seven weeks began Monday morning and continued intermittently during the day and night. It was beneficial, but farmers said a heavy, soaking rain lasting a day or two was needed, as there is very little moisture in the ground, and fears have been felt that wheat already sown may not germinate. Pastures have dried up, many fields looking as if a fire had swept over them, and lawns about town, usually green until the middle of December, have the same appearance. Water has become so scarce in the country districts that it is being hauled from springs in barrels for family use and live stock has been driven to the rivers and larger creeks for water. Conditions have been worse further south and west in the Valley of Virginia and the Page Valley.

KING'S CROSS ROADS

Mr. C. S. Smith had several visitors from Manassas Tuesday who enjoyed the day hunting.

Mr. M. C. Hazen and several friends of his from Washington are at Mrs. Hazen's farm hunting.

We are sorry Miss Minnie Swart, principal of our school, is sick, but we hope she will soon be able to take charge of her school again.

The farmers were glad to see the rain.

The Willing Workers Sunday School class met at the home of Mrs. C. S. Smith Wednesday night.

We are glad to see the old school house moved from the school ground.

There will be a play given at King's Cross Roads Community Hall Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

The play is called The Little Pill Bottle, representing the missionary field in India. Come one and all, no charge for admission.

Mrs. E. L. Herring is improving and we hope will soon be out.

We are glad to hear Mrs. Otho Landis is better.

Mr. David Kerlin is a frequent visitor at the home of Mr. H. C. Michal.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brown and their two children spent a few days last week at the home of Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wright.

Miss Sara Howdershell, of Washington, is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Smith.

Mrs. Mary Troth, of Alexandria, was a week-end guest of Miss Margaret Shirley at "Oakshade."

Misses Pauline Gosson and Grace Maxfield and Mr. Dan Alexander, of Hoadly, were guests for the week-end at "Mt. Atlas," the home of Miss Gosson.

Miss Annie Troth, of Catharpin, visited Mrs. R. R. Smith on Saturday and Sunday last.

Mrs. J. T. Simonds, of Washington, is visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Charley Smith, who died at her home "Piedmont," near here, on Thursday of last week, was buried on Sunday afternoon in the Gainesville cemetery.

BRADLEY

Farmers are through seeding in this neighborhood.

There will be a league meeting at Bradley school on the evening of November 11. Everybody is invited to attend and bring their friends. We expect to have a good program.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Showalter and little son, of Rockingham, visited Mr. C. L. Dove last Wednesday.

Mr. H. Whitmore is visiting his home here.

Mrs. C. L. Dove and children attended the community fair at Goldridge.

Mr. Cox has moved to the Lipscomb place which he has purchased. We wish them success.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Molair attended the fair at Goldridge.

Miss Tella Maphis has returned to her home in Baltimore.

Mrs. Maphis is improving slowly. We hope she will soon be out.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

ELECT ANDERSON

"The Issue Is Made! The Decision Is With The People!"

In these words Col. Henry W. Anderson, anti-machine candidate for Governor of Virginia, closes his campaign which has been remarkable in the annals of political history in this State because of his statesmanlike presentation of the issues, his eloquent plea to the voters to rescue their glorious state from "ring" domination, and his refusal to descend to mud-slinging or dealing in personal abuse.

The "machine," which former Governor Montague characterized as "more merciless and grinding than the machine in any other State in the Union" adopted the same ruthless, unscrupulous methods to defeat Colonel Anderson as were employed to bias the ambitions and break the heart of Harry St. George Tucker in the notorious August primary, but their campaign of vilification and abuse has left this illustrious Virginian unscathed. Whether he is elected or not, the State of Virginia and political conditions in this Commonwealth will be better for his having made such a high-planned, campaign in which he produced abundant and irrefutable proof that under Democratic "machine" rule there has been thirty-five years of waste, extravagance, inefficiency and stagnation.

So much did the "machine" leaders fear the brilliant, forceful and convincing anti-machine candidate that they dared not let his opponent meet him in joint debate. Nevertheless, Colonel Anderson has spoken in all sections of the Commonwealth and addressed tens of thousands of men and women who were amazed at the information he imparted to them—irrefutable information taken from official records in Richmond—facts and figures which proved conclusively that Virginia ranks lower than forty other States in providing educational facilities for her children; that the per capita taxes collected has jumped from $7 to $22; that the State budget has increased from $3,000,000 to $22,000,000; that the school system is, in the words of the Democratic Commission on Economy, "a great political machine;" that there are 54,000 officeholders in Virginia; that a small group of "ringsters" have formed an officeholders' trust; that $177,000,000 has been spent by the "machine" and yet Virginia has some of the worst roads in America; that while North Carolina and other sister States have forged ahead and "beckon Virginia on," this State has retrograded instead of progressing, and that while neither the "machine" nor Senator Trinkle present any platform whatsoever Colonel Anderson offers a constructive, hope-inspiring platform covering every political, social, economic and financial problem in Virginia.

Unable to meet or refute these charges, Senator Trinkle has sought to divert the minds of voters by dragging out what he calls "a negro skeleton" and sought to stir up prejudice and arouse racial bitterness. Do not be misled. The negroes have their own party and will support candidates of their own color in this election. They are not supporting Colonel Anderson. In each of Senator Trinkle's speeches he has solicited the negro vote, but Colonel Anderson has not.

If you want a continuation of waste, extravagance, inefficiency and stagnation, you should vote for former Senator E. Lee Trinkle, of Wythe county. If you want a reduction in taxation, removal of politics from the schools, better roads, more State aid for farmers, a clean, efficient, economical government responsive to your will instead of the dictates of the machine, ELECT HENRY W. ANDERSON GOVERNOR ON NOVEMBER 8. "THE ISSUE IS MADE! THE DECISION IS WITH THE PEOPLE!"

NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

No one connected with the democratic party in the state of Virginia will deny, in fact it cannot be denied, that for many years there has been a state of general apathy amongst those in the democratic ranks. This state of affairs has existed from the top to the bottom, beginning with those high in the party councils and running down the list to local politicians and voters. This condition has been brought about, no doubt, by the feeling of security under which the party has rested and in the belief that no power or opposing party could wrest Virginia from democratic control.

The republican party during the campaign now in progress has put forth an unusual effort and the result of next Tuesday's election will probably show some gains for republicanism in the state. Yet no one entertains any serious thought that Col. Anderson or any of his ticket will be successful. At the same time every democratic voter should cast his ballot on Tuesday. It is a foregone conclusion that every member of the opposing party who has a vote will go to the polls, if it is possible for him or her to do so. Therefore, every democrat who has a vote should exercise his or her right of franchise in order that the democratic majority in the state may not be diminished.

The Journal urges every democratic man and woman who is qualified to vote to cast a ballot in the election on November 8.

VIRGINIA'S "ARMY" OF OFFICE-HOLDERS

The tabulation of Virginia office-holders, prepared by the Association for the Common Good and summarized in the news columns Saturday afternoon, is a worth-while compilation, highly creditable to General T. M. Wortham, the association's statistician.

One is somewhat staggered, at the outset, to learn that there are approximately 48,169 "state, city and county employes"—one for every eight electors, or one "employee" for every forty-eight people in the commonwealth. That is an army, indeed! It is a force as large as Lee actually had in the ranks during the last year of the war between the states. That is to say, it apparently takes as many "employees" to govern Virginia as soldiers were available in 1864 to defend her against the "grand army" of Grant.

These are first reflections. When one comes to scrutinize the figures and to define "employees," very different conclusions are reached. In the 48,169 employees are included school teachers and principals and the staff of the state superintendent's office in Richmond, a total of 14,414. These are "employees" of the state and locality, beyond a doubt, and properly are so designated, but they are employees in the same sense that fire protection is an expense. The efficiency of education, within bounds, is measured by the number of teachers, just as the adequacy of fire protection can be gauged by mains, pressure, equipment and fire plugs. The worst thing that could happen to Virginia would be to reduce the number of school teachers to, say 5,000. That would decrease the army of employees to less than 40,000—and would put Virginia educationally at the very bottom of the ladder. For any calculation of the numerical strength of those who make up any such "office-holders' ring," as Henry W. Anderson has described, at least 14,000 of the 14,414 may be eliminated. The same thing applies, and for the same reason, to at least 5,000 of the 6,800 "school stenographers, nurses, janitors, etc.," for the 13,600 public schools of the commonwealth. It is liberal, in fact, to put down at 1,800 the number of these public servants who may be counted as politicians or as subject to political influence. By these two deductions, the "army of office-holders," except as it represents expense and the most indispensable training of youth, is brought down from 48,169 to 29,169. If any change were made in the figures thus subtracted, their total should be increased. That, it may be assumed, is proposed by Mr. Anderson who, while declaiming against the number of office-holders, pleads for better schools. That implies better teachers and more of them.

Another item worth considering is the inclusion among the "employees" of election officers computed at 9,300—one registrar, two clerks and judges for each of the 1,500 electoral precincts of the state. These are "employees" in that they are paid for their services, but if they are to be listed in the same totals which men who give their entire time to the service of the state, it would be just as proper to reckon in the army of office-holders every man who is sworn in for a day's service as special constable or deputy sheriff. It so happens, also, that many of these election officers are republicans and certainly are not to be reckoned as cogs in a gigantic state democratic "machine." It will surprise the News Leader if 4,300 of the 9,300 election officers may be counted as in any wise influenced politically by their few days' labor annually at elections. Deducting 5,000 from the fast-dwindling "army," its "effective strength" is brought to 24,169. There still remain to be eliminated independent school teachers and commissioners in chancery. A tentative total of 24,000 is the very maximum one can set as the number of those political activities by any possibility might aid a state "machine." And even here one includes republican county officers of the Southwest and the goodly sprinkling of anti-machine democrats in all the counties and in the state departments. The "army," in other words, dissipates like the Austrians retreating from Italy!

General Wortham has done his work well. The figures when analyzed, speak for themselves. If the republicans wish to bring an indictment against the administration of Virginia, let them abandon crude, meaningless totals of employees, and present figures showing the comparative number of full-time office-holders and the public cost of public service in this state and in some of the strong-holds of republicanism.—Richmond News-Leader.

LOVE, LEAD THE YEARS

Love, lead the years,
That ever one by one
They find through thee the light,
And 'neath the beauty of the burning sun
Keep us from doubt and night.

Love, lead the years,
For her upon whose brow
I would thy rose might lie
As sweet as that first kiss that sealed our vow
And lit with joy our sky.

Love, lead the years,
That stumbling feet may turn
From wayward roads and wild
To that dear path where still in beauty burn
The memories of child.

Love, lead the years,
For her, O lead them sweet
Amid green ways of rest,
With ever a rose beneath her dancing feet
And on her fluttering breast.

Love, lead the years,
That so when all is said
Through what dear trials we roam,
Our lives together in one bond shall tread
The golden path to home.

—Benttown Bard.

LAUGH AND LIVE

WAS NOT AS CLAIMED

"Sir," said the sleek-looking agent, approaching the desk of the meek-looking man and opening one of those folding thingumajigs showing styles of bookbinding, "I believe I can interest you in this massive set of books containing the speeches of the world's greatest orators. Seventy volumes, $1 down and $1 a month until the price, $680, has been paid. This set of books gives you the most celebrated speeches of the greatest talkers the world has ever known and—"

"Let me see the index," said the meek man. The agent handed it to him and he looked through it carefully and methodically, running his finger along the list of names. Reaching the end he handed the index back to the agent and said: "It isn't what you claim it is. I happen to know the greatest talker in the world, and you haven't got her in the index."

"THE DENTIST'S INFIRMARY"

A woman entered a public library recently and asked the assistance of a loan desk clerk.

"I am searching for a book called 'The Dentist's Infirmary,'" she said. "The president of our library club told me to get it."

"The Dentist's Infirmary?" repeated the clerk with a rising inflection, vainly trying to associate such a book with such a study class.

"Yes," replied the woman, "It's all about devils and angels and such like."

The light of understanding dawned on the puzzled face of the clerk.

"Oh, you mean Dante's 'Inferno'?"

NO, SIR!

A member of a national medical association tells the following story at the expense of a physician:

"Are you cured," an anxious patient once asked—"are you sure that I shall recover? I have heard that doctors have sometimes given wrong diagnoses and treated a patient for pneumonia who afterward died of typhoid fever."

"You have been woefully misinformed," replied the physician indignantly. "If I treat a man for pneumonia, he dies of pneumonia."

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED

Rev. Father Smet, of St. Mary's Church Blackjacked by Burglar.

The Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Alexandria, and at one time pastor of All Saints' Church, Manassas, was the victim of a brutal assault early Wednesday morning at the parsonage, 210 Duke street. Father Smet was awakened by a man who was searching the bureau drawers in his room and sprang out of bed and grappled with the intruder. In the struggle that followed the burglar struck Father Smet three times over the head with a blackjack and finally escaped from the premises. The noise of the struggle aroused the Rev. L. F. Kelly and the Rev. Michael Malloy, who occupy the parsonage with Father Smet, but the assailant escaped before the two priests reached the room occupied by Father Smet.

Dr. M. D. Delaney was immediately summoned and rendered medical assistance to Father Smet.

Entrance to the parsonage had been made through a rear window, and all rooms on the first and second floors was ransacked. The drawers of a desk in Father Smet's office, on the first floor, had been searched, but nothing of value was found, and the burglar then searched the drawers of a desk in the library, on the second floor, adjoining Father Smet's bed-room.

The physicians attending Father Smet report that his condition is favorable, although he has suffered considerably from loss of blood and shock.

—The banks will be closed on Tuesday, election day, and Friday, Armistice Day.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S EYES
Make this school year easier for your child by having his eyes attended to now. If you protect the naturally defective eyes of youth, you are repaid with a strong eye in after life. Abuse the immature eye, and it will necessitate glasses—not for a few months only, but for a lifetime. Many a child has been a dullard at school and a failure in after life simply because some defect in vision made it impossible to see things clearly. The brain gets most of its information through the eyes, and if the eyes are defective, the child is woefully handicapped. Don't neglect your eyesight. Consult DR. O. W. HINES, Graduate Optometrist, who will be at the New Prince William Hotel, Manassas, Va., Nov. 7th and 8th, 1921. Hours—10 a. m. to 5 p. m. 25-1

Many Ford owners can afford to own and operate any car they may choose, but they prefer a Ford "because it is a Ford."
For "because it is a Ford" means dependability, ease of operation, efficiency—and it means sure, quick transportation.
And "because it is a Ford" means good taste, pride of ownership and genuine Common Sense.
The Ford Sedan, a closed car of distinction, beauty and convenience, is the ideal all year 'round car, for pleasure or business—for the farm, town or city. It gives you all that any car can give at a much lower cost for operation and maintenance.
Ford Cars of all types are in great demand, so place your order at once if you wish to avoid delay in delivery.

CLIFTON

The subject of Rev. Thos. H. MacLeod's address Sunday morning was the "Home," the influence it should have on the children's life and giving the effects of a wrong home life on the children's life work. Mr. W. H. Richards led the prayer meeting at night.

The Aid Society was entertained by a Halloween social Monday night, at the home of Mr. W. H. Richards. Quite a number of the guests were in costume and masks. Four of the guests managed to keep their identity unknown until masks were removed. They were Miss Janie Webb, costumed as an old negro woman; Miss Malone, as Queen of Sheba; Miss Merchant, as one of the Gold Dust twins, and Master James Buckley as an Indian.

Other costumes worthy of mention were Miss Effie Adams, Indian; Miss Ruth Richards, Spanish; Miss Caroline Upp, Pagoda; Master Jack Upp, Chinaman; Walter Quigg, negro; Miss Helen Quigg, maid; Lewis Quigg, Pierot.

Mrs. Richards had planned a number of methods of telling your fortune and the little folks had a peanut hunt. The last thing on the program was pinning the tail on the cat; the best record was made by Miss Caroline Upp.

The house was very artistically decorated by Jack-o'-Lanterns, black cats, etc. Refreshments were coffee, doughnuts and pumpkin pie. There were about forty present in spite of the rain.

Mrs. Leola Ford entertained the Sunday School class of girls Halloween night with their escorts. There were many of them in costume, but as the writer was not present and did not have a description of them, can not give them here, but they were very highly entertained and enjoyed it all.

The four churches of which Rev. J. H. Frye is pastor are joining in a welcome to him Sunday at Jerusalem Church. All expect to go in the morning and take their lunch and spend the day.

Mr. Walter Wells, who was reported in danger of losing his sight, last week, we are glad to report can now see out of both eyes and has about recovered from his accident.

Winfield Clinton had an accident Monday night coming from Washington. His machine turned over, throwing Walter Wells out in the mud and pinning the driver and other occupants of the machine under the car. No one was hurt seriously, but the top was broken off of Mr. Clinton's new roadster.

Mr. W. S. Detwiler and children, Mr. and Mrs. School, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rambo and Miss Dorothy Detwiler, with a granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Detwiler II, were Sunday visitors at Mr. W. H. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Tourtelot and son, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Tourtelot's sister, Mrs. Jack Barrett, at Ivakota.

Miss Frances Buckley, who is teaching at Shiloh, King George county, spent the week-end at her home here.

Miss Julia Campbell, one of our teachers, spent the week-end in Baltimore. Miss Hite, another of our teachers, spent her holiday at her home.

Misses Davis and Towels had visitors at their home for the week-end.

The School and Civic League will meet in the school building Friday, November 11, at 3 p. m.

SMITHFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Sides and three children, Albert, Anna and Donald, who have resided near Minnieville for the past year, have moved to Bethel neighborhood. This community regrets the loss of them but our good wishes will follow them to their new home.

Mrs. Gregory Hill, of Washington, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Fairbanks during the week.

A large audience is in attendance every evening at the series of meetings conducted at the Methodist Church near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and family, of Fredericksburg, spent the week-end at Mr. Holmes' former home. They were accompanied home Sunday by Misses Lucy and Iola Kincheles, who will spend a few days.

The community was very much shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Starkweather Florence on Thursday last. Her remains were laid to rest in Dumfries Monday afternoon.

The regular meeting of the Smithfield School and Civic League will be held at Smithfield school house Saturday beginning at 7:30. Refreshments will be sold for benefit of league.

Miss Maud L. Norman, teacher of the school, spent the week-end at her home at Kopp, returning to Smithfield Sunday evening.

He Tried SUNOCO Oil

And this is what he said:

"That SUNOCO OIL I got from you proved to be fine; especially for the Haynes. It has worked better than it ever has since I bought it. I have been trying to buy some more of the oil since my return, but no one seems to handle it out here. I am writing to the factory today to have them send me some. Tell Ludd (I think that is the name of the fellow that works there with you all the time) that all I have to do with the Haynes is give it lots of Sunoco oil and gasoline and drive it like Sam Hill."

The writer is Mr. J. B. Gibson, who recently left here in his Haynes for Webb City, Mo.

What Mr. Gibson thinks is the opinion of many other SUNOCO users. Have you tried it on your car?

HAYMARKET

Mr. Charles Riden, for some years a resident of this section, was killed on Sunday night by an eastbound special which passed here about eleven o'clock. Just how Mr. Riden met with the fatal accident is not known. He was at the station earlier during the evening talking with friends and it is supposed that he started to walk to his home about a mile up the railroad. His body was found by the engineer of a freight train a short distance from the station, lying by the side of the road with his skull fractured.

His funeral took place from the Episcopal Church on Tuesday afternoon, being conducted by the rector, Rev. T. M. Browne. The interment was in the churchyard.

Mr. Riden was well known here and his tragic death is much regretted. He is survived by his wife and an infant son, and a brother, Mr. Edward Riden, of Baltimore, Md., who was here for the funeral.

Miss Virginia Bell, of Washington, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Garrett.

Cottage prayer meetings for the Nation-wide Campaign will be held every evening for two weeks beginning Monday next, at the homes of the members of St. Paul's Church. The meeting on Monday will be held at the home of Mr. E. A. Meade at 8 o'clock. The meetings will be conducted by the rector, Rev. T. M. Browne, and it is earnestly desired that they will be well attended.

Miss Edmonia Tyler reached New York last Thursday on the "Adriatic" and is at her home here, after a delightful tour of ten weeks spent in visiting the principle cities and other points of interest in the Old World.

Armistice Day will be observed with a special service at St. Paul's Church, to which the public are cordially invited.

Misses Mary Cordelia and Helen Clarkson entertained a number of their young friends at a lovely Halloween party on Saturday evening. The house and "party table" were most attractively decorated with black cats, witches and other suggestions of Halloween. Charades, games and lots of good things to eat combined to make the evening a merry one.

Are You Oyster Hungry

"The melancholy days are come," but there is absolutely no use in being sad about it, if you will only consider what a big, hot, sizzling fried oyster will do with the blues. Glooms and oysters just can't live together. They don't mix. The next time you are not feeling fit, come down our way and try some of our delicious sea food. If you had rather take them home, we can furnish them in any quantity. Obey that impulse.

TRUSTEE'S SALE STORE HOUSE AND DWELLING AT THOROUGHFARE, VA.

Under and by virtue of a deed of trust executed by Augustus G. Harris to the undersigned trustee, dated December 1, 1920, and recorded in the clerk's office of Prince William county, in Deed Book No. 75, p. 1456, the undersigned trustee, at the request of Flora M. Payne, the holder of the note secured by said trust (default having been made in the payment of the interest of such note), sell by way of public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, on

MONDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1921

(that being court day), at noon, in front of the courthouse, at Manassas, Va., all of that lot or parcel of land situate at Thoroughfare, said county, containing 2.45 acres (nearly two and a half acres), with the buildings thereon, which was formerly occupied by Howard S. Bell as a store property, and by him sold to said A. G. Harris.

This is a good stand for a store, and contains all necessary buildings. Possession will be given as soon as terms of sale are complied with. The taxes for the year 1921 will be paid by the trustee.

For further information, apply to the undersigned. ROBT. A. HUTCHISON, Trustee, Manassas, Va.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Republican Nominees for State Offices TO BE VOTED FOR NOVEMBER 8, 1921.

For Governor: HENRY W. ANDERSON of Richmond.

One of the leading lawyers and business men in Virginia. Reared on a farm in Dinwiddie County; spent five years in railroad service; graduate in law Washington and Lee University 1898, Doctor of Laws, 1916; first secretary, then president, Virginia Good Roads Association; treasurer Co-operative Educational Association, president War Relief Association of Virginia 1915-16; American Red Cross Commissioner to Roumania, 1917-18, and to all Balkan States 1918-19; endorsed by the Republicans of Virginia for Vice-President of United States 1920. One of the best known publicists of Virginia, with wide and varied practical experience.

Lieutenant Governor: JOHN H. HASSINGER of Washington County.

One of the leading and most successful farmers and business men of Southwest Virginia; graduate University of Michigan; deep student of public affairs, with large practical experience. Now member of State Senate, having been overwhelmingly elected as Republican in normally Democratic district.

Attorney General: HARRY K. WOLCOTT of Norfolk.

Generally recognized as a leader of the Norfolk bar. Has had wide experience in practice of law and administration of large properties as receiver. Has great constructive ability. Unusually well qualified for office of Attorney General, under present conditions.

State Treasurer: J. W. FLANAGAN of Radford.

Leading and successful farmer and business man of Montgomery County. Possesses to an unusual degree the practical knowledge required for this office.

Superintendent of Public Instruction: Mrs. ELIZABETH LEWIS OLEY of Lynchburg.

A leader in the great movement for the freedom of women in Virginia; and in the League of Women Voters, to qualify them for citizenship. She graduated from Bryn Mawr College with an A. B. degree in 1901, was a graduate student of the University of Chicago in 1903 and took her Ph. D. at the University of Berlin in 1907. Her charm of personality, broad knowledge and demonstrated executive ability are the qualities now needed in the Public School System of Virginia.

Secretary of Commonwealth: T. X. PARSONS of Grayson County.

Educated at Virginia Military Institute; made brilliant record in Great War, being one of the youngest captains in the American Army. On return from war entered Washington and Lee University and graduated with highest honors. Would bring the spirit and ability of Young Virginia into the Capitol.

Corporation Commissioner: GILBANK TWIGG of Fauquier County.

Farmer and business man of high education and wide business experience. Operates the largest orchards in Virginia, and among the largest in the United States. His practical experience enables him to view public service problems from standpoint of farmer and business man.

Commissioner of Agriculture: JACOB S. HALDEMAN of Frederick County.

One of the most widely known and successful farmers, orchardists and business men of the Valley of Virginia. Has the knowledge and practical experience to develop the agricultural interests of Virginia on modern lines.

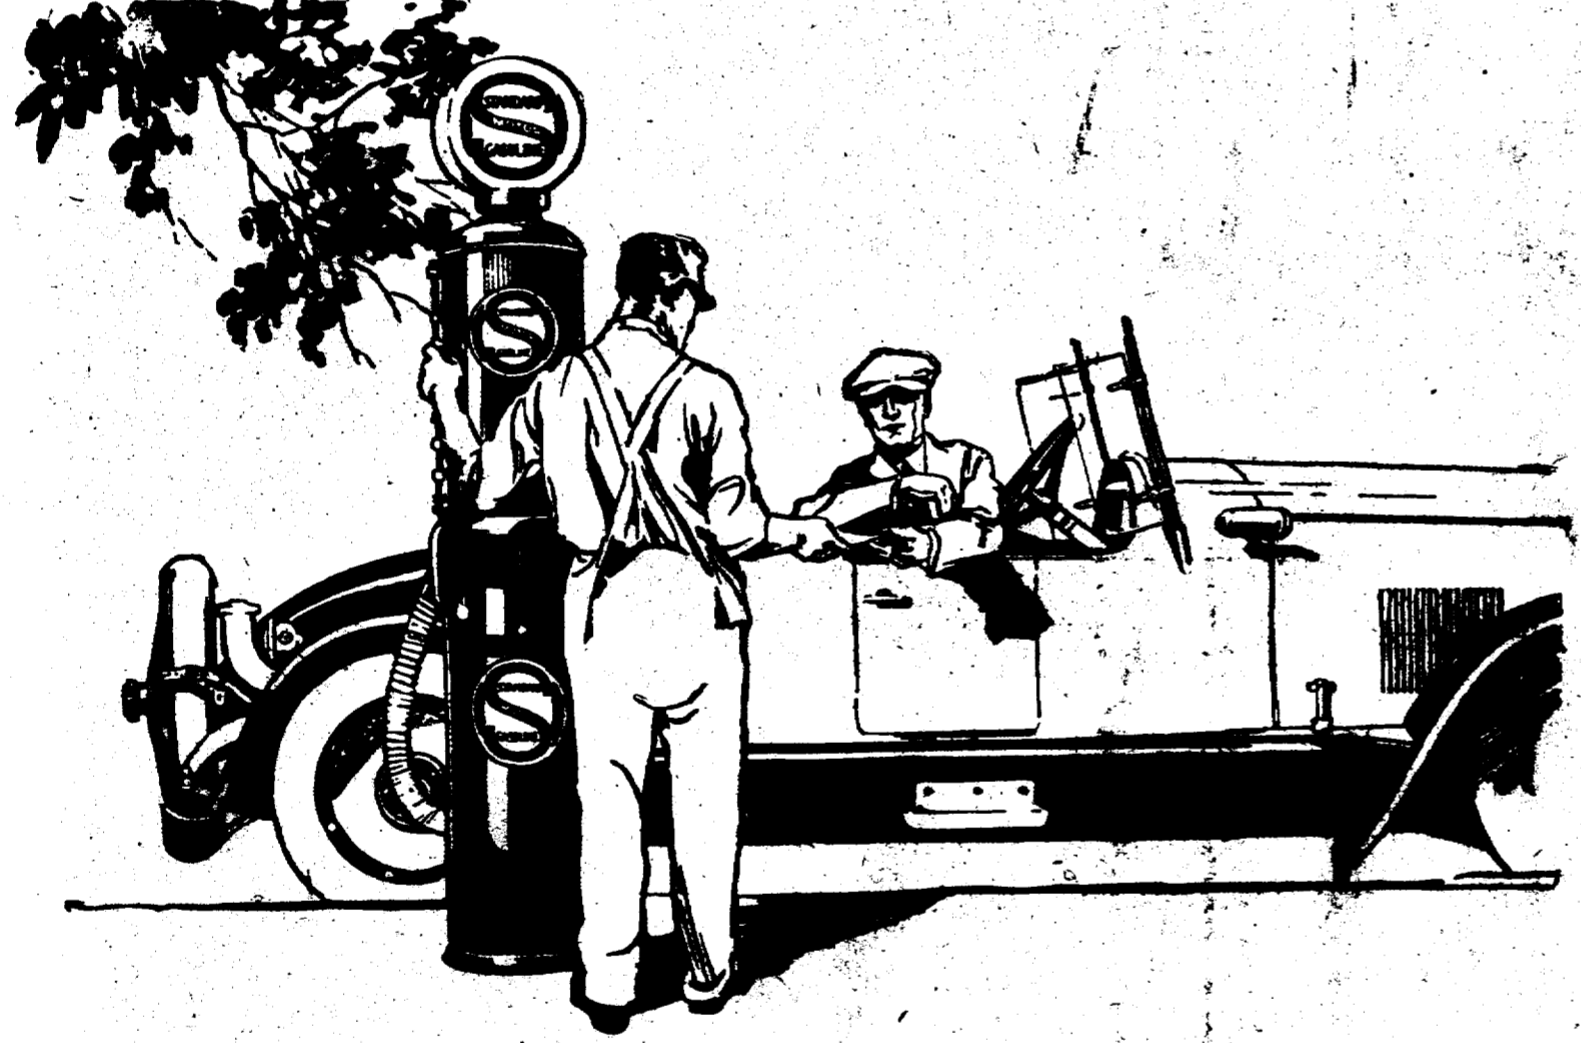

This is a constructive business ticket representing the best in every branch of Virginia life.

Fauquier Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

This is one of the oldest Mutual Fire Insurance Companies in Virginia. It has been in operation for 37 years. On account of a recent revision of its Constitution and By-Laws and Classified Rates, which are so low, enables us to quote you such rates that are sure to interest you. You can't afford to carry the risk. We will carry it for you. We are ready to serve you. YOU BETTER HAVE IT AND NOT NEED IT, THAN TO NEED IT AND NOT HAVE IT. We pay three-fourths appraised value. Come to see us or have us come to see you and we will tell you all about it. Call on or write to any one of the following directors nearest to you: JNO. M. KLINE, Manassas, Va. W. E. VARNER (Huntsville), P. O., Bristow, Va. A. S. ROBERTSON, Washington, Va. G. W. BEARM, Nokesville, Va.

President, J. S. GORRELL, Manassas, Va. Secretary-Treasurer, W. A. CROWNE

The Best Gasoline Costs no More

DURING our many years' experience in producing gasoline we have discovered that the proper blending of basic crudes is necessary for a well-balanced fuel. And our access to practically every developed oil field has insured full utilization of the various types and grades of crude in exactly the proportions needed. The improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline is produced through the efforts of our Development Department experts. These men have devoted their lives to the study of oil refining and the relation between the properties of oils and the uses to which they are adapted. "Standard" Motor Gasoline represents the fruit of their years of painstaking experimentation. It is uniform in quality, quick-firing, clean-burning. It is the best gasoline obtainable, and costs no more than any other. The consistent use of "Standard" Motor Gasoline will go far towards correcting many of the more common difficulties of motoring. If your engine overheats or gives off vile exhaust gases, if your cylinders miss or carbonize quickly, if the oil in your crankcase becomes diluted, it is probable that you have been using the wrong gasoline. Fill up with the improved "Standard". On sale wherever you see the familiar "S.O." sign. Remember—it costs no more.
