ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

JUDGE MATHEWS' VIEWS

Says Lack of Water, Sewerage and Electric Lights Hinders Growth of Manassas.

Judge W. B. Mathews, of Washington-Manassas, was at the New Prince William hotel Saturday night. He had just returned from New Orleans and the Mardi Gras festival, the great annual event in that city.

The judge stated that the festival this year was one of the finest that has ever been held—one well worth a trip to see. For about a week the whole city abandons work of all kinds and the entire population indulges in festivities of all kinds. The streets and houses are brilliantly illuminated and covered with varicolored bunting.

Thursday, the culmination of the fête, is, by far, the greatest of all, says the judge. Immense floats, gorgeous and beautiful, pass in a grand procession along the principal streets, which are lined on either side with reviewing stands having a seating capacity for the immense throng which gathers from many states in the Union to witness the grand pageant which takes several hours to pass a given point. Great numbers of men and women appear en masse. At night they have a grand ball which winds up the Mardi Gras. At the ball the richest possible costumes are worn by the most beautiful of women and the handsomest of men, many of the women being literally covered with diamonds and other precious gems.

The crowds which attend the capacity of the hotels, boarding houses and the humblest homes, for it must be remembered that each family has some friend or friends to entertain during the event, said he.

The crowds are very much like the crowds which attend the presidential inaugurations at Washington and the general appearance of the streets are the same, says the judge.

Judge Mathews owns a farm near Manassas as well as two lots in the northwestern section of the town and is a great believer in the future of Manassas, but states with great emphasis that, in his opinion, the town will not grow as it should and that there can be no appreciable gain in its population until its people fully realize the absolute necessity of sewerage, water and electric light utilities; that all through the north, south and west, towns and villages smaller than Manassas, which are not half so well situated, are brilliantly lighted by electricity and have the advantages of the utilities named and find them to pay handsomely besides adding immensely to the value of all properties and seldom fails to bring about a rapid increase of population.

The judge has traveled all over the United States and knows exactly the wants of Manassas further that, with the fine location of Manassas—with its exceptionally fine train service; in full view of the near-by beautiful Blue Ridge and Bull Run mountains within thirty miles of the National Capital, with its fine climate; male and female colleges; excellent graded public schools; nine churches; two modern and well-equipped national banks; a number of manufacturing stores of all kinds, and with a class of people who compare favorably with any town in the State—there is no reason in the world, except those stated, why

MR. B. S. ROBERTSON DEAD

Having Lived Far Beyond Allotted Time, He Dies at Bristow This Morning.

Mr. Basil S. Robertson, 79 years old, died in his home at Bristow at an early hour this morning. The funeral took place at the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. P. Fogle, of the United Brethren Church, officiating, and interment was made in the family burying ground at Bristow.

Besides his widow, the deceased survived by two sons, Henry and Everett, and one daughter, Mrs. Wiley W. Woodyard.

About two weeks ago Mr. Robertson suffered a stroke of partial paralysis and he gradually grew worse up to the time of dissolution.

There is no one in the upper portion of Prince William county better known than Mr. Robertson by reason of his continuous business as general merchant at Bristow, covering a period of nearly a half century. Though a man who had opinion of his own and the courage of his convictions, he was a kind neighbor and a devoted husband and father. The Journal extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

Literary Societies Organized.

The students of Osoquan school have organized two literary societies under the title of Nokomis for one and Clarkson for the other. The former takes its title from the noted teacher in Hiawatha, and the latter from the noted poet of Haymarket. The societies have each selected its color, emblem, motto and flower. The student body is maintaining much enthusiasm and is working hard to make its respective society a success.

DR. PRETTYMAN'S SERMON

God Chose Man as His Chief Instrumentality in Conquering The Will of the World.

Dr. F. J. Prettyman, presiding elder of the Washington District of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, South, was greeted by a large and appreciative congregation in Grace M. E. Church Sunday night when he delivered one of his characteristic forceful sermons. He took as his text: Acts, Eighth Chapter and 25th verse: "Then Philip opened his mouth and began at the same scripture and preached unto him Jesus."

The theme of his discourse was that God had chosen man to preach as His chief instrument in conquering the world and bringing its will into accord with that of His own. God moves in a mysterious way to perform the wonders of His Divine plan, said Rev. Prettyman. It would not be difficult, said he, for God to change the name that blasphemes His holy name nor to similarly afflict the arm raised against His holy word, but He goes fit to reach the heart of man through the instrumentality of the servants whom He has called to preach the gospel.

"Brethren, do not teach your children that the preacher of the gospel of Jesus Christ is a mere entertainer nor bring him down upon the level with the five-cent moving picture show," said the Divine speaker. Those who followed Rev. Mr. Prettyman, step by step, through his discourse, replete with wisdom and earnestness, went from the sacred edifice to their homes, filled with better thoughts and better resolutions.

GEN. CUSTIS LEE DEAD

At the Age of Four-Score Years, Confederate Chieftain's Eldest Son Dies in Fairfax.

General George Washington Custis Lee, eighty years old, eldest son of General Robert E. Lee, the great military chieftain of the Confederacy, formerly an aide-de-camp on the staff of the president of the Southern Confederacy, and president emeritus of Washington and Lee University, died in his home near Ravensworth station on the Southern Railway, in Fairfax county, of pneumonia, Tuesday.

General Lee had for many years made his home at Ravensworth, the home of the widow of his brother, Capt. Robert E. Lee, whose home is at Romancoke, King William county, and one sister, Miss Mary Custis Lee, who spends much time in Alexandria, Washington and other cities.

Besides his brothers and sisters, he leaves a number of nieces and nephews, among them Ann Carter and Mary Custis Lee, daughters of Captain and Mrs. Juliet Carter Lee, and the sons of Gen. W. H. F. Lee, whose wife was Miss Tabb Bolling, of Petersburg. Robert E. Lee, Jr., a former member of the Virginia Legislature, is one of the nephews.

The funeral services took place from Washington and Lee University, at Lexington, this morning. The body, accompanied by Robert E. Lee, the only surviving brother, Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Mrs. W. H. F. Lee and two nephews, Dr. C. Bohm Lee and Robert E. Lee, Jr., was taken from Ravensworth on Thursday morning at 9:15 to Lexington.

HIGH OPINION OF GRANT.

Weighing his statements carefully, Gen. Curtis Lee said upon one occasion in 1910: "I doubt whether my father ever made the declaration that he considered General Grant the greatest military genius the world had ever seen. My father did not make personal comparisons, and was not in the habit of using words of that kind. He had a very high opinion of General Grant, but if he ever declared that Grant's superior could not be found in all history the fact was never before brought to my attention."

Group Three, Virginia Bankers Association.

Group Three, Virginia Bankers Association, will hold a meeting in Harrisonburg to-morrow (Saturday), February 22nd.

Mr. Westwood Hutchison, cashier of The National Bank of Manassas, has accepted an invitation to serve as toast-master upon the occasion. A feature of the meeting will be the Round Table where every one present will be expected to have something to say of interest to the bankers of Virginia.

State Secretary Walker Scott, Virginia Bankers Association, Thos. B. McAdams and Attorney George Bryan have been invited and are expected to address the meeting. Mr. C. Pierce, of Alexandria, and Messrs. G. Raymond National Bank, and Westwood Hutchison, of Manassas, are also among those invited to speak.

The use of the Bible in public schools has received the hearty endorsement of the Ministerial Association of the Disciples of Christ for Richmond and vicinity. The association at its meeting this week adopted a set of resolutions which embody the views of its members on the subject.

H. G. ROBERTS WINS SUIT

Mrs. Martin Fails to Prove Allegations of Fraud to Have Deed Set Aside.

Judge Thornton, on Monday, notified the attorneys in the case that he had decided in favor of the defendant in the case of Mrs. O. T. Martin against Henry G. Roberts, based upon the failure of Mrs. Martin to prove her allegations of fraud upon the part of Roberts in his exchange of certain property in Pittsburgh for the Compton farm in this county.

The history of this case, which has attracted much interest in this and the adjoining counties, is as follows: Henry G. Roberts was the owner of certain property in Pittsburgh, and O. T. Martin and Clara P. Martin, his wife, were owners of Compton farm in Prince William county, and Bleak Hill and Red Hill farms in Fairfax county.

These parties agreed to exchange properties; that is, Martin agreed to exchange Compton farm, free of encumbrance, to Roberts for the Pittsburgh property, which, at the time, had deeds of trust on it aggregating $35,000. At the same time Compton farm had a deed of trust upon it for the sum of $20,000. Deeds were exchanged, Mr. Roberts being of the opinion that, in the trade, he had obtained, free of encumbrance, the farm for which he had traded. Later he discovered the trust named, and one or more judgments aggregating something over $1,000 which had been obtained against Martin and his wife. In addition to the Compton farm Martin was to pay Roberts $10,000 in cash. Upon discovering the existence of the trust and judgments referred to, and that Martin could not raise the cash payment, Mr. Roberts took title to the Bleak Hill and Red Hill farms in Fairfax in satisfaction of the cash difference due him on the exchange of properties.

Subsequently, Mrs. Martin instituted a chancery suit to set aside the deed from her and her husband to the Prince William and Fairfax properties on the ground that the conveyances of these properties were obtained by Roberts through fraud in that Roberts had represented to her husband that the Pittsburgh property was worth some $125,000 and that as much as $65,000 could be borrowed upon it, while as a matter of fact, the property was not worth the amount of the mortgages binding upon it. The Pittsburgh property was finally sold for taxes and brought $17,000.

Judge C. E. Nicol and Bryan Gordon brought the suit for Martin and Roberts was represented by C. V. Ford and Thos. H. Lizon. The German Savings Bank, of Pittsburgh, has instituted suit, through their attorneys, Messrs. Sinclair & Son, of Manassas, to have the equitable title to the Prince William and Fairfax properties declared to be in Annia G. Roberts, alleging that the Pittsburgh property was owned by her and that the title to the Virginia lands mentioned, were taken in Henry G. Roberts' name.

ASHBY'S RESTING PLACE

First Laid to Rest at University of Virginia, Now Rests in Beautiful Shenandoah.

According to Henry T. Louthan, of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., it may, perhaps, be interesting for historians of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to know where now rests the remains of that gallant cavalier, General Turner Ashby. According to Mr. Louthan, the remains of General Ashby were, at first, laid to rest, as stated by Miss Mary Johnson, in her "The Long Roll," in the cemetery of the University of Virginia. Shortly after the close of the war among the states the body was removed to the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, near Winchester, and there, under a single stone sable-carved, he sleeps with his gallant brother, Richard. Prof. R. L. Dabney, in his "Life and Campaigns of General Stonewall Jackson," edition of 1866, states that the friends of General Ashby selected the graveyard of the State University as his burial place, and that thither his body was conveyed with martial pomp, and buried while the thunders of the distant battle at Port Republic tolled a fitting knell for the great warrior.

Mr. Louthan further says: "More than once, when a boy, did I hear my father, who now lives in Charlottesville, speak of the re-interment of General Ashby, and for many years it was my pleasure to go with him, my mother, brother and sister, from Berryville each year, when the roses and lilies were in bloom, to take part in the memorial exercises held in the Confederate cemetery at Winchester. Upon one of my last visits there, I recall standing with my mother at the grave of the Ashbys, while gentle Southern matrons laid sweet flowers of the Valley upon their silent tomb."

General Ashby was a cousin of Mrs. T. Wolfe, of Washington, formerly of Manassas.

DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION

Dairymen, and Other Farmers Taught a Great Many Things They Never Knew Before.

The Virginia Dairymen's convention which met in Staunton last week elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Joseph A. Turner, of Hollins, president (re-elected); O. A. Thomas, Bealeton, vice president, and W. D. Saunders, secretary-treasurer. Messrs. W. D. Saunders, Richmond; W. C. Brainger, Blacksburg; W. C. Hoover, Timberville; A. F. Howard, Farmville; J. T. Haldman, Winchester; T. P. Shelton, Burkeville; J. B. Andrews, Roanoke; Peyton Rowe, Fredericksburg, and T. J. Strauch, Richmond, were elected directors.

The Prince William county dairymen were represented at the convention by Messrs. W. T. Thomason and J. J. Conner, of near Manassas, and I. A. Miller and Mathon Sumner, of Nokomis. Mr. Thomason, of the Prince William delegation, reports that there were fully 500 Virginia dairymen present, which number was greatly augmented by attendees from other states. He further states that the convention was thoroughly harmonious and an enjoyable one and that a great deal of valuable information was disseminated among the handlers of the lactical fluid.

The Creamerymen and Butter-makers Association of the State met in joint session with the Dairymen, holding their second annual convention.

TWO HEARTS BEAT AS ONE

Miss Quarles Becomes Bride of Mr. Yowell—Will Tour Land of Sunshine and Flowers.

The Manassas Baptist church was the scene of a very pretty marriage at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night when Miss Frieda Lewis, youngest daughter of Rev. Dr. H. L. Quarles, pastor of the church, became the bride of Mr. John William Yowell, member of the well-known firm of Yowell & Company, of Culpeper.

The bride wore a white meteor, trimmed in pearls and crystals, with veil flowing therewith and caught with lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of the same flowers. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl brooch, a gift from the bridegroom. Her going-away gown was of midnight blue cloth with hat and gloves to match.

The bridegroom was attired in the conventional black.

Mrs. E. C. Clarke, of Richmond, an intimate friend of the Quarles family, who was matron of honor, was costumed in crepe de chine with trimmings of crystal and rhinestone, and carried a bouquet of pink Kilmarnock roses.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother—Edwin L. Quarles, of Baltimore—entered the church. The couple were preceded down the aisle by the ushers, Messrs. John J. Davies, Russell and Ernest Yowell and E. H. Lipscomb, to the pulpit where they and the matron of honor were met by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Chilton Yowell, brother of the bridegroom, while the church organ sounded the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march under the skilful touch of Miss Julia Lewis.

After the giving away of the bride by her brother, Mr. Edwin L. Quarles, the pastor, in a graceful and impressive manner, proceeded with the marriage ceremony, including the ring feature, while a sea of faces in the congested edifice looked down upon the wedding scene.

The ceremony concluded, the wedding party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and were driven to the home of the bride, where the wedding feast was changed for a traveling costume.

The church was lighted brilliantly with candelabra and was a veritable bower of palms, ferns and potted plants, contributed for the occasion by numerous Manassas friends, while an arch of evergreens spanned the front of the pulpit. The color scheme of pink and white subdued the rays from the light of the chandeliers and cast a pleasing halo around the marriage scene.

About fifty guests of the event came down from Culpeper in a special coach attached to train 44, due to arrive in Manassas at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

During the hour preceding the marriage the bridegroom elect entertained at dinner at the hotel the bridal party and numerous out-of-town guests.

The evening preceding the day of the marriage there was a reception at the church, and at its conclusion the wedding party was entertained at a buffet luncheon at the home of the bride-elect, the same color scheme as that carried out at the church being strictly observed.

The bride was the recipient of numerous beautiful and useful presents, consists of sterling

GENERAL NOTES

With the death of General George Washington Custis Lee, at Ravensworth, this week, another of the living sacred ties that bind us to the memories of the war among the states has been severed. As the eldest son of the great Confederate chieftain, he was entitled to the highest honor and respect, not for any honors won upon the field, as did his illustrious father, but for his charming personality and high intellectual attainments.

GOLD SINGLE AND DOUBLE EAGLES SACRIFICED.

When five small boys started to sell $10 and $20 gold coin on the streets of Scranton, Pa., last week, for twenty-five cents each, with the supply apparently unlimited, curiosity ran high as to the source of supply. Finally the boys were taken into custody and given the third degree. When searched, the pockets of the youthful coin venders turned out $500 in genuine gold coin and the third degree revealed the fact that the boys had found a pot of the gold coin which was buried in a box in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by an old miser.

THE JOURNAL'S REPRESENTATIVE

In our local contemporary's write-up of the Polk Miller entertainment in Conner's hall last week, the editor (?) took occasion to say: "On the stage was sitting a few Confederate veterans and THE JOURNAL'S representative." Yes, our contemporary was correct in stating that THE JOURNAL'S was seated among the old vets, for he is always "on the job" to furnish THE JOURNAL with the most up-to-date news, based on reliable information, in order that its readers may determine whether the story is going or coming. He was present upon the cordial invitation of Prof. Miller and his famous colleague, Col. Tom Booker, and although he occupied quite a cold position he escaped "an attack of grime."

Henry M. Prather, 83 years old, president of the board of directors of the Florida and East Coast Railway, and who constructed the over-sea railroad which joins Key West, Florida, to the mainland, is reported to be seriously ill at St. Augustine, Fla., and under the care of the most prominent physicians in the state.

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH.

When the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments were added to the Federal constitution, soon after the close of the war among the states, we thought the addition would end, for time to come, the abridgment of States rights. Now comes the sixteenth amendment adopted on February 3, just one day after the annual advent of the ground hog, giving the United States the right to impose a direct income tax upon the citizens of the several States.

And so, one by one, the States of the Union delegated their sovereign powers to the Federal government, until that government is now almost supreme, God save the Commonwealth!

HOBBLE skirts in many cases are not all-wool, neither are they a yard wide.

SINCE our candy factory whistle has ceased to blow, early-risers are dependent upon the rooster's crow. Excuse us, Sister Robinson.

SOME "guy" has just discovered that the abbreviation, initially, for February means Freeze everybody. A few days of the past week fully substantiates the discovery.

SECRETARY MACVEAGH is now seeking to shorten the length of paper currency. We can't speak for other sections but the filthy "rags" are short enough in this section already.

A CORRESPONDENT of a Woman's Journal asks: "Why does a match go out?" Well, generally speaking, we should suppose that a match goes out—say between the acts—for the purpose of cooling off.

A WELL-FOUNDED rumor in political circles is to the effect that President-elect Wilson will call an extra session of Congress to assemble April 3, to consider the passage of the tariff bills and enact a new currency law.

WHEN Sidna Allen shall have served the thirty-five year sentence for his complicity in the Hillsville shooting, should he live so long, he will face a Federal charge of prejury growing out of a counterfeiting case in which he figured in Western North Carolina and for his apprehension $500 reward was offered.

THE Senate of North Carolina by a rising unanimous vote last Saturday, passed the bill for the establishment of a home for wives and widows of needy Confederate veterans.

THE town of Mt. Jackson, Shenandoah county, has adopted the curfew law and requires that all children be in off the streets every night not later than 8 o'clock. The great difficulty, nowadays, is to draw the line between children and old folks.

THE Barnum & Baily Circus Company has signified its willingness to furnish a young menagerie for the inaugural parade—a tiger for the Princeton boys; a donkey as democratic symbol, a moose for the progressives and an elephant as the republican emblem.

SATURDAY was the first time since Washington, according to Senate historians, that the president of the United States had entered the Senate chamber while Congress was in session. His presence was to take part in the eulogy of the late Vice-President Sherman.

MR. HENRY HOLMES, the American, whose wife was recently killed in the Mexican revolution, is well-known in Suffolk and Southampton county. Mr. Holmes, who is fifty-five years old, was educated at Randolph-Macon college and taught school in Southampton county.

It appears that the weather, for the past week, was neither Progressive, Democratic nor Republican and certainly not "Stand-pat." In fact it has been flirting with both the cool and ice man and reminds one of the old negro who said: "I didn't say ain't you; I said is you?"

THERE is, perhaps, no one outside of President-elect Wilson, himself, who knows at present who his cabinet will be. We certainly do not, neither do we care; but we feel that when it is selected it will be wisely provided and meet the approval of a large majority of the Democratic party.

OF LOCAL INTEREST Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them. This is a purely local event. It took place in Manassas. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word; To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about. Endorsed by unknown people. William Foote, prop. wall paper store, Quarry St., Manassas, Va., says: "I have had considerable trouble with my kidneys since Dean's Kidney Pills were introduced two years ago. The testimonial I gave at that time still holds good. I have taken Dean's Kidney Pills off and on for years and find that they do just as represented. They not only regulate the action of my kidneys but also relieve the pain and discomfort attending their use of this remedy."

A three-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keys, of Brentsville, was found dead in bed at an early hour Sunday morning. Cockrell was taken, by Dr. John H. Iden, to George Washington University hospital, Washington, Sunday noon, for an operation for appendicitis and complications. Mrs. W. Hill Brown was summoned Sunday to the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Jas. L. Hoop, in Charlestown, Va., who was reported extremely ill of pneumonia. Advice received from the sick lady this morning is, that though she is still in a critical condition, there is some hope of her recovery. A lady in Manassas holds the championship for the dispatching of mice. One day this week she dispatched thirteen in one bunch, two making their escape. But for the unlucky number she would have captured the rodents alive and sent them to Washington for use of the Suffragette paraders on inauguration day. At the quarterly meeting of the Washington district of the Baltimore Conference held in Grace M. E. Church Monday night, the following stewards to serve for the Conference year beginning April 1, were elected: Messrs. R. S. Hynson, W. R. Myers, W. M. Wheeler, C. E. Fisher, C. E. Nash, S. T. Burke, who was one of the winners of a free trip from Manassas to Baltimore and return as a guest of the Baltimore Bargain House by reason of his solving the puzzle given as a basis of such trip, informs us that there were 186 of the House's guests, besides the wives of four of them, in the special coach attached to train 36, which carried the party to the port of Baltimore Monday night. Mr. Frank I. Israel, a successful teacher of Boys Bible Classes and president of the Fairfax county Sunday School Association, is named as one of the chief speakers at the Valley Boys Conference to be held in Harrisonburg Friday, February 28 and Saturday, March 1, with a mass-meeting on the Sunday afternoon following, under the auspices of the Secondary Division of the State Sunday School Association.

Among the beautiful and unique decorations about the rooms in which the ladies of Grace M. E. Church are holding their annual bazaar to-day, is a representation of the world-renowned George Washington cherry tree, full of imitation ripe-red cherries. Hanging in the tree are replicas of two of the traditional hatchets, and perched upon one of its limbs are two excellent representations of owls, the handiwork of the ladies having the affair in charge. Mrs. L. E. Martin, of Bowling Green, at a late hour Saturday evening, received injuries from which she died when an automobile in which she was riding in company with her husband and little daughter and Mrs. E. B. Travis, was struck by express train No. 51 of the R. F. & P. Railroad Company at Guinea Station. Mrs. Travis sustained a broken wrist but the other occupants of the car were uninjured. Mr. Martin is cashier of the Caroline county bank and is well-known in Manassas. Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., will give an entertainment in the chapter room on next Friday, February 28, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. An interesting program will be given, including a beautiful tribute from the pen of a Southern author, Mrs. Paul, to our "Boy Major of Artillery," Joseph White Latimer, born and reared in Prince William county. Refreshments will be served. Admission 10 cents, proceeds to be devoted to relief fund of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The death, last week in Washington, of Jas. R. Tapp, marked the passing of another brave ex-Confederate soldier. Mr. Tapp's first military experience was with a company of troops, of which the late Chas. H. Whittington, of Manassas, was a member, was on duty at Harpers Ferry, and subsequently at the execution of John Brown, in Charlestown, West Virginia, then Virginia. At the battle of Spottsylvania Courthouse he carried the wounded Major John W. Daniel off the field under the fire of the enemy. The Manassas Rod and Gun Club—fifty in number—will present a petition to the Board of Supervisors of Prince William county at its next meeting, requesting that the board adopt that portion of its Occoquan Falls Fish-Ladder Committee's report which recommends the blasting of a channel at Occoquan Falls to admit the passage of fish up the tributaries of Occoquan bay, instead of the adoption of a fish-ladder of any design, believing that the channel proposition would be more effective for the object in view. Mrs. Jas. M. Nourse, a former resident of Manassas when her husband was pastor of the Presbyterian church, was a guest of the Fairfax county Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at its February meeting with Mrs. W. C. Welburn at Ballston last Saturday, in honor of Mrs. Caroline A. Sherman, former vice-regent of the chapter. Mrs. Welburn read a patriotic poem descriptive of the burning of the White House in Washington by the British in 1814, and the flight of Dolly Madison to Salons hall, now the home of Mrs. Smoot. Silver Medal Contest. There will be an elocutionary contest for a silver medal at Purcell school house tomorrow (Saturday) night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The following young folks will take part in the contest: Misses Maggie Robinson, Irene Purcell, Annie Blanche and Carrie Leary, and Cora Bell and Messrs. Silverware, cut-glassware, delicate chinaware and high-grade table cutlery.

The wedded couple left Manassas on the 9:30 o'clock train for an extended trip through the "land of sunshine and flowers," including several days' stay at Palm Beach, Florida. They will be at their home in Culpeper to their friends after March 15.

Those of the out-of-town guests whose names we were enabled to obtain, beside those mentioned were: Mrs. W. C. Scott, the bride's aunt, and Miss Livingstone Scott, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mesdames B. C. and R. B. Macoy, Russell Yowell and James Bragg, of Culpeper; Edwin L. Quarles, of Baltimore, and C. C. Miss Quarles the Honoree of a Pre-Nuptial Event.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Westwood Hutchison presented an attractive scene the evening of the 14th, when the Misses Hutchison entertained in compliment to Miss Frieda Lewis Quarles, who was married to Mr. J. W. Yowell, of Culpeper, last Tuesday.

Miss Quarles was charmingly gowned in pink chiffon with pink carnations and gracefully assisted in receiving the guests.

A pleasant time was spent in several contests, throughout which were skillfully woven the old-fashioned melodies, and a fishing contest which yielded to each angler an unique valentine souvenir.

At 10:30 a dainty two-course supper was served in the rose-shaded dining room. Confections and carnations were the favors. At the close a charming toast was given "To the brides of yesterday and tomorrow." Then, to the strains of Lohengrin, the company returned to the parlor for a "feast of music and a flow of soul," till the time for the reluctant good-byes.

The guests were: Miss Frieda Lewis Quarles, Manassas; Mrs. Emmett Clarke, Richmond; Miss Livingstone Scott, Charlotte, N. C.; Miss Ada Hargrove, Eastern College; Misses Julia Lewis, M. M. Hargrove, J. T. Hamrick, H. Whitmore; Messrs. Jno. Santos, Eastern College, and Huston Cox and Dr. J. M. Lewis, Manassas.

Slot Machine in Liberal Mood.

The combination chewing gum and candy vending slot machine at the passenger depot in this place, was in an extremely liberal mood Sunday. It not only promptly delivered the goods called for but returned the purchase price as well. This state of affairs continued until reported by Master Herman Bryant, who reported the matter to day manager Merchant at the telegraph office, there being no one on duty at the time, in the waiting room in the depot where the machine was located. When Mr. Merchant appeared on the scene he found about 75 pennies in the receptacle where the gum and candy is dropped when the coin is placed in the slot. Several trials were made to induce the machine to accept the price of its wares but in every case it refused to do so and returned it with the same efficacy.

First Year Class, M. H. S., Entertainment.

The First Year Class, M. H. S., gave a delightful entertainment at the High School Tuesday afternoon. It was a great occasion for the First Year class when it made its first appearance before an interested audience at 2:30 o'clock. The president, Miss Eleanor Saffer, was supported by the secretary, Miss Nancy Green, who called the roll.

"America," sung by the school, followed the roll call.

THE PROGRAM

- 1. "Eight Important Facts Concerning Good Roads" - Peyton Larkin.
2. Reading.
3. Part Song "Juanita" - Misses Louise Maloney, Eleanor Saffer, Gladys Saunders and Jessie Bennett.
4. Recitation - "The Influence of a Hymn" - Virginia Walker.
5. "A Story Told" - Winfield Athey.

8. Address on Good Roads - Mr. R. S. Hynson.
9. Reading of the Club paper.

The address of Mr. Hynson was listened to with a great deal of interest and, the thanks of the class were extended to him for the time and inconvenience which his coming down to speak to it had occasioned him. Despite the excellent argument put forth by the affirmative in the debate, the judges decided in favor of the negative.

Former Resident Very Versatile.

The Johnson City Staff, published at Johnson City, Tenn., in its issue of last Saturday says: "Captain Kyle M. King's reception on the last evening in honor of the recently appointed Justice Samuel Cole Williams, furnished an eloquent and dramatic climax to the brilliant page that events of the past few days have added to the history of old East Tennessee. The genius of the versatile captain was given full play in adding a series of delightful surprises of prolonged enjoyment, to a display of prodigious hospitality, seldom if ever witnessed heretofore here. Refreshments, not conventionally 'dainty' and 'delicious' but overabundant and ambrosial; cigars from the tropics; music, as long as the law would allow, mingling with prolonged laughter, and applause at the brilliant rally of some trained 'Knight of the Decadence'."

Captain King is a nephew of Mr. C. E. Nash, of Manassas, and also a native of this county.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the School Board of Occoquan District, held February 4, 1913, the following resolution of respect was adopted: On January 22, 1913, the death angel came and took from our board Brother C. C. Couch, our chairman. He was a faithful member of our board, having attended his first meeting on April 2, 1897, and ever ready after that at the call of the chairman to obey. He was elected chairman of the board September 1, 1911, and served in that capacity until his death. He attended his last meeting of the board August 29, 1912. Having served the district faithfully for 16 years, he was ever ready to help in every undertaking for the upbuilding of the schools of the district. Of him it may well be said, he did what he could for the schools. Therefore, be it resolved: 1st - That we tender the bereaved family our deepest sympathy. 2nd - That the board has lost one of its devoted members, and that in the home there is a vacancy that can never be filled. 3rd - That these resolutions be inscribed in our minutes, a copy be sent to the family and to the MANASSAS JOURNAL for publication. Cousins Thompson, Chairman. L. LEWIS, Clerk.

MR. KOINER'S BULLETIN FIXES DATE OF PRIMARY

Replete With a Multitude of Subjects of Great Importance to Farmers.

Commissioner Geo. W. Koiner is now sending out his February Bulletin to farmers throughout the State. This issue covers a multitude of subjects of great importance to the farmer and should be carefully read.

Care of winter ewes is practically discussed and in this connection statement is made that there are a million head of sheep in Virginia and room for several million more. There ought to be some sheep on nearly every farm in the State, says Mr. Koiner.

The importance of top-dressing clover is urged. More Alsike clover should be seeded. It is a splendid land improver and resists drought better than other clovers, says he. The Commissioner recommends seeding more Alsike for reasons stated.

A very interesting article on "Home Ginning" as a side line on the farm will be found among the topics discussed.

The importance of painting farm buildings and farm implements is another important subject which is emphasized by the Commissioner.

"What Dairy Thinking Has Done" and tests made with cows showing importance of such tests is ably discussed, suggesting methods of getting rid of unproductive cows.

The article on "Molasses for Feeding Cattle and Horses," proving that it is profitable if fed in small quantities, should be read.

Probably the most important article to the farmer, to be found in the bulletin, is the one on "Agricultural Seed." The Commissioner urges farmers to buy only seed marked "Standard" as this is a guarantee of purity and germination.

A PERSONAL TRIBUTE

Mrs. Edith Hunter Janney was born in Prince George county, Md., in 1848. She died suddenly at her winter home, 2415 18th street, northwest, Washington, Saturday, February 8, 1913. It is no wonder, after such a life, death had no fears. There was no doubt or uncertainty, no cloud to shut out the brightness of her father's face but perfect submission and perfect peace. When the time came, according to God's will, and her life work was done death touched her and she slept.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. Y. Register, of the Mt. Vernon Place church, assisted by Rev. Dudley, of the Episcopal church, who was a nephew by marriage, whose remarks were beautiful and appropriate. A solo, "Lead Kindly Lights," was sweetly rendered by a nephew of the deceased, after which she was laid away beneath a mound of beautiful flowers, emblems of immortality, by the tender and loving hands of sons and some-in-law, in the Presbyterian cemetery, in Alexandria, where she was reared, educated and married in youth.

Nothing was sweeter to her, or brought her greater happiness than an unceasing, untiring, self-sacrificing effort to promote the happiness and welfare of her children. They cherish sweet and beloved memories of their sainted mother. All were converted and brought into the church in early childhood, remaining until this day, largely through her influence and in the day of adversity will rise up and call her blessed.

Her children are Mr. Tyson Janney, of Occoquan; Mr. John Janney, of Washington; Mr. S. M. Janney, of Fredericksburg; Dr. Walter Janney, of West Virginia; Mrs. S. V. Hildebrand, of Front Royal; Mrs. A. B. Carter, Mrs. Alward Johnstone and Miss Rhett Janney, of Washington.

Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord. Yes, saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors and Candidates Required to File Notification of Candidacy by Noon on June 6th.

Tuesday, August 5, 1913, is the day and date set by the State Committee for holding a democratic primary for the nomination of party candidates for State elective offices, beginning at sunrise and closing at sunset.

Candidates for office are required to file their names with the chairman of the committee by noon June 6th, having previously paid their entrance fees to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth. This action followed the adoption by the committee of the revised party primary plan as reported by the sub-committee.

The sub-committee changed the plan to the extent that the time limit for holding primaries, heretofore placed between sixty and ninety days in advance of the general election, was eliminated, leaving the date optional with the State, district, county or city committee, as the cases may be. Twenty-seven members of the committee were present.

Chairman Blyden presented the report of the sub-committee on the primary plan, and the same was adopted. On motion of Judge R. T. W. Duke, of Albemarle, the plan as a whole was adopted.

Acting under a resolution of the Norfolk convention, the committee decreed that in the future the representation by magisterial districts and wards in county and city committees shall be proportioned to the democratic vote cast at the preceding election for Congress.

Hon. R. C. L. Moncure represented the Eighth Congressional District in the meeting of the committee.

HELPFUL HINTS.

When making gravy, if you have a ginger snap add it well crumbed to the gravy for thickening instead of flour. It gives a rich color to the gravy.

To remove machine or carriage grease from clothing, rub well with lard, and after standing for an hour or two, wash with hot soap suds.

Fruit stains of any kind may be removed by placing the stained portion of the cloth over a bowl and pouring boiling hot water over the stain. It will gradually fade away.

Coffee, tea or cocoa stains should be soaked in cold water for an hour, then wring dry and proceed as for fruit stains, pouring boiling water through the stained portion.

When leaving wood piles and stumps for some time, lay thicknesses of newspaper in the bottom and around the sides of the pile, filling them a third full of water. The paper will hold moisture after the water has dried out of the stumps.

Salt crusts that have been scalded and drained three times then is ready to serve with chopped parsley and butter.

Frying pans and old dripping pans that have been used for years may be nicely cleaned by burning them in the furnace fire for half a day. They will come out sweet as new.

Fresh paint may be easily removed by an application of turpentine; but old dry paint will need naphtha. Use it out of doors, as it is highly inflammable.

Peroxide, used on a piece of cotton wound around a toothpick, will remove stains under the nails.

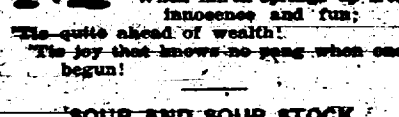

Always keep a small bottle of peroxide on hand. If it is used to use as a wet sponge or any inflamed skin.

Pure glycerine diluted with a little lemon juice is a good softener and whitener of the hands.

A roll of adhesive tape is invaluable. There are countless ways of using it. A piece put on a sore corn or burn will protect it and keep the sore from hardening. It can even be used in an emergency to mend a rent in a gown. Place the plaster on the under side and press it with a hot iron, bringing the frayed edges together.

SOUP AND SOUP STOCK

During the cold weather soup stock may be kept on hand indefinitely, and with the addition of different herbs and flavors one may have an endless variety of soups.

BROWN SOUP STOCK.—Wipe a six pound shin of beef, and cut the lean meat in thin cubes; brown a third of the meat in a hot frying pan in the marrow from the bones. Put the remaining two-thirds of the meat into a kettle with the bones, add cold water and let stand a half hour. Place on the back part of the range, add the browned meat and heat gradually to the boiling point. Simmer for four hours, cover and cook slowly six hours, keeping the liquid below the boiling point. A fresh veal, is an ideal place to cook soup. To this stock add a half cup each of celery, cut fine, turnip, carrot and onion, a sprig of marjoram, two sprigs of parsley, half a teaspoonful of pepper, corns, six cloves, half a bayleaf and three sprigs of thyme and a tablespoonful of salt. Cook one and a half hours; strain and cool as quickly as possible.

MACARONI SOUP.—Cook a fourth of a cup of macaroni broken in half-inch pieces, until soft in boiling water. Drain and add to a quart of brown soup stock heated to the boiling point. Season with salt and pepper, and serve hot.

WHITE SOUP STOCK.—Wipe three pounds of the knuckle of veal, remove from the bone and cut in small pieces. Cut a pound of lean beef, also, in small pieces, put the the boiling point, add an onion, a stalk of celery, half a teaspoon of pepper corns, half a bay leaf, two sprigs of thyme, two cloves, with three quarts of water. Boil three or four hours, until the stock is reduced one-half. Strain, cool and the soup is ready to use.

Says Lack of Water, Sewerage and Electric Lights Hinders Growth of Manassas.

the population of Manassas, if its citizens will only awaken to the necessity for the installation of the utilities named and actually install them, should not at least double its population within the next ten years.

Another most important matter, in the judge's opinion, is for our people to pay more attention to our streets and to the county roads leading into our town, for it is patent to all that unless our roads are better cared for it will be next to impossible to induce strangers to invest in our farming lands and to locate in our midst. As the greater portion of our wealth comes from the soil it is highly important that farmers have good roads by which they can secure easy access to the markets, for, unless such is the case, farming cannot be made to pay, particularly under the slipshod method of farming which now obtains to a great extent.

Strangers who have come into our county, said Judge Mathews, in search of farming lands, in many cases, have been deterred from investing on account of the difficulties they would have to encounter in getting the farm products to market and in hauling back fertilizers and supplies.

Our roads, said he, are entirely too narrow, barely wide enough in some instances to permit of the passage of vehicles—and the water allowed to accumulate in the roads until they become almost impassable at times, and this for the reason that no provision is made for the escape of water by proper system of ditching and the elevation of the centre of the road bed by the use of the earth taken from the ditches.

It is a fact, said the judge, that in every county where good roads are found the farmers are prosperous and the towns—the distributing points—are thrifty.

Judge Mathews left Manassas on train No. 10, Sunday afternoon and expressed the hope that some definite movement will be made by our town authorities towards providing the much-needed public utilities named by him.

PUBLIC OPINION WANTED

On Matters Concerning Federal Aid in Public Road Improvement in Virginia.

The "Joint Committee on Federal Aid in the Construction of Post Roads" is desirous of obtaining an intelligent expression of public opinion on the basic questions involved in the granting of Federal aid in road improvement. The questions asked are as follows:

1. Should the Government make appropriations in aid of public roads?

2. On what roads should the first Government appropriation, if made, be expended: (a) all roads; (b) post roads (R. F. D. and Star routes); (c) main traveled market roads; (d) main highways connecting important cities and towns in the state; (e) trunk line, interstate highways connecting State capitals and large cities?

3. Should the Government appropriation be expended on construction, on maintenance, on general improvement, or on any or all of these, or should the allotment by the Government be unconditional, or paid as a reward after local authorities have constructed or maintained a highway in good condition?

4. What proportion of cost of construction, improvement, or maintenance should be borne by the National Government, State, County Road District, and abutting property owners, respectively, or what amounts should be allotted to the states on an unconditional plan, or what amounts per mile should be paid as rewards?

5. Should the Federal appropriation be apportioned among the states on basis of population, area, mileage of roads, mileage of rural and star routes, taxable valuation, or a combination of these?

6. Should the supervision of construction or maintenance of Government-aided roads be by the Federal Government, the State and local authorities, or jointly?

The readers of THE JOURNAL in this county, are requested to send in their views upon the subject, not for publication, but for the purpose of obtaining a consensus of opinion for report to the chairman of the committee named.

STATE HEALTH EXHIBIT

Every Citizen of Prince William County Should See This Important Collection.

There are, perhaps, few people in Manassas or in Prince William county who have an adequate conception of the illustrated posters, sent out by the State Board of Health, which are on exhibition in the library of the Manassas High School, and which were obtained by the popular and efficient principal of the school, Miss Eugenia Osbourne.

These posters, which may be obtained by any club, civic league or school, free of charge, consists of warnings against the dread diseases of tuberculosis, typhoid and diphtheria. Special emphasis is laid on the dangers of spreading tuberculosis by means of the common house fly, dust from tubercular sputa, the common drinking cup for public use, the sitting around in a close room inhaling germs thrown off in the coughing and spitting of

By no means least, a lack of proper sewerage and sanitary closets. One of the posters is devoted entirely to the importance of fresh air and the danger of close rooms. Another poster shows the head of the much-talked-of Hook worm.

It is worth the time and trouble of any one, who would protect their homes from the dread diseases referred to above, to call at the High School and examine this most important exhibit.

BASKET WILLOW CUTTINGS

United States Department of Agriculture Preparing to Send Them Out Free.

The United States Department of Agriculture is getting ready to fill requests for the basket willow cuttings grown last year on its experimental farm at Arlington, Va. Distribution of these cuttings takes place early in March each spring, to farmers and others who wish to make trials of basket willow on lands too wet for other crops. From 50 to 100 cuttings are given each person.

The distribution is not a mere giving away of Government material to persons who desire to get something free; because it is required that each recipient of cuttings shall make a report of the treatment given and the results obtained. Several select varieties are included in each set that is distributed, and the aim is to secure information as to the best variety for each locality, since no one kind can be relied upon to yield maximum results over a wide range of territory.

In the basket willow investigations carried on at the Arlington Farm, Arlington, Va., and at Ames, Iowa, by the Forest Service, particular attention has been given to the development of American species for basket making purposes. The European species now commonly used have never proved themselves entirely adapted to American conditions and are as a rule less thrifty than the native species. At present there is at Arlington a willow garden containing nearly 500 lots gathered from all parts of the country and representing practically every species and variety found in the United States and Canada.

A system of selection which has been carried on for several years is already indicating which strains show the best basket willow characteristics for American conditions.

A vacant chair by our fire side. A voice we loved is still. Our home, once so cheerful and happy, has been silent since mother was ill. 'Tis sad to part with our loved one, Yet 'tis God's will.

A Show of Real Merit.

Those who failed to witness the Cooke Comedy Company's four-act comedy drama, "A Miner's Son," in Conner's opera house last night missed seeing one of the best shows of the kind which has ever appeared in Manassas.

It is not the custom of THE JOURNAL to throw bouquets to every show that comes to town, simply through hope of reward, but when a show of real merit, such as was seen last night, with each character brilliant in presenting his or her role and capable of swaying the audience from laughter to tears—makes its advent here, we feel like letting they may have the opportunity of enjoying the same in common with ourselves.

The company will appear both tonight and tomorrow night and you should not fail to attend. Tonight the company will present a four-act comedy-drama entitled "In Mexico," a story of the Mexican rebellion. Tomorrow night "Our New Sheriff" will be presented.

Basketball Winners.

The town team and the Fourth Year were the winning combinations in last Friday's double-header in Nicol's Hall. The town quint took the First Year in camp to the tune of 18 to 10, while the Seniors ran away with the Sophs by the one-sided count of 24 to 12. Cather and Lynch starred for the town boys while Florence probably put up the best game for the first year.
