FOOD PRODUCTS ARE EXHIBITED

Prince William Housekeepers, Boys and Girls Send Fruits to Fair.

The Prince William county exhibit of food products was packed Wednesday afternoon and shipped to Richmond, where it will be placed with other county exhibits during the week of the state fair, beginning Monday, October 8. After the fair they will become the property of the Food Conservation Committee of the Richmond Chapter, American Red Cross, which, cooperating with the State Fair Association, will send the fruits and vegetables to the army camps for the pleasure and enjoyment of the soldiers who are wearing Uncle Sam's uniform in the war against Germany.

The Prince William exhibit, in 168 containers, until it left Manassas was in charge of Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, county home demonstration agent. The gifts of housekeepers and boys and girls were brought to the offices of the Manassas newspapers and displayed in the windows until the time of packing Wednesday afternoon.

Cherries in 55 containers—canned, pickled and preserved—constituted the special exhibit which the state extension department had requested the county to make. The cherries were placed together in one corner of the Journal's window display, showing a fine variety of fruit, some whole, some seeded, in colors ranging from yellow to the deepest cherry tint.

Beginning Thursday morning, the fruits began to arrive. The first exhibit received was a can of white cherries from Mrs. M. G. Raymond, a member of the Manassas Good Housekeepers' Club. Later the club exhibit was completed by the arrival of canned cherries of every kind, lima beans, tomatoes and corn, from Mrs. L. B. Williams, Mrs. G. G. Allen, Mrs. R. S. Hynson, Mrs. R. J. Adamson, Mrs. T. F. Coleman, Mrs. E. Wood Weir and Mrs. W. F. Merchant.

Two other housekeepers' clubs were represented in the display, Groveton, led by Mrs. J. F. Dogan's fruits and vegetables in tin and glass, and Stone House, the last exhibit to arrive before the windows were cleared away by Miss Gilbert and her assistants.

A special exhibit was contributed by the boys and girls of the eighth grade of the Manassas School.

Each day during the week the gifts for the soldiers continued to arrive, until the final list, which accompanied the shipment, recorded them as follows: 55 cherries, 9 blackberries, 11 peaches, 5 beans, 6 corn, 2 lima beans, 9 navy beans, 37 tomatoes, and 1 dried cherries.

Housekeepers and others who contributed to the gift, aside from the club exhibits, were: Mrs. L. A. Larkin, Mrs. John S. Green, Mrs. W. C. Wagener, Mrs. J. B. Thornton, Mrs. A. H. Compton, Miss Etta Wells, Mrs. R. S. Smith, Miss Sallie Larkin, Mrs. L. E. Beachley and Mrs. German Pence. Two quart cans of peaches came unmarked.

Thirty-one girls and boys contributed to the exhibit from the public school at Manassas. This exhibit included cherries, peaches, blackberries, huckleberries, tomatoes, corn, beans (canned and dried), pickles, jellies and preserves. The thirty-one contributors were as follows:

Winfield Croson, Edgar Arey, Roy Gregory, Sarah Leachman, Catherine Weir, Alice Groves, Joseph Lewis, Anna Sinclair, Louise Ayres, Charles Lawson, Carleton Cannon, Margaret Cornwell, Rose Rice, Lura Arey, Clopton Athey, Olivia Athey, Robert O'Hole, Emma Yates, Elizabeth O'Neil, William Lewis, Pearl Stephens, Elizabeth Pope, Lucy Breeden, Guy Whitmer, Elizabeth Cornwell, Mary Jane Covington, Arthur Rector, Hugh Meetze, Edwin Bennett, Rosenberger, Eva Breeden and Norman Muddiman.

SOLDIERS GET RIFLES

Training Progresses Rapidly at Camp Lee.

Yesterday morning the infantry regiments at Camp Lee, including the 46 Prince William men in the new National Army, were seen on the parade grounds for the first time going through their paces with rifles. These arms are of the Krag type and are intended only for the training period, for the Springfield rifle, it is stated, will be the fighting gun when the troops are sent abroad.

The ordnance is not sufficient to supply each infantryman with a rifle. Each command will receive enough, however, to be able to go through the needed preliminary instruction in the handling of arms.

Up to yesterday the training has been confined to the rudiments of military practices. Rapid progress has been made and the instruction of the men will be pushed vigorously.

NOT READY FOR COLORED TROOPS

Local Board Has Orders to Send Only White Men to Camp Lee.

The local board governing the selection of men to represent Prince William county in the new National Army is awaiting instructions concerning the next men to be sent to the cantonment at Petersburg. Forty-six men out of Prince William's quota of 103 are already in training at Camp Lee.

"You will at once proceed to forward to Camp Lee white men heretofore certified to you by the District Board as available for duty and white men heretofore so certified to you by the District Board until all white men included within the quota for your board have been sent," reads the letter of instruction received Wednesday from Governor Stuart through Adjutant General W. W. Sale. "The District Board has been requested to expedite its decisions and it is probable that if not already received by you its final list will be in your hands in a few days.

Colored men will not be sent to camp at present. This does not mean that a single white man will take the place of any colored man. When you receive the list from the District Board, if any exceptions are made, you will be notified.

The Prince William board is composed of Sheriff Charles A. Barbee, chairman; County Clerk George G. Tyler, clerk; Dr. J. Marrye Lewis, medical officer, and Dr. Wade C. Payne, medical officer's assistant.

UNIVERSITY MEN AT WAR

Virginia is Proud that Many Respond to Nation's Call.

"I feel a certain profound regret in the loss of numerical power," said President E. A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, when interviewed on the decreased enrollment. "But at the same time it is a badge of honor. In after years it will be recalled with pride that so large a proportion of the University should respond to the Nation's call for service."

The total enrollment in all departments of the University on Monday morning was 694. On the corresponding day last year the figures stood at 1,007.

President Alderman stated that the loss was about the same per cent as in other large or cosmopolitan colleges.

"Within definite probability the attendance will reach 700," said Dr. Alderman. "This carries us back ten years in mere numbers, but our value is not measured in numbers."

The law school has dropped from 214 to 86; the graduate department from 50 to 15; engineering school from 120 to 100 while the department of medicine has lost only 13 men as compared with last year's 197. The college has lost most heavily.

A young brakeman named Hedlin lost his leg yesterday when he fell between the cars of a moving freight in the Southern railway yards at Manassas. He was carried to a Washington hospital.

COMFORT KITS FOR SOLDIERS

Red Cross Asks Help of All Women and Girls in Supplying the Boys.

Half a million practical circulars on the making of comfort kits and bags have been issued by the American Red Cross. The circulars can be obtained on application at any Red Cross Chapter. A million comfort kits are to be made at once for the men of our Army and Navy. A million more will be made for the Russian Revolutionary Army, as a pledge of cheer to the Allied Armies on the eastern front. The Red Cross is to be under no expense for these kits, all being provided as gifts from the women who wish to make them.

Miss Florence Marshall, director of the Woman's Bureau announced that the circular embodied the suggestion of the War Department, of General Pershing and of Major Grayson M. P. Murphy as to what the men wanted. Three types of kits are suggested, a simple bag with draw string, and two with pockets, one for the trenches and one suitable for hospital use. Anything similar will be gladly welcomed. The kits are to be made of plain khaki. Colored cretonne has not been advised because it is dangerously visible when carried by troops at the front.

The circular is illustrated with diagrams of each type of bag. It lists the personal equipment given to each enlisted man by the War Department, in order that women may not duplicate these articles in filling the comfort kits. But it also notes that the regular outfit of any soldier is liable to be lost or destroyed and that additional supplies even of his necessities may be welcome to him at the front.

The Red Cross Commissioner in France has advised about comfort kits as follows:

"They should contain pipe and tobacco pouch, heavy socks, handkerchiefs, wash cloths and soap, mouth-organ or game, pencil, writing paper or pad, and envelopes, and if not too expensive, single-bladed knife and spoon.

"They should be made of stout material so that they can be used in all sorts of practical ways.

"They should have, if possible, an American flag sewed on the outside."

Materials for making the kits can be procured by the Chapters from the Red Cross Division Supply Service. Individuals may purchase their materials from the chapters or from local retail stores. Certain articles, like the combination knives and spoons, may be had from the Division Supply Service.

The suggestion for hospital kits describes the making of a souvenir pocket, where the invalided soldier may store his little collection of treasures which more often than not includes a scrap of shell or the bullet that brought him to the hospital. No playing cards are to be included in the kits that go to Russia, and no mouth-organs or knives and scissors for the hospital kits.

A list of additional articles is suggested that may be added if individuals desire to have their bags particularly full of plums for the man "out there":

Blotting paper, chewing gum, chocolate (if wrapped in tin foil), corn-plasters, collapsible cups, compressed tea-tablets, compressed malted milk-tablets, scrapbook containing good story or jokes, garter-laces, khaki-color, garters, knife, two bladed, such as boy scouts use, marbles, nail brush, nail file, pinball with pins, puzzles, scissors, folding in sheath, water-tight match-box, postcards, shoe laces, black for the Navy, khaki for the Army, slippers especially for hospital kit, talcum powder, tape, white, black or khaki-colored, toilet paper.

Completed articles should be sent to the nearest Red Cross Chapter.

CLUMSY CAMP COOKS CUT THEIR FINGERS

Warriors Don't Mind.—A Little Drop or Two of Medicinal Iron Stops Bleeding Heals It Too.

HANDIEST LITTLE BOTTLE YOU EVER HAD IN THE HOUSE.

In camp, the clumsy cook's assistant, trying to peel potatoes, cuts his finger, blood spurts, but warriors are efficient. A few drops of medicinal iron, highly concentrated and known as Acid Iron Mineral, poured over the cut stops the bleeding, leaves no stain like Iodine and best of all prevents soreness, infection and acts as a quick and sure healing agent.

Try it at home. It works like magic on old sores that don't heal. Sweaty, tired, tender, bruised and bleeding feet, covered with corns and bunions, after the long hike, hurt like everything, but again we find that highly concentrated cheap and efficient iron does the trick. Several thousand tests prove it not only brought relief, but cured. After that good shoes and common sense keeps feet feeling glad.

Druggists sell Acid Iron Mineral for family use in fifty cent and dollar size bottles. It will prove the handiest little bottle of medicine you ever had around the house.

You can get a large bottle prepaid by sending a dollar to the Ferrodine Chemical Corp., Roanoke, Va.

A CARD

To the Voters and Citizens of Prince William County: I hereby give notice to the people of Prince William County that I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the next House of Delegates of Virginia. TODAY—AN INVENTORY

You do not know why this calamity has come upon us. Yet you do know that we must rise above it. You do not know the black secrets of Teuton infamy. You do know that our boys are in the training camps or "over there" in France. You do not know the network of German machinations against America, first in the guise of friendship and later when our great commander-in-chief had declared a state of war. You do know that cool deliberation—not even the heart of righteous anger, as well controlled as justified—has sent our flag to France. You do not know—we cannot grasp—the blackness of the menace which hung in angry clouds over the world and burst in fever heat on Europe three years ago. You do know that we have rallied our forces against the servile hosts of evil—the autocratic, the diabolical enemy of civilization. You do not know why the grocer, the merchant, the meat man, the coal man, must tell you that the purchase value of your money has been cut in half by the ghost of war, and everything is hard to get. You do know that the world upheaval lifts fortunes high and drops them down again, beggars the rich or fees the poor, and communicates its atmosphere alike to village and metropolis. You do not know that your boy will come home when the war is over. You do know that his life is worth offering to his country, to make the world a better place to live in. And, if hope is strong enough to bring him back, you will have him safe again. You do not know the path ahead. The gift of life and labor on the altar of freedom must be made up of the offerings from hands of luxury and abundance, and from empty hands in sacrifice. The lights are dim, and the way is hard.

Yet, with all the strength of your determination and loyalty, with all your confidence in might and right, you do know that Uncle Sam will find the way. LET US SWEETEN HER CUP Mr. Hoover's appeal to the American people to cut down the normal consumption of sugar by one-third for the next two or three months in order that France may not be entirely deprived of it should result of saving the 110,000 tons that is needed in that country. Our normal consumption is at the rate of ninety pounds a person in the course of the year, or a little under four ounces a day for each individual. If each man, woman and child in the country can save two ounces a day for the next two or three months, we can relieve the French situation without any great hardship to ourselves. Most of us, in fact, can reduce our rations of sugar and candy with benefit both to our pocketbooks and our stomachs.

Let us all cooperate in this sugar-saving scheme, and help to win the war and incidentally to sweeten life a little for a people whose cup in the last three years has been full of all manner of bitterness.—Baltimore Sun.

Marines Learn Rebel Yell. To put "the fear of God" into Boche hearts, United States Marines in training here are practicing the old-time rebel yell, says a news dispatch from Quantico. Confederate veterans, who take keen interest in the activities of the sea-soldiers, are teaching the boys their battle-cry, reminiscent of civil war days. It is thought that the blending of a cowman's "ee-yah" with the blood curdling whoop of the Seminole will put a "pep" in the Marine Corps charge sufficient to dislodge the Boches from their trenches.

NO PERSON WHO TAKES PART IN THE COMING GENERAL ELECTION CAN BE KEPT FROM TAKING PART IN ANY FUTURE PRIMARY.

My opponents, in order to try to whip into line those who differ from them in the way I have been treated, in not being allowed to take part in the August primary after it had been established that I was the only person who had made public announcement of his candidacy more than 60 days prior to the August primary, are trying to impress upon those who are not so well posted that if they vote for Meetze they cannot take part in the next coming primary.

This is absurd—to say the least—and I quote below the law as contained in the Acts of 1914, page 516, paragraph 8, or as much thereof as pertains to this question. "Who May Vote." All persons qualified to vote at the election for which the primary is held, and not disqualified by reason of other requirements in the law of the party to which he belongs, may vote in the primary; provided, however, (a.) No person shall vote for the candidates of more than one party.

(b.) No person shall be permitted to vote for the candidates of any party unless in the last next preceding general election he voted for the presidential electors nominated by such party, or for the nominee of the house of representatives of such party, or the nominee of such party for governor, or the nominee of such party for the house of delegates; provided further, that if he did not vote at such general election, then upon his declaration that he will support at the ensuing election the nominee of the party in whose primary he wishes to vote, he shall be allowed to vote. It makes no difference whether you vote for Mr. Sinclair or myself, or whether you vote for either of us at the general election, you will be eligible under the above statute. If you vote at any general election for the following, nominee for governor, house of representatives, congress or senate, member of house of delegates, or any presidential elector, you can take part in any coming primary election. The above is the law.

Had my opponents accepted my challenge and discussed these issues before the public, as they should have done, it could have been made plainer to the people. Respectfully, Adv. C. J. MEETZE.

BUSINESS IS GOOD.

"Business seems to be good this morning, Mr. Saunders," I remarked, as I stood talking with him. "Business is always good now," he replied. "You see, it's this way: I find that sanitary methods are the least costly, for cleanliness is the cardinal virtue of efficiency. I am becoming efficient; my customers know they can rely on me for good meat and prompt service. When they are entertaining I never disappoint them. My patrons are therefore satisfied and I don't have to waste time listening to complaints about tough steaks, etc. I put that time in on service." As I left I could not help but remarking that sanitary methods plus service were the things that make business. Take at least

LOADED CARS HELD IN YARDS

Bureau of Markets Investigates Shortage in Transportation Facilities.

Holding of loaded cars by shippers at yards while deciding on their final destination is a practice that contributes to the shortage in transportation facilities, according to a statement just issued by the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture following a study made of conditions at the Potomac Yards, Virginia, covering a period of thirty days.

Specialists of the Bureau who made the investigation report that they found 236 cars of perishable commodities were held on the average of 44 hours each by shippers or consignees before issuing orders to move the cars. No car held less than 24 hours was counted. A car of cabbage was held 28 hours; a car of watermelons, 84 hours; a car of cucumbers, 104 hours; a car of potatoes, 128 hours; and a car of tomatoes, 213 hours.

"These facts make clear," says the statement, "that shippers through these yards are abusing their diversion privilege and are wasting much car space by not keeping their cars moving. The remedy is to file diversion orders in advance of arrival. As Potomac Yards is only one of hundreds of important diversion points, the waste is significant and without compensating advantages to owners."

LETTER FROM BATTLE FRONT

Alfred Prescott Writes of Life in the Field Service in France.

Everyone over here is so tickled over the swift way in which the Americans are working," writes Alfred Prescott, Manassas boy who is with the American Field Service in France, "but when they actually go to the front they will find it necessary to learn their lessons all over again, 'a la Boche,' just as the Canadians did. "Everywhere I go one question is put to me, 'How long will the war last?' I always say one year, for that is what pleases them. They always agree with me. Some of the more ignorant poilus say one or two months, that the Germans have no food and that they are in rebellion—but that is all rot. They are in just as good condition as the French.

"I have talked to a number of German prisoners and all say the same thing. They would rather be in the trenches than prisoners. They say that they are being treated as well as could be expected by the French, but would prefer to fight. "Of course we are bound to win the war. I say it with confidence, although there are Germans saying the same thing with equal confidence.

"Our trips of late have been of a very quiet nature and a healthy distance behind the line. Our principal interests are the mails and the things that we are able to see. Photography is a favorite occupation around camp and I am sending a couple of pictures taken of me at the training camp. In one of them you probably won't recognize me, for I'm fixed up for a gas attack. "I am happy to say that none of us has had to use the masks, but it shows you the enormous goggles and the beaklike effect that it gives. Inside they smell like ammonia. The gun is absolutely no good now except for guard duty which comes around about once every ten or twelve days. The custom of handing out guns to transport men comes from the first of the war when the men sometimes had to use them against Boche cavalry in Belgium. Since the trenches have come into existence it is impossible for any of them to get behind the lines to where we are."

HICKORY GROVE

The writer wishes to correct a mistake, doubtless inadvertent, in the Red Cross report from Haymarket to The Journal. The twelve dollars credited to the Sunday School of Grace Chapel was due largely to the efforts of the small Hickory Grove branch of the Haymarket branch. It was agreed to divide equally the pleasure of giving, though to a common cause. Both children and adults thus uniting found inspiration in the work. May future attempts be no less successful! We owe much to the example of our friends at Haymarket.

THOROUGHFARE

The Thoroughfare School opened Monday morning, with Miss Bertha Hibbs, of The Plains, in charge. Mr. I. C. Jacobs and Misses Bessie and Florence Jacobs and Miss May Starnell spent Sunday at Hickory Grove as the guests of Mrs. Walter Gardner. Mr. E. I. McCullough left Saturday for his home in New York. Miss May Garrison, of Antioch, spent the week-end with her parents here. Services were conducted at the chapel Sunday evening.

THE WAR COUNCIL OF THE RED CROSS

Personnel of Strong Body Named by the President.

The action of President Wilson in appointing the Red Cross War Council, with Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co. at its head, set in motion the tremendous campaign for popular subscriptions to a fund which the Red Cross will use for supplying hospitals at the front and also for carrying on relief work at home and in Europe on a scale perhaps greater than the world has ever seen.

Other members of the council appointed are Charles D. Norfon, G. M. P. Murphy, Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., and Edward N. Hurley, with William H.

Taft, chairman, and Ellet Wadsworth, vice chairman of the executive committee, ex officio members.

In appointing the War Council the president earnestly exhorted the American public to support its work, issuing the following statement:

I have today created within the Red Cross a war council, to which will be entrusted the duty of responding to the extraordinary demands which the present war will make upon the services of the Red Cross both in the field and in civilian relief. The best way in which to impart the greatest efficiency and energy to the relief work which this war will entail will be to concentrate it in the hands of a single experienced organization which has been recognized by law and by international convention as the public instrumentality for such success. Indeed, such a concentration of administrative action in this matter seems to me absolutely necessary, and I hereby earnestly call upon all those who can contribute either great sums or small to the alleviation of the suffering and distress which must inevitably arise out of this fight for humanity and democracy to contribute to the Red Cross. It will be one of the first and most necessary tasks of the new war council of the Red Cross to raise great sums of money for the support of the work to be done and done upon a large scale. I hope that the response to their efforts will be a demonstration of the generosity of America and the power of genuine practical sympathy among our people that will command the admiration of the whole world.

WOODROW WILSON. In an interview given the same day Mr. Davison pledged the backing of Morgan & Co. to the undertaking and announced that he himself had temporarily given up all other business to devote his whole energy to the Red Cross financial campaign.

CLIFTON

The Harvest Home service Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church was well attended and the grains, flowers and fruits used for decorating the church made a creditable showing. Rev. Alford Kelley preached on the fruits of the land of Canaan and compared them with the fruits of our land, showing by the comparison that our land was as goodly a land in every way as Canaan. Going from the earthly and material harvest, he described the heavenly or spiritual harvest of souls. The young people's meeting at night was led by Mr. William H. Richards. The reception to the faculty which was given by the School League Friday evening has been pronounced a distinct success. Mr. R. K. Buckley was master of ceremonies and Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge presided at the piano. After the teachers had been introduced, the Star Spangled Banner was sung in chorus. Mrs. Hodge gave a piano selection and a vocal solo. Miss Kelley sang a solo, the audience joining in on the chorus. Brief addresses were made by Mr. Rines, of Washington; Post-Hogder of Eastern College; Mr. William H. Richards, sr., of Washington and Clifton, and Rev. Alford Kelley, of Manassas and Clifton.

Following the program and refreshments, the company sang America and adjourned. Misses Harrison and Compton have been visiting at the home of Mr. D. W. Mathers. Miss Esther Buckley left Tuesday morning for the State Normal School at Harrisonburg, where she will take a post-graduate course in domestic science. Buckley and Maxwell Davis were on the jury at the Fairfax court this week. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Southard have moved into their new home. The farmers are cutting corn. The crop is said to be generally good, though some was cut by the drought and not quite so good as had been expected.

RACE PROGRAM BEST YET OFFERED.

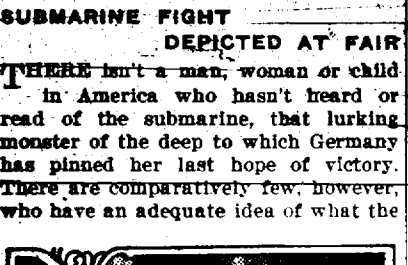

WHETHER you have a seat in the grand stand at the State Fair or are "hanging on the rail," you are certain to see "some" horse racing. Horace P. Murphy, the international racing manager, has charge of the races this year, the largest purses in the Fair's history have been hung up and many of the best race horses in America will be on hand. Trotting, pacing, running and the exciting steeplechase are all down on the program, which provides for four days of racing, beginning Monday, Oct. 8. A great many Fairgoers enjoy the races and they will be on hand at Richmond for "opening day" this year so as not to miss any of those close finishes.

FAST AUTO RACES FEATURE OF FAIR THE success of automobile race day at last year's State Fair has caused the management to have two days of automobile races this year on the last two days of the Fair. A program has been arranged that will attract some of the most famous "speed demons" and special racing machines of the country to Richmond. Races for amateur drivers have also been booked and every style of race arranged. There are certain to be many lightning bursts of speed and hair raising finishes each day. A plain view of the entire race course can be had from any point in the grand stand. Don't miss the automobile races at Richmond, Oct. 12 and 13. Nothing like them ever seen before.

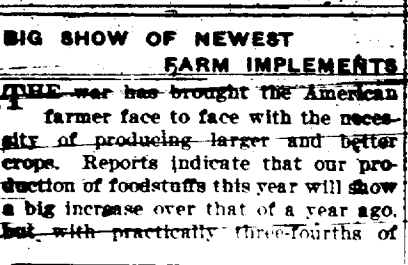

SUBMARINE FIGHT DEPICTED AT FAIR THERE isn't a man, woman or child in America who hasn't heard or read of the submarine, that lurking monster of the deep to which Germany has pinned her last hope of victory. There are comparatively few, however, who have an adequate idea of what the U boat really looks like and how it manages to send its unsuspecting victims to the ocean's bottom in an instant of time. One of the features of the State Fair in Richmond during the second week in October will be a vivid pyrotechnic portrayal of a battle of sea between one of these underwater craft and a modern battleship. This mimic fight is wonderfully lifelike and is only one feature of a gorgeous display of new fireworks with which the Fair will close each night.

BIG SHOW OF NEWEST FARM IMPLEMENTS THE war has brought the American farmer face to face with the necessity of producing larger and better crops. Reports indicate that our production of foodstuffs this year will show a big increase over that of a year ago, but with practically three-fourths of the world dependent upon us for supplies it is doubtful whether this increase will be sufficient to go around. The State Fair to be held in Richmond, the week of Oct. 8 to 13 will devote special attention to the display and demonstration of modern implements and methods of farming. Everything possible is being done to make it profitable as well as interesting to the farmer who visits this department of Virginia's greatest Fair. Reduced rates on all roads.

Tell them to go ahead

You might as well have the use of that building you are planning—there is nothing to be gained by waiting. There is no prospect of prices going down for some time after the war is over. Go ahead and let your contracts.

When it comes to the roof you can make a real saving, and get a better roof by specifying

Certain-teed Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is not cheaper because the quality is lower, but because it is a less expensive roofing to manufacture. It is better, not only because it is cheaper, but also because it is light weight, weather-tight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and costs practically nothing to maintain. It is now recognized as the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings, etc., where durability is necessary.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll-roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the best quality paint materials, ground and mixed with mechanical accuracy. Made for all uses and in all colors. With paint, as with roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.
