TRI-COUNTY WOOL POOL PLANNED BY BREEDERS

Prince William, Fauquier and Fairfax Plan to Establish Market at Manassas.

(W. L. Browning, County Agent)

At a called meeting of the sheep breeders of Prince William county and the adjoining counties of Fairfax and Fauquier, which was held in the office of the county agent, definite plans were made to pool the wool crop of as many breeders as will join and consign their wool. This wool will be handled by the farmers' union co-operative exchange, the wool to be hauled to Manassas for shipment and stored until the crop is in. June 15 is the time set for all wool to be in.

The wool is to be insured as soon as received and will be sold as soon after June 15 as buyers can be secured. Each breeder's crop of wool is to be sold on its own merit.

Too much stress has been made on farmers buying co-operatively and not enough on the selling of their product after it has been made. This wool pool is just a co-operative selling plan for the wool crop and we hope that the wool buyers of this county will feel that this is an opportunity to buy the crop concentrated in one place, and that they will have the opportunity of buying part of the wool from the adjoining counties by coming to one central point and buying all.

A committee of two sheep breeders from each of the three counties will act as selling committee. The committee members are: Messrs. S. H. Carter and James Kirkpatrick, The Plains; H. B. Keiser, Fairfax; Cooper Curcija, Vienna; G. B. Shoemaker and W. M. Johnson, Manassas.

It is hoped that all breeders of sheep will take advantage of this pool and get the most out of their wool. For further information get in touch with the county agent.

HONOR ROLL LED BY ALLEN HERD

Tester's April Report Shows Twenty-four Cows Producing 50 Lbs of Butterfat.

The Prince William Cow Testing Association, in the April report of Mr. Gilbert W. Merchant, Jr., official tester, shows a decreasing number of cows producing 50 pounds of butterfat during the monthly test period, only twenty-four cows making the April Honor roll.

The reason for the reducing register, according to Mr. Merchant, is that many of the cows on previous monthly honor rolls have been milking for several months and few fresh cows appear in the association as the price of milk falls from 44 cents to 36 cents per gallon.

The cow producing the largest amount of butterfat during the month was "Bob," a grade Jersey owned by Mr. H. C. Allen, with a record of 1176 pounds of milk and 79.96 pounds of butterfat.

"Babe," a grade Holstein belonging to Mr. J. B. Mannel, carries first honors in milk production, having given 1710 pounds of milk and 64.48 pounds of butterfat.

Mr. Allen again has the distinction of holding the best herd production, his herd during April averaging 847.58 pounds of milk and 85.96 pounds of butterfat per cow.

The following table, giving the names and records of the cows producing 50 pounds or more of butterfat during the month of April, completes Mr. Merchant's report:

Bob, grade Jersey owned by H. C. Allen, 1176 lbs milk, 85.96 per cent fat, 79.96 lbs butterfat.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan with electric starting and lighting system and demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires all around, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered, plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is ideal for social functions, the theatre, or parties; carrying the children to school, or for touring. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and has all the Ford merits of strength and durability. We solicit your order for one. Come in and see it.

A Reminder!

Washington, March 7.—Plans for reducing the American family's meat bill were announced today by the Department of Justice, which will urge housewives to turn from the high-priced cuts to less costly portions of the steer.

Fair-price commissioners in every state will be asked to direct educational campaigns with the co-operation of retailers and wholesalers, and the department will undertake to see to it that the consumer receives good meat at low prices and that no abnormal profits are taken on the low-priced portions.

"The housewife holds in her own hand the remedy for very high meat prices," said the department's announcement. "By turning from the expensive to the inexpensive cuts she not only will lower her own meat bills, but will drive down the price of the choice cuts and make it possible for meat to be merchandise more economically."

May we not be pardoned if we say, "I told you so?" Let us show you some of our meats that you can save big money on. We know you'll not be disappointed for SAUNDERS' SANITARY SERVICE SATISFIES!

3 Less Coal
2 More Heat

You can save from a third to a half of your fuel and have a much warmer home than ever before if you will install a CALOREC.

The CALOREC is the remarkable furnace that heats without pipes, through only one register. It circulates heat by Nature's own method, forcing warm air up into the entire house and drawing cool air down into the furnace to be reheated and purified.

The CALOREC heats practically all types of houses, bungalow or three-story house, up to eighteen rooms. It heats kitchens and back bedrooms just as comfortably and warm as the rest of the house. Also heats churches, schools, stores and other business buildings. More than 50,000 already installed.

The CALOREC can be installed in new or old houses—no cutting of walls for pipes and no interference with present system of heating. It burns coal, coke, gas, wood or kerosene, and saves from one-third to one-half the fuel.

CLIFTON

Rev. Thomas MacLeod preached at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning on "The Church of the Living God," a subject suggested by the thoughts expressed in the sermons of the previous Sunday when the church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary. The church universal is doing more for the good of the universe than all other agencies for good combined, said Rev. Mr. MacLeod. All other agencies for good are largely created through and by the church and it may be said that all good is the fruit of the church, he declared.

Rev. Edward Tabor began a series of meetings at the Baptist Church Sunday evening. Services are held every evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Upp moved on Saturday to the home recently vacated by Mrs. F. Pierce and family.

Mrs. Joseph Beasley is reported to be recovering from an operation in a Washington hospital.

The enthusiasm of the younger generation, especially the small boy, has been considerably raised by the report that Clifton is to have a moving picture establishment and merry-go-round.

One of our boys who recently visited Washington for the first time, when asked how he enjoyed the visit, said he got tired and came home sooner than he had expected. After seeing the city for a day or two, all seemed alike, he said, and he would rather have one day in the country than ten in the city. We hope he can instill that idea into many of his companions, as the only hope of the country is to keep the boys and girls on the farm.

Mrs. Susie Pitts, her daughter, Mrs. Lewis, and brother, Luther, of Washington, are spending a few days in the community.

Some of the young people motored to Washington to the circus Monday evening.

Mr. D. W. Buckley, who has been quite ill for some time, is able to be out again.

OUR BIRTHDAY

Today The Journal celebrates its twenty-fifth birthday and enters upon its twenty-sixth year of service as a herald and history of Prince William progress. The paper today is marked Volume 26, Number 1, which indicates that this is the 1801st weekly edition that has found its way into the homes of our family of readers during the last quarter of a century.

Over 1,400 families are numbered on our weekly mailing list of paid subscribers, and the number is steadily growing although in recent months it has been necessary, on account of mounting expenditures, to increase the yearly subscription price to $1.50. It has been very gratifying to note the steady flow of orders and additions, and if there are those among our family of readers who feel financially unable to pay for The Journal at the new rate which has obtained since February 1 we shall be sincerely grateful. We cannot but feel, however, that our readers appreciate the necessity which dictated the advance in price and we desire to express our thanks for the cordial support of The Journal family.

These twenty-five years have witnessed many changes and many improvements, for which on the whole we may be extremely thankful. Our early issues came from the press in the good old days when time and tide seemed more inclined to wait for men than today and when prices had not been taught to follow men on the path to the stars. In 1895 we suffered with Manassas in the big fire which destroyed its business district, but which after all, in spite of the loss, paved the way for a greater Manassas. In later years we have seen Prince William men and women work together to win the greatest war in history. We have seen Prince William send the flower of her manhood to a battlefield three thousand miles away; we have joined in welcome to those who returned and in tribute to the memory of those who sleep in France.

We have watched the careers of Prince William's sons and daughters with the interest of an old and privileged family friend, and hope to continue to record their achievements for many years to come. A great many of our good and worthy friends of former days have been gathered to their fathers; but we have been privileged to chronicle the forward movements for which they were responsible and which will honor the memory of not the names of the sponsor so long as good works continue.

In looking to the past we salute the future, trusting that it may hold the fruits of one tenth of our golden hopes for Manassas, for Prince William and for the nation.

A GEORGIA VOLUNTEER

Favorite poems continue to reach the poetry corner, each week adding something entirely different to the collection of favorites which was started in our poetry corner a few months ago. "A Georgia Volunteer" by Mary Ashley Townsend holds the place of honor today. This poem is submitted as the favorite of Miss Florence Jacobs, a Journal reader at Thoroughfare. All Journal readers are invited to submit their favorites for publication in the poetry corner. Be sure send the poem which in your poetry corner is considered worth while.

A Georgia Volunteer.

Far up the lonely mountain side
My wandering footsteps led;
The moss lay thick beneath my feet
The pines sighed overhead.
The trace of a dismantled foot
Lay in the forest nave,
And in the shadow near my path
I saw a soldier's grave.

The bramble wrestled with the weed
Upon the lowly mound,
The simple headboard, rudely writ,
Had rotted to the ground;
I raised it with a reverent hand,
From dust its words to clear,
But time had blotted all but these:
"A Georgia Volunteer."

I saw the toad and scaly snake
From tangled covert start,
And hide themselves among the weeds
Above the dead man's heart;
But undisturbed, in sleep profound,
Unheeding, there he lay;
His coffin but the mountain soil,
His shroud, Confederate gray.

Its leader's name—and then
I knew the sleeper had been one
Of Stonewall Jackson's men.

Yet whence he came, what lips shall say?

Whose tongue will ever tell
What desolated hearts and hearts
Have wept because he fell?
What red-eyed maiden bridle her hair—

Her hair which he held dear—
One lock of which, perchance, lies with
The Georgia volunteer?

What mother, with long watching eyes
And white lips, cold and dumb,
Waits with appalling patience for
Her darling boy to come?

Her boy whose mountain grave swells up
But one of many a scar
Cut on the face of our fair land
By gory-handed war.

What fights he fought, what wounds
he wore,
Are all unknown to fame;
Remember, on his lonely grave
There is not even a name!

That he fought well and bravely, too,
And held his country dear,
We know—else he had never been
A Georgia Volunteer.

He sleeps—what need to question now
If he were wrong or right?
He knows, ere this, whose cause was just

In God the Father's sight.
He wields no warlike weapons now,
Returns no foeman's thrust;
Who but a coward would revile
An honest soldier's dust!

Roll, Shenandoah, proudly roll,
A-down thy rocky glen!
Above thee lies the grave of one
Of Stonewall Jackson's men,
Beneath the cedar and the pine,
In solitude austere,
Unknown, unnamed, forgotten, lies
A Georgia Volunteer.

A little news item of interest to Virginians who have a weather eye on the political calendar is the refusal of Page county democrats to endorse Col.
Robert F. Leedy, candidate for congress from the seventh Virginia district in opposition to Representative Harrison. Col. Leedy's platform, as frequently announced, includes and has been chiefly featured by opposition to enforcement of the Volstead Act. Of the eight delegates elected to the state convention from Page county six are Harrison men and two favor Col.
Leedy.

Hay, Grain and Feed

Mr. Farmer, much of your success this year depends on the way you treat your stock. Don't let the price worry you, but become a "crank" about quality, and demand it. A cheap feed in price may be very expensive in results. Let us fill your requirements with a product of quality, and insure you against an unsuccessful year.

- ARE YOU CARRYING sufficient insurance to cover the present value of your property?
- IN THE PAST THREE YEARS THE VALUE OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY HAS NEARLY DOUBLED.
- HAVE YOU INCREASED your insurance by an amount that will correspond with the advance in REPLACEMENT VALUE of your property?
- HAVE YOU CONSIDERED how much money you MIGHT BE OBLIGED TO CONTRIBUTE in case of loss, because your insurance may not fully protect your INCREASED PRESENT VALUE CONDITIONS?
- IT IS GOOD BUSINESS FORESIGHT TO DISCUSS THESE POINTS WITH YOUR INSURANCE AGENT.

One Cent Sale!

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday

WHAT IS A ONE-CENT SALE? It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price, and by paying 1c more, or 26c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high-class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices and have sold you for years.

A NEW WAY OF ADVERTISING—This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full-size package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers, and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the goods please you.
