

PROHIBITION OFFICERS TRIED AT MANASSAS

Prisoners to Appear Before Judge Brent on May 20th to Renew Bonds.

The following is copied from the Daily Independent, of Harroburg, Va., of Tuesday, May 14th: W. C. Hall, H. F. Sweet, W. B. Dunbar and J. A. Sullivan, the four prohibition officers who shot and killed on the morning of March 29 at Fishers Hill Raymond Shackelford and L. D. Hudson, alleged bootleggers, were yesterday afternoon indicted on two counts each by a Shenandoah county jury at Woodstock and the men will be tried by a Prince William county jury at Manassas probably in June, a change of venue having been asked for and granted by Judge Frank B. Whiting after the men had been indicted.

Just before the grand jury passed on the case Walton & Walton for the prisoners, who are now under $10,000 bond for their appearance, but who were not present yesterday, asked that a change of venue be issued. This was refused by Judge Frank B. Whiting, Judge of the court. Following the indictment of the four men, attorneys for those stated that under the statute the prisoners were entitled to a change of venue as to persons had been ordered there by the Governor when their preliminary trial was held.

Commonwealth's Attorney Clayton Williams argued strongly that there was absolutely no danger of trouble should the men be tried there; that there was no feeling against them and that they could get as fair a trial in Woodstock as at any place in the state. No public demonstration had been made against the men and but few incendiary utterances, and these were made by persons who were not a part of a man to influence public opinion. Judge Whiting then stated that he would grant the change of venue and asked the attorneys for each side to come to some agreement as to where the case should be tried. A number of places were named by each side and finally the town of Manassas in Prince William county, was selected, the trial to be held there possibly at the June term. Among the places suggested for trial were Berryville, Luray, Alexandria, Orange and Manassas, the latter finally being agreed upon by the judge and both sides.

The prisoners will be required to appear before Judge Brent in Prince William court on May 20 when their bonds of $10,000 each will be renewed. Rev. J. Sidney Peters, State prohibition commissioner, and Attorney Louis O. Wendenburg, of Richmond, stated that they would renew the bonds at that time.

It was stated at Woodstock yesterday that the next term of the Prince William court will convene on the first Monday in June and that before the session opens the men will be tried.

The costs of the witnesses and of trying the case will be paid by the commonwealth. The attorneys for the prisoners stated yesterday that it was likely that the case would be tried at Woodstock, there being two indictments against each of the four men thus making eight separate trials.

Appearing yesterday for the prohibition officers were Louis O. Wendenburg, E. B. Dunford and Walton A. Burton, while the commonwealth was represented by Commonwealth Attorney Clayton Williams, Joseph Bauserman and Frank J. Shuckback, all of Woodstock. It has been stated that the relations of the two men filed by the prosecutors will employ additional persons to assist in the prosecution. An indication of the development at Woodstock yesterday was that Commissioner Peters was present in court yesterday at Woodstock. Shackelford and Hudson, it is believed, were endeavoring to escape in their hired automobile. Inquiries are being made by the State regarding the whiskey

CHRISTINE DROWNE WON

County Health Catechism Contest Held Saturday, May 18.

Although Saturday was a very bad day, and the roads in a fearful condition, fifty per cent. of the girls and boys who were expected to take part in the contest were present; this being the case the contest was held. A telegram was received from Dr. Williams Friday, saying that it was impossible for either him or Dr. Flannigan to get to Manassas to hold the examination, so Dr. Simpson was drafted into service.

The girls and boys reporting Saturday were: Samuel Harley, Cannon Branch school; Pearl Griggs, Nokesville; Christine Drowne and Nellie Armel, Haymarket; Bessie Jeffries, Catharpin; George Brockett, Agnewville, Bethel school.

At 11:30 a. m. Dr. Simpson began an oral examination, which lasted a little over three hours. During this time not one of the six present missed a single question. The doctor changed many and after finding that he could not stump the children although he had exhausted the State Catechism of 371 questions sent for the county agent and asked what to do next. It was finally decided that a short written test be given. The answer given by the winner is given:

The filth-borne diseases are typhoid fever, dysentery, hookworm, many diarrhoeas, other intestinal worms.

Typhoid fever is caused by a germ that gets into the intestines through the mouth and nose. When the germs get into the intestines they make small ulcers and send out a poison through the body. It is spread by food, drinks, dirty fingers and other things that may have germs on them which get into the mouth.

Flies have a great deal to do with spreading typhoid. They walk on dirty things that have typhoid germs on them, then they walk on food and other things that people eat. The only way that the germs can get out of the body is through the bowel discharges of the body.

Open wells may have typhoid germs in them. The surface water washes in from the top. The people drink the water then get sick. All wells should be cemented up and have pumps. When people use ropes and buckets the germs are liable to get into the water from the hands of the person who is getting it.

To prevent typhoid fever all the bowel discharges of persons who have it should be disinfected and then buried where they cannot get into any water supply. Every case of typhoid fever should be quarantined. If this is not done other persons may get it. The bed clothing and clothes of a typhoid patient should be put where other people cannot get to them, and then be disinfected. The best way to prevent typhoid fever is to be vaccinated. This will not always prevent it, but it will reduce the danger. The vaccination should be taken three times, ten days apart. It will protect a person for three years, then one should be vaccinated again.

About one person out of ten who have typhoid fever die of it. Those who do not die have a great loss of time and money.

HON. R. WALTON MOORE TO SPEAK MONDAY NIGHT

Will Address Meeting of Red Cross Chapter at Baptist Church Monday Night.—Dr. Flannigan Will Also Be Present.

Hon. R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, and Dr. E. L. Flannigan will address a meeting of the Red Cross Chapter at the Baptist church next Monday night in the interest of Prince William's County Health Campaign.

Dr. Flannigan, who has been conducting the health campaign in Fairfax, will tell of what has been done in that county where the work is being carried through on a great scale, $11,000 having been raised for that purpose. Mr. Moore will explain how this money has been raised, partly through the efforts of the various organizations in the county and partly through a large amount being secured from the International Health Board, formerly the Rockefeller Foundation.

Mr. Moore is deeply interested in this work and has promised to cooperate in any effort that the people may make to conduct the campaign in Prince William on a larger scale than at first contemplated.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Monday night, May 19th.

RED CROSS MEETINGS

Special Gatherings to Hear Prominent Speakers.

Two special Red Cross assemblies were held during the past week, one on Friday night and the other on Wednesday night.

That of Friday was in the form of an "Open House," as the chapter inaugurated activities at the new headquarters in the M. I. C. building. Friends came to see the new home.

With Mr. Geo. G. Tyler, president, presiding, the exercises opened with the singing of "America."

Representing the Bureau of Home Service Education, Potomac Division, Miss Ruth M. Jones gave an address, emphasizing the service badges given to persons, who had spent 800, 1600 or 2400 hours in the volunteer home service of the society. Few ladies had kept any record of the time employed by them, during or after the war, in Red Cross work, so that it will be difficult to calculate as to who has labored enough to be given the 2400, the 1600 or even the 800 hours' service badges. An effort will be made, however, and possibly some of our local ladies will be wearing these emblems of long-continued helpfulness.

There happened to be in town that night, Sergt. H. R. Bridges, who had spent eighteen months in France. He paid a glowing tribute to the Red Cross and its associate organization, the Salvation Army, for their ministrations to the wounded and the fighting soldiers on the battle front.

Hon. C. J. Meetze, who was present at the celebration, was called on. He gave a history of the varied interests that had had representation in the room now occupied by the Red Cross society.

Following the addresses, refreshments were served, not by the society, although it is a philanthropic enterprise, but for the society, in order to raise a few dollars for the cause and let sociability, which is promoted by eating together, have its influence among the members and visitors. The receipts were $8.80, only a part of which will be net profit.

Rain prevented a larger attendance and even kept some of the engaged talent from being present, but the occasion was a very pleasant and helpful one to those not afraid of a shower.

A special meeting was again arranged for Wednesday night, in order to hear Mrs. Toplitz, recently returned from France, who is visiting the Potomac Division Chapter. The meeting was held at the Baptist Church, the other congregations having suspended their prayer meetings. Mr. Geo. G. Tyler, president.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Qualifications of Electors Voting for Congressman.

In view of the fact that a special election will be held in the Eighth Virginia Congressional District on May 27th, for the purpose of electing Hon. C. C. Carlin's successor in Congress, it will, no doubt, be of especial interest to the voters of this county to know just who will be entitled to vote in this special election.

Section 62, Pollard's Code of Virginia, Vol. 3, page 19, provides:

"Every male citizen of the United States twenty-one years old, who has been a resident of the state for two years, of the county, city or town one year, and of the precinct in which he offers to vote thirty days next preceding the election, and who has been duly registered and has paid his state poll tax, as required by law, and is otherwise qualified under the Constitution and laws of this state, shall be entitled to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elected by the people, but the removal from one precinct to another in the same county, city or town shall not deprive any person of his right to vote in the precinct from which he has removed until the expiration of thirty days from such removal."

The qualification of voters at any special election or any local option election shall be such as are hereinafter prescribed for voters at general elections; provided that at any special or local option election held on or before the second Tuesday in June in any year any person shall be qualified to vote who is otherwise qualified and has personally paid at least six months prior to the second Tuesday in June of that year all state poll taxes assessed or assessable against him during the three years next preceding that in which such special or local option election is held; and, provided that at any such special or local option election held after the second Tuesday in June in any year any person shall be qualified to vote who is, or was, qualified to vote at the regular election held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year."

The election that will be held on May 27th, being a special election and held before the second Tuesday in June, the 1916, 1917 and 1918 poll taxes must have been paid; and payment of the 1918 poll tax must have taken place six months prior to the second Tuesday in June, or on or before December 10th last, to entitle a voter to cast his ballot in such special election.

—Mrs. W. R. Akers and little daughter, Ruth, are visiting relatives and friends in Alexandria and Washington.

FIRE AT EASTERN

Dr. Roop Sends Check to Fire Chief for Help Rendered.

The boys' dormitory at Eastern College was threatened with destruction last Friday afternoon, about 4:30, overheated pipes having started a stubborn fire in the boiler room. The Manassas fire company quickly responded to the fire alarm and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before much damage was done to the building. The damage suffered is covered by insurance.

Fire Chief Albert Speiden has received the following communication from Dr. Hervin U. Roop, President of Eastern College:

"In the name of Eastern College, I desire to thank you for your valiant service last Friday. Your help saved the boys' dormitory. Enclosed find my check for twenty-five dollars as a slight token of appreciation."

THE SALVATION ARMY

BOMB SERVICE DRIVE

$12,000,000 for Nation—$500,000 for Virginia—$800 for Prince William County.

Once more the people of Prince William county are asked to subscribe to a national fund for charity—for charity in the highest sense. For home missions would be a better term.

In making this appeal as chairman of the campaign in our county, it is done with the assurance that it is made to the friends of charity. This was proven by the remarkable response of Prince William to the Armenian and Syrian Relief appeal. Upon first thought we may all say our hands are full with the larger demands in the New Era, Centenary and other movements of our churches. But think again. The quota asked of our county is but a small fraction of the demands mentioned above. And charity begins at home. The greater part of this fund asked of the American people for the Salvation Army will be spent in America, a budget based on a careful estimate of the actual needs of this great organization, which at last has come into a just and well earned but long delayed popularity.

For a generation they have quietly gone ahead with their works of mercy and faith, largely unappreciated by the public and by the church. But the remarkable services these people rendered in the war zones of Europe have challenged the admiration of the world and opened the eyes of America to an appreciation of the Salvation Army, accorded to them in Great Britain long ago.

After a little study and thought we will not be surprised at the remarkable exhibition of courage and self sacrifice shown by these people in their service at the front. The same spirit that pushed them on into the front line trenches, men and women and often under fire, with the doughnuts, coffee, cigarettes, etc., is the same spirit that has always actuated their work in the slums of the great cities where they meet the enemies of righteousness in the front of the battle.

It is said the Salvation Army does a work the churches cannot do. If this is true, should not the church see to it that this organization is supplied with funds with which to do that work, and supplied in such a way as to cut out the great waste of time and energy imposed by the old method of begging by pennies and nickels the means of carrying on their work? These people are trained for more important work than collecting money in the old wasteful way.

The Salvation Army now asks the American people to consider and act upon a better way to supply them with the munitions of war on evil, and thus save to them for better service the fifty per cent of their time wasted in the old way.

And what do they propose to do with their increased efficiency? Listen to the words of their great commander, Evangeline Booth, whom I had the great pleasure of hearing in a wonderful address delivered to an audience of 4,500 people last Sunday at the City Auditorium in Richmond.

"We are going to reach farther into the dark alleys. We are going still deeper into the slums. We are going to provide more fresh milk for starving babies. We are going to throw a longer and a stronger arm around more young women who take a misstep. We are going to do more prison rescue work. We are going to expand our nurseries and take more stunted children out of the fetid slums in summer to our Fresh-Air Camps. We are going right on preaching the simple Word of God, talking about the wonderful salvation of Jesus Christ."

Miss Booth said she had received letters from Marshal Foch and General Pershing thanking her for the wonderful work of the Salvation Army in France.

In the name of the Salvation Army, the train...

PROHIBITION OFFICERS' TRIAL AT MANASSAS

(Continued from page one.) from Baltimore to the Petersburg section. Shackelford and Hudson were the first men accused of violating the liquor laws to be shot and killed in Virginia since the state-wide prohibition act went into effect. Both men died in Winchester. For several weeks following the shooting feeling was at a high pitch in this section of the Shenandoah Valley, and many "took sides" one way or the other. Hostile demonstrations were staged in Winchester against State Prohibition Commissioner Peters and his men, and when the inspectors were arraigned for a preliminary hearing at Woodstock troops were called from Richmond to guard the jail and courthouse. The accused men were removed to the Fredericksburg jail for safe keeping and were later admitted to bail by Judge Prentiss, president of the Supreme Court of Appeals, for the appearance at Woodstock on May 13. This is said to be the first time in the history of the state that the commonwealth has been called upon to prosecute its own officers on a charge of murder.

WATERFALL

Miss Rose Shirley, who spent the past week in Washington, has returned to her home here. Mr. R. B. Gosson was a Manassas visitor on Monday last. Mrs. R. R. Smith, who recently underwent an operation at the Providence Hospital, Washington, is reported as doing nicely. Little Miss Frances Kibler is visiting relatives in Washington. Mrs. G. A. Gosson and Mrs. S. R. Clark visited Mrs. James Pickett at "Springfield" on Friday last. "A Poor Married Man," a three-act comedy, will be given at Waterfall school by members of the Community League on Thursday and Friday evening, May 22 and 23. Prof. Mosher, of Manassas, will play during the evening. Admission, 25 and 15 cents.

CATHARPIN

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower and daughter, Miss Marjorie, visited Washington on Tuesday. Rev. Homer Welch and Mrs. Welch and son, Homer Ray, were guests of Mrs. Etta Lynn on Sunday. Mr. Walter Allison met with a painful accident last Saturday, cutting his knee with a drawing knife. Dr. Brower rendered the necessary surgical attention, several stitches being necessary. Mrs. Howard Haislip has been ill for the past week or ten days. Mrs. Holmes Robertson has also been on the sick list. Mrs. W. L. Sanders, accompanied by three normal students, visited Catharpin school last Monday. Miss Mae Patton, who has been attending Manassas High School, has been much indisposed for several weeks and is not yet able to resume her studies.

THE SALVATION ARMY HOME SERVICE DRIVE

(Continued from page one.) soldiers from overseas. "What do you know about the Salvation Army?" Here are some of the replies, and all were of the same tenor: "Best thing over there." "The most popular aid we boys got over there." "Before I went over I used to let them pass by without giving. I never will do it again." "I used to give them nickels before I went over, but when I saw what kind of folks they are, I said if I ever get back to America, I will give them dollars." "I used to make fun of them before I went over, but the man I see doing it now has got to fight me." "The best friends we had." "They did a great thing." "They served us in the front lines and sometimes went over the top with us." "The officers urged these girls to go back out of danger, but they replied, 'We are in no more danger than the boys. If we go back we can't help them.' Some of them were killed." "Whatever they want they ought to have. They will make good use of it." "I said, 'They are asking for $13,000,000 in America.' 'They will get it, if you listen to us boys, and we'll help.' 'I haven't got words to express my feelings toward those people.' "Got them all beat," said another, and so the answers came without a dissenting opinion. Sergeant H. J. Bridges who has, as you know, been speaking to us in the Victory Loan drive, after an eighteen months' experience in France, says: "I found them working night and day, giving their stuff freely to the boys." "Ask the Prince William boys about it. Some of them are with us again. Now let us raise our quota of $800 at least for this very worthy purpose. It is a busy time of year and harder to get workers for such an effort than in the winter months; so may we not all get to work and do our little bit toward this collection? Especially the churches in the county are asked to appoint collectors, if they will. The public schools are closing, but where teachers are still at their posts, will you please repeat your kind efforts made for the Armenian drive? Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe is treasurer for the fund. Please turn in all collections to him at the Peoples Bank by the 26th of May, if possible. Names of district chairmen will be given next week. Sincerely yours, W. L. STEELE.

KOPP

Due to cold weather, the fruit crop in this vicinity will be very small. Messrs. Bryan Norman, Walter and Kenneth Woolfenden, Misses Mary Carbo and Miss Woolfenden attended the commencement at Smithfield Thursday last. Miss Harriet Downs called to see Mrs. T. W. Lynn Friday afternoon. Mrs. G. H. Holmes' condition is still very critical. The operation which was hoped to prove so successful has turned out very discouraging. Messrs. Bryan Norman, Lawrence Mountjoy, Walter Woolfenden and his little niece, Miss Anns, visited at the home of Miss Viola Cole Sunday evening. One of "Uncle Sam's Boys" gave an interesting talk at Belle Haven Thursday, May 8th, on the subject which interests us all most at present—the Victory Liberty Loan. Quite a large crowd attended and bonds were purchased by several. Mr. Dan Alexander, of Minnierville, passing through Kopp Monday on business, called at the home of Mr. T. J. Woolfenden. While out for a stroll Sunday afternoon, Mr. Walter Woolfenden, his little niece, Anns, and Miss Viola Cole, visited the picturesque old farmhouse of Mr. Hayes and gathered the most beautiful spring roses imaginable. Mr. Alburne Gordon made a business trip to Washington during the week. Mrs. Charles Linton, of Alexandria, visited her grandfather, Mr. Thomas Woolfenden, sr., and spent the weekend. Mrs. Annie Downs, who has been on the sick list for the past few days, is improving. A party will be given in the neighborhood during the week-end. Watch out for a brilliant account in next week's issue. Mr. Herbert Tabbe, jr., of Dumfries, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents here. Mr. Yates, of Alexandria, passed through Kopp last week. Mr. J. S. Storke, who has been ill the past few months, is slowly improving.

HOW METHODISTS WILL SPEND $35,000,000

"Thirty-five million dollars! That's a lot of money. What will you do with it after you get it?"

This is the question that was asked by a well known Southern banker of a Methodist layman who had been telling him of the Methodist plan to raise $35,000,000 in the Southern states in an eight-day drive May 18-25. The question was one of dozens of similar queries which have been made to the leaders of the Centenary Campaign regarding the drive and, because people seem interested to know where thirty-five million dollars is going here's the story, straight from headquarters, and every word true.

To begin with, the thirty-five million will be raised entirely by Methodists. No one outside of that church will be solicited for a cent of it and, unless a man happens to be a member of a Methodist congregation, he will not be asked to donate anything towards the cause. If he feels particularly friendly towards Methodism and the things which his Methodist friends will do with the money he is, of course, privileged to give what he cares to but, otherwise, every cent of the $35,000,000 will be raised by the members of the Methodist Church. The Methodists say they can do it and from the way they have lined up their teams and outlined their plans it looks as though they might more than do it by the closing date of the drive.

Working from the viewpoint of the optimist who is assured he is going to get what he goes after and before he goes after it, the Methodists have outlined a really rather wonderful survey which contains every detail of their plans for spending the thirty-five millions. The survey is done into neat form in a large, square book containing one hundred and eight pages and these books have been sent broadcast over the South. The church is working on the great democratic theory that there are to be "no secret pacts" and the spending of every one of those three billion five hundred million cents is accounted for. We will not attempt to account for all of these pennies here, because even the friendliest member of the Fourth Estate isn't willing to turn over his entire newspaper to one article. But, for the benefit of that enquiring banker—and the ten thousand other inquiring people in his city—here is a quickly summed-up outline of what Southern Methodists will do towards rebuilding the world.

Starting at home, as every great movement should do, the Methodists will spend over seven million dollars in the Southern and Southwestern states. This will be divided between the following forms of work: mountain, immigrant, Negro, Indian, cotton mill people, increasing salaries of underpaid pastors, in the promotion of Christian literature for all of them, and in various forms of city and rural work. In the inaccessible districts—the great plains of the West, the isolated mountain regions, the swamp lands—in places like these little mission schools will be "set up"—schools where children who, otherwise, would have no opportunity, will be taught Christianity and arithmetic at one and the same time. The fact is, the drive means for children like these the addition of a fourth "r" to the curriculum—"reading, riting, rithmetic and righteousness," being the foundation of the church's plan for establishing their mission schools.

The leaders of the movement declare that this educational program of theirs will go further towards ridding the next generation of the menace of Bolshevism than any other thing they know of because education, permeated with Christianity, means those who receive it will become good citizens in the largest and best meaning of the word. This educating of the Negro, the mountain white, the immigrant and the Indian is one of the real services which they can do for their country. Methodists declare, and they are going about doing that service before America becomes embroiled in the unrest of Europe.

In addition to the mission schools which they will establish, Southern Methodists will spend a large part of their thirty-five millions on settlement houses in the down and out districts of the large cities of the South. Plans for the various forms of settlement work which the Methodists will do includes work for the Negroes through their Bethlehem houses, work for the mill operatives through their Warlots Settlements, and innumerable other enterprises for taking care of the derelicts and down-and-outs in the cities of the South. Several very large settlements will be built and others already established enlarged in practically every state in the South. Churches will be built in both the city and rural districts and the circuit rider, in particular, will receive a more livable salary. One of the most important and unique phases of uplift which the Methodists will undertake as a result of the Centenary will be an itinerating school for Indians, where the sons of former "braves" can go, after camp-meeting fashion, and learn hygiene, spelling and religion at one and the same time.

But the Methodists have opened the windows and looked further than America in their effort to spend the thirty-five million dollars to the best advantage at this time. Europe, particularly, needs help now, say the sons of Wesley, and Methodists will not falter in their responsibility there. Men of France and Belgium are returning to broken homes, shattered ideals. The church will seek to give these men something new to take hold of—churches for themselves, schools for their children, social gathering places where something of the warmth and cheer of life will be given them again. These are some of the ways in which the church will carry on in the regions where war has swept the land in Belgium, France, Italy, and Russia, for Russia is especially to receive the sympathetic and practical interest of the Methodists. Five million of the thirty-five will be put into rebuilding these needy regions in Europe, and the Methodists declare it is the best five million of the entire amount which they will spend.

The remaining millions are to be spent in the foreign fields of Africa, Brazil, China, Cuba, Japan, Korea and Mexico. In all of these countries the Methodists will establish medical schools, hospitals, mission schools and churches, and develop missionary work along every line which opens up. During the next few years a large portion of the money spent in these countries will go towards educating and training native teachers and evangelists. Because once prepared to carry on the work, the native teacher is more effective than the foreigner. In addition to training native evangelists and teachers and establishing schools, churches and hospitals, the Methodists will co-operate in every way possible with other missions and work with them for the furtherance of Christianity. Small printing plants in every foreign country are expected to play a large part in the great world reconstruction program of the Methodists, for in these plants millions of leaflets will be distributed broadcast through each country.

But printing plants, missionaries, hospitals and schools mean money, and to do the things planned in the survey will cost nearly $20,000,000—the remaining $4,000,000 of the $35,000,000 going to the annual conference missions and the Board of Church Extension. However, though it will take a great many million to do the things they have planned, once the money is raised and the work established in the various home and foreign fields, the whole world will cash in on the enterprise. For it is an enterprise, this Centenary movement—a great religious enterprise which seeks to put the work of a splendid body of people on a practical business basis, which speaks well for the churches' own development and for the happiness of millions of peoples who will be benefited by the work which the church will do for them.

STATE SENATOR RETIRES

R. Ewell Thornton Will Not Be Candidate for Re-election.

State Senator R. Ewell Thornton, who represents the Fourteenth senatorial district in the Virginia senate, will not again be a candidate for re-election. Senator Thornton notified Charles Bendheim, chairman of the city democratic committee by letter to this effect Tuesday last.

Senator Thornton in his letter says he is now doing his bit as major in the office of the judge advocate, Washington, and as a result of his war work will be unable to give time to the senatorial duties.

It is expected that within a short time Chairman Bendheim will call a meeting of the democratic committee from this senatorial district for the purpose of arranging for a primary. The election will be held in November.

Senator Thornton has represented this district in the senate for the past eight years and the announcement that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself was the cause of surprise among his friends. No names of prospective candidates for the office have been suggested as yet.

NEW SUITS, COATS, CAPES

You surely will want to see these handsome new models at your earliest opportunity. The joy of the coming of the new season seems in the very air, and naturally it makes a woman think of new apparel. Many of the new styles are here ready for your inspection.

IN NEW SUITS

There are the very latest box effects; smart semi-tailored styles and others in more fancy, dressier effects, which are trimmed in braid and buttons. Some of the new models are made with chic vests.

The skirts are long and narrow, some open at the side, others are made with inverted pleat in the back. The materials are mannish serges, gabardines, Poirer twills, tricotines, silvertones, pin stripe suiting and fancy mixtures. The colors are rookery, tan, Copenhagen and "ever-seas" blue.

At $35, $39.75, $45, $49.75 and $75

NEW SWAGGER COATS
—are exceedingly smart in style and are made of such new materials as "Evores" Bolivia Cloth, Crystal Cord and Silver-tones; in three-quarter lengths with full lining of silk. The new shades are twilight, clay, American beauty, maple and taupe.
Priced from $55.00 to $75.00
KANN'S—SECOND FLOOR

NEW DOLMAN CAPES
A very fine, beautiful quality of serge has been employed in making up these new Capes. The colors are blue, also black linings, contrasting or of the same color, give a little added warmth to the serge, making the wrap just right for early spring wear. Other capes, in the regulation vardi wear.
Other capes, in the regulation straight-line styles, are also popular, as well as a number made with yoke back. Braid and buttons are quite profusely used in trimming many of these new wraps.

COAL, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS

Your Next Winter's Coal

We do not know what the price of coal will be next Fall and Winter, as the retail price is governed by the price at the mines and the freight.

Our understanding of the present program is that Anthracite coal will advance ten cents a ton a month from May 1st to September 1st, and although we think this program will probably be carried out yet we are not sure of this.

We do know that THE MINES CANNOT PRODUCE, THE RAILROADS CANNOT HAUL AND THE DEALERS CANNOT HANDLE nearly enough coal during the Fall and Winter months to take care of an ordinary Winter's demand.

This means that coal will have to be mined, transported and delivered during the Spring and Summer to avoid a serious shortage next Fall and Winter.

We advise our customers to take these facts into consideration and order a reasonable supply of coal now.

CLIFTON

The Red Cross met Tuesday afternoon with a fairly good attendance. The ladies are busy making a supply of children's shirts for the refugees in Europe. The supply is to be furnished by June 1st. One more new member was added to the enrollment at this meeting. This brings our enrollment up to 97 for Clifton branch.

Rev. J. Halpenny preached in the Presbyterian Church Sunday at 11 a. m., in the absence of Rev. Alford Kelley. Mr. Halpenny preached on the subject of "Eve the Mother of all Living." Owing to the condition of the roads after the heavy rains of the week there was not quite the usual congregation of the past few Sundays.

The faculty and students of Clifton high school are preparing for commencement exercises, which will be May 23-27, inclusive.

Miss Margaret Detwiler was on the sick list the beginning of this week.

Mrs. Haycock was also home sick this week.

Messrs. Walter and Loedwig Fowler are expected home. They will land in New York May 20th. They have been in France with the A. E. F. for more than a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wright motored out from Washington Sunday to his uncle's, Mr. G. B. Wright.

Mrs. Pierce and family have moved into the house on Main street vacated by Mr. Seuber and family.

ing, announced "America," after the singing of which Rev. Wm. Stevens led in prayer.

Miss Criswell, of Wyoming, speaking on Junior Work, outlined plans with special application to this county. The boys of the graded school have promised to make window boxes for flowers at the Quantico convalescent house, where 140 marines are now recovering, with others soon to be added to the number as they return from France. Students of the Industrial School have arranged to provide hanging baskets and waste paper baskets made of cane and raffia.

Following the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the main speaker of the evening, Mrs. Toplitz, was introduced. She narrated her life in France among the refugees and told of what great work the Red Cross had done for them. She outlined the health program for American and other Red Cross organizations for the future.

The closing exercise was the singing of the stanzas of "Star-Spangled Banner" by Rev. T. D. Clark, the congregation joining in the chorus. Rev. L. C. Messick pronounced the benediction.

JOPLIN

The farmers in this section are busy making preparations to plant corn. They are very late, owing to the inclement weather we have had.

Miss Beatrice Abel spent a few days in Washington the past week.

Mrs. W. Loyd and Mrs. Nora Davis passed through Forestburg enroute to Joplin Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chilton Abel are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Abel, this week.

WHEN JACK CAME BACK

To Be Given in Conner's Hall on Friday Night, May 30.

Mr. Frank S. Davidson's latest masterpiece, "When Jack Came Back," will be given in Conner's Hall Friday, May 30, under the auspices of the Boys and Girls Scouts of Manassas.

Mr. Davidson needs no introduction to the people of our town, as he will be well remembered as having given the best plays ever staged in Manassas. This play is said to be the best he has ever written and is filled to the brim with real humor, good music and funny episodes. Only the bright side of war. Just cheers — no tears — all smiles. The best war story of them all. If you like fun, don't miss this.

The following is the cast of characters:

Admiral King—Old retired officer who glories in the past and fusses about the future in a mighty funny way, Mr. Frank S. Davidson.

Lieut. King—His son, who just "came back" and who saw some of the dark and lots of the bright side of war, Mr. Ralph Larson.

Cecelia—The Red Cross nurse, who did her bit and her best, "Over There," Miss Elizabeth Pope.

Margie—The girl Jack left behind him but who soon catches up and even gets ahead of him, Miss Elizabeth Burr.

Rastus—The darkey servant who combines patriotism and business comically, Mr. D. R. Lewis.

Singers—Misses Sarah Leachman, Mary Govington, Catherine Weir and Alice Groves, members of the Girl Scout Glee Club.

Vital Session of Congress.

The session of Congress which convenes May 19 will be one of the most momentous in history, with the peace treaty and league of nations to be acted on and domestic legislation to be enacted which will vitally affect the nation for generations to come. The Washington Sunday Star, with a staff of trained writers, will keep its readers informed of the progress of these big events.
