

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

Rev. O. Grey Hutchison, of Pennsylvania, Gives Views on Question.

SMETHPORT, PA., August 17, 1914.
EDITOR MANASSAS JOURNAL,
Manassas, Va.

DEAR SIR: As a reader of your paper, being a yearly subscriber, a native of Virginia, and as such being interested in her affairs, having paid my taxes in the Old Dominion for the years 1907-1913 inclusive, which entitles me to a vote there, I would like to ask a few questions relative to an advertisement in your issue of August 14, 1914, on page two, called "leading citizens will vote to retain local self-government."

It is stated "that over one-half of the counties in Virginia draw more money out of the treasury of the state than they pay in. What is to become of the deficit?" Will the writer of this please state the counties who pay less money into the treasury of the state than they draw out and at the same time name the licensed counties in the state?

It also states that "I am opposed to state-wide prohibition because it carries with it a feature of oppression, and does not diminish crime or stop drunkenness."

As to it stopping drunkenness, you in Manassas can answer that better than the one who made the above statement. What I would like for him to answer is, if it does not diminish crime, then why is it that in Kansas more than half of the jails are empty and more than two-thirds of the poor houses vacant?

Will the writer of "because I think the liquor traffic would be carried on more extensively and illicitly than under the present temperance laws," please tell us why there are more illicit sales of liquor in license territory than in non-license territory? As an advocate of this just watch the prosecution of blind tigers in the two territories.

The one who wrote "the states which have already abolished local option for state wide prohibition, finding that prohibition does not prohibit, would be glad to return to local option. Alabama was one of those that returned to local option," kindly tell me if it be true that the prohibition states would gladly return to local option why do they not do so? Why did Maine, at her last gubernatorial election, when she considered this very proposition of abolishing state-wide prohibition, turned the proposition down and turned it down hard notwithstanding the fact that she elected a man as governor who favors license? And this same governor, being elected to enforce the laws of the people, removed from office sheriffs who were delinquent in enforcing the prohibition laws? Maine has been constitutionally dry for more than half a century, certainly long enough to know if prohibition prohibits or whether it pays. If it does not pay, why did the governor of Kansas last year when the Kansas conn had to be cut before it cared in order to save the fodder on account of the severe drought, in answer to an offer of financial help from the governor of Pennsylvania, say, that owing to Kansas being legally dry, she had more money deposit in the banks per capita than had Pennsylvania with her greater and more varied resources but who is legally wet?

If the states who have grown from local option to state-wide prohibition would return to local option why did Mississippi at her last legislature strengthen her constitutional dryness by enacting a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating beverages in drug stores?

And lastly, the man who says, "What is to become of the deficit? I am not willing to be taxed to make it up and extra taxation is the only means by which it can be made," does he mean for us to understand that he places a higher value on his dollars and cents than he does on morals and sense? To prove to you that the wording of that last sentence is not sentimental read the following extracts:

At the forty-third annual meeting of the American Society for the study of alcohol and other narcotics. It was declared that the United States is rapidly falling into mental, moral and physical decay because of the increasing use of drugs and will become decadent as a nation in a few decades if the habit is not checked.

A startling illustration of how alcohol is assisting in race suicide in this country was given by Dr. Alfred Gordon, formerly assistant professor at the Jefferson Medical College. Dr. Gordon cited the case of a Philadelphia woman in society who married a man addicted to drinking. He exhibited the body of a child who was dead at birth. While the child was perfect in other respects, it was found to be without a brain. The deadly poison of the alcohol consumed by the father, according to Dr. Gordon, was responsible.

The following is part of a letter from the Kentucky Distillers' Distributing Company of Kansas City, of whom W. Franklin is president. This was printed in the North American, dated Apr. 15, 1913.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 3, 1913. Keely Institute, Dwight, Ill. Gentlemen: Our customers are your prospective patients.

We can put on your desk a mailing list of over 50,000 individual consumers of liquor. The list is the result of thousands of dollars of advertising.

Each individual on the list is a regular user of liquor. The list of names is new, live and active. We know because we have circled it regularly. We will furnish this list in quantities at the prices listed below, remittance to accompany each order: $5,000; 10,000, $200; 20,000, $400; 30,000, $600; 40,000, $800; 50,000, $1,000. We will not furnish this list in lots of less than 10,000. Discontinuance of business Jan. 1, is the occasion of selling our mailing list.

During 1913 "accidents in the mills of Coatsville have decreased 40 per cent since the town became dry eleven months ago. It was declared yesterday at West Chester by Charles L. Houston, vice president of the Lukens Iron and Steel Company, Coatsville's largest industrial plant."

Just one more question, please, and then I will close for this time. If alcoholic beverages are such good things to put into the human system why is it that life insurance investigations show that at the age of 30 the expectant life of the non-abstainer is 35.1 years while for the abstainer it is 33.8 years making a difference in favor of the abstainer of 1.3 per cent? At the age of 40 the difference in per cent is the same.

Dr. Edward B. Phelps has made a thorough and impartial investigation of mortality due to alcohol, basing his findings on the testimony of the medical directors of three of the prominent insurance companies of America. His conclusion is that 8 per cent of all deaths of adults in the United States are due to alcohol.

Thanking you for the courtesy of so much of your valuable space, I am,
Yours very truly,
O. GREY HUTCHISON,
501 East Main street.

RICHARD SWEENEY DEAD

Died July 29, at his home, near Buckland, Va., Richard Sweeney, aged 85. Born in Ireland, he came to this country when he was twenty years old, and lived the rest of his life in this neighborhood.

He purchased a farm here and by his honesty and integrity made friends of all who knew him. He was a good neighbor and a very kind husband and father and was rewarded by having every one of his children and grand children by his bedside when the end came—which, we hope, was a comfort for he was never happier than when his children and grand children were around him. He raised a large family which is a credit to any community.

He is survived by his wife and four children, one son and three daughters—J. R. Sweeney, of Gainesville; Mrs. John Harrington, Mrs. Carey Grimsley and Mrs. M. J. Collins, of Washington.
ONE WHO KNEW HIM WELL.

WHEAT GROWING CONTEST

Farmers of Northern Virginia Counties Expected to Make Great Showing.

Interest continues to increase in the farmers' five acre wheat growing contest for the farmers of northern Virginia counties. Additional farmers are enrolling each day and are now making preparations for seeding. We want two hundred more farmers to enter this contest and see how much wheat they can grow on five acres of land. Some one has said that there is no limit to what an acre of land will produce, but we want to see what five acres will produce in the way of wheat. If the European World war continues, wheat is going to bring high prices, and the man who gets a large yield will make some money to be proud of.

WHAT THE CONTEST IS

This is just a friendly contest to be conducted for farmers somewhat on the same line as the boys' corn clubs. It does not cost any farmer one cent to join this contest or to get out of it if he chooses. We hope to make him some money.

The contest will extend over Albemarle, Orange, Guilford, Fauquier, Prince William, Fairfax, Warren and Shenandoah counties. Any farmer or boy living in these counties can enter the contest without cost and can compete for prizes. There will be a list of prizes given in each county, and an additional list of sweepstakes prizes will be given for the best yields over the entire territory mentioned.

WHO IS CONDUCTING THE CONTEST

W. M. Brown, field agent of the farm improvement work of the Southern railway company has originated this work and with the assistance of the county demonstrators will carry it out. The business men of the town are taking an active interest in the work and many of them are offering prizes. Any information can be obtained at any time regarding the contest from W. M. Brown at Manassas, Va.

WHAT TO DO TO ENTER

Make up your mind that you are going into this contest and write a postal card to Mr. at Manassas, Va., to that effect. If there is any advice that he can give with regard to how to grow more wheat per acre, he is paid the Southern railway to serve you. Call on him, and his services are free of any charge. Either Mr. Brown or the county demonstrator, where they have one, will call on you at the earliest possible time and give such help as possible. We are ready to give help in getting the best seed, fertilizer, etc.

WHEN THE CONTEST WILL BE DECIDED

Some date will be selected after all wheat has been threshed when samples of the wheat from from each five acre plot will be brought together at some central point and an expert will decide who has the best samples of wheat. We expect to have a lecture at this time on wheat growing by some man who knows the business.

Prizes will be given for the following: 1. Best yield on five acres corn stubble. 2. Best yield on five acres fallow land. 3. Best yield on five acres of pea or bean stubble. 4. The best peck of wheat to be taken from the five acres. 5. The best sheaf bundle of wheat.

COUNTY BOARD IN SESSION

County School Officials Meet in Quarterly Session—Elections And Appropriations.

The Prince William county school board met Monday at the court house with the following officials present: Division Superintendent George G. Tyler, president; Corbin Thompson, vice-president; and district trustees J. R. Cooke, Brentsville; W. W. Abel and D. C. Cline, Dumfries; Corbin Thompson, L. Ledman and C. H. Payne, Occoquan; W. L. Sanders and R. A. Rust, Gainesville; and D. J. Arrington, Manassas.

Mr. Thompson was reelected vice-president and Mr. T. J. Woolfenden was elected a member from Coles district.

The report of the committee for obtaining the appropriation for boys' dormitories for high schools was read and approved.

It was moved and seconded that no school in the county be opened later than October 1, unless for very good reason, and that five days should be set apart for the superintendent to hold teachers' institutes.

The report of the committee appointed to settle the county school accounts was read and adopted; and it was moved and adopted that the different district school boards be allowed to send one delegate each to the educational conference to be held in Richmond in November, and that an appropriation of $15 be made from the county school fund for that purpose. Also an appropriation of $15 to pay the expenses of sending one girl from the girls' tomato clubs.

It was ordered that one copy of the Virginia Journal of Education be furnished to each school of the county; that medical inspection be continued; and that several bills be paid. Allowances were made to superintendent and clerk, and Mr. Arrington was appointed to make arrangements with the two county papers to do the county printing for the ensuing year.

SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID

Mrs. D. J. Myers died of typhoid fever Tuesday in the family home on Main street and Centerville road. The body was shipped to Rockingham county yesterday for burial.

She was born in Rockingham county in 1875, and lived there until eleven years ago, when with her husband she went to Illinois. They have since lived for a short time in Nokesville and moved to Manassas last winter. Her maiden name was Etta C. Sandey.

She leaves her husband, five children—four girls and a boy, the eldest being 13 years old—and one sister and two half brothers. Four of the children are ill of typhoid fever, but their condition is said to be improved. The baby, who is being cared for by Mrs. John A. Nicol, has not developed the disease.

State Agricultural Bulletin.

Commissioner Koerner is mailing out the Department's August bulletin. This bulletin is well illustrated and contains valuable information that will help the farmer in his agricultural work during August. It contains articles on alfalfa and silage as an economical feed, the value of hog cholera serum that will protect the hogs from this fatal disease, the price of which has been reduced, and how to check the spread of cholera, the advantage of the Parcel Post to the farmer, the treatment of the Hessian fly in wheat fields, which is often very destructive to the growing wheat, and also a very large number of fertilizer analyses. These monthly bulletins are very helpful to the farmers in their work, and should be in the hands of every farmer in the State. The Commissioner will gladly mail them to any farmer upon request.

MONUMENT TO LATIMER

Unveiled Saturday at Harrisonburg—Little Girls Pull Cord—Large Attendance.

[Taken from the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record.]

In Woodbine cemetery Saturday a beautiful marble shaft, erected to the memory of Joseph White Latimer, the "Boy Major of the Confederacy," was unveiled with interesting exercises. Little Misses Rose Rice and Catherine Weir, of Manassas, great-nieces of Major Latimer, pulled the cord which revealed the monument to the gathering of Confederate veterans, daughters and citizens.

A feature of the exercises was a recitation, "I Am Dreaming," by Master Marvin Rice, of Manassas, a great nephew of the gallant young officer. The lad with his soft Virginia accent pictured Lee, Jackson, Beauregard, Johnston, Stuart, Ashby, Armistead and many other Confederate generals bringing in toward the conclusion,

And the smiling, boyish Latimer Like a sunbeam in that throng.

The words and manner of young Rice brought tears to the eyes of the men who had followed Lee and Jackson and the eyes of others glistened. The recitation was beautiful and the boy caught the spirit with remarkable ease. Senator John Paul, a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, delivered the principal address.

Gen. E. W. Nichols, superintendent of the institute, also spoke, saying that he would be recreant to his duty if he did not feel on this occasion the part taken by the women of Harrisonburg and of the northern section of Virginia in erecting the monument. Upon entering the V. M. I. forty years ago he said his attention was called to a portrait of Latimer, the "one-armed hero of Gettysburg," which hangs in the institute halls. His career is still pointed to as an example, he said, and the V. M. I. men have been recreant to their duty in leaving the women the work of erecting this monument.

Miss Virginia Switzer, of Harrisonburg, a great granddaughter of Mrs. Harriet Warren, in whose home Major Latimer died fifty-one years ago, laid a wreath of laurel on the grave, saying:

"We give him the chaplet he won in the strife,
We give him the laurels he won with his life."

Dr. B. F. Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, offered a beautifully worded prayer.

Senator Paul, in closing his fine address, said: "In the generations to come the people of this county may point their children to this as memorializing their ideal of youth, valor, loyalty and patriotism; and may feel that this cemetery wherein repose so many of the soldiers of the Confederacy and so many of Rockingham's beloved dead, is honored in holding the heroic dust of "the boy major." And as it was by the hand and the compassionate heart of a woman that his grave was first marked, so it is to the noble women of Virginia who keep green the memory of the Confederate dead, that we owe this permanent memorial which shall stand here in summer's sunshine and winter's snows to record his name and fame when we and they are all connected with that great conflict shall have passed beyond the boundaries of time.

The theme of the Rooper sermon at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning is to be "Pictures of Heroes."

Local Option Not Invented To Determine Liquor Question

Says Harry St. George Tucker

Former Candidate For Governor Shows That Self Government Principle Dates From Anglo Saxon Period And Is Imbedded In Virginia Institutions As A Bulwark Of The Commonwealth's Liberty.

HARRY ST. GEORGE TUCKER.

LOCAL POLICIES SHOULD BE DETERMINED BY LOCAL VOTE.

One of the clearest expressions that have so far appeared of the issues concerned in the present State-wide campaign, is contained in a letter written under date of August 1, to Judge George L. Christian, Chairman of the Virginia Association for Local Self-Government, of Richmond, by Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, formerly president of the Jamestown Exposition, and candidate for Governor against William Hodges Mann.

Mr. Tucker is a Virginian of Virginians and stands in the front rank of the Commonwealth's foremost citizens. No man knows better the ideals and principles which form the web and woof of Virginia's governmental fabric. His letter to Judge Christian is a model of quiet expression and reflects the conservatism and mature judgment which every Virginian knows Mr. Tucker possesses.

MR. TUCKER'S VIEWS.

When I was a candidate for governor four years ago, before the people of this State says Mr. Tucker, "I expressed my opinion in every speech I made throughout the State in favor of the local option principle, and as against State-wide prohibition I came to that view very deliberately, and have seen no reason to change it since. Indeed, time has only strengthened my conclusion that it is the correct and sound view, whether considered from a moral, political, or social standpoint.

"The principle of local self government by which the government is brought close to the people and gives to each voter the maximum of power in the administration of the affairs of the government, is one which encourages individual responsibility and enlarges the powers of the people. If a law is proposed to the people of Virginia, supposing there are 500,000 voters in the State, each man's vote is a unit and has power to influence the result as one in 500,000. If the question is one in which a magisterial district or town is involved in which there are 500 voters, the potentiality of his vote is one to 500.

"The nearer home the question comes, the greater the power the voter has."

PRINCIPLE IS OLD.

Mr. Tucker develops further the idea that true democracy demands that questions of local administration and local policy be determined by the local electorate. He proceeds to a consideration of Local Option in the abstract:

"It is not a modern principle. It is not a principle invented for the determination of the liquor question. It is a principle as old as the Anglo-Saxon race from which we sprung, imbedded in its institutions as a bulwark of liberty and a defense against tyranny.

A great many people labor under the impression that Local Option Laws were invented for the purpose of determining the Liquor Question. This is a mistake. They are merely the application of a great principle which permeates our institutions, and which are made to apply to liquor as well as to other things.

"We have had for years in this State local option fence laws, local option dog laws, local option fish laws, local option road laws, local option compulsory education laws, all of which have been put upon the statute book in recognition of the fact that in these varied subjects, and there are others, what may be peculiarly advantageous for the people in one locality of the State, may not be suited to people in another locality, and therefore those to whom it would be of no advantage to have such laws are not forced by a State-wide law to adopt that which would be of no advantage to them.

VALLEY ALREADY "DRY"

"In my own section of the State, the Valley of Virginia, I do not see how the election, however, it may terminate, can affect the present condition of things in any respect. To-day the Valley is without a bar-room from Winchester to Roanoke, except at Harrisonburg, Botetourt, Rockbridge, Augusta, Shenandoah and Frederick are dry."

"They are as dry under Local Option as Prohibition can make them. If the law is evaded now under Local Option, there is no reason to believe it will be different under State-Wide Prohibition."

Mr. Tucker points to the inconsistency of the framers of the Enabling Act who, while committed to the belief that all alcohol is either poisonous or injurious, yet inserted in the law provisions permitting the continued manufacture in the State of wine and beer. He says:

"This act was brought about by the forceful sentiment of those who believed that alcohol was destroying the manhood of the State. It would be of interest to know from those who effected the passage of the act by what alibeny alcohol contained in wine and beer is less destructive of Virginia manhood than that which is found in whiskey and brandy. That there is less in one than there is in the other is no argument to him who believes that all alcohol is destructive of manhood. A vote for this act would deny the right of any man to manufacture brandy or whiskey, and would affirmatively grant the right to these manufacturing wine and beer to continue it. If I were a prohibitionist I could not vote to grant the right to any person to manufacture beer and wine, which I honestly believed were destructive of human souls.

ADVISES AGAINST HYSTERICIS

"I believe the people of this State will pass upon this question in no hysterical way, but that we may expect a calm dispassionate judgment in its determination. It is to be sincerely hoped that the extravagance of language which has disgraced the contests in other States will find no place in the contests of Virginia. I sincerely hope that the people of the State will not in this election relinquish a principle which has been their protection at all times in the history of the past, and which has been sanctified by the best blood of our Southern country, freely spilled in its defense upon the broad plains of this dear old Commonwealth."

Many a Manassas Reader Will Be Interested.

When people read about the cures made by a medicine endorsed from far away, is it surprising that they wonder if the statements are true? But when they read of cases right here at home, positive proof is within their reach, for close investigation is an easy matter. Read Manassas endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. M. E. Akers, E. Center St., Manassas, Va., says: "I am willing at all times to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement. This excellent remedy completely cured one of my children of a bad case of kidney trouble of several years standing after everything else had failed. My advice to other kidney sufferers is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a fair trial."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Akers recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

LIME! LIME! LIME!

We have just gotten freight rates which enable us to deliver our celebrated Magnesia Lime at any station between Alexandria and Manassas at as low a price as any other lime, considering the quality. Our lime has made Loudoun and Fairfax counties what they are to-day—the banner counties of the state—and we will do the same thing for Prince William. The Leesburg lime has in every case where it has been used side by side with other limes out produced them in both grain and grass, and here is the reason for it: Our lime contains 12 to 15 per cent. Magnesia, 5 to 7 per cent. Oxide of Iron, and these ingredients, in combination with carbonate of lime, are far more valuable for land than all carbonate of lime, as is reported in U. S. Agricultural Department's year book, 1901, on page 161, which says MAGNESIA IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to plant growth and nothing else will take its place.

We have such confidence in our lime after selling it for the last twenty-five years that we will sell it to any farmer who owns the land lime is used upon, and after three years will make sworn affidavit that lime has not paid him well, we will return him his money. Our lime is put up in 167 pound burlap sacks, 12 to the ton, and we can ship only in car lots of 12 to 20 tons. Terms cash in 30 days, or negotiable note for 6 to 12 months, with interest; note to be signed by party who owns land lime is used upon. We have come to do business and all we ask is a trial, and after you once use this lime we know you won't try to farm without it. Send order to our Agent, W. T. THOMASSON, Manassas, Va., or direct to us, which will have our prompt attention.

JAPAN AND THE EUROPEAN WAR

The existence of the treaty between Great Britain and Japan has been a matter of common knowledge for years, and Japan's ultimatum to Germany cannot, therefore, be classed among the unexpected developments of the war. All rulers, statesmen and diplomats must have reckoned on it in advance, and it may be regarded as a logical result of the international line-up. But though it does not carry with it the shock of surprise occasioned by the outbreak of the war, it undoubtedly adds to it another and somewhat portentous element, and makes a situation already bad enough that much more threatening.

So far as Germany is concerned, it increases the number of her enemies by the enlistment of a power which has shown itself formidable both on land and sea and which has already humiliated one of the great European powers. It means, as far as can be judged from the tables of military chances, that Germany is destined to lose her Chinese possessions, and probably her holdings in the Pacific, for with her work cut out for her on the Continent and in European waters she will not be able to reinforce her garrisons and naval forces at distant points. Her soldiers and sailors will give a good account of themselves at Kiauchau and elsewhere, but it is not to be supposed that they can hold out indefinitely against vast superiority in numbers. As to the effect on the general result of Japan's direct participation in the struggle, there may be differences of opinion. While it will inspirit the defenders of France, it will probably add to the intensity of Germany's determination to avenge herself on the enemies within her reach and to recoup herself on the Continent for the losses she may sustain in the East. Unless Great Britain goes a step further and transports Japanese troops to the Continent to aid in driving back the Germans, the principal effect of Japan's declaration of war—for her ultimatum really amounts to that—will be the taking over of Germany's Chinese "protectorate" in China and the opportunity it will give England to concentrate her energies in Europe. That she will need all her power to meet that situation is, of course, self-evident. It may be easy to dispose of Germany on the sea, but it will be no child's play even for the combination against her to drive her back from the French frontier.

As for the United States, the addition of Japan to the warring nations makes it all the more important that we should guard against any possible complications, and should preserve with the utmost strictness our neutral attitude. There is no good reason to anticipate that Japan's response to her treaty obligations will have any remote bearing on our international relations, or that it will give rise to any questions which really affect our welfare. All lovers of peace must regret that another nation has been added to the belligerents, but our duty to our own country is to uphold the Administration in keeping out of the trouble.—Baltimore Sun.

A TRIUMPH OF PEACE

While the older nations of the world were sending forth yesterday conflicting reports of victory and defeat in war, the youngest of them all celebrated a triumph of peace; while the powers of Europe were striving to dismember a continent, the United States completed its task of uniting two oceans.

With the passage of the Ancon through the Panama Canal, the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific was thrown open to the ships of all nations. If the triple alliance prevails, if the triple entente conquers, which shall have accomplished the greater thing, alliance, entente, or peaceful republic?—Times-Dispatch.

TAKING IT BACK

Were the people of Massachusetts to observe "Take-it-back-week," as the promoters hope, half the homes in the Bay State would be bare and half would be overflowing. Libraries would disappear, bank accounts would dwindle and many a man would weep to reflect how little he claimed was really his own. The whole state would be upset.

The remarkable feature of "Take-it-back-week" will be that most people will either be richer or poorer. Few will balance off. The reason for this is that borrowing is a habit which is not found among those who loan. The man who is willing to loan a collar or a dollar is an "easy mark," a soft soul who has no more the courage to borrow than the ability or strength to resist a request. It is so with book-lovers; it is so with housewives. Who ever heard of a good woman who was provident enough to keep her own store-room full, ever forced to borrow of another or willing to confess that she was short of provisions? What man that loves his own books and has grieved when a friend kept a cherished volume has ever wished to rob as he has been robbed?

There would be some strange returns were "Take-it-back-week" to become a reality. What will not some men borrow—what strange requests will some women make over the back fence or up the dumb-waiter, from salt to pianola music, from eggs to candelabra, from tooth picks to tailored suits? In fact, Justice Crutchfield insists that some of the dusky dames who come to plead mercy at his bar have borrowed babies with them.

"Take-it-back-week" has a soothing, apologetic sound, inoffensive to all. If the men who started the movement wanted to tell the truth and shame the devil they should have it "thieves' repentance week." For the man who borrows, remembers his debt, and does not pay it back is a—but why use harsh words in hot weather?—News Leader.

DIPLOMACY BY RESULTS

Our American diplomacy as illustrated in the Mexican fuss was the subject of criticism and sarcasms. We were told that the course of the nation in Mexico was "the laughing-stock of Europe."

It is true that sometimes our policy concerning Mexico seemed as if it would yield no results, and some things did not look like a natural result of what had been done before. But our policy was ruled by a national desire to keep the peace. The peace has been kept and the problem in Mexico is close to solution.

In Europe at almost the same time, the eminent diplomacy that laughed at us, essayed the decision of a question that was easy, if considered solely for doing the right. But the "warlike watching" has plunged Europe into the greatest and most disastrous war of history, the sole recommendation of which is that it shows the irrationality of war in such strong light that it permits the hope that the world will abjure it.—Boston Globe.

AMERICANS SHOULD NOT FINANCE IT

Secretary Bryan is right in his dictum that, while loans by American bankers to the warring nations of Europe would violate no accepted principle of international law, such loans would be "inconsistent with the true principle of neutrality." The definite statement that this is the judgment of the Government of the United States will have great weight in deterring American participation in the profits of war financing.

No wars could be fought without money, and if the bankers of the world were as deeply imbued with the idea that the profits of peace are greater than those of war, and if they would unitedly refuse to finance militarism, then wars would cease.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE BLESSINGS OF WAR

Not that we take sides, but we would appreciate it if the Germans would take most of Russia and convert its towns and cities into pronounced habitations. How much more euphonious Prbczwnsky would sound if it were German "Schmalzhausenischeweg."—Philadelphia Ledger.

—The bid of Messrs. I. C. Reid and A. Koontz for building sanitary closets at the different schools of the district has been accepted.

—At a profit of $200 a local dealer sold $1,000 worth of sheep in New York state to an old customer in Ohio, who shipped them to California.

—Trinity church guild will meet next Tuesday at 7 p. m. for the transaction of important business, and all members are urged to be present.

—Mr. Clarence W. Wagener is employed in the National Bank of Manassas during the absence of Mr. L. Frank Pattie, assistant cashier, whose two-week's vacation ends tomorrow.

—Mr. L. E. Benschlag has purchased of Mrs. C. H. Francis the property on Peabody street, opposite Bennett school, which has been his place of residence the past eight years.

—“Jumbo Jim,” a thirty minute farce, is to be given at Independent Hill Saturday, August 28, under the auspices of the Independent Hill Council, Order Fraternal Americans.

—A delightful reception was given in honor of Manassas visitors to the unveiling of the Monument to Major Latimer, at the beautiful home of Mrs. John E. Harris, on Friday evening last at Harrisonburg.

—News was received here Monday of the death in Washington of Mr. Patrick Farquar, until a few months ago a respected citizen of this county. Mr. Farquar was living at the home of his son, Mr. Charles Farquar.

—Messrs. W. G. Covington, W. M. Wheeler, C. E. Fisher, R. S. Hynson, B. C. Cornwell and W. R. Myers were appointed to represent Grace Methodist Episcopal Church at the district meeting this week in Loudoun county.

—Harvey Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Young, who injured his hand and lost one finger in a feed cutter a short time ago, is suffering from lockjaw, which developed nearly a week ago. His condition is said to be improved.

—Mr. C. Lee Moore, auditor of public accounts, has notified Judge Thornton, in compliance with the law, that Mr. J. P. Leachman, Prince William county treasurer, has settled for and paid in full the funds due by him to the commonwealth.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Loyal Temperance Legion will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are cordially invited. The members are all urged to be present and to pay up their dues as this will be the last meeting of the convention and dues must be paid. Members of the Legion are requested to meet at the Baptist church Saturday at 8 p. m.

The sessions of the Ketosis Association of Primitive Baptist Churches held at Manassas, Md., was attended by 800 or more persons from Maryland, District of Columbia and Virginia. Elder R. H. Pittman, of Luray, delivered the farewell sermon.

—Mrs. James Halfish died Tuesday at her home at Haymarket. The funeral took place Wednesday at the Haymarket Baptist church, Rev. T. D. D. Clark officiating, and interment was at Antioch. She was seventy-two years old, and leaves three sons and a daughter.

—The 8th Virginia Chapter of U. D. C. will entertain the Berkeley Camp of veterans at the grove of Little River church on Tuesday, Sept. 1. The Everell Camp and all veterans are invited to be present. Roll call at 10:30 a. m. E. BERKELEY, Commander.

—Master Jimmie Kasehagen, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kasehagen, entertained his young friends Tuesday afternoon at the home of his parents on Main street, in celebration of his fifth birthday. Games were played on the lawn and delightful refreshments were served.

—The Northern Virginia Farmers' Institute will assemble in summer session to-morrow morning at Independent Hill. In the afternoon there will be speaking on statewide prohibition, but this meeting will not held under the auspices of the institute as was suggested in recent announcements in the Manassas papers.

—Manassas is to have her first Chataqua in September. Ten business men have guaranteed a satisfactory amount and we may look forward to one of the most popular educational features of the day. Practically no arrangements are yet in progress, but it is expected that the Chataqua is to be held at Eastern College.

—Mrs. C. E. Nash received a message yesterday announcing the death of her cousin, Mrs. May Pauline Sparks, of Bridgeport, N. J. Mrs. Sparks was the state-temperance lecturer of New Jersey and had been heard several times in Manassas and other sections of this state. Her presence will be missed in the field.

—Wenrich's jewelry store is the latest victim of thieves in this section. Wednesday morning Mr. Wenrich found a small circular hole in the plate glass window and four Ingersoll watches were missing from a row of six displayed. One had dropped from the rack and the other was probably too far for the hand to reach.

—Mrs. Hattie Petty, of the Brentsville neighborhood, has a china nest egg which has been carried for two months in the body of a snake. About two months ago Mrs. Petty went to her henhouse to gather eggs and all the eggs were gone. Above the nest was a big black snake which escaped without further harm to itself or to the place. Last Sunday Mr. Harry Breeden, a neighbor, killed the snake near his henhouse and Mrs. Petty's china egg was returned. The same egg was once carried off by a dog, and found some distance away.

—At 11:25 o'clock Wednesday morning Dr. C. R. C. Johnson pulled the whistle cord at the new power plant and the deep well pump which is to furnish the town's supply was started, drawing water into the reservoir. This pump, which has stood idle for more than seven years, was kept steadily running until nearly 6 o'clock that night. At 4 o'clock the big centrifugal pump was started and about 10,000 gallons were pumped out of the reservoir into the elevated tank. Everything was in fine condition and the water was found to be all that has been claimed for it.

COUNTS IN GOOD HEALTH

“A man cannot keep healthy on bad food well cooked, neither can he keep healthy on good food badly cooked,” is the text on which the State Board of Health bases an extensive bulletin on the preparation and cooking of food, sent today to all those on the mailing list of the Board.

“To resist the germs of disease,” argues the Board, “a man must keep his body strong; to strengthen the body a man must eat nourishing and digestible food; to be nourishing and digestible, foods must contain certain compounds; these compounds in most cases are not rendered suitable for eating except by good cooking.”

The new bulletin treats at length of the composition of the various foods, of the combination in which they may be served and describes the fundamental operations in cooking bread, meats and vegetables. Emphasis is laid on the importance of studying, in this day of high prices, the comparative value of the various foods and the percentage of waste that must be paid for.

“Many people,” declares the bulletin, “seem to think that because a food is more expensive than another, it is better and that the ‘best’ is the most costly. As a matter of fact, studies have shown that if the cheap and widely distributed foods are well cooked, they are generally richer in food values than the more expensive dishes. Salt pork, for instance—left generally as a food for the very poorest—has three times the food value of porterhouse steak; a pound of bread contains seven times as much available food as a pound of lobster, deemed a great delicacy. It is because people do not understand these simple facts that they spend far more than is necessary for food, and, at the same time, get far less in food value for their money than by the purchase of better, cheaper foods.”

“The percentage of parts which cannot be eaten in food must be borne in mind in determining its value. Porterhouse steak contains an average of 32.7 per cent. waste in bone and gristle; chuck rib beef, a very common cut, contains 53.8 per cent. waste. In the case of certain vegetables after the peeling or skin and the water are subtracted, there is practically no food left. Of tomatoes, for instance, 94.3 per cent. is water and only 5.7 per cent. is available food. Cymbings contain 50 per cent. refuse-waste and 44.2 per cent. water.”

In view of the known demand for a pamphlet on “Good Food,” a very large edition of the Board's bulletin on the subject has been printed. Copies will be sent free of cost to all requesting it from the offices of the Board of this city.

Hope for Notable Horses. Richmond, Va.—News that the board of directors of the Virginia State Fair is negotiating with C. K. G. Billings, the millionaire turfman, for the entrance of his marvelous string of horses in the Richmond Fair in October has aroused unprecedented interest in this annual event.

In Uhlan, Lou Dillon and the Harvester, Mr. Billings is conceded to own the three greatest horses of the present day. This wonderful trio is quartered now at Mr. Billings' Virginia estate, below Richmond on the James river. It goes without saying that the mere exhibition of these horses at the 1914 State Fair would mark this year's fair as the greatest of all.

ALFALFA

The Profitable Hay Crop

Yields Four to Six Cuttings a Year of Equal Care and Most Nutritious Hay. Wonderful Increases in Yield Each Successive Year.

ALFALFA "GOLD" BRAND
"Its long, branching roots penetrate far down, push and crowd the earth this way and that, and thus constitute a gigantic subsoiler. These become an immense magazine of fertility. As soon as cut, they begin to decay and liberate the vast reservoir of fertilizing matter below the plow, to be drawn upon by other crops for years to come."

Alfalfa seed sown during August or September will yield four to six cuttings next season. Frequent cuttings thicken out the stalk and makes it stool out and grow off better.

Alfalfa ranks higher than Timothy in feeding value. In fact, it might be termed both corn and hay, as it is almost a complete food. Experiment stations place the feeding value of Alfalfa hay at $20 per ton, as against Timothy hay at $12 per ton. This, with the fact that Alfalfa will easily yield, on good land, 6 to 16 tons of splendid hay per year, shows what a valuable crop it is. Lands in the Western States that are well set in Alfalfa sell readily at from $100 to $200 per acre. The acreage of Alfalfa is increasing very largely all over the Middle and Southern States; our farmers are fast beginning to realize what a valuable crop it is. Alfalfa will succeed and do well on any good loamy, well-drained soil, but the land must be well and thoroughly prepared for best results.

It should never be used for pasture; it is too valuable as a hay producer to risk injury from stock. A heavy application of lime is of decided benefit—2,000 to 5,000 pounds per acre. Alfalfa is usually sown broadcast at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds to the acre. Our Alfalfa seed is the highest grade, strong germinating seed of the best and cleanest quality possible to procure.

We offer American Dry Land New-Irrigated Alfalfa Seed, Belgiano's "Gold" Brand Fancy, 99.75 per cent. pure.

If you want the best seed of any kind, always insist on getting Belgiano's "Gold" Brand Standard Clover and Grasses, Cow Peas, Winter Vetch, Timothy Seed, Red Clover, Crimson Clover, Alsike, Red Top or Herd's Grass, Orchard Grass, Winter Oats, Tall Mead Oats Grass, Millet, Permanent Pasture Mixture, Dwarf Essex Rape, all varieties of Turnip Seed, including Cow Turn, Southern Seven Top, Yellow Globe, etc.; Cabbage, Kale, Spinach, Winter Radish. If your local merchant does not sell Belgiano's Big Crop Seeds, drop us a postal and we will tell you where you can get them.

HANSEN'S & OSBORNE
 MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

Sewer Ordinance for the Town of Manassas

SECTION 1. Applications for permits to connect private sewers and drains with the sewerage system of the town must be made in writing by the owner of the property to be served, or his authorized agent. Such applications shall give the precise location of the property, the name of the owner, the name of the regularly licensed plumber employed to do the work, the size of the private sewer and the character of the wastes to be emptied into the public sewers. Applications are to be addressed to the Public Utilities Committee and must be approved and filed before any work is started upon the street or alley where said connection is to be made.

Sec. 2. No person, or corporation, except the Superintendent of Public Works, or a regularly licensed plumber, shall make any connection with, or opening into any public sewer.

Sec. 3. Every person or corporation desiring to do plumbing work in the town of Manassas must apply for and secure a regular license to do such work from the Public Utilities Committee and at the time of receiving said license shall furnish a bond approved by the committee, in penalty of $500.00, and conditioned to indemnify and save harmless the town of Manassas from all damages that might arise from making connections with the public sewers.

Sec. 4. The licensed plumber who connects a private drain with public sewers shall be held responsible for any damage to the sewers or street surface or sidewalk caused by his work. He shall repair the public sewer and restore the surface of the street, pavement and sidewalk to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Works, otherwise his license will be at once revoked.

Sec. 5. After a permit to connect has been granted and filed the Superintendent of Public Works shall locate the "Y" branch from the records on file and excavate, or cause to be excavated, a trench from said "Y" branch to the property line of the owner to whom the permit is granted, and shall lay, or cause to be laid, by a regularly licensed plumber, a "house connection" of water main sewer pipe in a straight line and upon a uniform grade; all expense to be borne by the property owner.

Sec. 6. No house connection shall be greater than 6 inches in diameter, and 4 inches is advised as the most proper size to be used. The pipe shall be laid on a grade not less than one-fourth of an inch fall to each foot of length, having all joints well sealed with cement mortar, mopped and cleaned on the inside.

Sec. 7. After the pipe has been laid, inspected and approved by the Superintendent of Public Works, then the trench shall be properly refilled by the person, or corporation doing the work and the surface of the street, or sidewalk, is to be restored to its former substantial and serviceable condition to the complete satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Works, and at the expense of the property owner.

Sec. 8. The owner of any property served by the public sewers will be required to pay the sum of $1.00 per year, for the privilege of making and maintaining each connection with the public sewers.

Sec. 9. The owner of any property connecting with the public sewers will be required to install and maintain all house plumbing in accordance with the "Standard Plumbing Rules and Regulations," adopted by the Town Council.

And the Superintendent of Public Works, or his authorized assistants, shall have the right to enter the premises at any reasonable hour, to inspect or test the house plumbing either during its construction, or during its continued use and to examine all conditions under which the house plumbing connected with the public sewers is being used.

And be it further ordained that if in consequence of said inspection, test and examination it is found that the house plumbing has not been installed or maintained in accordance with these ordinances, or any plumbing rules and regulations adopted by the Town Council, or that the owner is improperly using the public sewers, to their detriment, or to the detriment of public health and comfort, he, the owner, shall be required to repair and rectify any faulty plumbing, either in its construction or use, and failing to comply with the requirements of the Public Utilities Committee, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50.00.

Sec. 10. The Public Utilities Committee shall have the power to stop and prevent the discharge from any private sewer of substances which are liable to injure the public sewers or obstruct the flow of the sewerage and to prevent and stop the discharge of any peculiar manufacturing wastes, liquids, or substances that may interfere with, retard, or prevent the proper and efficient operation of the Disposal Plant.

Sec. 11. Any person or corporation offending against any of these ordinances shall be subject to a fine of not more than $25.00.

Sec. 12. It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to permit any down spout, surface drainage or uncemented cellar to be connected to sewer.

Sec. 13. Any ordinance previously passed conflicting with any section in this ordinance is hereby rescinded.
