Portner, who having qualified since said pleadings were filed, in which demurrer, plea and answer, Etta P. Meredith, Sylvia Meredith and Jacquelin Meredith, the two latter being infants, by their guardian joined, and upon their general replication to said plea and answer and being argued by counsel it is ordered and decreed that the defendants are sustained and that the executors and Etta P. Meredith and the infant defendants recover their costs in this behalf expended. Appeal noted by petitioners, operation suspended for six

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE SERIES OF ADDRESSES

Dr. Nelson P. Dame Talks of the Church As a Vocation to High School Students.

(Communicated)

Another of the vocational guidance series was given at the High School Assembly last week when Rev. Dr. Nelson P. Dame, D. D., Missionary of the Diocese of Virginia, made an address to the students on "The Church as a Vocation." His address was preceded by the following readings: "The Bible Our Best Seller, Miss Dorothy Sanders; 'The Spirit of Service in the Church,' Mr. Paul Arrington; An Appreciation of the Life of the Bishop of Washington, Miss Caroline Beachley.

Dr. Dame took as his theme the choice that comes to every youth when he must decide whether his life shall be merely one of self seeking, of working for material gain and power, or whether it shall be one of service to his fellowmen; whether he shall try to cast in his life with the rich and well-to-do or spend his days in helping to ease the lot of the common man—the toiling mass of humanity which Christ loved and worked for. The fields of this social service were many, the speaker said, but the church offered the best of them to those who had this inner vision of the greatest things of life.

Dr. Dame's address was followed by a brief talk on the present aims and ideals of the Red Cross by Mr. D. C. Ruth, a Washington representative of the organization, these aims being no less in fact than a world-wide campaign for the fighting of disease and the betterment of the public health. He spoke especially of the value of the Junior Red Cross in training our young citizens into an appreciation of the importance of this great field of work.

Mr. Ruth came to Manassas to attend the meeting of the executive and nursing committees of the local Red Cross Chapter which met at the High School that afternoon to consider ways and means of continuing to maintain a Red Cross county nurse.

GAINESVILLE

Mr. George Allen has been appointed postmaster at Gainesville and took charge on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham, of Washington, have been week-end guests of the Misses Cave.

Mr. Allen Wood, of Washington, has been a Gainesville visitor recently.

Mr. Charles G. Allen and Mr. Thomas Meredith, who have been ill, are well and out again.

Mrs. Eva Meredith, of Manassas, visited friends at Gainesville and Greenwich last week.

Dr. Emlyn Marsteller is making a business trip to New York and will return in a few days.

Mrs. Seldon, of Richmond, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emlyn Marsteller.

Dr. Hadman of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who has been cow-testing in the neighborhood, has pronounced the herd of Mr. J. M. Piercy accredited.

Mr. Thos. Meredith is the possessor of a grade ewe which is not three years old and has been the mother of seven lambs. About ten days ago she gave birth to three fine lambs. The sheep is half Dorset and was awarded a blue ribbon at the county fair last August.

Howard Scoggins, an estimable colored man, died of tuberculosis at his home in Gainesville on Tuesday last.

LEAGUE MEETING

The meeting of the Patrons' League of Manassas school will be held next Thursday, March 3, instead of this Friday as at first announced.

The meeting will be held in the Bennett Building at the usual hour 2:30 p. m. All members and friends are earnestly invited as business of importance is to be taken up.

—Mrs. James Kincheloe, of Upperville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. S. Hynes.

The Journal, $1.50 a year.

BANKERS' GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Two Resolutions Adopted Which Are Thought to Be of Great Importance to Banks.

An important meeting of Group Three, Virginia Bankers' Association, was held in the courthouse at Leesburg Tuesday, February 22.

Owing to the wretched transportation facilities from Washington to Leesburg, the members of the group taking the trip over that route were compelled to consume the greater part of a half day in transit, giving them little time to employ in the transaction of business at the meeting. However, among other affairs discussed, two resolutions which are considered of prime importance were adopted; one requests the Federal Reserve Banks to pay interest on the funds of member banks in their hands. This, in view of the wide circulation given to the amount of profits accruing to the Federal Reserve Banks from such funds, is of far-reaching importance. The other resolution requests the banks in Northern Virginia to refrain from paying more than three per cent upon deposits.

The officers elected at this meeting are: Chairman, S. C. Brittle, cashier Peoples National Bank, Warrenton; vice-chairman, P. W. Anderson, National Bank of Marshall; secretary-treasurer, A. Dibrell, cashier Loudoun National Bank, Leesburg; advisory committee, John F. Sloat, cashier Commercial Savings Bank, Winchester; W. M. Hillary, Staunton, Va.

Messrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe and Harry P. Davis were in attendance, representing the two banks in Manassas.

The meeting was adjourned without day.

MRS. SARAH E. HUTCHISON

Dies at Her Home Near Little River in Loudoun.

(Communicated)

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hutchison, widow of the late Henry Bailey Hutchison, died at her home, "Farmer's Repose," near Little River, in Loudoun county, on the morning of February 22. Mrs. Hutchison had been ill a short time.

Mrs. Hutchison was one of the best loved women in her neighborhood. She will be sadly missed among her relatives and many friends. She was a consistent member of the Little River Baptist Church for many years.

It was largely through the efforts of Mrs. Hutchison that the Eighth Virginia Chapter, U. D. C., has been a successful one.

The following were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison: Frances, the wife of W. P. Wilson, who died in 1911; H. Hanson and Thomas Drurah, both of whom died just as they had reached manhood, and those who survive are Mrs. T. Galeo Hutchison, of Loudoun; Mrs. T. Raymond Galleber, of Manassas, and Mr. Geo. Taylor Hutchison, of Washington.

Mrs. Hutchison was about seventy-seven years old. She was the daughter of Joseph Drurah and Frances Rousseau Taylor, and a sister of the late Thomas O. Taylor, of Manassas.

The funeral was held Wednesday from her late residence. Interment in the family lot at Middleburg.

ADEN

Mr. J. P. Smith spent the holiday with friends and relatives here.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Swank last Saturday.

Misses Marie and Lucile Shaffer, of Washington, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shaffer.

Mrs. John M. Flory, of Baltimore, is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Jane Hedrick and Mrs. S. H. Flory.

Mr. John Gaines, of California, is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. A. Shaffer.

Miss Jessie Whetzel and Miss Edith Horn visited the home of Mrs. J. K. Moyer, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flory left Monday to visit relatives in Fairfax.

HUMOROUS SIDE OF NEAR-RAID

Mistake Watchman for Burglar and Uncle Ben Supposes
Them to Be Robbers.

The night of Washington's birthday was celebrated in Manassas by an exciting scene enacted before the Peoples National Bank building when a small army was collected for the purpose of entrapping a supposed bank robber.

When one of the masters of the Morse code employed at the railroad station was relieved at midnight and he and several companions were sauntering up Battle street, a man was seen to enter the bank building, who at once switched off the lights. Astoundingly suspicious appeared this maneuver to the sleuths, so they returned to the station and mustered into service more telegraphers, more citizens and two of Uncle Sam's soldiers who were awaiting a train.

This formidable army then directed its movements towards the front with the proud determination to storm the fortress, go over the top and capture the entrenched culprit. When one of the number approached a window for the purpose of making a reconnaissance, he beheld to his dismay the muzzle of a gun in the hands of the besieged, pointing uncomfortably near the direction of his person, and deeming discretion the better part of valor, made a hasty retreat across no man's land and far beyond the third line trenches.

A council of war being called, it was decided to issue orders to the power house, to have the town lights switched off and turn in a general alarm; through some misunderstanding, the general alarm was not given, but the lights promptly went out.

In the meantime, Uncle Ben Gaskins, the night watchman at the bank, who arrives for duty at midnight (it was he who had been taken for the burglar), had barricaded himself within the inner confines of his stronghold, awaiting a renewed assault, and wondering if he would be able to repel the invaders single-handed, never doubting that it was their intention to murder him and make way with the war chest which he was so faithfully guarding. The expected raid, however, did not materialize, as the commanding officer of the attacking party had in the meantime been informed of the identity of the burglar by a bank official.

DEATH OF MRS. BOYLES

Mother of Mrs. M. D. Brown Dies
at Home Near Manassas.

Mrs. Elma J. Boyles, wife of Mr. M. M. Boyles, died at her home near here from pulmonary oedema, Saturday, in the sixty-eighth year of her age. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about three years ago and had never regained her health.

Mrs. Boyles was the daughter of Newton and Marie Cornell Branch and was born in Jeffersonville, Ill.

Some years ago, the family moved to North Dakota, from which state they came to Virginia.

The deceased is survived by her husband, one son, Mr. C. W. Boyles, who resides near Richmond, and a daughter, the wife of Dr. M. D. Brown of this county.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. S. Gibson at the home and the interment was in the cemetery at Manassas.

WOODLAWN

There will be a play at Woodlawn school house, "The Deacon's Courtship," Wednesday, March 2, at 8 p. m. Admission for adults, 25c and for children, 15c. The entertainment is being given to aid in building a two-room school. Everyone is invited.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will be held at the home of Mrs. R. M. Jenkins Tuesday, March 1, at 2:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF PROMINENT LOCAL BUSINESS MAN

Brawner N. Haislip Succumbs to Pleurisy After Lingering Illness in Washington.

On Tuesday evening, February 22, between six and seven o'clock at the Emergency Hospital in Washington, Brawner N. Haislip died of complications following an operation for pleuritic abscess. He had been ill some time and was taken to the hospital several weeks ago, but returned to his home later, not having been much benefited. When his condition became alarming, he was again sent to the Emergency. This time an operation was attempted to drain the cavity, but it could not be completed on account of the extreme weakness of the patient.

Mr. Haislip was the son of Mr. S. M. Haislip, of Manassas, his mother having died several years ago. He was born near Catharpin a little more than thirty-nine years ago, and lived in that neighborhood until within the past five years when he came to Manassas and engaged in business. At the time of his death he was proprietor of the Manassas Produce Co., and by his earnest efforts and enterprise had succeeded in building up a large and lucrative business.

The deceased leaves a widow, who was a Miss Patton, of Fairfax, and two children, Miss Helen and Master Robert Haislip, and a father, Mr. S. M. Haislip, one brother, Mr. William Haislip, of Washington and three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Roberts and Mrs. Annie Lenhardt, of Washington, and Mrs. Minnie Haislip, of Lorton.

The remains were brought here Wednesday evening and the funeral services were held at his late home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The body was interred in the cemetery at Manassas by Stonewall Council, Order Fraternal Americans, of which the deceased was a member, assisted in the solemn rites of the order by Bull Run Council of Manassas.

DODD—VANDEVANTER

Sister of Well Known Manassas
Dentist Weds Boston Man.

A number of Washington guests attended the marriage yesterday of Mrs. Carrie Hough VanDevanter, well known in this city, and Mr. Ernest L. Dodd, of Boston, which took place at Waterford, Va. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock in the Waterford Presbyterian church, with the pastor, the Rev. C. B. Rachford, officiating, assisted by the Rev. William Pierpont. The bride was attended by two maids and a matron, Miss Marjorie Gore Hough, of Washington; Miss Grayce Dodd, of Boston, and Mrs. Benjamin L. Jacobson, of this city. Mr. Herbert M. Dodd, also of Washington, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Col. E. L. Jacobson and Mr. H. A. Standford, both of Washington. The bride wore a smartly tailored suit of dark blue tricotine, with hat to match. A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Smith followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd left later in the evening for a wedding trip to end in Boston, where they will make their home.—Washington Post, February 22.

The bride is a sister of Dr. L. F. Hough, of Manassas and Washington, and Mrs. Jacobson and Miss Hough, the matron and maid of honor mentioned, are daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Hough.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Residence of Mr. John May Was Burned Friday Morning.

A fire, the origin of which is unknown, completely destroyed the residence and barn of Mr. John May at about two o'clock a. m. Friday.

The house stood on the property once known as the Silas Waring farm about three miles below Manassas and the occupants, who were awakened when the building was in flames, had little time to escape with their lives, all their personal effects being lost.

The residence was insured only to the extent of $500 with $300 on the barn.

BURGLARS AGAIN IN MANASSAS

Make Attempt to Enter Store of Hibbs & Giddings—Succeed
in Robbing Beachley.

Burglars have been busy again in the town. Sunday night, an entrance was attempted at the store of Messrs. Hibbs & Giddings. A side window was tried without effect and then an effort was made at the rear door. The small panel in the lower half of the door was cut through making an opening about fifteen inches in length and about six in breadth. At this juncture the thieves are supposed to have been frightened away for there was nothing else to prevent their enlarging the opening sufficiently to admit the passage of a man.

Wednesday night the store of Mr. L. E. Beachley was plundered. There is no clue as to how entrance was effected. The doors and windows were locked at closing time and were found locked Thursday morning. The explanation must be found either in a duplicate key or the thieves, if more than one, must have concealed themselves in the store in the evening.

Mr. Beachley stated that his losses though not yet determined will probably reach $150. More than ten thousand cigarettes alone were taken, besides cigars by the box and at least seven expensive briar root pipes.

It is hoped that all citizens will be watchful and endeavor to clean up this burglar business in Manassas and to place these gentlemen burglars in a fair way to earn their living helping to build roads in the state.

BROWNING—MILNES

Pretty Manassas Girl Becomes Bride of F. P. Browning.

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Milnes, the attractive daughter of the late Samuel Milnes and Mrs. Margaret W. Milnes, of Manassas, to Mr. Frank P. Browning, of East Falls Church, which took place at the Church of the Epiphany, Washington on Wednesday, was the culmination of a pretty romance and was not wholly unexpected.

The ceremony was performed according to the rites of the Episcopal church by the Rev. Robert L. Browning, the rector, in the presence of friends and members of the families of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Hilton Evans, of Manassas.

An extended wedding tour was planned, but it was necessarily deferred on account of the illness of the bride. The young couple will make their home until the end of summer with Mrs. Browning's mother, Mrs. Margaret Milnes, of Manassas.

MRS. BLAINE DIES

Widow of Brother to Prominent Statesman Jas. G. Blaine.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca A. Blaine, widow of Robert G. Blaine and sister-in-law of the late James G. Blaine, republican leader, who died Tuesday at her home in Washington, were held Friday morning with a requiem mass at St. Peter's Catholic church. Mrs. Blaine was a native of Washington, and for many years lived in the old Blaine mansion on the site of the present Congressional Library.

Mrs. Blaine for more than 30 years had played the organ at the Sunday services at the District jail—and the Washington asylum, and so earned the name of "Mother Blaine." A delegation of officials from this institution attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Blaine is survived by one son, Dr. Robert G. Blaine, of this city; five daughters, Mrs. T. F. Mallan, Mrs. H. J. Crosson, Mrs. C. F. Byrne and Mrs. Aubrey L. Clarke, of this city, and Mrs. Charles E. Lipscomb, of Plainfield, N. J., and one sister, Mrs. Josephine D. Hicks, of this city.—Washington Post.

Mr. Aubrey L. Clark is a native of this county and Mr. Chas. E. Lipscomb is a son of Mrs. Henrietta Lipscomb, of Manassas, and the late Judge William E. Lipscomb of the county court of Prince William.

CHERRY HILL

Mr. Quinton Carney, who was recently operated upon for appendicitis at the Fredericksburg hospital, has fully recovered and is out again.

The Cherry Hill Good Roads League will give an entertainment Saturday night at the M. E. Church, South, for the benefit of road improvement.

Mrs. G. E. Soutter was in Richmond on business last week. Quite a number of the young people from here attended the entertainment at the schoolhouse in Minnieville Saturday night.

The D. C. reduction plant is installing a crusher at its plant here to save the waste tailings. The farmers have been hauling these away for fertilizer the past few years; however, there is ample waste material in the dump, just south of the factory, which makes excellent fertilizer and which will supply the farmers in this vicinity for years. Farmers are requested not to haul this material during wet weather, as their vehicles cut the road up badly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bushey were week-end visitors at Mr. Bushey's sister's home near Neabsco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morgan had as their guest for the past week Mrs. Jennie Hixton, daughter of Mrs. Morgan.

CLIFTON

Old winter has made us feel the touch of his wand before leaving us by a good fall of snow Saturday afternoon and night, Sunday and Sunday night, also Monday night, with freezing weather Sunday and Monday night. Tuesday the weather began to moderate and the snow melted very fast, making the roads all slush and water again after being so good for some time. Carrier on route 1 did not get in Monday night until about 8 p. m., after having changed horses twice, compelling him to use three horses for the entire trip.

News has been received of the death of Miss Ethel Oliver, who was a teacher in Clifton school part of last session. She resigned to take a position in Washington under civil service. Her health has been failing for some time.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Payne was very seriously burned while playing with the fire February 22. Dr. Ferguson was called in attendance. He did not speak very hopefully of the child's recovery.

Mrs. G. W. Mathers continues very ill. Dr. S. S. Simpson, who has been too ill for several days to visit his patients, was able to resume his visits Monday.

Miss Miriam Buckley and Mr. Irvin Quigg spent the week-end, including Washington's birthday at their homes here.

Friday night last the school and civic league met in the school building. This was a called meeting and arrangements were made for the community sale to be held by the ladies to secure funds for the school. There will be for sale clothing, furniture, canned goods, some given for the sale, others sold on a commission. Selling will begin at 10 a. m. Wednesday and continue through Thursday afternoon, March 2 and 3. Any one wishing to dispose of any salable article should bring it to Masonic hall Tuesday, March 1, after 2:30 p. m.; have the article plainly labeled with your name and amount wanted for the same. We hope everybody will come out to buy. Lunch will be served the first day, March 2.

Another matter for which the meeting was called was to take action in the campaign for the appointment of a division superintendent of schools. Mr. M. D. Hall, who has filled the position for a long time, is seeking reappointment and he has the opposition of several men and there is some talk of appointing a woman.

Resolutions, asking the appointment of other men named, were sent us for our approval and after discussing the matter by Messrs. D. W. Buckley, Thomas Webb, Mr. Major and others, a motion was made and carried to return the resolutions unsigned and take no action, as our school has improved so much this season. In fact, it is in better shape than it has been for some time, which is largely due to Mr. Hall's interest.

Miss Julia Campbell spent the week-end with her sister in Baltimore.

The young folks gave a dance in the hall February 22. There will be a health program in the school auditorium next Friday, February 25, at 7:30 p. m. An address and a play will be among the features.

Harvester Company Brands Story False

DURING the past month, reports have come to us that at farmers' meetings charges have been made, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, that this Company has adopted a policy of refusing to supply repair parts for old machines in order to compel the purchase of new ones. This statement is absolutely false. Such a policy has never been considered by this Company nor suggested to it.

Ordinarily we ignore such reports, because we have learned that any large company, no matter how fair and high principled, is subject at all times to unjust criticism. The facts are this Company has always recognized the importance of repair service and has used every effort to make IHC service the best. We believe we can truthfully say that the repair service furnished wherever this Company's goods are sold is equal if not superior to that furnished on any manufactured line.

We call attention to the fact that machinery "Fix-up Weeks," instead of being something new and originated by the farmers in 1921, as some seem to think, were really an outgrowth of the movement started by manufacturers and dealers' associations in connection with the Council of National Defense as a war conservation measure. Perhaps no other agency has done so much to promote "National Repair Weeks" as this Company.

The farmer needs machines which will be efficient and economical. If his old machines can be repaired so as to render efficient and economical service, he would be foolish to purchase new ones. Whether the farmer utilizes and repairs his old machines or buys new ones is a question for him to determine. But in making his decision, we give to every farmer who owns any IHC machines the assurance that a full stock of repair parts will always be provided by this Company.

Today, our repair stocks on the territory available for the farmers are 21 per cent greater than ever before at this time of the year. An average of a quarter million pounds of repairs are shipped from IHC factories for every working day in the year. Thirty million dollars' worth of repair parts are now ready, as insurance for the farmer when he needs this service.

In every International Harvester Works manufacturing orders call for repair parts first and even when furnishing them has meant cutting down production of new machines for which we had orders, repairs have always had preference.

At every one of our 91 branch houses trained men are on duty to see that all orders are filled and shipped promptly. Thousands of dealers scattered everywhere with an assortment of repairs in stock are always ready and willing to render every assistance.

This service which this Company has rendered through the years to those who have purchased its machines has been a matter of great pride to the Company, and is the foundation of the cordial good-will existing between it and its customers.

We feel it is due the Company and those who have purchased its machines that we give the widest publicity to the fact that this service of repairs will be maintained and improved, and that any charges to the contrary are untrue.

COME NOW AND SEE WHAT WE HAVE FOR YOU

¶ The days are longer now. Soon spring with its perennial freshness and beauty will settle over hill and vale. Soon you, the citizens of Prince William, will respond to the clarion call to action. And as you once again take up the exacting duties of the seed time you will find that you need this and that for farm and home. Where will you buy these goods?

¶ Come to Manassas and see what we have to offer you. Come with the expectation of being able to find what you want and at reasonable prices. The business establishments of your county seat have foreseen your urgent needs and have stocked goods in ample measure to satisfy your requirements.

¶ For several months, as you know, a mild business depression has prevailed throughout the United States. In some localities merchants have become so frantic that they have stopped buying goods almost entirely, with the consequence that spring will find them unable to care for their customers. Not so in the case of Manassas business houses. Here we have bought conservatively to be sure, but we have "kept our heads." We are well aware that as we serve you, in that measure will we individually prosper. If we should for but a short period "leave you in the lurch," we would deem ourselves unworthy of your further patronage.

¶ At the opening of the spring buying season, we, the business establishments of Manassas, invite you to visit the town often, regardless of how much or how little you may intend to buy. We invite you to "have a look" frequently at Manassas' stores—to take in the completeness of our stocks and to see for yourselves how your needs can be met right here at your county seat, without your having to order from a catalog or shop in a big city.

¶ In this series of talks, which now ends, we have called to your attention the many advantages enjoyed by those citizens of Prince William who deal in Manassas. Do you not agree that those who do so are really benefitting themselves? Do you not recognize that the very future of your county seat, in which you should be vitally interested, is dependent upon the growth and prosperity of its business establishments—and not on how many millions you help make for out-of-county business houses?

¶ Without doubt, Manassas is your logical trading place. Not for sentimental reasons; not just because when the county's money is kept at home it will build up the county in every way, but because it is to your present all-round advantage and to your ultimate benefit also, you should deal here in Manassas, the one business center of your county of Prince William.

WORTH COMPLIMENTING

With this issue comes to an end the series of weekly talks that has been appearing in The Journal over the signature of forty-four Manassas business establishments. It is unusual for us to make reference to our advertisers, but, in this instance, the circumstances are unusual and we can not refrain from paying more than passing notice to the co-operative advertising campaign that is now closing.

First, we compliment the business establishments of Manassas on getting together. It is a comforting spectacle to see such unity of appeal on the part of practically every business establishment in our town. If this series of "talks" but presages further co-operative endeavors of our local business houses, it will mark the beginning of a bigger and better trading center for all Prince William—and Manassas is a very creditable one now.

Then, we have been impressed with the broad-minded way in which the subject matter has been handled. You have no doubt noticed that our business establishments have made no appeal to the people of Prince William to deal with them because they should keep the money in the county, or because they should "help" those they know and ask favors of occasionally. They have presented most plausible arguments as to how the people of Prince William actually benefit themselves, present and future, when they deal in Manassas. And our observation teaches us that the average man does that which he feels is to his advantage.

FORCING THE COMPTROLLER'S HAND

It has required an act of Congress to accomplish it, but at last the Comptroller of the Treasury will be compelled to desist from his autocratic attitude and make to the railroads partial payments of money due them from the government's guaranty fund. Refusal of the comptroller to make such payment, demanding that full and final accounting be submitted by the roads before any further money was handed over to them, has been a bit of high-handed administration on the part of the comptroller's office and in direct contravention of the intention of Congress as implied in passage of the transportation act. But the comptroller remained adamant in his stand, and now, with the railroads pleading that they are on the very brink of bankruptcy, Congress has had to step in with the Winslow bill to enforce the doing of what should have been done months ago. It is a belated justice but it may help to save the situation, provided, of course, there is no presidential veto, which is not believed probable.

Now that Congress has wielded its big stick over the head of the comptroller, the roads, on certification of their claims by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will obtain at least a substantial part of the amount still due them from the $600,000,000 set aside as a guaranty against loss during the first six months following their return to private control.

How badly the railroads stand in need of this money, how desperate is their financial plight, is seen in comparative figures recently compiled largely from the records of the Interstate Commerce Commission. These figures show that in 1919, with a property investment of $19,272,811,023, the operating revenue of the nation's railroads was $509,601,118, with a return on the investment of 2.64 per cent. In 1920, with practically the same investment, the operating revenues had dropped to $150,000,000, with a return on the investment of 0.78.

took place during the period of government control. For instance, in 1917, the nation's railroad pay roll was $1,739,482,142. Last year it was $3,600,000,000. Under government control the number of employes was increased by 261,000, while various classes of skilled labor in 1920 received total wages 180 per cent in excess of what they received in 1917. Total wages paid to unskilled labor during the same period were increased 112 per cent.

There, briefly, are the figures that show the responsibility for the present plight of the nation's transportation system, a condition which presages a breakdown if relief is not afforded. The nation should know all these facts that it may understand what government operation accomplished and why the railroads now are forced to plead for assistance, or, rather, for permission to assist themselves.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

LAUGH AND LIVE

Jokes and Witty Sayings From The Liveliest Publications of the Country

When the Larder Looked Lean

A negro preacher, whose supply of hominy and bacon was running low, decided to take radical steps to impress upon his flock the necessity of contributing liberally to the church exchequer. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon he made an impressive pause, and then proceeded as follows:

"I hab found it necessary, on account ob de astringency ob de hard times an' de general deficiency ob de circulatin' mejum in connection wid dis church, t' interduce ma new ottermatic c'lection box. It is so arranged dat a half dollah or quahdah falls on a red plush cushion without noise; a nickel will ring a small bell distinctually heard by de congregation, an' a suspendah-button, ma fellow mawtels, will fish off a pistol; so you will gov'n yo'selves accordingly. Let de c'lection now p'ceed, while I takes off ma hat an' gibs out a hymn."—Independent.

Looking on the Bright Side.

The street soapbox orator had been talking for half an hour, and then passed the hat round, according to his usual custom. The hat passed from hand to hand, but came back to the orator empty. He looked into it, turned it upside down, and then brought his flashing eyes to bear upon the grinning audience.

"My friends," he said, "I can at least be thankful that I get my hat back!"

Modest.

Is your wife one of those women who look at their husbands and say, "I made a man of him?" asked the impertinent friend.

"No," answered Mr. Meekton. "My Henrietta is very modest. She merely says that she has done her best."

He Struck a Bargain.

After a salesman had sold a big order of goods to the Scotch buyer for a store, he sought to make the Scot a present of a box of cigars.

"I'm sorry I cannot accept," the Scot said, "but there's a rule of the house that ye cannot take presents from salesmen."

"Well," laughed the salesman, "I'll sell them to you for five cents then."

"That's different now," the canny buyer replied, after taking a good sniff at the box. "I can buy my smokes anywhere I please. I'll take four boxes."—Minneapolis Journal.

Parasimonious on Parsnips.

A girl was required to write a brief sketch of Queen Elizabeth. Her paper contained this sentence:

"Elizabeth was so dishonest that she stole her soldiers' food."

The teacher was puzzled and called the girl.

"Where did you get that notion?"

"Why, that's what it says in the history."

The book was sent for, and the passage was found. It read: "Elizabeth was so parsimonious that she even pinched her soldier's rations."

"Good-By!"

A merchant a short time ago wrote the following to a wholesale house that he owed a past-due bill to:

"Be patient. I will pay you just as soon as my customers pay me. If this was judgment day and you were no better prepared to meet your God than I am to meet this bill, you're sure going to hell. Good-by!"

When you come to think of his candor you can't blame him much, after all, can you?—Baltimore Sun.

A Short Course.

Mrs. Edwin was showing Selma, the new Swedish maid, "the ropes." "This," she said, "is my son's room. He is in Yale."

"Ya?" Selma's face lit up with sympathetic understanding. "Ma brudder ban there, too."

"Is that so? What year?"

"Ach, he ban got no year; da yodge yust say, 'You, Axel, sixty days in jail.'"

"Do nuts grow on trees, father?"

"They do, my son."

"Then what tree does the doughnut grow on?"

"The pantry, my son."

HAYMARKET GARAGE

C. B. ROLAND, Proprietor, HAYMARKET, VA.

¶ At the close of my first year in the Garage Business I want to thank my friends, to whom my success in this line is due. It is very gratifying to know that the business has grown, and if honesty and work counts, it will continue to grow.

¶ I carry a complete stock of Ford Parts. I also sell New and Used Cars, and the famous Lee Puncture Proof Casings. These casings are backed by a guarantee that is a guarantee. All you have to do if they are not as represented is to return them to me and get your money back. The Lee Fabric Casings are as good as any on the market and prices are right.

¶ Backed by twenty years of actual machine shop experience, you will profit by coming any reasonable distance to have your repairs made under my personal supervision.

¶ I also rebuild and paint cars. All work guaranteed.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS:

Haymarket, Va., December 8, 1920.
 It gives me pleasure to state that my Ford did not half pull until overhauled by the HAYMARKET GARAGE, since which time it pulls to "beat the band."
 Very truly yours,
 CHAS. J. GILLISS.

Manassas, Va., December 3, 1920.

To Whom It May Concern:
 I met Mr. C. B. Roland soon after coming to the county and he has done quite a bit of work for me, which has always been perfectly satisfactory, and his charges have been less than any I have found in the county. Anyone having any work in Mr. Roland's line will make no mistake, I am sure, in going to him.
 Very respectfully,
 M. BRUCE WHITMORE.

Dependability in Banking Service

¶ Dependability in banking service has been the one recognized important factor that is demanded by the depositor of a bank in handling his funds and business problems of a financial nature.

¶ In making your banking connection it should be done with the greatest care, and with consideration of the record and standing of the institution which invites your business, as well as the service it is able to render you.

¶ With a record of twenty-five years of practical banking, and with resources of more than seven hundred thousand dollars, we offer you a banking service that is broad and comprehensive in its scope and especially adapted to meet your every particular financial requirement.

VIRGINIA: In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of the County of Prince William, February 4, 1921.

ALDER A. BATES, Plaintiff vs. PATTIE E. BATES, Defendant. IN CHANCERY

The object of this suit is to obtain for the plaintiff and from the defendant a divorce a vinculo matrimonii on the grounds of desertion by the defendant on the fifteenth day of May, 1915, and ever since continuing.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant in the above entitled cause is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, and that her last known post office address is Jennings, District of Columbia. And an application for this order of publication having been made in writing and duly granted by the clerk of this court, it is therefore ordered that the said defendant do appear here within ten days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect her interests in this suit.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Manassas Journal, a newspaper published and circulated in the county of Prince William, Virginia; that a copy of the same be sent by registered mail by the clerk of this court, addressed to Pattie E. Bates, Jennings, District of Columbia, and that a copy be posted at the front door of the courthouse of the said county on or before the 21st day of February, 1921, that being the next succeeding Rule Day after this order was entered.

PRINCE WILLIAM COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

Test Reveals Worth of Animals
And Points Out Slackers
Which Should be Sold.

(T. O. Scott, Tester)

Mr. T. O. Scott, tester of the association makes an interesting report for December.

The record cow for the month is a grade Holstein owned by Mr.
A. E. McMichael, of Nokesville, named Bell, who produced 1,749 pounds of milk and 64.7 pounds of butterfat, or an average of 66 pounds of milk and 2½ pounds of butter for December.

Mr. J. B. Manuel also of Nokesville, had the highest herd record for December. His entire milking herd averaged 33.9 pounds of butterfat and 906 pounds of milk, which so far is the highest herd record reported. An average of this amount certainly speaks well for Mr. Manuel as a successful dairyman.

There were eleven cows that produced over 40 pounds of butterfat, and five of these went over fifty pounds of fat or 60 pounds of butter.

Mr. Scott reports that the dairymen are making rapid strides in dairying and building up purebred dairy herds. All the members of the association have purebred bulls of good breeding and some good registered cows and are gradually culling out all the grades and scrubs fast as they can be replaced by purebreds.

One unprofitable cow that the testing has shown up is to be disposed of as soon as a market opens up.

Report for December.

Butter Maid, P. B. Hol., owned by J. B. Manuel, 1,308 lbs milk; 3.8 per cent of fat, and 49.7 butter fat.

Speckle, Gr. Hol., J. B. Manuel,
1,371, 3.8, 52.

Shirkey, Gr. Hol., J. B. Manuel, 1,185, 4, 47.4.

Synda, Gr. Hol., J. B. Manuel,
1,290, 3.5, 45.1.

Spot, Gr. Hol., J. D. Payne, 1-266, 3.9, 49.3.

No. 4, Gr. Hol., A. J. McMichael, 1,335, 4, 53.4.

Buttercup, Gr. Hol., F. M.
Swartz, 1,350, 4.3, 58.

Polly, Gr. Hol., F. M. Swartz,
1,260, 3.4, 42.8.

Pettie, Gr. Hol., A. E. McMichael, 1,365, 3.5, 47.7.

Princess, P. B. Hol., A. E. Mc-
Michael, 1,305, 4.5, 58.7.

Bell, Gr. Hol., A. E. McMichael, 1,749, 3.7, 64.7.

Report for January.

During January there were 306 cows tested. These cows averaged 587 pounds of milk and 23.1 pounds of fat.

Nineteen of them produced over 40 pounds of fat, and Holstein Cows, Butter Cup and Dot each producing 55.4 pounds of fat, but since Butter Cup produced 1,458 pounds of milk and Dot only produced 1,386 pounds of milk, we will give Butter Cup
the place of honor for the month.

Butter Cup is a Grade Holstein of six years and freshened November 21, 1920. During January she was fed 27 pounds of corn silage, 10 pounds of stover together with 72 pounds of mixed grain and 1.3 pounds of cotton seed meal per day.

The Dairy Extension Department at Blacksburg believed that Butter Cup could be made to produce more if she was fed about 40 pounds of silage and 15 pounds of stover per day. Butter Cup is owned by Mr. F. M.
Swartz, of Nokesville.

Mr. J. B. Manuel also of Nokesville, again holds the record for the high producing herd this month. This herd of 15 cows averaged 846.6 pounds of milk and 32.17 pounds of fat. Mr.
Manuel has a Holstein herd and is to be congratulated on holding the record of the highest producing herd for so long.

There were three of the slack-ers found this month who were not paying for their keep and have been sold, we hope to the butcher. The finding of cows that do not pay for their keep is only a portion of the work of the association and more than one herd in Prince William county could afford to sell several of their poor cows and make more profit out of the remaining cows than they are doing in the present herd.

Mr. R. S. Hynson, of Manassas, has just completed a new 36x40
barn in addition to the one he already has of the same size. Both barns are equipped with individual drinking cups for the cows, electric lights and strictly modern in every way.

Seen in the First Glimpse of Spring Apparel---

Interesting Modes---Equally Interesting Prices

REGARDLESS of chic modes there is a magic something which tinges all the new things to wear, giving them a rosy, interesting hue. That something is price. One may go about the ever delightful, engrossing task of selecting the details of a Spring outfit unham-pered by the thought of high prices and their accompanying train of inhibited desires for what is pretty and what is needed.

What You Will See When You Come Down to the Store

FASHION has outdone herself for the return of Spring. Frocks, Suits and Millinery echo the paeon of joy that marks the coming of the gayest season of the year. Clever French heads and clever heads wherever smart apparel is created have evolved fascinating and charming modes, some not without a very practical turn, of course, for the delectation of fair women. Inspection discloses a very choice collection of the earliest models for women who desire the new while the bloom is yet upon it.

If One Thinks of Frocks	A Glorious Tradition Is the Spring Hat	To Be Sure, There Must Be a Suit
—Then there are smart cloth models, ornate with the new cut work, embroidered, and in contrasting materials. Moroc- coan and Canton crepes form many a luscious Frock for di- versified uses. Afternoon gowns are quaint or dashing in their use of vivid color and eccentric style.	—Every year comes the fresh new pleasures of selecting Spring Millinery, every year the delightful query of wheth- er it shall be feathers or flow- ers, a large one or a small one. This season's modes are charm- ing. It is not a moment too early to select the Hat for your suit, the Hat for sports wear and the Hat to accom- pany lovely frocks. Sailor, off-the-face and close fitting turban styles that are in de- mand.	—No woman will overlook one. They are as inevitable as Spring itself. This year, be- cause these are very youthful box coat models, or flared back models or coolie jackets or semi-fashioned styles, you will see the necessity of having a smart Suit early in the sea- son. Piquetine is one of the much used new fabrics. Ask to see it.

Your Dining Room and Kitchen

Is the Pride of Your Home

MRS. Houssewife:

¶ We search the markets daily for the latest and most modern "things" for the HOME. It would be utterly impossible for us to enumerate the many thousand different articles we carry that are so useful to you. If you have not as yet made us a visit, there is a "treat" still in store for you. Our thorough knowledge of housefurnishings makes it possible to answer your inquiries by mail satisfactorily from a partial, if not complete description of your wants. Our prices are low as the lowest—quality unexcelled.

SHALL WE LET THE REST ROOM CLOSE?

(By Mrs. W. B. Doak, Clifton)
A question in the Manassas papers of February 18, 1921, is of much interest to both local business men, and to the women and girls who most benefit by the Rest Room. How are YOU going to answer it?

Before Manassas had a Rest Room, I heard the present chairman of the committee speak most earnestly of its need to four farm women, all enjoying a spend-the-day party at Ivakota, then a private home.

I do not know just how the Rest Room came into being, but I do know a little group of women, ever led by the unfailing interest of this faithful chairman, have often and often felt utterly discouraged over the lack of interest displayed in what they knew to be a good thing for their town and its surrounding population. The Rest Room at any rate has become a distinctive part of Manassas, and as a business proposition alone, should have the loyal and regular support of the business men of the town.

I have heard out-of-town women say time and again, when considering a shopping trip, "Let's go to Manassas, we won't have such a tiresome wait between trains. We can go to the Rest Room." Or, "I am going to Manassas to have my dental work done. If it hurts very bad I can partly forget it when reading at the Rest Room—the train is always late."

It is a place where a country woman can slip in to arrange her hair neatly after a long, windy drive, and before she passes her money over some Manassas counter; a place where bundles, merchant tied, can be left in safety until others are added; a place where some little tot may remain with elder sister while mother or father attend to business; a place where husband can find wife by appointment when ready to go home—find her rested, too, chatting pleasantly with the genial care-taker before a comfortable fire. Who has not, in former times seen men going down Main street, poking heads in at every store door, looking for Mary, and at last finding her standing bored and tired in a jostling crowd, and greeting her crossly with "Well, I thought you never would come!" (This before the day of cozy Rest Room).

The Rest Room is a place where school girls from out of town may safely and quietly wait until their trains are due. While by no means a dressing-room, I have known girls from a distance being allowed to here slip off a splattered riding skirt, for one suitable for street wear.

The writer once happened to meet a stranger at the station, who was wearily waiting for a train, not due for hours. She was directed to the Rest Room, and it sent a thrill of pride later to find her there, and hear the words, "Why Manassas is such a nice little town."

Business men should hear what the Board of Aldermen at Morristown, Tenn., say about the Free Canteen Hut, kept open all during the war by Hamblen Co., and the town. They have a Rest Room, and I understand there is no question of its closing. It should by no means rest entirely upon the business men—as such they will see it through, but this is a direct appeal also to the women and girls—not of Prince William alone, but certainly to all who have enjoyed its comfort, and surely there are many public-spirited outsiders, who will gladly give the little group of women, who have maintained the Rest Room all these years, a much-needed respite from the question, "Shall we let the Rest Room Close?" Let a generous contribution answer for YOU—"NO."

IS PROHIBITION A SUCCESS?
(By H. O. Russell)

Every man who dare criticize the Volstead law is at once chalked down as "a disturber of the peace" or the owner of a moonshine manufacturing plant. In the first place that act could not have been passed at any other time or under any other circumstances. While the whole nation was gasping for breath in its war hysteria, the great mass of the people were willing to sacrifice their civil rights and liberty temporarily if it would accomplish the purpose for which it was intended, namely, the bringing of the war to a close at the earliest possible date.

The American people in a desire to assist their fellowmen throughout the world at a time when disaster seemed imminent, did not anticipate that the minority of their own people would stab the majority in the back; this, however, was done and today we have before us spectacles of law violation.

The Volstead Act—the idiotic interpretation of it—the un-American principles contained in it, are responsible for the "indifference of the citizens" toward it and the almost universal contempt in which it is held. No law can be successfully enforced unless it has the respect of at least a respectful minority of the people.

A Milwaukee Federal grand jury, early last month, returned one hundred and five indictments against Wisconsin citizens for the violation of the Volstead Act, and after the grand jury had handed in more than five score indictments, it turned in a report condemning the very law it had just upheld. The report declared that in the opinion of that Federal grand jury, after it had made an exhaustive investigation, that the Volstead Act "was a menace to the physical well-being of both the present and next generation."

The members of that grand jury had not accepted the words of any one man or any particular clique or clan, but it had swept through every channel where actual and not visionary knowledge existed, where facts and not theories could be had.

upon the majority of the people what it does not crave and, therefore, the Volstead Act becomes the great joke as the majority of our people look at it.

The federal government should take steps immediately to teach the people how to make home brew properly for, as it is at the present time, people are making all kinds of injurious drinks which will lead eventually to complete breakdown, physically as well as mentally of the majority. It is necessary to live among a suburban people to get firsthand information as to home brew making and its effect upon the body and mind. We all admit that under the appropriation granted by Congress, it is impossible to enforce the Volstead law in the cities, therefore, at least one-half of the people are as free to carry on the manufacturing of injurious brews, etc., as they ever were before we had any prohibition law.

I believe that the Volstead Act has actually defeated the real purpose of prohibition by having caused conditions which are a menace to the "physical well being of both the present and next generation."

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dearly beloved wife, Ruth L. Kinschloe, who departed this life one year ago today, February 22, 1920.

In the graveyard, silently sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the wife I loved so dearly,
In her cold and silent grave.

She has gone, but not forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts shall always linger,
Around the spot where she is laid.

One year has passed, dear wife, I miss you,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they do not know the sorrow
That lies within my heart concealed.

I mourn for you, dear wife,
But not with outward show,
For my heart mourns for you sincerely,
Mourns for you silently, low.

Beneath the mound within a gate,
Of a city of silent dead,
Lies my loved one, cold and still,
Asleep in a narrow bed.

Keep her, dear Jesus, in thy keeping,
Till I reach the shining shore,
Then, oh Jesus, let me have her,
To keep and love forevermore.

HER LONELY HUSBAND.
