THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION AND DR. ROOP

The present crisis in community affairs precipitated by the resolution adopted by the Ministerial Association on Sept. 5th and published in the Manassas Journal on Sept. 6th, expelling Dr. Roop of Eastern College from its membership, had its beginning during the month of September, 1917, when Rev. Alford Kelley, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, for reasons now well understood, went to see and confer with Dr. Roop concerning the propriety of his continuing to preach for the Presbyterian congregation when the pastor was absent. While declining to see any impropriety in his so doing, Dr. Roop finally agreed to leave the question to the decision of the church session. Some two months later various citizens of Manassas privately protested against the exercise of ministerial functions by Dr. Roop while under indictment. In deference to these protests and in what was considered justice to Dr. Roop, a called meeting of the Ministerial Association of Prince William County was held at the Baptist Church on Sunday night, December 2, 1917. The following members were present: Revs. Alford Kelley, H. Q. Burr, T. D. D. Clark, L. C. Messick, J. Halpenny and Barnett Grimsley. Rev. Alford Kelley presided and stated the object of the meeting to be the consideration of the standing in the Association of Dr. Roop, now under indictment for having feloniously used a cancelled postage stamp. The following resolution was offered and on motion unanimously adopted: "Moved, as we trust, by the spirit of brotherly kindness and for the best interests of all concerned, we, the Manassas pastors of the Ministerial Association of Prince William County, being in touch with local church sentiment, are persuaded that in consideration of the question now pending personal to yourself it would be wise and expedient for us to defer to that sentiment by fraternally requesting you to refrain from ministerial participation in public functions for the present. "With expressions of cordial good will and indulging the hope of a speedy and satisfactory settlement of the issue at stake, we remain, YOUR BRETHERN OF THE LOCAL CHURCHES To this kindly conceived and well intentioned resolution, a copy of which was at once mailed to Dr. Roop, no reply has ever been received; although Dr. Roop informed Rev. H. Q. Burr, the Associational secretary, that the resolution came duly to hand. A day or two after the sending of the resolution an informal meeting of the ministers was held at the Baptist Church. At this meeting Dr. Roop appeared in his own behalf and took occasion to charge the ministers with undertaking to besmirch his character and further stigmatized their action as more criminal in degree than the offense with which he himself stood charged. This most unhappy breach of fraternal courtesy and good will was unavoidably widened by subsequent developments and is profoundly deplored. The resolution adopted on September 5th is amply sustained in all its parts by documentary evidence in possession of the signatories. There is such a thing as a community conscience and this conscience has been outraged. Charity supreme among the Christian graces is full of pity and keeps company with faith and hope, but is no friend to guilty compromise. A public acknowledgement is due that public exoneration may follow and good fellowship be restored. With the sincere and fervent hope that the present distressing situation may thus be ended, and with malice toward none, the undersigned members of the Ministerial Association rest their case. ALFORD KELLEY, Pres. H. Q. BURR, Secretary. T. D. D. CLARK. Not having been a member of the Ministerial Association at the time the resolution quoted herein, but having seen the minutes of the meeting of December 2, 1917, I concur in the action of my brethren. ALEX. STUART GIBSON.

PLAY SPLENDID SUCCESS

"Jane" Draws Large Audience and Well Received. The musical comedy, "Jane," which was presented at Conner's Hall Monday night, was one of the best that has been in Manassas, and was greeted by a packed house. Mr. Milton Harding, author and manager, deserves great credit for the manner in which our local talent acquitted themselves. Mr. Harding made quite a "hit" in his female attire and Mr. Martin D. Lynch, as usual, was good in his impersonations. Mrs. Gordon, Misses Roop, Covington and Clark were well suited to the parts they played. One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the dance by Mr. Harding and Miss Kathleen Spies. The musical program was delightful and the song, "Knocking at the Knitting Club," was very humorous. Special mention should be made of Misses Roop, Chapman and Maloney in their songs, and of Miss Rose Rice in her patriotic readings. In fact the whole show was a success from both a social and

F., a copy of the following message from the King of England, which was distributed among the Americans: "Windsor Castle. "Soldiers of the United States, the people of the British Isles welcome you on your way to take your stand beside the armies of many nations now fighting in the Old World the great battle for human freedom. "The skies will gain new heart and spirit in your company. I wish that I could shake the hand of each one of you and wish you God-speed on your mission. "GEORGE R. I." LETTER FROM THE FRONT

Private James R. N. Beaumont Writes Brother at Catharpin. The following letter, written by Private James R. N. Beaumont, Co. I, 38th Inf., A. E. F., was received recently by his brother, Wm. Beaumont, of Catharpin: August 13, 1918. Dear Bill:—Am writing you a few lines more to let you know I am quite alright. We have had a very tough time of it for the last month, being right in the midst of this big drive. No doubt you have read about it in the home papers and know more about what is going on than I do. Our regiment was one of the first to cross the river Marne and started the Germans on the run and as far as I know they are still running. We are now back across the Marne expecting to go back for a rest, but we are not certain about it. I will be writing to you again very soon and will let you know if I am back in a rest camp. I hope mother, father, Maggie and uncle Sandy are all well. Give them all my best love and tell them I am in the best of health. Write me as soon as you can as I am always glad to hear from home, and like to know if everybody is alright. Well, Bill, I will close for now; write me again soon and I will do the same. My best love to all. Your brother, NOLAND.

ADDRESSES W. C. T. U.

Made by Mrs. Howland at Grace M. E. Church, South. Mrs. Howland, National Organizer of the W. C. T. U., gave a highly interesting address at the Methodist Church last Wednesday night, reciting her experiences in Porto Rico while organizing the work there. A brief account of her leaving New York in March with the thermometer 20 degrees below zero; her fears of submarines; her sea-sickness, the steamer's encountering a terrific storm, when every passenger was instructed how to put on a life preserver and given the number of a life boat in which to drop, made a deep impression on the audience. Then followed the accounts of landing five days later in Porto Rico where balmy breezes, tropical foliage, inhabitants all wearing white made one think it a paradise. This latter impression was dispelled when results were seen of the Spanish misrule for over four centuries, in the immorality, poverty, ignorance and degradation of the poorer classes. The tremendous need of education along the line of physical, moral and spiritual lines was emphasized, with most encouraging accounts of the wonderful responsiveness of the people to efforts already made. How prohibition in this island, the first of all Latin countries to adopt it, was brought about thrilled the audience. When Porto Ricans were made citizens of the United States in 1917, their gratitude was so great, that they wished to show their appreciation in some way and under wise leaders, they devised upon a measure that would free their land from what they knew to be an awful curse, and prepare them for honored citizenship under the flag they love and honor. A brief description of the "Southern Curse," as seen at night in the heavens, and its presage of what the cross of Christ will mean to Porto Rico, closed Mrs. Howland's impressive address. Questionnaires go Out Monday. Provost Marshal Crowder's plans for speeding the men who are subject to the first call—that is, men 19 and 32-35, inclusive—to the colors are going on with clock-like precision. The questionnaires will go out Monday, everything arranged in advance to obtain a fair balance between the military and industrial needs of the nation, and officials of the provost general's office have answered important questions that are of interest to all concerned. Few, if any complaints, have been heard against the "work or fight" order, and there is apparently no difference of opinion as to the fairness and wisdom of the whole plan of procedure. A number of troop trains went north on the Southern Railway yesterday. Among them part of the command to which Lieut. Roswell Round and Dr. V. V. Gillum, both of Manassas, belong. The train was moving rapidly, but their friends recognized them standing between the cars to get a glimpse of home and home folks. It is understood they will be on duty at Fort Myer for a time. Lieut. Round is now attached to the Machine Gun Troop of his regiment, the 11th U. S. Cavalry. The regular meeting of the board of supervisors is Tuesday.

ADVISES FARMERS TO RAISE MORE SHEEP

Will be Profitable Industry for Several Years After the Present World War.

(By R. G. Koener, County Agent)

While Prince William farmers are busily engaged in preparing to sow a bouncing big Liberty wheat crop this fall and are also managing to get next year's seed corn selected from the field while standing, as directed in last week's issue of this paper, they can be thinking about the wisdom of buying a bunch of sheep this fall. Sheep are very profitable now, when properly managed, and if an intelligent effort is made I think we can manage to get a number of flocks placed on some of our farms.

While I wish to encourage the dairy business all that is possible along the railroads of this county, as I believe it the logical business for that territory, there are those farther back that could use some of their rough pastures. Woolen garments are extremely high in price now and the report to good advantage for sheep is that the government will need more than our total production of wool for the army. Is it not time for those of us left here at home to bestir ourselves toward producing some wool for our own comfort? The law of self preservation will compel us to exercise a little forethought in this matter. And then, too, sheep require such light labor most of the time.

Our dog law is being made more and more stringent as time goes on, and I hope we can not long have the dog as an excuse for declining to go into the sheep business. This is especially true if we exercise a spirit of cooperation with the neighbors to rigidly enforce the law. I am sure there is some stock dealer or farmer in Prince William who would be glad to negotiate a deal for the purchase of some sheep for our idle lands if they knew beforehand that the farmers wanted them and would buy them.

Sheep do well on pretty much the same feeds that cows do, except that they will use a wild pasture to better advantage. They are fond of ensilage and almost all of the legume hays in winter. A rye pasture is good for them to run on in winter also. But first let me persuade you to get the sheep and then I can advise you further about their care.

The following taken from the Virginia Department of Agriculture Bulletin, No. 131, is timely: The extra labor required to keep weeds under control is probably the greatest economic loss which they cause. Labor is too much needed for other lines of farm work and should not be used in fighting weeds if they can be eradicated in any other way. Yet weeds must be controlled if maximum crop yields are to be secured. In this respect sheep can aid in the farm labor problem. They will eat many weeds, and on any farm will greatly reduce the amount of hand labor needed to hold weeds in check in pastures and grain fields. Keep sheep and arrange your farm so they can help in the fight with weeds.

Apart from the demand under present conditions, the safest investment for after-war returns is sheep.

The wool markets are always higher after the war than during it. This statement is borne out by figures according to experts following the Civil War wars. The flocks of France, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Servia, Roumania and Poland will have to be bred back to normal production. Before the war, prolonged droughts cut Australia's flocks from twelve to eighteen millions, according to different figures; Argentina has had sieges of locusts and droughts that have checked its sheep increase; and the United States has been steadily dropping back from sheep production.

There is abundant land not being used in Virginia well adapted to sheep raising, not only in the Southwest but on the farms of Middle Virginia and Tidewater, without crowding out the profitable dairy cow and hog. There is no advice that can be handed out as safely at the present time as, "Get some sheep!"

IN MEMORIAM

Marion Lawrence Thomason, aged 3 months and 14 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thomason, of Haymarket, died on the 2nd day of September at 9:30 a. m. Cause not forgotten. Flowers are blooming on every hand. Rivers like crystal in that beautiful land. Music the sweetest flowers most rare. He will dwell with our Savior, there is no night there. Oh, vacant in his little room. For our Marion is no longer there. From door and windows, porch and lawn. The sound of his dear little voice is gone. Sleep on, dear Marion, sweet be your rest. We all need you, but God knows best. God's will be done; He doeth well Oh, how we miss you no tongue can tell. A shadow rests upon our home. We miss his little face. Where'er we turn, where'er we look, We miss his vacant place. We dream of your sweet little face we loved. The dear little face we are longing to see. We can never forget you, dear Marion. For you were all the world to me. By His Loving Mother.

Kann's Summer Sale of Furs

Now in Progress

IS AN AUTHENTIC DISPLAY OF STYLES ADOPTED FOR THE COMING FALL AND WINTER SEASONS AT DECIDED SAVINGS FROM PRICES THAT WILL PREVAIL LATER IN THE YEAR.

Prediction points to next fall and winter being the greatest season ever for furs of all kinds. Fashion leaders proclaim there will be more beauty and individuality in furs than any other type of outer garment. This beauty and individuality is reflected in our summer display which is the finest we ever made.

You will want furs for their distinctiveness.

If you wait until the season for wear comes you will, in all probability, pay more for similar qualities, that is if such qualities are to be had at all. Buy now and be sure not only of the fur you want but of the saving that can be made. The workmanship on these garments is of an exceptionally high standard because we were able, when these garments were made up, to secure the services of expert furriers to fashion them.

MAKE SELECTIONS EARLY

Pay a fourth of the sale price and we will hold the article selected for future delivery—balance to be paid before November 15, 1918.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift &

Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, the everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you, is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.
