ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

COUNTY FAIR AT FAIRFAX SOIL FOR WINTER CROPS

Preparations About Completed A Few Timely Directions Concerning Land Preparation For Fall-seeding.

Preparations have about been completed for the holding of the county fair at Fairfax court-house on Oct. 1, 2 and 3. This fair, which is to be along strictly agricultural lines, will be one of the best held in the state this year. Large crowds are expected to be in attendance each day, and there will be ample provision made for entertainment in the way of athletic sports, balloon ascensions and the usual amusements to be seen at a county fair.

The special feature of the fair, however, will be the addresses to be made each day. On the first day Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, will make an address; on the second day, Hon. Henry S. Stuart, who will be the next Governor, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the noted pure food scientist, will make addresses; and on the third day Hon. C. C. Carlin and other distinguished gentlemen will speak. The speaking will take place at 2:30 each day.

STATE FAIR AT RICHMOND

Commissioner Koiner Will Have Demonstration from Department of Agriculture.

With the approach of the State Fair, the week of Oct. 6, the outlook is for the most complete exposition of its character ever held in Virginia or any other place in the South.

Commissioner Koiner will have an educational demonstration from the department of agriculture, and will show the young farmer as well as the old one many things of great importance to the planter. He will show how properly to spray fruit trees, how to discriminate in seeds, how to use anti-hog cholera serum, how to eliminate destructive insects and weeds and many other things of much importance to the farmer.

The health department will show many things—how to get rid of the fly, how to use milk properly and many other things of more or less importance.

The school department will demonstrate the great value to the children of the state the manual training and vocational training departments in the public schools, and many articles made by the children in such departments will be on exhibition.

The amusement ends of the fair this year will give the appearance of a vast circus and menagerie.

The dog show which is an added feature this year will prove to be the greatest this side of New York.

A big feature will be an old-fashioned tournament for which a purse of $500 has been offered by the fair association. The event is to be for the championship of the Old Dominion, Maryland, North Carolina and District of Columbia. The purse, the largest ever offered for a similar event in this state, will be split four ways, $200 to the winner, $150 to the second, $100 to the third and $50 to the fourth. The lists are open to all corners of Richmond. Nine-foot foot lances, balanced 4 feet from the point, will be used. Crooked points are not barred. Knights will be glad to furnish entry in parade and while tilting. No blanks and any further particulars will be on Saturday.

BY C. H. YARBOROUGH, JR. (Director Manassas Agricultural School) At this time of the year when we are getting ready for fall-seeding, it will be a wise plan for us to consider the preparation of the soil.

Too much care can not be given to this, as the preparation of the soil is practically the only work we should first turn our land as deeply as possible without subsoiling (most of our winter crops are shallow-feeders and do not need a deep soil for their successful growth). Next, this land should be disked where practicable, and then harrowed until we have it thoroughly loosened, and with all clods broken up. Go over your land until you have it in this condition and don't think of seeding until you do.

We can drill our fertilizers by ourselves right after we prepare our land, or we can wait and drill them when we seed our crop. This is left to our own discretion; either plan is all right.

If we will give more attention to the preparation of our seed-bed for winter crops, I feel no hesitancy in saying that better crops will result thereby.

A PERTINENT QUESTION

Citizen Asks, "Where Are the Town's Ordinances?"—Gives Us the Answer.

(BY W. C. WAGENER)

First, I wish to call attention to certain existing conditions, which, without doubt, are apparent to every one, and then I wish to draw a few conclusions.

Manassas is suffering in many ways at the hands of the railroad company. Through trains often pass our town at 15 or 20 miles an hour. Whistles are blown for long periods at all hours of the night. Crossings are often blocked from 15 to 30 minutes at a time, causing persons (especially strangers) to miss their trains.

But in other ways our town can stand improvement. Automobiles and motorcycles which along the streets and around corners at a dangerous rate of speed. Stray dogs, without license tags, are quite numerous. The streets and sidewalks are frequently used as a playground by boys, especially colored boys. These and other things I am sure all have observed.

Now, what is the corrective? Does the railroad run the town? Are the streets without regulation? Are other grievances sanctioned by the law? If we have ordinances why are they not enforced? If these ordinances have been recinded it is well nigh time another code were drawn up. Every one likes a well-ordered town. Why cannot Manassas be well ordered? We hope the day is near at hand when Manassas can be proud of itself, of its laws and their enforcement.

Oct. 11 and will be preceded by a parade through the principal streets of Richmond. Nine-foot foot lances, balanced 4 feet from the point, will be used. Crooked points are not barred. Knights will be required to wear ash-colored stall rent will be charged riders for their horses. Railroad station on grounds.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Appointed to Recommend an Engineer to Prepare Detailed Plans and Specifications for, and Supervise the Construction of, the Proposed Water, Sewerage and Lighting System, and to Make a Study of the Tentative Right-of-Way of the Proposed Sewerage System.

TO THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF MANASSAS:

Your committee appointed for the purposes indicated above submits the following report:

EMPLOYMENT OF ENGINEER.

It is stated at the outset that the success of the undertaking in question rests, in a large measure, upon the degree of competency, integrity and skill of the engineer placed in charge of the work. The service required can be performed only by a man with experience and training in this special field and on such a man the citizens of this town will be dependent to properly safeguard their interests. He must work out the general scheme in a way calculated to secure the best results at a reasonable cost, and must have the force and strength of character to compel the specific execution of work by those to whom the general contracts will be awarded. In fact, he must be a man in whom implicit confidence may be reposed. The making of surveys; the preparation of detailed plans and specifications for the mains, wiring and plant; assistance in awarding contracts; constant supervision and inspection of work and materials are some of the duties that will come within the scope of his work.

Inquiry disclosed the fact that charges by engineers, for work of the class referred to, range from 3 to 10 per cent. of the amount involved in the general contracts. It should be borne in mind, however, that the services of a skilled engineer, like those of a skilled lawyer or other professional man, cannot usually be secured for a nominal sum. Frequently an efficient engineer is able to save for a town, as a result of careful study and the application of proper methods, a sum equal to several times the amount paid for his services. Therefore competency rather than compensation has been given serious consideration by this Committee.

The Committee has availed itself of the advice of a number of persons familiar with the construction of municipal utilities. The Mayor and the Committee visited Washington to confer with several engineers connected with the District Government, and members of the Committee also visited Culpeper to confer with local officials and engineers.

Applications were received from six engineers, each of whom visited Manassas. Each applicant was given a long hearing and invited to submit his proposition (in detail) in writing, accompanied by letters from officials in other municipalities by whom he had been employed. The papers of the several engineers are herewith inclosed.

After mature consideration of this matter, the Committee has decided to commend to your favorable consideration Mr. N. Wilson Davis, of Harrisonburg, Va. Mr. Davis, who is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, has had over 20 years' experience as an engineer, and, as indicated in the papers accompanying his application, he has planned and supervised the construction of municipal works aggregating more than one million dollars in the following Virginia towns: Winchester, Strasburg, Edinburg, Luray, Harrisonburg, Charlottesville, Lexington and Fredericksburg. His charge for preparing the plans and supervising the work—which may extend over a period of 10 or 12 months—is $2,740.

The Committee feels confident that Mr. Davis possesses the ability and equipment to fulfill his engagement to the satisfaction of the citizens of Manassas.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR SEWERS

Examination has been made of the tentative right of way for sewers and a list made of the privately-owned property through which several of the mains may pass. The line North of the railroad tracks passes to Main street through a portion of the front lawn of the Portner estate; thence, after crossing Portner avenue, through property owned by Messrs. E. Wood Weir, Geo. H. Smith and M. C. Bennett. To the South of the railroad the line would pass from Fairview avenue to or near a street on the Eastern College tract, over a small portion of property owned by Messrs. E. H. Hibbs and J. J. Davies, thence, after crossing Brentsville road, through property owned by Messrs. A. W. Siskair and Thomas H. Lion.

None of the property owners was approached about the right-of-way because it was not known that the tentative plan would be acceptable to the engineer appointed to supervise the work. However, several of the property owners have volunteered the use of their land, and it is believed that, after proper explanation, none of the property holders will interpose objection. It is well to point out that the purchase in the sample of only a small area will be necessary, and this for the installation of a disposal plant. For the sewer mains an easement only will be required, and this easement, or right, it is suggested, might be secured by contract, each owner being paid a nominal sum (say one dollar) as a consideration.

After many sessions and investigations the Committee wishes to recommend that (a) what is known as an "Imhoff" tank be used as a disposal plant. The best engineers agree that this type of tank will give a more reliable and efficient result than any other to the efficient operation of a sewer system. Many cities and towns are discarding chlorinate and septic tanks and installing in their stead the "Imhoff." The committee thinks it of very great importance that this type of tank shall be adopted for Manassas. (b) That an elevated water tank of not less than 75,000 gallons capacity be erected. It is probable that for some years to come our pumping will be done at night and it is believed that less than 75,000 gallon water supply would jeopardize our protection against fire should a conflagration break out late in the afternoon.

NEXT FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Executive Committee Decides to Hold Next Meeting Friday, October 24th.

The Executive Committee of the Farmers' Institute met in the office of Mr. Westwood Hutchison Saturday morning, September 20th, and discussed plans for the next meeting of the Farmers' Institute and attended to other business.

It was decided to hold the next meeting the fourth Friday in October at 10:30 a. m., at which time Mr. C. H. Yarborough, Jr., who has been recently elected Director of Agriculture in the Manassas Agricultural High School, will give an address on the "Selection of Seed Corn." There will also be a speaker from the State Auditor's office, at Richmond, who will discuss the question of taxation.

One purpose of this meeting will be to receive the report of the Committee on Legislation and to take action on same. The greater part of the afternoon session will be given to this matter.

Mr. Yarborough was elected to the Executive Committee to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Professor Burtin, and was instructed to act as secretary pro-tem.

After a short discussion of other matters, the committee adjourned.

WEDDED FIFTY YEARS AGO

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Clarkson Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

One of the most notable events that has taken place in Haymarket for years occurred there on the 23rd of September, when Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Clarkson celebrated their golden wedding.

A most enjoyable reception was given in the home of their son, Mr. C. D. Clarkson, where a large number of friends assembled to congratulate the youthful couple who were also the recipients of many tokens of love and affection, among which was a magnificent display of gorgeous flowers. The Doctor's fellow members of the Haymarket club, whose average ages closely approximate the 70-year mark, were all present as well as his beautiful granddaughter, born on the anniversary of his marriage.

After participating in delicious refreshments, Col. Berkeley was requested to congratulate the youthful couple and responded thus:

"Oh, Lord of Love, bless them to-day
This meeting of the true and good,
Bless them who for fifty years
Have shared life's pleasures and life's Pains;
A semi-century ago
Their hearts with love did overflow,
No noisy stream, no stunted tide,
It filled them both from side to side
And now to us is proved most well
That no semi-centennial
Was ever held more dear than this,
Where everything is joy and bliss;
May Providence in love look down,
That neither days imaginary cross,
Nor when the years are past,
May they both do it side by side,
And when they reach the Golden Gate,
May it for them be opened straight,
God grant me to be there to see

quarters led by a drum and fife corps. The grand parade formed in three divisions at the corner of Anderson and Jackson streets and began its march through the business streets. Three brass bands furnished music for the occasion and crowds lined the sidewalks to cheer the marchers in their final appearance of this convention.

The crowning feature of the reunion was the grand ball given in honor of the visiting veterans Friday night at Mountain Park by the Roanoke Camp of Sons of Veterans.

Capt. John R. Rust of Haymarket represented Ewell Camp.

ENGINEER RECOMMENDED

Council Adopts Report of Special Committee—Contract Expected Next Week.

At a called meeting of the Town Council last night, the report of the special public utilities committee, recommending that Mr. N. Wilson Davis, of Harrisonburg, be engaged at a compensation of $2,740, was adopted, and the same committee, consisting of Dr. C. R. C. Johnson, Messrs. E. A. Brand and Albert Speiden, was continued to go forward with the work of getting the plans and specifications and preparing for the work of the three plants.

The same committee, with Mr. R. S. Hynson added, was instructed to start the preliminary work of getting out the bonds, setting the rate of interest and arranging for having them registered with a bonding company.

It is expected that a contract will be closed with the engineer early in the week when the real work will get started.

GRAND CAMP IN SESSION

Capt. J. R. Rust, of Haymarket, Delegate from Ewell Camp to Reunion at Roanoke.

With about seven hundred Confederate veterans present the twenty-sixth annual reunion of the Grand Camp of Virginia was held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week in Roanoke.

Col. J. Thompson Brown, of Richmond, was elected grand commander. Other officers elected were: First lieutenant commander, Gen. Samuel Griffin, Bedford; second lieutenant, Thomas Tate, Pulaski; third lieutenant, Thomas B. Flann, Roanoke; inspector general, Tipton D. Jennings, Lynchburg; quartermaster, D. A. Brown, Richmond; chaplains, Dr. J. W. Hyde, Winchester, and Dr. Everett Meade, Fairfax county; surgeon, Dr. John Terrell, Lynchburg, and adjutant general, Joseph V. Ridgwood, Richmond.

Following the selection of Newport News as the next meeting place, the adoption of resolutions of thanks to the various Confederate organizations of Roanoke, the press, Boy Scouts and citizens generally for the hospitality extended, the camp adjourned at 12:40 o'clock Friday, after which the delegates and visitors immediately boarded special trolley cars at the Jefferson theater for a trip to the Mt. Vernon, returning in time for the grand parade at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and going without dinner in order to enjoy the one sightseeing feature of the three days' program.

The real fight of the Grand Camp session was caused by the discussion of a resolution of Maj. H. H. Love, of Ewell Camp, which had as its object the memorializing of the Federal Congress for pensions for Confederate soldiers. Samuel W. Williams, attorney-general, opposed the resolution. Gen. Williams advocated the appointment of a committee to investigate and report back to the next reunion. "No hope of success is apparent," he said, "until Northern sentiment favors the movement." Maj. Love's resolution was brought up on a motion from the host to table. "An eye and nose test was undecidable, and a decision was asked amid much confusion. The resolution was tabled." At 4 o'clock an illuminated parade was started.

A LITTLE FAMILY

It was a pathetic case—the very worst that had ever come before the court. A broken-hearted father had told the tragedy of his home life and had asked the court to take charge of his five children; the mother had gone from bad to worse, she had sinned against her own little daughters; in a last, wild spree she had fled the city and had left the children alone. Would the court help the father and would the strong arm of the law shield the little family? The father had to work and could not employ any one to care for his children—was there nothing that could be done to save them?

Five years ago, ten years ago there would have been no hesitation. The denominations of the state were ready to receive the children in their orphanages. Break up the family, scatter its members forever, take from the father the one influence that could uplift and sustain him—the love of his children. The orphanages were meant for such as these.

But a different view prevailed when the case was heard in the juvenile court. Above all else, the family must be preserved and the children kept together; society had no right to sin against the children because their mother had sinned. So the children were put in charge of a woman officer, who sought them out a home. It took time, it demanded more pains than a court would perhaps have given a decade ago. But at last a home was found and the children were placed there at the expense of their father and under the control of a goodly old woman.

Was it worth while? To-day the children are happy and united; two of them went to vacation school, passed their examinations and were promoted an extra grade; the father is at work at his trade with manly self-respect, and once a week, amid rejoicings and gentle tears, he spends an evening with his little ones; a family which, six months ago, faced utter destruction now has a bright and happy future.

And what has wrought this wonder? That new law, at the thought of which the heart of every true man beats up—that law which aims not to destroy, but to build up, not to cast down, but to restore, not to punish, but to save.—News-Leader

THE APPLE CROP

This is an off year for apples. The crop is short, both in this country and abroad. Probably, therefore, less will be heard than usual about apple "overproduction"—the complaint that is usually heard in apple-raising regions when the price drops to $2 or less a barrel and when fruit remains ungathered in the orchard. The chief trouble with the American apple crop, whether it is large or small, is the poor system of distribution. The apple is a fruit of so many virtues that such a thing as too big a crop is almost an impossibility in this country. The people like apples and would eat millions of barrels more. The trouble comes in getting the apple from the orchard to the city consumer—a trouble not confined to apple distribution, but apparently worse in the case of apples than some other commodities.—Boston Herald.

NOT SOOTHING TO PRIDE

It is something of a jolt to national pride that Secretary Daniels has decided to buy British turbines for the greatest American battleship soon to be built.

No doubt they will promptly become naturalized and do their work as well as American turbines. We have no fear whatever that they might prove treacherous on account of their foreign origin.

But the fact that they cost but slightly more than one-third as much as American turbines of the same pattern is a disconcerting reminder that, big as we are and able to do so many things, we are not all British in an important detail of

THE INCESSANT EDISON

Shall we pity Thomas Edison, who is only happy at work, or envy him? The man seems incarnate energy. He is like perpetual motion. Twenty hours a day at hard mental labor in his laboratories alone can keep him well. If he stops to take a rest he gets sick. He is tired out by a two weeks' vacation. In an automobile he is pursued by the desire to save fuel by some new device. The only way he can really relax is in bed. There is where he is now.

Yet, if any man in the world deserves rest, it is this wizard of ours. He is sixty-six, and his whole life has been spent in this strenuous toil. He has lightened the day's tasks for millions on millions. His labors have chained the imp electricity to do our bidding. It lights our homes, amuses us with talking pictures, and has given us a thousand devices to shorten hours. We would be glad to see such a benefactor in perfect idleness through a ripe old age.

There are scores of morals in this astounding man. One is the value of concentration. Another the success that follows love of the work. It may be pointed out for the ambitious, too, that not all men can follow this formula and make good. To feel badly because we are not as industrious as Edison is like striving to imitate the sun. He is a reservoir of vital energy. Not every man is so equipped.

We may feel that Edison misses a lot of things that come from a leisurely course through the world. He seems to have so little time for real living in the sense of long talks, petting dogs, listening to good stories, and cultivating mild fads. We do not imagine Edison ever looks at the scenery or wonders about sunset. Yet, why prescribe another human's happiness? He does work that causes him to be acclaimed the most valuable American citizen. He burns like the flame of his own lamps. Some day he will whirl into darkness, and we shall seek vainly for one to take his place.—Times-Dispatch.

SHALL VOTING BE COMPULSORY?

The approach of the fall elections throughout the country revives the discussion of the evils attributable to the stay-at-homes. Compulsory voting is advocated in many quarters; among those who think its advantages would outweigh its disadvantages is Secretary Daniels of President Wilson's cabinet. That it is not the least intelligent voters who disfranchise themselves by neglecting to register, or absenting themselves from the polls, is everywhere understood. Business and professional men are perhaps more prone to neglect of their duty as voters than any others. It is to remedy their indifference that compulsory voting is urged in this country, and not for the same reason as in Europe, where it is advocated by conservative and even reactionary parties, which feel that the leftists or radicals are too active and too influential in politics. In Belgium it is the conservative party that put through a compulsory voting law.—Pittsburg Press.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors of this Company have heard with profound sorrow of the death of Newland T. DePauw, who, for many years, has been their cherished friend and associate.

WHEREAS, We mourn with deepest regret the loss we have sustained by the death of our fellow director, be it

RESOLVED, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the members of his family, and condole with them in their bereavement, and be it

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Board, and a copy, suitably engrossed, presented to the bereaved family and given to the press in tribute to the memory of the departed.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE AMERICAN WINDOW GLASS COMPANY, Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16, 1913.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Haymarket Farmers' Agricultural Club, the following resolutions were passed:

Inasmuch as it has pleased the Almighty Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst, and from the sphere of his former usefulness, Newland Talbot DePauw, our beloved friend, and active coworker in the honorable field of husbandry; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That though this sudden going out of a life, in which was bound up the joys and sorrows of so many, may seem mysterious and appalling, yet we should bow to the inevitable though inscrutable ways of Providence, assured as we are, that the Master doeth all things well.

RESOLVED, Secondly—That though our loss be irreparable, yet it is eminently fitting that some record should be made of a personal history, which seems to have been a splendid fulfillment of the duties and relations of life.

THIRDLY, That we cannot forget his supreme devotion to the profession of his life, nor his uniform pleasantness of manner at our farmers' meetings, and how every one who came in contact with him socially, or in business went away his friend and admirer.

FOURTHLY, In the words of another, "That judged by the ruling of the Master of us all, his was a great character." His daily life seeming an answer to the question, "What can I do for others?"

FIFTHLY, That our warmest sympathy be extended to his beloved wife, to the loving hearts bowed down by their loss, and that these resolutions be recorded in our minute book, and a copy of the same be sent to the sorrowing family.

H. M. CLARKSON, EDMUND BERKELEY, C. A. HEINEKEN, Sr., Committee.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Passed by the vestry of St. Paul's church, Haymarket, on Sunday, September 21, 1913.

Since God, in his infinite wisdom, has seen fit to remove from his earthly career our late friend, Newland Talbot DePauw, our beloved coworker in the cause of Christ, and of his church militant, we, his fellow vestrymen of St. Paul's, Haymarket, deeming it meet and proper, to record in some enduring form, his unusual personal merits. Therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That though this sudden going out of a life of such shining value may seem an inexplicable mystery, yet assured as we all are, that the "Master doeth all things well" and "doth not willingly afflict," we should humbly submit to the inevitable and inscrutable ways of Providence.

SECONDLY, That we cannot be insensible to the supreme devotion of our colleague to the true interests of his church, nor unmindful of his ever readiness to help in time of need; nor can we forget the pious example, which he has left to us by his many needs of kindness, his benevolence, good will, and true charity.

THIRDLY, That our sincere sympathy be tendered to his bereaved wife, and to all the bleeding hearts which have been so crushed by this affliction.

FOURTHLY, That these resolutions be recorded in our book of minutes, that a copy of the same be sent to the sorrowing family, and a copy to each of the newspapers of Manassas with a request for publication.

H. M. CLARKSON, GEO. G. TYLER, Committee.

In the matter of No. 103 W. B. Bullock, In Bankruptcy.

The creditors of the above-named bankrupt are hereby notified that John M. Hooe, Trustee of the said bankrupt, has filed a petition to sell the estate of the above-named bankrupt, and a hearing on this case on the 26th day of September, A. D. 1913, praying that the said hearing may be had to ascertain what rights in and to certain personal property now in the possession of the said bankrupt, the ownership of which is in doubt, that a hearing on the said petition for sale of the bankrupt's estate, and a hearing to ascertain what right, if any, the said Trustee may have in the said personal property will be held at the office of the Referee in Bankruptcy, 107 North Fairfax Street, in the city of Alexandria, Virginia, on the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M. at which all persons in interest may appear. WALTER I. VARNBY, Referee in Bankruptcy.

A Marvelous Invention TO THE PEOPLE: An invention has been perfected which will revolutionize the production of POWER, LIGHT AND HEAT. It will affect more people directly than anything discovered so far in the history of the world. It will furnish light, heat and power in any quantity desired by the large or small family, without the use of coal, wood, oil or gas and at a price not more than half what these things cost now. Please think a moment what all this means. I believe it is going to be the greatest money maker for the companies that operate it of anything yet discovered. I am authorized by the General Manager of the business to offer for sale to a few of the first comers one share of stock of the par value of $100 in the parent company and shares of the par value of $7,200 in one of the subsidiary companies for the cash sum of $100, but this offer is to hold good only till the last day of this (September) month. This puts the investor into the company on the ground floor and entitles him to a participation in the organization of the subsidiary company that he gets into. I do honestly believe that $100 invested in this proposition now will yield fabulous returns. The time is short in which to accept this offer and it would be impossible for me to present it personally to all of the people that I would like to, so I take this means of doing so. The offer is open to any who will accept, but especially do I present it to my friends and acquaintances. I believe all who see this and do not avail themselves of the opportunity will regret it. I am buying the same stock and paying the same price that it is offered to you at. I will furnish full directions to any one wishing to invest, how to see it demonstrated any week day in Washington. The least amount that you can invest is $100. For any further particulars apply to me. JOHN A. NICOL, Manassas, Va.

HIT THE WRONG MAN

How the Making of a Black Eye Brought Happiness to Two.

By JAMES HALL. Collins was in a very uncomfortable frame of mind as he journeyed downtown in the Subway.

The reason for this pessimistic conclusion was that both the advertiser and the letter apparently stated that the advertiser wanted a "clean-cut" man.

The car was crowded and Collins was hanging to a strap. He fell to watching the face of a girl who was seated opposite.

"Won't You Accept My Humble Apologies?"

ability too, no doubt, for there was a quiet self-confidence in her manner which made her, quite unconsciously, a personality among the nondescript humanity that crowded the car.

On one side of her sat a swarthy, mean-visaged individual, a common Pullman type.

Suddenly his attention was drawn to her by hearing her exclaim in a low, well-modulated voice, but expressive of intense scorn:

"Will you kindly stop pressing my arm, sir?" His nerves were already tingling.

This slight incident completely upset his equilibrium. He saw the puffy-faced man, who had begun to look exceedingly uncomfortable, apparently attempting to conceal himself behind his newspaper.

Collins found himself the center of a mass of struggling humanity. A man was clapping him on the shoulder and shouting approvingly: "Well done, young fellow!"

through. He reached her and offered her his arm. She declined it indignantly, and Collins, crestfallen, followed her to the car door, where he was at once seized by a gray-coated Subway guard.

"Hold him!" yelled the puffy-faced man, who, hatless and coatless, now appeared on the scene.

"Only he struck the wrong man," she said. "This gentleman was perfectly innocent."

"Innocent!" snorted the puffy-faced man. "I should say that I am innocent. I am a family man, and I can't go home with a black eye.

Collins was thunderstruck at this piece of information. Surely fate had dealt very hardly with him.

"I don't care for myself, but if you are a gentleman you will let me get this laid out of this crowd. Won't you accept my humble apologies?"

There was an awful silence. Collins dared not look up.

"Good Lord, that's one on me!" he said. "I can't afford to have it get about that I was manled by one of my employees to punish me for insulting my secretary."

Three-score years ago, I. V. Sullivan, a sea captain, organized in Boston a new business, modeled after something he had heard existed in England.

Today this organization has thousands of employees. It has 2,196 offices in almost as many American cities.

Its expenses are more than ten million dollars a year. It has recently erected a building in Chicago worth $300,000.

Another building in Philadelphia valued at $687,000, and a third in Boston at an expenditure of $1,250,000.

The name of this organization is the Young Men's Christian association. Its business is the conservation of America's manhood—World's Work.

The last of the handloom weavers of Wales, a man named Williams, was present at the Home Arts and Industries exhibition at the Albert hall, London, not long since.

What Is Conversion?

By REV. H. W. POPE
Superintendent of Men
Meady Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"Except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

Let us consider first some things which are not conversion, but which are often mistaken for it. To improve one's life is not conversion. It is a common opinion that if one will drop all bad habits and cultivate good ones, read the Bible and go to church, he can make himself a Christian in a short time. This is a mistake. The Christian life is not simply an improvement of the old life, but a different kind of a life altogether, namely, a life of obedience to Christ. Suppose you had a sour apple tree which you wished to convert into a sweet apple tree. What would you do? Would you dig about it and prune it and scrape the bark? No, indeed. A hundred years of such improvement would not make the tree bear sweet apples, but the introduction of a graft from a sweet apple tree would do it very quickly. Even so a lifetime spent in improving one's habits does not make one a Christian, but the entrance of Jesus Christ into the heart by the surrender of the will, will do it in a moment. People do not become Christians by improving their life, but by accepting Jesus Christ. "He that hath the son within him, shall that both his and the Son of God hath not life." (1 John 5:12.)

What is Conversion?
The word convert means to "turn about." As applied to spiritual things, it means a turning of the soul unto God. "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way." The real essence of sin is this, that the sinner is determined to have his own way. It may not be the worst way in the world, it may not be an immoral way, or a vicious way, but it is his way and not God's way, which he ought to follow. The only course for the sinner to pursue is to turn about to abandon his way, and to accept God's way. "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him." Conversion, then, is a turning of the soul unto God, a surrender of the will to the divine will, an acceptance of Jesus Christ as our Lord and Master. When the sinner, realizing the folly of further resistance, finally surrenders his will to the Lord Jesus, then occurs a great change. God forgives his sins, and so changes his heart that henceforth he loves God's way better than his own way. "A new heart will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes." (Ezek. 36:26, 27). The sinner no longer has a controversy with God. The great question of life is settled, and henceforth his sin is to know and do the will of God. Influences Leading to Conversion. The Word of God is a very effective agency. It is like a mirror in which the sinner sees himself as he really is. That is why Christ bids us preach the gospel to every creature, because there is life in it. "The Word of God is alive, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword." One can hardly read the Bible continuously and not be made to realize that he is a sinner and needs a Savior.

On one occasion a man said to me: "From the preaching which I heard in my boyhood I was led to suppose that when one became a Christian, it was necessary for him to go through some extraordinary process called a change of heart, or regeneration. This book which you have loaned me, teaches that what is required is simply a change of purpose. Now will you please tell me which is right and which is wrong?" I replied: "They are both right; you could not change your heart if you should try; you could not make it love what is internally hated." "No," he said, "suppose not," he said. "But you could change your purpose, could you not?" "You could decide henceforth to obey the Lord Jesus," certainly, he replied. "Well," said I, "if you will change your purpose and accept Christ as your Savior, God will change your heart and cause you to love what once you hated and to hate what once you loved." "No," he said, "I could not do that."

Temperance Cause Marches On. Rev. Francis E. Clarke, founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, recently made an extensive trip abroad with 450 fellow Americans. Among them were representatives of nearly every state, nearly every trade, business and profession, and they were the people who surprised the steward. Two hundred and eighty of the passengers drank only cold water. It was a rare thing to see a bottle of wine or beer on the table, and whisky did not make its appearance, says Mr. Clark.

WHAT WHISKY DOES TO MAN

Arnold Gilmer of Alabama, Executed for Murder, Leaves Statement Giving Cause of Downfall.

Some weeks ago Arnold Gilmer of Alabama was executed for murder. Two days before his death he sent to Mrs. J. B. Chatfield, former president of the state W. C. T. U., the following statement:

"What will whisky do? "Whisky will cause you to lose your best friends; whisky will cause an unhappy home; whisky will cause your wife to leave home; whisky will cause your dear old mother and wife to cry and shed many tears; whisky will cause your little children to suffer with cold and it will cause them to go without shoes on their little feet."

"Whisky will cause wife to work for husband; whisky will cause husband to spend his week's wages when there is nothing to eat at home, then whisky will cause husband to get arrested and locked up—but whisky won't get him out."

"Whisky will cause you to fight your best friend; whisky will cause you to have enemies; whisky will cause you to stay out late at night; whisky will cause your wife to stay waiting up for you to come home; whisky will cause you not to get home at all sometimes; whisky will cause you to dodge your wife at night when you go home late."

"What caused Arnold Gilmer to kill Mrs. Tippett? Whisky."

"What caused Arnold Gilmer to go to Mrs. Tippett's home? Whisky."

"What caused Arnold Gilmer to be hung by the neck until dead? Dead! Whisky."

"What is just what whisky will do, friends."

SLUMP IN BEER PRODUCTION

Decrease in Output of Beverage of 1,100,000 Barrels Compared With the Previous Year.

Looks as if beer drinking is on the decline in the United States. Uncle Sam produces the figures to prove it. According to the annual report of the internal revenue commissioner for the fiscal year ending June 30, there was a decrease in the output of beer of 1,100,000 barrels compared with the previous year. That's a big decrease. Counting 30 gallons to the barrel, and there is more, it means a slump of 33,000,000 gallons. Counting only ten glasses to the gallon, it means a decrease of 331,525,700 drinks. Counting each drink five cents, shows that $16,576,455 less was spent for beer in 1913 than in 1911. There was an increase in the production of whisky, but the bonded warehouse are filled with the stuff, and distillers are all "fussed up" because the supply is far exceeding the demand. Americans are not all on the water wagon by any means, but more of them are climbing aboard right along.—American Issue.

MEN WE WANT IN CONGRESS

Representatives Who Oppose Every Measure Regarding Liquor Traffic Should Be Favored.

"There are many congressmen who are opposed to our interests and vote against every measure that looks toward the development and betterment of our beloved country. One such measure introduced by the opposition I intend that the 250,444 saloonkeepers throughout the United States shall know the records of these congressmen." M. F. Farley, President National Liquor Dealers' Association. We must see to it that the anti-liquor men and women in the 48 states also know the record of these congressmen. They are the men that will be sent back to Congress.

TAZEWELL INFECTION LOW

NOTES FROM MINNIEVILLE

TO MEET IN MANASSAS

Hookworm Inspectors Find Only Two Per Cent of Population Suffering from Disease.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 24.—Tazewell county has less hookworm disease than any of the Virginia counties thus far inspected by officers of the State Board of Health. This announcement, made to-day at the offices of the board, is based on the reports of the Tazewell county dispensary just forwarded by Dr. W. A. Brumfield, the inspector in charge.

The dispensary in Tazewell was one of a number held during the summer months in Southwest Virginia. In Wise, Lee and Dickenson counties, the inspectors found many cases of hookworm disease and dispensed many treatments to sufferers. In Lee county, especially, a record-breaking dispensary was held and the officers were welcomed with open arms by the hospitable mountaineers. Interest reached a high point and cooperation was shown by the entire population.

On the strength of these records and with the knowledge that hookworm disease was widely prevalent in Southwest Virginia, the board expected to find a considerable infection in Tazewell county.

The reports, however, while showing hearty cooperation and deep interest on the part of the people, disclose the startling fact only 2 per cent of all those examined in Tazewell county are suffering from hookworm disease.

There may be other counties in Virginia," said an officer of the board to-day, in commenting on the Tazewell reports, "where investigation will show a degree of infection as low as this, but so far Tazewell must be awarded the palm. When many hundred examinations fail to disclose more than two persons in the hundred suffering from hookworm, the disease may not be regarded as an important local problem. We are, however, very glad that the dispensary was held in Tazewell and we are most grateful for the cordial cooperation given us. It is a relief to know that there is a Virginia county where hookworm disease is relatively so unimportant."

Within the next few weeks, it is announced, the summer dispensaries of the Board of Health will be closed and the hookworm inspectors will begin their annual visits to the schools. This work, which is regarded by many as the most important aspect of the hookworm campaign, will be carried on in those counties which have not yet been visited or inspected. It is pointed out that hookworm disease greatly reduces the mental efficiency of children and vastly increases the labor of the teachers. The eradication of hookworm disease among the pupils of a school and the corresponding increase in the mental power of the infected children is regarded as a direct gain to the public school system.

"DON'T SPIT" CARDS.

The State Anti-Tuberculosis Association which is working with local organizations to eradicate the White Plague from Virginia, recently sent out to every railroad station in Virginia printed "don't spit" cards with appropriate legends. In this work it was announced, the Association had the cooperation of practically every railroad in Virginia and was enabled advantageously to display these cards along all the lines.

The Association has just had printed a second supply of these cards for use in stores and public places. These may be had free upon application at the headquarters of the Association, 1110 Capitol street, Richmond.

And Furnished By the Help of Manassas People.

Those who suffer with kidney backache, urinary ills or any little kidney or bladder disorder, want kidney help. Who can better advise than some Manassas resident, who has also suffered, but has had relief. Manassas people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's one case and there are many others.

Mrs. M. E. Akers, of Centerville, Manassas, Va., says: "I am willing at all times to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement. This excellent remedy completely cured one of my children of a bad case of kidney trouble, of several years' standing, after everything else had failed. My advice to other kidney sufferers is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a fair trial."

"Out all Night in the Wet"

SOUNDS tragic, but it's far from that. It's the glad story about the wool in the Kirschbaum Clothes we have for you this fall. They are shrunk by the original London cold-water process. The woollens stand between cold, wet cloths all night. Result is that every iota of shrink is taken out of the fabric before it is cut and made up.

No amount of rain, snow, hail or drizzle can take the tuck out of the suit after that. The only wrinkles that can come are the harmless kind that a hot iron quickly takes away.

So you just laugh up your Kirschbaum sleeve when the weather prophet makes mistakes.

Style? No one can get better fashions than you will have in your Kirschbaum Suit. That is an actual fact.

And count upon this—you will get the most perfect fitting clothes anyone can wear.
