Rev. T. H. MacLeod preached an excellent sermon in the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m., on the 23rd Psalm.

Mr. MacLeod will be unable to be with us next Sunday, therefore there will be no services in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. W. C. Frye preached in the Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. on the short text, "He Tarried." He will preach next Sunday both morning and night.

Among those spending the week-end here were Misses Miriam Buckley, Violet Ford, Sara Ferguson, Katherine Doak and Mr. Elmer T. Ayre.

The clean-up day at the school house was not very well attended but with the use of some energy there was a good showing made both inside and out. The work is still being pushed by the teachers.

There is to be a called meeting of the civic and school league Friday night of this week at which civic and school matters of importance will be discussed.

Valentines have been the general order of the day. Misses Viola Kidwell and Marie Mock both had parties for the teen age young folks Monday night.

Mrs. Lucy Buckley was quite sick several days last week.

Mrs. Mathers, sr., is quite ill again at her daughter's, Mrs. Ensor.

Mrs. Brawner and children are at her father's home in the village. Miss Mary Woods, who has been with the family since Mrs. Adams' death, left Saturday for her home in Herndon. She was accompanied home by Charles Adams, jr.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. D. W. Buckley Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Brown, leader, gave us an interesting account of her personal experience among "The First Americans in Oklahoma, where she lived at one time.

Mrs. Detwiler gave some of her experiences when in Dakota; altogether the meeting was quite interesting.

Mrs. G. A. Hall continues ill at her home on School street, although somewhat better than at the last writing.

Spring seems to have come, judging from the general quality of the weather and the singing of the birds.

WOODBINE

Rev. J. A. Goliheh preached twice at Woodbine church Sunday. A large congregation was in attendance at each meeting, and we are glad to note the improvement of our Sunday School. May God's richest blessing rest upon this little band of faithful workers.

We are glad to know that Mr. Harry Holmes, who sustained a serious injury about ten days ago, is recovering as rapidly as could be expected, and we hope that he will soon be out again.

Little Elizabeth, the infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Goliheh, is very ill of bronchial pneumonia and at this writing is not much improved.

There seems to be a regular epidemic of colds through here. We find sickness in nearly every home.

Mrs. T. M. Russell and Miss Maud L. Norman called at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Goliheh Monday evening. Miss Norman has been slightly indisposed for several days but is now much better.

The young people of the neighborhood will give a program at Woodbine Church Sunday even-church lately, but we truly hope that they may soon be able to be with us again.

Mrs. J. A. Hill has recently visited Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Goliheh during the illness in their family.

CANOVA

Remember the league meeting Saturday night, February 19.

Mr. J. M. Russell and son, Marye, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Russell.

Miss Mary Carter and Mr. Walter Woolfenden spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Russell.

We are sorry to record the illness of little Elizabeth Goliheh. Hope she will soon recover.

Mrs. J. M. Russell and little daughter, Doris, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cornwell.

Mr. C. P. Arnold is on the sick list.

Mrs. T. M. Russell and Miss Maud Norman called Tuesday afternoon at the home of our pastor, Rev. J. A. Goliheh.

Messrs. Harry and Stanley Holmes and Joe Lowe called Sunday night at the home of Mr. T. M. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Whitmore spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cornwell.

The farmers of this neighborhood are plowing for corn.

Mrs. J. A. Hill called recently at the home of Rev. J. A. Goliheh.

We were sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Norman Chappell. Mr. H. L. Tubbs, of Kopp, spent Saturday with Mr. T. M. Russell.

Mrs. George Beavers and children spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wheaton.

It is regrettable that so much sickness is reported in this neighborhood.

Miss Alvata Wheaton called Tuesday on Miss Pearl Russell.

Electrify Your Farm Now! Install the Silent Alamo

THINK of the advantages of electric light and power. Why wait? Why measure the small cost with the tremendous advantages of electricity produced by the Silent Alamo Farm Lighting Plant.

Picture your home brilliantly lighted in every room and what comfort to read or work by such light. How easy to keep the boys at home. How much more sociable the gatherings. To say nothing of the labor and muss that is saved when you discard the old and always dangerous coal-oil lamps.

Then picture the advantages of electric power—the labor saving in your home. See the running water in the kitchen. See the churn—the separator—the sewing machine—the washing machine—the iron—the vacuum cleaner—operated by electricity—produced by the ever ready and never failing

Of Vital Interest to Property Owners

You have toiled for years to gather about you property which can be swept away in a few minutes. Since the creation of mankind there is nothing, nor will there ever be anything which will prevent this loss, which totals THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS A MINUTE.

But, you can be reimbursed for that which has represented life long labors and privations and which if taken from you at this age there is little hope of recovering.

When you invest your hard earned money in protection, give the subject the same consideration as when you purchased your property—that is just exactly what it represents to you.

You would not think of buying property if for a moment you doubted the title—then why should you buy protection covering that same property without KNOWING you would get value received in case of loss—nor without KNOWING EXACTLY what that protection was going to cost you.

We conduct an Agency which has been established in this community for TWENTY-FIVE YEARS—REPRESENTING OLD LINE COMPANIES OF UNQUESTIONED REPUTE, which through this Agency have PAID TO POLICY HOLDERS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS FOR LOSSES INCURRED THROUGH FIRE AND LIGHTNING.

We present to you these companies which have built up a reputation in this community by their promptness and liberality in settling claims for losses. This Agency has been established for many years and will be conducted for many years hence.

Ninety per cent of property owners do not carry sufficient protection. We have the facilities and offer a service unexcelled. We have at your disposal information upon any subject where insurance is concerned. THE BEST PROTECTION COSTS YOU NO MORE—WHY NOT HAVE IT? MAY WE ASSIST YOU?

Young People and Amusements

Their Relation to the Church

(Paper read before the Ministerial Association by the Rev. A. Stuart Gibson.)

We all agree that one of the great problems of the present day is our young people. In this our age differs little from the generation that is past or that which is to come. Each group of young people as it approaches years of maturity brings to bear upon the world of men its own hopes and aspirations and its own problems which are pressing for solution. Youth and age are constantly at variance and youth, in the arrogance of its new found strength is likely to snap its fingers in the face of the wisdom of older years.

The life of society, the life of the nation, the life of the church is in the hands of these young people and it is extremely important that they shall look at things in a proper light.

Youth is naturally idealistic and hopeful—gay and cheerful—looking at life through rosy glasses with none of the disillusionment which comes with later years.

Many of the things we criticize in young people are the result of their happy, care-free, innocent outlook on life, and this is said as a general proposition in spite of the fact that we know some young people have perverted natures.

Our Lord said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not," and we, as His disciples most earnestly desire not only, that the young people of our community may be allowed to come unto Him but that we may be empowered with love and tact and wisdom that we may bring them unto Him.

I suppose we will all admit that our knowledge of what our Lord meant by His life and teaching has been a gradual growth. Men and women are better today than they have been in times past because they have a better understanding of the words and deeds of Jesus. It may be that you and I are not so good as our fathers and mothers, but if we will look back in history, we shall see that not so many generations ago it was the custom for people to do, without question, many things we consider very wrong today.

Now our conception of the meaning of the life and teachings of Jesus is the basis of our theology and our theology is the foundation of our teaching to men and women young and old.

There are two conceptions of religion as old as the mind of man, the one teaching that the message of religion to mankind is summed up in the little phrase "Thou shalt not." The other is broader and higher and nobler and is the teaching of Jesus, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind." This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.

If we have come together thus far it seems to me that we have laid the basis for a constructive study of the relation of the church's teaching to the young people and their amusements.

We know that in the past undue stress has been laid upon the denial of all that is pleasant to religious people. I do not know why it is that it seems natural to so many of us to think of religion as a gloomy thing. It is the most wonderful thing which can come into the life of any person, and its teaching is the most glorious mankind can imagine. Why therefore should religion make us sad and gloomy and take the joy out of life?

I am firmly convinced that the seeming indifference to things religious in the present generation is due to this perverted view in the past. Men are temperamentally quite as religious today as they have been in the past and it seems to me the trouble is we have in the past made religion too unattractive. We have been like the Pharisees of old in that we have bound heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and laid them on men's shoulders.

In this consideration I do not desire to lay the blame on some one else. My own church had a very stringent law concerning amusements which was repealed within my own memory. It was the spirit of the age and we are reaping that of the whirlwind.

Do not think it is my desire to make religion too easy. The religion of Jesus Christ has and always will have the element of taking up our cross and following the Master, but there are two ways in which that may be done. We may either draw a long face and follow complaining in His footsteps or we may make the best of the weight of the cross and go down to our Calvary with a smile and a cheer as many a brave lad met death on the red fields of France.

I imagine that so far we have travelled together and I hope we may do so to the end of this paper. My church is at present much freer in regard to permissible amusements than are some of yours, but the purpose of this paper is not to advocate any one or more special forms of amusement for our young people but to lay down the broad general principle that we must stop saying, "Thou shalt not" in regard to immaterial things and that we should emphasize the great outstanding truths of religion. To do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with our God.

It is natural for our young people to desire to be happy and gay and at the same time it is true that religion has the greatest appeal to those who are young to those "standing with reluctant feet where the brook and river meet." Why should we make it hard for the boys and girls who are soon to be our men and women to take their stand boldly on the side of right and religion? If there is anything a boy or girl of that age hates it is a sham and if he receives the impression that religion is opposed to all amusements he is going to say "There is no use becoming a member of the church. With me it would be just a sham." And we have lost him and the church has lost him at just that critical point in his life when the decision should be made.

SHALL WE LET THE REST ROOM CLOSE?

An Appeal to the Business Men of Manassas—Their Support Earnestly Urged.

(Communicated)

The Rest Room committee has worked faithfully and earnestly for the last year, and the room has been kept going, but there has been quite a struggle to make this possible. The committee has asked for money until it has become embarrassing to them.

Now, this appeal is being made to you as a business proposition. What accommodations have you for the young woman who are employed in the many business establishments? There is hardly a time that the writer goes into the Rest Room and does not find some woman there, either those employed in town or women from the country here for a day's shopping.

Businessmen, if you allow this room to be closed are you going to have these same conveniences put into your places of business? Which is the better and cheaper proposition? After five years of faithful service it will surely be a backward step that the town of Manassas cannot afford, should the Woman's Rest Room have to close. Unless help comes by the first of the month this seems staring the committee in the face.

Two of our leading business men, Messrs. C. R. C. Johnson and J. L. Bushong have offered their co-operation for the year voluntarily. Will not all of our business men follow the example of the two mentioned? If so, the Woman's Rest Room is secure.

Contributions may be left with Mrs. C. F. M. Lewis, chairman of the committee, or Mrs. Wisler, Mrs. Spies, or Mrs. Round, all members of the committee.

ELIHU CHESHIRE DIES

Confederate Soldier Succumbs at Daughter's Home in Iowa.

(Communicated)

Elihu Cheshire was born February 22, 1837, in Prince William County, Virginia. Elihu was the fifth child of a family of eight children of George William and Virginia Austin Cheshire.

Mr. Cheshire always made Prince William county his home, with the exception of during the period of the war, until May 1, 1918, when he went to Springville, Iowa, to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Abram Myers, at whose home he passed away suddenly January 27, 1921.

At the outbreak of the civil war Mr. Cheshire volunteered in the 49th Va. Infantry and served for two years, being in several big battles, one of which was the first battle of Manassas; another was the battle of Williamsburg. During the seven days fight at the Chickahominy Swamps he was taken prisoner and served eleven months and eleven days a prisoner at Fort Delaware. At the expiration of this time, on account of illness, he was released, and being anxious to get home, Jim Ratcliffe and Elihu Cheshire walked to Havre de Grace and boarded a vessel for Philadelphia, thence on the train to Washington, D. C., from which place they walked home.

On September 8, 1864, he was united in marriage to Matilda J. Lee. He then went to Alexandria and cooked for a portion of the northern army, which consisted of 400 men.

To this union was born one daughter, Elizabeth Virginia, who is left to mourn the loss of a devoted and loving father, the community a faithful neighbor.

Mr. Cheshire became a member of the Primitive Baptist Church in 1889 and was true to this faith until his sudden death.

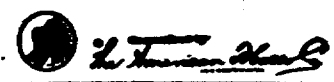

He had recently been in better health than usual and had walked but a short distance from home when he was stricken.

Besides his daughter Bettie, he is survived by a brother, George Philip, of near Minnieville, Va., and one sister, Miss Sophia Cheshire, also of Virginia.

The funeral was held Sunday, January 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Myers and the burial took place at Mt. Zion cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Prescott, and a very impressive sermon from the text of Mr. Cheshire's own choosing, namely, "If a man die, shall he live again? Job 14: 14. "For I know that my Redeemer liveth. Job 19: 25. "I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in Me though he were dead yet shall he live. John 11: 25.

HOW YOU CAN BENEFIT YOURSELF

¶ All of us seek to benefit ourselves. There is not a sane, healthy individual living who does not give some thought to improving the conditions under which he lives; who does not want to better himself. It is but an arrangement of Nature whereby mankind gradually climbs upward.

¶ So, it seems more or less trite to say that you, the people of Prince William, consciously and sub-consciously, are continually seeking to benefit yourselves. In general, you do those things which you believe to be beneficial to you and yours. Those of you who recognize it to your interests to deal in Manassas are more or less regular visitors to your county seat, are thoroughly familiar with the high grade business establishments found here, and are convinced that it pays to trade in Manassas. When a great many citizens of the county find it pays to buy in Manassas, must it not be a fact?

¶ In previous talks we have discussed the advantages of buying in Manassas over catalogue-house buying and shopping in Washington and Alexandria. We have pointed out that there are many factors to be taken into consideration—that even though you should save a few dollars in the course of a year by dealing almost altogether with out-of-county establishments, you would be the loser in many other ways. We have left it to your better judgment to answer in a sincere way those two important questions, "Do you really save when you buy from a mail order house?" and "Is it more profitable to shop in Washington?" But getting back to the subject of this talk, how can you benefit yourself by dealing in Manassas?

¶ As an individual citizen of Prince William County, which you call your home, not only the present but the future should be of interest to you. It is most creditable to plan for improvement of your land and buildings, but are you not also concerned in the type of business establishments that you will find at your county seat twenty, thirty, forty years from now, when Prince William will be "out of the mud," and possibly leading in the competition between the best of Virginia's counties?

¶ The way to make certain of steady improvement in the business establishments located at your county seat is to patronize them, to let them know just what you want and are going to require of them. The more patronage we, the business establishments of Manassas, enjoy, the larger and more varied assortments of goods you will be able to find here from year to year. To insure for yourself increasingly better trading conditions at your county seat, deal in Manassas regularly.

¶ There is nothing remotely resembling a combine in Manassas; competition here is keen, assuring reasonable prices on all commodities; you can get practically anything you want. Weighing everything, do you not feel it to your advantage to buy at Manassas the goods you need? Do you not feel that by so doing you benefit yourself for the present, and also for the future, by contributing to the growth of the business establishments now found at the logical business center of Prince William?

CUT OUT AND SAVE AS A DIRECTORY OF MANASSAS' MANY AND VARIED BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS

MODERNIZE PLANT

No business can be successfully conducted without a systematic accounting for unprofitable leakages, and it may be said also that no business can be conducted successfully that does not deliver the full measure of the commodity bought and paid for by its patrons.

The truth of these statements is so evident that testimony in their behalf would be superfluous, and they apply to public as well as private enterprise.

Since the establishment of the light and power plant, there have been constant rumors afloat that a large portion of the electric current generated at the plant had literally been lost in leakage and that the amount of such loss could not be ascertained. People wished in vain to know what was made to work and what was wasted.

The superintendent of the power plant realizing that he could do nothing but guess under the circumstances, recommended to the council the purchase of certain instruments with which a computation of losses, as well as the accuracy of meters might be determined. The result of this recommendation is that a rotating type of standard test-meter and a totalizing wat-hour meter have been ordered by the council.

We do not claim to know much about the plant from a technical point of view, but these steps appear to be in the right direction, and The Journal tenders its congratulations to the superintendent, Mr. Frank Gue, and to the council which shows a disposition to encourage and support him in his efforts for improvement.

WILSON VINDICATED

It is difficult to understand why some people will go to the trouble to manufacture reports concerning those in opposition to them, when facts exist to prove absolutely the falsity of the charges therein made.

The information that the Senate Committee had knowledge of a promise made by President Wilson to the Peace Conference that he would use his influence to have the United States cancel the indebtedness of the allied nations to this country, was given wide circulation throughout the land and now it is known that the President made no such promise, and written proof of this fact exists.

President Wilson has been the subject of some of the most cruel and wanton attacks that were ever made upon a public man in the history of this nation, and when the unbiased chronicle is written concerning his acts as chief magistrate of the United States, notwithstanding the recent defeat of his party, he will stand out among the brilliant stars in the firmament of the world's history.

LAUGH AND LIVE

Johns and Witty Sayings From The Liveliest Publications of the Country

How to Identify Him.

An agitated woman burst into a police station in Chicago not long ago with this announcement:

"My husband has been threatening to drown himself for some time, and he's been missing now for two days. I want you to have the river dragged."

"Is there anything peculiar about him by which he could be recognized if we should find a body?" asked the inspector.

For a moment the woman hesitated and seemed at a loss. Then a look of relief came to her face, and she replied:

"Why, yes! He's deaf!"—Harper's Magazine.

Regular Job.

"And what might your work have been during the late war?" asked an old lady visiting the Atlantic fleet as it lay at anchor in the Hudson.

"Ma'am," replied the gob wearily, "I worked on a submarine, and every time they wanted to dive I'd run forward and tip'er up."—American Legion.

Sympathy.

"See that man going into the office building?" the chauffeur inquired as he casually prepared to move his car from the curb. "I feel sorry for him sometimes—he has to work so darned hard."

"You mean in order to make his living?" the doorman, in response, asked idly.

"No," the chauffeur replied as he gently let in the clutch, "to make mine."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Day After.

Everett, aged six, had been left with a neighbor while mamma and papa attended an amateur theatrical.

When they were alone together, the neighbor remarked, "Your mother certainly looked nice. She was certainly dressed up."

"Yes'm," Everett responded, "she had on everything new she got for Christmas, 'cepting her percolator!"—Cartoons Magazine.

All Present and Accounted For.

An absentminded traveler was asked to stay a few days at a country house. His wife, realizing that he was to be the lion of the party, told him to be sure to put on a clean shirt every evening. She packed him one for each night.

When he returned she said: "Well, I hope you remembered to put on a clean shirt every night."

"Oh, yes," he replied. "At this moment, counting the one I went away in, I've got four on."—Galveston News.

Surplus Growing.

"Pardon me for referring to it, sir," said the profiteering plute's head accountant, "but your surplus is growing at a really disgraceful rate."

"Yes," replied his employer, "but in a short time my wife's bills for the current month for goods purchased from other profiteers will come in, and when I have paid them my hoard will be reduced to respectable proportions."—Kansas City Star.

Breaking It Gently.

"You waste too much paper," said the editor.

"But how can I economize?"

"By writing on both sides."

HAYMARKET GARAGE

C. B. ROLAND, Proprietor, HAYMARKET, VA.

At the close of my first year in the Garage Business I want to thank my friends, to whom my success in this line is due. It is very gratifying to know that the business has grown, and if honesty and work counts, it will continue to grow.

I carry a complete stock of Ford Parts. I also sell New and Used Cars, and the famous Lee Puncture Proof Casings. These casings are backed by a guarantee that is a guarantee. All you have to do if they are not as represented is to return them to me and get your money back. The Lee Fabric Casings are as good as any on the market and prices are right.

Backed by twenty years of actual machine shop experience, you will profit by coming any reasonable distance to have your repairs made under my personal supervision.

I also rebuild and paint cars. All work guaranteed.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS:

Haymarket, Va., December 8, 1920.

It gives me pleasure to state that my Ford did not half pull until overhauled by the HAYMARKET GARAGE, since which time it pulls to "beat the band."

Very truly yours, CHAS. J. GILLISS.

Manassas, Va., December 3, 1920.

To Whom It May Concern:

I met Mr. C. B. Roland soon after coming to the county and he has done quite a bit of work for me, which has always been perfectly satisfactory, and his charges have been less than any I have found in the county. Anyone having any work in Mr. Roland's line will make no mistake, I am sure, in going to him.

Very respectfully, M. BRUCE WHITMORE.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

The Feeling Tribute of a Woman to

PE-RU-NA

READ HER LETTER—IT WILL DO YOU GOOD. "Pe-ru-na has been a Godsend to me. I feel safe in saying that it saved my life. I was all run down and miserable when I contracted this Pe-ru-na, but on the road to recovery now. I cannot thank you too much." Mrs. CHARLES ARPAWAK, R. F. D. No. 1, Lagrange, Indiana. A letter like this brings hope and the promise of health to every sick and suffering woman. Perhaps you know what it means to have your daily duties a misery, every movement an effort, stomach damaged, pains in the head, back and limbs most of the time, nerves raw and quivering—not a moment day or night free from suffering. Do as Mrs. Arpawak did. Take Pe-ru-na. Don't wait but start right away.

Seen in the First Glimpse of Spring Apparel—

Interesting Modes—Equally Interesting Prices

REGARDLESS of chic modes there is a magic something which tinges all the new things to wear, giving them a rosy, interesting hue. That something is price. One may go about the ever delightful, engrossing task of selecting the details of a Spring outfit unhampered by the thought of high prices and their accompanying train of inhibited desires for what is pretty and what is needed.

What You Will See When You Come Down to the Store

FASHION has outdone herself for the return of Spring. Frocks, Suits and Millinery echo the paeon of joy that marks the coming of the gayest season of the year. Clever French heads and clever hands wherever smart apparel is created have evolved fascinating and charming modes, some not without a very practical turn, of course, for the delectation of fair women. Inspection discloses a very choice collection of the earliest models for women who desire the new while the bloom is yet upon it.

If One Thinks of Frocks

—Then there are smart cloth models, ornate with the new cut work, embroidered, and in contrasting materials. Moroccan and Canton crepes form many a luscious Frock for diversified uses. Afternoon gowns are quaint or dashing in their use of vivid color and eccentric style.

A Glorious Tradition Is the Spring Hat

—Every year comes the fresh new pleasures of selecting Spring Millinery, every year the delightful query of whether it shall be feathers or flowers, a large one or a small one. This season's modes are charming. It is not a moment too early to select the Hat for your suit, the Hat for sports wear and the Hat to accompany lovely frocks. Sailor, off-the-face and close fitting turban styles that are in demand.

To Be Sure, There Must Be a Suit

—No woman will overlook one. They are as inevitable as Spring itself. This year, because these are very youthful box coat models, or flared back models or coolie jackets or semi-fashioned styles, you will see the necessity of having a smart Suit early in the season. Piquette is one of the much used new fabrics. Ask to see it.

The Kick of a Cow

once started a fire; but that was a small affair compared to the way the people are kicking about high prices. We have cut our prices on all our products, and our patrons can rest assured that as fast as beef declines so will prices of our meats be reduced. It will never be necessary for a conflagration such as resulted from Mrs. O'Leary's lantern being upset to wake us up. We are only too glad to give you the benefit of lower prices as the market justifies it. Let us settle your meat troubles.
