Radcliffe Chautauqua

America's Khaki Covered College—Tells the Story of Americanization, in Its Program for 1920

Hundreds of thousands of men and women, boys and girls, living in over one hundred towns in thirty-one states, will sit beneath the canvas-covered dome of the Radcliffe Chautauqua in the year 1920.

They will hear musical programs rich in quality and of endless variety, by both native and foreign musicians. They will be entertained with readers, impersonators and humorists who possess the art to delight and amuse without resort to slapstick and buffoonery.

Above all, they will get a better understanding of what it means to be a citizen of the United States of America, and a clearer vision of a citizen's obligations as well as his rights.

Do you know that literally thousands of alien born anarchists, bolsheviks and other "reds," thoroughly organized and backed by millions of dollars, are deliberately plotting and working night and day for the destruction of the Government of the United States?

Do you know that for many months their propagandists have been engaged not only in the large cities, but even in the small towns, sowing the seeds of sedition and anarchy in the minds of the ignorant and unenlightened?

Do you know that every man, woman, boy and girl, white and black, in your town, has a thorough understanding of what the Government of the United States is?

Do they know that no other Government on earth guarantees to the individual such privileges and opportunities as this Government does?

Do they know that only through the fulfillment of their obligations of citizenship can our present form of Government be made secure?

Do you know that a little group of your fellow citizens have entered into a contract to bring the Radcliffe Chautauqua to your town, because they endorse the purpose of its program? That they will give any possible aid in the undertaking to come worth-while local institution or charity?

Are you willing to work as hard to insure the safety of your Government as the "reds" are working to destroy it?

Will you go to your Chautauqua Committee and let them know that you endorse their action and are going to do your utmost to help them in securing the presence of every person living in or near your town?

B. T. H. HODGE PASSES TO REST

Confederate Soldier, Mason and Scholar Succumbs to Extended Illness Here.

Prof. Benjamin Templeton Hodge, Confederate veteran, Mason and scholar, passed away early Sunday morning at Robley Cottage, his home in Main street, after an extended illness culminating in pneumonia. He was seventy-three years old.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church by the pastor, Rev. DeForest Wade, assisted by Rev. Alexander Stuart Gibson, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, who offered prayer, and Rev. T. D. D. Clark, pastor of the Baptist Church, who paid eloquent tribute to the deceased. Members of Manassas Lodge, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, and Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, in uniform attended the service.

The body was laid to rest with Masonic ceremonies in the family lot in the Manassas cemetery, in the shadow of the Confederate monument and amidst a profusion of flowers. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Thomas E. Lee, G. Raymond Radcliffe, C. J. Meetez, Thomas E. Haines, D. J. Arrington and O. D. Waters and Dr. C. E. C. Johnson, of Manassas, and Judge C. E. Nicol, of Alexandria.

Prof. Hodge was born on Easter Sunday, April 4, 1847, in Highland county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hooke Hodge, his father also being a soldier of the Confederacy. Early in life he moved with his family to the neighboring county of Augusta and at the age of sixteen, during the war between the states, enlisted in the Confederacy until the surrender at Appomattox, taking part in the battle of Piedmont and in many skirmishes. Although hardly more than a boy he was one of a company in command of a large field gun and at one time was a member of a party of thirteen soldiers who successfully made a perilous journey to recover horses stolen from the Confederates.

After completing his academic studies Prof. Hodge entered upon a post-graduate course at the University of Virginia, later being graduated as a theological student from the Presbyterian College of Hampden-Sydney, receiving his license as a preacher. Becoming convinced that teaching offered a better opportunity for the exercise of his talents, he gave up the ministry to enter the teaching profession, devoting his interest particularly to the founding of high schools. He also took up the study and practice of law and was a successful surveyor.

Early in life he married Miss Katherine O'Farrell, a sister of Governor O'Farrell. In 1907, some years after the loss of his first wife, he was married to Miss Chloe Elizabeth Lay, of Montreal, Canada, who survives him. At the suggestion of special friends in this community he brought his bride to Manassas, opened a law office here and was made a justice of the peace. He was called to Eastern College to teach Hebrew, Latin and Greek and, relinquishing the legal profession, devoted himself entirely to educational work until entering the government service during the war.

When overtaken by his last illness, Prof. Hodge was writing a comprehensive book for which he had selected as the title "The Organization of Mankind: Socially, Politically and Religiously."

In addition to his widow he leaves one brother and one sister, Mr. Milton Hodge, of Washington, and Mrs. M. V. Irvine, of Chifford, Amherst county, together with several nieces and nephews.

Among the relatives and friends who came to Manassas during Prof. Hodge's illness and later to attend the funeral were Mrs. Ballantyne Patterson, only sister of Mrs. Hodge, who has been her constant companion for several weeks; Col. William Lay Patterson, of Camp Taylor, Ky., and Lieut. Lyman Patterson, of Bowling Field, Washington, oldest and youngest sons of Mrs. Patterson's seven sons; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hodge, of Washington; Mrs. M. V. Irvine, of Chifford; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodge, the former a nephew of Prof. Hodge, Mrs. A. M. Combs and Mrs. Webster, all of Washington, and Major J. Ogden Murray, of Roanoke, a Confederate comrade who attended the funeral with Ewell Camp.

Prof. Hodge was an elder in the Presbyterian Church and known to be representative of the highest type of Christian gentleman. The session of the church has adopted the following resolution of respect and sympathy:

Whereas, It has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to take from our midst our highly esteemed friend and brother-elder, Prof. B. T. H. Hodge, who departed this life on the 30th day of May 1920, therefore be it resolved by the Session of the Manassas Presbyterian Church of Manassas, Va.:

That in the death of Mr. Hodge our community and our church has suffered the loss of an upright, honest American citizen, a devoted husband, and an honorable Christian gentleman, whose place cannot be filled.

That all men of whatever party or race were his neighbors and be never knowingly wronged any of them even when opposed to him in business, religion, or politics. In the numerous affairs of a busy life, covering a long period of more than three score and ten years, he always aimed to be on the right side of every question, and always acted under the full conviction that he was doing right.

That his devotion and loyalty to his state and church be ever remembered.

our loss is his eternal gain, and our hearts are cheered by the remembrance that the victory of the cross of the Son of God abolished death, and that His gospel brought life and immortality to light, in order that we may be sustained as we mourn the loss of our brother and our co-worker.

That we extend to the loved ones our heartfelt sympathy in this dark hour, and pray that our Heavenly Father will sustain and keep them till we shall again be united at the Master's feet.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, to be placed in the local papers, and inserted in the minutes of our session.

DeFOREST WADE, Pastor.
J. H. DODGE,
J. L. BUSHONG,
E. K. MITCHELL,
C. J. MEETZE.

Among the many messages of sympathy received by Mrs. Hodge was a telegram from Prof. Hodge's associates in the ordnance division of the Washington navy yard. The telegram, signed for the officers and employees, by Mr. J. E. K. Lee, chief clerk, was as follows:

"It is with deepest regret that I learn of the death of Mr. Hodge, and extend to you and his family the sympathy of all the employees of the office. Mr. Hodge enjoyed the most friendly relations with all the employees with whom he was brought in contact, and his sterling qualities, gentle disposition and inborn nobility of character were recognized and admitted by all."

PRIMARY STUDENTS HOLD SPRING PLAY FESTIVAL

Drills, Dances, Songs and Recitations Filled Evening of Merry Frolic.

About 100 little folk from the primary department of the Manassas graded school took part in a merry frolic Wednesday evening on the school lawn when their annual spring play festival was given under the direction of Miss Grace B. Moran, Mrs. A. M. Crigler and Miss Della Hill Brown. The little people sang, recited and danced and took part in drills and games, winning admiring applause from the audience of parents and grown-up friends.

The program was divided into three parts—patriotic numbers, choosing the May queen and the May pole dance, the culminating number being postponed as night began to fall. The first number was a song of greeting, which was followed by a welcome offered by Ruth Myers. Twenty-four boys took part in a flag drill, during which Malcolm Yates recited "Hats Off" and Anna Davies recited "Our Flag," and after which the participants joined in singing "America."

This number was followed by a flower wand drill given by forty-two little girls, after which the play, "Choosing the May Queen," began. Miss Sara Elizabeth Lewis was chosen Queen of the May. Other characters in the play were Marian Lynn and Laverne Mills, violets; Frances Bushong and Margaret Hotte, dandelions; Edgar Conner, bluebird; Walter Conner, butterfly; Billy Davies, bee; Jane Elliot, lady spring; Rena Bevans, May, and Eleanor Gibson, queen of the fabric.

Alice Weir sang "Grandmother's Lullaby" and Eloise Compton sang "A Trip to Poppy Land." Rebecca Lunford recited.

The games and dances, which were supervised by Mrs. Crigler, were: "The Small Game," "Crownal," a Swedish game; "Hi, My Little Lassie," "The Princess," "Round and Round the Valley" (English game), "How Do You Do, My Partner?" and "Jolly Miller."

Helen Cannon and Nancy Waters, in Gypsy costume, told fortunes, and Virginia Spidgen, Staves and Jambury Davies and Dabney Waters sold ice cream, the two features netting about $22. Admission fees of ten cents were collected and the proceeds of the evening, including ice cream sold and fortunes told, amounted to over $40, which will be used in the purchase of school supplies.

LIMING—MILLER

Mr. Benjamin F. Liming, fifty-seven years old, and Miss Mary P. Miller, aged seventeen, both of Joppa, were married here on Tuesday at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Barnett Grimsey.

Mr. Liming experienced some difficulty in obtaining the marriage license on account of the youth of his bride. As her mother is dead, her father has not been heard from for nearly sixteen years and she has no qualified guardian, it was necessary for Mr. Liming to make a trip to Alexandria to obtain the consent of Judge Samuel G. Brent, who presides over the Prince William circuit court, and who issued an order permitting the marriage, the order being duly spread on the court record here.

The couple were accompanied by Mr. Raymond Liming, of Joppa, brother of the bride, with whom she has made her home.

PAY TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER HEROES

U. D. C. and Memorial Association Unite in Ceremonies of Memorial Day.

Confederate memorial day was observed here yesterday with public exercises in the pavilion in the Confederate cemetery under the joint auspices of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Manassas and Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. Rev. Westwood Hutchison, commander of Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, presided.

The service opened, according to custom, with "How Firm a Foundation," a favorite hymn on Confederate occasions, and the U. D. C. ritual led by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, chaplain of Ewell Camp; after which the camp commander read a brief tribute to the late John E. Tillett and Prof. B. T. H. Hodge, members of the camp who have passed away since the last memorial day.

Miss Isabelle Hutchison, representing Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, president of the Memorial Association and U. D. C., presented individually and collectively the members of the newly organized junior branches of the two Confederate associations, naming the Confederate ancestors who made them eligible for membership. The organizations are the Judith Henry Juniors, Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., named in honor of Mrs. Judith Carter Henry, who was killed in her home on the battlefield early in the war between the states, and the Hannah Johnson Juniors, Manassas Memorial Association, named in honor of Mrs. Hannah Johnson, one of the organizers of the association here in 1867 and contributor of historical data of great value to the state and country. Miss Hutchison also presented to the Judith Henry Juniors a garland made from wood grown on the battlefield by a brother of Miss Judith Constance Henry, one of the juniors presented.

Miss Rose Latimer Rice, one of the Judith Henry Juniors, gave a reading entitled "The Rebel Yell," which was warmly applauded.

The musical program, which was particularly enjoyed, included a duet, "My Yawp and I Who Young," by Mrs. David M. Pitts, of Elk Hill, and Mrs. Alexander Stuart Gibson and solos by Rev. T. D. D. Clark, Rev. Mr. Clark sang "Beautiful Isle of the Sea," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Dixie," inviting the audience to join in each refrain. Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge presided at the organ.

Representative Ewin L. Davis, of Tennessee, who had accepted the invitation to make the memorial address, failed to arrive. Major J. Ogden Murray, of the "Immortal 800," who had been invited to introduce the orator, spoke briefly, paying tribute to Confederate heroes, including Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, whose birthday the celebration was held, and to the women of the Confederacy.

After the graves of Confederates dead had been decorated with flowers the gathering was dismissed with benediction by Rev. William Stevens.

Veterans were entertained at luncheon by the U. D. C.

The pews reserved for the family party were marked with standards of ferns and white peonies. The processional hymn and the Lohengrin wedding choros were sung by the vested choir of the church.

NOW cars are everywhere. The horses first in figuring their motoring expenditures.

have gotten used to them—and so has everybody else. Think of it! This year the American people will spend nearly a billion dollars on tires alone.

Tires are one of the biggest items on the car owner's bills.

Hardly a Saturday, when you motorists drop in to "tune up" for a Sunday trip, that one or more of you doesn't tell us something of value to our business. Sooner or later it comes back to you in Service.

Service is what the car owners of this community are looking for nowadays.

And especially the small car owners, who put service

Just because a man has a moderate-price car is no reason why he should get any less service out of his tires.

We believe that the man with the small car is entitled to just as good tire service as the man with the big car—and both are entitled to the best tire service they can get.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires in this community.

CHILDREN

(David Starr Jordan)
 There is nothing in the world as important as little children; nothing so interesting. If you wish to go in for philanthropy, if ever you wish to be of any use in the world, do something for little children. If ever you yearn to be truly wise, study children.
 We can dress the sore, bandage the wound, imprison the criminal, heal the sick and bury the dead, but there is always a chance that we can save the child. If the great army of philanthropists ever exterminate sin and pestilence, ever work out the race's salvation, it will be because a little child has led them.

THE POETRY CORNER

A bracing poem which we will name from the last line of each stanza,
 "Start Where You Stand," holds the place of honor in the poetry corner today. It comes to us without author or title and is submitted as the favorite poem of Mr. A. J. Ramsey, who lives near Manassas. Read it, reader friends of ours, and send us the poem you consider most worth while.

Start Where You Stand.

Start where you stand and never mind
 the past,
 The past won't help you in beginning new,
 If you have left it all behind at last Why, that's enough you're done with it, you're through;
 This is another chapter in the book,
 This is another race that you have planned,
 Don't give the vanished days a backward look,
 Start where you stand.

The world won't care about your old defeats
 If you can start anew and win success,
 The future is your time, and time is fleet

And there is much work and strain and stress;
 Forget the buried woes and dimed despair, Here is a brand new trial right at hand,
 The future is for him who does and dares,
 Start where you stand.

Old failures will not halt, old triumphs aid,
 Today's the thing, tomorrow soon will be;
 Get in the fight, and face it, unafraid
 And leave the past to ancient history;
 What has been, has been; yesterday is dead,
 And by it you are neither blessed nor banned,
 Take courage, be brave and drive
 ahead,
 Start where you stand.

Mr. Farmer, much of your success this year depends on the way you treat your stock. Don't let the price worry you, but become a "crank" about quality, and demand it.
 A cheap feed in price may be very expensive in results.
 Let us fill your requirements with a product of quality, and insure you against an unsuccessful year.

A Double Responsibility

"Good morning, Mrs. Armstrong! What shall it be—some really nice soap? We—No, thank you. Have plenty. What I want is two bottles of Nujol." "Oh, that you'll find at the next counter. This is the toilet goods, you know." "But that's why I came right here. You have soap and tooth-paste and wash cloths in this show case—every single thing to keep our precious outsides clean and fresh. But our insides must get along as best they can until some fine day there's a trouble—and then we cry for a doctor." "I'm afraid we are liable to get what is not right under our eyes." "That's just it. But I've learned my lesson. I'd no more think of forgetting my tablespoonful of Nujol than I would my bath or my tooth brush. Two years ago, just before my little girl was born, I had almost every kind of constipation a woman can have. Of course I tried all the 'cure' laxatives—pills, salts, mineral waters, etc.; but they only made matters worse. I needed a stronger dose every time. Finally my doctor called in one day after I had one of my bad spells and took things into his own hands." "How, Mrs. Armstrong?" "He said: 'Your body is not getting rid of the food waste properly. It gets as far as your lower intestines—your colon—and there it stops and decays. The poisons arising from this waste are then carried by the blood throughout the body and do terrible harm. Those remedies you've been taking are drug medicines. The more you take the more you need. You have a double responsibility now and must be gaining strength, not losing it. Now I'm going to put you on a new treatment—the Nujol treatment." "How interesting! And the effect?" "None—for the first two days. Then I begin to feel regular as clockwork." "Why, that's wonderful!" "It is wonderful. You see, Nujol works by an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system. It prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals, which is certainly the healthiest habit I know of. And besides that, it's absolutely harmless and pleasant to take." "It sounds like such a reasonable way to treat your system, Mrs. Armstrong." "That's it. I don't mind telling you privately that I'm just as proud of a clean system as I am of a clean face. And a clean system means a clean face, Miss Grey."

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Stamford, Conn. (New Jersey), 80 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Safety-First of Druggers." The Modern Method of Treating an Old Complaint

Mrs. M. B. Staples, Mrs. Anna C. Covington and Miss Ella C. Staples, of Washington, were week-end guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Gollibow. Mrs. Staples, mother of Mrs. Gollibow, will remain for a month or six weeks. On Monday Mrs. Covington and Miss Staples, in company with Mr. W. S. Smith and family, went for an automobile trip via Brentsville, Flat Bush Farm and Manassas. On Sunday morning the Woodbine Baptist Church had as their guests members of the Order Fraternal Americans Councils at Manassas, Aden and Independent H.H. Rev. J. M. Bell preached a strong sermon on the law of liberty. After saluting the flag and repeating the pledge in concert, Mr. D. P. Bell delivered a memorial address. Rev. J. A. Gollibow made a few closing remarks and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Bell.

There was a large congregation which more than filled the house, and all seemed to enjoy the service very much. At night the house was again filled to capacity when the pastor preached on "The Boyhood of Christ." Mr. E. E. Corawell made a business trip to Manassas on Tuesday. The young people's service on Sunday evenings has come to be the center of attraction for the whole community. At the last meeting young people were present from Kopp and Tokon and the surrounding territory.

WILLING WORKERS TO MEET

Woodlawn Students Busy Making Sewing Bags, Towels, Etc. (Daisie Payne, Secretary) The Willing Workers Sewing Club was organized at Woodlawn School March 15, 1920. The meeting was called to order by our teacher, Miss Clara Kirafofe, who organized the club for us with ten members present. First the following officers were elected: President, Edna Schaaffer; vice-president, Lucy Gough; secretary, Daisie Payne. Since that date we have had six class meetings. With Miss Gilbert and our teacher at our first meeting, we discussed the different parts of sewing, and since that time we have made stove holders, sewing bags, tea towels and hand towels. We are now embroidering beautiful old English letters on our tea towels, which our teacher has stamped for us. We expect to start on our aprons at our next meeting. Our club will meet for the next class on Wednesday, June 23, at 2:30 p. m. The Willing Workers are always glad to have visitors, so call around at our next meeting and see how willing we are to work for the county banner.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR The Garden farmer will find the Ford Model T One Ton Truck an especially valuable factor in his business because of the flexibility as well as the reliability of the service given by this splendid truck. The worm-drive of manganese bronze carries all the power of the motor to driving the Truck, and there are combined in larger and heavier form all the elements which have made the Ford Model T Car the greatest motor car in the world in point of service. The Ford Truck with its worm-drive is most economical in operation and maintenance. There is very little, if anything, to get out of order at any time; there is the simplicity in control; there is the convenience in the flexibility of the car, it will turn in a circle of forty-eight feet; it accommodates itself to narrow alleys, and it "stands the gaff" of hard work day after day, and month after month, to the great satisfaction of the owner. There is hardly a line of business activity where the Ford One Ton Truck is not really a necessity. Come in and talk it over. W. E. MCCOY Authorized Sales and Service MANASSAS VIRGINIA

Kirschbaum Clothes For True Economy

Better spend a dollar wisely than a quarter foolishly—there's an old maxim and a sound one. In buying clothes, pay enough to get a suit that will look well and wear long. To pay less than that—or more than that—is waste.
