SUICIDE AND WAR

Statistics carefully compiled for a life insurance publication show that the number of suicides within the past year, far from having been increased by the fact of war, have actually undergone a decided decrease, as compared to the normal annual death rate resulting from this cause.

Explanations are naturally forthcoming which attribute this record to various material causes. One has been that the prevailing condition of prosperity through the high wage rates produced by the war has operated favorably. Another attributes a measure of decrease to the advance care of the government in selecting for war purposes only those who would leave few or no dependents behind.

These and other considerations doubtless played their part in affecting the totality of the record. But reasons outside of the purely material realm might be brought to bear with equal weight upon the subject. In all likelihood the decrease is largely attributable to the fact that no reality is so perilous as the situations which can be conjured up by a vivid imagination. The fact that the conscientious law has been followed by the suicide of a few of the drafted men, a number of wives and even an occasional maiden aunt merely strengthens the argument. All of these succumbed to the fear of the nonexistent rather than to an actual present peril.

Shakespeare has well covered the situation in the soliloquy of the melancholy Dane. To be or not to be tortures the mind unoccupied with the real active elements of being. It is when the resolution lacks vigorous employment that its native hue becomes "sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought." Never was the reason for being more patent than now, and many who otherwise would have considered shuffling off have been caught up in the healthy currents of action. They are too busy for suicide. If another aspect be needed to round out the argument that actual peril is not without healthful promptings, it may be found in Swift's melancholy picture of the Struldbruggs, with whom nothing was so certain as endless life, but who were far from being rendered happy by that circumstance. Washington Post.

RECOGNIZING THE ALIEN

It has been stated that President Wilson, by proclamation, will soon require every alien enemy within the United States to register. This is one of the most important and effective means of safeguarding the citizenship against the possible machinations of the enemy. Most of the fires in munition plants and warehouses are believed to be traceable to the ranks of the enemy population which under present conditions is almost beyond classification.

After a recent explosion it was said, and apparently in all truth, that 800 workers of German and Austrian allegiance had been employed by the officials of the company, which was furnishing its product to be used in the war against Germany and Austria.

Our American recklessness, or our habit of taking big chances and glorying in them, uncurbed may lead to greater risks than we have dreamed of.

A definite knowledge of the existence of alien enemies and their whereabouts, with a regular report from each to Federal authorities, should be of incalculable benefit to the nation.

WE WANT TO KNOW

Who is the most popular citizen of Manassas, and why? Who is the most useful citizen of Manassas, and why? Who is the most charitable citizen of Manassas, and why? How to you, yourself, line up on these points? (Apologies to H. E. W.)

AMERICA TO HER SONS

I send you forth—but I too cross the water! I am your comrade where the shrapnel rains! I slay with you—to save the world from slaughter; I bleed with you—lest Freedom's great heart drains! I know what issues wait upon your legions— I know that heaven and hell are joined in France! I must march with you when in those dread regions The dreams of God are beating your advance!

"I send you forth"—no, rather, you were praying That I should let you lead me overseas! I heard your voices plead through my delaying, Your clear young eyes saw first my destiny! You led me to your mountain-top of vision! You cried to me to make the sacrifice! You spurred my wakened soul to its decision— And then you gave yourself to pay the price!

Press forward, soldiers, on your high endeavor— Your road is mine, wherever lies your goal! Sail on, brave seamen! War's tide cannot sever— Your spirits from the grapple of my soul! Winged warriors, I shall soar on eagle pinions To highest heaven, that we may not part! Go forth, my sons, where Death has his dominions— You cannot fare beyond your nation's heart! —Daniel M. Henderson, of the Vigilantes.

BILL'S IN TROUBLE

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West, An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast To think the boy whose futer I had once so proudly planned Should wander from the path o' right an' come to such an end! I told him when he left us only three short years ago He'd find himself a plowin' a mighty crooked row— He'd miss his father's counsel, an' his mother's prayer, too, But he said the farm was hateful, an' he guessed he'd have to go.

I know there's big temptation for a youngster in the West, But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist, An' when he left I warned him o' the ever-waitin' snares That lie like hidden serpents in life's pathway everywhere. But Bill he promised faithful to be loyal, an' allowed He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud, But it seems as how my counsel sort o' faded from his mind.

An' now the boy's in trouble o' the very wastest kind! His letters came so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed That Bill was a trampin' on a mighty rocky road, But never once imagined he would how my head in shame, An' in the dust'd wander his ol' daddy's honored name. He writes from out in Denver, an' the story's mighty short; I just can't tell his mother; it'll crush her poor ol' heart!

ONLY A VOLUNTEER

Why didn't I wait to be drafted And be led to the train by a band, And put in a claim for exemption, Oh, why did I hold out my hand? Why didn't I wait for the banquet? Why didn't I wait to be cheered? For the drafted men get all the credit, While I am merely a Volunteer.

Nobody gave me a banquet, Nobody said a kind word. The puff of the engine, the grind of the wheels Was all the good-lye I heard, When off to the training camp we marched To be trained for the next half year, And in the scuffle forgotten, I was only a Volunteer.

And perhaps some day in the future My little boy sits on my knee, And asks what I did in the great war, And his wise eyes peer up at me, I will have to look back into those eyes That at me so trustingly peered, And tell him that I wasn't drafted— I was only a Volunteer. —Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

MAKES APPEAL FOR SOLDIERS

Mr. Lion Appoints Committees to Receive Contributions for Recreation Fund.

To the Editors of the County Papers: The letter appended hereto explains itself; and as it makes an appeal in behalf of our boys who have gone to the front, I feel that it will not fall upon deaf ears in the effort to raise Prince William's portion of the "War Camp Community Recreation Fund," which is $600.

You, as publishers of your respective papers, are in closer touch with our county than any other sources, and recognizing your generosity in a worthy cause, I appeal to you to give this call a prominent position in the next issue of your respective papers, and thereby appeal to the good people of our county to read the appended letter and give to the local committees herein appointed as liberally as they can, without material sacrifice, or injuries to themselves.

We have something over 100 boys in training and in service of the nation, who are fighting our cause and who have sacrificed their all, and it is as little as we can do for their protection and material advantage to give to this cause, thereby helping those who are so near and dear to us. In this connection it would not be out of place to say that the apportionment here requested does not amount to the sum of $6 for each young man who has given his life, as it were, to our nation's cause; so let's do our best and as early as practicable, for those we hold so dear and who have, if need be, sacrificed their lives to uphold the principles for which we contend and the honor of our nation.

In order to facilitate the raising of this fund I have taken the liberty, without having the opportunity to confer with all, by authority of the appended letter, to appoint committees in the several vicinities of our county, and would request that any and all who may feel disposed to contribute to this worthy cause, hand in their respective amounts to the one designated as committee of their neighborhood, which said committee will receipt therefor, keep an account of the amount contributed, and the names of those contributing, will be certified to the Central Committee, who will have the disbursement of this fund and have in charge the care and welfare of our boys who have done so much, and need to be surrounded and protected by every means within our power. The committees are named as follows:

- G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Manassas; L. Frank Pattie, Manassas; W. R. Hooker, Nokesville; W. R. Free, Nokesville; Tyson Janney, Occoquan; W. B. Lynn, Occoquan; E. C. Hammit, Woodbridge; E. P. Davis, Headley; C. E. Clarke, Minnieville; G. M. Ratcliffe, Dumfries; E. I. Perry, Quantico; William Crow, Joplin; Tyler W. Lynn, Kopp; C. M. Horton, Orlapdo; L. R. Keys, Token; T. M. Rossell, Cenova; D. E. Kinchloe, Backhall; E. H. Davis, Bristow; E. H. Keys, Brentsville; C. L. Reading, Aden; Rev. J. R. Cooke, Greenwich; Dr. T. G. Brown, Backland; W. M. Jordan, Haymarket; Mason Carr, Gainesville; Omer Walls, Wellington; George Ayres, Stone House; T. R. Galloher, Elkton; Grove; E. R. Gannon, Waterfall; F. H. Sanders, Catharpin; E. N. Pattie, Catharpin; P. M. Cole, Independent Hill.

The foregoing parties are designated as committees of care, and if you will permit me to urge that each of you gentlemen will accept the duty of raising as much of this fund as speedily as you can, and make report to the undersigned as early as practicable, and by so doing we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have been engaged in a laudable undertaking and are tending to relieve and make brighter the lives of the young men who have given their lives for our benefit.

Respectfully submitted, THOMAS H. LION. The letter mentioned by Mr. Lion follows: You doubtless know that there are at least 200,000 soldiers and sailors in the training camps on Virginia soil, the responsibility for whose moral and physical welfare rests on the Old Dominion. Most of these boys are Virginians.

While much money has been raised for the Red Cross, which undertakes to provide for the needs of the men on the battlefields, and for the Young Men's Christian Association, that undertakes to supply the needs of the men inside the camps, very little has yet been contributed to entertain and safeguard men furloughed from the training camps.

On October 23rd, a national conference composed of people interested in providing for the protection and entertainment of the men while on furlough convened in Washington, on call of the Secretary of War. There (Continued on page seven.)

EASTERN COLLEGE NOTES
The past week has been one of strong work in many different fields. On Friday night there was a joint meeting of the literary societies at which songs, recitations and instrumental numbers were given. At the conclusion a lively debate on the subject of Government Ownership of Railroads was given.
A practical scientific breakfast was served to the male faculty of Eastern College by the domestic science class Saturday.
The meal was served in "calorie portions based on one hundred calories for each individual article of food; thus by addition and subtraction each guest was able to figure how many calories his meal contained. Great care was exercised that each guest's entire breakfast made a balance "ration."
The eight-course breakfast produced the essential nutritive food value, viz., protein, fat, ash, carbohydrates, mineral matter and water. This classification of foodstuffs yielded "calories of heat" which are very necessary to life, in order to supply energy, furnish body-building material and to regulate the body processes.
The entire cost of each cover was only twenty-four cents for the full eight courses. This was not a "war breakfast" but it certainly filled the "war bill" for economy.
This meal was served by the young ladies of the domestic science department dressed in the charming costumes of the organization.
A member of the faculty voiced his appreciation and that of the other guests with the following spontaneous effusion of fall poetry delivered at the close of the affair:
Ladies of the Domestic Science class, To each of you individually, and in mass, You needn't have any doubt or fears, This is the best breakfast we've had in years.
On Saturday afternoon the Latin-American Club had its first meeting, at which the different members delivered before a considerable audience speeches in the English language on the subject of Ypocrite, the state from which most of the members every one had a delightful time. This club bids fair to become a highly important organization.
Eastern boys continue to show their pluck. Last Saturday night, Mr. Lester Henry, Mr. John E. Hefter and Mr. W. J. Robinson, jr., determined to walk to Washington as a test of their powers of endurance and physical ability. The party left the college at 7:30 p. m. and walked all night, arriving in Washington at 8:10 the next morning. Thus Eastern continues to show prowess along athletic as well as academic lines.
The ladies of the Dumfries Baptist Church will hold an oyster supper at the church Saturday evening, November 17. Everybody is invited to attend.

THE DEMAND OF THE DAY

is that a man shall be judged by his efficiency, by what he accomplishes, and not by what he claims he can do. Not always but usually his ability to accomplish is judged by the care he uses in conserving his income, his accumulation. This bank cordially welcomes accounts of earnest men, men who realize they could accomplish more if they only had a start.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS LETTER

Meeting of Athletic Association and Program. News Notes.

(Edited by Miss Elsie Rosenberger.)
The assembly Wednesday morning was held by the Junior Auxiliary of the American Red Cross. The meeting opened with the Scripture reading by Miss Catherine Larkin, after which Rev. T. D. Clark led the school in prayer. The president, Miss Sallie Larkin, explained the purpose of the meeting.

Mr. Clark introduced the speaker of the morning, Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, who chose as her subject, "Why America Needs the Red Cross and Why the Red Cross Needs You." Mrs. Johnson also chose a text, "For man cannot live by bread alone."

A reading, "The Spirit of the Red Cross," was given by Miss Elsie Rosenberger. This was followed by a selection from the Red Cross Magazine by Miss Emily Round. Miss Dorothy Johnson gave a reading, "The Spirit of Joan of Arc."

Miss Mary Larkin, secretary of the Manassas Chapter of the Red Cross, another speaker on the program, was introduced by Mr. Sanders, agricultural director of the high school.

The school sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," as the closing number.

A business meeting of the athletic association was called immediately after assembly, November 14. The business brought up was the payment of the Liberty bond which had been purchased by the association. It was finally decided that each member should pay 5 cents a week until the bond was paid for. The question of school yells and cheers was also brought up. Mr. Sanders urged the association to select some suitable yells. Mr. Burchell Leachman was unanimously chosen cheer leader. After several other questions were settled the president dismissed the meeting.

The assembly held Wednesday, November 7, consisted of an impromptu program on the 400th anniversary of the Reformation. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Burke Steele.

Several songs and readings were given, bearing on the Reformation. A history of the life of Luther and of the Reformation were given. The meeting closed with the singing of America by the school.

The M. H. S. boys will meet the Warrenton basketball team at Warrenton November 23. The team will leave on the six o'clock train in the evening. The girls are trying to arrange a game for the same night, but have not yet heard from the manager of the Warrenton team. All who can are urged to attend these games. The boys have several other games scheduled for the next few months. They will meet the Warrenton team again December 17, in Conner's Hall. They have two games scheduled with the Southern team, one January 5 and the other February 2. Both games are to be in Manassas. February 16 they will play the Remington team.

The athletic association has rented Conner's Hall for the season and both teams are practicing in the hall. A number of new boys have come out for basketball.

The boys of the first and third years will start their manual training work Thursday under the supervision of Mr. Cannon.

The uniforms which had been ordered for the boys arrived Tuesday and were eagerly received by the boys.

Reports for the first six weeks of school were given out last week. The first and second rank in the classes were as follows: Fourth year, Miss Mattie Athey, Miss Catherine Larkin; normal section of fourth year, Miss Marion Burke, Miss Margaret Hammill; third year, Miss Emily Round, Burke Steele; regular students of business section of this year, Miss Sallie Larkin, Miss Pauline Carter; second year, Miss Lanier Morris, Warren Coleman; first year, Rice Green, Miss Marjorie Brown.

When you renew your subscription to the Journal by mail, do not expect a receipt mailed in return, but watch for the address slip on the next copy of your Journal and see that the dollar has been properly credited. If the date has not been advanced the first Friday thereafter, do not be alarmed, as when there are few changes the mailing list is not corrected weekly. If the third week comes and there is still no change it is time to investigate.

Mrs. William Kent, wife of a former congressman from California, Mrs. Harvey Wiley, wife of the pure food expert, and thirty-eight other members of the National Woman's Party, marched from their headquarters to the White House recently bearing banners. They were arrested and carried to their headquarters in relays of patrol cars.

COUNTY EXHIBIT DAY NEXT WEEK

Members of Poultry, Corn and Canning Will Take Part in Events.

The county agents, assisted by the farmers and the girls and boys of the canning, corn, pig and poultry clubs, are making big preparations for County Exhibit Day, Friday, November 23. Agricultural moving pictures will be a feature of the day.

A long list of prizes, including a silver cup, and suggestions on the selection of corn, were given in a recent issue of the Journal in a special article by Mr. C. A. Montgomery, county farm demonstration agent. Mr. Montgomery has been working up enthusiasm for some time, and it is predicted that this corn show will be one of the finest of the year. Keen rivalry for honors is expected.

Breeders of poultry and others who have pure bred fowls are urged to exhibit. Many prizes have been offered also in the canning and poultry clubs. Representative Carlin will give a prize of $5 in each department, and other coveted honors in the canning club class include a canning machine offered by the Farm Canning Machine Company and 100 No. 8 cans and 200 No. 2 cans offered by the Virginia Canning Company.

Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, county home demonstration agent, is in charge of the poultry and canning clubs.

"Among the Manassas folk who are encouraging the work with prize offers are Mayor W. C. Wagener, Hon. Thomas H. Lion, commonwealth's attorney for Prince William county, and Mr. D. J. Arrington, clerk of the Manassas district school board.

The girls and boys are busy making exhibition coops, plans of which may be had on request from the county agent. Poultry breeders and others with pure bred fowls are asked to exhibit cockerel and pullet or pen. No prizes will be offered in this class, but ribbons will be awarded.

Parents, teachers and friends are invited to come and see what the girls and boys are doing. Members of the agricultural clubs, including members of the agricultural league of safety, teachers and other pupils will march from the school grounds to the theatre.

MRS. SNOW ENTERTAINS HOUSEKEEPERS CLUB

Bethlehem Members and Their Husbands Enjoy Hallowe'en Festivities.

C. E. L. Hodge, Secretary, B. G. H. C. Mrs. A. L. Whitney has written these lines in one of her sweet poems:

"When the spring winds blow 'er the pleasant places,
The same sweet things lift up the same fair faces.
Violet, I shall have thee."

"So it is with the months of the year, as they pass on in unchanging succession. Each season brings its special characteristics. So the autumn has its chestnut parties and its Hallowe'en festivities.

It was the good fortune of the members of Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club and their husbands to be the guests of Mrs. Snow on Thursday night at one of the most unique Hallowe'en parties we have ever enjoyed. In the society of witches, goblins and black cats we listened to gruesome tales of ghosts and other non-existing objects, as well as witty sallies until the speeding moments brought us to a "call to the dining room" to which we repaired without waiting for any "last call." We feasted our eyes upon a beautiful and artistic table a la Snow. Time will not permit us to say more than that it was a pity to disturb its symmetry and attractive display of Hallowe'en services and tempting viands.

At the close of the feast Mr. Reind proposed an appropriate toast to Mrs. Snow and her assistants.

On returning to the reception hall we were treated to a song rendered by the vocal group on the shaded turn of the stairs. It was "A Perfect Day," followed by "Good Night, Ladies." After the happy guests "Auld Lang Syne," regrettably we took leave of our delightful hostess, carrying with us pleasant pictures to hang on memory's walls.

MANY TROUBLED WITH RHEUMATISM THIS TIME YEAR

One Man Says For Three Months He Was Confined to Room With Awful Pains in Back and Limbs.

VERY STRONG IRON DOSES BROUGHT RELIEF.

"I suffered from rheumatism for two years, and for three months was so bad off I was confined to my room. The pain was fearful and I tried everything I and my friends could get but it looked like I was done with business for the balance of my life. It gripped me worse in the small part of my back and in my left leg, and at my age of 63 folks didn't believe anything could do me much good, but I bought a bottle of Acid Iron Mineral and the change that came over me was wonderful," declared A. B. Williams, of Petersburg, Va.

"Before I had finished the first bottle I was getting better and the iron seemed to drive the pain right out of me. The second bottle of A-I-M helped me still more and now, since taking three bottles I am as well as I ever was and have been completely relieved. The rheumatism is entirely gone and I gladly recommend Acid Iron Mineral to everybody," continued Mr. Williams, who like hundreds of other people in this section, find damp weather and uric acid in the blood a hard enemy to fight once it has taken hold of the system.

Acid Iron Mineral, (natural iron) is plain, everyday medicinal iron, highly concentrated. It is sold by most druggists in either six or twelve ounce bottles under the trade name of the Ferrudine Chemical Corp. which guarantees its strength and quality.

It has a tendency to assist the appetite, digestion, and kidneys too. Whole families use it this time of year with excellent results to the blood. A few drops in a glass of water makes a dose. Directions with each bottle.

were representatives from every state in the Union, who realized the importance of this work to the extent of being willing to come from their homes, at their own expense, many of them travelling long distances. At this conference, it was determined to put on a nationwide campaign to raise $4,000,000 for the War Camp Community Recreation Fund. Of this amount, Virginia is expected to raise $200,000. You are requested to act as agent of this fund in your community and to raise not less than $600.
As to the need of this great work there can be no question. It has been found that more men have been incapacitated for service by the dangers to which they have been exposed while on furlough from camp than in battle.
Unless wholesome recreation and conditions of normal life such as they were accustomed to in their homes are provided for the men on furlough, they yield to evil temptations that surround them as strangers in the cities to which they come. If the good people fail to afford them attractive, safe, and elevating environment, the underworld will be sure to lead them into an environment that is injurious and degrading.

The War Camp Community Recreation Fund will be used to offer these young soldiers, who have come from the best homes in the commonwealth, influences and surroundings which are safe and attractive as those from which they have been taken by the military necessities of the times. It will provide them attractive entertainments, club-rooms, athletic facilities; will open the doors of Christian homes to them; will insure their being visited if sick in camps or hospitals; and if they fall into trouble of any kind, will see that they are protected as if
at home among friends and loved ones.

You may, therefore, assure the parents and friends of the boys from your community that, if the amount needed in Virginia is raised, their boys will be safe during the 25 per cent of their time that they will spend on furlough from camp. Thus, if you accept this work, you will not only be raising money that will be put to the very best possible use, but you will be carrying a message of comfort to friends and relatives of boys from your community and will be contributing to fit them to bring the war to a speedy close. It is also the best insurance for their return home at the conclusion of the war, as sound in body and mind as when they left it. turn home, at the conclusion of the war, as sound in body and mind as when they left it.

You are requested to form your committee and canvass your community to raise at least the amount cited. You will be instructed later where to send the money. The nation-wide campaign begins today so kindly get to work at once. If you can not accept, please get some one else to do so in your place and notify us at once.

Yours truly,
H. D. MACLACHLAN,
J. T. MASTIN,
G. H. WINFREY,
Committee for Virginia.

In formulating war plans for the supreme drive against Germany, the inter-allied conference will assume that the central powers can fight on up to the winter of 1918 without seriously suffering from internal or economic pressure. The resources of the allies will be marshalled against Germany's "possible maximum strength." Five million American troops, according to general staff officers, will probably be counted upon in the advance of operations.

WAR TALKS
By UNCLE DAN

Jimmie Collins Tells What He Saw—
What Military Training Does for Boys.

"Well, here we are!" exclaimed Billie, presenting his chum, Jimmie Collins.
"Very glad to see you, Mr. Collins," said Uncle Dan with a smile.
"Aw," said Billie, "Just call him Jimmie. That's the only name he knows. He's the pitcher of our baseball nine, and he's some pitcher, too.
Just feel of his arm."
"Well," said Uncle Dan, feeling.
"That's a mighty good arm!"
"Now, boys," said Uncle Dan, "what do you want to talk about?"
"Well," said Jimmie, "I was down to Galesburg a few months ago when the boys came home from the Mexican border. They looked fine. Everybody was surprised to see how straight they stood and how manly they were. The boys seemed proud to wear the uniform. I tell you their muscles were as hard as nails. I heard Banker Haskett say that the training and discipline the boys had had was exactly what every boy in the country ought to have, and that now these boys could get a better job at higher pay than they could have had before. Do you think that's so, Uncle Dan?" Uncle Dan replied: "I have a friend who employs hundreds of young men. He always gives boys having had military training the preference; he says it pays to do so. He says they are more alert, more prompt, more courteous; they know how to carry out orders; they are quicker to think and to act than those without training. He said from his experience he believed that six or eight months of intensive military training would add at least 20 per cent to a man's

AFTER FIVE MONTHS.
The two pictures are of the same young man. The first was taken the day he enlisted and the second after he had had five months' military training. His home is in North Carolina.

earning capacity, and that it was the best investment any young man could make.

"Billie, if you will go up to my room and bring my small handbag, I will let you see two photographs of the same young man, showing what only five months of intensive training at the Mexican border did for him."

The bag was brought. Uncle Dan, showing the pictures, said: "Well, here they are. They tell their own story and it is a mighty interesting one. The young man, before training, was a discouraged look; he had seen but little of the world. There was very little in his surroundings to bring him out. When he joined the colors and Uncle Sam took him in charge, Billie for him took on a new meaning.
He saw a chance to do something and to accomplish it. He was no longer a man who he is twice the man he was when he joined the army. This may be one of the extreme cases," said Uncle Dan. "I can tell you, though, that war or no war, no one thing will do the young men of this nation so much good in so short a time as a few months of intensive military training.
It fits a man to fight his own battles in the business world as well as to defend his country and its flag.

"Nearly every civilized country gives its boys military training. It is compulsory. It is based upon the fact that it is the duty of everyone to help defend his country; and as war is now carried on, no one can do much unless he is trained. Also, the records show that the killed and wounded among untrained troops is nearly three times as great as it is with well-trained men who know how to fight and how to protect themselves. By this plan a nation has trained men to defend her and the individual is a stronger and better man for the training.

"If the Chamberlain Bill for MILItary Training is passed by congress, as it ought to be, the same thing would be done for millions of other young men throughout the land. Everybody ought to demand of his congressman and senators the passage of this bill."

"An right, sir, exclaimed Jimmie, we will see Judge Brownell, Mr. Haskett, and Professor Storom, and get them
