ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL AT MRS. ROUND'S

Some Facts of Interest to Every Person in Eighth Congressional District.

The following statement of the work done in the Manassas High School has been prepared for the papers of the Eighth Congressional District, since the Manassas school is one of the ten congressional district high schools with state appropriation for agricultural work:

MANASSAS AGRICULTURAL HIGH SCHOOL FOR EIGHTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, MANASSAS, VA.

Three four-year courses offered—agricultural, academic and normal training. Tuition free to all students of the Eighth Congressional District.

I. Agricultural, Normal Training and Domestic Science Courses. The four-year agricultural course fits for practical farming, or for entrance to any agricultural college.

The two-year domestic science course includes household sanitation, the chemistry of foods and much practice in practical cooking.

A course in normal training and shop work is given in the first year.

Agricultural Extension Work. A large body of work is also conducted by the High School through its various extension agencies, the Farmers' Institute, Woman's Home Economic Club, Boy's Corn Club and Girl's Canning Club. Demonstrations and exhibits of the work of these organizations are made, and prominent scientific lecturers address the meetings.

II. Academic or College Preparatory Course. The standards of work of the general College Entrance Examination Board are maintained, and completion of this course gives entrance credit to the University of Virginia, Cornell University and other institutions of similar rank.

III. Normal Training Course. This calls for three years of high school work and one year of normal training. Teachers holding first or second grade certificates may enter for the year of normal training only, if desired. Observation work is given not only in the adjacent graded and rural schools, but also in the schools of Washington. The normal department is in charge of a graduate of Teachers' College, Columbia University.

The athletic work of the school is supported by a student's league. Trained instruction and supervision are given.

Good library, laboratory and shop facilities.

Circulars sent on request.

Alexandria Man Killed.

Mr. William H. Peck, a wealthy grocer of Alexandria, and Mr. Ernest Zell, an employe of the Alexandria Glass Factory, were killed last Sunday when the Peck automobile, in which they were riding, crashed near a Washington and Old Dominion crossing at Home's crossing near Potomac. The automobile was hurled a hundred feet beyond the crossing, and before assistance arrived Mr. Peck's body was burned to a crisp by the explosion of the gasoline tank.

Mr. C. Shirley Leachman, son of Mr. C. C. Leachman of this place, was employed by Mr. Peck. Leachman was named administrator and will manage the business until the children are of age, according to the wish of Mr. Peck as expressed in his will.

A Delightful Program With Several Novel Features—Farewell to Mrs. Button.

The W. C. T. U. social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Round Tuesday evening was well attended and much enjoyed, though a wave of sickness pervaded the company bidding farewell to Mrs. H. F. Button, who was to leave next day for her new home in Indiana.

The program throughout was exceedingly well rendered. As usual, Mrs. Roop and Mrs. Hodge charmed their hearers. Miss Koontz and little Miss Bryant held their own among more practiced entertainers, while Miss Button's instrumental music was a pleasure to all. Professor Hodge provided any amount of amusement for the fun-loving element with his inimitable mimicry of Pat and Mike. Dr. Roop, Rev. Mr. Roads and Mr. Meese also contributed to the enjoyment of the evening.

Probably the newest number on the program was the school-boy quartet, which was a great surprise. The parts were learned from self-instruction, we understand, and were taken wonderfully well.

A novel feature fully appreciated was a trip to Jupiter and the moon through a powerful telescope loaned to Mr. Round by the United States Government.

At the close of the program dainty refreshments were served by the ladies of the W. C. T. U.

MR. DAILEY'S SONG TALK

A Rare Musical Treat With Entertaining Stories By Famous Names.

A rare musical treat was accorded the small audience at Eastern College last Sunday evening when Mr. J. G. Dailey, basso of the world-famous Dailey Quartet. Mr. Round introduced the singer in a few well-chosen remarks. Each solo, rendered in the tone so familiar to most of us, was prefaced by an interesting story leading up to the composition or to the theme of the song. These stories related in an easy, pleasant but forceful manner, were listened to with much attention.

Several numbers of Mr. Dailey's own composition were "Fishing on the Galilee," "Papa, Be True to Me," and "A Saloonless Nation in 1913." all of which were very greatly enjoyed, the audience joining in the refrain of the latter with much zest. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Julia Lewis, an accomplished musician of this place. It was regretted that Mr. Dailey was unable to reach Manassas in time for the morning service at Grace M. E. Church, South.

MR. ROBT. HOLLAND KILLED

Struck By Train Several Miles North of Alexandria Last Friday Morning.

Mr. Robert Walter Holland was found lying beside the railway tracks a short distance north of Alexandria Friday morning and was removed to the Alexandria Hospital, where he died Sunday morning. His head was badly lacerated, his collarbone broken, and it is supposed that he sustained internal injuries. He did not rally sufficiently after the accident to tell how it happened, although relatives in Manassas had been notified that he was not seriously injured.

The remains were laid to rest Monday evening at the old home place, "Bowling Green," several miles this side of Occoquan.

Mr. Holland was born in New York in January, 1844, but had lived in Prince William county since he was two years old, and served with the Prince William Cavalry during the four years of the Civil War.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. William E. Lipscomb, Mrs. Hugh G. Payne and Miss Selina F. Holland.

CAUTION TO PENSIONERS

A Few Simple Rules, Which if Followed Will Obviate Much Trouble and Delay.

(BY R. W. MERCHANT)

Of the, approximately, fourteen thousand pensioners on the State's Confederate pension roll there are perhaps few who have an adequate idea of the importance of a careful filling in of the blanks of the certificate which accompanied the pension check mailed to them by State Auditor C. Lee Moore, at the beginning of the present month and filing it with the Auditor within the time prescribed by law.

Many certificates reach the pension office with important data lacking and so illegibly written as to necessitate their return for correction thereby causing much delay and extra clerical service which could be avoided through proper precaution.

Not only should the certificates be properly executed in a legible hand even to the dotting of an 'i' and the crossing of a 't', but the notice printed thereon as to the time for filing them in the pension office should be strictly complied with. The same precaution as to date and legibility applies also to original or re-raising application for pension.

When a male pensioner dies notice of his death should at once be forwarded to the pension office in order that a funeral expense draft—in no case to exceed the amount of pension to which the decedent would have been entitled at the next disbursement period—might be forwarded at the proper period to the legally authorized representative of such decedent.

It is not infrequently the case that persons who have made application for a pension have waited in vain and finally sought a personal interview with the chief of the pension department to ascertain the cause of delay, through lack of proper attention by the local authorities to which such application was made.

The pension department loses no time after an application is received, in examining into the qualification of the applicant for a pension and if found qualified in placing such applicant upon the pension roll.

DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE

Prof. C. H. Yarborough, of Blacksburg, to Succeed Prof. Button at M. H. S.

Prof. C. H. Yarborough, of Blacksburg, assistant in agronomy at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and demonstration agent for Montgomery county, Virginia, came to Manassas last Wednesday, to meet the school board with regard to his application to succeed Prof. Button as director of agriculture in the Manassas Agricultural High School.

Prof. Yarborough spent most of the day with Superintendent Tyler, Messrs. Arrington, Nash, and Steele, members of the Manassas School Board, and others, including the executive committee of the Farmers' Institute, whom the board had invited to be present.

Prof. Yarborough made a favorable impression upon all, and as a result of the joint conference, has been appointed director of agriculture in Manassas High School. He will return next Wednesday to assume charge.

USE PRINTED STATIONERY

Why the Progressive Farmer Says "If You Own Your Farm, Use Printed Stationery."

This is not advertising "on our own hook" as the saying goes, but some advertising for the progressive farmer from the Progressive Farmer. It is some sound advice that is backed by reasons that will be straight answers to any why's you are apt to wonder. It is safe to venture the guess that one-half of our progressive farmers in this neighborhood have already adopted this easy method of helping themselves along to success and affluence.

Every farmer who owns a hundred acres of land or more ought to have printed stationery, with his name and the name of his farm and his postoffice address properly given. The printed heading should also give the names of whatever crops he specializes on, and of whatever varieties of seed or whatever breeds of hogs, cattle, or poultry he keeps. Printed stationery gives you standing with whatever person or firm you are writing to and gives you a new dignity besides insuring that your name and address will always be given properly and in full.

Moreover, such printed stationery increases your credit. A prominent advertiser wrote one of our readers the other day saying: "We usually require cash with order for all our goods, but we have found that it pays to trust a man who uses printed stationery as you do; so we are shipping your order at once."

If you wish to write to your Congressman or member of the Legislature; or if you have a request to make of your County Superintendent of Schools; or if you wish to get information from any business house, in any case your letter will have increased weight and get prompt attention.

Even if you use postal cards, buy 200 to 500 at the time and have your name and address printed in the corner.

Get the habit of using printed stationery. The next time you go to town, why not drop into one of the job printing offices and give an order for 1,000 sheets of printed note paper and 1,000 envelopes to match? It will be one of the best investments you have ever made in your life.

MISS FETZER MARRIED

Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fetzer Weds Mr. Harry B. Griffith.

A very pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock at 1518 First street, N. W., Washington, when Miss Nellie Lorena Fetzer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fetzer, became the bride of Mr. Harry Brooke Griffith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Griffith, of 92 M. street, N. W. Rev. Selwyn K. Cockrell, of Baltimore, a former pastor of Grace M. E. Church, Manassas, performed the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a gown of white embroidered voile, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her attendants, Miss Othello Williams, of Manassas, as maid of honor, and Miss Carrie E. Fisher, of Washington, as bride's maid, were attired in white voile over pink and blue, and carried pink noes. Mr. Carl G. Griffith, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Carrie L. Sanders, of Haymarket, presided at the piano.

After a wedding supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fetzer, the happy couple left on the ten o'clock train for a bridal trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and points in Canada. They will reside in Washington.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Griffith are well-known here, having lived in Manassas some time before removing to Washington, where Mr. Griffith is in the employ of the Southern Railway.

Among the guests were Mrs. L. B. Williams, Miss Othello Williams, and Messrs. Cundiff and Paul Williams, of Manassas; Mr. Alfred Leyburn, of Hyattsville, Md.; Rev. Selwyn K. Cockrell, Mr. and Mrs. Cockrell, and Mr. Wooten Cockrell.

CHILD KILLED AT CLIFTON

Clarence Lindamood Caught in Cable of Merry Go-Round Tuesday Night.

The merry-go-round will be a pleasure no longer to the little boys and girls of Clifton, for last Tuesday evening it cost the life of one of their number. Little Clarence Lindamood was enjoying the hobby horses to the full of his five-and-a-half years when he was caught in the cable from the engine to the machine, carried swiftly up to the boiler—and that was the end of it. The terrified onlookers were powerless to save him, and all was over before the machinery could be stopped.

Little Clarence was a son of Charles Lindamood, foreman of the Bell Telephone Company.

A great number of sorrowing friends attended the funeral Wednesday afternoon, and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

At a meeting of the Manassas District School Board Monday the following teachers were appointed:

Miss Long at Bradley—Miss Sarah Johnson, principal.
Miss Brown, of Washington, at Groveton.
Brown School (colored) Bessie E. White principal.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Meeting of Prince William and Fauquier Counties at Woodbine Baptist Church.

The bi-county convention of Prince William and Fauquier counties met, by invitation, with the Woodbine W. C. T. U., at Woodbine Baptist church, Thursday, September 4th. All the county officers were present with delegates from five unions, making a list of nineteen voting members and a few visitors.

The meeting was called to order by our county president, Mrs. Emily C. Round. Rev. Mr. Noiland conducted the devotional exercises and as our organist had not arrived, Mrs. Burdge led the singing.

After a few introductory remarks by the president, the convention was welcomed to the church by Mrs. S. J. Retzer, which was responded to by Mrs. M. M. Willis, of Remington, in a beautiful little speech. After roll call of the presidents and the response of delegates, the minutes of the last convention, at Warrenton, were read and approved. The reports of the unions were called for. They were not so full as many of them had given two-thirds of the year's work in the spring convention.

Manassas, being the largest union, gave us some insight in the L. T. L. work of which they are duly proud, and deserve much credit for keeping the little ones interested and at work in the warm weather. She also advocated the dime socials as a money raiser, which is good for a small town.

Miss Bendall also reported work done which was started in the spring convention, when we endorsed a resolution brought in by the men's league. They, in a body, appeared before the judge on court day and the result was that several of the speak-easies and blind tigers were refused a license and one or more houses were licensed on suffrage for this year only. This is, I believe, the only real aggressive work that has been done by the unions.

Bristow also has done fine work under difficulties as they are much scattered, if they do live along the railroad. They are valued workers. Remington's president is also our county treasurer and has her hands full if her pocket-book is not.

Woodbine prides herself on having the best medal contests. We believe it is the most far-reaching of all the departments. We have had four silver medal contests in the last year and tonight there will be a gold medal contest conducted which I hope you have heard from ere this.

Sunday School Convention.

On Sunday, September 7th, at 2:30 p. m., the Brentsville District Sunday School Convention was organized at Hebron Seminary. Dr. H. U. Roop and Mr. Powell Metz, president and secretary of the county organization, were present and delivered very interesting and helpful addresses. Bro. L. B. Flohr was elected chairman of the district organization and Bro. E. S. Hoon secretary and treasurer. Bro. E. S. Hoon being absent Mr. Alfonso Armstrong served in his place. There was a good attendance and the program was well rendered. The results should be far reaching.

Lot's Question

By REV. PARLEY E. ZARTMANN, D.D.
Secretary of Extension Department
Meady Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Is it not a little one?—Genesis 18:26

Though Lot lived in the dawn of human history and in a far-away land, he is a modern character and seems like a citizen of our own community...

Lot's question was asked as he was being led out of the city by the messenger from God. It was a crisis day. The men plead with Lot to bring his family out with him...

How often have we asked Lot's question about our life when God has given some clear command. Something is under sentence...

But God—let me pause to think of him—calls these things sin. He says these things are fit for destruction and this warning to you has been timely, ample and urgent...

You ask about your pet sin, as Lot did about Zoar. Yes, God did spare the city, but he does not spare sin. He knows what it is and what it means...

And we know how little influence power and happiness have when we cling to their sins and who refuse to obey the command of God to escape to the mountains...

These things ought not so to be. They need not be so. We know the grace of our Lord Jesus. Grace enough for all, and free, Grace for salvation, for keeping, for perfection...

Do you not see how great and grievous a thing sin is? Do you not want to come into right relations with God? I declare emancipation...

PRETTY ON DRESSING TABLE

Novel Pincushion Altogether Different From the Designs With Which We Are All So Familiar.

Pretty suggestions for decorating the dressing table are always welcome and our sketch illustrates a novel pincushion, into the center of which may be fitted a small vase containing flowers...

The cushion is covered with pale blue soft silk and trimmed at the edge with a broad hemstitched frill of the same material. A lace frill would look very pretty and might take the place of the silk if preferred, and the cushion could of course be carried out in any other pale shade of color...

If the thickness of the cushion is increased a little, a small glass can be used in the place of the vase and may be fitted into the cushion so that it is not visible, and this will add rather to the pretty effect of this decorative little article.

BUTTONS TO FORM DESIGNS

For Late Summer Wear These Promise to Be the Predominating Note in Waists.

Buttons, and many of them, seem to be the predominating note in waists designed for late summer wear. Designs run more to dainty simplicity than to elegant, elaborateness, and filmy, transparent materials are those most often chosen.

A blouse made of net, with insertions of fine lace, opened at the front by means of a series of buttons and button holes closely placed, which may be closed up tightly about the neck, or, if desired, turned back, forming revers of any required length...

Another dainty waist, designed for morning wear, is one made of filmy cotton voile. A set-in vest of tucked net, with two rows of white buttons on each side where the vest and the waist join, is in line with the recent "button" edict.

WHEN MILADY POURS THE TEA

Attractive Tray an Absolute Necessity for the Table—Nice Ones Not at All Expensive.

Every hostess has her individual taste in tea trays, and the tea tray, by the way, is very much "the thing." It is brought in by a neat little maid and set on a small folding table...

Shoes for the Baby.

For everyday wear they may be made out of patent cloth, and for nice wear out of dainty colors of oiled leather. A pattern may be cut by an old shoe of the proper size, consisting of a heel piece, vamp and sole. Sew the heel piece to the vamp, and the vamp to the sole, leaving the shoe smooth on the inside.

Leather Iron Holder.

For use in an ironing board a piece of leather cut from the top of an old shoe will protect the hand from the heat, also save callous spots from the iron.

Temperance

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

AWFUL RESULTS OF LIQUOR

Moral Enemy of Peace and Order, and Despoiler of Men and Child That Shadows Faces.

Tonight it enters a humble home to strike the roses from a woman's cheeks and tomorrow it challenges this republic in the halls of congress. Today it strikes a crust from the lips of a starving child and tomorrow levies tribute from the government itself.

There is no cottage humble enough to escape it; no palace strong enough to shut it out. It defies the law when it cannot coerce suffrage.

It is flexible to cajole but merciless in victory. It is the moral enemy of peace and order, the despoiler of men and terror of women, the cloud that shadows the face of children, the demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls unshriev'd to judgment than all pestilences that have wasted Egypt and all the wars since Joshua stood before Jericho.

It comes to ruin, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and mine.

It comes to mislead human souls and to crush human hearts under its rumbling wheels.

It comes to bring gray-haired mothers down in shame and sorrow to their graves.

It comes to change the wife's love into despair and her pride into shame. It comes to still the laughter on the lips of little children.

It comes to ruin your body and mind, to wreck your home, and it knows it must measure its prosperity by the swiftness and certainty with which it wrecks this world.—Henry W. Grady.

COLLEGES URGE TEMPERANCE

Movement to Rule Out Intoxicating Liquors at Banquets Characterized as Important Step.

The effort being made by friends of the University of California to have passed by the student body an amendment ruling out all intoxicating liquors from the officially recognized banquets and other social functions, is in accordance with a movement which Dr. David Starr Jordan characterizes as "the most important forward step in American universities."

The large state universities, such as Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, do not serve liquors at their class or officially recognized student banquets, and however much intelligent American citizens may differ as to the best methods of prohibiting or regulating the liquor traffic no conscientious man or woman can fail to recognize the absolute folly of nullifying the work of the college or the university by permitting temptation in the form of alcoholic drinks to be placed in the way of the students.

DRINKERS ARE NOT WANTED

Activity of Railroads in Promoting Total Abstinence Among Employees is Illustrated.

The following instance illustrates the activity of railroads in looking after the observance of the total abstinence rule: An official of a western railroad suddenly appeared in the yards of the road in an Illinois town and began an examination, commencing on the engineer.

"Let's smell your breath," he said. He snuffed and declared the engineer had been drinking. "Sure," replied the engineer. "I have had four or five beers."

HE PREFERRED A POOR TRADE

Saloonkeeper Converts Dram Shop Into Dry Goods Store Because He Was Afraid of Children.

A saloonkeeper recently closed out his business and opened a small dry goods store here. One of his acquaintances, knowing that he was exchanging a good income for a very limited one, remonstrated with him "I can't help it, Jim," said the saloonkeeper, "my children are growing up and they began to ask questions about the liquor business that I couldn't answer without being ashamed before them. They didn't like to see their father selling whisky, they said, 'I'd rather have a poor trade than that, my children is the face.'"

Money to Labor.

When 10,000 persons spend $200,000 for liquor, only $8,120 goes to labor and only $66,200 to the farmer. If the money was spent for shoes, clothing, food, furniture, and building of new homes, over $49,000 would go to labor and over $120,000 to the farmer or miner and a great proportion of this money would again come back to labor through the purchase of more shoes, clothing, furniture, etc., etc. Kennebec (Me.)

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL THING.

It has remained for William Allen White, writing in the Emporia Gazette, to pen the truest and most pungent criticism on the scant dresses, the tight skirts and the transparent stockings that girls are wearing now-a-days. Mr. White says:

That's some dress you've got on, little girl—it sure is. That delicate, clinging, crinkly stuff is the prettiest cloth on the store counters; that silk Persian sash of many colors so gracefully swathed about the center section of your anatomy would knock the spots off Joseph's coat. You are corseted and tailored according to the most extreme model in the advance August fashion books.

But your neck is too low and your sleeves are too short, and your skirt is far and away tighter than skirts ever were meant to be. And that graceful slit exposing your dainty left ankle shows a stocking above your pump that is almost transparent enough to read through. And you haven't any more petticoat than a rabbit—you know you haven't.

Oh, you're some swell, you are. Have you noticed how the loafers around the grove rubber at you as you trip demurely by on your way to the uplift lectures? And have you been thinking, little foolish one, that they were rubbering out of pure admiration? Ask your brother about it. If he's got any sense he'll tell you some things that will be hard on your vanity and good for your soul.

And if you've got any sense you'll take his word for it, you'll lay that dress away and do something that's wide enough around the bottom to allow room for two petticoats and one pair of legs.

For there never was a dress designed, little girl, that is half so beautiful as a young girl's modesty.

FRIENDSHIP.

We should never allow a friend to slip out of our lives if we can help it. True friendship is too rare and sacred, a thing to be lost, much less lightly thrown away. There may be slights given, even intentionally so, but they should be quickly set aside and forgotten. And as to misunderstandings, they arise from hidden influences of life, and from conflicting circumstances over which we have no control. Very frequently the slights we receive are imaginary, or else unintentional. In either case they give no ground for offense. But if they are intentional, they should be pardoned with the first pang they inflict. Some lose friends through their inattention, failing to observe those little courtesies which cost so little and mean so much in all the relations of life. Sometimes the bad fault causes us to discard the truest of friends, while others, through lack of patience or fickleness of soul, deliberately swap away old friends for new ones. The true philosophy of flawless friendship is to keep all your friends and add new ones to their number. At any rate, and in all cases, jealously guard your friendships, both old and new, and secretly cherish them through thick and thin. Both life and friendship are too precious to be wasted. Stick affectionately to your friends, especially to the One who sticketh closer than a brother.—Ex.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of the President of the United States, occupied an upper berth Sunday night on her journey from New York to the President's summer home at Cornish, N. H. Several men, approached to, refused to exchange a lower berth that Miss Wilson might sleep below. "I am mortified," said a companion, "to think that there was not one gentleman or a democrat on that train with a lower berth at his disposal." "We can hardly imagine the type of man on that train, don't think they inhabit this part of the country. But aside from this, another matter troubles us not a little: 'Not one gentleman or a democrat.' 'Why the 'or'?"

SOME day Central America will be erecting monuments to the engineers who carried out projects for transportation and sanitation as well as to men who were eminent in warfare.—Ex.

LEDGES KEPT
The end did not come with the passage of the tariff bill by the senate, for the bill must now go to conference, where the differences between the house and senate will be threshed out and adjusted and agreement reached between the two bodies on all points. The measure will then go back to the respective houses and be passed. However, the fight between Republicans and Progressives on the one hand and the Democrats on the other is over. The contest now will be between the senate and house conferees over the changes made in the bill by the senate after it had left the house. This will take a little time, some patience and a willingness to compromise on minor points, but nothing more. The bill is now as good as passed, and there will be little difference in form between the present bill and the measure as it will be signed by President Wilson.

The passage of the tariff bill by the extra session called by President Wilson is one of the greatest victories ever won by a political party and one of the greatest victories ever won by a president. The triumph is for Democracy, for Woodrow Wilson and the people.

When Mr. Taft was a candidate for the presidency in 1908, he and his party leaders promised tariff revision downward. The party leaders deliberately broke that pledge and President Taft was weak enough to sign the bill, which stands today as a monument to broken vows and a tombstone of a party. When Mr. Wilson was a candidate for the presidency in 1912, he and his party leaders promised tariff revision downward, and although there were a few leaders who wished to commit political suicide with the same weapons employed by their opponents, a few years previously, Mr. Wilson and his supporters prevented. The fight was a hard one and at times failure seemed possible, for the margin of control in the senate was exceedingly narrow, but president and party leaders stood shoulder to shoulder and the fight is now won.—Richmond Virginian.

RETAIN THE TWO-CENT POSTAGE.

The National Federation of Postoffice Clerks accused the express companies of manipulating the movement for 1-cent letter postage so that a deficit shall be created. The association expresses broad views on the subject. To carry a letter throughout our vast territory for 2 cents is proportionately a lower rate than exists elsewhere in the world. A 1-cent letter postage is a fanciful thing, although the large mailing houses would find it quite an item. One might think that if there should be any discrimination it should be against the firms that put in thousands of letters a year, burdening the mail and creating the greater part of the postoffice work. We favor leaving the 2-cent rate where it is. It is low postage, and, unlike most taxes, is fair, being paid only by the people that get the benefit of it.

To do away with it, the federated clerks say, would prevent further development of the parcel post, because of the deficit that would be caused. Whatever is or is not done, nothing should stand in the way of the development of the parcel post service. Is it pushed ahead, as it ought to be, it will in a few years become not only a convenience, but a necessity in every household.

One-cent postage also would wipe out the line between first and third-class matter, thus flooding the mails with advertising matter that now pays 2 cents.—Washington Herald.

TO INCREASE BEEF SUPPLY.

Representative Fred Britten, of Chicago, the centre of the beef industry, has a remedy for the high price and increasing scarcity of the good American red-roast beef. It is a law to prevent the killing of calves until they reach two years of Mr. Britten recently offered a bill in the House to put his idea on the statute books. It provides that calves shall not be killed nor shipped, dead or alive, through inter-State commerce under 2 years of age when intended for the butcher.

"The number of calves slaughtered has increased 100 per cent. in the last ten years," said Mr. Britten. "During 1911 there were slaughtered 3,000,000 calves, weighing 560,000,000 pounds. If these calves were allowed to live two years and allowing 1,400 pounds as an average weight for a 2-year-old cow or steer, they would have produced 11,200,000 pounds of beef to supply the scarcity we now feel. Just think what it will mean to the meat-eating public to have 10,000,000,000 or 12,000,000,000 additional pounds of beef thrown on the market every year."

MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

Silo filling is going on in full blast in the Cannon Branch neighborhood. There will be a meeting of the Board of Supervisors Thursday, September 18. Mr. Richard C. Haydon is improving rapidly from a severe case of typhoid fever. Mrs. R. J. Adamson spent last week in Baltimore arranging for her fall millinery. The manual training department of Manassas High School will open September 15th. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, of Compton Farm, have rented the D. J. Arrington property west of town. Postmasters will confer a favor by promptly notifying us if unable to deliver THE JOURNAL to person addressed. Mrs. J. A. Morgan was carried yesterday to a Baltimore hospital where she is doing as well as can be expected. The Manassas District Sunday School Convention will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Andrew Pringle has rented the farm of Mr. E. R. Conner on the Sudley Road, and will take possession next week. Mr. E. M. Cornwell, of this place, has left at this office a tomato weighing two pounds and one ounce. It is quite a curiosity. Mr. E. Wood Weir has sold his property on West street adjoining the Northern Methodist parsonage to Mr. Wm. M. Wheeler. Hebrew Seminary opens next Monday with bright prospects. At 7:30 o'clock in the evening an interesting educational program will be rendered. Mrs. Laura Free, of Nokesville, has taken rooms with Mrs. R. B. Sprinkel on West street, and is boarding with Mrs. Margaret Lewis. President Wilson's appointment of Mr. Joseph E. Willard as United States Ambassador to Spain was confirmed by the Senate Wednesday. The graded schools of Manassas district will open for the fall term on Monday, September 29. Manassas High will open next Monday, the 15th. Mr. Raymond Florance of the Prince William Pharmacy is ill of typhoid fever. His place at the drug store is being filled by Mr. Lawrence Gregory. Miss Elizabeth Warren Merchant, who has been living in Baltimore for some time, leaves September 20, to accept a position in Portland, Oregon. There will be a called meeting of Trinity Church Guild Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Business of importance on hand. Members specially urged to be present. Mr. John H. Hynson hurt his ankle at Boyce, Clarke county, last Monday. It is still rather painful but he is able to get around with the assistance of crutches. Circuit Court will convene in Fairfax next Monday, Judge J. B. T. Thornton presiding. There has been no court in Fairfax since May, it being customary to omit the July term. Several wagons carried the Methodist Sunday School on a picnic to Dittmer's grove yesterday. The grown-ups accompanying the party enjoyed the day as much as the young folks. Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Quarles were summoned to Culpeper Tuesday on account of the death of Mrs. Quarles' aunt, which occurred very suddenly Monday morning at her home in Culpeper.

Secretary of State Bryan will lecture at the Chataquas at Culpeper and Warrenton Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. The subject will be either "The Making of a Man" or "The Signs of the Times." Rev. H. D. Gordon, of Washington, will assist Rev. Mr. Slick next Sunday, "At 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. he will preach and sing at Bradley M. E. Church, and at 3:30 p. m. in Asbury M. E. Church, Manassas. Mrs. R. W. Merchant, Master Francis Merchant and little Miss Elizabeth Merchant left Wednesday for their new home in Richmond, where Mr. Merchant has been located several months. Miss Ida Lickie will continue her millinery on Main street. Mr. John R. Fillett reports a crop of strawberries in September. The vines are still in full bloom. Mr. Fillett also cited a recollection of having fired a brush pile near an apple tree, which to the tree meant an intimation of spring and an order to bud. Mr. Clarence Vere Jeffries, of Washington, and Miss Goldye C. Everett, of Alexandria, were married in Washington Tuesday, by the Rev. J. M. Montgomery. Mr. Jeffries is an old Manassas boy, having moved to Washington several years ago with his mother. The Woman's Missionary Society, the Young Woman's Auxiliary and the Sunbeams of the Manassas Baptist Church held a joint State mission exercise in the Church yesterday evening. At the conclusion of the program a delightful supper was served on the lawn. Lieut. Moss I. Love, of the Army Aviation Camp on North Island, near San Diego, Cal., was killed last Thursday, when he lost control of his aeroplane in a glide to earth and fell about 300 feet. Lieut. Love was the son of Mr. James M. Love, of Fairfax, and was well known in this part of the country. Rev. Decatur Edwards, of Fredericksburg, Association Superintendent of the Northern District of Virginia Anti-Saloon League, will deliver three temperance lectures next Sunday, 10:30 a. m. at Wellington Hall, 3 p. m. at Cannon Branch, and 8 p. m. at Grace M. E. Church, South, Manassas. Owen Dove, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. Charles Dove, met with a painful though not serious accident Tuesday. While spraying whitewash in the barn at Mr. J. F. Lewis' near town, the nozzle of the spray shot off and the lime poured into his eyes. He was hurried to Dr. Iden, and is now getting on very well. Mr. Will Lynch of this place was very painfully injured last Saturday morning in the Southern yards at Alexandria. While standing near an engine, the fire hook fell striking him with great force. He was removed at once to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment, and brought home on train No. 15 Sunday evening. Mr. Samuel W. Muddiman, who has been ill of typhoid fever the past two weeks at his home in Roanoke, suffered a stroke of paralysis on the right side Monday. He was improving yesterday, and has regained his speech. LATER - News received this morning states that Mr. Muddiman was critically ill last night. Mrs. H. P. Button, Miss Dorothy Button and Master Romaine Button left Manassas Wednesday evening for their new home in Vincennes, Indiana, where Professor Button has the chair of agriculture in Vincennes University. Mr. Burr Button, who has been spending the summer with relatives at Canastota, New York, will join them in Vincennes. It is not literally true, as has been said, that THE JOURNAL does job work for nothing, but it is very nearly true. Our prices are so low that it is not to be wondered that the above idea gained credence. Try us and find out.

The post office at The Plains has been made a Postal Savings Depository, effective September 2. The meeting at Aden United Brethren Church closed with eighteen professions and eight accessions to the Church - the others will join other churches. Rev. Mr. Brill will preach his last sermon at Aden United Brethren Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. There will be meetings at Oak Hill U. B. Church every night of the week. Miss Missie Brawner, a very old lady who has made her home for some time with Mrs. Carr at Bristow, fell from a second story window one night during the week, and is now in a very serious condition. She had been in the habit of going out the window to an upper porch, and it is supposed that she walked to the wrong window. While on a trip for the benefit of his health, Mayor Gaynor of New York succumbed to heart failure Wednesday afternoon, on the steamer Baltic in midocean. Mayor Gaynor had just been notified of his nomination to succeed himself, and left New York in one of the strangest municipal political campaigns in its history. His death is yet another complication. About 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the Battle street crossing, a five-passenger automobile, owned and driven by Roscoe Lewis, crashed into the rear of a shifting engine. Seeing his danger just in time, Lewis jumped from the car, which probably saved his life. The machine was carried a short distance up the track, a complete wreck, while the step to the cab of the engine was broken off. Lewis is a colored blacksmith on West Centre street. We are pleased to note the promptness with which the Alexandria High School has been placed upon the accredited list of the University of Virginia and the Association of Southern Schools and Colleges. It is well to recall the fact that our own agricultural high school has been on this list ever since its organization six years ago, and in addition to this has had entrance credit to several of the larger colleges of the Middle and Northern states as well. Dr. Austin at "Grandview." Dr. Walter Lee Austin, who for the past five weeks, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Will Dulin, at "Grandview," left on Tuesday morning, September 6th, for Richmond, Va., where he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fielding Marshall, and his brother, Charles Cable Austin. Mrs. Marshall is the sister of Dr. Austin's wife, who was Miss Mary Randolph Jackson, of Waco, Texas. Dr. Austin has been a resident of the City of Mexico for the past eighteen years, having been surgeon in chief for some of the largest mining companies in the Republic. His description of Mexico and its people was highly interesting. The doctor made many friends during his stay in Prince William and expressed himself as being highly pleased with both people and climate and hopes to make us another visit in the near future. Dr. Austin's visit was interrupted by urgent business calling him home. Though pressed for time he felt he was compelled to visit Richmond in person, and old Randolph Mason College, from which he was graduated with high honors.

GREAT BASEBALL GAME
Clifton and Green's Nebraska Indians Meet on Eastern Diamond—Score 7 to 1.

Green's Nebraska Indians and the Clifton nine met on Eastern diamond Monday afternoon, the strangers walking away with a score of 7 to 1. There was a fairly good attendance of fans from Clifton and Manassas, and what was lost in number was fully made up in enthusiasm.

The Indians were swift at every stage of the game, but Clifton had it on them at the bat—and then some. There was quite a bunch of pretty catches with the home team in the field, some of them exciting the admiration of the visitors in no small degree. Gittings and Reads, battery for the home team, held the Indians down to a very respectable number of hits, although it was by no means anywhere in the neighborhood of a no-hit game.

The Clifton aggregation connected freely with the Red Man in the box, but his teammates copped the grounders and whirled them on to first while the anxious fan rubbered to see who had the ball. Gittings was in fine form and evidenced great control of the sphere, although he presented several free passes to the initial sack.

The line-up for Clifton was as follows: F. Ford, 1b.; Walker, rf.; Cather, lf.; W. Ford, cf.; Humphreys, ss.; Cowhig, 2b.; Stearns, 3b.; Reads, c.; and Gittings, p. Stearns brought in the run that changed the goose egg.

Here's a Manassas case. A Manassas citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

William Footé, prop. wall paper store, Manassas, Va., says: "I have had scarcely any trouble with my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me two years ago. The endorsement I gave at that time, still holds good. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years and find that they are just as represented. They not only regulate the action of my kidneys, but also had the results from the use of this remedy."

FARM ANIMALS

PREVENT HOG CHOLERA

Dead Animals Should Be Carefully Examined for Disease.

If Conditions Indicating Infection Are Recognized Early and Proper Methods of Isolation Adopted Spread May Be Averted.

(By F. M. HAYES.) All farmers should either post-mortem every hog that dies under circumstances at all suspicious, or have the work done by a competent Insanitary Hog Pen and Wallow.

A veterinarian who should be able to recognize any lesions indicating the presence of an infectious disease in a hog. These conditions, if recognized early and proper methods of isolation instituted, might prevent the general dissemination of the disease throughout the herd.

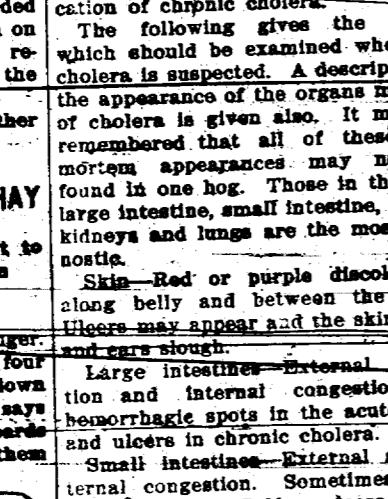

EXCELLENT FOR THE LAMBS

Wheatbran is Good Feed for Youngsters to Begin On—Give Abundance of Pasture if Possible.

A good flockmaster holds that for young lambs wheatbran is most excellent to begin with, and after they become stronger the bran should be mixed with corn meal in equal quantities. He says that oat meal, or oats when they can eat it, should be added to balance the ration, for oats is nearly a balanced food itself.

PREVENTS WASTING OF HAY

Chute for Hay.

Box extends from left to manger. It is two feet square at top and four feet at bottom. The hay slips down through box as fast as eaten, says the Prairie Farmer. Nail boards across bottom of box and let them extend out on the side where the manger is. Such a chute will keep hay from forming a kind of tray, and no hay will be wasted.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Shelters should be kept in order in every pig pasture. Be sure that the weanings are not "run down" by flies. Stimulate breeding in sows of spring of greater value. Slop will not quench a pig's thirst, especially during hot weather. Cow peas planted in the corn rows make fine fall storage for hogs. Caustic potash is used in removing horns from very young animals. The orchard is good for the pig, and the pigs are good for the orchard. They cannot grow pigs profitably without feed enough to keep them gaining steadily.

SOME POULTRY CONCLUSIONS

Expert of Missouri Station Gives Out Few Practical Suggestions on Chicken Raising.

Under the heading of "Lessons Learned," Mr. Quisenberry of the Missouri experiment station has issued the following notes for poultry raisers, based on the year's work in the egg-laying contest at that station:

That there is no variety of breed which far exceeds others in general use as far as egg production is concerned. That some hens have a born tendency to lay, and others have a born tendency to put on fat. The latter kind should be culled out in establishing a laying strain.

That a little moistened food is relished and will increase egg production. That many high producers lay thin-shelled eggs, and that the germ is often weak. A few high producers are able to lay large numbers of eggs, fertilize them and put vitality into the chick.

That the Mediterranean class can stand more protein and fattening food than the birds of the American, Asiatic or English classes. There is not so much danger of the Mediterranean becoming too fat, and they require a richer food than the other classes mentioned.

That the purpose of properly feeding and housing a hen is not to feed eggs into her body, but to so feed and care for her that you may get out of her the eggs which breeding has placed there. Proper feeding, housing and care have a bearing on the number of eggs produced by a flock, but breeding is most important.

That the best producers have broad bodies. The back is broad, and the ribs are widespread, giving plenty of room for egg and digestive organs.

That good layers are big eaters. A bird must have capacity to eat and digest a big amount of food if she is to lay well.

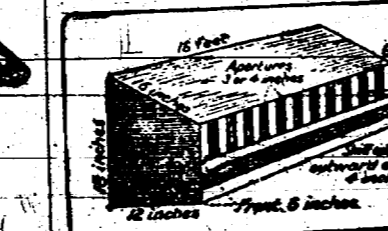

That most of the high producers have good sized combs for their breed.

HANDY POULTRY FEED HOPPER

Device Shown in Illustration Has Advantage of Shelf in Front, Preventing All Waste.

This hopper has the advantage of having a shelf running along the front, by means of which much waste can be prevented. It can easily be made from any available lumber to the size indicated or smaller if required.

Dry mash feeding, or, in fact, any mash feeding, has its drawbacks in the fact that some of the food is wasted by being pulled out on the ground. There are some things which the birds like better than others, and if they are not very hungry they will endeavor to pick out the things that they like in preference to the general feed. The best way to overcome this is to have the feed only half way up in the troughs or hoppers from which they draw their supply. If they will have to reach down for the food and pick it right up there, they cannot pick or pull the rest of the food from the hopper. A good, deep hopper is what you need, and you will find it will be a saving to you.

MARGIN OF PROFIT AND LOSS

If Record is Kept of Cost of Production and Sales One May Tell if Flock is Paying.

A flock of hens should be made to pay a good dividend on the investment. If they do not do this, there is something radically wrong, somewhere along the line.

If you have kept a record of the cost of production and sales you will be able to tell whether or not your hens are paying. Hens that are laying an average of 20 to 30 eggs per cent. are doing well, and will make a good showing in the right side of the cash book. And averages above that will be so much more gain, and will more than justify keeping the birds.

If they fall way below this mark you had better investigate and find out the cause of the trouble. It may be that you are not feeding the birds; that you are not feeding the right kind of food or in sufficient quantities; or that you are not giving them the proper attention that they must have in order to be great producers.

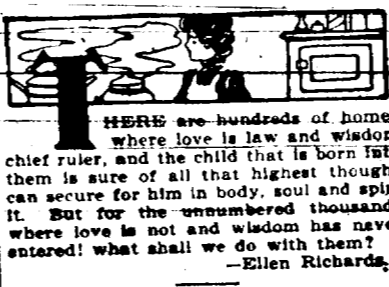

White Clover for Egg Layer.

White clover hay is the richest in nitrogen. Feeding clover to a parent bird, or to a young chick, has helped revolutionize the poultry business. Red clover hay contains about twenty-eight pounds of lime to the thousand pounds. Scald the clover hay at night, and keep it covered so it can steam. See that the clover is cut to one-half inch length. When longer it is apt to pack in the crop, causing crop-bound.

Modern Poultry Houses.

Poultry houses that are up-to-date are no longer double boarded affairs that are closed up at every point, but are fresh air houses with plenty of ventilation.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

HOT WEATHER DRINKS.

During the hot weather there is great demand for cooling drinks, and we prefer those made at home with materials which are unquestionable, rather than many which are served in bottles or at the fountains. In the following, there surely will be found one which will suit the palate of all:

Ginger Water.—This is the old-fashioned drink which used to be carried to the fields to refresh the tillers of the soil who have made our country what it is today. This drink is just as popular today among the descendants of the early fathers of our country, and is so easily prepared that it should be more frequently used. Take a tablespoonful of ground ginger, add three of sugar and a pint of ice cold water; stir well and serve. In the older times they sweetened this with molasses.

Rhubarb Drink.—This is a very refreshing as well as wholesome drink for children. Boil seven or eight stalks of pie plant in a quart of water for ten minutes; strain into a pitcher in which has been placed the thin rind of a lemon. Add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and let stand for a few hours before serving.

Orangeade.—Make a syrup by boiling half a pound of lump sugar with a cup of water. Pare four oranges very thinly, put the rinds in a pitcher and pour on the boiling hot syrup. Let stand until cold, then add the juice of the oranges and six lemons. Add a quart of ice cold water, and serve.

Boston Cream.—This is a drink which will keep, and will be ready to use in an emergency. Take two pounds of lump sugar and five pints of water; boil together fifteen minutes. When cool add half an ounce of lemon extract, two ounces of powdered tartaric acid and the whites of three eggs well beaten. When quite cold, bottle. When required for use, pour a few tablespoonfuls of the mixture in a glass, fill with three parts water, stir up well and add a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda. Stir briskly and serve at once.

DESSERTS WORTH TRYING.

There are few people who are willing to forego the pleasure of a dessert, and usually feel if none is provided that they have been defrauded.

Orange Charlotte.—Soak one and a half tablespoonfuls of gelatine in a third of a cup of water. To a third of a cup of boiling water add a cupful of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a cup of orange juice and pulp. Chill in a pan of ice water; when quite thick beat until frothy and add the well beaten whites of three eggs beaten stiff and the whip from two cupfuls of cream. Line a mold with sections of orange. Turn in the mixture and chill.

College Pudding.—Mix a half cupful of butter with one and a half cups of sugar; add four eggs well beaten, one half cup of strained apple sauce, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and the juice of lemon. Line a pudding dish with plain pastry, fill with the mixture and bake in a moderate oven, serve with or without cream.

Blueberry Dumpling.—Sift together two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a teaspoonful of salt. Rub a tablespoonful of butter and when well rubbed in add three fourths of a cupful of milk. Put two cupfuls of sugar over four cupfuls of blueberries with a tablespoonful of vinegar, put into a buttered baking dish. Cover with the flour mixture and bake forty-five minutes. Serve from the dish in which it was baked.

Put a layer of ground pecans or walnuts over the custard pie, the nuts will brown a little over the top, and when baked will be truly delicious.

Peach Ice Cream.—Is delicious. Peel the peaches through a sieve after peeling, then add to any ice cream mixture flavored with almond.

Other Pet.

"Jock never snarls nor growls at me, and sticks close by me whenever I go out."

"What a dog you have!"

"Dog! Oh, he is my husband!"

During the fiscal year just past national forest receipts totaled $2,500,000, of which about one-half was for timber. Contracts entered into for timber to be cut either at once or in later years aggregate $4,000,000. These figures surpass business done in any previous years by a good margin. An interesting feature of the foregoing announcement by the forest service is the fact that 85 per cent of the gross receipts or between $800,000 and $900,000 will go to the benefit of the states in which the forests are situated for their schools and roads. This is provided for by law. It is estimated that from this source the various states have drawn over $3,000,000 in all since 1906, when for the first time a part of the forest receipts was made available for state use in school and road improvement.

The application of these laws may be observed in the timber sale now advertised by the forest service in the Lolo National Forest of Montana. Eighty million feet of timber will be sold, the gross receipts amounting to approximately $125,000. Under existing laws 25 per cent of this sum or $30,000 will go to the counties in which the forest is situated for schools and roads, and an additional 10 per cent or $125,000 will be expended for good roads under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The volume of timber sales on national forest is shown by forest service records to fluctuate from year to year according to general business conditions. The actual cut however has advanced. Besides the income from timber there are various other sources from which the forest derive substantial amounts each year. Grazing fees paid by cattle owners for their stock which feed on forest ranges is the chief source other than timber. Again what are called special uses in the forest furnish a steady income. Examples of these uses are power sites, cottages or summer hotels and various business enterprises, all of which pay the government a rental which in most cases is merely nominal. The total however helps to the gross receipts appreciably. Appropriations for the administration and protection of national forests are made directly by Congress as a part of the agricultural appropriations. The receipts from the forests after deducting the 25 per cent for the states and 10 per cent additional spent for state roads are turned into the National Treasury. Last year $1,500,000 more was spent on forest than was received from them. But with the opening of the vast timbered regions now inaccessible to lumbermen or too far from market to be commercially available and the development of the water power and other natural resources on Government land, forest officials feel confident that the forest will not only become self-supporting before many years but will in time furnish to the government an annual income of no mean size. The officials point out also that much of the expenditure is for permanent improvements which in later years will call only for the expense of maintenance.

Wood's High-Grade Seeds.

Crimson Clover

The King of Soil Improvers, also makes splendid fall, winter and spring grazing, the earliest green feed, or a good hay crop.

CRIMSON CLOVER will increase the productivity of the land more than twenty times as much as any amount of other clovers.

Can be sown by hand or at the last working of corn, cotton or other cultivated crops.

We are headquarters for Crimson Clover, Alfalfa, Winter Vetch, and all Farm Seeds.

Write for prices and Descriptive Fall Catalog, giving information about all seeds for fall sowing.
