UNUSUALLY BIG SHOW IS PLANNED

Dairy products of all kinds have soared so high in price that it has become necessary to popularize dairying more than ever. Only by raising more dairy cattle through use of pure-bred sires, and raising the standard of breeding, can we hope to stimulate dairying. Dairying in this territory is being encouraged by offer of prizes at the Prince William Fair, Manassas, Va., Aug. 18 to 20.

CONTEST OVER WILL CONTINUES

Partner Contestants Conclude Testimony and Other Side Begins Its Case.

Whether Paul V. Portner was the same man his friends took for granted he was until the contest over his will was instituted, or whether he was the mental wreck his family contesting the will declares him, are questions uppermost in the minds of a host of interested followers of the suit which has occupied practically every minute of a special adjourned session of the Prince William court since Monday, July 19, and which probably will be decided by a Prince William jury some time next week. The contestants concluded their testimony Wednesday afternoon, after presenting a long array of witnesses, and the proponents, who began their testimony yesterday, have summoned a list of witnesses equally long.

Six stenographers and typewriters are engaged in taking down and transcribing the evidence and the record of the case is expected to make a volume many times longer than any record now on file in this court. The prominence of the family involved, the intense family feeling displayed by the institution of the suit, the array of legal talent engaged in the contest, as well as the quarter-million estate which hangs in the balance, contribute to the general interest of the case.

An outstanding feature of the trial was the introduction of a series of letters from Mrs. Henry D. Flood, and later telegrams from Representative Flood, urging Mr. Portner's acceptance of a diplomatic appointment under the State Department involving the charge of German prisoners in Russia, these papers being submitted by the proponents as evidence that though the contestants now contend that the late Mr. Portner was virtually an alcoholic imbecile his brother-in-law, Representative Flood, chairman during the war period of the House Committee on Foreign Relations, was attempting to place him in an important diplomatic position at a crucial period in our relations with Europe.

Contestants base their claim to setting aside the will upon testimony concerning Mr. Portner's alleged mental incompetency and testimony declaring that Mr. Portner executed his will three days after he was taken to a Washington hospital while recovering from a period of serious alcoholic dissipation and in no condition to transact business of any kind. Dr. Syme, his family physician, testified that he was summoned to Manassas May 29, 1917—four days before the will was signed—that he arrived here next morning and accompanied Mr. Portner to Washington the following night, expecting to place him in a hospital. He was unable to enter the hospital, according to plans, and the next day Dr. Syme was dismissed. Dr. Thomas A. R. C. Johnson, and Messrs. B. Lynn Clayton, a stranger to the patient, testimony continued, was placed in charge by Mrs. Meredith, chief beneficiary under the will. Dr. Clayton's testimony was heard last week.

On June 2 Mr. Charles F. R. Ogilby, a Washington attorney and later one of the executors and trustees under the will, had an audience with the old man, testimony declared, in which Mr. Portner gave instructions for the writing of a will, although he was, according to testimony, in no condition to affix his signature. Mr. Ogilby appeared again on the following day, June 2, 1917, read the will to his client, who agreed it was prepared according to instructions and forthwith placed his name to the document, naming his brother-in-law, Mr. W. P. Meredith, and Mr. Ogilby and his law associates as executors and trustees.

His fortune amounting to $250,000 was bequeathed to his sister, Mrs. Meredith, and to her little daughter Sylvia, subject to an annuity of $300 to a colored servant. This servant, Edward Dickerson, later was discharged by his employer for stealing, contestants emphasized, and ordered to keep off the Portner estate under penalty of personal harm via a shotgun.

Testimony by Mrs. Flood and Mr. Oscar C. Portner, of Washington, Mrs. Alma M. Portner, of New York, and Mr. Alvin O. Portner, of Annapolis, Md., together with depositions of Mrs. Augustine L. Humes and Mrs. Palmer Derby, taken in New York and Washington, respectively, all brothers and sisters of the dead man, sought to prove that Mr. Portner on account of alcoholic excesses had been a mental wreck for a period of several years prior to his death and was incapable of making a will or attending to any kind of business during that time. The same testimony was substantiated by several other witnesses and hypothetical questions addressed to jurists and mental specialists summoned to testify assumed that Mr. Portner, thirty-six years old at the time of his death, had been a confirmed alcoholic not only from early manhood but from extreme youth.

After eight days almost wholly devoted to evidence introduced by contestants, the proponents began their case yesterday, summoning a host of local witnesses, including many Manassas business men, to testify to Mr. Portner's character and mental ability.

A power of attorney, signed by various heirs of the Portner estate, instructing to the late Mr. Portner the Portner estate valued at $700,000 and authorizing through him at his discretion the lease of the estate to the government when a local committee was agitating its lease as a camp site during the war was exhibited. Star witnesses in this connection were Dr. C. Robertson, E. R. Conner and W. Willis Davies, members of this committee, who severally or collectively with the exception of Mr. Davies conferred with Mr. Portner and made trips to Washington with him to meet army officers representing the government. Mr. Portner, according to testimony, was an important member of the Manassas committee.

IS THIS SMILE WORTH A RIBBON?

Backed by this winning smile these two pigs should have no trouble in winning blue ribbons at the coming show. According to officials of the big show the unusual number of swine entries is almost certain to result in a record-breaking hog exhibit. To encourage hog raising prizes for swine of leading breeds are offered at the Prince William Fair, Manassas, Va., Aug. 18 to 20.

STORM RAGES OVER COUNTY

Nineteen Cattle Killed by One Lightning Stroke—Crop Loss of $2,500

Nineteen cattle valued at more than $2,000 killed by one stroke of lightning and a single crop loss estimated at $2,500 head the list of toll exacted by the severe electrical and wind storm which passed over this section Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-five head cattle owned by Mr. McNeill Green, of Aden, had sought shelter under a hickory tree on Mr. Green's grazing land near Haymarket when the bolt came, claiming nineteen victims. The property on which the cattle were killed is known as Wayside farm and was purchased by Mr. Green about two years ago from Mr. F. M. Osborn.

The storm apparently centered with all its fury on Ben Lomond, the farm of Mr. F. W. Bruch about four miles north of Manassas, where the chief loss, according to Mr. R. B. Wagoner, manager of the farm, was 70 acres of corn valued at about $2,500. The terrific wind which accompanied the storm played havoc with the corn fields, flattening to the ground the fine growth of ten and eleven-foot corn and reducing the leaves to strings. Eighty acres of oats on the same farm were too far from maturity to be damaged.

Nineteen locust and apple trees in the yard at Ben Lomond were broken off from two to six feet from the ground, some of the trees being as much as two feet in diameter. A large two-foot oak growing at a pasture fence was uprooted.

Mr. Wagoner, who was in a lower field near Bull Run when the storm broke, states that his truck under power while hastening out of the storm was lifted through a barbed wire fence a distance of nine feet into a cornfield, dislodging two posts supporting the fence. Two loads of hay were blown over, he said, and continued in spinning motion for several turns before the revolutions were stopped by a partition fence. The tongue of one team broke, releasing the horses, and in the other the animals were blown along with the load. One of the farm men was blown into a barbed wire fence where he was obliged to remain until the storm had spent itself.

Tops were blown off three 28-36-ton hay ricks. The ricks were built long, presenting a broadside to the wind. Paper roofs were blown from four buildings and all wires on the place were blown down.

The storm raged furiously in all sections of the county, including Manassas, although no serious damage is reported here. Lightning played on the mountain peaks, striking the hillsides low-hanging clouds turned mid-afternoon into moonless night and flying sheets of dust added to the blinding atmosphere.

Lightning struck the barn of Mr. Henry Kaiser, near Brentsville, killing two horses, one of which was owned by Supervisor T. M. Russell, of Canova, who was making arrangements to thresh wheat there. Four other horses in the barn escaped and wheat and hay were undamaged. One board, where the lightning struck, was torn away.

Reports from Haymarket state that lightning struck a silo on the farm of Mr. C. J. Gillis and a henhouse belonging to Mr. T. O. Latham. The roof was torn from the silo and the building otherwise damaged. Only one chicken was killed out of the large flock in Mr. Latham's henhouse although the building was badly damaged. Mr. J. M. Reid, of Greenwich, lost a hog.

Hail was reported in the mountain section of upper Prince William.

Lower Prince William suffered from the wind storm, corn-crops bearing the brunt of the damage, according to reports from Neabco. Trees heavy with fruit were broken off.

Lightning struck a stable belonging to Mr. J. C. Heflin at Tackett's Mill, Stafford county, killing five horses. Seven horses were left stable, three owned by Mr. Heflin and four belonging to a neighbor. The building was not set on fire and no other damage was done.

MUSICAL PROGRAM SUNDAY

Unique Program of Familiar Songs to Be Held at Asbury Church.

A musical program entitled "Life's Railway to Heaven" is scheduled to take the place of the evening service on Sunday at Asbury United Brethren Church. Members of other congregations are to take part and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The program comprises a "grand railway excursion across Judea's plains, by Calvary's heights to Canaan's happy land." Special selections will be rendered at each station, including Preludeville, Uniontown, when all present will sing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and Psalm Summit and Prayer Point, when the twenty-third Psalm will be read and prayer offered by the pastor. Other stations are Grouch Hollow and Kicksaville, where no stops are allowed.

Mr. J. W. Smith, who will play the organ, has charge of the evening's music. Miss Mai Fountain and Miss Mary Snook, of Bristow, will sing "Life Is Like a Mountain Railway" and a male quartette composed of Rev. J. M. Bell, Hon. C. J. Mastas and Messrs. J. W. Smith and D. P. Bell will sing at Somewhere Station.

Repairs are being made in the sidewalk on Centre street east of the Methodist Church, the stone pavement being raised to a higher level to prevent the street from being flooded food in raw state to go to waste when prices for foods are so high all over the country. Some special prizes are offered at the coming Prince William Fair, Manassas,

Among the Manassas business men who testified for proponents as to his mental qualifications, sobriety and general character were Mayor W. Hill Brown and Messrs. W. E. McCoy, W. F. Hibbs, C. E. Fisher, James R. Larkin, F. R. Saunders, P. A. Lipscomb, J. L. Bushong, E. R. Conner and C. E. Nash. Clara Conway, Mr. Portner's colored housekeeper, testified for his mental soundness and declared that he had never been drunk in her presence. Other testimony substantiating the proponents' claim to his general character or business ability was given by Mr. C. K. Bodine, of Nokaville; Mr. A. H. Green, of Aden, both of whom had dealt with him on business matters, and Mrs. Sarah D. Clapham, of Washington, widow of Ashton G. Clapham, prominent Washington banker who died some months ago.

Another recess until Monday is expected this afternoon.

Other court business of the week follows:

MISS EMMONS WEDS

MR. J. A. SESSIONS

Young Couple Will Go to Michigan to Live—Bridegroom in Y. M. C. A. Work.

Compton Farm, near Bristol, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Emmons, has been the scene of a gay house party for more than a week, the festivities culminating Wednesday with the marriage of their daughter, Miss Frances Marjorie Emmons, to Mr. John Alden Sessions, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The ceremony was performed at three o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. Alexander Stuart Gibson, of Manassas. The single ring service was used.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white georgette with pearl trimming, her only ornament being a lavalier, the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds.

Pink, the bride's favorite color, was used to decorate the long tables where a dainty wedding luncheon was served. Pink and white sweet peas formed the centerpiece and pink bonbon baskets were the favors.

The bride has been here with her parents for some time, after being engaged in social service work at her former home in Ohio and elsewhere. Mr. Sessions is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Michigan. The young couple received many beautiful and varied gifts.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sessions left, amid a shower of good wishes and rice, to spend a few days in Washington and Buffalo before traveling by boat to their future home at the "Soo."

Among the wedding guests were Mrs. C. W. Dawson, of Akron, Ohio; Miss Sarah Lickorish, Mrs. A. C. Newton, Miss Anne Husted, Mr. C. T. Deeter and Mr. O. L. Keener, all of Cleveland.

OFFICERS BUSY ON FAIR PLANS

Two Silver Trophies Offered—
 Special Train Schedule—
 Entries Arrive.

Arrangements continue to go forward in the interest of the Prince William fair here August 18, 19 and 20. Entries have begun to arrive and eight men have begun the work of putting the fair grounds in order.

Outside of the usual fair departments which farmers and housewives are expected to make attractive and educational with their exhibits many special features are scheduled, among these the Dufour and Tilford shows from Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Dufour, representing this carnival company, visited Manassas Tuesday to confer with managers of the fair. Among the special attractions offered are a high dive by Daredevil Oliver; John Donovan, advertised as "the man who sings to beat the band;" the Flying Moores, five phenomenal trapeze artists, and Pain's fireworks which were a feature of last year's fair.

An official program is to be issued just before the fair and the committee in charge will solicit advertisements for this catalogue until Saturday night. The fair catalogue was issued by the Manassas Journal some weeks ago and copies will be furnished free by the secretary of the fair.

Mrs. Mitchell Harrison, of Vint Hill Farm, has offered a handsome sterling silver cup to the best four-year-old hunter bred and owned in Prince William or Fauquier counties. The horses must be shown over the regular 4-foot jumps and in and out. The cup for permanent ownership must be won by the same exhibitor for two consecutive years.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson, president of the fair association and proprietor of the Manassas Feed and Milling Company, will offer a cup for the best exhibit of products produced on a single farm. One or more adjoining tracts of land operated under a single management during the current year is considered a single farm and each exhibit will be limited to a space twenty feet in length. The President's cup will also carry the original first premium of $40 offered by the fair association. Articles entered in this class will not be allowed to compete in any other class. The class is open to exhibitors from any part of Virginia or adjoining states.

The ticket campaign will begin Monday and close at the end of two weeks, when the champion ticket-seller will be declared the winner of the grand prize of $25. Season tickets, good both day and night, will be sold for $2 and every worker in the ticket-selling contest will receive eight per cent of the sales he has made during the contest. All fair boosters who desire to enter the contest have been invited to communicate with President B. Lynn Robertson or Secretary H. W. Sanders, both of whom are prepared to give complete and enthusiastic information on any topic pertaining to the fair.

Another special feature is the grand tournament on the closing day under the direction of Mr. Rolfe Robertson, of Haymarket.

As many visitors are expected all households prepared to accommodate persons who attend the fair are requested to leave their names with Mrs. E. V. Vaughan, of the New Prince William Hotel, stating whether lodging or board can be provided. This will be of material assistance to those who come to Manassas to attend the fair, saving them the house-to-house canvases which would occupy much time which might be more enjoyably and more profitably spent at the fair.

Special train service arranged by the Southern railway will include a train leaving Strasburg at 6 a. m. each day and arriving at Manassas at 9 a. m., the return trip starting from Manassas at 10:30 p. m. and ending at Strasburg about 1:30. A special train will be operated between Manassas and the fair grounds at intervals during the three days of the fair and Harrisonburg branch trains will stop at the fair grounds on each trip. The branch trains include northbound trains arriving at Manassas at 10:05 a. m. and 8:05 p. m. and southbound trains arriving at 10:15 a. m. and 8:10 p. m.

Special Notice To Farmers

One of the most important things ever done by the Agricultural Experiment Station of North Carolina was a test to determine if National Hog Remedy has any value to the Farmer. A bulletin issued about June first tells that in a series of tests some figures were brought out that are startling.

Fifteen pigs of similar weight were bought for a test that was continued at the Raleigh test farm 88 days. One lot of these pigs were given National Hog Remedy and another lot was given the same feed but no remedy.

In the lot where the National Hog Remedy was given the hogs gained .70 of a pound each. In the lot where nothing was given but the feed the hogs gained only .47 of a pound.

Two hogs on National Hog Remedy increased in weight on the same ration as much as three hogs did without it.

Furthermore this test showed and stated that by using National Hog Remedy a saving was realized of approximately $9.00 on each hundred pounds increase in live weight.

National Hog Remedy is sold by all dealers at One Dollar a package. In case your dealer cannot supply you kindly send us your name and we will see you get it. We do not use a filler to enlarge the package and we use high grade chemicals only.

One of the most severe electrical storms in many years struck Haymarket and vicinity on Saturday evening, doing much damage in many places.

The worst toll the storm in this section was nineteen cattle struck by lightning on the Wayside farm owned by Mr. McDuff Green. The cattle were lying under a small hickory tree when the bolt came, killing them instantly but hardly leaving a mark on the tree.

A silo on the farm of Mr. C. J. Gill was struck, the roof was torn off and the building was otherwise damaged. Lightning also struck a hen house on the farm of Mr. T. O. Latham. Although the house was full of chickens only one was killed, while the building was badly damaged.

Much other damage of a minor nature was done. A man from Haymarket on his way to Beverly Mills after a load of feed had nearly reached there when the storm, accompanied by hail near the mountains, struck him. A tree was blown across the road and although not large it was not quickly removed and the wayfarer was completely drenched.

Mr. C. D. S. Carter, of Baltimore, stopped here for a short while enroute on his way from Warrenton to his home. Mr. Carter has not been in this section for nearly forty years, having until recently resided in the far north.

Miss Virginia Bennett, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mrs. J. E. Jordan for a few days.

Mrs. Sarah Jordan, of Danville, was here the first of the week to see her son Jack who has been very ill. He is much better at this writing.

Moving pictures will be shown as usual Saturday evening at the parish hall. The week's attractions have not been announced as yet.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson, of Manassas, president of the Prince William Fair Association, accompanied by a party including Mr. H. W. Sanders, secretary of the fair, visited Haymarket during the week, traveling by automobile in the interest of the fair.

Worst Storm in Years

Just above Thoroughfare village the roads were badly washed and were in poor condition for travel several days. All the older residents say it was the worst storm known in many years.

Rev. Edward Taber, preached at Haymarket Sunday morning. "Paul, the great apostle, was a typical reformer," he said. "He was at his very best when denouncing evil and sin. But there was another side to his character. He could be gentle as well as domineering; could plead as well as threaten. In his famous ode to love we find exemplified the gentle side of his character—'Love suffereth long, and is kind.'"

"The ideals of the Jews at the time of Paul were in large degree the ideals of the Roman empire," the Baptist pastor continued. "Might, power, success, was the dream of the Roman Paul, with his gospel of Christ paints and Manassas in that characteristic kindly, merry and love."

Many Attend Lawn Polo

A lawn party was held Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. S. Claiborne. Quite a number of people were present and an enjoyable time is reported.

THE POETRY CORNER

The poetry corner, as if to continue its reputation for variety, this week for the first time gives the place of honor to a favorite poem submitted by a reader whose shrinking modesty bids us withhold his (?) name. That interrogation point cleverly concealed by parentheses is put there because "his" was not quite the proper word to apply to the sex of our valued friend and contributor, but on account of the extreme modesty aforementioned we felt some delicacy in using the other pronoun, about which we apologise for being so indefinite.

It is a disappointment to us to find this sensitive reader, for we had begun to believe our poetry corner a family affair, where all the members of our big family of readers would feel the freedom of the family gathering place and meet without the usual constraint which attends publicity.

But because the poem is very much worth while, we share it with you as the contribution of an unknown friend, holding the fervent hope that not one of you will make the same disappointing request in submitting your favorite poem for publication in the future.

The poem, which is entitled "The Great Guest Comes," was written by Edwin Markham and appeared some time ago in the Dial.

The Great Guest Comes.

While the cobbler mused there passed his pane,
A beggar drenched by the driving rain,
He called him in from the stormy street
And gave him shoes for his bruised feet.

The beggar went and there came a crows,
Her face with wrinkles of sorrow sown.

A bundle of fagots bowed her back,
And she was spent with the wrench and rack,
He gave her his loaf, and steadied her load.

As she took her way on the weary road,
Then to his door came a little child,
Lost and afraid in the world so wild,
In the big dark world. Catching it up,
He gave it milk in the waiting cup,
And led it home to its mother's arms,
Out of the reach of the world's alarms.

The day went down in the crimson west,
And with it the hope of the blessed Guest;
And Conrad sighed as the world turned gray:

"Why is it, Lord, that your feet delay?
Did you forget that this was the day?"
Then soft in the silence a voice was heard:

"Lift up your heart, for I kept my word,
Three times I came to your friendly door,
Three times my shadow was on your floor,

I was the beggar with bruised feet;
I was the woman you gave to eat;
I was the child on the homeless street."

WOOL AND WOOLENS

Not long ago the president of the woolen manufacturing corporation that is generally, even if unjustly, known as the Woolen Trust, was indicted under the Lever Act for profiting in clothing.

The indictment was based upon the wide margins between the cost prices of woolen clothes manufactured by the corporation and the selling prices thereof. The case did not get a hearing in open court, because the defendant averred that cloth was not clothing; and the federal court upheld that contention.

Meanwhile, it may be interesting to sheep growers to observe the wool market. Wool is selling at twenty-five cents a pound, or thereabout. Even at that figure, there does not appear to be any demand for wool, and this surely seems singular.

At the base price of twenty-five cents a pound there should be, in the absence of any control of the purchasing market, a demand for wool which would enable everyone to discard shoddy; but the demand is not discernible. At twenty-five cents wool cannot be produced profitably, yet the manufacturers do not want it badly even at that figure.

This is another added to the many instances of the injustice, the imbecility, of placing the blame for high costs at the door of the producer. When wool sold for eighty-five cents, the cry was that the price for the staple made the high prices inevitable. What is the excuse today?

That is the obverse, let us look at the other side. No people are going to default period, the production of any article that cannot be profitably marketed. There are two courses open to the sheep grower, and only two.

He may send his flock to market and sacrifice them for lamb and mutton or he may combine with his fellows, demand that his banks finance him and hold his fleeces for a remunerative price.

The former is folly; the latter is sound sense, and it is workable. Already there are evidences that the sheep growers are combining. A number have banded together in Virginia, notably at Manassas and at Staunton, and there are co-operative wool exchangers in other States, pledged to hold for a fair price and pooling their holdings. To be successful, this sort of organization cannot be temporary and haphazard in area—Southern Planter.

METHODIST LADIES MEET

Mission Study Class in Session at Mrs. Browning's Home.
(Mrs. W. L. Browning, Supt.)
The Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church held its regular monthly meeting on July 15 and the increased attendance of the members was indeed a gratification to the officers.

The need of christian workers in Brazil was very forcibly presented by various stirring articles read by different ladies and the heartfelt prayers offered by everyone present that God will quicken the zeal of us at home stirred the hearts of all.

It was decided to hold the first meeting of the Mission Study Class at the home of Mrs. W. L. Browning. Consequently the ladies met with Mrs. Browning on Thursday, July 22, and spent a very profitable hour in the study of "Making America Safe" by Goddard and MacDonell.

Many startling facts were brought out, one being the fearful results that must come to our loved America as a result of the awful profanity used by our young people and children. Parents are urged to use their influence and authority to stop this terrible sin in our midst.

Of the something over 100,000,000 people in America 55,000,000 make no pretention to religion, 30,000,000 are foreign born or children of foreigners and 12,000,000 are negroes. No wonder such men as Dr. F. B. Myers, John R. Mott and Wm. T. Ellis say "The greatest mission problem of the world is to christianize America."

His brother, Mr. Luther Biedler, also employed by the Pennsylvania, left immediately for Newark and returned with the body to Winston, Culpeper county. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery at Culpeper on Friday. Funeral services were held at the Winston Presbyterian Church by Rev. Mr. Holman, of the M. E. Church, South, assisted by Rev. Thomas W. Hooper, of the Culpeper Presbyterian Church, who sang "Some Time We'll Understand." At the grave "Nearer, My God, to Thee" was very sweetly rendered by Rev. Mr. Hooper and Mr. Edwin Perry.

REFUSES TO MAKE FOR FARM AGENT

County Board of Supervisors Decline to Make Appropriation to Continue Work.

The work of the county farm demonstration agent in Prince William was discontinued when the board of supervisors held their regular meeting at the courthouse on Monday. The additional emergency appropriations made by the federal government during the war had been exhausted and appeal was made to the supervisors to finance the work. They recently agreed to appropriate $600 toward the annual salary of the home demonstration agent for the county.

This action of the board apparently means that the county farm demonstration agent's work will end July 31, unless money to pay his salary is advanced by the agricultural authorities at Blisckburg or raised independently by the farmers here.

All members of the board attended the July meeting, including J. L. Dawson, of Occoquan district, chairman; William Crow, Dumfries district; McDuff Green, Brentsville district; O. C. Hutchison, Gainesville district; T. M. Russell, Coles district, and A. S. Robertson, Manassas district.

A summary of the day's business follows:

Order for warrant of $764.88 to J. P. Leachman, treasurer, amount to be charged to permanent road fund.

Appropriation of $500 allowed to aid Cherry Hill citizens in opening new road from Cherry Hill to state highway near Dumfries.

Reports of R. E. Smith and S. M. Haislip, justices of the peace, received. S. M. Davis appointed superintendent of roads for Occoquan district for term ending December 31, 1921.

Order for warrant on county fund payable to T. M. Russell, paymaster, to meet pay roll on road from Lowe's corner to Independent Hill, amount to be replaced in county fund by state aid fund.

Hunting season for county to open November 1 and end December 31; it being unlawful for any person to hunt, range, kill or capture any wild fowls, birds or animals of any kind in the county during any other period of the year.

Reports of viewers dated July 26, 1920, with reference to erection of bridge at Manly's ford on Bull Run adopted. A. S. Robertson appointed committee to act with commission to be appointed by Loudoun county to receive bids for the erection of the bridge and report to board.

Position of farm demonstration agent discontinued. Motion carried by votes of Supervisors Dawson, Crow, Green and Hutchison against Supervisors Robertson and Russell.

Emergency act increasing annual amount allowed to sheriff and clerk having become a law March 10, annual allowance to sheriff fixed at $800 and clerk allowed $200 for extra work, both appropriations beginning July 1. One opposing vote cast by Supervisor Hutchison.

T. M. Russell, J. L. Dawson and Charles R. McDonald appointed to settle with treasurer for 1919-20.

"Pop, You Are Old Fashioned!"

—"How is that?"
—"Because you're always giving in to illness. It simply isn't being done any more."
—"Son, you're only making motions with your mouth. If you were a man in middle life, your talk would be different. For the past ten years, off and on, I've suffered, and I can trace it all back to constipation."
—"Of course, you have. And do you know why? Because you're the greatest little laxative pill-taker in the state. You've been punishing your intestinal system with all sorts of mineral waters, salts, pills and castor oil for ten years; and now you wonder why you aren't feeling up to scratch. Turn a leaf, Dad. Get wise to yourself."
—"It's all very well to talk, but what is a man to do?"
—"Listen, Dad. Do you know what everybody is taking now for constipation? Nujol! You see it everywhere—in cars, hotels, college dormitories, ocean liners. And why? Because Nujol encourages the bowels to move naturally and promotes regular movements.

—"Nujol works on an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This helps all those tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along and out of the system. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant. I always take it when I feel a little off."
—"Humph! How do you take it?"
—"A tablespoonful before you wind up the old clock at night and another in the morning, for a few days. And say, Dad, you'll soon be feeling like a two-year-old feels when the pistol bangs for the start."
—"All right, son. I'm sold. Let me have your bottle so I can start it tonight."

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing the Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

TO HOLD REUNION

Veterans of Fighting Eightieth Will Meet at Richmond September 4, 5 and 6.

Thousands of Virginia's selected men already are planning their second reunion on Richmond, where the first annual reunion of the Eightieth (Blue Division) Veterans' Association will be held September 4, 5 and 6. They will arrive in the convention city, Camp Lee where the division was trained for its battle effectiveness over a three year period, almost to the day after the first groups of selected men from Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia passed through to begin their period of army life.

The Veterans' Association of the Division, which made an enviable record for achievement against the Germans, was formed while the men still were in Europe, and, since their return to civil life, has grown to conspicuous proportions. At present, there are approximately 17,000 men on the membership lists, each of them having seen active service under Maj. Gen. Adelbert R. Smith, who is to attend the first reunion. Only former members of the division are eligible for membership, and it is expected that between 6,000 and 8,000 of these veterans will participate in the drive to Richmond for the first annual reunion.

Extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment of the men and for affording them accommodations at minimum rates while in the city. Business sessions, at which the association's organization on a permanent basis is to be perfected, are to be short and snappy. Picnics and a big ball at one of the Richmond armories are to afford the best of which Richmond is capable of producing, while minimum railroad rates and the billeting of visitors in specially arranged dormitories will reduce expenses to the lowest possible figure. Committees of the association, with those representing the Richmond post, already are busily engaged in perfecting these details. The men themselves now are voting on the advisability of parading over a short route, while a memorial service, at which United States Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, who had a son with the Eightieth, is likely to be the principal speaker, will be a Sunday feature. Saturday evening, September 4, will be devoted to the reunion of smaller units within the division.

The fact that the reunion dates have been chosen so as to include Labor Day is expected to make possible the attendance of large numbers of veterans who otherwise might find it impossible to be present. This is a light season on the farms also, and few will be prevented from renewing acquaintances with billet and dug-out buddies because of work. Saturday is a half holiday and Sunday and Monday full holidays, so that the committee in charge of arrangements believes those attending from a distance will have to lose only a half day Saturday.

Mr. R. Allen Ammons, 420 American National Bank Building, Richmond, Va., is chairman of the reunion committee and inquiries should be addressed to him.

THOROUGHFARE

Miss Anne Griffith is enjoying a camping party at Compton.

Mr. W. H. Butler spent a few days in Alexandria the past week.

Mr. Moss Jacobs made a business trip to Manassas Monday.

Mr. C. L. Garrison was a Washington visitor Saturday.

Mr. G. Disowsay spent the week-end in New York.

GOLD RIDGE CLUB

(Robert Brown, Reporter)
The Junior Workers Club of Gold Ridge public school met at the school house Saturday afternoon. Ten members were present. The meeting was called to order and presided over by E. E. Brown, as the president and vice-president were both absent.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, the members were called on to report what they were doing. Very fine reports were given. Miss Gilbert, our county home demonstration agent, gave a lesson in judging poultry.

Our next meeting will be held August 28 at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present.

Rev. Thomas MacLeod preached an excellent sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church on "His name shall endure forever," the text being found in the 17th verse of the 72nd Psalm. Rev. Mr. MacLeod pictured the earth with the elimination of everything pertaining to the church, but showed the impossibility of such a condition on account of the "many who have gone on before, who are praising and adoring Him, and witnessing for Him forever."

Misses Effie Adams and Violet Ford have returned from Dumfries, where Miss Adams visited her sister, Mrs. Claude Brawner, and Miss Ford visited her sister, Mrs. Lovelace.

Mr. Smith spent Sunday at "Red Gables," the home of Mr. W. H. Richards.

Mrs. J. J. Brooke and her daughter, Mrs. Roy Rittenhouse, left Friday for their home in Norristown, Pa.

Mr. Lawrence Kincheloe, whose hip was injured recently when his horse fell on him, was taken to a hospital in Washington last Friday and is improving after having the dislocated hip pulled into place.

Mr. Southard has slightly improved in health since coming home.

Miss Elizabeth Detwiler is still quite sick.

Mrs. W. B. Doak and daughters had the misfortune to upset their vehicle Sunday when going to church. In trying to avoid a mud hole they went too far up on the bank of the road and turned over, spilling out into the mud. Miss Hazel Doak rode the horse home to change her clothing, while Mrs. Doak, who was quite badly though not seriously injured, went on to the village, accompanied by Miss Katherine. It is to be hoped the accident will cause some of the bad roads to be mended in the near future.

The farmers are busy harvesting hay, which is unusually good, thanks to the numerous rains.

The baseball club gave a dance in the hall Wednesday evening.

AMERICAN WORKERS

(Miss Thelma Florence, Reporter)
Our club meeting was held at Thornton School on Thursday afternoon, July 22. We had quite a few visitors and all reported having enjoyed themselves. We worked on our aprons, while Miss Gilbert gave us a lesson in canning blackberries. All the girls were very much interested in it. Our bread-making was a success. Miss Gilbert is going to give a festival at Thornton school, August 13 at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited.

When the train came in back in 1910

TEN years ago you might have seen one or two automobiles waiting outside the station, when the weather was pleasant.

Today the square is crowded with them. And most of the cars you generally see there are moderate-price cars.

There is one tire, at least, that makes no distinction between small cars and large cars so far as quality is concerned—the U. S. Tire.

Every U. S. Tire is just like every other in quality—the best its builders know how to build.

Whatever the size of your car, the service you get out of U. S. Tires is the same. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that sets the standard to which U. S. tires are made.

We come in contact with the small car owner every day and we have found that he is just as much interested as the big car owner.

We feel the same way about it. That's why we represent U. S. Tires in this community.

COAL, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS

A SENSIBLE INVESTMENT

The most sensible way to invest your money is to keep your property in good condition and to have a home which will make your family comfortable and other buildings which will properly house your belongings.

You get the direct benefit from money invested in this way from day to day, in addition to the actual increase in the value of your property.

There have been some reductions in the price of lumber by the mills and we are reducing our prices to meet these, regardless of the cost of the different items we have in stock.

STATE FARMERS MEET NEXT WEEK

Farm Women Also to Hold Interesting and Profitable Session at Blacksburg.

The eighth annual meeting of the State Farmers' Institute will be held at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, August 4, 5 and 6. While this meeting is generally referred to in this way it is really a "farmers week." When all the farmers organizations in Virginia send representatives to the agricultural college to learn just what is being done there. Individual farmers and farm women have the same privilege and arrangements are being made to entertain just as many people as may find it possible to be present.

All visitors who wish them will find accommodations in the college dormitories and meals for all will be served at the college dining hall. A fee of fifty cents for the three days will be charged for lodging in the barracks and meals will cost $2 a day, or 75 cents a single meal. Visitors expecting to stay in the dormitories must bring sheets, towels and all necessary toilet articles. A limited number of rooms will be available in the town and those wishing to make reservations should write to the Extension Division, Blacksburg, Virginia.

The program this year will be very practical and will include talks by some of the best known men in the agricultural world, demonstrations, inspection trips over the college farm and barns and moving pictures of agricultural subjects in the evening.

Some of the speakers expected to attend are: Hon. E. C. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, Senator Carter Glass, Dr. Clarence Poe, the progressive editor of the Progressive Farmer, Joseph A. Turner, Dr. George A. Boinmels, Hon. N. B. Westcott, George W. Guy, Charles E. Hasset and others.

The morning sessions will be given over to joint conferences for men and women, featured by round table discussions. The afternoons will be given up to demonstrations in wool grading, treatment of wheat diseases, poultry culling, clothing exhibits, steam pressure canning demonstrations, etc. From four to six o'clock guides will show visitors over the experimental plots, the barns, creamery and other departments of the college.

The Institute will have as much of interest for the farm women of Virginia as it does for the men. Programs for the women have been arranged by Mrs. M. M. Davis, state home demonstration agent, and one of the barracks buildings will be set aside for the exclusive use of the women.

There will be special demonstrations Wednesday and Thursday afternoons in the use of the steam canner and the fireless cooker. Food cooked in these labor, fuel and time saving devices will be served so that the women can know for themselves what valuable aids these are to farm women.

Speakers invited particularly to interest the women are Mrs. Williamson, of the Industrial Department of the Children's Bureau, Washington, and Mrs. Lauderbeck, home demonstration agent for Hamilton county, Tennessee. The latter will tell of the wonderful marketing work that has been developed in Chattanooga to bring the surplus products of the farm direct from producer to consumer. The subject of money making is one of vital interest to girls and women on the farm.

LURAY HAS QUAKE AND STORM

Wind Blows and Hail Does Heavy Damage There.

Following an earthquake, this county, at a late hour Saturday evening, was visited by one of the most severe electrical storms ever known, says a news dispatch from Luray. On account of a badly crippled telephone system the full extent of the storm's damage is not known. In Springfield district there was destruction of orchards, badly damaged crops on account of hail, and burned buildings. Abraham H. Speak, a farmer living six miles north of Luray lost his barn, wheat, hay, straw and farming implements. In the Kinball section of the same district apple orchards have been destroyed, according to reports. A short time before the storm struck the county the second most severe earthquake ever known here was experienced in Luray it was particularly severe, rattling windows and doors.

WATCH YOUR LABEL

When your subscription payment is made by mail, please do not ask us to send a receipt. Watch the address slip on your paper to see that the label is changed with each payment. In better times it is our policy to make such corrections on the mailing list weekly as they occur, but in times like the present when we are seriously handicapped by lack of labor, the time occasionally stretches into a month. If the change is not made within a reasonable length of time, ask to know the reason why.

What Kills A Storage Battery

IF YOU let a windmill tank become nearly empty repeatedly the staves will soon fall to pieces. Substituting a storage battery below the danger point, repeatedly, has a similar effect on the battery plates. A Matthews plant does not permit this. Long before they are exhausted by the danger point, the "Automatic Charge-taker" automatically starts the generator recharging and stops it automatically when the batteries are full.

MATTHEWS ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER PLANTS

protect an overloaded battery against heating by automatically taking ALL the load on the generator. But if the generator can't carry it all, the batteries automatically "cut in" and both bear the burden. Long before that does less than this is the Full Automatic and is out of date. This is the Matthews plant.

Matthews rating is based on generator capacity. ALL OTHER batteries make a race to nowhere.
