We are glad to know that Mr. Maxfield Weber is able to be out again. He passed through Canova Saturday en route to Manassas.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Purcell expect to leave this week for Harrisonburg, where they will spend the winter. Owing to so much sickness in the neighborhood the president of the Woodbine Civic League has ordered the meeting postponed until Saturday night, December 18, at which time a good program will be given, and we hope to have Mr. C. J. Meete with us. The November meeting was scheduled for Saturday night, but it is thought best to postpone it.

HAYMARKET

Rev. Thomas Browne preached an excellent sermon Sunday in St. Paul's Church. There will be services next Sunday, preparatory to Thanksgiving services, the hours for which will be announced Sunday. Since Bro. Browne has been with us St. Paul's Church has prospered greatly, and the services have been conducted in a manner deserving great credit from our people.

Mr. Henry Claggett is making preparations to improve "Waterloo" farm, recently purchased by him.

The severe rainstorm of Tuesday held this section in its grip for twenty-four hours, being the most severe known here since W. H. Taft was elec-

BUCKEHAL

Last Monday night as Mr. Will Smith was descending from the loft of his barn he accidentally stepped upon the outside edge of a box, which overturned, throwing him to the ground, the edge of the box striking him in the side. Dr. Simpson was called at once and found that one of Mr. Smith's ribs was broken. At this writing he is suffering great pain.

Mr. F. C. Cornwell has moved his family from Mr. John Beaver's farm to Mrs. Cornwell's parents home across the "Run."

LABOR LEADER SAYS NONE
COULD BE DISAPPOINTED
IN REESE FORMULA R-11

Secretary Central Labor Union Declares He Was Benefited More by R-11 Than all Other Medicines and Says Sufferers of Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles Should Never Experiment When This Wonderful Remedy Can Be Had.

Sufferers of stomach, liver and kidney trouble "will never have to experiment if The Reese Formula R-11 can be procured," says W. F. Dodson, corresponding and recording secretary of the Lynchburg Central Labor Union. Mr. Dodson says "no one can be disappointed in this wonderful remedy, which he is absolutely sure he is right in recommending to anyone and every one." This Labor Leader continues:

"I had stomach and liver troubles for a number of years, and took many kinds of remedies which, it seemed, did me very little, if any, good. I had no appetite, and nothing that I ate seemed to agree with me. I just about decided to let the medicines go and tough it out when I saw an advertisement of The Reese Formula R-11. I gave this very little notice, however, as I had tried so many remedies that had only disappointed me. One day while I was talking with Mr. E. M. McGhee, who works in the shops with me, I asked him how he felt, for I knew he had been sick with a very serious stomach trouble. He told me he was a great deal better; that he was taking a medicine that did him more good than anything he had ever taken. This remedy, he said, was The Reese Formula R-11, which he bought at the Union Crafts Cooperative Store.

Knowing Mr. McGhee to be a conservative man and on the strength of his recommendation I decided to get a bottle of R-11, which I did that evening. I can state positively and truthfully that I received more real benefit from this remedy in one week than I ever got from all medicines I had tried. My appetite improved, indigestion disappeared, and I felt better generally than I had in months. I am very thankful I found out about this splendid remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and feel that no one will have to experiment any more if The Reese Formula R-11 can be procured. I would qualify this only to say that I think anyone that has had these troubles for any length of time should take two or three bottles of R-11 and I feel sure they will not be disappointed."

Anyone suffering from the after-effects of "flu" and pneumonia, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, lumbago, headache, female weakness, urinary, bladder, stomach, liver and kidney troubles, will do well to stay in at Coker's Pharmacy, Manassas, Va., and get a bottle of this wonderful remedy today, or write the Medical Adviser, Medical Department, The Reese Formula Company, Huntington, W. Va., for advice concerning your own particular case.—Advertisement.

AN INTERESTING ARTICLE
 Every citizen of Manassas should make sure of reading the first of Mr. Wagener's series of articles on "What Manassas Needs," which appears in this issue. Here is presented an array of facts that will be readily grasped and which for the first time have been set forth in the form of a constructive article.

What Mr. Wagener says about the two roads Manassas must choose between, the choice largely determining the future progress of our town, is aptly taken. And his reference to time itself as never solving problems such as we face, strikes us as a bugle call to concerted action.

The columns of The Journal have been thrown open to signed contributions on the subjects treated upon in this series of articles. Now is your opportunity to "have your say" and we, in the interests of Manassas, urge you to avail yourselves of this opportunity.

Future articles on "What Manassas Needs" promise to be as interesting and helpful as the one given this week, and we are sure our Manassas readers will see that not a single one of the series is overlooked.

DEFECTS IN THE LAW

The visit of the commissioner general of immigration to Europe for the purpose of investigating some of the immigration troubles at their source should prove helpful to Congress in framing a revised law and to the Department of Labor in administering it. That there is much room for improvement is generally understood, and if Mr. Caminetti is able to glean facts during his brief tour abroad which will contribute to a better understanding of the problems involved he will have done a real public service.

One phase of the immigration situation which needs immediate attention is the prevention of the arrival of immigrants at American ports only to be denied admission under the law. Ellis Island is now overcrowded with aliens awaiting the decision of administrative officers as to their eligibility. In all these cases the status of the alien should have been determined before he sailed for the United States. This would have saved him the expense of the voyage and would have relieved the American government of the annoyance and trouble of holding the immigrant under restraint until his right to land had been determined.

If the American officials were stationed at principal ports in foreign countries with authority to pass upon the admissibility of aliens who seek homes in the United States, it would be a blessing to many who look with longing eyes to the western hemisphere. There are innumerable instances where aliens sell their meager property and convert every belonging into cash in order to get passage money to this country, arriving here only to find they are not eligible under the law. If they had known that before sailing, they would not have sacrificed their scant belongings.

However, the question being one of vital interest to the people of this country, it must be approached from the American viewpoint rather than from that of ambitious aliens. Every consideration of American interest calls for the employment of all possible means to prevent the arrival here of foreigners who are not admissible under the statutes. The expense of boarding them pending adjudication of their cases, the trouble imposed upon government officials in getting the facts in each case and submitting them to the test of the law and the danger of undesirables slipping through the ports of entry by reason of congested conditions all demand an effective system of inspection at the port of sailing.

Years ago the steamship companies, in their competitive rush for business, carried any one to America who had the price of a ticket, regardless of his qualifications for admission to this country. This was cured to a large extent by the enactment of a law which placed certain responsibilities upon the transportation companies and required them to carry back to port of debarkation immigrants they had brought here and who because of poverty or physical defects were not admissible. It is impracticable, however, to shift all responsibility to the steamship people. If a system of inspection is to be inaugurated with a view to preventing the arrival at American ports of undesirables, it must be operated by the government under specific authority of law. This is a phase of the immigration question to which the House committee may well give careful consideration in framing the new act which it plans to submit to Congress this winter. Washington Post.

A Lazy Story.

At a recent dinner a number of people were telling of the laziest persons they had ever met or heard of. Some interesting specimens of the genus homo-laxibones were discussed, but the final story, we think, takes the prize. The story preceding it was as follows: "The laziest man I ever knew," said one young fellow, "was Bill Smythe. He was so lazy that when he started into a building he would get within the revolving door and wait for somebody to come along and revolve it."

"That man was as busy as a bee compared to Hank Perkins, down in Arkansas," said another young man. "Hank was given up to be the laziest man in the United States. He was so lazy he wouldn't get out of the sun when it was hot, or out of the rain when it was wet. One day Hank was sitting on the porch with his wife. As it happened, his back was to the road. A prominent farmer had just died, and the funeral procession passed Hank's house. The deceased was a man of considerable influence, and the procession was a long one. After it had passed the wife said, 'That was a mighty fine procession, Hank.' 'Yes, I guess it must 'a' been, said Hank. 'I would 'a' liked to 'a' seed it, but I was settin' wrong!'" —Dallas (Ga.) New Era.

Just as Dead.
 "Why do you turn out for every road hog that comes along?" said the miser, rather crossly. "The right of way is mine, isn't it?"
 "Oh, undoubtedly!" answered he, calmly. "As for our turning out, the reason is plainly suggested in this epitaph which appeared in a newspaper recently:
 "Here lies the body of William Jay Who died maintaining his right of way;
 He was right, dead right, as he sped along,
 But he's just as dead as if he's been wrong."
 —Boston Transcript.

Something Similar.

An English tourist was on a visit to Arran and decided to have a day's fishing. He made inquiries of local experts, and on being told that the clog, or hersey, would suit his purpose for lure, he sought the highland servant girl at his inn.
 "I say, my girl, can you get me some herseyes?" he asked.
 The girl looked at him stupidly.
 He repeated his question and added: "Why, girl did you never see a hersey?"
 "Nae, sir," replied the girl, shaking her head, "but wance I saw a coe jump over a cliff."
 —Chicago Daily News.

Mutual.

"Dear May," wrote the young man who had been turned down the night before and craved vengeance. "Last night I proposed to you, but really have forgotten whether you said yes or no. These little things slip one's mind so."
 "Dear Will," she wrote back. "I was so glad to get your letter. I remember having said no to some one last night, but had forgotten to whom. These little things certainly do."
 —American Legion Weekly.

Diplomacy.

Wills—"You don't mean to say you've kept a servant girl ten years! How do you do it?"
 Gills—"Diplomacy. The first girl we had we called a 'kitchen mechanic.' She stayed a day. The next one we called a 'hired girl.' She stayed a week. The next one we called a 'maid' and she stayed a month. Then in 1910 we got this one and called her a 'Domestic Secretary' and she's been with us ever since."
 —Judge.

Now is the time for every good woman to come to the aid of the party.

All a Phonograph Should Be

THE SERENADO
Plays All Makes of Records Perfectly

¶ Rich and mellow in tone, with a cabinet of handsome design and finish, The Serenado represents your idea of what a modern phonograph should be.

¶ To the lover of music—and who is not?—nothing is so important as tone. The Serenado has a tone of surprising sweetness—the best possible assurance that the machine will grow in your family's favor from year to year.

¶ The cabinets are the result of years of careful workmanship. Every machine makes a most acceptable piece of furniture—as well as providing for the enjoyment of the world's music.

AND YET NOT HIGH PRICED

¶ The Serenado is not the lowest priced machine made. If it were it could not possess its quality features—and you would soon tire of it. On the other hand, it is not in the high priced class, where you pay for a name and for some of the enormous expense in connection with the making of records.

¶ Let us play the Serenado for you and explain the reason for its wonderful tone. A Serenado for Christmas!—if you are considering this, it is none too early to talk the matter over with us. Easy payments or special discount for cash.

A GIFT OF DELCO-LIGHT
HAPPINESS GOES OUT FROM THE HEART BEFORE IT COMES IN. IT NEVER BY ANY CHANCE STAYS AT HOME. YOU CAN HARVEST IT FOR THE COMMON GOOD, BUT YOU CANNOT STORE IT FOR YOUR SOLE INDIVIDUAL USE. YOU CAN LEND IT BUT YOU CANNOT BORROW IT, YOU CAN EARN IT BUT YOU CANNOT BUY IT, YOU CAN SPEND IT BUT YOU CANNOT ACCUMULATE IT. A MAN MUST CONTRIBUTE TO THE STOCK OF HUMAN JOYS BEFORE HE CAN PARTICIPATE IN ITS PROFITS. TO SEEK HAPPINESS WITHOUT GIVING IT IS A FUTILE QUEST, AND ALL OUR LONGINGS FOR WHAT WE HAVE NOT LEARNED TO GIVE TO OTHERS ARE AS EMPTY BOTTLES IN THE WINE CELLAR OF THE SOUL. HAPPINESS REALLY NEVER WAS ANY GOOD IN THIS WORLD BUT TO GIVE AWAY.
F. R. HYNSON ADVISES GIVING ONE TO YOUR FAMILY FOR HERE IS A BIG PILE OF HAPPINESS IN EVERY PACKAGE OF DELCO-LIGHT, NOT ONLY FOR A DAY, BUT YEARS AFTERWARDS.

THE ACCUSER BECOMES SYMPATHIZER!

HAMILTON, the reformer, comes into court to prosecute the boy thief who had ransacked his pantry. And then he withdraws the charge. More, he offers to adopt the boy! What was there about this boy—or about his story—that made the accuser relent? Why did Hamilton suddenly determine to throw his home open to the lad who previously could not even be trusted into the pantry? Furthermore, why did the boy when the occasion arose later, risk his life to secure the documents that made Hamilton's political success a certainty?

It will all be made clear as crystal when you see the superb Wm. D. Taylor special production

WOMEN'S COATS AND SUITS

Our trip to New York this time was more than a success; it was a real marvel as to values we obtained; the delayed season and our spot cash secured values we did not believe possible. We regretted so many were disappointed in obtaining coats and suits at our "one week price sale," but we felt sure we had more than could be wanted, whereas the trade simply devoured them in three days and the balance of the time we had nothing to offer, so to make up for that disappointment we are going to give you another "one week price sale," beginning Saturday, November 20th, and closing Saturday, November 27th, at closing time.

$25.00 Women's Suits, $20.75 || $15.00 Women's Coats, $13.50
$35.00 Women's Suits, $30.75 || $25.00 Women's Coats, $20.75
$35.00 Women's Coats, $30.75

Now, when we tell you that our $15 coats are nearly as good as our former $25 coats, you can imagine what savings we are offering you. The prices include black and fancy coats, but for date named only. When we tell you that every coat and suit in the lots were manufactured to sell from double to three times what we offer them regularly for, you can imagine what it means getting them at this "One Week Price."

PE-RU-NA

For Coughs, Colds and Catarrh

Mr. E. W. Marshall, Brighton, Michigan, suffering from Systemic Catarrh involving Head, Nose, Throat and Stomach, claims a complete cure. His letter is convincing.

Mr. Marshall is just one of many thousands who have been benefited by Dr. Hartman's famous medicine in the past fifty years. It is by stimulating the digestion, purifying the blood and toning up the nerves that Pe-ru-na is able to exert such a soothing, healing influence upon the mucous membranes which line the body. It is a wonderfully effective remedy to restore strength after a protracted sickness, the grip or Spanish influenza.
