THE FEBRUARY TERM OF COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT

Decisions and Postponements in Common Law—Property Transfers in Chancery.

Common Law.
B. H. Hinegardner vs. Southern Railway Co. and Piedmont Mills, Inc. On motion of the plaintiff the case against the Piedmont Mills, Inc. was dismissed on account of lack of jurisdiction and the decision of the Southern Railway Co. was overruled. The Piedmont Mills, Inc. was allowed from the plaintiff their costs in the case. The case was continued to the second day of the next regular term of court.
E. E. Robinson vs. A. Libeau. On appeal. The jury decided that the plaintiff was not entitled to damages and that the defendant be allowed the costs.
Ira H. Byrne vs. B. F. Leedy. Continued to the fourth day of the April term.
Reuben A. Powell vs. T. O. Lamm. Continued to the first day of April term.
F. N. Thompson, Jr., vs. Frank Chambers, Jr. Continued to the fourth day of the April term.
Wallace M. Monroe vs. T. A. Cooper. Continued to the fourth day of the April term.
Suit against Cornelius Kincheloe. The clerk was ordered to issue a rule against Cornelius Kincheloe, directing the sheriff to summon the said Cornelius Kincheloe to appear before the court on Feb. 13, to show cause why he can, why he should not be attached for failing to appear on Feb. 8, as a witness in the case against Minnie Keys, in response to his recognizance entered into at the December term of court.
E. E. Robinson vs. A. Libeau. Continued until the next term of court.
Commonwealth vs. Minnie Keys. Continued until Wednesday in the first week of the April term.
Mary E. Fick and J. R. Fick vs. H. B. Hutchison. The case was continued, at the cost of the defendant, to the second Tuesday in the April term. The following gave bond in the sum of $100 each to appear as witnesses:
 Thomas Shackelford, A. B. Bowie, E. H. Randall, Joseph Berry, Jack Fick, L. Q. Moss, C. E. Nash, F. E. Ransdell, Richard Kelly, Matthew Sisson.
Rule against C. E. Shackelford and Joseph Sisson. The clerk was ordered to issue a rule against C. E. Shackelford and Joseph Sisson, summoning them to appear in court on Tuesday, April 15, to show cause, if any they can, why they should not be attached for failing to appear on Feb. 10th to testify in the case of John R. Fick and Mary E. Fick vs. Hugh B. Hutchison.
F. H. Sanders vs. C. P. Brown. Continued to the second Monday in the April term.
Commonwealth vs. Bricker Payne. Continued to the first Friday in the April term.
 The trial jurors, petit jurors and commonwealth witnesses were allowed their pay for attendance and mileage.
Chancery.
Woodborough et als vs. Decree. The clerk of the court was ordered to issue a rule against A. G. Weaver, A. L. Arthen, Charles P. Wilkinson, Laura E. Wilkin, Howard Hill, Roland Hayes, and Leslie Merrill, a continuance of the next term of court.
 The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Smith, of Occochee.

BOYS' WORKING RESERVE

Those Physically Fit May Wear the Uniform and Work.

(By E. W. Sanders, Director)
 The U. S. Department of Labor, in its efforts to "fight world famine," has launched a campaign whereby it hopes to place 500,000 boys on the farms of our country during the coming summer. These boys will enroll as members of the Boys' Working Reserve, and, if they so desire, may wear the uniform of their organization. Any boy, who secures the consent of his parents, passes the required physical examination, and takes the Boys' Working Reserve oath of service, is eligible for membership and will receive the badge and certificate of membership. A Federal Service Bronze Badge of Honor, and Honorable Service Bar Pin are awarded for faithful service.
 In preparation for the work on the farm, each member is instructed in some of the fundamentals of farm life. A series of Farm Craft Lessons is furnished each member for study and reference.
 An enrolling officer for the Boys' Working Reserve has been appointed in every high school and public library in the United States. The teacher of agriculture in the Manassas high school is enrolling officer for Prince William county and all boys, who are interested in doing this patriotic service, are requested to apply to him for further information.

DEATH OF R. E. HAYES

Prominent Citizen of Smithfield Lost to the Community.
 Mr. Roma Robert Hayes died near Smithfield Feb. 4, of influenza, after an illness of two weeks.
 Mr. Hayes was born in Oakfield, Fondulac county, Wis., June 5, 1867. He went to Blue Earth, Minn., in 1885, with his mother, his father having died when he was six years old. In 1889 he married Miss Ida Hill and settled on a farm near Hunt-ville. A few years later he moved to Winnebago and was a carrier on a rural mail route for several years. Seeking a warmer climate, he came to Virginia in 1908, and has since lived on his farm near Smithfield, Prince William county.
 He was a man of sterling worth, Christian character and full of good works. He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted wife, a brother, Albert Hayes, of Marshall Va., a sister, Mrs. Orville Shepherdson, of Blue Earth, Minn., a step-brother, David Richardson, of Fox Lake, Wis., numerous cousins, among them L. Merrill, of Coles district, many nephews and nieces.
 He was a member of Woodbine Baptist Church and Sunday School superintendent a number of years. He will be greatly missed by a host of friends, especially among the young people who affectionately called him "Uncle Roma."
 Their beautiful floral offerings of white roses, carnations, sweet pea and lilies covered the casket.
 He was carried to his last resting place at Woodbine Church by the young men of his own family circle, Messrs. Ray and George Fairbanks, Carlton and Howard Hill, Roland Hayes, and Leslie Merrill, a continuance of the next term of court.
 The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Smith, of Occochee.

MR. EDGAR WOOD WEIR

DIED OF APOPLEXY

Passes Away Suddenly at Home—Was Next to Leaving Resident Here.
 Mr. Edgar Wood Weir died Tuesday night of apoplexy at his home, in Manassas. He has been ailing two weeks after an attack of acute indigestion.
 Mr. Weir was born in Prince George county, Maryland, on June 27, 1859, and was in his 60th year when he died. When six years old he came with his parents to Brantville. The family remained there about one year, when they moved to Manassas, where Mr. Weir has resided almost continuously ever since. With one exception, Mr. Geo. Hixson, he has lived here longer than any other citizen.
 For a period of thirty years Mr. Weir had been in business in Manassas, during part of which time he was associated with his brother, Mr. S. T. Weir, in mercantile trade. He built for his home and store the house and building at the southwest corner of Center and West streets. Here he conducted business for a number of years. He still lived in the residence after selling out the business to Mr. W. W. Davies. Recently Mr. Weir has been assisting at Messrs. Hibba & Giddings' store in the absence of Mr. Eugene Davis, who is in France.
 In July, 1888, Mr. Weir was married to Miss Anne Kincheloe, who lived eight years. The children of this union, who are still living, are Miss Mattie B. Weir, Sergt. Paul Latimer Weir, a soldier in France and Mr. William Partee Weir. In 1902 Mr. Weir was married a second time to Miss Phebe Holden, who survives him. Mrs. P. P. Chapman and Mr. S. T. Weir, of Manassas, are sister and brother of the deceased.
 During the long residence of Mr. Weir in Manassas he was always interested in the general welfare of the town. He was desirous of beautifying the community and had, many years ago, planted trees throughout West street. He opened that street and the adjoining territory, having owned the land.
 Mr. Weir was a member of the order of Maccabees, as well as of the Order of Fraternal Americans. He had always taken an active part in the temperance movement, local, state and national. He had been a member of the Methodist Church for many years.
 The funeral services were held in the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. Q. Burr. The interment was in the Manassas cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. E. H. Hibba, E. B. Giddings, F. Ashby Lewis, C. F. M. Lewis, Thos. H. Lion and W. Fred Dowell.
 There will be an entertainment at Groveton school Friday, Feb. 21, at 7:30 p. m. Come and enjoy yourselves. Admission, 25 cents. Ice cream for sale.
 Several meat platters and fruit dishes, recently borrowed by the domestic science department of the high school have not been returned because members of the class do not recall the names of those who loaned them on this occasion. These dishes are at the high school and will be returned promptly if the owners will be so kind as to notify the domestic science department.

NEW LABORATORY AT AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Mr. T. D. Eason, State Supervisor of Agricultural Schools, Expresses Satisfaction.

(By E. W. Sanders, Director)
 In compliance with the regulations of the Smith-Hughes law, a new laboratory is being fitted up in the wood shops building, which will be used exclusively for agriculture. The first classes in the new laboratory were held last Friday, though there are several other improvements to be made as soon as the necessary labor and materials can be secured.
 The building, formerly used for storing implements, has been remodeled and will be used as a large shop. Thus the work of the agricultural department will be unified and broadened, so that the students in this course may have more efficient and practical work.
 Mr. T. D. Eason, state supervisor of agricultural schools, visited the school Wednesday of last week and expressed his satisfaction at the work which is being done by the local board in equipping the school to meet the requirements of the Smith-Hughes law, whereby we receive state aid for the support of the agricultural department.
 The greater part of Mr. Eason's time, however, was spent in conference with the district school boards and supervisors of Prince William county. He emphasized the fact that the Manassas Agricultural High School, since it is patronized by the entire county, should be supported by the entire county. Hitherto Manassas district has borne most of the burden, if not all of it.
 He also called attention to the fact that the state is no longer in a position to maintain agricultural high schools free of cost to the counties in which they are located. It will, however, pay the salaries of the domestic science and agricultural teachers, provided the local community will furnish the necessary equipment, such as is required by the Smith-Hughes law. Manassas is one of the few agricultural high schools in Virginia which has a reputation beyond the state as an agricultural school and it was the hope of the supervisor that the agricultural appropriation would not be lost because of a lack of interest on the part of the county to meet the state requirements.

MRS. M. M. DAVIS COMING

Regular Meeting Women's Auxiliary to Farmers' Institute.

Miss Lillian V. Gilbert Secretary Women's Auxiliary.
 Friday, February 21—joint meeting of the farmers, their wives, and all others interested—meetings to come or order at 10:30 a. m.
 Mrs. M. M. Davis, assistant state agent of women and girls' work, to be present at both the morning and afternoon session, and has a message for all.
 The women are urged to come to the morning session and bring their husbands, stay to the afternoon session, hear the good things that Mrs. Davis has to tell us. It is urged that every woman make herself a committee of one to try to persuade one other woman to come.
 The morning session will be held in the courthouse, the afternoon session in the agricultural high school building, at 2:30.
 Lunch will be served in the high school by the domestic science class, so no one need leave for dinner; this lunch will be served that persons can make it cost just what they choose to pay.
 A most cordial invitation is extended to all women in the county to attend both the morning session of the farmers' institute and the auxiliary in the afternoon.

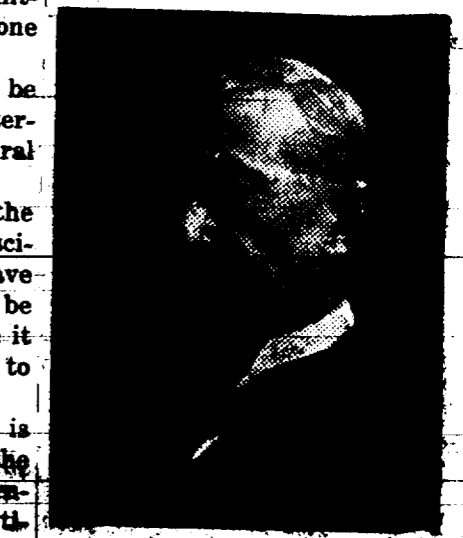

EX-GOV. M. R. PATTERSON

HERE FRIDAY, FEB. 21

County Citizens Can Then Meet a Great Man and Hear a Remarkable Orator.
 A great occasion for Manassas will be the meeting at Conner's Hall on Friday night of next week, Feb. 21st, when Hon. M. R. Patterson, Ex-Governor of Tennessee, will give one of his thrilling addresses on the subject of "World Wide Prohibition." The meeting will be under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America.
 Rev. David Hopburn, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, will accompany Gov. Patterson and make a short address.
 Gov. Patterson is one of the foremost speakers on the American platform on the subject of prohibition. Up to a short time ago Gov. Patterson was the leader of the "wet" forces in his own state. As governor he vetoed the prohibition bill and used all of his power as governor, and his personal influence to defeat the progress of prohibition in his native state. His conversion to the prohibition cause was a hard blow to the liquor forces.
 Farmers attending the institute on that morning of that day and ladies, who expect to be present at the auxiliary meeting in the afternoon, should plan to remain over to night and avail themselves of this rare opportunity to hear an eloquent orator on a live subject.
 Other residents of the county should plan to come to town on that night. It will be well for people in the respective communities to get up parties to travel together, hiring a conveyance to hold a large number, if they have no teams themselves. Those who hear Gov. Patterson that night, will not consider any trouble, inconvenience or expense to have been too great in coming to hear this renowned Southerner and one of America's most celebrated orators.
 The following is a report of one of Gov. Patterson's addresses: Three thousand men packed the Waterloo Theater from pit to gallery, filling every available space and overflowing upon the stage where at least 300 more were given seats, yesterday afternoon at the temperance mass meeting under the auspices of the Association of Blackhawk county. Former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, of Tennessee, was the chief speaker of the afternoon and his address in all respects rivaled the famous sermon of Rev. Billy Sunday, and in some respects excelled it.
 Not unlike Sunday, Gov. Patterson, the same day, was the chief speaker of the afternoon and his address in all respects rivaled the famous sermon of Rev. Billy Sunday, and in some respects excelled it.

BASKET BALL GAMES

Girls Win, Boys Lose. Both Hope to Win Tonight.
 On Friday night, January 31, the boys' and girls' teams of the local high school journeyed to Warrenton, where they encountered the strong teams of its high school.
 The first game was between the girls. Manassas gained the first goal and thereafter held the lead. The accurate passing and shooting and the exceptional guarding by the Manassas girls accounted for the final score of 10-22.
 The boys' game was very exciting and was closely fought throughout. The first goal was made by Warrenton and the next by Manassas. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 5-8 in favor of W. H. S.
 The score by quarters of the boys' game was as follows:
 First, M. H. S. 5, W. H. S. 8; second, M. H. S. 9, W. H. S. 10; third, M. H. S. 12, W. H. S. 17; fourth, M. H. S. 19, W. H. S. 23.
 The Warrenton teams will play the local teams on February 14th, in Conner's Hall.
 H. W. Sanders, Secretary
 The February meeting of the Farmers' Institute will be held in the courthouse Friday, the 21st. Mr. Ralston, secretary of the Shenandoah Valley Fair Association, will give the farmers of this county the benefit of his experience in organizing and conducting fairs. All persons interested in a county fair for Prince William next fall are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear Mr. Ralston and to be present for discussion of the subject.
 Dr. C. R. C. Johnson will speak on the Federal Farm Loan Act, and Mrs. Mary Davis, assistant director of home demonstration work in Virginia, a woman with thirty years experience, will address both the farmers and ladies of the Women's Auxiliary. Her subject will be announced and later. If you miss this meeting of and A. L. Warthen, in favor of the petitioners in the sum of $690, with interest from August 15, 1918, and all costs, to be a lien on the real estate described in the bill and proceedings.

Malcolm R. Patterson.

THE FEBRUARY TERM OF COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT

Sinclair and Hutchison, trustees, vs. Luck et als. Decree. The application of Maurice Abel to have the deed for the land purchased by him executed to his wife, Mary E. Abel, was made a part of the record in this cause; the report of Master Commissioner L. Ledman, filed Jan. 24, 1919, was confirmed; and Robert A. Hutchison, trustee, was ordered to pay out funds.

C. A. Sinclair, H. Thornton Davies and Robert A. Hutchison were appointed special commissioners to execute a deed, with covenants of special warranty, to Mary E. Abel, for the land purchased by Maurice Abel, as appears by decree of October, 1918.

George Purvis vs. Hugh McIsaac and Genevieve McIsaac. In chancery. The report of commissioner Bryan Gordon was confirmed and he was appointed a special commissioner to deliver a deed, with covenants of special warranty, conveying to George Purvis the lot and parcel of land in these proceedings set forth, upon the payment to the commissioner of $75, the balance of the purchase price, for said real estate as set forth in these proceedings; and, out of the said $75, the commissioner is to pay first the costs and expenses of this suit and after the payment of such, he is to deposit in the National Bank of Manassas, to the credit of the court in the cause, the balance.

Leah Suthard vs. Louis Suthard. Decree for divorce. The defendant, having deserted and abandoned the plaintiff without cause or reason, and the desertion having continued without interruption to the present for a period of three years or more, the divorce was granted.

Irvin Cornwell vs. Harry Cornwell et al. Decree. As the eight-acre tract of land, with dwelling thereon, fully described in the bill of complaint, is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst the parties entitled thereto, it was ordered that it would best promote the interest of the infant defendant to have the sale thereof to Harvey Petty, for $500 confirmed, the said complainant owning an undivided half interest therein as well as curtesy in the remaining one-half, and that the said infant defendants are of tender years of age, not being of such age as to discreetly use the money coming to them from said sale. H. Thornton Davies was appointed special commissioner to convey the interest of the said infant defendant in said land to Harvey Petty, the said Irvin Cornwell uniting to convey his interest therein. It was further ordered that, since the amount due each defendant is about $80, the entire purchase amount be paid to said Irvin Cornwell, who shall pay the cost of this suit, including attorneys fees, the portion due said infants to be used for their support and maintenance.

International Harvester Company of America vs. Arthur Luck et al. Decree. This matter having been settled by the decree in the suit of Sinclair and Hutchison, trustees, vs. Luck et al., depending in this court, the case was dismissed.

On Feb. 11, court not being in session, Mrs. Martha J. Dane, widow of William A. Dane, qualified before the clerk as administratrix of her husband's estate. The following were appointed executors of the personal estate: W. H. Smith, F. M. Pearson and C. E. Clarke.

—$1.00 a year—

NOKESVILLE

Mrs. Howard Norford, of Wash., visited the city last week.

her mother, Mrs. A. N. King, last week.

Miss Aliene Laws was a Manassas visitor Saturday.

Mr. B. F. Hedrick, of Nokesville, has purchased the farm of Mr. W. D. Whetzel, of Aden. He and his family expect to move there next month.

Mrs. R. E. Wine and daughter Gladys, were Manassas visitors Saturday.

We are glad to hear that little Nadean Snider is very much improved, after a severe illness with the "flu."

FORESTBURG

Mrs. E. H. Williams made a business trip to Quantico Thursday of last week.

Mr. Frank Liming, of Quantico, spent the week-end with relatives near Joplin.

Mrs. W. T. Abel and Mrs. Eva B. Anderson visited Mrs. Cos. Rothwell one day last week.

The cholera still prevails in this vicinity, many persons having lost valuable hogs.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Wm. G. Abel has so far recovered from his lameness as to resume his occupation at the shipyard.

Mr. W. T. Abel tells us he caught a fine string of fish last week. Owing to the unseasonable weather we are inclined to think it a "fish story."

We are sorry to learn Mrs. Nora Davis is on the sick list.

Mrs. Jas. Rothwell's friends were glad to hear she was well enough to take a trip to Joplin recently.

The Red Cross held its monthly meeting Feb. 11.

Our pastor, Rev. C. H. Beard, delivered an edifying sermon at the Methodist Church Sunday. He is an earnest worker.

DUMFRIES

The many friends of Mrs. Salie Clarke were pained to hear of her death, which occurred on Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 11 o'clock p. m. She died at her daughters, Mrs. John Rison, after an illness of one week.

Mrs. Clarke leaves to mourn her loss seven children and thirteen grandchildren. Mr. Sidney Clarke, of Waterfall, Alfred, of Pittsburgh, Pa., George and Johnny, of Dumfries, Mrs. John Rison, Dumfries, Mrs. John O'Neill and Miss Clara Clarke, of Cherry Hill.

Mrs. Clarke was a devoted mother and a kind friend and will be greatly missed. She was laid to rest in the family burying ground at Cherry Hill. She was about 62 years of age.

Mrs. John Rison has been confined to her bed ever since the death of her mother.

Mrs. Philip Colvert, who has been very ill for the past week, is somewhat improved.

Mr. Guy Cline spent Saturday and Sunday in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Rainy are both in bed with the "flu."

Mr. Warfield Brawner spent Saturday and Sunday in Washington with his wife and little daughter. Warfield seems to be proud that he is daddy.

Ernest Reid, Jr., who has been sick for some few days, is able to be out again.

Mr. Elvan Keys, of Joplin, was a Dumfries visitor Sunday.

Mrs. Clay Speaks is still confined to her room, where she sprained her ankle.

Mr. Ernest Reid made a business trip to Washington on Friday last, returning Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. W. Keys, of Joplin, spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. D. C. Cline.

Mr. Bennie Reid and Miss Osie Baily, of Minnieville, spent Sunday at the home of Ernest Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Messrs. Wilbur Brawner and Ruel Waters motored to Quantico Sunday.

Mr. Ernest Reid, who is building a new home on the Quantico road, will soon have it completed.

Rev. Hough, of Fredericksburg, who is helping Rev. Beard with the night meeting, is stopping at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cline.

Mr. L. A. Williams made a business trip to Indian Head Sunday, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reid and children, Mr. Bernice Reid and Miss Osie Baily made a flying trip to Quantico Sunday evening.

We are glad to see Dr. Cline out again.

Quite a good many from Dumfries went to Quantico Monday evening to hear Billy Sunday preach.

MINNIEVILLE

Roads are very much improved; if the weather continues we will soon see the autos passing through our town.

Mrs. John Curtis was the week-end visitor of Mrs. W. A. Dane and Mrs. Sarah Pettit. While in the neighborhood she called at several homes.

Quite a few of our Minnieville people attended Mr. Roma Hayes' funeral, which took place last Thursday. Mr. Hayes moved to his home, formerly known as the Dunn place, several years ago, and has been a good neighbor and made many warm friends. We extend to his widow, brother and friends the heartfelt sympathy of the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Clarke motored to Washington Tuesday on business.

Miss Estell Alexander, Mr. Arthur Boatwright, Mrs. Blanche Davis and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Clarke called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke Sunday.

Mrs. E. J. Alexander is quite ill at this writing.

Mrs. C. E. Clarke, daughter, Lucile, and D. C. Alexander were in Washington Tuesday.

Misses Lucile Clarke and Miss Elsie Windsor called on Miss Clara Carter Sunday evening. Miss Carter has been engaged in work in the city and is home on a vacation.

Mr. R. B. Reid, Mr. J. L. Hinton, Mrs. W. A. Dane and Miss Osie Baily were in Manassas on business Tuesday.

Mr. J. L. Hinton attended the funeral of Mrs. Clarke, of Dumfries, Thursday last. We extend the sympathy of the neighborhood to her children in their bereavement.

Mr. S. B. Clarke, of Waterfall and Mr. Philip Colvert, of Dumfries, were in Minnieville last week.

Mrs. Florence and family have all been sick with the "flu," but are better at this writing.

Dr. Starkweather passed through our place Tuesday. Doctors are kept busy.

Mr. C. E. Clarke is complaining.

CEDAR HILL

Well, this weather looks as though we may be snow-balling some one soon. And I am sure the boys and girls would be glad of the opportunity.

Mrs. Eva Anderson called to see Mrs. Chas. Abel and her sick family Thursday. We hear they are improving.

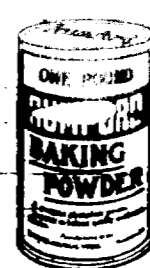

Mrs. Ida Abel was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Anderson and Mrs. Rothwell Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Finch was the guest of Mrs. Richard Anderson Friday last.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Williams being so ill. Hope she will soon recover.

Miss Edith Anderson expects to accept a position at the Post Laundry at Quantico some time soon.

Why Swift & Company Handle Poultry, Eggs, Butter and Cheese

Swift & Company went into the produce business because they saw a crying need for the kind of service they were equipped to perform.

The produce business was in chaos. Collecting, transportation, preparation and distribution was hit or miss, with delay, deterioration and loss on every hand.

The farmer was at the mercy of an uncertain, localized market. He had no way of reaching through to the people who needed what he was raising for them. There was no premium upon improving his stocks, for grading was lax or lacking.

The consumer had to accept produce that, as a rule, had no known responsible name behind it. He had no way of knowing how long the eggs or the butter he was buying had been lying around in miscellaneous lots in the back room of a country store. Much of the poultry was not properly refrigerated before shipment or properly protected by refrigeration in transit.

Swift & Company's initiative brought system to this chaos. Their organization, equipment, and experience in handling perishable food products were already adjusted to the task. Their refrigerator cars, branch houses, central points, far-reaching connections, trained sales force, supplied just what was demanded.

Now the farmer has a daily cash market in touch with the nation's needs with better prices. Standardization makes better produce more profitable. More consumers are served with better, fresher, finer foodstuffs.

Nothing suffers from this save inefficiency, which has no claim upon public support.

HOW TO WIN THE REST OF THE WAR

(By Herbert Quick)

We think we have won a great victory over Germany—and we have. Germany is so weak that an army of 30,000 Poles, as I write, are threatening Berlin.

It looks now as if any one might kick Germany around—the once all-powerful Germany!

Why is Germany weak? Because the Germans have lost control of themselves.

Unless we retain control of ourselves—of our own souls—we have not won a complete victory over Germany. If we retain or acquire control over ourselves we can win the rest of the war.

Unless we do win the rest of the war we have not only defeated Germany, but we have defeated and disgraced ourselves!

The saddest nation, the nation most completely crushed is the nation defeated by itself; and the deepest disgrace is that which is self-inflicted.

Germany can emerge from her defeat and humiliation and disgrace, after awhile, by getting a new grip on her own soul. The only hope for victory for her is the hope of victory over herself.

What do I mean by suggesting that we win "the rest of the war?"

Responsible Task Ahead. I mean that the heaviest, if not the bloodiest, part of the task is still before us. We have that great army of which we are so proud—it seems to us the bravest, finest, most splendid army the world ever saw—still under arms, and encamped on the soil of Europe.

They said in Germany that we could never get that army across the ocean—but we did. They are across the ocean now, our soldiers, 2,000,000 of them. They must be supported, clothed, fed and made as comfortable and happy as boys so far from home can be made, until they can be brought back.

And they must be brought back. When they are through with their wonderful, their epic task, they must be brought back.

And it will cost as much to bring them back as it did to take them over. It will be in some ways a harder task; for all the world on our side wanted them to go over and was willing to help, while nobody but the little old United States is especially interested in getting them back.

Therefore, we must go on with the war so far as expense is concerned. We must go on with nearly every expensive phase of the war except the fighting phase.

They're Depending On Us. Suppose that the people of the United States should quit furnishing the government with money now, and our wonderful boys in khaki were deserted, left to suffer, left to feel themselves deserted, left to shift for themselves and become vagrants and beggars—would it not be the deepest disgrace possible to this nation? And yet, it is to prevent that most impossible thing that the government asks the people to give in taxes and to provide for in the purchase of War-Savings Stamps and other securities.

Uncle Sam, in order that the rest of the war may be won, asks every man, every woman, every boy and every girl to get himself or herself under control, to stifle his appetite for unnecessary things, to save, to produce and to work for the promotion of the government, now, he would lead in the great operations of these swindlers in any part of the country.

And this brings me to Benjamin Franklin—you will see how, in a moment—to Franklin, one of the greatest Americans that ever lived, the man whose likeness is on the 1919 War-Savings Stamps.

I want to ask you to win the rest of the war as Benjamin Franklin would have you win it. But first, what sort of man was he whose advice I am asking you to take?

Franklin As An Ideal. He was a wonderful man! He was a favorite with the courtiers of the court of France, with the philosophers, the savants, the jeweled ladies, the ruffled and sworded gentlemen—of the most luxurious and the jolliest court in the world. He won their admiration by his wit, his courtesy and his manners, and he commanded their respect for his great ability. He was their equal on their own ground, and their superiors on every other ground, so he was the first link in the chain of friendship which binds the United States to France—the last link of which was welded in the awful fires of Chateau Thierry, of Belleau Wood, of St. Mihiel, of the Argonne Forest last summer and autumn—by those boys in khaki who must be fed and clothed, and made happy —brought back. And yet this man Franklin was the same person who as a raw youth walked up the streets of Philadelphia gnawing a loaf of bread because he could not afford to sit down to a better meal.

He gave to the French Revolution its million-times-sung refrain, its "Ca ira!"—and (note the contrast!) he practiced saving and thrift so successfully that, beginning as a journeyman printer in a strange city, even as early as the French and Indian War, he was rich enough that the Pennsylvania farmers were willing to sell to Benjamin Franklin the horses and wagons for Braddock's expedition, even though they would not trust the British Government! He had that grip on himself which every American must have now. He knew a century and a half before the medical profession knew it, that cold is an infectious disease; and he not only said, "Liberty is still the birthright of all men"; but also, "The way to wealth is as plain as the way to market." And again, he said, "The noblest question in the world is, 'What good may I do in it?'"—the very question the answer to which was sought by our soldier boys on the bloody battlefields of France! And then, said Franklin, "A penny saved is a two-pence clear. A pin a day is a groat a year; save and have."

And that last bit of philosophy today must be the common, ordinary American answer to Franklin's great question, "What good may I do in the world?" "A penny saved is two pence clear; save and have."

An Exponent of Thrift. He proved the identity of electricity and lightning—before he drew the lightning out of the cloud by means of a kite. People thought they were different things. He spoke, and the philosophers listened—and he invented the Franklin stove so as to economize fuel. He is the great apostle of War-Savings Stamps. "He that spends a great day idly," says Franklin, "spends idly above six pounds a year, which is the price of using a hundred pounds."

Franklin is in a large degree the founder of the American army. The troops of which George Washington took command in 1775 had no supplies, were almost naked, and were starving. Franklin was a leader in devising plans for feeding, sheltering and clothing the army—just as, if he were with us the times for the easy-going over-in this country. The world needs everything we can have. Everywhere is nakedness, hunger, and lack of shelter. "Silks and satins," said Franklin, "put out the kitchen fire." They stand for the things which make it hard to win the rest of the war. "A fat kitchen, a lean will," said Franklin, and we may say "A fat kitchen a lean treasury."

I wish we had Franklin for a leader now—but why can't we make him our leader? He is as real to us as if he lived in Washington today. Follow his teaching. Save and have. The government must have your savings. If you save and buy interest-bearing securities of the government, you will be prouder of your government, you will feel more interest in your government—and your government will pay you interest every year.

"Save and have"—and win the rest of the war!

HOLD LIBERTY BONDS—DO NOT SELL BELOW PAR

Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass Warns Public Against Unscrupulous Persons.

My attention has been directed to the activities of unscrupulous persons who have been operating extensively throughout the country and who are swindling the owners of Liberty Bonds by purchasing bonds at prices far below their actual worth.

These swindlers get the attention of Liberty Bond owners by publishing advertisements calculated to make the unsuspecting bond owner believe that the highest market price can be secured for his bonds through the agency of the advertiser. Such is rarely, if ever, the case. Records of transactions of this character, brought to the attention of the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department, prove conclusively that these swindlers take every advantage of bond owners who are forced into their clutches by paying the lowest possible price which the owner will accept—and generally far below the actual value of the bonds.

I regret to observe that many reputable newspapers are being victimized by accepting the advertisement of these swindlers, and I appeal to all newspaper publishers to scrutinize very carefully the character of individuals who use their columns to offer to buy Liberty Bonds. As a newspaper publisher, I believe that it is the duty of publishers to protect their readers against unscrupulous advertisers.

Other swindlers endeavor to trade worthless articles or securities of little value for Liberty Bonds, and I appeal to patriotic publishers to assist in putting an end to this practice.

The Treasury Department will take such steps as are possible under the law to protect the interests of holders of Liberty Bonds, and will use every means at its command to bring to justice all who seek to defraud the people who have so patriotically assisted in winning the war by investing their savings in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps.

Owners of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps should in no circumstances part with these securities unless necessity compels, and then they should deal only with reliable banks, trust companies, banking institutions and others whose reputation for integrity is beyond question. If it is necessary to sell Liberty Bonds the highest market value should be received.

The Treasury Department will welcome information concerning —Mr. Herman Bryant, of Washington, visited his parents here this week.

—Mrs. Bessie Crouch, of Alexandria, is visiting her cousin, Mr. A. J. Beavers.

—Miss Minnie Bryant, daughter of Mr. George Bryant, is a victim of the "flu."

—Miss Sarah Edmonds and Miss Julia Thomas were Sunday guests of Mrs. W. R. Akers.

—Mr. D. B. Muddiman has returned to Philadelphia, after having spent several days here visiting his family.

—Mr. Frank M. Grossman, a former resident of Manassas, but now of Philadelphia, was in town on Monday and Tuesday on a business trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Breeden and little son, of Ballston, Va., were the guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Breeden, this week.

—The Rev. Barnett Grimley has been confined to his home this week by the "flu." His indisposition, however, did not develop sufficiently to make him stay in bed.

—Mrs. E. L. Woodward, of The Plains, who was here assisting in caring for the "flu" sick in the family of Rev. and Mrs. A. Stuart Gibson, at the rectory, has returned home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Glascock and Mr. Howard O. Akers, of Washington, and Mr. Paul L. Akers, of Alexandria, spent a few days with their mother, Mrs. M. E. Akers, during last week.

—Elizabeth Clothier Lewis, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lewis, who suffered an attack of influenza early in October, is critically ill. No hopes are entertained of her recovery.

—Rev. H. Q. Burr preached at Buckhall on Sunday afternoon. During the services he received into the membership of the church six persons on profession of faith, one of whom was 83 years old.

—Rev. A. Stuart Gibson left yesterday morning, accompanied by his daughter, Eleanor, for The Plains, where the latter will remain with her aunt, Mrs. E. L. Woodward. Mr. Gibson returned last night.

—A cable has just come to Mrs. Ballantyne Patterson from her son, Major Fred Patterson, in France, stating his condition is "very satisfactory," but he is still in the hospital, where he has been since September.

—Mr. Robert Pence, formerly with Mr. B. C. Cornwell, spent Tuesday night in town with his brother, Rev. E. Z. Pence. Mr. Pence is a tractor salesman for the International Harvester Co. He reports five tractors sold last week.

—Mr. C. M. Larkin will renew the flour and feed business at his old place on Centre street, west of the block mill, about the first of March. He will not grind grain at present, but he expects to add that feature to the business as soon as he secures the necessary machinery.

—Mr. Hezekiah Reid, of Hoadley, who was appointed by the court as a member of the electoral board of the county of Prince William on the 3rd of February, such being the law, is unable to perform his duties on account of his indisposition. He is now in the hospital, where he is receiving medical attention.

—Mrs. Mabel Greene of Washington, was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Payne on West street.

—Mrs. Catherine Langyher, of Bristow, widow of the late Stoddard Langyher, died on Wednesday night, Feb. 5, of pneumonia, in the 67th year of her age.

—Little Anne Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Davies, was taken on Wednesday morning to Washington, where she is to be under the care of a specialist, Dr. A. B. Bennett, at the Farragut Apartments. She is suffering from some trouble in one ear, and it was thought best to have specialist advice in the case.

—A Correction.—The Journal regrets that in publishing the names of the Randall family who suffered such heavy losses from the fire which destroyed their home on February 2, the names of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Randall were overlooked. We are glad to learn that the pressing needs of this worthy family are being relieved.

—Mrs. L. B. Williams' mother, Mrs. Lucy Cornelius, of Siloam, N. C., is seriously ill, at the former's home here, having suffered a second stroke of apoplexy on last Monday. Her first stroke came last Wednesday two weeks ago. Last week Mrs. Cornelius' son, Mr. E. O. Cornelius, came on from Winston, N. C., to see his mother.

—A little son was born to Private and Mrs. William J. Smith Wednesday, Feb. 12. Mrs. Smith will be remembered before her marriage, the 13th of last April, as Miss Stuart Muddiman, youngest daughter of Mr. Jos. Muddiman, with whom she is making her home during the absence of Private Smith, who is with the 69th C. A. C. in France.

—Mrs. L. A. Pine had a flying visit last Friday evening from her grandson, Capt. D. Andrew Pine, of Washington, D. C., son of the late Mr. David Emory Pine, who spent his first school and boyhood days in this place. Capt. Pine has lately been discharged from the army. He is a lawyer and is expecting to take up his profession somewhere, perhaps in the far south. He also called on his cousin, Mrs. A. A. Hough.

—Lieut. Lyman Patterson, of Bolling Field, Anacostia, D. C., spent Sunday in Manassas at Robley Cottage, visiting his mother, Mrs. Ballantyne Patterson, and aunt and uncle, Prof. and Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge. Lieut. Patterson has been detailed officer in charge of field and hangars. Also he serves in the capacity of aeronautical information officer. Prior to these responsibilities he was assistant officer in charge of flying.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beavers, of Manassas, received a living valentine this morning at five o'clock. It was rather an early hour for even such a loving token, but they gave it a cordial welcome, since it was in the form of a nine pound boy. His full name has been given already, it being James Andrew Jackson, the latter two words being inherited from his father. Both mother and son are doing nicely, the justly proud father informs us.

—Mr. John Shouitez, of Coles district, near Hoadley, died Sunday night at 8 o'clock, of influenza, aged about 50. All the family had the disease, but the rest of the family are recovering, while his case was fatal. Mr. Shouitez was of foreign birth, a Hungarian, but he has spent about ten years in this county, five years at Dumfries and five years near Hoadley. The Catholic priest was unable to be present and no services were held. The interment was at the Catholic cemetery.

MRS. M. E. WELCH DIES IN WASHINGTON

Mrs. Mary E. Welch, sixty-four, widow of W. Welch, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret E. Jeffries, 656, K street, northeast, Washington. The deceased was stricken with paralysis last January. Mrs. Welch for seven years made her home in this city. She was born near Warrenton, Va.

Two daughters and two sons are living, Mrs. J. W. Hewitt, 114 North Patrick street, this city; Mrs. Margaret F. Jeffries, Washington; Thos. H. and Charles D. Welch, of 921 King street.

Her funeral will take place from her daughter's residence in Washington and burial will be in Manassas, Va., at 11 o'clock Friday morning.—Alexandria Gazette.

Succumbs at Home of Daughter in Dumfries February 4th.

Mrs. Sarah V. Clark, wife of the late Thomas B. Clark, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Rison, of Dumfries, on February 4th, in the 63rd year of her age. She had been ill for several days with pneumonia.

She was born December 15, 1856, at Falmouth, Stafford county, Va., and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll.

Mrs. Clark is survived by four sons and three daughters—S. R. Clark, Waterfall, Va.; A. W. Clark, Pittsburg, Pa.; G. C. Clark, Cherry Hill, Va.; J. C. Clark, Dumfries, Va.; Mrs. J. W. Rison, Dumfries, Va.; Mrs. John O'Neal, Cherry Hill, and Miss Clara Clark, Dumfries, Va.

The services were conducted by Revs. Beard, of Dumfries, and H. L. Hough, of Fredericksburg. The interment was in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Arkwright—Giddings Engagement

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Arkwright and Capt. Glenville Giddings, medical branch, U. S. A., recently announced in Atlanta, Ga., by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright, is of more than ordinary interest in Washington, where Miss Arkwright has frequently visited and where she has a host of friends. She has been the guest here of her uncle and aunt, Gen. and Mrs. William L. Marshall, and of her cousins, Capt. and Mrs. John Harrison Knapp.

The wedding will take place in April at Pinebloom, the Druid Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Arkwright.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Launched at High School Assembly This Morning.

The Lanier Society had charge of the program at the assembly this morning. The Lord's Prayer was recited in concert. Miss Elizabeth Johnson read the scripture lesson. Miss Osbourn explained the occasion of the assembly, the launching of the health campaign and introduced Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, who spoke on the work of our county in the drive. The state has offered a medal to high school students for essays on this subject. A series of papers were read by members of the household science classes; Miss Elizabeth Pope, "The Care of the Teeth." Miss Lillian Hutchison, "The Necessity of Fresh Air," and Miss Elizabeth Burr, "Personal Hygiene."

"The Marseillaise" was sung by the school.

Mr. Sanders asked everybody to come out and root for the home team at the basketball game tonight. Manassas will play both the boys' and girls' teams of Warrenton high school at 8 p. m., at Conner's Hall. We are sure of a good game and we expect to win.

The subject of a Student's Governing Council, to be appointed from each class was introduced and discussed. The school voted unanimously for its adoption, and the high school hopes to have this plan of co-operation between teachers and students introduced this session. The assembly closed with the singing of "America."

KNITS SOCKS THOUGH 96

Mrs. Martha Payne Gets Letter From Soldier Receiving Them.

The following letter was sent to Mrs. Martha Payne, of Clifton, from a soldier in France, who had received from her a pair of socks, which she had knit.

Mrs. Mostyn, chairman of the Clifton Branch of the American Red Cross, thought that the soldier receiving the socks, should know the age of the lady who had knit them, as it was so wonderful that Mrs. Payne should knit such a nice pair of socks at her advanced age.

France, 11-17-18.

To the Kind Mrs. Payne: Received a pair of dandy knitted socks a short time ago from the Red Cross and enclosed found your note. You can't imagine how much we boys appreciate what the Red Cross has done for us over here and back in the states.

I would have acknowledged the socks before, but this is the first chance I have had; but I kept your note safe till now, so that I could show you that we appreciate favors done us by the good people at home.

There are times when we feel lonesome and blue, but kind acts like yours do lots to cheer us up, when we see we are not entirely forgotten by the good people back in the U. S. A.

Will close for now, wishing you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and thanking you many times for your kindness. I beg to remain,

Sincerely, Corp. PAUL E. MILLER, Bat. C, 5th Art., C. A. C., American Ex. Force, France.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE

To Raise $1,000,000—Prince William's Quota Only $100.

The Young Women's Christian Association is planning to raise $1,000,000 throughout the nation in a drive beginning now and ending February 22. Prince William county has been asked to give $100 of Virginia's quota of $16,500, the committee in charge of the campaign being as follows:

- Chairman, Miss Mary Larkin, Manassas, and six sub-chairmen, Mrs. A. A. Hooff, Manassas; Mrs. J. W. Caston, Gainesville; Mrs. C. W. Mark, Nokesville; Mrs. J. A. Hill, Cobles district; Mrs. William Crow, Joplin, and Miss Lulu Reynolds, Agnewville.

The drive in the south has been called the Blue Triangle Investment Campaign, every dollar contributed being an investment in the young womanhood of America. All of the money raised is to go for field and national support, in adjusting new situations created by the war, for work among the girls in big cities and the 5,000,000 town and country girls who need leadership and encouragement, in order to face the new tasks that lie before them.

Some idea of the appeals made to "the blue triangle" may be had when it is stated that the National Board today is being urged:

- (1) To extend its work in Utah. (2) To offer its protection, especially in the way of recreation and housing, to the movie film girls engaged at Hollywood.

the forty-two races in Mexico, where the conditions among the people in some communities are almost unspeakable. To assist frail girls and women who have gone to Arizona in the hope of regaining health.

(5) To protect the girls of the Mexican border from the temptations which beset those in the neighborhood of military posts. The $15,000,000 allotted to the Y. W. C. A. from the United War Work Campaign, collected for "emergency war work," is handled by a government committee and is to be expended only for the purposes for which it was collected.

BOY SCOUT SERMON

Other Exercises by Representative Members of the Troop.

The Boy Scouts of Manassas and vicinity attended Grace Methodist Church last Sunday and heard a sermon by the pastor, Rev. H. Q. Burr. This was the ninth anniversary of the organization of the Boy Scouts, the idea having originated nine years ago in England with Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell, because of experience in the Boer war.

The service last Sunday consisted, besides the sermon, of the reading of the Scout oath and laws by Scout Charles Lawson; a brief review of the Boy Scout movement in other countries by Scout Marvin Rice, and a solo, "Song to the Flag," by Miss Sarah Leachman, at the close of which the scouts arose in a body and joined with the soloist in singing "Three Cheers to the Red, White and Blue."

Rev. Mr. Burr chose as his text Ec. 12:13. His theme was "The Supreme Duty of Man." He emphasized the fact that the author of the text was well qualified to express himself as he did in the declaration of the text. The importance of the scout laws was referred to at some length, but the speaker said they would not have been full or complete if the last one had been omitted, "reverence to God, and strict attention to religious duties." All the others refer to works which, while important, do not constitute the supreme duty of man.

The scouts were congratulated for the work done in helping Liberty Bonds, and War Savings Stamps, etc., and said the speaker: "You have not received the recognition by the public that you should have received." Rev. Mr. Burr said further: "I am sure that organizations in all of which there are some who maintain that if one lives up to his lodge obligations, this is all that is required of him, but," said he, "there is not anything that will take the place of repentance towards God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ."

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Last Week's Program on Armenian-Syrian Relief Work.

The regular high school assembly was held last Friday morning in the assembly room of the high school. The Browning Literary Society had charge of the program and its president, Miss Emily Round, presided. The assembly was held in the interest of the Armenian-Syrian Relief work. The program consisted of readings and talks on the Jews. A reading, "The Destruction of Jerusalem," was given by Miss Beulah Whitmer. "Jerusalem the Golden" was sung by the school. The Rev. A. Stuart Gibson was the principal speaker of the morning. Mr. Gibson explained to the students why the people of Palestine are of interest to the world.

The domestic science classes served soup and sandwiches at the noon recess. A sum of ten dollars was realized for the campaign. The third and fourth years are planning an entertainment for the same work.

M. H. S. IN BASKETBALL

Local Boys Defeated by Richmond High—Score 12-36.

An interesting basket ball game was played in Conner's Hall on Feb. 7, between the John Marshall High School and Manassas High School basket ball teams. The John Marshall boys have probably the strongest high school team in the state this year and our boys were outclassed. The game was exceedingly fast and clean and was enjoyed by all. The local boys will again meet this team in Richmond sometime in March.

The boys' game was followed by a girls' game, one team composed of high school players and the other a combination of alumnae, town and high school players. The game was won by the former team by a score of 26-19.

Mr. Lester Henry, of Eastern College, refereed the boys' game and Ralph Larson the girls' game.

The local team will meet the Warrenton high school team to night in Conner's Hall.

KIRK C. MILLER WRITES OF CHRISTMAS DINNER

Popular News Correspondent Tells of Holiday Feast in French Chateau.

Copied from the Washington Star by request of Mr. Kirk C. Miller's friends "over here." Mr. Miller is well known and popular in this vicinity. He was on the staff of the Washington Star, for which he wrote, at the time he answered the nation's call, and those who followed his "Other Angle" will be glad to hear something of him from "Over There" through these columns.

Jours, France, Christmas day, 1918.—Christmas dinner in a chateau! That is what happened to a certain battery of field artillery which had eaten its last half dozen Christmas dinners in its steam-heated barracks at Fort Myer, Va., and long before that one or two in Cuba and so on back in the history of the outfit until the memory of its present personnel "runneth not to the contrary." But to the oldest wagoner in this battery none had ever recalled lurching on a Christmas day in a chateau, which had been chateausing in the very same spot since some time back in the late fifteen hundreds. And to the embryo defenders of democracy a Christmas meal in the Army alone was an adventure and a novelty, to say nothing of dining on that festive day among so aged surroundings, where royal families once drank to the future of France.

The Chateau de Cote d'Or is geographically located at Jours, France, and Jours is not indicated on even the most unbridged maps of this now-juggled land. So the loved ones at home who attempt to locate their loved ones in France at Jours might as easily try to locate a statue of Jeanne d'Arc beyond the Rhine-land.

Irish Mess Sergeant's Feast. It takes an Irish mess sergeant with a reputation of three hitches, as a Regular Army cook to defend, and with many honorary scholarships and subsequent degrees in the art of tossing out the best Irish stew ever concocted in a rolling kitchen, to make Christmas dinner in an honest-to-goodness chateau do justice to the imperial and immediate surroundings and to the A. E. F. It also takes an Irishman's stubborn determination and his most expert culinary skill to make an army bake-pan of braised beefs and ozing liquor thereof smell as welcome to a complement of husky artillerymen on Christmas day as the fattest turkey ever raised for White House consumption—but that very coup was perpetrated not so very long ago at the Chateau de Cote d'Or. Long may she wave!

Said chateau raises its spires and steeples and corner copolas and dormer windows amid the atmosphere of Jours quite nobly today, even as it did when knighthood was in flower and when Romeos still played stringed music beneath the bed chambers of France's fairest Juliets. Said chateau continues to cast its shimmering reflection in the artificial lakes and water courses below, and remnants of the landscape gardener's deft co-operation with nature are still discernible. Every window pane in said chateau has been absent without leave for perhaps two centuries, and ever and anon at evening a motley fow of doves coo and preen from its tallest gables. Mid these environments and beneath the mossed roof of this stone relic of chivalrous France, several hundred American artillerymen who are homeward bound, ate their Christmas dinner. If they had any doubts as to the viability, American-made good humor, than on December 25 last, then the ancient patrons of this country seat of the fifteenth century must have dealt with unusual vocal facilities.

Scene of Repast Decorated. On its uppermost floor, just below the heaviest hand-hewn beams disguised by extravagant art decorations in plaster, the scene of this Yuletide repast was set. Two improvised tables builded of packing boxes were set the entire length of the former cotillon rooms, and tarpaper, American made, substituted for linen to hide the rough exterior and patchwork of the pontoon tables. High, open fireplaces designed to accommodate five-foot logs reflected their cheerful blaze at either end of the banquet place, and from the rafters above hung chains of cedar, pine and mistletoe. Can you beat it? All in a regular chateau, too, that hadn't sheltered a Christmas observance since men stopped wearing velvet knickerbockers and white lace around their cuffs.

The menu was no more less pretentious than the decorative scheme. In the good old days back on the Maryland farm, folks despised canned pumpkin, but it's marvelous what an Irish mess non-com. can do with a tin of the stuff and enough ingredients for a good pie crust. Dried apples under the same supervision can be made to blossom into the rarest sort of pastry, the opinions of our best maitre de notes notwithstanding.

That savory braised beef with its attending sauce; mashed pom de terre; a wonderful cream of carrots; peas that would stay on your knife; corn sans cob, and cafe au lait completed the table "hostilities," but there were enough extras stacked beside each place to provide chaf maneuvers and stomach complaints, until the customary holiday perogee was over. They embraced such substantial as chocolate dauphin, the kind we once bought for two bits in America; one cigar, born in Havana; a package of cigarettes bearing the postmark of a famous Virginia tobacco section, and another pack alleged to have emanated from Egypt, but smelling more like Newark, N. J.; a liberal ration of eating tobacco, chewing gum and a stick of candy.

Box From "Folks at Home." Then there was the Christmas box "From the Folks at Home," sent through the Y. M. C. A. How they ever located these stalwart artillerymen in secluded Jours beats the Dutch—which, by the way, the "Y" helped materially in doing! There were no speeches by prearrangement, and even the top sergeant, who was eating his twenty-sixth Christmas dinner in the Army, was obdurate in this regard. A trio of cheers was given for him and for the cook and for the "old man." Every one calls him the "old man," and this artillery captain was just twenty-two.

But isn't it marvelous what the capacity of the regulation mess kit really is?

You said it!

All our dead Heroes Who are lying still...

Lee of the noble face, Steadfast and brave, And the iron whose hands...

All our dead Heroes Who on land or sea Have paid the high price...

"We," say I? Ah, not so! Who—who are these Who have so lately faced...

These are the ones who went O'er the sea's foam, And 'e'en with coming Peace...

Now low on bended knee, This prayer he prayed! Come now each spirit high...

Steady each trembling hand, Each vision clear! Banish the spectres dim...

Give us the strength to climb You slippery steep, Leading the way for those...

All our dead Heroes, Humbly we bow Before your unseen power...

IN MEMORIAM In sad but loving remembrance of my dear sister, Bertie Evelyn Cornwell...

Our hearts are sad and lonely, Our grief too deep to tell, But time will come when we will meet...

She has gone from us forever, Longer here she could not stay, She has reached a fairer region...

Often we think of the graveyard, Where we placed the flowers with gentle care,

She has gone, but was so young and fair, Her slumbers sweet, but knows no care,

STATE CONFERENCE DISTRICT SCHOOL TRUSTEES

to be held in Richmond on February 27th.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 10.—Governor Westmoreland Davis announced today that he was inviting all the local district school trustees of Virginia to meet with him in a joint conference at Richmond on Thursday, February 27, for the purpose of discussing the needs of the elementary schools of the state which, he says, are responsible for the future of more than 500,000 of our children.

In his letter of invitation to attend the conference, which he is sending to each district school trustee throughout the state, Governor Davis says that "In my inaugural address, a year ago, I stated that the chief business of democracy is education; that the institutions of higher education should not flourish at the expense of our primary schools; and that I would not rest content until a full term is secured for all the primary schools, and competent adequately paid teachers lead the children in their early years to that first knowledge which is the chief boon and safeguard of democracy."

"You can help me fulfill this pledge by coming to this conference and speaking frankly from your personal experience about the needs of your own district and what you think ought to be done to improve our elementary schools, both by the state and the respective local boards."

It is planned for the conference to meet in the hall of the house of delegates at the capitol on the 27th in two sessions; the morning session beginning at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon session at 3 o'clock. It is understood that such questions as compulsory education; training, selection and pay of teachers; location of school buildings; student health; dependence of public schools on good roads and adequate transportation facilities; relation of the state government to local school development and administration, and the question of a constructive legislative school program for Virginia will be placed before the conference for discussion by Governor Davis. In view of the vital importance of the questions to come before this meeting, a large attendance from all parts of the state is expected.

IN MEMORIAM Among those of whom the "flu" has robbed us there are few whose taking away will leave so wide and deep a sense of personal loss as that of Roma R. Hayes, of Smithfield.

To a naturally genial, happy disposition was added the virtues of Christian living, and, like the Master he served, he went about doing good.

A true, Christian worker, he gave his personal and financial help to every good work. Church, Sunday School, League, neighborhood and all who knew him, will feel his loss.

He always had some aged person in his home, giving them the kind consideration of a son. His heart was that of a father toward all young and many have been led to a Christian life by his kindly precepts and example. He made himself their comrade and was happy in their sports and pleasures, taking joy in giving joy.

They all lovingly called him "Uncle Roma," and his memory will ever live deep in their hearts.

He loved God and loved his neighbor as himself, always giving a helping hand to the last. His last hours were full of kindly thoughts for others and he cheerfully awaited the coming of the Messenger.

HOTEL BARBER SHOP I am again at my old stand in the New Prince William Hotel and will be glad to serve my former patrons. Everything sanitary and antiseptic. Courteous attention and service accorded every one.

Respectfully, CHAS. E. HARRIS, Manassas, Va.

The Journal—$1.00 a year—

Those who are thoughtful have concluded that something more than chance is behind the remarkable popularity of Royster's fertilizers.

Those who have investigated, find neither chance nor magic, but simply common-sense appreciation of values.

Those who are prudent are placing their orders now and insisting on being supplied with
